

PLANS FOR SUMMER SCHOOL AT JOSEPH

WILLAMETTE AUTHORITIES PROMOTING SCHOOL IN EASTERN OREGON TOWN.

SCHOOL IS DESIGNED FOR TEACHERS

Members of Willamette Faculty Will Teach—Scenic Beauty of Location a Big Drawing Card.

Summer school under the auspices of Willamette is to be opened at the beautiful Lake Joseph in eastern Oregon. The final arrangements were completed shortly after the Christmas vacation began, by President Fletcher Homan and Vice-President Todd.

The school will begin about the middle of July and continue until near the first of September. It will give a summer resort setting to the opportunity for teachers to review studies necessary for certification and for others to take instruction in advanced studies. This is the first large effort of western Oregon educators to join with the people east of the Cascade mountains in an educational plan.

This school centralizes the attention of many from the three states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, as it is near the border of each of them. The town of Joseph, with its mysterious lake known sometimes as Joseph and also as Wallowa, will be the mecca for many who must combine joy and work during the summer season.

Dr. Homan and Dr. Todd are being materially assisted by William McMurry, general passenger agent of the O.-W. R. & N. Rates and other accommodations that will materially assist Willamette in her new undertaking are being arranged.

A unique feature of the session will be specially conducted excursions to various points of interest. Experts in botany, geology and kindred subjects will accompany each excursion.

Studies, which are required for those holding one year state certificates, the five-year state certificate, and also the primary five-year state certificate, have been embodied in the courses offered for this summer.

The Joseph County Herald devotes considerable space to reviewing the proposed school. It says: "Willamette University, the best and oldest school in the state, will hold a six weeks summer school at Wallowa Lake. Her entire faculty and two hundred students will attend * * * They further review the details as set forth above and gave some things that would be of local interest to their constituents."

SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO SELECT OREGON COACH

Much agitation has been the recent order of the day on the University of Oregon campus, about the graduate coaching system. Just before the holidays, at a meeting of the Athletic Council, an investigation committee, consisting of Professor H. B. Leonard, chairman, Captain-elect Robert Bradshaw and Manager Geary, was appointed to look into the graduate coaching system, and to recommend a coach for next year. This committee, according to Manager Geary, will not be bound in its investigation to adhere absolutely to the system, but will use its judgment in selecting the best coach, whether he be a graduate of Oregon or of some other school.

Prof. Peck was in Tillamook during the holidays. A terrific ocean storm was one of the sights of the trip.

NEW VOCAL INSTRUCTOR COMES TO WILLAMETTE

Miss Thelma Waters, of New York City, Secured by Dean Mendenhall for the School of Music.

The College of Music has added another to its corps of competent instructors. With the rapid increase of vocal students in the last year, it has been necessary to enlarge that department under the direction of Myrtle Long Mendenhall, and an assistant has been secured. Miss Thelma Waters of New York City has accepted the position, beginning her work last Monday, Jan. 6.

Miss Waters is a contralto and is already well known to many in Salem. Besides a most excellent musical training in this country, she has pursued further studies for two years in Berlin, Germany.

This new addition to our musical faculty is welcomed by all interested in the College of Music.

GYMNASIUM IMPROVED.

The girls' dressing room was installed in the gymnasium during vacation and as soon as the gym is opened again the girls will take up their class work.

In the meantime, a liberal coat of oil which Manager Pfaff has applied to the floor is holding up proceedings.

However, the application of the oil has worked a great improvement on the floor and the advantage thus gained will be well worth the short recess that has resulted.

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS TO MEET

Vice-President Todd to Represent Willamette at Meeting of Methodist Executives.

On account of the mid-year meeting of the Board of Trustees, President Homan will be unable to attend the meeting of the Educational Association of the M. E. Church (formerly called the College Presidents' Meeting), which meets Jan. 14-16 at Nebraska Wesleyan University, Lincoln, Nebraska. Dr. Homan was to have led a discussion on the subject, "Discouraging the Exceptional Undergraduate—How Shall We Provide for the Special Training and Direction Which Will Secure His Highest Efficiency?"

Vice-President Todd will represent Willamette at the meeting, and will speak on "State Supervision of Religious Instruction of Children."

The meetings of this association have a vital influence in the Methodist educational system, as the problems of college and university standards and administration are threshed out before the chief executive officers of all the Methodist colleges. At the present meeting, such subjects as the following will be discussed: "Co-operation Between Colleges and Theological Seminaries," "The College and Modern Social Service Movements," "Relation of the Board of Education to the Methodist System of Education," "The Problem of the Secondary Schools," "Our Schools and Their Neighbors," "Our Schools and the Student Body," and many other topics of importance.

WILLAMETTE ORATORS HOLD SWAY EVENING OF JAN. 28

Willamette orators, who expect to enter the oratorical contest, have been notified that their final hearing will be held Tuesday evening, Jan. 28. The Oratorical Association holds its local tryout, the winner of which will represent W. U. in the state contest, held some time in March at Newberg.

Six orations have been handed in, but the titles and their respective authors' names have not been made public.

STATE LEGISLATURE TO CONVENE NEXT MONDAY

LAW-MAKERS REPRESENT MANY DIFFERENT TRADES AND PROFESSIONS.

WILLAMETTE MEN ARE AMONG MEMBERS

Session of Special Interest to Students as an Opportunity to Study Practical Politics.

Next Monday, January 13, the Twenty-seventh Legislature Assembly of the State of Oregon will convene in the State Capitol for its regular biennial session of forty days. Similar sessions have in the past been events of much interest as well as educational value to the Willamette students. To watch this body of men in action, to follow them as they thresh out the problems which come up in the making of the state laws, offers a splendid opportunity to study practical politics at first hand.

The names of men engaged in nearly all the ordinary walks of life are to be found on the lists of the senators and representatives. Attorneys, physicians, business men, farmers, and representatives of many other vocations will be represented in the common service of the Oregon commonwealth.

Included in the number will be a number of alumni and former students of Willamette, besides many active supporters of this institution.

Hence, aside from the law making part of it, a student couldn't spend an afternoon, or even an hour or two, to better profit than in either the senate or representative hall, watching men of such varied experiences. This certainly is an opportunity that no wide-awake student will fail to grasp by the forelock.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES MEET IN SEMI ANNUAL SESSION

Future Plans for "U" Discussed—Final Action on Hill's Gift.

The final action of the closing up of the offer of James J. Hill will be considered at the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees to be held in Taylor Street M. E. Church, Portland, Tuesday morning.

History is in the making for Willamette, as many of her future policies will be considered and possibly some definite lines of growth will be adopted. Willamette with her large endowment and the large increase of her classes in the next two or three years will require more buildings and a campus plan for all time to come, must be adopted very shortly.

With the close of the first lap in the endowment race, and $300,000 back of Willamette, the plans for closing the half million will be discussed.

Hon. R. A. Booth, whose generous offer of $100,000 is to complete the great campaign, has signified his desire to see Willamette soon demand his money.

A brief outline of proposed work for the Trustees is as follows:

1. Final accounting of J. J. Hill's Endowment Campaign's funds.
2. Making plans to complete large endowment of $500,000.
3. Consider current expense deficit incurred during the Endowment Campaign.
4. Planning for new buildings and equipment which will soon be needed.
5. Consideration of the requirements of the University Senate of the M.

RESULTS OF ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN UNANNOUNCED

University Authorities Quiet, But Little Doubt Is Felt as to Success of Two Years' Work.

Though the time for meeting the conditions of J. J. Hill's $50,000 gift to Willamette was up January 2nd, the University authorities have as yet given no public statement as to the outcome. Shortly before the time was up, several thousand dollars were lacking in cash, although subscriptions more than covered the amount. A last appeal was sent out December 27th to the many subscribers who had not yet made payments but just what effect this appeal had in bringing the money into the University coffers is not known.

In view of the facts, however, that only a few thousand remained on a total of $300,000, and that the Willamette campaign is being backed by several men of wealth, it would be foolish to assume anything but that the amount has been covered. Just why no announcement has been made is not clear, unless it is that the last appeal sent out is still bringing in returns.

The trustees met Tuesday, the 14th, and a statement will probably follow their meeting.

Stoute Is Tennis Manager.

At a meeting of the Tennis Association held in the chapel just before the holidays, Percy Stoute was elected as tennis manager to succeed George Currey, who left school recently.

GLEE CLUB ROUTE TAKES SHAPE

West Side of Willamette Valley will be Toured—Manager Clark Now on Road Making Dates.

Definite plans are now forming for the Glee Club trip, which is to be taken during the Easter vacation. Manager Clark will start out as advance man at the last of this week, to sign up contracts and outline definitely the route of the spring trip.

Although his plan is not yet complete, Manager Clark states that the trip will be wholly within the state, probably covering the western part of the Willamette valley, besides Portland. By next week the definite program of the trip will probably be outlined and ready for publication.

CARRIE JACOBS-BOND TO APPEAR FRIDAY EVENING

This Composer of Sweet Songs Has Charmed Thousands by Her Art.

In 1901, the Bond Shop, Chicago's unique publishing concern, was founded by the famous philosopher, painter, pianist, poetess, composer, and interpreter, Mrs. Carrie Jacobs-Bond. Recognized the world over as the composer of the most beautiful and simple melodies, this talented woman is giving a message that thousands are awaiting. With the insight of the seer and poet, a melodiousness natural and refined, and a characteristic combination of the heart-break—tempered by the mellow love song and unique localisms—Carrie Jacobs Bond has carved for herself an idol to which the music-lovers, poets, philosophers, one and all, are irresistibly drawn.

On Friday evening, the people of Salem are to be given the opportunity of listening to this artist. No further word is necessary.

This is one of the rare privileges that have come to the Willamette students and none can afford to miss the chance which is so seldom presented to them.

STUDENTS BALLOT ON CONFERENCE ENTRANCE

DISSATISFACTION WITH ACTION OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE CAUSE OF THE VOTE.

FAILURE RESULTS FROM HURRIED VOTE

Majority of All Students, Necessary to Effect Entrance, Not Secured—Sentiment Favorable.

Dissatisfaction with the action of the Executive Committee in regard to Willamette's entrance into the Conference caused the matter to be referred to the Student Body, Thursday, Dec. 19, with the result that Willamette will stay out of the Conference for at least one more year.

When it was learned that the Executive Committee had acted adversely in the matter, a number of those who were actively supporting the move to go into the Conference began agitating for a vote of the students. So strong was this sentiment that Jessie Young, president of the Student Body, called a meeting after chapel Thursday morning. On account of limited time, open discussion was not allowed, but the arguments for and against entrance were presented by Dr. Sweetland, Paul Homan and Jessie Young. On motion of Paul Homan, polls were established for the rest of the day, with the provision that if a majority of all registered students voted "yes," the Executive Committee should pick representatives to attend the Conference meeting at Seattle, with instructions to sign the Conference agreement. The vote, so far as cast, was overwhelmingly in favor of entering, going about two and a half to one, but, because over a third of the students did not vote, a majority of all students was not secured. Only twenty-nine votes were lacking to carry the proposition, out of one hundred and fifty-four who did not cast ballots.

It is the general feeling about the campus, among both supporters and opponents of the move, that the vote cast was so decisive as to have justified Willamette's entrance into the Conference at this time. The results, however, did not comply with the conditions set, and the time was too short for any further action. Without a doubt, the only reason for the failure was the haste and lack of advertising of the vote.

While the result was, of course, a great disappointment to a large number of students, alumni, and townspeople, the more conservative feel that the matter of one or two-years' delay is a small matter in its relation to the whole history of the University, and that it is better to wait until Willamette's athletic success is a certainty than to jump headlong into a doubtful proposition.

However that may be, there is no doubt that the subject will be up for consideration next year, and for every year thereafter until Willamette is in the Conference, or else is far outclassed as to athletics by the Conference colleges.

LAWS COMBINE AND GET TOGETHER IN SOCIAL WAY

The social committee of the Willamette Law School are arranging for a banquet to be held in the near future. A smoker and banquet was recently held, and the plan is to hold such events frequently. The banquets are to be held under the auspices of a recently formed organization which includes both Junior and Senior Laws.

AS TO COLLEGE SPIRIT.

The Collegian, it may have been noticed, has had very little to say on the subject of "Willamette spirit" during the past months. We have suppressed the term almost to an unjustifiable degree. Our excuse is, a desire to be consistent, consistent not with anything we have previously written, but with our own ideas on the matter of "college spirit."

It is idle to deny the presence on a college campus of a distinctive atmosphere. It is also undoubtedly true that this atmosphere differs radically in different colleges. It is first determined by the mental trend of the students in a college, but has an active moulding influence on those coming into the college community.

Our feeling in the matter is that a term which should connote, if anything, the prevailing atmosphere of a campus, has been so corrupted that it is generally taken to refer to nothing more than the support which a college gives to its athletics. It is often the ardent athletic enthusiast who prides himself most on his Wesleyan spirit, or Missouri spirit, or Willamette spirit, and he may be the loudest to criticize a fellow-student for lack of "college spirit." And yet he may be a man who is altogether out of harmony with the ideals of the institution which he attends. "College spirit," the spirit of the college, ought not to represent merely the vociferousness with which a body of students cheer a winning team. The college papers (we have noticed) which are most ready to laud the "college spirit" which has led their team on to a great victory, maintain a discreet silence in the face of an ensuing defeat, or, as one of our contemporaries has done, lay the blame on the coaching system.

We are not asking for less of enthusiasm in athletics. If colleges are going to support intercollegiate athletics, then let them do it wholeheartedly. But it is not for the athletic enthusiast to arrogate to himself all the "college spirit" and scorn, as lacking in that spirit, those whose tastes run along totally different lines. In general, we believe, those who enter into the spirit of athletics, as well as of other student activities, gain an enthusiasm for their college which would otherwise not be so strong. Yet there are those for whom an athletic contest has no charm, persons who in some other line of work are a credit to their school, whose loyalty for their school is not one whit less than that of the most ardent rooter. But they are derided as lacking in "college spirit." It is a species of narrow-mindedness which causes the athleticly inclined to ridicule those whose interests are not theirs. People were not all made in the same mould and their interests differ.

At Willamette, as elsewhere, there is some tendency to credit with "college spirit" only those actively supporting athletics. But there is in general, we believe, a very healthy and broad-minded spirit of tolerance towards those whose interests lie elsewhere. It is right that Willamette students should be urged to take an interest in athletics. Those whose indifference is an affectation, an assumed lack of enthusiasm, or mere laziness, are fit targets for scorn, but not those who are temperamentally unenthusiastic about sports.

Willamette's ideals, based upon traditions, of the sacrifice of her founders, are unapproachable, except by colleges whose history shows a similar application of practical Christianity. Her "spirit," if it is to do credit to her ideals, must mean more than enthusiasm for athletics. It must include an enthusiasm for study, an enthusiasm for every legitimate activity of a college community, an enthusiasm for service. The enthusiasm is necessary for any success.

Just how near "Willamette spirit" comes to this ideal is difficult to say. Just how near it "Willamette spirit" may attain, Willamette students must determine. We are of the conviction that the atmosphere of Willamette is good, as college atmospheres go. We are of the further conviction that this atmosphere could be better. And we know who can fix it!

It may be, after all, that all this talk about "college spirit" is a mere matter of words that the term may mean one thing to us, another to some one else. It is at best vague. At any rate, it has given us an opportunity to deliver ourself of a few things which we have wished to say.

SENIOR-SOPH, JUNIOR-FRESH GAMES BEFORE HOLIDAYS

Rest of the Series Will Be Played During the Coming Week.

The inter-class games have not progressed very far as yet, two games having been played before the holidays.

The Sophs took the Seniors into camp 17 to 5, while the Freshmen won an unexpected victory from the Juniors by a score of 15 to 12, in games played on last Wednesday and Thursday.

The classes did not exhibit much interest in the games. However, some of the coming contests are expected to attract considerable attention. The Sophs and Freshies have arranged to meet next Tuesday and it is expected that this game will arouse much interest.

The Academy has organized and is planning to meet several nearby high schools.

PHILOS HOLD A "JOINT."

On Dec. 19 the Philodorian and Philodorian Literary Societies held a very interesting joint meeting.

The men answered roll call with jokes or anecdotes, and much laughter was created by many of them. The young ladies brought their Christmas fancy-work, and many of the young men found occasion to show their value as helpmates by very dexterously tying French knots and making fancy stitches.

The program rendered consisted of: Trombone Solo, C. B. VanSlyke; Extemporaneous Speech, J. S. Moore; Original Poem, Miss Keith VanWinkle; Vocal Solo, "A Persian Serenade," Miss Ava McMahon; Talk, A. G. Hanke; Reading, "Mrs. Trimble Buys a Christmas Present for Her Husband," Miss Blanche Lister; Original Poem, Miss Bess Hockett; Parliamentary Practice, led by G. Van de Vert; "A Day in Camp," G. J. McCaddam; Piano Solo, "Anitra's Dance," Miss Zetta Underwood; Chairman, Miss Gertrude Reeves.

After the program, candy was served and the evening was brought to a close with rousing songs.

PHILODORIAN OFFICERS CHOSEN.

The recently elected officers of the Philodorian Society are as follows: president, G. V. Van de Vert; vice-president, B. E. Tatro; secretary, J. S. Moore; assistant secretary, Fred McMillan; treasurer, R. H. Reeves; council-at-law, Mr. Gardner; censor, J. R. Bain; reporter, A. G. Hanke; sergeant-at-arms, Ray Smith.

SPECIAL MEETING POSTPONED UNTIL FEBRUARY

The special meetings which were to have been held at the University next week by President Homan and Dr. H. S. Wilkinson of Eugene, have been postponed until the first week of the second semester, which will make them begin about Feb. 10.

There are several reasons for delay, the most prominent of which are the Y. M. C. A. Convention at Forest Grove, the mid-year meeting of the Board of Trustees, occasioning the absence of Pres. Homan, and the absence of Dr. Todd during the session of the M. E. Educational Association.

BIG DINNER GIVEN FOR POOR CHILDREN

Y. M. C. A. Spreads Itself in Giving Good Time to the "Kids"—Baskets Sent to Families.

Christmas eve saw the culmination of the Y. M. C. A.'s plan for making happy the hearts and homes of many of the poor children of the city.

At two o'clock in the afternoon, all things were ready—the tables set with good things, a brilliant Christmas tree bearing candy and nuts and a fine pair of warm stockings for each boy and girl, and a jolly old Santa Claus to make things merry.

About sixty children gathered about the tables and did full justice to the dinner, to a hearty appetite, and to the Christmas season. Roast beef, potatoes and all the good things that go with them, disappeared in a remarkable manner, and such exclamations as "Gee, that's good!" uttered between mouthfuls, attested that the treat was appreciated.

After the dinner, each child carried away a pair of stockings and as much candy and nuts as he could carry.

Because of some misunderstanding in the issuing of the invitations, and the miserable weather, a smaller number were entertained than had been expected. But the extra preparations were not wasted, as numerous baskets were sent out, and through the co-operation of the First M. E. Church, these baskets proved of value in making a cheerful Christmas in many families.

This Christmas feed was the event for which the Minstrel show was given at the Grand some time ago. It is gratifying to note the breadth of influence which has resulted from that first event which was so well supported by the citizens of Salem.

A great deal of credit is due to Bruce McDaniel, who managed both events with great success, and also to those who assisted in each of these affairs.

Let's Clean House.

Only last spring a regent of the university told us in assembly how much purer from professionalism our conference was than some of the eastern athletic leagues. And despite the fact that several baseball nines at that very time were known to have professionals on their teams, we sat back comfortably in our seats and meditated on how good we were.

This fall's football experience again proves that his praise was altogether undeserved. There has been scarcely a contest this year but has seen the protesting of some player. Already one man has been disbarred, and other men have been confronted with charges which seem to have a reasonable basis of truth.

The situation is decidedly serious. When college men cannot conduct their sports on a foundation of common honesty and sportsmanship there are ample grounds on which the habitual knocker of higher education may base his attacks. It is a serious reflection on the moral thinking of the undergraduates.

To look at the more material side of the question, such a lapse from good faith is sure to arouse feelings which will inevitably lead to the breaking up of the conference—so an authority so well informed as Coach Gilmour Dobie assures us. So long as colleges protest back and forth every championship contest in an entire season, it is hopeless to look for the harmony and good feeling necessary to success in a conference.

The situation is not new, but it does exist in a more aggravated condition than ever before. Athletic authorities, in their annual meetings around the conference, have staved off any decisive action as long as they can. It's about time for us to clean house and start over again—University of Washington Daily.

Ralph Reeves has not returned to the University since the holidays on account of trouble with his eyes. He expects to be back in time for the mid-year exams.

BOWLER OF McMinnville GETS RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

Second Man From That College to Get Benefit of Bequest.

At the meeting of the selection committee for Oregon in Portland the last of December, Henry R. Bowler, McMinnville College '09, was awarded the Rhodes scholarship, which gives the recipient $1500 a year during a three-years' course at Oxford University.

Bowler was chosen from a field of three candidates, the others being Seth Axley, a Sophomore at the University of California, and Luton Ackerson, a Sophomore at the University of Oregon. Bowler has an excellent record as a scholar and all-round man. His selection is the second consecutive choice of a McMinnville man. He will take up residence at Oxford next October.

Axley is a Salem boy and came before the Oregon committee under the provision which allows a man to be a candidate from his home state or from the state in which he takes the examination. Ackerson had not passed the Responsions, or qualifying examination, but was allowed to appear as a candidate on account of the loss of the questions sent to Oregon last fall. Both will be eligible for future choice.

The selecting committee consists of President Campbell, U. of O., President Homan, Willamette U., President Fern, Pacific U., President Riley, McMinnville College, President Crooks, Albany College.

LARGE DELEGATION TO Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION

MEETS FRIDAY, JANUARY 10, AT FOREST GROVE.

Strongest Program in Years Prepared
Fred B. Smith and Raymond Robbins Chief Speakers.

The thirteenth annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Oregon and Idaho convenes at Forest Grove next Friday evening, closing on the following Sunday. This convention promises to be the best ever held in the state, as is attested by the speakers, the place where it is to be held, and the general optimism and enthusiasm displayed by those who are planning it. Already fifteen Willamette students have signified their intention of attending, while it is believed that a number of others will decide to attend.

The two foremost speakers on the program will in all probability be Fred B. Smith, Secretary of the Religious Work Department of the International Committee, and Raymond Robins, Social Service Leader in the Men and Religion Forward Movement. These men have been making a world-round trip with the Association quartette, spreading the message of the Men and Religion Forward Movement. In addition to these are such well known men as Dr. John H. Boyd, Prof. Norman Coleman, Edward W. Peck, Harry W. Stone, John P. Congdon, W. H. Lewis, and our own President Homan. These, as well as the other speakers, are all ably qualified to deal with the various phases of the Association work.

While this convention will embrace all lines of Y. M. C. A. activity, the student department figures very strongly and it is to the best interests of the Willamette Association to have a large delegation represent her. In addition to the benefits of the convention, varsity students will be enabled to exchange fraternal greetings with the Pacific University fellows, who are their hosts, and to become acquainted with students from all the Oregon colleges.

It is planned that all who are going shall leave on the Oregon Electric train at 2:05 Friday afternoon, returning at 9:50 Monday morning. Special arrangements have been made whereby those having conflicting classes may be excused. There will be a one and one-third fare, on the certificate plan, and board and room will be furnished if the committee is informed in advance. All those intending to go or desiring further information are urged to see Carl Hollingsworth, president of the Y. M. C. A., immediately.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE OUT

O. A. C. Jacked Up on Requirements—Two Divisions Formed For Baseball.

Many important questions concerning northwest athletics were decided at a meeting of the Northwest College Conference held in Seattle, Dec. 20 and 21.

Among the most important was the provision that students at the Oregon Agricultural College must have at least twelve Carnegie units before they would be allowed to participate in Conference athletics. This removes a decided advantage that the Aggies have enjoyed for some time past, and as a result of this move the athletics of the Conference will be entirely between men of college rank, as all other members of the Conference had previously observed this rule.

Another important change gives the men who play summer baseball for money, outside of organized leagues, the privilege of participating in all college athletics except baseball.

The football schedule for next year was arranged as follows: Oct. 18—Oregon vs. Willamette at Salem, O. A. C. vs. Whitman at Walla Walla, Idaho vs. Pullman at Moscow; Oct. 24—Oregon vs. Idaho at Eugene, Washington vs. O. A. C. at Seattle; Nov. 1—Washington vs. Whitman at Seattle, Pullman vs. Oregon at Pullman; Nov. 8—Oregon vs. O. A. C. at Albany, Whitman vs. Pullman at Pullman; Nov. 15—Washington vs. Oregon on Multnomah Field at Portland; Thanksgiving, Nov. 27—Oregon vs. Multnomah at Portland, Washington vs. Pullman at Seattle, Idaho vs. O. A. C. at Corvallis. Schedules for basketball and baseball were also arranged. Two divisions have been drawn for baseball: the Inland Empire, including Idaho, W. S. C. and Whitman, and the Western Division, including Oregon, O. A. C. and Washington. The winners in each section will play.

Stella Graham Entertains Number of Friends Christmas—Lausanne Hall Deserted.

There was very little "doing" during the holidays for the "left-overs" who remained in the city. In fact, the left-overs were few and far between, as almost all the out-of-town students either went to their own or a friend's home. For the first time in years, Lausanne Hall was entirely deserted, so that the usual Christmas functions did not occur there.

Miss Stella Graham was hostess on Christmas night to a group of those who had not departed for their vacation. The party was a delightful one. The guests compiled their illustrated life histories, made fudge over the chaffing dish, and each received some small, fun-provoking gift from the Christmas tree. Those who enjoyed Miss Graham's hospitality were: the Misses Lucille Kuntz, Kate Barton, Mary Pigler and Ruth Fugate, and the Messrs. Phillip Newmeyer, Carle Raines, Alfred Hanke, Eric Bolt and C. E. Bates.

Seth Axley, of Salem, University of California, '15, has registered at Willamette and intends to finish his course here. Axley, who passed the Rhodes scholarship examinations in California, was a candidate before the selecting committee of this state at its recent meeting. While here during the holidays he determined to remain at home for the remainder of his course.

Robert Eakin, '09, visited during the holidays with his parents, Chief Justice and Mrs. Robert Eakin, of this city. Bob is engaged in the practice of law at La Grande.

Max H. Gehlar, a 1907 law graduate of Willamette who was elected county clerk at the last regular election, took up his duties at the courthouse last Monday, Jan. 6.

DE LONG "WENT AND DONE IT"

1912 Graduate Marries Miss Anna Takenire—Was Prominent in Varsity Student Affairs.

A wedding of much interest in Willamette circles was that of Merton R. DeLong to Miss Anna Mae Takenire, which was solemnized last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pohle, the uncle and aunt of the bride, Dr. R. H. Avison officiating. The house was very beautifully decorated in pink carnations and roses, against a background of smilax and ferns, and the ceremony took place before a bower of green, above which hung a large heart of pink roses.

Mrs. Myrtle Mendenhall sang Grieg's "Ich Liebe Diche," and Miss Evelyn DeLong played the wedding march. After the ceremony light refreshments were served, and the bride's cake was cut and distributed. Mr. and Mrs. DeLong left that evening for Portland for a brief honeymoon, and will be at home to their friends after January 15 at their new home, at 275 South Fourteenth street.

The bride is a native of Kansas, where she attended the State Normal school. The groom is an alumnus of Willamette, '12, and at the present time second assistant attorney-general of the state. While in college he was prominent in debate, the Glee Club, and class and society organizations.

The invited guests at the wedding were: President and Mrs. Homan, Dr. and Mrs. Todd, Judge and Mrs. Burnett, Judge and Mrs. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. Avison, Attorney General and Mrs. Crawford, Dean and Mrs. Mendenhall, Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. VanWinkle, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pohle, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Harkness, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Darnell of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Frazer of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Rorepaugh of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Livingston of Seattle, Miss Ethel Livingston of Seattle, Miss Evelyn DeLong, Miss Alma Pohle, Miss Frances Pohle, Miss Lotie Penn, Dr. Floyd Utter, F. T. Anderson.

DR. HOMAN PRESIDENT OF CHAUTAUQUA

Succeeds Congressman Hawley as Gavel-Wielder of Summer Educational Assembly.

The Board of Directors of the Gladstone Chautauqua, at a recent meeting in Portland, elected President Homan of Willamette to the position of president of the Chautauqua. The Chautauqua meets every summer, usually during August, at Gladstone Park, near Oregon City, and combines educational, entertaining, athletic and social features.

Dr. Homan has been closely connected with the organization for several years, having been a prominent lecturer before it on several occasions. The honor of presiding over the assembly seems to fall naturally to Willamette, Congressman Hawley having been president formerly.

The skating party at the Oaks Rink in Portland, which was planned by the Portland Willamette Club, for the evening of December 20, was not well attended for, although many old Willamette students were in the city at that time, the first night of vacation proved a very busy one. A few, however, gathered at the appointed time and spent a pleasant evening.

DEBATE QUESTION IS CHOSEN

Willamette Will Bandy Words With Idaho, as to Ex-Secretary of the Navy's Naval Policy.

"Resolved:—that the naval policy expressed in the last annual report of Ex-Secretary Meyer should be carried on by the United States." This is the question which will be debated by the University of Idaho and Willamette University on April 4, 1913, having been selected by the debate council from three submitted.

The tryout will be held Friday evening, February 21. If there are too many for the one evening, three tryouts will be arranged, two for preliminaries and the third for the finals.

The question is of great interest to the Pacific Coast States. The Panama Canal opens within a year and many are demanding an increased navy.

This is to be a double debate. There will be two men to a team. The would-be spellbinders have some good sources for research work, which will be put at their disposal immediately.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENTS GET NEW STEREOPTICAN

To fill a long felt need, the science departments have at last secured a first class stereoptican lantern for their work. The lantern will not only take the regular slides, but is also equipped with special attachments so that the microscopic slide or pictures may be thrown upon the screen.

The lantern is one of the very best procurable and Prof. Peck and Prof. Von Eschen think that it will be of great assistance in the teaching of certain lines of work. It was made by the Bosh-Lomb Optical Company, a firm with a very high reputation for this line of manufacture.

The Faculty Committee on Athletics at the Oregon Agricultural College put its veto on the proposed eastern holiday trip for the basketball team, the reason being that the team boys would miss two weeks of college work.
