Achor Elected New YMCA President; To Appoint Cabinet

Bob Ewing, Sophomore, Succeeds John Laughlin as Secretary Of Service Organization

Winfield Achor was elected president of the campus Y. M. C. A. in elections held Wednesday. Achor, who is a sophomore and retiring secretary of the Y, won over Stan Brownhill. He will represent the local Y. M. C. A. at Seabeck June 8-15. He succeeds Ralph May.

For vice-president, Dick French won from Loren Hicks. Dick has been in charge of the extension department and active commitment for the past year. He is a sophomore and succeeds Bill Laughlin.

Bob Ewing defeated Bob Voigt for the office of secretary. Ewing, a sophomore, has been active in promotion work and an efficient committee member. He succeeds John Laughlin.

Dick Stacer was elected treasurer, defeating Tom Hall. Dick Stacer, a freshman, has worked on publicity and has been the barker for the refreshment Chresto drives.

Winfield Achor will appoint his new cabinet within a short time. The new cabinet and retiring cabinet will hold its Spring Retreat at Nelscott May 17-19 at which time the new officers and appointed officers will be installed.

Frats Will Hold Spring Formals Saturday Eve

Saturday night will be an important one for members of Willamette's three fraternities and their guests as they hold their annual spring formals.

The Sigma Tau house will be transformed into a casino for the evening. An orchestra under the direction of Dick Barton will play for dancing in the basement ballroom. Meanwhile, various games will be played in the house parlors.

Arrangements are under the general direction of Roger Foster, assisted by Ed Harrold, George LaVatta and Harry Chadbourne. Wes McWain and Corydon Blodgett are in charge of decorations.

The twentieth anniversary of the founding of Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity will be celebrated at their formal banquet and dance. "Chinaware" will be the theme of the banquet, to be held at the Quelle restaurant at 6:30. Winston Bunnell, Al Ferrin and Cliff Stewart are in charge of the program.

The chamber of commerce hall will be arranged like a Chinese festival in keeping with the "China" anniversary. Wes Lang and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing. Loren Hicks is in charge of arrangements for the event.

Professor and Mrs. C. L. Sherman and Professor and Mrs. E. C. Richards will be patrons and patronesses.

Palmis will be part of the decorations carrying out a Hawaiian theme at the Alpha Psi Delta

Queen Betty Begins Reign Before Waller

May Weekend to Include Breakfast, Play, Dance, Game, Tug, Play Day

The ceremony for the crowning of Queen Betty will be held Saturday afternoon, May 5, in front of Waller Hall as it was two years ago. Saturday morning the campus Y. W. C. A. will have the May Day breakfast, which will be held upon the lawn on the west side of the campus. Saturday evening the junior class will present the play, "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder, in the senior high school.

Friday night the annual May week end dance will be held in the Willamette gymnasium with Roger Miller's orchestra. The Bearcat baseball team will play the Pacific Badgers in a conference double header Saturday afternoon.

Saturday morning the annual tug of war between the freshmen and sophomore classes will be held across the mill stream to decide which class will go cordless for the remainder of the year. The "W" club will be in charge of the recreation period Saturday afternoon.

The May Day Court will consist of twelve members instead of six this year, the queen and two princesses along with their escorts each selecting an additional couple.

Finals Monday, Amendments Wednesday

Final election for student body officers will be held next Monday, April 29. This election will decide all of the offices for which no candidate received a majority in today's primaries, the contest being between the two with the largest vote today.

Balloting on amendments to the A. S. W. U. Constitution will be held next Wednesday, May 1. As was done last year, the amendments will be voted on by ballot rather than by a standing vote in a student assembly. This will be the third time the associated students will go to the polls within one week.

V. Bendiksen To Announce Contest Winner

On Wednesday Wallace Sprague, son of Governor Sprague, will speak on "The Full Man." Following his speech Miss Virginia Bendiksen, chairman of the subcommittee on recreational reading, will award the prizes in this year's recreational reading contest. Robinson Spencer, Willamette University librarian announces that there will be four prizes this year. A freshman prize of $8 will be awarded and three general prizes of $10, $8 and $5.

Chapel speaker on Tuesday will be Rev. W. Irwin Williams of the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Williams has spoken on several

Ferrin and Thomas Reach Revote in Today's Balloting

Sanders and Huntly to Vie For Collegian Post; Anderson, Eberly Elected on First Ballot

By ART WILSON

Today's student body primary with a total vote of 507 as compared to 514 of last year, brought Al Ferrin and Bill Thomas to the fore in the presidential race. Thomas led slightly over Ferrin who in turn held an extremely thin margin above Steve Anderson, running third. The other two presidential candidates trailed far behind.

Two Left

Gene Huntly

Marion Sanders

The above two survivors of the student primary will find out Monday.

Run-offs will be held in four of the eight fields voted upon today; the collegian editorship, the student body secretaryship, and most important, the presidency. The final election will be held Monday with the polls opening at 10 a.m. and closing at 4 p.m.

The above election story is a Collegian scoop. With the cooperation of the Statesman Publishing company the Collegian was able to accomplish what was believed to be the impossible, in bringing to its campus readers exclusive election returns. This scoop defeats the Oregonian and the Statesman which last year carried the returns before the Collegian due to the sleuthing of ex-publicity director, Paul Sturges.

Collegian Editor

A hot battle is promised between Marion Sanders and Gene Huntley in the race for the editorship of the Collegian. Sanders, a junior, had a vote lead over Huntley, a sophomore, as Eve Shellito and Joe Van Winkle were eliminated by wide margins.

Secretary

Ruth Hedges and Maxine Goodenough will contend Monday for secretary of the student body. The pair ranked highest in a field of four that included Pat Schramm and Francis Pickard.

Song Queen

Defeating Carolyn Brown and Barbara Hollingsworth on the first ballot, Sally Anderson was elected song queen by a complete majority.

Unopposed

Elected unanimously to the position of first vice-president was Mary Head. John Hathaway likewise met no opposition in his quest for Wallulah editor.

Second Vice-Prexy

The primary election decided the contest for second vice-president as Howard Eberly swamped his only opponent, John Horton.

Yell King

In the closest contest of the entire election Harry Irvine took the office of yell king from Joe Dwight.

To Lead 'Y'

Winfield Achor

Succeeds May as head of leading campus service organization.

Second-Vice

Howard Eberly
