

Eighteen More Shopping Days Before Christmas. Get Busy

Willamette Collegian

Shop with Salem Merchants Who Support The Collegian

VOL. XLIII

SALEM, OREGON, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1931

No. 9

BETTY MOFFATT TALKS AT LESLIE

Miss Moffatt's Travels Have Touched All the Continents

TALKS TO MANY GROUPS

Her Varied Experiences Form a Fund of Interesting Stories

An interesting account of her childhood life was given by Betty Moffatt before the Social Science Department of the Leslie Junior high school Monday afternoon, November 23.

Miss Moffatt was born in the little town of Allahabad, India, and spent her first two and a half years there.

At the end of that time the Moffatts left India for the United States by the way of China and Japan. They remained in White Salmon, Washington for one year and then went to New York City where they spent the next four years.

Mr. Moffatt had formerly been connected with the Y. M. C. A. work in India, but at this time he entered the mission field and returned to India immediately to take up his new work there.

They returned to the west coast and sailed from San Francisco for India.

The next few years of Miss Moffatt's life were spent in the picturesque and historical town of Lucknow which was the scene of the Indian mutiny. Since Lucknow is located down in the plains, it was necessary for the Moffatt children to spend nine months of each year up in the cool mountains of the Himalayas.

Returns to U. S.

When Miss Moffatt was fourteen years of age, the family returned to the states by way of the Suez Canal and the Mediterranean. Stops were made at Palestine and Egypt.

After touring through Italy, Switzerland, and France, the Moffatts sailed from London for the states.

Upon reaching New York, they bought a car and motored across the continent to Seattle. There they remained for the rest of their one-year furlough.

At the end of that year, they sailed back to India by the way of China and Japan. This time Mr. Moffatt was stationed at the little mountain town of Almora, near the Nepal and the Tibetan frontier.

Move to Plains

After two years there, they moved down to the plains to the (Continued on page 3)

NEW CHORAL CLUB MAKES APPEARANCE

The Philharmonic Choral Club of Willamette university made its initial bow to the student body November 11 in a short chapel program. The program consisted of two sacred numbers, "They That Sow in Tears Shall Reap in Joy" and "A Song in the Night," and a secular number, "Untill." Soloists were sung by Elizabeth Gordon, Elizabeth Clement, and Maurice Deah. Robert Magin is the accompanist. The Philharmonic Choral Club is made up of the two glee clubs and numbers some 80 singers. Friday, February 5, it will present "The Golden Trail," an operetta by Cadmen. Besides the 80 members who will sing, an orchestra of 20 pieces will play, thus making altogether 100 people in the production.

After presenting "The Golden Trail" the club will take up the study of the oratorio, "Creation."

CLASSICAL CLUB HAS TRUE ROMAN BANQUET

A banquet was given by the Classical Club at the Presbyterian Church, Thursday, November 19th. The banquet which was managed by Miss Hazel Snyder, was an entire success. Three tables were set, and the guests sat, reclining after the fashion of the old Romans. Miss Rosetta Smith and Miss Dorothy McDonald were the speakers for the occasion.

Miss Rosetta Smith stated that the plans of the Classical Club for this year had not been made, but she was positive there would be no Chapel programs.

Eight Delegates Represent W. U. At Conference

Topics of Interest Were the Chinese Manchurian Problem and Disarmament

At the Northwest Student Conference which was held at Reed College last Friday and Saturday, November 27 and 28, Willamette was represented by eight delegates. The conference was composed of 120 representatives from 16 colleges of the northwest and British Columbia.

The subject discussed Friday was the Chinese Manchurian problem and on Saturday the topic was the American Foreign Policy and Disarmament. After the address, questions from the floor were answered by the speaker.

The Willamette delegation was composed of Mariano Rodriguez, Roderick Chang, Marjorie Moser, Margaret Edwards, Sarah Dark, Margaret Purvis, Mrs. C. A. Kells, wife of the secretary for the city Y. M. C. A., and Professor Roy M. Lockenour.

The convention was considered very successful and the social hours each evening were much enjoyed.

The next of the annual conventions will be held at the University of Washington in Seattle during the Thanksgiving holidays of 1932.

LEGAL LIGHT SHED ON PHILOMETHIANS

Long Dead Society Leaves Records in Oregon Laws As Corporation

Tucked away in the vault of the Supreme Court Library is a volume of the Territorial Laws of Oregon for the year 1855-1856; on page 53 of this volume is found the following: "AN ACT to incorporate the Philomethian Society of Willamette university."

Among the founders of the society as named in the act are: F. S. Hoyt, C. H. Hall, Harvey Gordon, L. F. Grover and others.

It is provided in the act that the society shall have perpetual succession, a seal, the power to sue and be sued, and the right to hold property; provided, that the income shall not exceed five hundred dollars yearly, and that it shall be devoted to literary and scientific purposes only.

This act was passed January 29th, 1856.

It may be of interest to present day Willamette students in that this old society is reported to have once had its meeting place in a part of the fourth floor of Waller Hall which is now occupied by the Law School.

It is also interesting to note that such societies must now be incorporated, if at all, under the general incorporation laws of the state, it being now unconstitutional for the legislature to pass a special act of incorporation.

Y. W. ADVISERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

The Y. M. C. A. Rock Creek camp will be the meeting place this week-end for a conference on adult guidance. Representatives from the Willamette Girl Reserve advisers will be Helen Breithaupt, Esther McMinimee, and Minnie Shroyer.

Miss Breithaupt, in charge of Girl Reserve groups, announces that each group is very busy now planning Christmas surprises for the boys and girls of the tuberculosis hospital. Other activities have been block printing of Christmas cards, leather tooling, entertainment at a tea; and next week there will be an International meeting with Betty Moffatt and Frances Maeda as speakers.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS PLAN JOINT MEET

The Japanese Young Peoples' League of the Salem Japanese Community church will hold a joint meeting with the Epworth League of the Portland Japanese M. E. church Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6.

A special program is being prepared for the meeting which will be held at the Hayesville church at 2 o'clock. A potluck supper will be served immediately following the meeting.

SEEK NEW LIBRARIAN

A committee, composed of President Doney, Dean Erikson, Paul Wallace, and E. T. Barnes, is seeking information concerning a new librarian. Many applications have been entered, but a decision has not yet been made.

JACK SIMPSON TO MANAGE GLEE

Contest this Year is for "Fight Song"; Rooks Determined to Keep Dry

THIS GLEE WILL BE 24TH

Freshmen Chose Green and White for Class Colors; Hold Party Later

Jack Simpson, popular freshman, was elected to the position of Freshman Glee manager at a class meeting held last Wednesday. Other nominees for the place were Louis Magin, Max Selander and Ralph Barber. Simpson graduated from Franklin High School in Portland and is a Kappa Gamma Rho pledge. The Freshman Glee committee has announced that the glee song this year will be a "fight song" and the rooks have determined to do their best to keep from being thrown into the mill stream. The date for the important event has been set for Saturday, February 28.

This glee will be the twenty-fourth annual Freshman Glee since it was initiated into its now traditional place in Willamette life by the class of 1912 in their freshman year. The first glee was held in Waller Hall, but in later years the event took place at the Armory in order to accommodate the increasing crowds. The freshman class won its first victory in 1915.

President Doney's First Year

This was also Dr. Doney's first year at the university. The freshman class also won in 1917. Three sophomore classes have won the pennant in succession, as well as three senior classes.

Aletha Kelly, chairman of the class colors committee, reported that the committee had selected three color combinations from which the class would choose for their colors. Combinations suggested were red and yellow, brown and orange, and green and white. After a lengthy discussion the colors of green and white carried the vote of the members and became the official colors for the class of 1932.

Clara Wright, vice president, stated that a social function of some kind, probably a skating party, would take place in the near future.

The freshmen also voiced approval of President Forrest Mills' suggestion that a letter of sympathy be written by the secretary and sent to Bill Urath who has been sick with pneumonia.

MOSHER ELECTED NEW YELL KING

David Moser, a member of the freshman class, was unanimously elected as Willamette's new yell king at a meeting of the associated student body held on Friday, November 21. He will replace Lloyd Grod, senior, who resigned recently.

An amendment to student body constitution concerning the Honor Code committee was submitted by Ray Lakfy. The amendment, which changes the number of students on the committee from four, one from each class, to nine, four seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores, one of the junior or sophomore representatives being a student from the College of Law, was accepted and passed by the student body.

PREPARE TO SUCCEED SAYS QUINCY SCOTT

Preparation is the first essential for success in newspaper work, as well as in other lines of business, according to Quincy Scott, cartoonist for the Oregonian, who gave an informal talk in chapel Monday, November 23. Mr. Scott explained "how the wheels go round" in an editorial office, and showed how important it was that preparation for editorial work be made during one's school days.

Mr. Scott said that each editorialist has his speciality and that a cartoonist is really giving a pictorial version of an editorial. To illustrate his point, he explained how he draws cartoons.

The chief problem of an editorialist, in Mr. Scott's estimation, is his difficulty in assembling facts so that they will make truth.

Conference for Indep. Colleges To be at O. I. T.

Faculty and Student Body Delegates Will Take Part In Discussions

An annual conference of Independent Colleges will be held at the Oregon Institute of Technology in Portland, on Saturday, December 5, from 9:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. All faculty members are asked to be present and the president and one delegate from each institution will have voting power. Student body delegates are also invited.

Discussions, rather than formal papers, will occupy the time of the conference, and the following topics, have thus far been suggested: "Student attitudes at home and abroad toward political and world problems," and "Cooperation between Independent Colleges." Among other delegates, President Carl G. Doney and Dr. S. B. Laughlin will take an active part in the conference.

MUSICAL PLEDGES HEARD IN CHAPEL

Beethoven Society Babes Present Balanced and Pleasing Program

Chapel numbers presented in a number 25 were rendered by a group of pledges of the Beethoven Society of Willamette university.

The pledges, who have fulfilled the requirements of the society that they be of Sophomore standing, and that they be taking eight hours of theoretical program, presented the following program; a piano solo by Ruth Schreiber who played "In Autumn" by MacDowell; a piano solo by Betty Boylan, "Romanza" by Mozart; a violin solo by Jeanette Scott, accompanied by Betty Boylan, "Adagio from Spohr-Concerta Number 2"; a piano composition by Faith Sherrburn, "Humoresque Negre" by Grunne; and a piano composition by Barbara Barham, "The Surging Sea" by Barbour.

This is the second program in a series of programs which the Beethoven Society plans to present in chapel this year.

A. S. W. U. BUSINESS AFFAIRS SETTLED

The student body executive committee held a meeting on Nov. 17, to consider several important matters of current interest including basketball managers, music, Wallula and the Whitman excursion. The committee voted to accept the present music budget with the understanding that all money saved above expenses be paid on past indebtedness.

Members of the committee expressed their approval of a motion made that the Elliot Printing contract for the Wallula be accepted.

President Charles Campbell was authorized to appoint a committee to take charge of getting Red Cross contributions from various organizations.

The committee also voted to cast a unanimous ballot for Percy Sweet as basketball manager.

Y. W. C. A. SELECTS TWO ADVISERS

Mrs. George E. Ellen and Mrs. Daniel Shultz were selected at the last meeting of the Y. W. C. A. The choosing of these advisers is a new feature in this campus organization, a result of a conference with cabinets of other colleges, where it was discovered that almost every other campus Y. W. had an adviser.

Doris Clark, president, points out that the new sponsors will be very helpful, for Mrs. Allen, already prominent in Y. W. work, represents the townswomen, and Mrs. Shultz, the faculty members. These women will help create a wider circle of interest in the activities of the campus Y. W. C. A.

CUBS TO HAVE SQUAD

Plans are being formulated to organize a basketball squad among the Cubs, according to Carl Marcy, president. At present the group is inactive but there is some talk of a party in the near future.

Miss Melton is Honored by Recent Music Magazine

Miss Melton Has Headed the Music Department for a Number of Years

Miss Frances Virginia Melton, head of the Piano Theory department of the Willamette School of Music, was signally honored by an article appearing in the August number of Music and Musicians, a music magazine of the west, with a national circulation. The article was illustrated with pictures of Miss Melton at the piano.

Quoting from the article: Frances Virginia Melton, one of Oregon's brilliant pianists and successful teachers, will return to Willamette University, Salem, Ore., as head of the piano department for the eighth year. During the seven years that Miss Melton has been at Willamette, she has discovered some interesting talent and the spring recitals each year have revealed the high standards of her training. In addition to the piano work Miss Melton teaches theoretical classes, and her assistant is Miss Helen MacHirron. Complimenting her university classes Miss Melton has interested herself in the city's musical development and for two years she has been president of the MacDowell club, being elected this year for the third term. The programs have been pronounced outstanding, the aim being principally to encourage local ability.

Several of Miss Melton's pupils have won state-wide and even national recognition. A number have placed in the Oregon music contests, one girl, Miss Bethel Mayes, who studied for some time with Miss Melton, having gone to the National Music Contests at San Francisco last year, sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

PEP STAFF WILL CARRY OVER PLAN

Striving to make the student body more pep conscious the Pep Staff has been working in several directions at the same time during these past few weeks.

The Girls' Pep Staff helped the University hand to sell tickets for their benefit show at the Grand theatre.

Lois Wilkes, Song Queen, and Dave Moser, newly elected Yell King, together had charge of the publicity and program for the Annual Whitman Banquet held the Tuesday evening, preceding the Thanksgiving day game, at the First Presbyterian church. They worked under the direction of Helen Stiles who was in general charge of the banquet.

With the football season at an end the Pep Staff now has a brief respite before the time comes for further organized pep work for the forthcoming basketball season. The girls' Pep Staff will have a meeting the latter part of this week to carry out their proposed plans for a new service organization.

W.U. AND O.N.S. TO HAVE NON-DECISION DEBATE

In a non-decision dual debate to be held Friday evening, December 4, two Willamette negative teams will journey to Monmouth, while the affirmative teams will meet the Monmouth Normal School teams in Salem.

The women will debate on divorce laws in Nevada, and the men on the problem of wage cutting.

Virginia Durrkee, Margaret Freeman, Garfield Barnett and Ross Knotta will go to Monmouth. Pauline Moore, Lida Hanna, Elizabeth Smith, Don Clark, and Carroll Shank will debate here.

Each coach will act as a critic.

WESLEY WARREN VISITS WITH COAST LEAGUERS

Wesley Warren on his return from home, where he spent the Thanksgiving vacation, reports that he visited three Epworth Leaguers during the week-end. Wednesday night he visited Tillamook and Garibaldi representatives who came to Tillamook to be present at the visitation program that was being carried out, Saturday night he visited the Bay City delegation at Bay City.

Warren reports that the leaguers are progressing very well, especially the Garibaldi League. He was present at one of their meetings and it was very interesting and full of life, he reports.

During the Christmas vacation Warren intends to visit some of the other Leaguers throughout the country.

GAME IS HEARD THROUGH KOIN

Account Was Wired to Portland and Vividly Told by Art Kirkham

ALUMNI ARE SPONSORS

Portland Alumni Contribute $75; Remaining $50 Cost Raised in Salem

The Willamette-Whitman game was broadcast play by play on Thanksgiving day over radio station KOIN at Portland. This broadcast was made possible through the cooperation of the Portland and Salem Alumni Associations of Willamette university.

The account of the game was wired to the studio at Portland direct from Walla Walla and then broadcast by Art Kirkham, regular station announcer. This enabled Willamette students and alumni who could not go on the excursion to receive a vivid and accurate report of the game while they were enjoying turkey and comforts of home. Many of the listeners said that they enjoyed this more than they would have enjoyed the five inches of snow at Walla Walla.

Robert Notson of Portland, president of the Portland Alumni Association, supervised the collecting of $125.00 for the broadcasting. Seventy-five dollars was contributed by the Portland alumni, while the remaining $50 was collected from Salem alumni by "Si" Eakin, president of the Salem Alumni Association.

Willamette university students who attended the game via radio sincerely appreciated the efforts of the alumni in promoting this broadcast.

Y. W. REMEMBERS NEEDY WITH FOOD

An enormous Thanksgiving basket, given to a needy family, was the most recent act of the Social Service Committee of the Y. W. C. A. Girls on the committee, cooperating in bringing in food, and a small box placed in the Y. W. room, into which coins were dropped throughout one day were the means of furnishing a family of five with a dinner that would last a long time.

Sarah Jane Dark, chairman, states that the purpose of the Social Service Committee this year is to extend its services to include more of the institutions around Salem, the tuberculosis hospital being the next place in view. At present, Rosetta Smith and Violet Runse, two of the committee members, go each week to the Methodist Old Peoples' Home to read stories or write letters for two of the ladies there. Also, several girls frequently take with them clothing or some toys to entertain the children of the deaf school. Near Christmas time, the 20 members of the committee are planning a Christmas program for the deaf school, with Margaret Marsh in charge.

Miss Dark announces that many plans have been successfully carried out this year which have not been tried before.

M. D. APTITUDE TEST TO BEGIN DEC. 11

The Medical Aptitude Test will be given on December 11th by Dean Erickson. Those planning to take the examination must register with Professor Monk.

All former returns of the examinations have been strictly confidential and will be this year. The papers are graded by the committee of the Association of American Medical College, and the results are compiled in book form and reported to the deans of all class A medical schools in the United States.

STANFORD DEAN COMING

Hugh Jackson, Dean of the Stanford Graduate School of business will be on the Willamette campus Friday, December 11. Although Dean Jackson will not be able to speak to the student-body as a whole on that date, he desires to confer with any students who are interested in the Stanford business school.

BLUE KEY TO HOLD ELECTION

The election of a new secretary and a new treasurer of Blue Key will take place at the regular meeting to be held Tuesday, December 8, because of the resignation of Glenn Huxton as secretary and Bernard Newby as treasurer. There are also other matters of importance to be taken care of at this meeting.

Schedule of Ten Home Debates For Willamette

Itinerary of Traveling Teams Can not be Decided Until Colleges Respond

According to Virginia Durkee, debate manager, the tentative lineup for home debates will be as follows: The men's teams with University of Montana, Brigham Young College, College of Puget Sound, Washington State College; the women's teams with University of Nevada, Oregon State College, University of Oregon, Pacific University, Whitman and Washington State College.

The proposed men's trip to the north cannot be completed until Bellingham College and British Columbia are heard from and the plans for the men's trip to Southern California will not be finished until definite dates for the Pacific Coast Forensic Conference League are set.

Approximately six colleges will be included in the women's debate team trip into Washington and Idaho, although as yet only four have responded to the letters. They are the University of Washington, Washington College, Whitman, and the University of Idaho.

Definite dates for the debates will be announced later.

DONEY EXPLAINS USE OF FUNDS

Willamette Endowment Fund Not Available for Building Purposes

Many persons do not understand why Willamette university, with an endowment of a million and a half dollars does not go ahead and erect buildings badly needed on the campus, stated President Carl G. Doney Monday in a chapel talk. In answer to the numerous questions he has been asked concerning this, Dr. Doney explained the situation.

While admitting that the university could use a new science building and a library building, Dr. Doney stated that the trustees cannot see their way clear to start construction on any of these.

The million and a half dollar endowment fund cannot be touched for building purposes according to the agreement entered into by Willamette and the Rockefeller foundation when plans were laid for raising the money. The interest alone, which is $75,000 this year, can be used, and all this is needed for operating expenses.

The Hauser gift of $100,000 has no strings attached to it, Dr. Doney says, and could be used for building purposes. However, if this were done, the school would lose the $6000 income from the money, while an additional expense of approximately $5000 would be incurred for the upkeep of the new structure.

Willamette, along with other independent schools, is having a hard time to keep accounts balanced, and last year because of a number of expenses which will not recur, found itself $15,000 in debt. So far this year the school has been fairly successful, although additional expense of sizeable proportions would work a hardship on the whole structure.

Dr. Doney and the trustees are hopeful that some wealthy person will recognize Willamette's need for additional buildings and furnish the means by which they can be constructed.

THETA ALPHA PHI TO HOLD TRY-OUTS

"Children of the Moon" by Martin Flavin has been chosen by Theta Alpha Phi as their annual mid-year play. Tryouts will be held Thursday afternoon, and the cast will be announced later.

The play, a dramatic tragedy, is a highly effective study of a real problem set forth in terms of a love story. The cast consists of three women and five men.

"Children of the Moon" will be presented January 15, probably at the Salem High School auditorium.

FRATERNITY COUNCIL DISCUSSES ACTIVITIES

A regular meeting of the inter-fraternity council was held Tuesday evening, Dec. 1, at the Sigma Tau house. The time was spent principally in discussions on scholarship, initiations and the university health service in connection with the fraternities.

Plans for open house were completed and this annual event will take place Saturday, Dec. 5, as previously scheduled.

The next meeting will be held in the first Tuesday in January.

EXCURSIONISTS GO TO WHITMAN

116 Make Trip, Including 30 Football Men and 15 Band Players

SPECIAL TRAIN IS TAKEN

Students Amuse Themselves In Baggage Car; by Sledding While There

Students of Willamette university numbering 116, were excursionists to Walla Walla Wednesday and Thursday for the Whitman game on the Espce Special for the football enthusiasts and the team. The last excursion to Whitman was two years ago when about one hundred participated. The larger group this year was probably due to the fact that a great many students wanted to see the Willamette team avenge itself for the defeat suffered at the hands of the Missionaries here last year. Another helping factor in the large attendance was the greatly reduced railroad rate. Two years ago the price for the trip was $10.25 while this year the railroad made the price $6.15.

More than 15 members went on the excursion this year and approximately half of the railroad fare for them was paid out of the proceeds of the tag sale and the benefit show at the Grand theatre. The band this year has shown much school spirit and a large part of the success of the excursion is due to the members of this group for they kept the school interested in the excursion.

Players Sleep

Thirty members of the football squad were provided transportation and berths in the special by the school. They had a sound night's sleep before the game in their own car.

The excursion left Salem at 8:26 Wednesday evening from the Espce depot after taking on the excursionists at the siding by Lausanne Hall. It arrived at Walla Walla at 7 the next morning. There the students disembarked and amused themselves in various ways. With five inches of snow on the ground sledding was one of the most popular diversions until the time came for the game. At 5:30 the special left Walla Walla and arrived in Portland at midnight. There many of the students left the train for their homes in Portland or near by. The rest came on to Salem and arrived about 2:30 Friday morning.

Foremost in putting the excursion over and making it a success was Lestle Sparks. He made all the main arrangements for the train with the railroad company and aided the officials of the Espce in keeping stowaways off the train. Frank Halsey assisted him in the preparation for the excursion.

Various forms of amusement were enjoyed on the train. The baggage car was the center of activity as no seats cluttered the car and thus there was enough room for a general uproar.

RUFUS FRANZ TALKS TO SCIENCE CLUB ON EELS

Science Club held its usual bi-monthly meeting Monday evening, November 23. The center of interest of the meeting was a talk on "Eels" by Rufus Franz. Commenting members of science club rated his talk as the most interesting and informing of the year, to date. A lively discussion followed the talk, slippery though the subject was.

Besides Franz's talk and the discussion, much business concerning the club as an organization was conducted. The next meeting is to be held Monday evening, December 7, at science hall, according to schedule.

BLUE KEY TO HOLD ELECTION

The election of a new secretary and a new treasurer of Blue Key will take place at the regular meeting to be held Tuesday, December 8, because of the resignation of Glenn Huxton as secretary and Bernard Newby as treasurer. There are also other matters of importance to be taken care of at this meeting.

STANFORD DEAN COMING

Hugh Jackson, Dean of the Stanford Graduate School of business will be on the Willamette campus Friday, December 11. Although Dean Jackson will not be able to speak to the student-body as a whole on that date, he desires to confer with any students who are interested in the Stanford business school.

WESLEY WARREN VISITS WITH COAST LEAGUERS

Wesley Warren on his return from home, where he spent the Thanksgiving vacation, reports that he visited three Epworth Leaguers during the week-end. Wednesday night he visited Tillamook and Garibaldi representatives who came to Tillamook to be present at the visitation program that was being carried out, Saturday night he visited the Bay City delegation at Bay City.

Warren reports that the leaguers are progressing very well, especially the Garibaldi League. He was present at one of their meetings and it was very interesting and full of life, he reports.

CUBS TO HAVE SQUAD

Plans are being formulated to organize a basketball squad among the Cubs, according to Carl Marcy, president. At present the group is inactive but there is some talk of a party in the near future.

During the Christmas vacation Warren intends to visit some of the other Leaguers throughout the country.

The election of a new secretary and a new treasurer of Blue Key will take place at the regular meeting to be held Tuesday, December 8, because of the resignation of Glenn Huxton as secretary and Bernard Newby as treasurer. There are also other matters of importance to be taken care of at this meeting.

Willamette Collegian

PUBLISHED WEEKLY
 Official Publication A. S. W. U.
 Member of National Intercollegiate Press Service
 Subscription rate $1.00 per year

Entered at the Postoffice at Salem, Oregon, for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

ISABEL CHILDS, Editor
 EVANS HAMILTON, Manager

Associate Editor: MUREL WHITE
 Assistant Editor: LOIS WILKES
 Sports Editor: TED PARKER
 Sports Editor Pro Tem: DONNELL SANDERS
 Assistant: CHARLES GIANOLI
 Society Editor: BERTHA BARDOCK
 Assistant: DOBOTHY DALK, MAXINE ELRICH
 Managing Editor: HAROLD RHOTEN
 Head News Editor: LILA CATION
 Assistants: AMELIA SCHRACK, ROSCOE WEST, DEBNA HART

Alumni Editor: FAYE SPARKS '25
 Press Correspondent: JEAN PETERSON
 Contributing Editor: ERNEST DENNING
 Columnists: HELEN CHILDS, MADALINE SCHMIDT
 Hack Writer: ROBERT CULBERSON

Reporters: F. Albee, S. Bruns, E. Baker, D. Barham, W. Brinkard, V. Buntell, F. Childs, R. Chapman, E. Cole, J. Dusch, D. Derrill, M. Estabill, H. Fick, J. Forrest, E. Glaisyer, B. Hyde, K. Horton, H. Hawkins, O. Jones, D. Lemmon, M. Lane, B. Moffatt, E. McManis, K. Oliver, S. Perrine, Roy Blount, L. Sheldon, H. Skinner, E. Sigwell, S. Watanabe, D. Wud, R. Weber, A. Weiss, R. Young, G. Hunt, M. Bowers, E. Barlt.

BUSINESS STAFF
 Advertising Manager: TOM GOYNE
 Circulation Manager: FRED HARRIS
 Assistants: Dorothy Shepherd, Jane Speer, Helen Larson, Doris Clarke, Thoburn Hatton, Louis Magin, Wesley Janke, Bud Punt, Reginald Rees.

Editorial and Business Offices, Basement Waller Hall, Phone 3088.

THE ALUMNUS

With Willamette Alumni

Officers for 1931
 President: Dr. Carl J. Hollingworth, '13
 First vice-president: Charles W. Redding, '25
 Second vice-president: Dr. Guy A. Woods, '11
 Third vice-president: Matt Walker, '19
 Secretary-treasurer: Lester J. Sparks, '19
 Members of Executive Committee: Gertrude Reeves Smith, '13
 Lella Johnson, '19
 Merton DeLong, '13
 Alumni elected to Board of Trustees: Robert Notson, '24

The radio broadcast over KOIN of the Willamette-Whitman game at Walla Walla, Washington, Thanksgiving day was arranged by alumni leaders of Willamette. The Portland alumni through the efforts of Dr. Carl J. Hollingworth, Robert C. Notson, and Donald Grant agreed to raise $100 of the required amount and the Salem alumni were called on for the balance of the amount, with Harold Eskin, president of the local group, in charge.

Arthur Kirkman, sports editor of KOIN, personally conducted the broadcast, the reports coming direct from the field at Walla Walla. College band music and songs interspersed the program and between halves Dr. Carl J. Hollingworth, president of the entire alumni association, greeted fellow members.

Miss Helen Mae Rice, ex-'29, was married to Mr. Niel Van Zytveld last summer and they are living in Chicago. Mr. Van Zytveld is a graduate of the Engineering College of the University of Michigan.

A marriage license has been issued in Portland to Ethel J. Lehman, ex-'28, and Duleigh P. Johnson, both of Salem.

Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Walker of Hillsboro are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, November 25. Rev. Walker is a member of the class of '25, and Mrs. Walker (Aileen Ritchie) is an ex-student of Willamette.

Our sympathy is extended to Arthur Hollenberg, '31, who has been bereaved by the death of his mother, Mrs. Roy W. Hollenberg, in Salem, November 19. Arthur is in New York City where he has a fellowship in physics in New York University.

Our sympathy is also extended to Dr. Boyd M. Richardson, '01, of White River, Arizona, whose mother, Mrs. J. A. Richardson, passed away at the family home in Portland, November 24. Her husband, Dr. J. A. Richardson, who passed away several years ago, was for a generation a well known physician of Salem. He was mayor of the city, and interested in politics. He was instrumental in bringing forward the first candidacy of Congressman W. C. Hawley, '84, and in securing his election.

The last home of the Richardsons in Salem was at Chemeketa and Church streets; this was sold to Dr. B. L. Steeves, and is now the property of the Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity. Dr. Richardson planted the cedar of Lebanon tree standing on the Chemeketa street side of that property. To his garden he brought the first loganberry plants in Salem from California, and introduced the late Senator A. M. La Follette to devote a small acreage to loganberries; thus, he started the now great loganberry industry of Oregon.

The Richardsons were both members of prominent Oregon pioneer families.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Robbins who died at the Portland Sanitarium November 14, were held in Silverton with Dr. W. S. Gordon, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating.

Mrs. Robbins was born in Wayne County, Kentucky, December 16, 1869, near Monticello. With her parents, John and Martha Tuggle, she came to Silverton, September, 1876. The journey took four weeks, as it was necessary to come by boat to Portland.

She attended Willamette University, and devoted about 35 years to teaching, having been granted certificates from the state education departments of both Oregon and Idaho.

In February 1901, while teaching in the Silverton public schools, she married J. O. Robbins of Silver City, Idaho. Mr. Robbins died December 3, 1925.

Mrs. Robbins is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ida Heath of Portland, and Mrs. Molly Noble of Silverton; two brothers, Jack Tuggle, Fresno, Calif., and Dolph Tuggle, Venice, Calif.

Mrs. Robbins had been a member of the Silverton Methodist church since she was 16. She was also a member of the Circle Lodge.

Stephen J. Chadwick died suddenly November 19 in Seattle following an abdominal operation. He was apparently in good health when he stopped in Salem a few days before for a brief visit with his sister, Miss Mary Chadwick. He and Mrs. Chadwick, who is a worthy grand matron of the order of the Eastern Star of the world, were at that time on their way home from the world Eastern Star convention at San Antonio, Texas.

Judge Chadwick was born in Roseburg, Oregon, April 23, 1863 and was the son of honored pioneer parents. His father, Stephen F. Chadwick, served as secretary of state from 1876 to 1877, becoming governor upon the resignation of Gov. L. F. Grover, and serving for 15 months in that office.

Judge Chadwick attended Willamette law school along with Mark C. Fullerton and Whitney C. Boice, both of whom recently passed away. He was admitted to the bar in 1885 and went with Mark Fullerton to Colfax, Washington, where he engaged in the practice of law. His rise in politics was rapid. He was mayor of Colfax from 1890 to 1892, and from 1894 to 1897 was a member of the Washington state land board. In 1890 he became superior judge for Whitman county. He was elected to the superior court bench in Seattle in 1901, and in 1908 was elected to the Washington state supreme court, where he had as a colleague his friend and former partner Fullerton. In 1919 he was elected chief justice. He resigned in 1924 to enter private law practice in Seattle, and formed a partnership with his son, Stephen J. Chadwick, Jr. That same year he became president of the Washington state bar association.

In addition to his sister in Salem and his widow in Seattle he is survived by a brother, Pittzer Chadwick of Seattle; and four children, Mrs. H. J. Manry, Olympia, Wash., Mrs. Arthur Karr of Yakima, Wash., Stephen J., Jr., of Seattle and Miss Elizabeth Chadwick, New York City.

We offer our condolences to Miss Margaret Gittins, '13, and Mrs. J. Paul Brown, '16, both of West Linn, and Mrs. Will Mishler, '09, of Eugene, who have been bereaved through the death of their brother, Robert F. Gittins, November 22. He suffered a paralytic stroke, and contracted pneumonia shortly before his death.

Mr. Gittins was engineer on the Southern Pacific railroad on the run between Canby and Molalla. He had been with the Southern Pacific company for the past 30 years.

Funeral services were held November 25 at the Leslie church in Salem. Mr. Gittins' father, the late Rev. Edward E. Gittins, was minister of the church a number of years ago.

Besides the three sisters, Mr. Gittins is survived by the widow, Mrs. Ruth Gittins of Molalla.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Bossard, '21, to Clifton Clemens, ex-W. U., was solemnized at seven o'clock on Thanksgiving day at the First Presbyterian church in Salem. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. E. Long, pastor of the United Brethren church, who was assisted by Dr. Grover C. Bitchet of the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Clemens will live at home at their farm near Hazel Green after December 15.

Mrs. Clemens is a member of Delta Phi sorority, and Mr. Clemens is affiliated with Sigma Tau. Mr. Clemens was also a member of the glee club while in school.

Miss Namoa Fleet, ex-'32, was married to Herman J. Rehfus in the Jason Lee Memorial church in Salem November 23, with Rev. Hugh B. Fonke, Jr., officiating.

They will return from southern California about Christmas time to make their home on Mr. Rehfus' farm on the River road.

ALUMNI funds are growing low, which means that the alumni news will have to be discontinued, unless more dues come in. Perhaps more dues will come in if we remind our fellow alumni that alumni news is run in the Collegian weekly, and that upon payment of the dollar for dues, the Collegian will be mailed to them. Back issues will also be sent.

BIG DINNER
 An All-Willamette dinner and social evening will be held Monday evening, December 28, in Portland at the Old Heathman Hotel. Any and all alumni, faculty, and students of Willamette, who will be in Portland on that night are urged to attend.

A larger number of alumni than usual will probably be in Portland on the 28th, attending the Oregon State Teachers' association meeting there.

Donald Grant, '29, is heading the committee. Further announcements will be made later.

Science Club will meet in Science Hall Monday, December 7, at 7 p. m.

Professor Matthews will lead the University Epworth League on Sunday night at 6:30. Betty Boylan will play a piano solo. A week from Sunday night, Miss Stevenson will lead on "Christian Art."

At 6:30 Sunday evening, December 6, Martin Ferry will speak on "The Cause of Crime," at the Young People's Epworth League of Jason Lee church. Mr. Ferry is an authority on the subject of crime. Everybody is invited to come.

What a world! Everybody asks how you are feeling and then acts bored when you begin to tell.

Campus Litterae

Richness consists in the enjoyment of what we have; poverty in the search for riches.

There's strength to be found in silence
 And beauty—like the beauty of leaves against a window pane.
 And pain—as rain drops, cold, on a bird's nest.
 I drink and shall go on drinking my cup of wine in silence.
 R.W.

New Mexico
 Early day on Colorado plains . . . The sun just rising over mountains brown . . . And shining bunch grass, fresh from recent rain.
 When beryl mountain slopes plunge sharply down.
 The mist is glowing where the pulse is down.
 Beats flowing red upon the granite crast.
 And from the tall hills finely, coolly drawn.
 The Pools of shadow curve the desert's breast.
 And now the sun is warm upon the sand,
 A prismatic earth wheels endlessly below.
 And nimbus—blue the rocky mountains stand
 Uplifting rangeless domes of burnished snow.
 And on these desert wastes the cattle run
 Like resurgent waves of water in a flood,
 And with the day the calm of night is done;
 Dust devils whirl and dance within my blood.
 TED PARKER.

Restlessness
 This sham!
 This easy fooling of myself.
 It is so smug to have fine words and phrases
 And think I have the meaning—
 To have a paltry sentiment and think I have a glowing truth.
 Men are satisfied by their gods so easily.
 They bow before a creature of their own wishes;
 They applaud the one who echoes back their own ideas.
 Men profess so much so quickly.
 They transform their gods;
 Their gods do not transform their lives.
 This sham!
 This easy way of calling pride religious zeal;
 Of being opinionated
 And saying one has convictions.
 I almost envy those whose lives are only feeling deep.
 Those who are religious drunkards and do not see the mockery.

Beauty
 Go where you will to marvel at world's wonders
 And gaze in awe at all their splendor
 But return again to the haunts of Willamette Valley
 And reason with yourself why you ever sought better
 For hidden there 'neath what you thought common.
 Lies a beauty, historic,—inexplicable.
 NELL MARIE PERRINE.

A Tear For A Friend
 He had closed his eyes in that long rest
 Where joins the soul the dearest and best,
 Where no longer strife for wordly gain,
 Causes man to suffer enduring pain.
 At the last moment I thought I saw a smile
 Play on his face for just a little while.
 Did he know that for evermore
 He would be the richest, when once so poor?
 Did he have a thought for those behind,
 Who would mourn his going, his kindred kind?
 Nay, he knew that they would live their ways
 That they might meet him There some day.
 DICK DENTEL.

Brickbats and Bouquets
 Peking, China, Nov. 1, 1931.
 Editor of The Collegian:
 As a former staff member I want to congratulate you on the appearance of the Collegian this year. There are two things that I consider great improvements: few advertisements and a special alumni section. I am surely enjoying every issue if they are over a month out of date by the time that I get them.
 The Willamette graduates in China were so pleased with all our guests of the past summer. I see that you spoke of the group that were here and although I was one of those that had the privilege of entertaining them in Peking I did not resent the fact that you reported us to have been in Shanghai for I suppose to you that either city is just China. However, I do want to say that although I do live on the Metho-Compound that none of us teach there. A Compound is just a large resident section with a high wall around it. There are twelve foreign houses on our Compound. Mrs. Esther Dixon helps her husband with his work with the boys in the large boys' high school. (I taught there last year.) Cedric Chang also works there.

Resignation
 There's strength to be found in silence
 And beauty—like the beauty of leaves against a window pane.
 And pain—as rain drops, cold, on a bird's nest.
 I drink and shall go on drinking my cup of wine in silence.
 R.W.

New Mexico
 Early day on Colorado plains . . . The sun just rising over mountains brown . . . And shining bunch grass, fresh from recent rain.
 When beryl mountain slopes plunge sharply down.
 The mist is glowing where the pulse is down.
 Beats flowing red upon the granite crast.
 And from the tall hills finely, coolly drawn.
 The Pools of shadow curve the desert's breast.
 And now the sun is warm upon the sand,
 A prismatic earth wheels endlessly below.
 And nimbus—blue the rocky mountains stand
 Uplifting rangeless domes of burnished snow.
 And on these desert wastes the cattle run
 Like resurgent waves of water in a flood,
 And with the day the calm of night is done;
 Dust devils whirl and dance within my blood.
 TED PARKER.

Restlessness
 This sham!
 This easy fooling of myself.
 It is so smug to have fine words and phrases
 And think I have the meaning—
 To have a paltry sentiment and think I have a glowing truth.
 Men are satisfied by their gods so easily.
 They bow before a creature of their own wishes;
 They applaud the one who echoes back their own ideas.
 Men profess so much so quickly.
 They transform their gods;
 Their gods do not transform their lives.
 This sham!
 This easy way of calling pride religious zeal;
 Of being opinionated
 And saying one has convictions.
 I almost envy those whose lives are only feeling deep.
 Those who are religious drunkards and do not see the mockery.

Beauty
 Go where you will to marvel at world's wonders
 And gaze in awe at all their splendor
 But return again to the haunts of Willamette Valley
 And reason with yourself why you ever sought better
 For hidden there 'neath what you thought common.
 Lies a beauty, historic,—inexplicable.
 NELL MARIE PERRINE.

A Tear For A Friend
 He had closed his eyes in that long rest
 Where joins the soul the dearest and best,
 Where no longer strife for wordly gain,
 Causes man to suffer enduring pain.
 At the last moment I thought I saw a smile
 Play on his face for just a little while.
 Did he know that for evermore
 He would be the richest, when once so poor?
 Did he have a thought for those behind,
 Who would mourn his going, his kindred kind?
 Nay, he knew that they would live their ways
 That they might meet him There some day.
 DICK DENTEL.

Brickbats and Bouquets
 Peking, China, Nov. 1, 1931.
 Editor of The Collegian:
 As a former staff member I want to congratulate you on the appearance of the Collegian this year. There are two things that I consider great improvements: few advertisements and a special alumni section. I am surely enjoying every issue if they are over a month out of date by the time that I get them.
 The Willamette graduates in China were so pleased with all our guests of the past summer. I see that you spoke of the group that were here and although I was one of those that had the privilege of entertaining them in Peking I did not resent the fact that you reported us to have been in Shanghai for I suppose to you that either city is just China. However, I do want to say that although I do live on the Metho-Compound that none of us teach there. A Compound is just a large resident section with a high wall around it. There are twelve foreign houses on our Compound. Mrs. Esther Dixon helps her husband with his work with the boys in the large boys' high school. (I taught there last year.) Cedric Chang also works there.

Resignation
 There's strength to be found in silence
 And beauty—like the beauty of leaves against a window pane.
 And pain—as rain drops, cold, on a bird's nest.
 I drink and shall go on drinking my cup of wine in silence.
 R.W.

New Mexico
 Early day on Colorado plains . . . The sun just rising over mountains brown . . . And shining bunch grass, fresh from recent rain.
 When beryl mountain slopes plunge sharply down.
 The mist is glowing where the pulse is down.
 Beats flowing red upon the granite crast.
 And from the tall hills finely, coolly drawn.
 The Pools of shadow curve the desert's breast.
 And now the sun is warm upon the sand,
 A prismatic earth wheels endlessly below.
 And nimbus—blue the rocky mountains stand
 Uplifting rangeless domes of burnished snow.
 And on these desert wastes the cattle run
 Like resurgent waves of water in a flood,
 And with the day the calm of night is done;
 Dust devils whirl and dance within my blood.
 TED PARKER.

Restlessness
 This sham!
 This easy fooling of myself.
 It is so smug to have fine words and phrases
 And think I have the meaning—
 To have a paltry sentiment and think I have a glowing truth.
 Men are satisfied by their gods so easily.
 They bow before a creature of their own wishes;
 They applaud the one who echoes back their own ideas.
 Men profess so much so quickly.
 They transform their gods;
 Their gods do not transform their lives.
 This sham!
 This easy way of calling pride religious zeal;
 Of being opinionated
 And saying one has convictions.
 I almost envy those whose lives are only feeling deep.
 Those who are religious drunkards and do not see the mockery.

Beauty
 Go where you will to marvel at world's wonders
 And gaze in awe at all their splendor
 But return again to the haunts of Willamette Valley
 And reason with yourself why you ever sought better
 For hidden there 'neath what you thought common.
 Lies a beauty, historic,—inexplicable.
 NELL MARIE PERRINE.

A Tear For A Friend
 He had closed his eyes in that long rest
 Where joins the soul the dearest and best,
 Where no longer strife for wordly gain,
 Causes man to suffer enduring pain.
 At the last moment I thought I saw a smile
 Play on his face for just a little while.
 Did he know that for evermore
 He would be the richest, when once so poor?
 Did he have a thought for those behind,
 Who would mourn his going, his kindred kind?
 Nay, he knew that they would live their ways
 That they might meet him There some day.
 DICK DENTEL.

Brickbats and Bouquets
 Peking, China, Nov. 1, 1931.
 Editor of The Collegian:
 As a former staff member I want to congratulate you on the appearance of the Collegian this year. There are two things that I consider great improvements: few advertisements and a special alumni section. I am surely enjoying every issue if they are over a month out of date by the time that I get them.
 The Willamette graduates in China were so pleased with all our guests of the past summer. I see that you spoke of the group that were here and although I was one of those that had the privilege of entertaining them in Peking I did not resent the fact that you reported us to have been in Shanghai for I suppose to you that either city is just China. However, I do want to say that although I do live on the Metho-Compound that none of us teach there. A Compound is just a large resident section with a high wall around it. There are twelve foreign houses on our Compound. Mrs. Esther Dixon helps her husband with his work with the boys in the large boys' high school. (I taught there last year.) Cedric Chang also works there.

—And the gratitude in his simple "Thank you, sir," as he took up his first piece of wood, was better thanks than a king could have given.
 ARCH.

Beauty
 Go where you will to marvel at world's wonders
 And gaze in awe at all their splendor
 But return again to the haunts of Willamette Valley
 And reason with yourself why you ever sought better
 For hidden there 'neath what you thought common.
 Lies a beauty, historic,—inexplicable.
 NELL MARIE PERRINE.

A Tear For A Friend
 He had closed his eyes in that long rest
 Where joins the soul the dearest and best,
 Where no longer strife for wordly gain,
 Causes man to suffer enduring pain.
 At the last moment I thought I saw a smile
 Play on his face for just a little while.
 Did he know that for evermore
 He would be the richest, when once so poor?
 Did he have a thought for those behind,
 Who would mourn his going, his kindred kind?
 Nay, he knew that they would live their ways
 That they might meet him There some day.
 DICK DENTEL.

Brickbats and Bouquets
 Peking, China, Nov. 1, 1931.
 Editor of The Collegian:
 As a former staff member I want to congratulate you on the appearance of the Collegian this year. There are two things that I consider great improvements: few advertisements and a special alumni section. I am surely enjoying every issue if they are over a month out of date by the time that I get them.
 The Willamette graduates in China were so pleased with all our guests of the past summer. I see that you spoke of the group that were here and although I was one of those that had the privilege of entertaining them in Peking I did not resent the fact that you reported us to have been in Shanghai for I suppose to you that either city is just China. However, I do want to say that although I do live on the Metho-Compound that none of us teach there. A Compound is just a large resident section with a high wall around it. There are twelve foreign houses on our Compound. Mrs. Esther Dixon helps her husband with his work with the boys in the large boys' high school. (I taught there last year.) Cedric Chang also works there.

Resignation
 There's strength to be found in silence
 And beauty—like the beauty of leaves against a window pane.
 And pain—as rain drops, cold, on a bird's nest.
 I drink and shall go on drinking my cup of wine in silence.
 R.W.

New Mexico
 Early day on Colorado plains . . . The sun just rising over mountains brown . . . And shining bunch grass, fresh from recent rain.
 When beryl mountain slopes plunge sharply down.
 The mist is glowing where the pulse is down.
 Beats flowing red upon the granite crast.
 And from the tall hills finely, coolly drawn.
 The Pools of shadow curve the desert's breast.
 And now the sun is warm upon the sand,
 A prismatic earth wheels endlessly below.
 And nimbus—blue the rocky mountains stand
 Uplifting rangeless domes of burnished snow.
 And on these desert wastes the cattle run
 Like resurgent waves of water in a flood,
 And with the day the calm of night is done;
 Dust devils whirl and dance within my blood.
 TED PARKER.

Restlessness
 This sham!
 This easy fooling of myself.
 It is so smug to have fine words and phrases
 And think I have the meaning—
 To have a paltry sentiment and think I have a glowing truth.
 Men are satisfied by their gods so easily.
 They bow before a creature of their own wishes;
 They applaud the one who echoes back their own ideas.
 Men profess so much so quickly.
 They transform their gods;
 Their gods do not transform their lives.
 This sham!
 This easy way of calling pride religious zeal;
 Of being opinionated
 And saying one has convictions.
 I almost envy those whose lives are only feeling deep.
 Those who are religious drunkards and do not see the mockery.

Beauty
 Go where you will to marvel at world's wonders
 And gaze in awe at all their splendor
 But return again to the haunts of Willamette Valley
 And reason with yourself why you ever sought better
 For hidden there 'neath what you thought common.
 Lies a beauty, historic,—inexplicable.
 NELL MARIE PERRINE.

A Tear For A Friend
 He had closed his eyes in that long rest
 Where joins the soul the dearest and best,
 Where no longer strife for wordly gain,
 Causes man to suffer enduring pain.
 At the last moment I thought I saw a smile
 Play on his face for just a little while.
 Did he know that for evermore
 He would be the richest, when once so poor?
 Did he have a thought for those behind,
 Who would mourn his going, his kindred kind?
 Nay, he knew that they would live their ways
 That they might meet him There some day.
 DICK DENTEL.

Brickbats and Bouquets
 Peking, China, Nov. 1, 1931.
 Editor of The Collegian:
 As a former staff member I want to congratulate you on the appearance of the Collegian this year. There are two things that I consider great improvements: few advertisements and a special alumni section. I am surely enjoying every issue if they are over a month out of date by the time that I get them.
 The Willamette graduates in China were so pleased with all our guests of the past summer. I see that you spoke of the group that were here and although I was one of those that had the privilege of entertaining them in Peking I did not resent the fact that you reported us to have been in Shanghai for I suppose to you that either city is just China. However, I do want to say that although I do live on the Metho-Compound that none of us teach there. A Compound is just a large resident section with a high wall around it. There are twelve foreign houses on our Compound. Mrs. Esther Dixon helps her husband with his work with the boys in the large boys' high school. (I taught there last year.) Cedric Chang also works there.

Resignation
 There's strength to be found in silence
 And beauty—like the beauty of leaves against a window pane.
 And pain—as rain drops, cold, on a bird's nest.
 I drink and shall go on drinking my cup of wine in silence.
 R.W.

New Mexico
 Early day on Colorado plains . . . The sun just rising over mountains brown . . . And shining bunch grass, fresh from recent rain.
 When beryl mountain slopes plunge sharply down.
 The mist is glowing where the pulse is down.
 Beats flowing red upon the granite crast.
 And from the tall hills finely, coolly drawn.
 The Pools of shadow curve the desert's breast.
 And now the sun is warm upon the sand,
 A prismatic earth wheels endlessly below.
 And nimbus—blue the rocky mountains stand
 Uplifting rangeless domes of burnished snow.
 And on these desert wastes the cattle run
 Like resurgent waves of water in a flood,
 And with the day the calm of night is done;
 Dust devils whirl and dance within my blood.
 TED PARKER.

Restlessness
 This sham!
 This easy fooling of myself.
 It is so smug to have fine words and phrases
 And think I have the meaning—
 To have a paltry sentiment and think I have a glowing truth.
 Men are satisfied by their gods so easily.
 They bow before a creature of their own wishes;
 They applaud the one who echoes back their own ideas.
 Men profess so much so quickly.
 They transform their gods;
 Their gods do not transform their lives.
 This sham!
 This easy way of calling pride religious zeal;
 Of being opinionated
 And saying one has convictions.
 I almost envy those whose lives are only feeling deep.
 Those who are religious drunkards and do not see the mockery.

Beauty
 Go where you will to marvel at world's wonders
 And gaze in awe at all their splendor
 But return again to the haunts of Willamette Valley
 And reason with yourself why you ever sought better
 For hidden there 'neath what you thought common.
 Lies a beauty, historic,—inexplicable.
 NELL MARIE PERRINE.

A Tear For A Friend
 He had closed his eyes in that long rest
 Where joins the soul the dearest and best,
 Where no longer strife for wordly gain,
 Causes man to suffer enduring pain.
 At the last moment I thought I saw a smile
 Play on his face for just a little while.
 Did he know that for evermore
 He would be the richest, when once so poor?
 Did he have a thought for those behind,
 Who would mourn his going, his kindred kind?
 Nay, he knew that they would live their ways
 That they might meet him There some day.
 DICK DENTEL.

Brickbats and Bouquets
 Peking, China, Nov. 1, 1931.
 Editor of The Collegian:
 As a former staff member I want to congratulate you on the appearance of the Collegian this year. There are two things that I consider great improvements: few advertisements and a special alumni section. I am surely enjoying every issue if they are over a month out of date by the time that I get them.
 The Willamette graduates in China were so pleased with all our guests of the past summer. I see that you spoke of the group that were here and although I was one of those that had the privilege of entertaining them in Peking I did not resent the fact that you reported us to have been in Shanghai for I suppose to you that either city is just China. However, I do want to say that although I do live on the Metho-Compound that none of us teach there. A Compound is just a large resident section with a high wall around it. There are twelve foreign houses on our Compound. Mrs. Esther Dixon helps her husband with his work with the boys in the large boys' high school. (I taught there last year.) Cedric Chang also works there.

Resignation
 There's strength to be found in silence
 And beauty—like the beauty of leaves against a window pane.
 And pain—as rain drops, cold, on a bird's nest.
 I drink and shall go on drinking my cup of wine in silence.
 R.W.

New Mexico
 Early day on Colorado plains . . . The sun just rising over mountains brown . . . And shining bunch grass, fresh from recent rain.
 When beryl mountain slopes plunge sharply down.
 The mist is glowing where the pulse is down.
 Beats flowing red upon the granite crast.
 And from the tall hills finely, coolly drawn.
 The Pools of shadow curve the desert's breast.
 And now the sun is warm upon the sand,
 A prismatic earth wheels endlessly below.
 And nimbus—blue the rocky mountains stand
 Uplifting rangeless domes of burnished snow.
 And on these desert wastes the cattle run
 Like resurgent waves of water in a flood,
 And with the day the calm of night is done;
 Dust devils whirl and dance within my blood.
 TED PARKER.

"TIS DONE, 'TIS PAST!"

That Whitman game! And it's getting so cold here in Salem that even salt water will freeze soon. Whatever may be our griefs, it is time to forget them. Wiscracks about Whitman, Mr. Borleske, the Missionaries, Walla Walla, and the weather-man are passe and they never were so very becoming when uttered by Willamette students.

CAMPUS SOCIETY

Bertha Babcock, Editor

Home Economics Club Meets

The Home Economics club held its Christmas meeting at the home of Miss Edith Findley. After a pot-luck supper the members were entertained by a very interesting talk by Mrs. Kirk of her year's travel abroad.

Besides the honor guest Mrs. Kirk, the members present were the adviser, Miss Latimer, Miss Gertrude Oehler, Miss Benetta Edwards, Miss Elizabeth Clements, Miss Jean Peterson, Miss Dorothy Eastridge, Miss Midge Hewitt, Miss Beulah Cramer, Miss Velma May, Miss Bertha Babcock, Miss Viola Crozer, Miss Margaret Notson, Miss Claudia Buntin, Miss Francis Jackson, Miss Marie Ledbetter and the hostess, Miss Edith Findley.

Dinner Guests at Beta Chi

Guests for dinner at the Beta Chi house Friday evening, November 20 were the Misses Sarah Jane Dark, Janet Well, Ruth Schreiber, Beuna Brown and Dorothy Rose.

The dinner table was attractively centered with a beautiful long basket of yellow chrysanthemums which was flanked by lavender and yellow tapers.

Willamette Student Weds

Gordon J. Williams, regular right halfback on the Willamette football team in the season just ended, obtained a license in Vancouver, Washington to marry Miss Grace C. Nelson of Oakland, California.

Mr. Williams is affiliated with the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity.

The December meeting of the inter-sorority Council was held in the form of an attractive dinner at the Beta Chi house Tuesday evening. Miss Olive Dahl and the manager of each house were special guests for the occasion.

Guests were Miss Dahl, Misses Beuna Brown, Helen Stiles, Faye Cornutt, Alvis Love, Dorothy Rose, Eloise White, Margaret Eddy, Elizabeth Ogden, and Miriam Armitage.

THEY SAY . . .

That U. of British Columbia Grads. Faculty and Seniors present the acts in the Homecoming Theatre night.

That students at the U. of Washington, in a quiz conducted daily on leading men and events of the day, showed blissful ignorance of many of the ten questions asked. Ninety students flunked. Sample questions: Who are Grandi and Gandhi? Who is Pierre Laval? Who is the political leader of Russia? Who is the mayor of Chicago?

That one of the largest series of mural paintings ever undertaken for an American college is being executed for Princeton university. Nine panels, each 8 by 12 feet, have been ordered for the trophy room of the university gymnasium. Athletic games or individuals will be depicted in the murals.

That Cumberland university has a Greek graveyard in which are buried the memories of 15 chapters of Greek-letter fraternities which have passed on since 1854. Four of the chapters died during the Civil war, and the other 11 just died natural deaths in years since then.

That Colgate university, in continuing its investigations into the art of sleeping, finds that pajamas are detrimental to sleep and that the old-fashioned night shirt is better.

That the U. of Montana "Katin" claims that the "time of year has come when a young man's fancy turns from the girl with the car to the girl with the nice, warm parlor with radio.

That it was 98 in the shade in Los Angeles, yesterday.

That 30 men are out for basketball at P. U.

That attendance in the trig class has been made optional in the Fort Smith Junior college. The plan is working well; the class periods are being given over to personal consultations.

That Dr. Gustaf W. Hammar, head of the physics department of the University of Idaho has developed a telephone that uses a beam of light instead of a copper wire for transmitting the human voice. One of the graduate students assisted.

That students at McGill university plan an economy dance. Bids sell for 59 cents.

That Washington State has some high class boxers who represent the school as an athletic team.

Fraternities Hold Open House

The center of attention during the coming weekend will be focused on fraternity open house which will be held Saturday evening.

The Kappa Gamma Rho house will be open from 7:30-8:30 p. m. The Alpha Psi Delta will be open from 8:00-9:00 o'clock and the Sigma Tau will be open from 8:30-9:30 p. m.

The Kappa Gamma Rho will be open first and Harold Rose will greet the guests at the door. The receiving line will consist of Dr. and Mrs. Doney, Dr. and Mrs. Sherman, Alfred King, Cecil Harmon, and Joseph Felton.

In the dining room Miss Faye Cornutt, Miss Dorothy Eastridge, Miss Lulu Allen, Miss Lucille Flannery, Miss Doris Clark and Miss Edith Findley will serve.

At the Alpha Psi Delta, Gus Moore will welcome the guests at the door. Roy Harland will introduce to the receiving line which will include Andy Peterson, Dean Roy R. Hewitt, Prof. Rahe, Prof. Jones and Prof. Marshall.

In the dining room Miss Bertha Babcock will pour and Miss Benetta Edwards, Miss Bea Hartung, and Miss Louisa Sidwell will serve.

Forrest Mills will greet the guests at the Sigma Tau house. Frank Graver will introduce to the receiving line which will include Dean and Mrs. Frank Erickson, Dr. and Mrs. Gatte, Dr. and Mrs. Shulze, Prof. and Mrs. Sparks and Prof. and Mrs. Monk. Stearns Cushing, Claire Miller Charles Campbell, Paul Ackerman, Eric Anderson, and Floyd Albion.

In the dining room Miss Maxine Ulrich will pour and Miss Elizabeth Clement, Miss Olive Jones, and Miss Mildred Wampler will serve.

Which makes you thing we're bad losers? Well, we'd rather be bad losers than worse victors. MUD IN YOUR EYE!

—The Mudslingers.

P. S.—We have found out how the editor keeps kissable—we found a can of Bón Ami in her desk. Hasn't scratched yet!— (Editor says it hasn't done much good.)

Gene Smith—Hello, darling. Isabel (delightedly)—Hell-oo, Gene.

Gene—Uh—May I borrow your English lit notes?

Peter Babcock: When I get tickled in the library I just can't help laughing right out loud.

S. G. and A. E. Wilkes: Let me tell you, the library is no place for tickling.

Well, well, Miss Wilkes, do you speak from experience?

Well, I really do know something about those side rooms!

"You know, popular as I am with my public I do think they'd appreciate having something besides Wilkes in the joke column," said the song queen, as with modestly bowed head, she left the Collegian office.

Gertrude Oehler: I nearly went to sleep up there in the library. Writer of this column (trying to get some more space fillers): And what would the keeper of the bees have said then.

G. O. (innocently): Nothing, I guess, he'd rather have me asleep than awake from something he said the other day.

W. of this Col.: And what did he say the other day?

G. O.: Oh, he said that I was a nut-sauce.

Ye Editor busy scraping up business for her particular church: Alice Bartholomew, you are a Presbyterian preference, come here.

A. B.: Go easy on that arm! Gene Smith: (He's an ardent Methodist); Oh, no, Alice. The Methodists are easy on arms.

A. B.: Yeah, but oh, my neck!

Miss Hart, in an accompanying note, tells us that she received her inspiration from an actual personal experience. However, no details were given.

Charter members for the Wet-blanket Club: The prof who springs on exam right after a holiday.

How would you like to pay for the bankies for Tusko's cold?

Maybe we've said a thing or two.

Gene Smith—Hello, darling. Isabel (delightedly)—Hell-oo, Gene.

Gene—Uh—May I borrow your English lit notes?

Peter Babcock: When I get tickled in the library I just can't help laughing right out loud.

S. G. and A. E. Wilkes: Let me tell you, the library is no place for tickling.

Well, well, Miss Wilkes, do you speak from experience?

Well, I really do know something about those side rooms!

"You know, popular as I am with my public I do think they'd appreciate having something besides Wilkes in the joke column," said the song queen, as with modestly bowed head, she left the Collegian office.

Gertrude Oehler: I nearly went to sleep up there in the library. Writer of this column (trying to get some more space fillers): And what would the keeper of the bees have said then.

G. O. (innocently): Nothing, I guess, he'd rather have me asleep than awake from something he said the other day.

W. of this Col.: And what did he say the other day?

G. O.: Oh, he said that I was a nut-sauce.

Ye Editor busy scraping up business for her particular church: Alice Bartholomew, you are a Presbyterian preference, come here.

Kappas Entertain With Buffet Supper

Kappa Gamma Rho entertained with a delightful six o'clock buffet supper at the fraternity house Saturday evening, November 21. An interesting program of musical numbers and skits followed the supper.

Guests for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keene, Misses Virginia Durkes, Eleanor Henderson, Edith Sidwell, Grace Holman, Mildred Kester, Betty McLain, Nova Hedin, Frances Poor, Gwendolyn Hunt, Margaret Eddy, Bernice Rickman, Margaret Haight, Jeanette Smith, Marie Ledbetter, Lulu Allen, Doris Clark, Edythe Glaisyer, Lucille Flannery, Dorothy Eastridge, Elizabeth Ogden, and Dorothy McDonald.

Mrs. Gilbert Dinner Hostess

Mrs. E. E. Gilbert was hostess for a lovely Thanksgiving dinner in her home on N. Summer street. The table was attractively decorated with a large basket of fruit and orange tapers; turkey place cards marked places for Mr. and Mrs. Clive Zeller of Battle Ground, Wash.

Miss Bretz Entertains Informally

Miss Marion Bretz was hostess Saturday evening in her home for a reunion of some graduates and former students of Willamette university.

The evening was spent in conversation and reminiscing. Those invited for the evening were Miss Henrietta Bishop, Miss Jennie Delzell, Miss Gertrude Oehler, Miss Bertha Babcock, Miss Edith Findley, Miss Jean Middleton, Mrs. Margaret Kaufman and the hostess Miss Marion Bretz.

During the past Thanksgiving holidays, Dean and Mrs. Roy R. Hewitt spent two days at Taft, Oregon.

which makes you thing we're bad losers? Well, we'd rather be bad losers than worse victors. MUD IN YOUR EYE!

—The Mudslingers.

P. S.—We have found out how the editor keeps kissable—we found a can of Bón Ami in her desk. Hasn't scratched yet!— (Editor says it hasn't done much good.)

Gene Smith—Hello, darling. Isabel (delightedly)—Hell-oo, Gene.

Gene—Uh—May I borrow your English lit notes?

Peter Babcock: When I get tickled in the library I just can't help laughing right out loud.

S. G. and A. E. Wilkes: Let me tell you, the library is no place for tickling.

Well, well, Miss Wilkes, do you speak from experience?

Well, I really do know something about those side rooms!

"You know, popular as I am with my public I do think they'd appreciate having something besides Wilkes in the joke column," said the song queen, as with modestly bowed head, she left the Collegian office.

Gertrude Oehler: I nearly went to sleep up there in the library. Writer of this column (trying to get some more space fillers): And what would the keeper of the bees have said then.

G. O. (innocently): Nothing, I guess, he'd rather have me asleep than awake from something he said the other day.

W. of this Col.: And what did he say the other day?

G. O.: Oh, he said that I was a nut-sauce.

Ye Editor busy scraping up business for her particular church: Alice Bartholomew, you are a Presbyterian preference, come here.

A. B.: Go easy on that arm! Gene Smith: (He's an ardent Methodist); Oh, no, Alice. The Methodists are easy on arms.

A. B.: Yeah, but oh, my neck!

K. SKINNER WINS KEYES CONTEST

"In Defense of Plagiarism" Judged First; W. Roeder Takes Second Place

Kathleen Skinner won first place, Wesley Roeder, second place and Hal Bolinger was chosen third, in the finals of the Keyes oratorical contest held in chapel Wednesday, December 2.

Miss Skinner skillfully defended plagiarism in her oration, "What is the difference if ideas are borrowed, if the author dresses them up and makes something beautiful and nice from something ugly and foolish?" she asked, and added that the best literature comes from borrowed plots and ideas. Shakespeare and Milton were criminals of the worst sort. "As psychology says there is no such thing as an original idea—how can an author have an original plot?"

Wesley Roeder asked, "Why? or the Relation of man and the Vastness of the Universe." The mind is a mental phenomena," he said. All progress is achieved by speculating and asking why." He said that one should continue to ask why and thus continue progress.

Hal Bolinger asked, "Are we Responsible?" He said that when we learn to run our prisons as we do our business, and to use new and scientific methods in handling prisoners then we will be able to preserve law and order in our prisons and teach the prisoners to become law abiding citizens.

The first prize of $15 and the second prize of $10 are awarded by Walter Keyes, a Salem attorney.

Ray Lafky, president of Tau Kappa Alpha, states that more interest has been shown in the contest this year than ever before.

During the past Thanksgiving holidays, Dean and Mrs. Roy R. Hewitt spent two days at Taft, Oregon.

I. M. W. U. GROUP DULY ORGANIZED

Tuesday evening, November 24, marked the final step in the organization of the Independent men of Willamette university when permanent officers for the club were elected and the charter membership list was closed.

Permanent officers elected were as follows: president, Frank Childs; vice-president, Morgan Gallagher; secretary, Vernon Bushnell, and treasurer, William Gahlsdorf. Al Downs was elected as Do-Nut league basketball manager for the club.

As yet no definite action has been taken on selection of a faculty member but a committee of three members, namely Harold Lamb, Morgan Gallagher, and Glen Huston, have been appointed for general consideration of a faculty member.

Membership application blanks are obtainable from any of the officers of the club. Dues are $1.50 a semester. Seventeen charter members compose the club at the present time. The membership is expected to reach thirty by the beginning of the second semester.

The next club meeting will be Tuesday evening, December 15, at Chresto. Final arrangements for the first sernade will be made at that time. Any non-fraternity man is welcome.

Dial 5005 Our Hardware Wears RAY L. FARMER HDW. CO Everything in Hardware Electrical Specialties, Paints, Builders' Hardware, Crockery and Glassware, Sporting Goods, Cor. Court and Commercial Sts., Salem, Oregon

Regular 50c Haircut 35c Barber Shop in Lobby of Bligh Hotel

OPEN BOOTHS FOR CHRISTMAS SEALS

Christmas seal sale booths will open December 12 according to Mrs. Ivan Martin, city chairman for the sale. Local organizations will take over the booth work. A member from each organization will be placed in charge as chairman and assisting workers will be chosen by them.

The Eastern Star social club will have charge of the postoffice booth with Mrs. W. A. Merriott as chairman. Ladd and Bush bank will take charge of a booth in its foyer with Miss Rovena Eyre in charge.

Salem Women's club will have a booth in Woolworth's store with Mrs. David Wright, chairman. The American Legion auxiliary will have charge of the booth in Miller's store. Mrs. T. D. Kibble will be chairman in charge of the booth in the First National bank being sponsored by the Woman's Union of the Congregational church.

Other booth locations and those in charge of them will be announced at a later date.

Route to Falls Given Approval The new Silver Falls secondary road route received the approval of market road Engineer Cutler of the state highway department, following a conference with Marion county officials Wednesday.

The part of the road to be completed covers four miles or a distance of two miles each side of the falls.

Help Fight Tuberculosis Buy CHRISTMAS SEALS

Shakespeareans To Meet Dec. 9

"Romeo and Juliet" Reading Will Continue as Literary Enthusiasts Gather

Shakespeare Club, which are to the holidays and conflicting programs has not met for several weeks, will continue its reading of "Romeo and Juliet" at its meeting December 9, at Willamette Lodge. Elizabeth Ogden and Eric Anderson act as directors of the organization. The Shakespeare garden, which has fallen into a state of disrepair since Dr. Kohler has been in his leave of absence will be a topic of discussion. The garden which is located at Lausanne Hall, contains a specimen of each variety of flower mentioned in Shakespeare's plays.

Membership in this organization is open to those interested in reading and studying the works of Shakespeare.

BORROWERS FOUND GRATEFUL, HONEST

That students who have borrowed money from the Booth student loan fund are not only honest but appreciative is the contention of C. P. Bishop, guardian of the fund. To substantiate this opinion Mr. Bishop has given to the editor of the Collegian copies of two letters received during the past month. In both instances new names have been substituted for the names of the writers:

Somewhere in Oregon, Nov. 6, 1931.

Mr. C. P. Bishop, Salem, Oregon, Dear Mr. Bishop:

Enclosed find check for $38.25 balance due on my note of $100 Booth Student Loan Fund. I note the interview with you in the Collegian pertaining to this fund and particularly that you had never lost a dollar loaned to one of the girls. The $100 that I borrowed meant the difference between graduating and leaving school.

Yours, FRANKIE SMITH.

From an Eastern City, Nov. 9, 1931.

Enclosed will be found postal money orders for $105.00 which will retire my obligation to the Booth Student Loan Fund entered upon last January.

My moral indebtedness to Mr. Booth and to the fund shall continue however. May I again express my thanks for the timely financial assistance.

Yours Very Truly, SAMMIE JONES.

D. T. G. HANGS PLAQUE IN UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Permission has been granted by Dr. Franklin to Daleth Teth Gimel to hang its scholarship plaque in the library. The patronesses of D. T. G. presented the plaque for the purpose of having engraved upon it each semester the name of the member who receives the highest grades. The names which the plaque now bears are: Helen Hughes, '28; Alice Lane, '29; Marlon Morange, '30; Lydia Childs, '30; Roberta Archibald, '30, and Margery Hannah, '32.

The summer was spent visiting in the east, especially in New York and Chicago. In the latter summer Miss Moffatt began her second trip across the American continent, coming straight to Sa-

The State Street Barber Shop We Please Others Why Not You? 1256 State St.

Dial 5904 Res. Dial 6114 C. F. BREITHAUP Florist & Pet Dealer New Location 406 State St.

Drs. Morse, Robertson, Power, Buren and Robertson Physicians & Surgeons Phone 3123 Guardian Bldg.

Regular 50c Haircut 35c Barber Shop in Lobby of Bligh Hotel

Jacob A. Rise Men's Boots, Shoes and Oxfords 233 N. Commercial

Red Cross Pharmacy The Best in Drugs 499 State St.

When You Think of DRUGS Think Schaefer's Drug Store 135 N. Commercial

Model Food Market "The Best of Everything" Groceries and Meats Thirti Day Account Service No Charge for Delivery 275 N. High St.

Help Fight Tuberculosis Buy CHRISTMAS SEALS

THE NATIONAL STATE AND LOCAL TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES

FRAT OPEN HOUSE TO BE SATURDAY

Public Invited to See Men Display Ability as Hosts and Housekeepers

The three fraternities, Alpha Psi Delta, Kappa Gamma Rho, and Sigma Tau, will have open house Saturday evening, December 5 to allow the public to understand how the wheels go round.

The Kappas will be open from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m., the Alpha Psis from 8:30 to 9:30, and the Sigs from 9:30 to 10:30. Open house is a custom that has been practiced since the organization of the houses.

All students and people from Salem are invited to attend. A receiving line in each house will receive visitors and direct them about the building. Light refreshments will be served.

Those who live at the houses will show by the appearance of their rooms how real house keepers work. Of course the usual collection of trinkets and pictures will have to be on careful guard.

Betty Moffat (Continued from page 1)

little place of Sitapur, the home town of the well-known writer, E. Stanley Jones.

Immediately after being graduated from high school in 1929, Miss Moffatt left for Europe with friends. This time she made the journey through the Red Sea and the Mediterranean, touring through Italy, Germany, and France. While in Germany Miss Moffatt attended the famous Oberammergau Passion Play.

During the months of June and July of 1930, Miss Moffatt remained in the little town of Glay with some French people.

In August she toured Switzerland, making stops at Geneva, Mt. Blanc, and other places of interest. In September, Miss Moffatt entered the Pensionnat Inver Girls' School at Lausanne, and there she studied French until the spring of 1931.

After touring through Germany and Holland, Miss Moffatt again sailed from London for the states in the late spring.

The summer was spent visiting in the east, especially in New York and Chicago. In the latter summer Miss Moffatt began her second trip across the American continent, coming straight to Sa-

California dairies ship butter valued at more than $1,000,000 to foreign ports annually.

John Gottfried, who played on the Willamette football team during the seasons of 1930 and 1931, visited friends on the Willamette campus, and in Salem during the Thanksgiving vacation.

A. S. B. ELECTS MOSER Charles Campbell presided at the Student Body meeting held on November 20th. Dave Moser was elected yell king by an unanimous vote.

DEAN HEWITT SPEAKS Dean Roy R. Hewitt was a guest speaker at the American Lutheran church in Salem on the evening of November 29th. The topic of his address was: "Why the Orientals Do as they Do."

The trial was quite interesting to those who attended, as many amusing features in regard to the manufacture of cider were brought out. For example, it was testified that one might operate a cider press with a five horsepower electric motor, providing he knew how to manipulate the gears properly.

The defendants witnesses, who were quite willing, showed that the apples were of such poor quality that one could tell by looking at them that they were not fit for cider, hence there was no excuse for having used 500 pounds for that purpose.

The jury, which was out for some time, returned a verdict of $150 for the plaintiff, Jores. Plaintiff was represented by attorneys Lear, Ackerman and Bergman, while Vinson, Weber and Bowe served as counsel for the defense.

With renewed interest the Argonauts, a philosophic group, will convene for their first meeting of the year Monday evening.

Dr. Ralph S. Winn, who taught psychology while Dr. Sherman was on a leave of absence, started these meetings last year for all those interested in philosophy. Although the meetings were not formally organized they attracted much attention. Soon a list of objectives were formulated for approval but were not approved. These objectives will be presented at some future meeting.

"What is Happiness" is to be the subject for discussion Monday evening. The name Argonauts may be also be changed. All interested in philosophy are urged to come.

Those in charge of the meetings are Wesley Roeder, president, and Harold Rhoten, secretary.

lem, where she enrolled in Willamette university.

During the short time that she has been in Salem, she has spoken before the International club and the Wesleyan club on the Willamette campus, and has also been called upon to speak before the Salem Fraternis club, the Mission Study class of the Japanese Community church, the Salem Women's Missionary Society, and the Social Science Department of the Leslie Junior high school.

"W" CLUB PLANS SMOKER The "W" club at its last meeting discussed plans to give a party or a smoker in order to raise funds for assistant coach Maple's salary. The organization also decided to enter a basketball team in the Do-Nut league.

GOTTFRIED VISITS John Gottfried, who played on the Willamette football team during the seasons of 1930 and 1931, visited friends on the Willamette campus, and in Salem during the Thanksgiving vacation.

A. S. B. ELECTS MOSER Charles Campbell presided at the Student Body meeting held on November 20th. Dave Moser was elected yell king by an unanimous vote.

DEAN HEWITT SPEAKS Dean Roy R. Hewitt was a guest speaker at the American Lutheran church in Salem on the evening of November 29th. The topic of his address was: "Why the Orientals Do as they Do."

ONE ACT PLAYS TO BE PRESENTED SOON

Continuing the series of one act plays presented and coached by members of the play production class, Eloise White and Nellie Badley Ackerman are giving the final presentations this week.

A light comedy, "The Londonary Air," directed by Eloise White, and a slight tragedy, "The Conflict," coached by Nellie Ackerman, are to be given before the Salem Art Club December 3.

The cast of the Londonary Air" includes, Savilla Phelps, Tyrus Hillway, Jean Peterson and Oliver Bowe. Mrs. Ackerman's cast includes, Buelah Graham, Elizabeth Badley, Gladys Dodge, and Joe Hershberger.

Those in charge of the meetings are Wesley Roeder, president, and Harold Rhoten, secretary.

lem, where she enrolled in Willamette university.

During the short time that she has been in Salem, she has spoken before the International club and the Wesleyan club on the Willamette campus, and has also been called upon to speak before the Salem Fraternis club, the Mission Study class of the Japanese Community church, the Salem Women's Missionary Society, and the Social Science Department of the Leslie Junior high school.

"W" CLUB PLANS SMOKER The "W" club at its last meeting discussed plans to give a party or a smoker in order to raise funds for assistant coach Maple's salary. The organization also decided to enter a basketball team in the Do-Nut league.

GOTTFRIED VISITS John Gottfried, who played on the Willamette football team during the seasons of 1930 and 1931, visited friends on the Willamette campus, and in Salem during the Thanksgiving vacation.

A. S. B. ELECTS MOSER Charles Campbell presided at the Student Body meeting held on November 20th. Dave Moser was elected yell king by an unanimous vote.

DEAN HEWITT SPEAKS Dean Roy R. Hewitt was a guest speaker at the American Lutheran church in Salem on the evening of November 29th. The topic of his address was: "Why the Orientals Do as they Do."

The trial was quite interesting to those who attended, as many amusing features in regard to the manufacture of cider were brought out. For example, it was testified that one might operate a cider press with a five horsepower electric motor, providing he knew how to manipulate the gears properly.

The defendants witnesses, who were quite willing, showed that the apples were of such poor quality that one could tell by looking at them that they were not fit for cider, hence there was no excuse for having used 500 pounds for that purpose.

The jury, which was out for some time, returned a verdict of $150 for the plaintiff, Jores. Plaintiff was represented by attorneys Lear, Ackerman and Bergman, while Vinson, Weber and Bowe served as counsel for the defense.

With renewed interest the Argonauts, a philosophic group, will convene for their first meeting of the year Monday evening.

Dr. Ralph S. Winn, who taught psychology while Dr. Sherman was on a leave of absence, started these meetings last year for all those interested in philosophy. Although the meetings were not formally organized they attracted much attention. Soon a list of objectives were formulated for approval but were not approved. These objectives will be presented at some future meeting.

"What is Happiness" is to be the subject for discussion Monday evening. The name Argonauts may be also be changed. All interested in philosophy are urged to come.

Those in charge of the meetings are Wesley Roeder, president, and Harold Rhoten, secretary.

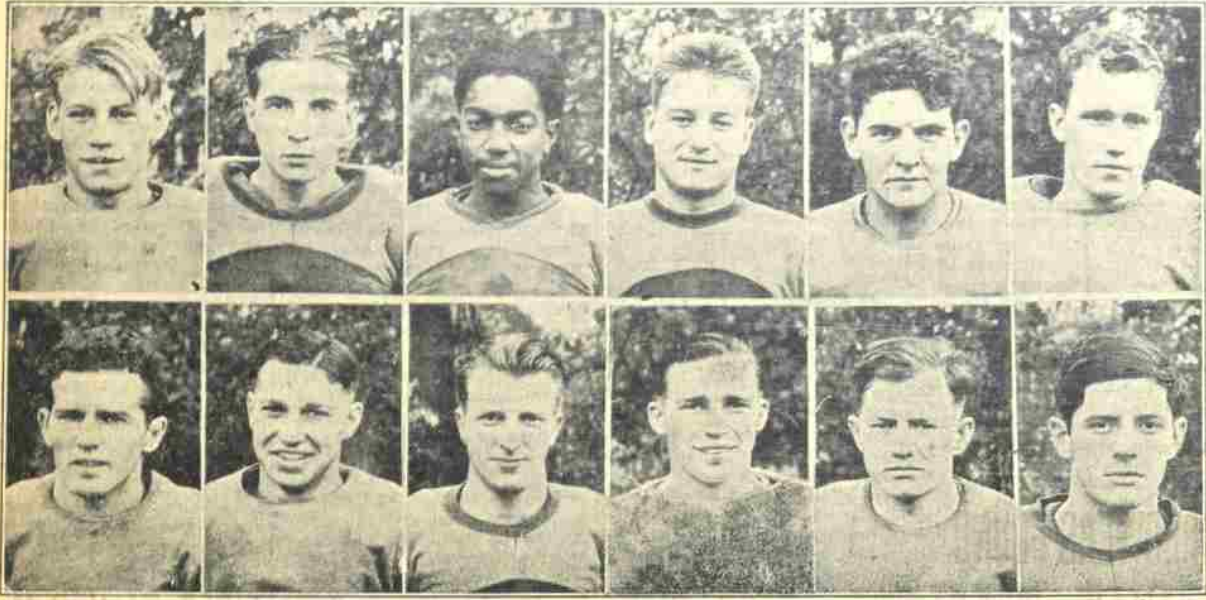

lem, where she enrolled in Willamette university.

During the short time that she has been in Salem, she has spoken before the International club and the Wesleyan club on the Willamette campus, and has also been called upon to speak before the Salem Fraternis club, the Mission Study class of the Japanese Community church, the Salem Women's Missionary Society, and the Social Science Department of the Leslie Junior high school.

"W" CLUB PLANS SMOKER The "W" club at its last meeting discussed plans to give a party or a smoker in order to raise funds for assistant coach Maple's salary. The organization also decided to enter a basketball team in the Do-Nut league.

GOTTFRIED VISITS John Gottfried, who played on the Willamette football team during the seasons of 1930 and 1931, visited friends on the Willamette campus, and in Salem during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Gridiron Season Over; Bearcat Veterans Get Needed Rest After Strenuous Schedule Is Completed

Reading from left to right, the sturdy Bearcat gridirons above are: Top row, Frantz, full; George Erickson, quarter; Cannady, half; Grannis, center; Tweed, guard; Olsen, full; Connors, end; Houck, center; Girod, guard; Lorenz, tackle; Jones, tackle; Allen, tackle. Bottom row, Paul, quarter; Mahan, quarter; Walt Erickson, half; Gribble, end; Orr, guard; Carpenter, guard; Boyd, guard; Ross, half; Kaiser, end; Benjamin, end; Drager, tackle.

WHITMAN WINS HEART BREAKER

Breaks of Game Coupled With Snow Gives Missionaries Title

JOHNSON SHINING LIGHT

Carpenter and L. Johnson End Careers in Snow-Bank; Borleske Fox

Coach Nig Borleske and his players are to be congratulated for their victory Turkey day that saw the Willamette Bearcats, on a now covered field at Walla Walla, slip into a tie with Pacific for second honors in the Northwest conference. The Whitman Missionaries took the boys by a line touchdown and try for point. To open the game Kaiser took the short kick and with no interference fought to his thirty-five yard line. The opening was impressive, the game was started with a rush and it was easy to see that both teams were out there to give all they had. Later in the first quarter came the break which enabled Whitman to toss that surprise pass over the goal line on a first down. Falling to gain on three plays Erickson fell back to punt and the ball skidded off his foot for about 10 yards. The fighting Bearcats held and the Whitman eleven in turn held and Erickson again fell back to punt and again got off a heart-breaking punt. Whitman took the ball on the 30 yard line, drove through center for a couple of yards, completed a short forward pass over center, and then behind good interference Applegate slipped around end for a first down, the ball being on Willamette's 20 yard line. Then came the pass Applegate to De Vange which enabled the Whitman team to carry off the Northwest conference title. Eliminating that one "break", the encounter probably would have ended in a scoreless tie.

Willamette Defensive On

With Whitman gaining on every exchange of punts Willamette was soon forced to accept the defensive. Taking the ball on their own twelve yard line, Willamette finally started a drive with Johnson, Erickson, and Williams doing the ball hugging. Seven plays took the ball to Whitman's 49. Four more and the Bearcats had a first down on the Missionaries 29. Erickson smashed for three and in two tries Williams gained four. With three yards to go for that precious first down Willamette again cracked the line, but failed to gain the coveted first down by a scant yard. This marked the end of Willamette's only threatening offensive drive. The half ended as Coach Keene's men intercepted a pass in their territory. The second half saw Willamette working their hearts out to advance the ball towards the Whitman goal line. Johnson, with his heavy effective line plunging was the chief ground gainer. Every effort, however, was short lived for Anderson, snow and all, consistently kept the ball in the Bearcats' territory. More than once he put them over Erickson's head; it is known, however, that Anderson's success lay in the fact that snow made his placements effective.

The Lineups:

Willamette		Whitman
Benjamin	LE	Devenge
Allen	LT	Nelson
Smith	LG	Asher
Grannis	C	Drew
Carpenter	RG	Clow
Jones (C)	RT	Voris
Kaiser	RE	Staines
Mahan	Q (C)	Applegate

W. U. Year Successful In Bearcat Mentor Like a Moses Spite of Bitter Reversals

Perhaps a keen disappointment to coaches, players, and fans—the recent football season has been far from unsuccessful. Throughout the season, from the Columbia game to the Whitman, Willamette made 125 points to a total of 32 for opponents. Thus making her 93 points better than the combined scores of opposing combinations. However, this has been a year of upsets. The Whitman team that lost to Columbia 13 to 0, defeated Willamette 7 to 0, the team that swamped Columbia 42 to 0.

Albany and Columbia had good chances to get into the conference. The Pirates defeated both Idaho and Linfield while the Cliff dwellers not only thrashed Whitman, but did not allow them a single first down. The addition of these two schools would be an asset. Too often these games have been regarded lightly. The result has been a let down in morale. Perhaps the Bearcats 42 to 0 crushing over the Irish aroused too much confidence. A little more meekness would have been

BASKETBALL TO HOLD ATTENTION

Adams and Gibson Missing From Championship Squad; New Men Promising

With all but two of last year's championship basketball squad on hand, Willamette looks forward to another successful season; however, Hoot Gibson may be in school next semester; this leaving Dwight Adams as the only man to be lost. Adams is still in school, but with four years of varsity competition behind him, all of which saw him chosen as all conference forward; he must content himself to sit in the bleachers. Some say that Roy Benjamin will be in there filling Adams' shoes, but not without a tall struggle for last year's squad there is Gus Moore and Don Faber, both of whom nearly earned their letters last year. Perc Carpenter and Andy Peterson are the veteran guards who will be back. Last year they proved themselves as good defensive men—to hold their position they must pick up where they left off. Marsh Hartley, an Aberdeen boy who has played little for Keene up to this time, although he is best long shot of the squad, will be hard to beat. Than too, there is Kaiser, he didn't get into stride last year and much more is expected of him this season.

Erven A. "Algonon" Kloostras is the only experienced center on hand. The lanky center spent the greater part of the summer in the Blue Mountains doing the heavy work for a surveying crew, and it is expected that the strenuous routine as a rod-man has no doubt strengthened his legs and mind. Let us not forget the freshman from Seattle, namely "Alf" Riekie. The early dope makes him out as a real contender for the pivot position. Scales is also turning out, expected to go even better this year.

Williams	LH	Anderson
W. Erickson	RH	Wooten
Johnson	F	Leuderback
Referee		George Varnell
Scales		Bobby Morris
Attie		head linesman
Portland		Mike Moran

a wonderful thing prior to the Pacific contest. Providing that the present football men are able to return, next year should be a banner one for Willamette. She should be primed about to that fighting spirit which conquers all. This year with the greatest crop of material in years she slips into a tie for second place with the Pacific Badgers. Last year her champions bowed to the old Borleske jinx. By next year it should be unbearable.

Willamette is hit comparatively light by graduation. The loss of Johnson at full will be felt but cannot be compared to the loss of Applegate to Whitman. It is the consensus of opinion among the Bearcats that Applegate is about half of the Missionary aggregation. The graduation of Carpenter will be capably filled by reserve material. Should anyone be disgusted, remember that it took the children of Israel 40 years to get out of the wilderness—lack of cooperation. So far Coach Keene has been a veritable Moses for Willamette athletics.

BEAR KITTENS HOLD PRACTICE

Sparks Has Material on Hand for 3 Combinations; Some Will Advance to Varsity

To those who watch the freshmen teams with interest a keen disappointment in last year's delegation was apparent and as to whether or not the money of the freshman class for suits was a good investment remained an undecided question. Was the sour showing a result of insufficient material, ineffectibility or lack of interest.

This first week of freshmen turnout has, however, quieted all fear of a repetition of last year. Tuesday night marked the first scrimmage with an outside team for the Kittens, Coach Les Sparks used two different combinations against the Salem Florshelm club, both of which brought out a few individual players. The contest proved easy for the independents, the freshmen being able to loop were few and far between.

A quintet of Leske and Northrup forwards, Edwards center, Kitchen and Lemmon guards, worked fairly well together; however, Les Sparks will have to do a great deal of polishing before the season gets underway. Another combination of Frantz and Cannady forwards, Connor center, Dean and Allan guards, worked for a while. Later Sparks did a little experimenting and found a fairly good looking team. It consisted of Leske and Frantz forward, Allen center, Lemmon and Kitchen guards. Although the shooting and passing of the local boys throughout the scrimmage was very ragged, it is expected that they will come through with a winning team as the season progresses.

Those in suit Tuesday night were: Allan, Cannady, Carkins, Connors, Dean, Edwards, Frantz, Feathers, Gillette, Kitchen, Seaska, Lemmon, Northrup, Swanson and Woodyard.

MISS SAVAGE ARRIVES

Miss Eugenia Savage was to have arrived in Shanghai, China, some time Tuesday. According to Mr. Savage, Misses Betty and Margaret Louise Lewis were planning to meet her at the boat.

W. U. SECONDS DEFEAT ALBANY

Final Home Game Played on Frost Encrusted Gridiron Before Small Crowd

BILL ROSS SHOWS CLASS

Team that Upset Idaho Gives Beautiful Demonstration of Fight

On a frost covered field Willamette's second string opened with an aerial attack that netted them a 19-point lead over Albany college Friday night, November 20, on Sweetland field that smoothed the way to a 25-13 victory for the Bearcats. The first two plays gave the Bearcats 35 yards on passes, one to Ross and one to Ingersoll.

Paul and Ross bucked the ball to Albany's 15-yard line, where it was lost on an intercepted pass. Albany punted to Willamette, and the Bearcats again used their aerial attack to take the ball to Albany's 15 yard line. Olson made a first down, then Ross took it across for a touchdown. The line-buck for extra points failed.

Taking the kickoff on its own 42 yard line, Willamette marched to Albany's 40, where a pass from Paul to Frantz went over for another touchdown. Ross converted, making the score 13-0.

After the next kickoff, following an exchange of punts and a 20 yard gain by Ross, "Moe" Ingersoll took a pass from Paul and crossed the line for another score. The try for point failed, leaving the score 13-0 in favor of Willamette.

Shortly after this a close formation kick of the Bearcats was blocked and recovered by Albany on the Willamette 31 yard line. With Buchanan and Adamscheck boring through the Bearcats' line, Albany went over for her first touchdown. The extra point was made. The half ended with the score 19-7 Willamette.

Pirates Intercept Pass

In the third quarter a pass into the flat by Paul was intercepted by Adamscheck who carried it 90 yards for a touchdown. Try for point failed, leaving the score 19-13 Willamette.

At the beginning of the third quarter Coach Keene put in seven fresh players, the first string backfield and three linemen. After a 47 yard march, Erickson took the ball on an end run to cross the line for the final score. A line plunge for extra point failed. The game ended with the final score 25-12 in favor of Willamette.

Lineup and summary:

Willamette		Albany
Ingersoll	LE	Cox
Lorenz	LT	Lefler
Orr	LG	Ross
Houck	C	Bates
Boyd	RG	Hottswirth
Felton	RT	Voris
McRae	RE	Rich
Frantz	Q	Adamscheck
Paul	LH	B. Buchanan
Ross	RH	McLain
Olson	F	Klockers

Score by periods:
Willamette 13 6 0 6
Albany 0 7 6 0

Scoring by Willamette: Touchdowns by Ingersoll, Frantz, Ross, and Erickson. Point after touchdown by Ross.

For Albany: Adamscheck and Buchanan, extra point.

LEAGUE GIVES BANQUET

The Epworth League of the Jason Lee Church are planning a banquet to be given for the old people at the Old People's Home next Friday, December 4th.

BEARCATS WON'T ALIBI FOR LOSS

Applegate Proves Himself Real Field General; Bearcats Make More Yardage

It's all over now. The Bearcats missed the championship, but they fought their very best, much better than in previous games.

Some are cringing about the alibi, and the apologizing with statement, "Did not the snow handicap Whitman as much as Willamette?"

It most certainly did, and that is why the Bearcat team is not claiming that they would have brought home a victory except for the snow. As it was Willamette made more yardage from passes, scrimmage, and gained more first downs, but Whitman came through at the crucial moment. With the ball inside the 20 yard line first and 10 to go. Buddy Applegate pulled football's most unorthodox play—a pass over the goal line. It worked, Whitman won, and Applegate was the hero of the day. That's football.

It was not a case of mittens, practice on snow, long cleats and waxed equipment, rather was the outcome of the game a product of Nig Borleske's judgment.

He knew that Willamette was stronger offensively and defensively, he knew that Nig Borleske knew that no offense could be staged on a hindering field of snow. He figured that he could get a scoreless tie out of the game at least. Then to himself he said, "Why not leave the snow?"

PHILOSOPHERS DISCUSS NEW MEMBERS, PLANS

The Sunset Philosophy Club will hold a business meeting this afternoon at four o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the prospective freshman members, as concerns their eligibility. The Sunset Club is about a year old, and its membership consists of ten Sophomore men, at present, and three of possibly four freshmen may be added. Besides discussing candidates for memberships, plans for philosophic discussions of the remainder of the year will be discussed. A faculty adviser will probably also be chosen.

LOCKENOUR WARMS OFFICE

Since the present cold snap began, the heat sometimes has difficulty in reaching the top floor of Waller hall at so early an hour as 7:45. As a result Prof. Roy Lockenour has fitted his private office as a class-room. He has seats comfortably arranged so as to seat 15 or 16 students. He also has a small electric heater which he sets in front of the class, and which gives off a continuous ruddy glow.

FRENCH CLUB MEETS

The French club under the direction of Mrs. Vanzkas is meeting every two weeks at Willamette lodge to practice conversation. The club is composed entirely of members who are advanced in French.

Topics of general interest are used for discussion. Speaking in English is not permitted.

Keeping Up With News

Not since the world war have the news columns been as full of interest: economic distress, Manchurian battles, sports, statehouse news, etc.

And you find it all tersely told in the daily issues of

The Oregon Statesman

Frozen Turf

(Continued from page 2)

We snatched a bite & got ready to go to the game.

W made more noise at that game than our whole student body ever made—and if we didn't swamp the Missionaries on the field we certainly did in the grandstand—band & rosters both.

As for the frozen turf—our sentiments & those of the Mud-slingers is identical.

After the game we rode, walked, ran, and slid back to the hotel, dug the snow out of our ears, ate, & went back to the train.

We were more quiet on the way home. Naturally. We were all tired & more than one of us felt a little like crying. Nearly everyone sat down and the "promenading" of the night before was absent.

At last some pest started "We're 99 miles from home—". Four loyal supporters kept the ball rolling, and, joined by nearly everyone else in the coach, "arrived" at last.

Then the noise commenced. We all gathered in one end of the car and sang everything from "Tell me why" to "Hallelulah I'm a bum." Cute Billy Ross got unconscious and we discovered he has a fine voice, while "Putz" was the comedian of the evening.

We sang from The Dalles to Portland. From Portland home we snored. The buses from Portland to Salem were not as comfortable as the trains but we were too tired to know or care much.

We got home at 2:15—cold, the stars shining, the grass stiff with frost. But tired or no, as we wearily climbed the steps at home, every last one of us said just one thing, "Well, I feel sorry for Whitman next year."

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Florgence Jaeger, who recently returned to the campus from San Francisco, where she was called by the death of her sister, Mrs. Madeline Williams, has expressed her appreciation of the many kindnesses shown her by students and faculty.

Y. W. C. A. MEETS ON "TREES"

A meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on "Trees," led by Miss Eloise White, will be held this Thursday afternoon at 4:15 on the chapel platform of Waller Hall. Miss Betty Odger will sing "Trees," and Miss Miriam Armitage will play a pipe-organ number. The Worship committee is in charge.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE SUCCESSFUL

Louisa Sidwell, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. finance committee, announces that the financial drive last week raised over one-third of the budget in pledges, made by co-eds and faculty women. Plans for raising the balance throughout the year are being made.

C. E. TALKS "PEACE"

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church has just finished a series of meetings on the topic, "Peace." The young people have very interesting meetings each Sunday evening at 6:30 at which time they discuss topics of general interest.

KEENE ISSUES CALL TO CAGERS

Men Reporting for Practice Expected to Train Vigorously; Games Scheduled

In a meeting of all basketball aspirants Tuesday night at the gym Coach Keene stated in a most emphatic manner that this year's team will work under absolute discipline. He went on to say that the men who were not out there giving all they had in practice as well as the games were not striving for the good of the team as a whole and would have to go somewhere else "for their basketball." The basketball mentor also spoke of training and promised that there would be a stricter program than ever before.

Coach Keene is again planning to use his so far successful "fast breaking" style of play which is always a treat for basketball fans. He added, too, that this may be altered according to fit his material. The importance of split vision, deception, and hip action were stressed along with his demand that "everybody hustle."

He stated that for another week the freshmen and varsity squads will continue to work separately, and if by next week some freshmen have shown startling possibilities he will work them in with the experienced boys.

As yet the conference schedule has not been drawn up. The Bearcat quintet will, however, meet some non-conference teams in pre-season game, the most important being with O. S. C. The first game with the Staters is scheduled for Dec. 15.

Men reporting are: lettermen, Seales, Kloostras, Carpenter, and Peterson; holdovers from varsity squad, Moore, Foher, Hartley, and Kaiser. Benjamin is back from the squad of two years ago. New men off to work with varsity 15 are Kitchin, Salem; Ruskie, Seattle; Edwards, Marshfield, and Lemon, Tacoma. Burdette, Griffith, and Erickson are reporting from last year's Fresh outfit.

BIG CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Epworth League of the First Methodist church, the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church, and the Epworth League Society of the Jason Lee church, are planning a group Christmas party to be held on December 11th at the Presbyterian church. These three young people organizations are combining in planning for a big time on that date. It is possible that some other young people's group will join with them.

Classic Barber Shop

Opposite Elsinore
193 S. High

Oregon Barber Shop

185 N. High St.

Weller Hardware and Paint Co.

428 Court St. Phone 539
Paints, Oils and Glass
Tools and Housewares

Better Service, Better Quality at a Better Price.

Shyne Shoppe Service
PAYS

PLAN OBSERVANCE OF MONUMENT

300 Memorial Half-dollars Sold to Erect Marker for Trail

Although the exact date for the competition of the monument is yet uncertain, some observance will be planned for Willamette students upon the completion of the Oregon Trail Monument.

Last year the students of the university undertook to sell 300 memorial half dollars at one dollar each. These half dollars were sold for the purpose of obtaining funds to build a bronze plate and granite marker at The Dalles for the Oregon Trail and the establishment of the first Methodist Mission School for the Indians by Jason Lee. The sale, headed by Sam Howe, was very successful, the required $150 which was necessary for the construction of the monument having been obtained. There are at this time, but five pieces remaining for which an option has been granted to a woman in South Carolina.

All pictures for the Wallulah have been taken, but the proofs must be returned during the next two weeks, or the pictures will not appear.

Love Yourself and Love SHOES CLOTHING HOSIERY FOR THE FAMILY WILLIAMS SELF SERVICE STORES 370 STATE ST.

Look for the above Neon sign over our store front
Between the First National and Ladd & Bush Banks
Clothing and footwear needs for college students.
A Friendly Place to Trade

KENNEL-ELLIS

ARTIST PHOTOGRAPHERS
429 Ore. Bldg. Phone 7830

Court St. Dairy Store

365 Court St.
Home of 10c Toasted Sandwich
Home-made Ice Cream
Dairy Products

HOLMES

Monarch Grocery
Finest Store in Salem
477 Court St. Phone 6940

Gifts for Men

The kind he will appreciate.
ALEX JONES
216 N. High Senator Hotel

Try Us First

Salem Hdwe. Co.
Wilson Sport Goods
Football Basketball
and Golf
120 N. Comcl. St. Phone 4906