WALLULAH

A Record of the School Year 1923-24

Published by the Junior Class of Willamette University

Clarence Oliver - Editor

Stanley Emmel - Manager

*"The sound of hoofs that broke a forward path
Among the pines;—beyond him lay
The reckless camp, the solitary home;
And in the eager heart of him who rode Glowed faith supreme; and love for fellow man."*

—WILLIAM T. PERKINS.

DEDICATION

To those who broke the trails and overcame the wildness of nature; to those who builded by the way-side better than they knew; to all those who by their far-sighted vision have filled a place in the forward movement of the West, we dedicate this, the fourteenth volume of the Wallulah.

FOREWORD

The Wallulah must of necessity be only a suggestion of what the year has been. We can only hope that it will serve to turn the memory into pleasant paths in days to come.

It must be, as well, the work of many whose only reward can be the satisfaction of work well done, the joy of the builder who sees his plans take on form and finish. The Editor wishes to make special acknowledgment of the work done by the following persons: The Associate Editor, Juanita Henry, whose untiring labor largely made possible the completion of the book by May-day; the Art Editor, Grace Jasper, whose originality and artistic ability is evidenced throughout; and the office assistant and stenographer, Elsie Hop Lee, who gave much time to this work, besides editing the College Life department well.

The Class of 1925 salutes you!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Wallulah is a record of Willamette as seen by the students. Of course it is not complete, for time and space would fail them in telling the whole story. The view-points of faculty and students differ in details only, for there is astonishing youthfulness in professors and surprising maturity in students; hence the latter will read a college catalogue with as much edification as the former will digest a students' annual. No library is quite complete without both publications.

The Wallulah is didactic, yet it suggests much to the imagination. A person unfamiliar with college life may have a dull time interpreting the intimations, or he may have a perfect riot of enjoyment. It will depend on what is in his mental baggage, on whether he comes to the table with dyspepsia or with an eager appetite. Anyway, we are assured that the Wallulah offers food for thought and imagination and fun.

The book will not be among the best sellers, but it will outlive many a volume which is acclaimed by advertisement, critic and club. For, in a sense, it is an autobiography of all Willamette campus dwellers. We shall get pleasure from this publication, reading it again and again and reliving the good days which it will recall. It will be a tonic to memory, a renewer of friendships and a fountain of youth. It will have a place upon the center table, then go upon the shelves and a century hence someone will discover it in the attic and make merry over the quaint appearance of an ancestor.

A production which for a hundred years will trail face and fancy, jest and joyousness along the well-trodden highway is worthy. No wonder we are eager to have our pictures in it, to write for it and to be irrepressibly keen for its appearance. Welcome to Wallulah!

MY HERITAGE

I do not wonder that I love the hills,
For I was born within their quiet grasp.
And all the acres that my father tills
Lie on the sunrise crest. My borning gasp

And cry I gave within the arms of her
Who knew that love. And since no altar-stone
Was in that wilderness, the christening were
A climbing pilgrimage with her alone

Into the hills. The winds of heaven came
And cleared the leaves before us as we went.
An oriole broke forth and sang my name.
And in the falling rain was sacrament.

And all the night as white the blossoms rain,
The hour repeats itself, again, again.

—AUDRED BUNCH.

"Pleasure and action
make the hours seem short....."

ATHLETICS

MRS. G. L. RATHBUN

COACH RATHBUN

A NEW ERA

With a new gymnasium, a new coach who is a wiz, and all alibis thrown to the winds, Bearcat teams are reviving the old traditions of Willamette fight and replacing her name in Northwest athletics.

Games have been lost, many of them, but no team has failed to give the best it had, or to fight to the final bell.

The Athletic Department has been completely reorganized and hopes are high for the future. With Coach Rathbun in charge and Assistant Coach Sparks ably helping him in all departments, with Mrs. Rathbun directing the women's physical training, Willamette's athletic forward movement is on!

HERBERT BOOTH

ROBERT NOTSON

THE ATHLETIC MANAGERS

By the provision of the newly revised student body constitution, athletics at Willamette are now handled by three managers, one each for football, basketball, and spring sports. The new system is working well, and no doubt will remain a permanent feature of varsity athletics.

Robert Notson, as football manager, handled a difficult season well, and deserves much credit for the big financial success of the Home-coming game with Whitman.

Basketball in the new gym was a doubtful undertaking, financially, but Manager Herbert Booth proved his ability by making a success of it, and especially by putting the State High School Basketball Tournament on a sound financial basis.

The Oath of Allegiance

I do hereby swear (Assuan) that I, as a loyal member of Willamette University, will do all in my power at football games, basketball games, and so forth to impersonate to the best of my ability, one or more of the following instruments of torture: an explosion, a siren, a jazz orchestra, and a cannonade. So help me, Ford!

(Signed on this the twenty-third month of nineteen twenty-four.)

US BEARCATS.

WILLAMETTE CUBS

Organized last year for the purpose of maintaining the general campus friendliness, and of greeting and entertaining visitors, the Cubs have proved especially helpful to the athletic department at Willamette, and have won for themselves a permanent place on the campus.

BASEBALL

Hindered by rain in the early part of the season, with no place for indoor work, with half the team going on the first trip which was off on account of the rain, the Bearcat baseball team put on one of the wildest, weirdest exhibitions ever staged since the national sport was redskin potting. Wonderful plays and disastrous boots, home runs and strikeouts, small scores and huge, mingled most wonderfully.

The season started with a ten inning defeat at the hands of Oregon State Penitentiary and ended with a 4-3 one at the hands of Chemawa. It started with five promising pitchers and ended with the third baseman batted out of the box in the last inning. Scores in between ran from 3-0 to 22-9 and back again. Robertson strained his arm early in the season, and Fisher never got into condition, so that the bulk of the pitching fell on the shoulders of Ellis and Robbins. Both pitched good ball, but when an opposing team solved them, there was not a reserve to fall back on.

Isham pitched one inning against Mt. Angel, came very near winning his own game against Chemawa, lost it, and retired in favor of Nee, who received the distinction of fanning the last batter of the season.

WILLAMETTE VERSUS PACIFIC

TRACK

LOGAN . . . Distance Runs, High Jumps

Captain and Captain-Elect, with three years of track already to his credit, Vic still has to find an opponent who can force him in the distances.

VINSON . . . Jumps, Vaulting, Hurdles

Unlike most athletes, Bill improves with age. Still has a year to go.

STREVEY . . . Broad and High Jumps

Hundred Yard Dash

Strevey could always be counted upon to make points for Willamette in the jumps.

The Willamette track team got off to a good start by a very one-sided victory over Chemawa, featured by Vic Logan's persistent effort to replace the shoe which he cast in the first round of the mile.

The next week, Saturday, May 7, Linfield was defeated on her own field.

On May 12, during the May Day festivities, came the only defeat of the season, doubly bitter because administered by Pacific. Willamette had at best but a fighting chance, but hung on so determinedly that at the start of the relay, a victory meant losing the meet by eight-tenths of a point. Most of the crowd thought the meet hung on the relay.

WRIGHT Half and Quarter Mile

Johnny is a hard man to nose out in the middle distances.

STOLZHEISE Weights and Jumps

Stolz won his third letter in one year, though a frosh, by his conscientious work and training.

The first Badger drew away, but Hayes cut down the lead on the second man, and Bonney pulled away from the third. Jock Wright was last. As Bonney staggered across the line, a boy jumped out to catch him, and stood in front of Wright just long enough to make his sprint in vain, and Pacific took the relay as well as the meet.

The Bearcats evened the count on May 30, when, in the Independent Colleges' meet, they won over Pacific by almost the same margin.

Fighting Bill Vinson, Long-legged Logan, and Solid-old Stolzheise were the outstanding stars—Stolz winning his third letter for the year. Vinson vaulted, jumped, and hurdled; Logan ran the distances, and high jumped; Stolzheise heaved weights and javelin, and broad jumped for variety.

TENNIS

There is one sport in which Willamette has long ranked consistently high. Football and basketball have their ups and downs. Baseball and track usually find funds low and small time schedules in order. But in tennis Willamette takes off her hat to no one.

Last year was about the nearest to an off year, for Willamette was defeated once and won nothing except from Oregon and Pacific, and the Independent Colleges' title.

Huston, Emmel and Mickey proved themselves worthy successors of the mighty Nibs Moodhe and Doney. Emmel did not lose a singles match all season.

Women's tennis came back for the first time since the days of Mary Findley. Elva Burris won from Miss Smith of Pacific. Burris and Rostein won the women's doubles and Emmel and Burris won the mixed doubles in the Independent meet.

Huston and Burris lost their mixed doubles.

HUSTON

Captain Huston made a record for himself during his last year with Willamette by winning the Independent Colleges' singles championship.

EMMEL

Ted has a record of winning every singles he has played in his varsity career. And he has two years yet to go.

MICKEY

Hale's consistently good playing is occasionally supplemented by a flash which speaks well for the future.

BURRIS

Willamette's reputation for having women tennis players staged a comeback this year. Miss Burris only lost the woman's inter-collegiate singles championship by a close margin.

Winners from Away Back....

When school opened in the fall two spirits fought for mastery. One said "New coach, fine bunch of men, lots of pep." The other said, "Aw, whatsa use? We can't win." Both were partly right. As usual a lot of the old letter-men failed to come back—only six reported in fact. Weight failed to develop, and a green team was smashed through by Oregon for 40-0.

Only a week later the team went north to meet Washington. For the whole first quarter and again in the last, Willamette not only held her own, but tore through the heavy northern team again and again, but in the second and third quarters Washington was too much, to the extent of 54 points.

The next game was in Washington again, against College of Puget Sound. A few panic-stricken moments cost two touchdowns—then the Bearcats rallied and raged all over, around, and through the Loggers. It was too late to win, however, and only six points came before darkness ended the game.

Another panic-stricken moment allowed Linfield to score, in the next game, but here W. U. was not to be denied and she rolled up 35 points, using her whole second team at the last. Next week Chemawa was taken down the line 36 to 0, and Albany failed to show up for her drubbing.

CAPTAIN
FRED PATTON

CAPTAIN PATTON End

"Pat" carried the responsibility of piloting the Bearcats from his end position. This is his third and last year of service. In addition to his play at end, Pat has handled most of the punting.

CAPTAIN-ELECT ISHAM Quarter

"Ish" is noted for being one of the slipperiest, fastest little players in the Northwest. While he is too light for a line plunger, give him a broken field and good interference and he is good for sensational gains. He is the logical man for the football captaincy.

CAPTAIN-ELECT
HAROLD ISHAM

SHERWOOD

OLIVER

WILKENS

SHERWOOD Guard

Paul has served both in the backfield and in the line with equal efficiency. His experience and steadiness should be an asset to the Coach next year.

OLIVER Tackle

George has been fighting four years to show his stuff. The opposing quarters always picked their holes elsewhere when he was in the line.

WILKENS End, Half

Wilkenson was a general utility man, fitting in wherever he was needed to strengthen the team.

FINDLEY

BOOTH

FINDLEY End, Center

Dwight broke into the regular line-up at end for the first time this year. His specialty was in spearing long passes.

LILJEGRIN Half

"Lily," although a new man, was one of the most finished all-around men in the backfield. Consistency was his strong point. He has speed, and punches the line well in addition to handling punting.

BOOTH Half, Quarter

Booth was a valuable utility man. He is smart, a good starter, and a fast man in an open field.

FASNACHT

HARTLEY

RHODES

FASNACHT Tackle

Coach Rathbun considered "Fossy" as the most promising "find" of the season. A badly wrenched knee did not prevent his playing in most of the games.

HARTLEY Tackle

This lanky boy showed wonderful improvement during the year. As a line man he will be a joy to Coach Rathbun next year.

RHODES Guard

Grit and fight combined to give this inexperienced man a place on the regulars.

HUSTON

STOLZHEISE

MOORE

HUSTON Center

Leo was an aggressive keystone man on the line. His passes to backfield men were always accurate.

STOLZHEISE Fullback, Tackle

"Stolz" is a heavy man, valuable either in backfield or on the line. He should go at top speed another season.

MOORE Half

"Hank" plays a good game, and is always dependable. He should show up well next year.

WILLAMETTE VERSUS WHITMAN

The one game in which every student showed a fighting interest in his team, a game on which the team willingly staked their letters, was Home-Coming, against Whitman. In this game occurred the play which gained Borleski so much newspaper space. A free catch was recovered for a touchdown, and a kick and field goal made the total 10 to Willamette's 0.

In a sea of mud, with rain coming down in sheets and streams, the veteran Pacific team bucked through for three touchdowns.

The last game was far from home, against the College of Idaho. Both teams were hampered again by mud, and a savage battle resulted in a 7 to 7 tie. The team never whimpered; all except three Seniors swore to come back, in both senses.

The Student Body voted, in spite of the action taken by the team at the time of the Whitman game, to give letters to all men regularly qualified to receive them.

The crucial moment.

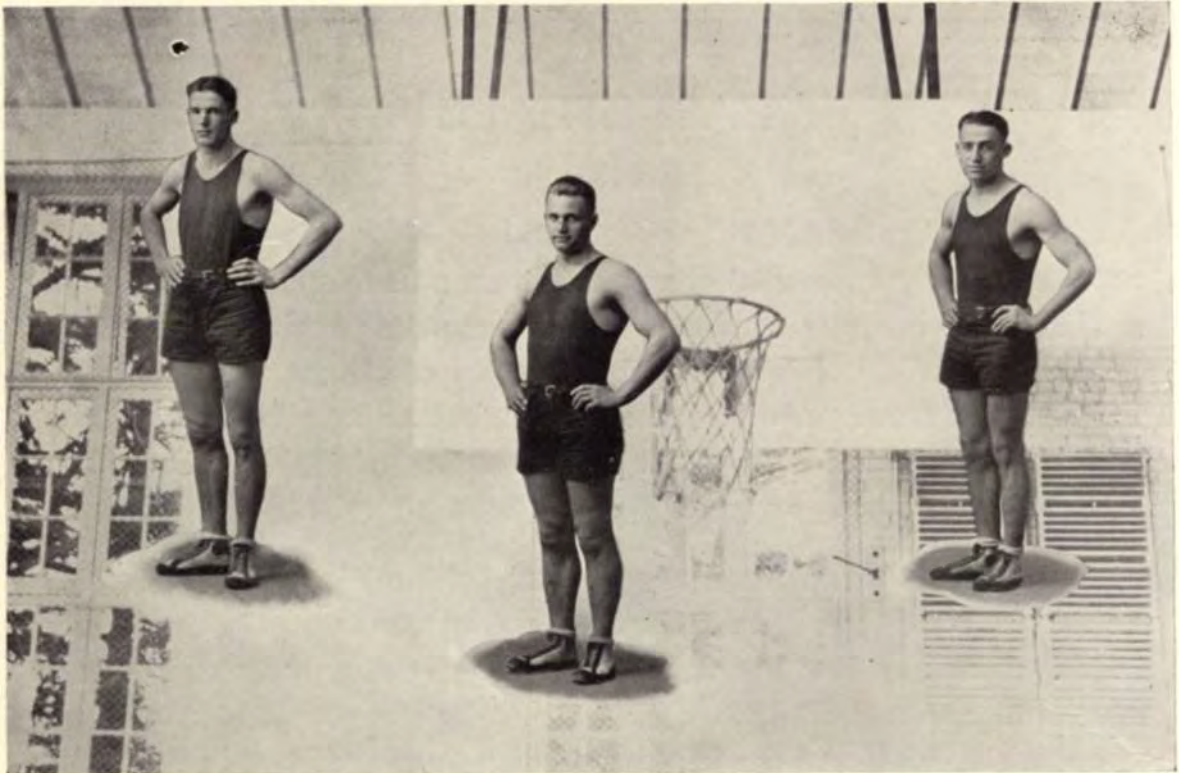

THE SQUAD

BASKETBALL

Another chapter of Willamette's athletic history is written. It is not a strikingly successful chapter, though an ancient rival has been set back into her proper place. It is a record of achievement in the face of great difficulties, of the building up of a team steadily growing stronger from game to game, losing, but never giving up, of the rebuilding of school morale, the utter routing of the brooding jinx, and the firm rooting of a triumphant, fighting spirit.

Patton and Logan have played their brilliant last, but Fasnacht, Robertson, Erickson, Hartley, and Steincipher, who was injured early in the season, are just hitting their stride. Guiding these and others, overcoming countless difficulties and enshrining himself more and more in the hearts of the Fighting Bearcats is Rathbun, beloved as coach and man.

While baskets and fixtures lingered on the road, the Bearcats struggled to prepare for their first games. Out of a gratifyingly enthusiastic but unfinished squad emerged the team which, although it failed to stop Oregon's march toward the championship, snowed Pacific under: Willamette's offense a proven reality. Whitman was too much for our inexperienced team. An alumni team took the dedicatory game in the new gym. Linfield was defeated. U. of W. proved her championship caliber conclusively, though she had to fight for her victory. Cheney Normal—an unknown quantity—administered another defeat, but the Bearcats came right back, crushing C. P. S. in two contests. Gonzaga outweighed and outplayed Willamette in the next contest, but Whitman won only by shooting a foul in the last fifteen seconds of play. A foul cost the Idaho game too, but Pacific was crushed again. Washington State's famous five man defense barely outbalanced the Bearcat's offense. Oregon broke away from a tie, at half time, to a final victory.

FROSH TEAM

Under the leadership of Coach Sparks, the Freshman basketball team had a successful season this year, both from the standpoint of games won and in developing men for the varsity squad. Despite the fact that White was forced to leave the game early in the season on account of injuries and Liljegrin had to leave school, the yearlings won eight out of their fifteen games, including the interclass series.

In the interclass series the Rooks, while lighter and more inexperienced, easily won their games by means of greatly superior teamwork, which gave strong evidence of the type of training they had received.

The first team was made up of Herrman, Rhodes, Liljegrin, Petram, Johnson, White, Adams, and Nakano, while DeSart, Roundtree, Kelly and Jasper played a good game on the second string.

Among the outside teams played were Monmouth, Washington and Jefferson High Schools of Portland, and South Bend and Raymond of Washington.

The team was greatly weakened by the loss of Hartley and Steincipher, who both made berths on the varsity. Johnson, White, and Liljegrin show great promise of being varsity material next year.

The team's final score stands: Rooks 253; opponents 240.

FRESHMAN SQUAD

MEDFORD HIGH
1924 CHAMPIONS

THE STATE HIGH SCHOOL TOURNAMENT

This High School Tournament for the state championship was one of the most successful ever held by Willamette University. The state as a whole was well represented. Teams were here from Medford, Eugene, Independence, Pilot Rock, McMinnville, North Bend, St. Helens, La Grande, and Bend. Each team was the champion in its own district.

All the games were fast, and evidenced the caliber of the contestants by clean, sportsmanlike playing. Medford and Eugene played the finals. The Medford team emerged the victor by a safe margin, after a game which was declared to have been one of the fastest and cleanest games in tournament history.

As Oregon State High School champions, the Medford team went to the National Tournament at Chicago, which was held the first week in April, and were eliminated only after a close game with the champion team from Mississippi.

DISTRICT CHAMPIONS

An hour
for sports..

TENNIS AND GYM CLASS

WOMEN'S PHYSICAL TRAINING

The administration of Coach and Mrs. Rathbun, who is his associate in the work of physical training, inaugurated a bigger era. Their program offered constructive work for Willamette women.

This year the installation of new apparatus retarded progress. But the courses as outlined meet with the hearty approval of students, faculty, and alumni, since they plan to develop in the college woman a sound body. The multiplicity of present life demands strong men and women. This demand physical training prepares to supply. A new era is at hand.

INTERCLASS RIVALRY

Interclass Rivalry has been more interesting this year than ever before. The class numerals seem to have been the main cause for extreme feeling among the classes.

The mighty frosh have taken things by storm so far, and prospects are bright for their taking first honors in every sport.

The cross country course covered a distance of 2.2 miles through Bush's pasture. Considering the time of 12.1 made, the boys must have taken time out to pick a few flowers, for the usual time for the course is slightly over 10 minutes, according to Manager Regele. Lee Crawford took first place, with "Tuffy" Haines a close second. Atkinson was third and Kelly fourth.

By points the Freshmen were first, the Sophomores second, and the Juniors third, while the Seniors were not entered.

Interclass basketball proved rather interesting, as this was the first year the girls have entered a team. The outstanding player for the co-eds was Myrtle Klamp, while Mootry and Roundtree did stellar work for the men. The games were close and rough.

The rest of the sports have not been scheduled at the time of writing, but everyone is keen to see the outcome of the rivalry this year.

THE VICTORY BELL

COLLEGE LIFE

"College days and friendship's dreams."

Junior Week End, 1923, began auspiciously with the coronation of Queen Esther, attended by her maids of honor, Mildred and Grace.

Groups of girls dressed as flowers danced before the queen and her court; last of all, demure maidens wound the May-pole.

"Come Out of the Kitchen," the Junior play, was successfully staged on Friday night, while tennis matches, a track meet, and tug-of-war were the events of Saturday.

Senior March reminds us that our Seniors will be with us for only one month more; then Ted may sit on the Senior Bench without threat or fear of mill-racing.

The entire student body met after the daily chapel exercises for a picture. Our managers start the Leap Year in style.

The Frosh serpentine through the town in wild disarray before donning their little green caps, while the girls kneel before the Sophomore monitor to be adorned with green bows.

The Jolly Jaunt to Chestnut Farm opens the social season, followed by class parties, and the programs at the Literary societies.

The Kappa's stage a serenade and the Roguish Umps return the courtesy during exams. Wild and wooly Westerners held up the annual Y. M. stag mix.

The Frosh clean up the campus before Home-coming. The pep of the students and alumni rose to a climax at the annual Frosh bonfire, before the Whitman game, which followed the dedication of the new gym.

A page of forward movements: on to the goal, a tense moment at the Homecoming game with Whitman; on to the field in a serpentine between halves; on to Coach Rathbun and the finished gym.

The Thanksgiving Jolly-Up, the Web Pajama Parade (a never to be forgotten nightmare), and the Cosmopolitan Club Open House rush the season on the social calendar.

No school year is complete without Win-My-Chum week, a time when students turn their thoughts to less material things. The Dean's tea and the Post-Exam Jubilee top off the semester.

The Glee Clubs advertise Willamette throughout Oregon and Washington. As spring approaches the Washingtonian banquet supplies a formal occasion for fussing. With spring, also, the Wallulah staff completes its work.

Our Pledge

Words by
RUTH HILL

Music by
KATHLEEN LARAUT

Oh Willamette, fairest name,
School we love forever more.
We shall strive to keep thy fame
Tho we win or lose the score;
Singing ever thru the fight,
"I love Willamette U."
Aiming, striving with our might
Toward a worthy purpose, true.

CHORUS

Oh, dear Willamette U,
The school we love so well,
We pledge our love to you
And e'er your praises tell.
Oh, may we always be
Most worthy sons of thine;
We pledge our loyalty,
Willamette, school of mine.

College friends will go their way
And our world will hurry on;
Our strife lasts but a day,
And our cause be lost or won.
But thru all our lives we'll sing,
"I love Willamette U."
And to the end we'll bring
Our trust kept faithful, true.

Forever True

Words by
IRENE BERG

Music by
VOLENA JENKS

College days and friendship's dreams
In the eventide of years,
Bind in memories living gleams
The dear old school the West reveres;
Tradition weaves a silver glow
On her victories as they grow—
Then let Willamette's glories old
Live in cardinal and the gold.

CHORUS

The spirit of old W. U.
Forever holds our friendships true,
Our golden dreams and memories
Have made their tunes her melodies.

The vision dreams of Jason Lee
Shall live to make her manhood free;
Then let her track and football game
Be worthy of Willamette's name.
All loyal sons shall love her more
For all the honors of her lore
Have met within her glories old
To live in cardinal and the gold.

PUBLIC SPEAKING RECITALS

At regular intervals throughout the year, the Public Speaking Department has given a number of recitals featuring the students of that department under the direction of Miss Minna L. Harding. The programs have included, in the four recitals given so far, thirty or more short readings, four short plays, and a number of cuttings. The cuttings were taken from such books as "Anne of Green Gables," "Jungle Book," "Romola," "Pollyanna."

The plays, which deserve particular mention, were as follows:

"The Ghost Story."

"The Dust of the Road."

"Enter, the Hero."

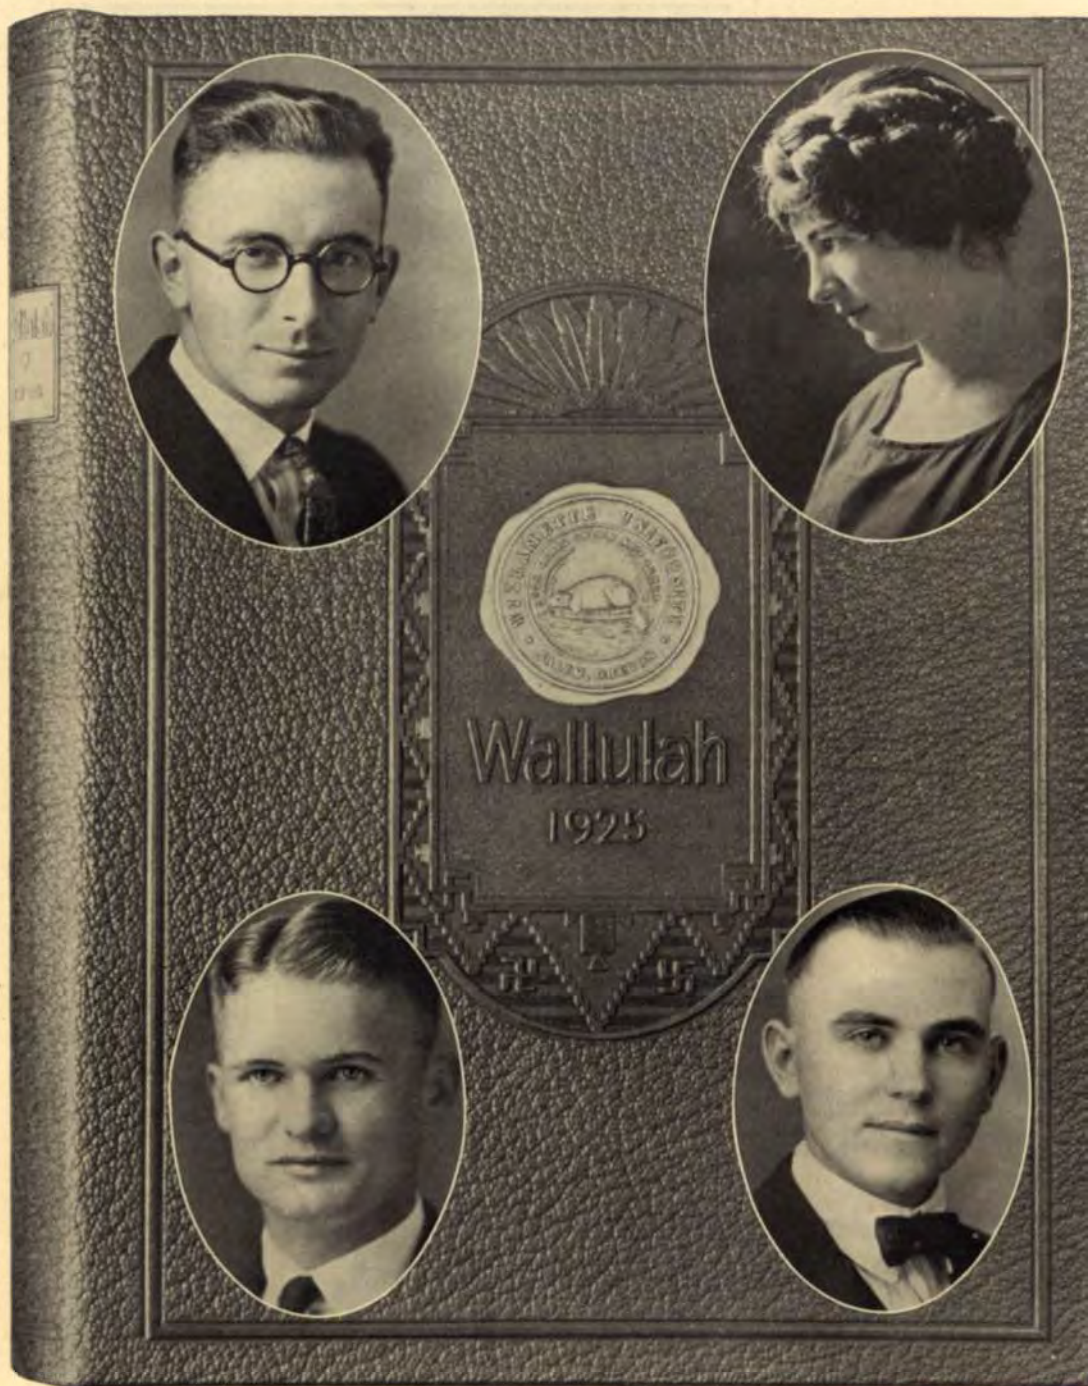

"An Open Secret."

"The Dust of the Road" was presented by the Advanced Dramatics Class and was especially interesting.

At the time this book goes to press, there are three more recitals to be rendered. The first of the three is to be given April twenty-ninth. On the thirteenth of May, two more plays will be presented: "The Consuming Flame," and "Mrs. McPherson's Dream." On May twentieth, the final appearance will be made when the Seniors present a Senior Recital.

WILLAMETTE COLLEGIAN

A college paper holds a unique, yet a significant place in the field of journalism,—to chronicle the news, to mould campus opinion, to bring latent literary talent into play—are a few of its objectives. In its standards it is strictly out of reach of Main Street. Its highest prerogative, perhaps, is quickening student intellect towards true and sound thinking. It is one thing to think along lines of individual interest, but it is quite another thing to study problems from a disinterested viewpoint and present them for general consideration. The Willamette Collegian 1924 has regarded these as its objectives.

DIFFERENCES

Why are we filled with gladness
 When a rainbow's in the sky,
 And feel a longing sadness
 As its arching colors die?

Is it because we faithfully prize
 The promise made of old—
 Or do we hope by chance to find
 The hidden pot of gold?

RUTH HEINECK

Sweetly as the years go by
Comes a thought forever new,
Fills us, thrills us with its meaning,
Loyalty to W. U.

CHORUS

A thrill in our hearts!
A song on our lips!
All voices attuned to thy praise.
Thy virtues have bound us
And hold us enthralled
In memory of our college days.

Never may thy glories die,
Fragrant memories 'round thee cling.
Mem'ries golden, joy o'erladen
Of our deep'ning love we sing.

MISSIONARY ACTIVITIES

A committee representative of all the religious organizations on the campus, and known as the Missionary Committee, directs the student missionary activities. It handles all publicity of a missionary nature, and directs a financial campaign, the proceeds of which go to the Student Friendship Fund this year. It also raised funds sufficient to enable Willamette to have a large representation at the Student Quadrennial Convention at Indianapolis during Christmas vacation.

This Convention, sponsored and directed by the Student Volunteers, was called to bring the Christian students of the world together, to get a perspective of world problems and to discuss plans for world betterment. Willamette was represented by ten students and a faculty member.

KIMBALL SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

Study the history of Kimball School of Theology. You will discover a record worthy of the early years of any school of the prophets. Visit our class-rooms today. Hear the inspiring class-room lectures and discussions. Follow the students to their charges and on Gospel Team work. You will discover both scholarly habits and sane, evangelistic spirit.

Look into the future with eyes of faith and hearts of courage and you will behold a great school for the training of Christian workers; sending forth, in the spirit and with the passion of the Master, preachers, missionaries, deaconesses, directors of religious education, church secretaries,—in fact, every type of Christian worker to meet the demands of the new age.

The Methodism of the Northwest believes in such a program. This is indicated by the ringing pronouncement of a special committee of twenty-five meeting at First Church, Portland, on November 2nd, and declaring with enthusiasm and vision that the program of Kimball must be maintained and enlarged at all costs.

KIMBALL STUDENT BODY

The needs of the hour demand such a program. Methodism's ministerial ranks have been depleted by six hundred thirteen ordained men in the past four years. The loss has been forty-three in the Portland area alone. A strong, dynamic school ringing out the challenge to our best youth will change materially this deplorable situation.

The new day demands not only more preachers, but better prepared preachers. A study of 14,000 Methodist preachers by our Life Service Commission reveals this startling situation. Only forty-five per cent of our preachers have completed a college course, and only twenty per cent have completed both seminary and college. Eighteen per cent have not completed high school, while seven per cent have eighth grade only or less.

In the face of this need there is only one thing for Kimball to do: move forward eagerly, courageously, and as rapidly as possible to a new and enlarging program. We can and we will.

The Late Prof. Williston

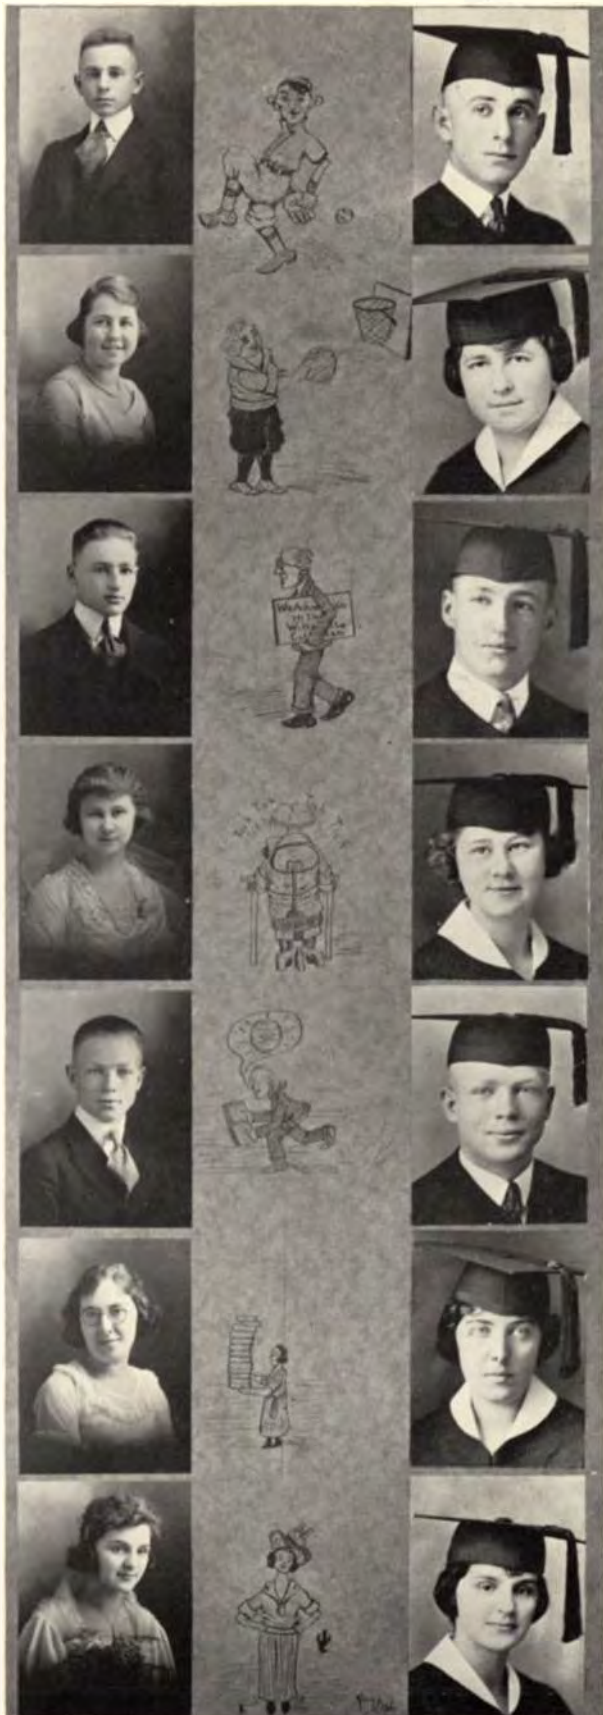

MILLER'S DEPARTMENT STORE
COURT STREET AT LIBERTY
SALEM, OREGON

OUR "TEN SUBJECTS"

1. To keep a little dissatisfied with the best we do in order to make it better.
2. To aim at still lower costs but to maintain quality at all costs.
3. To put service into actual practice instead of confining it to conversation.
4. To claim less than we perform and never to perform less than we claim.
5. To cultivate courtesy for its own sake and not as a species of business cunning.
6. To value a customer for his confidence and not by the amount of his purchase.
7. To sell customers what they come in to buy and not what we want to sell them.
8. To lose a sale, if necessary, in a spirit of sportsmanship and not with a disgruntled air.
9. To welcome both buyers and lookers and to treat both as a host treats his guest.
10. And finally, to remember every day the great debt we owe to the public and discharge that debt honorably and to the best of our abilities.

FORWARD MOVEMENTS

ORLO GILLET—Came to us a lanky back-woods-man, but is leaving school with a Master's degree in Managing Women, having majored in Fussing.

"SADIE" DAVIES—Petite daughter of a fisherman. Miss Davies, after her first year, changed her major from Deep-Sea Fishing to Fisher of Men. We congratulate her upon graduating with honors.

OURY HISEY—A model minister's son, that is, when he entered. He leaves our gates with a degree in Managing. The faculty heartily recommends him as an excellent manager of either Women or Newspapers.

"HOOLEY" HAGMAN—Our little "Hooley" receives a degree in Music this June. She majored in both Jazz on a typewriter and Singing on Rests.

HAROLD REGELE—After four years of intense study Harold is an able law-giver. He can lay down the law to a "specific individual" as well as to all class athletes.

ALICE WELLS—Being the daughter of a weatherman, she appears to be a barometer on a large scale. Alice has majored in Benny's Library Methods, and came very near making a major in Executing Glee Club trips.

ANNA LAVENDER—Coming from Pendleton, her fame as a Wild West rider preceded her, and gave her a place on the Varsity Polo team. With the fearless look in her eye Anna tames men and horses with ease.

WHO GETS THE PLUM?

Some four hundred copies of this edition are being placed in circulation—sold at an average price $3.90 each.

The Wallulah management also receives some $900.00 for advertising, $300.00 from various school organizations and about $1100.00 on the original sale of tickets. A grand total in all of approximately $3850.00 derived from the sale of this book. And that's a lot o' money, now isn't it?

When each individual student realizes that he is paying the enormous (?) sum of $6.65 for his favorite "Year Book" one is prone to wonder where all this money goes to, and just WHO is getting the plum.

There's another side to the problem, however—a side which perhaps was not properly presented or explained fully in your class in mathematics—the cost of production.

We boast the distinction of having made the photographic work for this Annual as well as that of many other previous editions, and in our very intimate association with the various Wallulah managements have been able to make some important discoveries relative to the costs and revenues of Willamette's Year Book which the managements would perhaps hesitate to disclose.

If You Think the Price Is High

We would respectfully remind you that no reputable firm, handling this project on a strictly commercial basis, could possibly produce this book for less than $15.00 to $20.00 per copy. We would remind you also that your Wallulah manager with his very able editorial staff have labored patiently and persistently for a whole year, without compensation of any kind, that YOU might have a suitable memento of your school's activities, not even scholastic credits being rendered for their untiring efforts. If this isn't sufficient to arouse your generosity towards the support and sale of this book permit us to call attention to a few items of actual expense which have been necessary, in order that you might be able to obtain your Wallulah.

Cost of engraving, $1550.00; printing, $1400.00; binding and covers, $450.00; photographic work, $450.00. Total, approximately, $3850.00.

Compare this with the amount received on this project and we believe that you'll agree with us that "someone" has devoted a lot of time, thought and energy in making this book possible. It is evident, too, that the student who purchases Wallulah, is the "ONE" who "gets the plum."

We take this opportunity of expressing our extreme gratitude to all our Willamette student friends for the very liberal patronage accorded us during the past year, assuring them all our very best service at all times and trusting that the time is not far distant when those who labor so hard to make this book a success may receive some equitable compensation for their very excellent services.

PASSING OF THE THIRD FLOOR BUCK

A Satire in One Act

SCENE—The Library.

CHARACTERS—Prof. Franklin, Students, a Cat, a Bust of Shakespeare.

PROPERTIES—Innumerable books, various pieces of notepaper, a covered basket.

(Curtain Rises)

PROF. F.—I don't want to have to remind you again that there must be absolute quiet here. If you want to visit, go outside. (He exits, left center. Dead silence for 10 seconds).

(The hum resumes. Louder in back right. Muffled laughter spreads through room).

THE CAT—"Me-e-a-o-u-w!"

PROF. F.—Mr. Hisey, may I see you in the office?

(He exits left center,—Mr. Hisey follows. Silence for 15 seconds).

PROF. F.—If any one knows what that odor is, will they please attempt to stop it? (He opens all other windows and doors). Mr. Bond, may I see you in the office?

PROF. F.—I've got a little surprise for you all here. Prof. Williston and I know where there's a big growth of grape vines, with no fence around them. So if each table will send a monitor we'll empty this basket.

(The hum becomes a buzz. Books are pushed aside, papers are spread, and a boy goes from each table, returning with a double handful of grapes).

PROF. F.—Library rules are off until the grapes are finished.

(A gasp of surprise rises from room, then perfect silence, broken only by the crunching of grape seeds).

Willamette University

College of Law

The College of Law was established, as a department of the University, in 1883. Its purpose is to provide a thorough legal education for students who are fitted by their maturity and previous academic training to pursue professional study under university methods of instruction. The curriculum covers three academic years and is calculated to afford an adequate preparation for the practice of law in any jurisdiction of the United States. Special attention is paid to problems of local law in the State of Oregon.

This school is fully accredited by the State and Federal authorities for the payment of benefits to those entitled to them under the returned soldiers, sailors and marines educational aid and vocational training acts.

The College of Law of Willamette University stands high in the estimation of the Supreme Court of Oregon as evidenced by the following extract from a letter written by the Supreme Court to the President of the University:

"In our examination of applicants to practice law in Oregon, we have always found the graduates of the Willamette Law School as fully and well prepared as the graduates from any of the law schools, including the leading colleges of the United States, and graduates of the Willamette Law School have repeatedly taken first honors in such examinations. We have also observed that many of the alumni of the Willamette Law School have taken high rank in the practice of their profession, and are among the prominent and useful citizens of the Pacific Northwest, thus reflecting credit not only on the law school, but on the Willamette University, which they regard as their alma mater."

The College of Law has several special advantages. It is located in the capital city where the Supreme Court is almost constantly in session. The Law Department has exceptional facilities in its nearness to the State Library which contains more than 40,000 volumes, to which the law students have free access.

The law classes are held in Eaton Hall which is centrally located upon the college campus, directly across from the State Capitol. Law students are members of the Student Body of the University and have the opportunity of engaging in the various student enterprises and activities.

A PROPOSED ENTRANCE EXAMINATION FOR FRESHMEN

(Answer any two)

Name a famous general buried in Grant's tomb.

How long is a piece of string?

Name three cities served (?) by the Spokane, Portland, and Seattle railroad?

What was the cause of the demise of the Dead Sea?

If the present ruler of England is King George the Fifth, who is the other four-fifths?

ROSS CHAPIN: "Why does ice always freeze slippery side up?"

COACH RATHBUN: "The three D's ruin more athletes than anything else,—dances, davenport, and damosells.

ROOK (trying out new razor): "The directions say 'shave down'."

SOPH: "That's all I see to shave."

DICK: "What do you suppose will happen if I kiss you?"

ZELLY: "I'll bite!"

Automobiles and wives are both expensive. Everyone knows that. I have a car and I have a wife. They both cost me a great deal for upkeep. But here is one great difference. Every year I trade off my old car, put something more with it and get a new one. But I can't do that in the case of my wife—I not only cannot trade and get a new wife every year, but I cannot trade at all.

I have to keep on paying the upkeep for the same old runabout!

BILL VINSON.

VIC: "Where'd you get the black eye?"

PAT: "Oh, I asked old man Palmer for his daughter's hand and he offered his instead."

PEGGY: "And so you accepted that Collegian mailing clerk?"

RUTH H.: "How could I help it! He addressed me rapidly, then enveloped me in his arms, stamped a kiss on my lips and sealed it all with a hug!"

We Love You, Old Willamette

Words by

MALCOLM MEDLER

Music by

MALCOLM MEDLER

The school that has our honor
And love and praises bold,
Is you, our dear Willamette,
Our Alma Mater old.
We honor your professors
So earnest and so true,
We love your dear old campus,
We'll always fight for you.

CHORUS

We love you, old Willamette,
So good and pure and true,
We'll honor your traditions,
And ever see you through.
There's something in your spirit
That leads us up and on,
Our school, our dear old college,
We'll sing your praises long.

May we ne'er disgrace thee
In action, word, or thought,
As on life's flaming bellows
Our worldly fates are wrought.
But be true sons and daughters
And hold thy standards high
And fire thy living spirit
'Till it shall never die.
