

Coronation to Highlight May Weekend

Highlight of the 51st annual May Weekend now in progress will be the coronation of Queen Flossy I tomorrow at 11 a.m. on the lawn in front of the Fine Arts Auditorium. The traditional ceremony will begin with "Prelude" by the band, and it will get under way with introductory remarks by the master of ceremonies, John Bergstrom, and a welcome to the guests by Dick White, May Weekend manager.

"ALL HAIL, the Queen Approaches" with a trumpet fanfare by Larry Kimble, Jim Fiske, Lloyd Yunker, and the vocal rendition by the Heralds: Curt Culver, Dave McClard, Ralph Van Horn, Dave Mills, Dave Johnson, Bill Lewis, Bob Clark, Skeet Shepard, Malcolm Brand, John Heidel, Keith Neubauer and Ron Kingsley will announce the arrival of the Queen and her court.

Elaine Lyles, flower girl, will be the first of the Queen's party down the royal walk lined with the Daisy Chain formed by the sophomore women. Attendant and escort of the first princess, Marjorie Wilson and Doug Houser, will precede Princess Joyce Ambler and her escort, Tom Larson.

PRINCESS Dollie Cummings and her escort, Hugh Armstrong, will follow her attendant, Donna Leonard and escort, Wayne Carr. Next in the procession are the queen's attendants and their escorts, Martie Hoffman and Fred Wade and Sophie Goritson and Duane Hines.

Walter Jenkins will carry the crown, and flower girl, Joyce Kraft, will scatter flowers in preparation for Queen Flossy who will enter on the arm of her escort, Tom Owens. Mrs. Edith Fairham Gunnar, May Queen of 1949, will crown Queen Flossy ruler over May Weekend 1957.

THE BAND AND the heralds will each present a number honoring the newly-crowned queen. Following this Willamette freshman coeds will weave the traditional May Pole. The girls participating are Toni Folsom, Sue Trueblood, Patty Mitzel, Roberta Clemens, Janet Jamison, Cappy Casper, Donna Scott, Barbara Boniface, Dot Manker and Janet Perry.

Also weaving the multi-colored ribbons are Audney Horton, Elaine Friedman, Arta Lee Weber, Joan Griffith, Shirley Cazzell, Barbara Smith, Rosemary Lamb, Myrna Mangels, Judie Hume, Joanne Mc-

Gilvra, Donna Cunningham, and Rosalie Reddikopp.

The royal court will then recess to the planting of the magnolia.

MORE THAN 280 visiting high school seniors are slated to attend the weekend festivities.

Today, registration, dinner and then Willamette University Players' presentation of "Don Juan" and the Queen's reception will keep the guests busy today. Tomorrow morning will start off with an academic note starting with the orientation assembly from 9 to 10 a.m., followed by the academic preview where seniors will have a chance to talk to professors from fields they are interested in. Opportunities to go through the labs in the science department and the new facilities in the speech and art departments will also be afforded Willamette visitors.

THE AFTERNOON barbecue on Saturday will be presided over by Queen Flossy and her princesses, Joyce Ambler and Dollie Cummings. Sloppy Joe barbecued hamburgers, baked beans, potato salad, relishes, ice cream bars, and milk and coffee will be served on the lawn in front of the gym.

Entertainment will be afforded by Tom and Barbara Larson singing a duet, accompanied by Del Cummings. Sophie Goritson will also sing and Gail Boden will present a number.

Poor Jazz Concert Turnout Causes Student Loss of $480

The student body took a $480 loss on the Kenton All Stars jazz concert presented last week because of a poor audience turnout. It was estimated that a meager crowd of 108 persons was present at the concert.

The concert was the result of long negotiations with Jazz Showcase, the organization sponsoring the All Stars, and several interested students. Earlier in the year arrangements were made to bring another jazz group to the campus, but they fell through.

Wayne Carr, first vice president of the student body, said that poor attendance may have been due to the fact that a well known personality, such as Stan Kenton himself, did not perform at the concert. Carr also said that the Salem Senator's baseball game may have prevented the community from attending and house dance decorating kept some students at home. Poor attendance was also blamed on the fact that Salem is not particularly enthusiastic about progressive music.

Although attendance was poor, the concert was well received by those who did attend. Before scheduling a similar concert next year it will be necessary to find out ahead of time how many will attend in order to prevent another financial loss, Carr commented.

Booth Chosen YR Candidate

Anita Booth was chosen Miss Oregon Young Republican last Saturday from a group of about eight women representing Young Republican clubs from colleges and universities all over Oregon. According to Don Lytle, vice chairman of the State Young Republican College League Federation, Miss Booth will receive a trip to the nation's capitol in June to compete for the national title of Miss Young Republican.

Miss Booth was selected on the basis of thoughtfulness and clarity in her answers to questions asked her by the judges, who were state representatives Allen Tom and Shirley Field, and Allen Reed, publisher of the DeLake newspaper.

The competition was held at Surfides, in conjunction with the annual convale of Oregon Young Republicans.

DA Concert Reports Profit

A profit of approximately $1100 on the 1956-57 Distinguished Artists Concert Series was reported to Student Council by series business manager Lewis Beatty. The exact amount of the profit was unknown as a few bills remain to be paid.

This is the second year the Concert Series has made a large profit. According to a ruling of Student Council, any profits from the Concert Series will be applied toward paying off the debt that had built up before the Series was placed on a 75-25 percent basis. This means that 75 percent of the profits from each concert goes to the visiting artist and 25 percent is kept by the Series.

Chuck Marsters, series manager, announced the dates of the individual concerts; the Kovach and Ralovsky ballet team being slated for the opening spot November 23. Leonard Warren, baritone, will appear next on January 22, followed by Seymour Lipkin, pianist, February 5, and Marian Anderson, famed contralto, March 5.

Excellent Summer, Graduate Work At Willamette, According to Lyles

Willamette University offers an excellent opportunity to "get ahead" academically this summer. Dr. James Lyles, director of the summer session, said that registration for the '57 summer session will be from 9 to 12 on Monday, June 17 in the library. Classes begin at 8 a.m. on Tuesday and final examinations will be administered on August 8-9. There will be no pre-registration.

Work will be available during the summer session in a number of lower division requirements. By starting this summer, Lyles said, a new student or a freshman could finish his work in three years and four summers. In case a student is called into military service during this period he will be granted credit

67 Percent Vote Picks Carr

Wayne Carr, this year's first vice president, will be the president of the Willamette student body next year. Other officers elected are Anita Booth, first vice president; Dick White, second vice president; Diane Wickstrom, secretary; Dean Short, treasurer; and Skip Alexander, member-at-large.

A NEAR record turnout of 67 percent of the student body voted for their candidates. The sole runoff election for secretary, however, saw only 47 percent of the students voting.

Jack Jones, chairman of the elections committee, said that the all time record of 71 percent of the students voting was made last year.

CARR, WHO in addition to his duties as first vice president, is a member of the finance board and chairman of the Rally Commission, is a member of Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Chi honorary.

The first woman to be elected as first vice president in several years is Anita Booth, a junior member of Delta Gamma sorority, Beta Alpha Gamma, and several campus committees.

May Weekend manager Dick White was selected by the students as next year's second vice president. White, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is also president of the Religious Life Council, and vice president of the junior class.

DEAN SHORT, junior economics major, will serve as next year's treasurer. He is at the present time in Washington, D. C., where he is participating in the Washington University Semester program. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Alpha Chi honorary.

Diane Wickstrom, who defeated Esther Gwilliam in the runoff election for secretary Tuesday and Wednesday, is a member of Beta Alpha Gamma and has been a delegate to the Associated Women Students national convention, as well as Orientation Week manager and Varsity Varieties publicity chairman.

The student body member-at-large for next year will be Ship Alexander, Carr's opponent for the presidency. He is now the junior class president, vice president of Young Democrats and a member of Beta Theta Pi.

Nine Graduating Psychology Majors Decide on Grad School

Nine graduating seniors in psychology have made definite plans for next year which will include graduate work and, in one case, a commission in the Women's Air Force, according to the head of the department, Dr. Charles Derthick.

MARILYN ISAAK has been accepted at Ohio State University to participate in a two year graduate resident program doing work which will include counseling in a residence hall and taking part in advising student government activities. The first year stipend will be $1,200 and she should receive approximately $1,785 the second year.

Gayle York has accepted a graduate assistantship in human relations at Ohio University at Athens, Ohio. Her work as a dormitory counselor and as an assistant in the office of the dean of women will carry a first year stipend of $1,600 plus tuition and $1,800 for the second year.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY in Syracuse, New York, has awarded an assistantship to Hugh Armstrong which carries a stipend of $760 tuition credit plus $125 a month for duties to be performed in the psychology department, and Ted Primrose will work for his Master's Degree in psychology at the University of Arizona, which has awarded him a $500 scholarship.

Curt Culver will receive full tuition and board and a grant ranging from $700 to $1,200 for a nine month period on a resident counselor scholarship which has been granted to him by the University of Oregon. A "Readership" in the psychology department at the University of Washington has been accepted by Gary Schmalle, Volney Sigmund has also been accepted at the University of Washington, and Dave Johnson has been offered an out-of-state scholarship at the University of Wisconsin, but plans to attend Stanford University.

Shirley Ulinder is virtually assured a commission in the Air Force and is awaiting loyalty clearance at the present time.

Bags Hold Rush Party

All freshmen women with a 2.5 grade point average or better are invited to attend the annual rush party of Beta Alpha Gamma Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. in the Lausanne Lounge. The prospective members will be given the opportunity to list their activities and become better acquainted with the purpose and activities of the sophomore women's honorary.

May Weekend Fairy Tale Frolic Honored 1927 Queen

Introduction to WillametteLife

With a weekend of planned minute-to-minute activity, confusion, and orientation, it is really doubtful that visiting May Weekenders will discover all the quirks and connotations of Willamette's unique personality. Freshman Glee, quad, 1 o'clocks, comps, orals, the 'Cat and 'fus' are words which glibly fall from the indoctrinated Willametteite tongue.

BUT WHAT of the poor lost senior guest who is whirled from barbecue, to coronation, to baseball game, to dance? Opportune then are a few words on the meaning and definition of some Willamette traditions that date back fifty-one years when the very first May Weekend was held.

Every year it changes and the coronation of the queen is held a day earlier or a day later, but basically the weekend remains the same. A feature forgotten for several years was the Maypole dance which reappears this year. Back in the good old days the freshman girls and the junior boys twined the ribbons together. Nowadays either the males have regained their masculinity or have found more manly activities because the girls will be doing all the dancing.

BACK AT the coronation though, one hears whispers from the past mentioning columns and nasty words like rain and gymnasiums. When the old State Capitol building burned down in the early 1930's, industrious people copped for Willamette the white pillars which were about the only rescueable things left across the street. They were erected in the area which is now in front of the Sigma Chi house and for many years the site of the crowning of the Queen of May.

Climbing to the third floor of Waller, the original building on the campus, is an institution dear to the heart of every student and especially after a class on the top of Eaton. The latter building, going on it's second hundred years, has recently been robbed of its ivy that covered the building for years. The ivy died a sad death in the cold weather of the past several winters.

THE LAW school, originally a post office, and the Music Hall, the old chem building, are all a part of Willamette. Even the walks and trees have special meaning. The best way of course to know and love Willamette is to attend the school. May Weekend is to encourage that, so please visitors, don't try to take it all in at once!

Who Cares About the Weather?

Whatever the weatherman in his mercy decides to give us this weekend, we would like to be among the first to prophecy to the visiting high school seniors that they are going to have an excellent time. For about a month the thoughts and activities of many people have been directed toward making their stay as pleasant as possible.

It is only right that our guests should know that the activities scheduled for them have not just appeared from the ground. We have been looking forward to and planning for May Weekend ever since last year. This is our chance to show people whom we fondly hope will be freshmen next year our campus and our way of life, and we intend to make the most of it.

Our only purpose in having a May Weekend now is to show Willamette to prospective schoolmates. All the planning has been for their entertainment, so we hope they will relax and enjoy the weekend with us.

"In a bower of spring flowers under perfect skies, Willamette University crowned its May queen at 2 o'clock this afternoon." So announced a Salem paper on May 6, 1927.

QUEEN MILDRED Tomlinson (now Mrs. C. D. Phillips of Portland) reigned over this fete 30 years ago, and has generously lent the Collegian clippings and photos to compare the colorful event of yesterday year with today's festivities.

An elaborate setting was prepared on the west Supreme Court lawn. "Queen Mildred, dressed exquisitely in dainty white, entered by a little covered gate into the arena, preceded by two tiny flower girls carrying large baskets of flowers, and the Varsity Quartet singing the already traditional "Make Way for the Queen."

UPON REACHING the platform, a bower decorated with pink and flowers twined with ivy, Queen

Mildred took her place in the big fan-shaped chair in the center with her two maids on either side, and the senior women (36 strong) dressed in white and carrying bouquets of pink and white flowers arranged themselves on the steps in front of her. President Doney placed the crown on the Queen's head after a short but impressive speech."

About 3000 people witnessed the coronation—students, townspeople, several hundred alums, and Salem high school seniors were excused from their afternoon classes to attend if they wished.

"FOLLOWING THE coronation, beautiful dances were given by a group of a hundred university students. The theme about which the frolic centered was the fairy tale of the Pied Piper of Hamelin. The dancers were all attractively costumed in keeping with the idea carried out—wigs and all.

"After the Pied Piper led all the children into the hill land where they were entertained by pygmies, crystals and balloons, a May pole was placed in the center of the big lawn and the annual winding of the May Pole, with dancers in the Dutch costumes of long ago, followed."

THE WEEKEND of jollity started at 10 o'clock Friday morning with the registration of guests in Chresto cottage. Copies of the Wallulah were distributed at eleven, and the ringing of the victory bell announced the picnic lunch served by the YW. The campus YW also served the May breakfast in Chresto Saturday morning; many townspeople attended and the food was donated by Salem merchants.

A big clean-up had been made early Friday morning by the freshman and sophomore men, with a senior "paddle" committee supervising to see that everyone properly shared the work.

THEIR DISTINCTIVE headgear (the 'lids' were green then) was burned by the freshmen Saturday afternoon in a stunt "calculated to arouse both tears and laughter" after which the freshman-sophomore tug-of-war was held over the mill stream. Later there was a track meet with Chemawa.

Booth Tarkington's comedy "The Intimate Stranger" was presented by the junior class in the Capitol theatre Friday evening. A musical concert was given in Waller Hall the next morning. The Portland Junior symphony entertained at Willamette night in the Elsinore theatre, Saturday night where the queen and her court occupied special boxes. The Men's Glee Club held their alumni banquet before the performance, in the YM.

CONCLUDING her letter, Mrs. Phillips said "A May Queen of several years greeted me at the theater and assured me life goes on its way after such a weekend and returns to normal.

"And now in the interest of international research, the freshman women will present an ancient English and Roman dance."

'Don Juan': Whimsy, Villainy Plus Inferno

By LOIS MONK
Feature Editor

Once the house lights flicker off, anything is possible in the theater—and the incredible serves only to heighten the effect of reality. Twenty centuries of costumes are casually mixed, little (but frequently sepulchral) figures keep popping in and out, statues walk about: "Don Juan" is entirely incredible but highly entertaining.

DIRECTOR Robert M. Putnam

has outdone himself in this weekend production of Moliere's seventeenth century satire. His extremely simple staging is striking. Constant use of an immense frame, and remarkably effective lighting give the necessary impression of depth and continuity.

Every important scene comes off with the quality of a portrait: the University has never seen a production handled so monumentally from a sheerly dramatic standpoint. Especially memorable is the unhappy Dona Elvira's voluminous skirt silhouetted against this darkened frame.

AMAZINGLY ingenious, the costuming is both fresh and strikingly colorful. Nothing short of the impossible has been tried — and yet this improbable combination of lacy Victorian costumes, long elaborate wigs, thuggish outfits, togas and bermuda shorts emphasizes each actor's unique role.

Whimsy adds charm not comedy to the play. Two trotting little blackamoors are as conveniently present as Aladdin's genie (though Moliere never dreamed of them), a most enchanting but enormous horse supports a ghastly rider, light-hearted and light-footed peasants toy so earnestly with life in their pastoral setting — complete with swing and a vengeful teeter-totter.

MOLIERE WISELY enlivened his satire with comic elements, but the play's serious content is often painfully obvious. Much impassioned, but not always coherent, ranting threatens to bog down the flow of action — for Moliere chooses the most unlikely specimens to carry out his attacks on medicine and aristocratic hypocrisy.

Don Juan himself is deceptively charming — and his trembling valet emphasizes his master's villainy — but the production derives its merit not from the comic (or nearly tragic) character of this wicked lad, but from the delightfully novel situations which have been spotlighted to keep the movement constant.

Researcher's Findings Show Small Minority Is Most Active

As a result of her study of the social habits of the freshman women in Lausanne Hall, Betty Beutrow, sociology major and senior scholar in that department, brought to light the fact that only 24 percent of the group was active in campus affairs for the 1955-56 school year.

IN A SERIES of graphs and tables based on the facts she gathered from sign-out books and other dormitory records, Miss Beutrow proves in her article that for a small campus, the participation of the majority of these girls was exceptionally low.

In seven months of sign-out statistics, out of 999 sign-outs only 104 were for school activities, or in other words, approximately 10 percent, while 39 percent were for trips home. Only 11 girls were active in more than one function, 32 were active in one and 71 girls were entirely non-active on campus. The Lausanne freshmen were considered a representative group because only 10 freshman girls lived in Doney last year.

ONLY 4.5 percent of the freshman girls took over twelve hours of their allotted 13 and a half hours of late permissions for the year. Ten girls took no late pers at all.

According to the author, "Too often it is easier for those in administrative positions to adopt a policy of "do it yourself" or "burden a buddy" when there is work to be done, than it would be to take the time to find, ask and guide the stranger of unproven merit who would probably be thrilled at the prospect of being included. The unity produced by Freshman Glee is ample proof of how unity can be achieved. From Lausanne Hall there was 80.3 percent participation in it."

TO RIGHT the problem of non-participation the author urges that girls be made aware of their obligations in addition to the increased effort of the organizations to seek new blood.

Summing up, the author says: "There is a chance for true character molding and development by showing interest in those who do not now participate. The college is the training ground for the attitudes and habits of later life. Almost every leading civic leader can trace the influence of his college activities into the activities for which he is later noted."

THE ARTICLE was published in a book of two reports from the department of sociology and anthropology of the University and is available at the bookstore.

Jim Scott Accepted to Oregon Medical School

Jim Scott, senior pre-med major, has been accepted at the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland. Scott has been president of Sigma Alpha Chi and Mu Epsilon Delta and departmental assistant in biology.

Prof's Schedule Outdoes Students

While students face with dismay the necessity of making up 13 weeks of school in a remaining extra-curricular whirlwind of May, a speech professor is proving his extra-academic ability beyond all credibility next week.

Dr. Howard W. Runkel, head of the speech department, will deliver five speeches next week — including conventions and church services.

An after-dinner speech will be delivered after an Estonian spring dinner, he will conduct Sunday morning worship at the Knight Memorial Congregational church, the Daughters of the American Revolution will hear him speak on the "Genuine Revolution" and the Annual Rally of the Oregon Pioneers, and the annual convention of the Federated Women's Clubs of Oregon are the last two on the slate.

In his seven years teaching at Willamette, Dr. Runkel has delivered over 300 addresses to various groups.

Dr. Shay Awarded Stipend For Study of Indian Policies

Dr. Theodore L. Shay, associate professor of political science, has been awarded a one-year Guggenheim Fellowship Award in India, to study the influence of Hindu principles on current Indian political policy.

He will travel to the Near East in July, 1958, to gather material for a book he plans to write on the political philosophy emanating from the ancient Hindu philosophy, interviewing the people of the country to discern how their values and ideas have altered since Indian independence.

Shay, who lived in India in 1955 and 1956 on a Knickerbocker fellowship, is the author of The Legacy of the Lokamanya, the political philosophy of nationalist leader Tilak.

A native of Portland, where he graduated from Lincoln high school, he received his bachelor's, master's and doctorate degrees from Northwestern University.

Over $1,500,000 has been awarded to 344 scholars and artists this year, persons of "unusual capacity for scholarly research, demonstrated by the previous publication of contributions to knowledge of high merit."

Officer Recruit Team To Interview Monday

The Marine Corps is now accepting applications for the officer candidate program and the platoon leaders class, both ground and aviation. A procurement team will be on campus to interview applicants Monday and Tuesday.

The platoon leaders class is an officer training program designed to enable successful applicants to complete college before fulfilling their military obligation. In addition, a member of the platoon leaders class attends no marine drills or classes during the regular college year. Instead he participates in two six week training periods during the summer months.

Thousands of college students representing over 900 schools in the United States have found the platoon leaders program a practical solution for completing their education and fulfilling their military obligation.

First Foreign Policy Meeting Scheduled to Begin Tuesday

The first meeting of the College Community Conference on Foreign Policy will convene Tuesday at 7 p.m. in room 223W of the Fine Arts building to discuss underdeveloped countries and the responsibility of the U. S. for their development.

CAMPUS UNESCO and the Salem chapter of the United Nations are the sponsoring groups, and according to Dr. Vojtech Andic, the pamphlets which will form the basis of the discussions are a part of the Citizens Consultation Program and are supplied by a division of the State Department in co-operation with Unesco.

Dr. Harley Zeigler, who lived in Hawaii for many years, will serve as moderator and five Willamette students who are acquainted with foreign lands will attend. They are Akimasa Sano, a native of Japan; Terry Jew, a native of China; Charlotte Means, who lived in India for one year; Gail Beyer, who lived in Hong Kong for two years; and Ces Bahlmaseda, who resides in the Philippines.

MANY OF THE Salem citizens who participated in the Great Decisions discussions will also contribute to these meetings and Dr. Andic

Fall Food Jobs Open

Bill Highfield, of the university food service, will be interviewing students interested in securing jobs in the cafeteria for next year. Interviews will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Lausanne cafeteria on May 21, 22, and 23.

Springer Given Study Stipend For Cornell

Dr. Martha Springer, professor of biology, has been awarded a stipend by the National Science Foundation to attend the summer institute of botany at Cornell University. Ithaca, New York, June 30 to August 10.

The six-week series of lectures by outstanding men in the field will be offered to forty college botany teachers in the United States selected by the foundation.

Prior to her arrival for the summer course, Dr. Springer will attend the standards and recognition committee meeting of the American Association of University Women in Washington, D. C., June 16 to 19, of which she is a national committee member, and then will travel to Boston for the national AAUW convention.

Air Force Films Due

The next group of films in the "Air Force Story" will be shown next Tuesday, May 7, at 7 p.m. in Waller Hall. These films, sponsored by the Arnold Air Society, will include The Road to Rome, Prelude to Invasion, D-Day, and The Polesti March, August 1943 to 1944.

urged all students interested in international affairs to attend.

The second and last discussion in the series will be held at the same hour and place, Tuesday, May 14. America as an international traveler and host and the importance of teaching foreign language will be the topics which Mrs. Elmer Berg, assistant professor of Spanish, will moderate. Lou Ann Mergler, who will study in Europe next year, Birgitta Gullers, Swedish exchange student, and Henry Cooper, graduate assistant in French, will be in attendance.

Language Department to Sponsor Eighth Annual French Study Tour

The Willamette romance language department is sponsoring its eighth annual French study tour this summer from June 18 through August 29.

Led by Henry Cooper, instructor in the French department who recently returned from that country, the tour is being made in agreement with SITA, providing for university sponsorship of groups of students for study in Europe during the summer.

Young Demos to Travel To Albany Meet May 10

Six or seven members of Willamette's Young Democrats will attend the Young Democrat state convention in Albany, May 10, 11, and 12, according to Fred Chambers, president of the group.

A banquet on Friday will start the convention, and caucuses will take place all day Saturday. Sunday, delegates will elect officers for the coming year and will vote to take an official stand on various top political issues of the day.

Tomorrow's Schedule Filled By Game, Fashion Show, Ball

Following tomorrow's baseball game with Pacific University with the royal court attending as honored guests, the Associated Women Students will present a fashion show in the Fine Arts auditorium, for which the clothes are provided by Meier and Frank and Mrs. Elaine Dill.

Chem Group Hears Speech by Dr. Nichol

Dr. J. C. Nichol was the guest speaker last Tuesday evening at the weekly meeting of the Oregon State physical chemistry seminar group at Oregon State College. His subject was "Moving Boundary Electrophoresis." Dr. Nichol has been conducting research in this field at Wisconsin last summer and during the fall term at Willamette. Several chemistry students from Willamette accompanied him to OSC and enjoyed a tour of the Chemistry Department while there.

More Seniors Have Awards

Five Willamette seniors have recently accepted graduate scholarships in the fields of chemistry, mathematics, physics, and theology, according to the office of Dean Gregg.

Larry Thompson has accepted a $1700 grant for a nine-month period as a chemistry teaching assistant at the University of Illinois and Richard Crittenden will also study at the Illinois school with a $1700 teaching assistantship in physics.

Oregon State College has awarded a $1400 mathematics assistantship to Robert White and he will teach six to seven hours of freshman math courses each week as a part of his study program.

Eugene Groves has accepted an entrance scholarship of $1050 to Chicago Theological Seminary, and Laird Sutton has been awarded a three-fourths tuition scholarship to the Boston University School of Theology.

Modeling these typical campus fashions will be Joan Sherrill, Barbara Duncan, Carole Pfaff, Joan Roberts, Ann Yoder, Polley Daugherty, Dorothy Roling, Ann Bercaw, Kay Sanford, Mary Jo Smullin, Myrna Mangels, Rosemary Stephenson and Beverly Baer.

Other models giving the seniors an idea of what Willamette coeds wear will be Cynthia Shaw, Marilyn Hanthorn, Jean Pritchard, Mary Lou Krause, Beverly Hamman, Gloria Carver, Sandi Harris and Mary Swanson.

The Queen's Ball Saturday night from 9 to 12 in the gym will have the theme of "Chivalry." In the midst of shields, spears, and around the royal throne, dancers will whirl to the music of Al Robertson and his dance band.

White, Weigun Win Court Finals

Douglas White and George Weigun, juniors in the College of Law, were selected winners of the Moot Court finals last week.

They will represent Willamette at the regional Moot Court competition in November at the University of Washington. If they win over Washington, University of Idaho, and Montana State College, they will be delegates from the Northwest to the national competition in New York City.

Both were presented with gifts of law books, as were the other finalists, Robert Heffernan and Jenna Vayva Schlegel.

Bank Agent to Interview

Mr. C. H. Winkel, representative of the United States National Bank, will be on campus on Wednesday, starting at 9. Winkel is interested in interviewing both senior men and women for positions after graduation. Appointments should be made through the office of Mrs. Mary Thompson, secretary of senior placement, in Harold Jorys office.

Jasons Slip to Third Position, Lose Contests on Road Trip

ONE WEEK AGO today the Willamette baseball squad left on their annual road trip to College of Idaho and Whitman, and they were all alone on top of the Northwest conference standings with four consecutive victories and no defeats. Tuesday, the Jasons returned with the same four victories, but instead of no defeats, their record showed four losses.

The College of Idaho Coyotes gave the visiting Jasons an unfriendly welcome, as they played the role of the unmannerly host and handed Willamette a 15-2 blasting in the first game and then squeaked out an 8-7 verdict in the nightcap. The Bearcats picked up 10 hits in the first game, but couldn't put them together for a scoring effort. Five Jason errors aided the Coyotes' cause.

IN THE SECOND game the Lewismen played much better defensive ball. Vic Backlund put on a hitting display, which was by far the best individual offensive effort for either team in the two game series. Backlund poked a double, a triple, and a home run in three trips to the plate.

Monday the Bearcats tangled with the Whitman Missionaries at Walla Walla. The Missionaries were not the least bit humanitarian, as they dumped the Willamette team in two close tilts, 7-6 and 5-4. Time and again, the Bearcats hit long balls to the outfield, but always right to the Whitman fielders who were playing exceptionally deep.

IN THE FIRST game Willamette jumped to an early three run lead, on two walks, a hit batter, and two singles. The Whits came back in their half of the first, with three runs on three hits, and three walks. Willamette scored single runs in the fourth, fifth, and seventh innings. Whitman scored one in the fifth and then picked up three big runs in the seventh.

In the second game the Bearcats came from behind to tie the score in their half of the seventh inning. Vic Backlund walked, stole second base and then romped home with the tying run, when Dick Rohrer doubled to right.

THE MISSIONARIES came back in their half of the seventh to win the game, when two men walked to lead off the inning and centerfielder Warren Holtz, doubled in the tie-breaking run.

WU Harriers Meet Whitman At Walla Walla

COACH TED OGDAHL and his Willamette University harriers left for Whitman College this morning, where they will meet the Missionaries in a Northwest conference dual meet. Last week the Bearcats traveled to Corvallis where they participated in a four way meet with Oregon State, Lewis and Clark, and the OSC Rooks. Willamette took third with 13½ points.

Missing last weekend from the Willamette squad, was Dale Hartman. Hartman suffered a shoulder injury in practice and did not run in the meet. He is expected to be in top shape for the Whitman meet tomorrow.

VETERAN COACH C. W. "Bill" Martin is in his 24th season as Whitman track coach. His squad opened the season with only seven lettermen, but four of them were Northwest conference champions. The team is bolstered by hurdler Dave Klicker, who went to the nationals in NAIA competition last year. Martin has some fine freshmen prospects in Cal Wiggins, Doug Grant, Jerry Halvorson, and Terry Lofsvold.

Last year Whitman was runnerup in the Northwest conference meet, but the Whits won the most individual first places.

WU Coeds Tie

The Willamette University women's tennis team played Marylhurst to a 2-2 tie last Friday on the Willamette courts.

RESULTS: Singles—Mildred Edmonson (W) defeated Pat Fugita 6-3, 7-5; Pat Stafford (M) defeated Diane Roeding (W) 7-5, 6-4. Doubles—Mary Lou Hastings and Diane Roeding (W) defeated Pat Allen and Barbara Bordstrom 6-3, 3-6, 6-4; Pat Fugita and Pat Stafford (M) defeated Sue Wilcox and Mildred Edmonson 6-4, 6-3.

Divotmen Win From Pacific, Portland State

The Willamette University golf team won their fourth straight Northwest conference golf match last Friday by dumping the Pacific Badgers 12½-5½, at the Salem Golf Club. Coach Jerry Long's Bearcats were led by Rusty Beaton and Ron Hoxie, who shot 3-over-par 75's, to share medalist honors with the Badgers' Duke Anderson.

The Bearcat golfers picked up a 10-8 victory over the Portland State Vikings, last Tuesday on the Eastmoreland green. Portland States' Tom Liljeholm was medalist with a 74.

Horsehiders Start Comeback, Face PU in Weekend Tilt

STILL SMARTING over their disastrous road trip, the Bearcat baseballers are out for revenge and determined to climb back on top of the Northwest conference standings. Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p.m., the Bearcats tangle with the Pacific University Badgers in a May Weekend tilt.

The Bearcats ran into trouble on their road trip when the pitching, which stood up so well in the first four victories of the season, failed in the clutch against College of Idaho and Whitman. None of the Jason flingers are real fire-ball pitchers, thus they must rely on control and hitting the corners—this they could not do against the Coyotes or the Missionaries. Willamette pitchers were always behind the batter on the count and consequently often found themselves in trouble.

COACH JOHNNY Lewis' diamondmen have shown great spirit in practice this past week and if the pitching returns to the form of earlier games, the Bearcats should get back on the victory road.

Spring Intramural Program Underway

A FULL schedule of spring sports has taken shape on the intramural scene. Badminton, softball and tennis have all been played this past week, as the spring intramural program has gotten underway.

Badminton is being played on Wednesday evenings in the gym, with action beginning at 7 p.m. Tennis action is slated for Saturday mornings, except when the varsity tennis team is scheduled to play. Softball is being played on Phillip's field at 4 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday. All games which are postponed due to weather conditions are made up on Friday.

THUS FAR, the Sigma Chis hold softball victories over the Betas and Independents and the Phi Deltis have downed the SAEs and Independents. In tennis, the Phis won a forfeit from South Hall, and the Betas dumped the Independents last Saturday.

Phi Delts Win Bowling Crown

AFTER A long hard pull in the second half of league play, the going was all down hill in the championship play-offs for the Phi Delta Theta No. 2 bowling team. The number two squad humbled their brothers in the family fray, sweeping three straight games from the Phi Delt ones. The youngsters, three freshmen and a sophomore, sneaked by in the first contest with a shaky seven pin margin. Determined to increase their lead, the number two group blasted their brers to a 70 stick difference in the second encounter, leaving the third game as an anticlimax. In the third contest, the 2's were a bit overconfident, but they managed to squeak by on a five maple margin for the clean sweep.

The losing group consisted of Andy Kuehn, a sophomore, and for a switch, three seniors, Duane Baird, Don Smith and Ed Boothby.

WU Tennis Team Wins Two, Keeps NWC Victory Skein

The Willamette University tennis team kept their winning ways last weekend as they picked up two more victories. Last Friday, the netters dropped only one set in sweeping a 7-0 Northwest conference dual tennis match with Pacific University. The win over the Badgers gave the Bearcat crew their 39th consecutive Northwest conference win.

RESULTS: Singles—Tim Campbell (W) defeated Jerry Kalapus 6-3, 3-6, 7-5; Don Smith (W) defeated Bert Why 6-1, 6-3; Jerry Winner (W) defeated Tom Carmichael 6-1, 6-0; Royal Keith (W) defeated Dick Togikawa 6-1, 6-0; Marshall Jelderks (W) defeated Lee Rubenstein 6-0, 7-5.

Doubles—Campbell and Keith (W) defeated Kalapus and Why 6-4, 6-1; Smith and Winner (W) defeated Carmichael and Togikawa 6-4, 6-1.

SATURDAY, Coach Les Sparks took his netmen to Portland for a dual match with the Portland State Vikings. The Bearcats piled up a 6-1 decision over the Vikings, as they captured all matches but the first doubles.

Results: Singles—Bud Mull (W) defeated Jack Cummings 6-4, 12-10; Tim Campbell (W) defeated Don Murray 6-2, 6-3; Don Smith (W) defeated Ron Renwick 6-2, 9-7; Gerry Winner (W) defeated Clark Jones 6-2, 6-2; Marshall Jelderks (W) defeated Pete Walker 6-1, 6-3.

DOUBLES—Cummings and Murray (PSC) defeated Campbell and Smith 1-6, 7-5, 9-7; Jelderks and Winner (W) defeated Jones and Renwick 6-3, 7-5.

Netters Defeat OCE Wolves

Coach Les Sparks' tennis squad came up with a 9-0 shutout over the Oregon College of Education Wolves at Monmouth, last Tuesday afternoon. Only Wolves to win a set was the double team of Elton Gregory and Milt Doumit, when they won the middle set of their match.

RESULTS: Singles—Tim Campbell (W) over Zel Gernhart, 6-3, 6-3; Don Smith (W) over Ron Martin, 6-1, 6-2; Royal Keith (W) over Murv Stone, 6-3, 6-2; Gerry Winner (W) over Bill Ritchie, 6-1, 6-0; Marshall Jelderks (W) over Elton Gregory, 6-1, 6-0; Clyde MacIver (W) over Bob Myers, 6-2, 6-2.

Doubles—Campbell and Jelderks (W) over Gernhart and Ritchie, 6-4, 6-1; Smith and Winner (W) over Martin and Stone, 6-2, 6-1; Don Gordon and Pete Blewett (W) over Gregory and Doumit, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

THERE IS an antiquated adage in boxing which tends to compare old fighters with old soldiers, both are supposedly to just fade away. Last Wednesday night, Sugar Ray Robinson—who is celebrating his 37th birthday today—blasted this old adage to bits with one punch. Many a sentimentalist was rooting for Robinson when he won the middleweight boxing championship of the world for the unprecedented fourth time.

BOXING FANS tend to judge a fighter on many merits and demerits, and for better or worse, Sugar Ray is the kind of man most fans like to see as champion. He has that something about him which tends to glamorize and glorify his actions. In the ring, he moves like a champion—swift, confident and powerful. Outside the ropes, he is both arrogant and gracious, shrewd and profligate. He is the type of fighter who—whether he can afford it or not—operates with a handful of managers, a traveling barber and a body guard.

WE REMEMBER the disappointment that spread among boxing fans when Gene Fullmer whipped Robinson in January. It was not disappointment over the decision—Fullmer won, but it was the way in which he won. In the eyes of many he didn't look like a champion. He is almost everything that Robinson is not. In the ring he lacks distinction, is devoid of technique. He is tough, durable and awkward. However, he is what fans call a dull fighter. Away from the ring, he is a stranger to the lavish living of Robinson, and reveals a streak of humility foreign to Sugar Ray.

EXCEPT FOR being a bit more tired, Robinson looked like the showman of old last Wednesday night, flashing much of the speed, grace and color which won championships from Jake LaMotta, Randy Turpin and Bobo Olson. It seemed as if Robinson had to win the fight, in order to satisfy the feeling that a man held the championship who was inferior to him in skill. Also, like another ancient warrior, Archie Moore, Sugar Ray was motivated by a fierce pride in his profession and obsessed by the yearning to be hailed—once again—on every street corner as "Champ!"

Beta Alpha Gamma, sophomore women's service honorary, will hold their annual rush party on Tuesday evening at 8:15 p.m. in the Lausanne Lounge. Qualifications for membership in the organization include a grade point average of 2.5 or better and activities indicating service rendered to the school during the freshman year at Willamette. At the party Tuesday, those attending will be given the opportunity to list their activities and to become better acquainted with the members, purposes, and activities of Beta Alpha Gamma. Joan Sherrill, BAC's president, has asked that a cordial invitation be issued to all freshman women with the necessary grade point average.

The present members of the sophomore women's honorary will elect ten freshman women as members; they will be tapped in awards convocation May 21. The new group will choose three additional classmates to the honorary in the fall.

Finally recovering from decorating for their house dance are the women of Doney Hall. By some quirk of fate part of the beautiful foliage used to embellish the dormitory was poison oak. After a run on the Health Center for zinc oxide and other remedies, the epidemic is finally subsiding. Another swollen victim is Professor James Douglas, who is managing to teach classes and carry on heroically in spite of a badly puffed eye.

Four outstanding SAEs were honored at the annual Parent's Day banquet held at the chapter house last Sunday. Principal speakers were Dean Robert Gregg and Dr. Paul Beal. George Nelson was named outstanding senior, and Dave Johnson took honors for the outstanding member. The top freshman award went to Howard Nelson, and Dick White won the $100 Minerva Club scholarship.

The annual spring dinner dance of the law school was held Saturday evening at the American Legion Hall, from 8 to 12. General chairman for the evening was Bob Saylor, vice president of the law school, and entertainment was provided by the Capitol Chordsmen and the first year students.

The skit presented by the freshman class was a saga on life in the Legal Aid clinic, and was directed by Sam Schlager, who also played the telephone. Jim Garrett was master of ceremonies, and members of the cast were Bob Simpson, Tom Goldsmith, Jack Howay, Norma Peterson, Dan Callaghan, Don Turner, Martin Howard, Bob Stevens, and Len Perlman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Whipple and Mrs. Esther Ryan will entertain student leaders and their dates at a dinner Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the Whipples. According to Whipple, student body general manager, the party is in honor of the students with whom he has worked closely this year.

Barbara Anderson, senior music major, flew to New York Tuesday evening to attend the graduation ceremonies of John Bone, 1956 graduate, from the Naval Officers' Training Program in Rhode Island. Bone's parents left for the East coast earlier this week.

Margaret White, Astoria, who attended Willamette last year, was named outstanding woman marine recruit in her platoon, at her graduation ceremony held last month. According to Lieutenant Colonel Barbara J. Bishop, Private White received her award on the basis of her conduct, proficiency, and academic standing.

All I needed to convince me that the Maypole dance should be included in this year's coronation program was to hear representative and literature student Jim Davis declare that such dances functioned originally as a fertility rite! I'm sure that when Willamette initiated the tradition, they had no idea of the significance.

Willamette coeds modeling Meier and Frank fashions will be seen tomorrow afternoon from 4 until 5 at the Salem store. A part of the May Weekend program, everyone is urged to attend, according to Linda Berry, social chairman for AWS, who is sponsoring the event.

Meier and Frank has been just wonderful about helping with the style show—supplying not only the clothing, but the fashion commentator and the background display.

Carving about the stage looking collegiate will be Joan Sherrill, Barbara Duncan, Carole Pfaff, Joan Roberts, Ann Yoder, Polley Dougherty, Dorothy Rohlfing, Ann Bercaw, Kay Sanford, Mary Jo Smullin, Myrna Mangels, Rosemary Stephenson, Bev Baer, Cynthia Shaw, Marilyn Hanthorn, Jean Pritchard, Mary Lou Krause, Bev Hamman, Gloria Carver, Sandi Harris, and Mary Lee Swanson.

The biggest news of the year is the 12 o'clock late permissions received by senior women on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights beginning May 1. This long-awaited privilege is awarded the expectant graduates if they have passed their orals and comps. Actually, there probably won't be much to do and we'll end up sitting on the front porches of the houses and dorms until midnight. But the feeling of relative freedom is long-awaited.

Mrs. Dyer Choice Of Phi Delta Theta

Mrs. Madeline Dyer, six years a housemother at Willamette's Phi Delta Theta chapter, recently won the honor of representative housemother of the fraternity in the United States and Canada. From June 10-24 Mrs. Dyer will attend a two weeks meeting at Purdue University in Lafayette, Indiana.

According to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Dyer, the Purdue meeting will be attended by a representative from each national sorority and fraternity.

Mrs. Dyer who is now the housemother at the Phi Delta chapter at Oregon State College left Willamette two years ago. The selection was made by the governing body of the fraternity.

The Amen Corner

Members of the First Baptist church youth group will meet this Sunday at the church at 6:15 p.m. Four Willamette students will discuss the topic "What God's Word Can Do for My Life," and main speaker for the evening will be Richard Fidler, from Meier and Frank.

RO Changes Revealed

Recently there have occurred several administrative changes in the ROTC department with the following Cadets having received reassignments: Cadet Major Ken Renshaw to Inspector General, Cadet Major Bob Withers to Information Service Officer, Cadet Major Bill Weaver to Deputy Information Service Officer, Cadet Major Larry Buckner to Deputy Director of Administrations and Management, Cadet Lt. Colonel Volney Sigmund as Advisor for the Leadership Laboratory, Cadet Major Norman Cocking to Wing Supply Officer, and Cadet Major Bill Weaver to Advisor for the Honor Squadron.

Cadet Second Lt. Keith Driver was promoted to a Cadet First Lt. and Tom Honl is now a Cadet Master Sergeant.

Court, Students, Guests Attend Coronation Ball Tomorrow

Queen Flossy I and her court, Princesses Joyce and Dollie will rule over the Coronation Ball tomorrow evening in the gym from 9 until 12 o'clock. The May Queen and her lovely court will make their grand entrance and will be escorted to a throne and royal dias. The Queen and her escort will have the first dance of the evening, according to Gordon MacPherson, general chairman of the ball.

Andy Kuehn and Lynn Schrock are in charge of decorations which will be in keeping with the subtheme, "Chivalry," and will feature shields, armor, and spears under a loved ceiling.

Music is provided by Al Robertson's orchestra and vocalist Geri Lindsey, KFOR TV's singing weather girl is featured.

Ivone Shdo is chairman of the refreshments committee which will serve a delicious LeBold's punch and cookies. Invitations have been sent by Connie Clark and clean-up chairman Dick Ferrell heads the after-dance crew.

Honored guests attending will be President and Mrs. G. Herbert

Party Is Planned By Cap and Gown

Junior women with a 3.0 grade point average or better will be entertained by the members of Cap and Gown at the home of Dr. Martha Springer, Thursday, May 9, at 7 p.m.

Membership in Cap and Gown is based on scholarship, campus activities, and character, and seven or eight junior women will be bid to membership at the Awards convocation, May 21.

Invited to attend the party Thursday evening are Sharon Bates, Mary Beebe, Anita Booth, Jerry Brackins, Ann Chambers, Myra Friesen, Jeanette Fulmer, Barbara Goodier, Jeannine Graber, Nancy Groth, Esther Gwilliam, Loretta Horsley, Daisy Lim, Jean Martin, Miriam Mathews, Muriel Miettunen, Lucy Myers, Suzy Platt, Geneva Russell, Minalou Schultz, Birgitta Gullers, Anastasia Michaelides, Shirley Shay, and Janet Tindall.

Or how to "strike oil" twice in the same place

"Some people believe that the more government has to say about business, the better.

"They argue, for instance, that the petroleum industry ought to be under more government control to keep America from running out of oil.

"What they forget is that it's just good business for oilmen to produce a property efficiently. We get more oil from a well when it is operated at its best rate of flow. This is one of the ways of conserving this natural resource!

"Take Dominguez field in California. Union and another company discovered oil there back in 1923.

"By 1936 oil production reached a peak of almost 31,000 barrels a day. But by 1947 our daily rate had declined to about 15,000 barrels.

HARRY AGGERS: "IT'S JUST GOOD BUSINESS FOR US TO PRODUCE A FIELD EFFICIENTLY."

"To get the most out of the field, we started waterflooding some areas. In our most recent project—which was started with the cooperation of the landowners and the other companies operating the field—we injected more than 7,000,000 barrels of water into 17 wells. This has forced oil out of 21 producing wells.

"As a result, we are now pumping 2,800 barrels of crude every day from these wells—an increase of 2,200 barrels a day over what we'd normally expect without waterflooding.

"You show me how government control could have added one barrel of oil to our production. Or conserved the pool any better so we can recover more oil in the future with methods yet to be developed!"

Harry Aggers—who has been with Union Oil for 22 years—manages our secondary recovery operations.

He believes that by 1975, at least 25% of all United States oil production will be by waterflooding. This does not include secondary recovery by gas injection or by methods yet to be developed.

The Dominguez results demonstrate again how efficiently a free oil industry achieves maximum economic production from a field, while conserving the source of the oil.

Biology Students Plan Yearly Outing at Coast

Two bus loads of biology students will leave the campus for an all-day outing to the coast May 15, and the enthusiastic group will depart promptly at 5:00 a.m. for the Marine Gardens at the Punch Bowl, Otter Rock, to take advantage of most favorable for the observation of the May 15 tide, which will be 1.4 feet below the average low tide. This tide, which will occur at 7:20 a.m., exposes the laminaria, red seaweed zone which is ordinarily never exposed at low tide.

After two or three hours of examining organisms on the beach the group will meet for a one hour class session. During this time Dr. Springer, Prof. Breakey, and Dr. Monk will discuss aspects of the Algae, invertebrate organisms, natural history, and marine ecology.

Following a lunch period the group will visit a rock outcrop of Astoria Miocene formation near Spencer Creek. The Miocene period extended approximately from 30 to 15 million years ago, and fossils of clams, tooth shells, snails, Pectins, etc., are found embedded in the rock. A visit to the Aquarium at Depoe Bay will complete the excursion.

The biology field trip has been a regular event at Willamette since 1928 when that class made a two-day trip to Newport. Many students have expressed their appreciation of this opportunity to see specimens in their natural habitat.

Wallulah Mailing Fees

Next week will be the last chance for students to pay for their Wallulah mailing fees. The cost is 60 cents for all students who wish to have their year book mailed to them during the summer, except for those who paid the mailing fee last year and then the charge will be only 10 cents.

If the students do not wish to pay the mailing fee, there are two alternatives for obtaining the Wallulah. They may either pick it up during the summer at the book store, or wait until next fall and pick it up then.

Steward Named Chapel Manager

Dave Steward, sophomore philosophy-religion major, was selected next year's Chapel manager at Monday's Religious Life Council Meeting. Steward will succeed Paula Preuss, whom he served under as Chapel secretary this year.

In the oral-written petition to the Council he said that he will try to emphasize creative worship in next year's services and hopes to develop the program so that it is "not bound by the same thing each week, but with emphasis on new orders of worship each week so that students can see how people of other churches worship and can participate in this experience." He also is trying to coordinate the Chapel program with the convocations.

Steward is the president of Phi Sigma Tau, philosophy honorary, president of the Oregon Methodist Student Movement, and is active in Wesley. He will select his secretary next week.

Council Approves Rules for Organizations to Obtain Money

Student Council gave unanimous approval Wednesday to a set of rules governing the procedure to be followed in obtaining money from student accounts which bank through the ASWU. According to Jerry Whipple, the rules are designed to increase the efficiency in paying the bills incurred by the various organizations.

Five rules have been set up and will go into effect with the beginning of school next fall. The rules are as follows:

1. Before any money is spent by any organization banking with the ASWU or any ASWU allocation account (as the Collegian, Wallulah), two people must be authorized by the organization to sign requisitions. These names shall be filed with the ASWU General Manager.

2. Bill will not be paid until a copy of the requisition is placed with the General Manager.

3. It will be the prerogative of the General Manager to refuse to pay bills in cases where a deficit would be created.

4. Finance Board will have the power to place organizations on probation that have deficits that are not eliminated in a reasonable length of time.

5. Budgets must be in the hand of the General Manager of the student body treasurer before any monies are disbursed from ASWU allocation accounts.

The last rule would not apply to activities like Orientation week which are scheduled to take place before appropriate action could be taken on their budgets.

Meatless Dinner Again Tuesday

Students living on campus will again go without meat for dinner next Tuesday, marking the third meatless dinner in the series of four.

The project was undertaken at the beginning of the spring semester in order to earn money for the support of the Hungarian students Willamette hopes to have next year. At the end of the fourth meatless dinner, which will be May 17, the students will have earned approximately $580 for the support of these students.

If there are no Hungarian students available next fall, the money will be sent through the World University Service to Hungarian students seeking college homes in this country.

Marge Stout, chairman of the meatless meal project, this week extended a hearty thanks for the co-operation of the students in this project.

Oregon State Sweeps Honors In Forensic Tournament Here

Oregon State College captured the sweepstakes prizes at the annual State Oratory contest sponsored by the Intercollegiate Forensic association at Willamette Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Carolyn Dorsey of Oregon State won the women's division first place honors Tuesday afternoon with her topic "Carbon Copy," while David Zweifel of the same university won men's first place by his oration, "How Safe the Shrine." Nine schools were competing in the contest.

Second place in the women's division was won by Mary Sweet of Portland State College with "Everybody's Business but Nobody's Job," and third place was taken by Beverly Pilcher of Linfield speaking on "Bottle Babies."

The contestant from Portland State College scored again as David Curry walked off with second place for his address on "Democracy by Pitchmen." Third place in the men's division was secured by Jack Phipps of the University of Portland speaking on "White Hyacinths."

Judges for the forensic meet were member coaches of the association.
