

50th Annual May Weekend Gets Underway Today

The 50th annual celebration of May Weekend is under the gracious rule of Queen Margaret Huson, who will be officially vested with royalty in coronation ceremonies today at 4:30 p.m. in front of the Fine Arts auditorium.

Forming at Waller Hall, the royal party will proceed to the grass covered terraces in front of the Fine Arts building. The procession will be flanked by heralds and the sophomore women's "daisy chain."

Queen Margaret, wearing a white formal, will be accompanied by her princesses and the attendants, all with escorts. The princesses are Lorraine Landrud and Marge Knockenhauer, who will wear light green formals. The attendants for the queen are Jeanne Holmes and Delpha Short. Miss Landrud's attendant is Joan Lawson and Miss Knockenhauer's attendant is Gay Kent.

Beginning at 5:30, foot-long hot dogs and all the trimmings will be served at the barbeque in the gymnasium. Master of ceremonies for the barbeque entertainment will be Dick Crooks, and the program will include a comedy speech by Mac

Baker and Roger Moorehead and a vocal rendition by George Koani. Del Cummings will play a piano solo and Jim Chittick and Nancy Groth will sing a duet.

Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate" will be performed by the Willamette University drama department beginning at 8:15 in the Fine Arts auditorium. Immediately after the musical, a reception for the queen will be held in Doney Hall.

Saturday's activities will begin with a new slant to the traditional May Weekend festivities. Willamette faculty members are planning a campus preview for prospective students, pointing out the college academic rather than the social aspect. Eleven different fields of interest will be discussed in informal seminar type meetings. Students and signs will direct the guests to the meetings.

"The future of the administration subsidizing May Weekend depends in part on the success of this program," emphasized Dan Dearborn, May Weekend manager.

The results of recent extensive practicing on the part of living organizations will be displayed in the

All-Campus sing to be held in the gym tomorrow morning from 10 to 12. Lewis Bright, will announce the ten groups, as they perform.

Alpha Chi Omega, led by Nancy Groth, will sing "Softly as in a Morning Sunrise," and "Alpha Chi Dream Song." Chi Omega will sing "Greensleeves" and "Lucky X," directed by Sandy McCabe. Delta Gamma will be led by Ann Barber in "Cindy" and "Blue Eyes." The independent women will sing "I Wish I Was" and "The Song Is Ended" under the direction of Judy Anderson. Pi Beta Phi will perform "Blue Skies" and "Follow the Arrow," led by Barbara Anderson.

Ron Kingsley will lead Beta Theta Pi in "Grandfather Clock" and "Vive la Va," and Bob Van Vactor will direct the independent men in "Lorena" and "Baxter Hall Fellowship Song." Led by Roy Maltby, Phi Delta Theta will do "This is My Country" and "Phi Delta Theta, We Love You." Duane Alvord will direct Sigma Alpha Epsilon in "I Love a Parade" and "My Fraternity." Sigma Chi will sing "A Great Day" and "Come Take a Cup," led by Page Bailey.

The winning men's and women's groups will be announced at the Queens Ball, which will be held in the gym beginning at nine.

The traditional Queen's breakfast in Lausanne Hall, in which all Willamette students and guests are invited to attend, will start at 9 a.m. instead of the previously announced 10:30 time.

Regular church services at the Salem First Methodist church will mark the conclusion of May Weekend.

Two Edit Annual

Editorial positions for the 1956-57 student body publications were filled by vote of the Publication's Board and approved by the Student Council this week.

Lewis Beatty, junior economics major from Portland, was named to the position of publications manager. Peggy Cope, junior journalism major from Palmer, Alaska, will edit the 1956-57 Collegian.

Sophomore Jean Martin, Yakima, Wash., and Margie Wood, junior from San Mateo, Calif., will act as co-editors of next year's annual, the Wallulah.

Freshman Willard Bunney, Everett, Wash., was picked to edit the Fusser's Guide next fall.

All applicants submitted petitions stating their aims and qualifications to the Publications Board which screened the petitions and sent its recommendations to the Student Council for final approval.

The student handbook, which is printed every other year, is not scheduled for printing again until the fall of 1957.

NO AFTERNOON CLASSES

All afternoon classes this afternoon have been cancelled in order to make way for May Weekend events and the arrival of high school guests on campus.

Classes will resume Monday morning as usual.

Activities Calendar

Monday — Josef Schnelker, organ recital, Methodist church, 8:15.

Tuesday—Convocation, Doney Oratorical Contest. Baseball, Lewis and Clark, there. Golf, Portland University at Salem, 1:30.

Wednesday — Instrumental Trio, Music Hall, 8:15. Baseball, Whitman at Salem, 3 p.m.

Thursday — Mock Convention. Golf, Lewis and Clark, there. Chapel, First Methodist Church

SENIORS PLAN EXCURSION

Seniors planning to go on the senior beach trip May 24, 25, 26, and 27 are requested to sign their name to the sign-up sheets in their respective living organizations, Eaton, the 'Cat Cavern and the library today.

Transportation will be provided those who indicate a need for such.

258 Delegates Expected Here At Mock Convo

Two hundred and fifty-eight delegates will invade the Willamette campus next Friday for the Democratic Mock Convention. And what's more, they have a mule as a mascot.

Wednesday evening the living organizations will meet for informal firesides in order to decorate the gym, make posters and tear confetti. The dance after the firesides will be held but the location of it will be announced at a later date.

Don Turner, from Lewis and Clark, was elected chairman of the Convention by the National Committee.

The schedule of events includes the Wednesday fireside, a parade on Thursday, and National Committee meetings on Friday at 7:30. On Friday at 8:30 the committee on foreign policy, domestic policy and state chairman will meet.

A Plenary business session at 10 a.m. Saturday will start the final day of the Convention. From 1 to 3 p.m. another Plenary session will be held and from 3 to 5:30 a Caucus for supporting candidates will be held. The banquet will be held from 5:30 to 7 at which time the nominating session will take the limelight along with the keynote speaker.

Willamette's delegates will represent Oregon, Washington, California and the U. S. territories, Oregon and Oregon State will each send 32 delegates, Portland State and Willamette, 27; Lewis and Clark, 20; Portland University, 19; Linfield, 18; Pacific, OCE and Reed, 17; SOCE and Marylhurst, 16.

Carr Captures Veep Position In Run-Offs

Newly elected student body officers shown in front of Eaton Hall previous to their installation Wednesday are Bud Mull, treasurer; Neil Causbie, president; Don Peterson, member-at-large; Wayne Carr, first vice president; Doug Houser, second vice president; and Flossy Hodge, secretary. (Cut courtesy Capital Journal.)

President of the Associated Students of Willamette University for the 1956-57 year will be Neil Causbie, who was elected Thursday and Friday when the largest percentage of students voted in the history of the university.

Don Peterson will be the member-at-large in the student council.

Doug Houser, Flossy Hodge, and Bud Mull were elected to second vice president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively, and Margaret Huson was chosen as May Queen for 1956.

In the sole run-off Monday and Tuesday, Wayne Carr was the winner in the race for first vice president.

According to Dale Greenlee, second vice president in charge of elections, the highest voting percentage in any previous year was 63%. This year 71% of the student body voted in the primaries and 63% voted in the run-off.

He expressed the fact that this year's record turnout was an indication of a commendable student concern about who will represent them.

Greenlee added that recognition should be given to the sophomore Bags and Sax, who manned the polls and to the lettermen who urged students to vote from the loudspeaker.

"Special thanks go to Jeanne Holmes, Paul Edwards, Jerry Brackens, Jim Hornberger, and Penny Lilles, who worked tirelessly on the elections committee," he said.

Willamette's Academic Aspects To Be Previewed Tomorrow

An intensified promotion on the part of the faculty to show prospective students the academic side of the campus will culminate tomorrow morning between 8:45 and 9:45 when high school guests are invited to participate in the "Academic Preview," Dean Robert Gregg announced this week.

Dean Gregg has acted as coordinator of the faculty in setting up the Saturday morning student-faculty meeting schedule. At these meetings high school students interested in particular major fields are urged to meet with professors in these fields.

At press time, 11 major divisions will be available to choose from. These divisions and the professors conducting the respective meetings include: music, Dean Melvin Geist; pre-med and pre-dental, Dr. Cecil Monk; pre-engineering, Dr. Chester Luther; art, Dr. Cameron Paulin; pre-law, Dr. Robert Gatke; English and journalism, Dr. Murco Ringnald; psychology and sociology, Dr. Charles Derthick; religion, Dr. Norman Huffman; education, Dr. George Martin; business and economics, Dr. Vojtech Andic; and chemistry, Dr. Charles Johnson.

Today's May Weekend... A Half-Century of Tradition

A coronation today, a queen's ball tomorrow—this is May Weekend, 1956—a half-century of traditional festivities.

Yes, growing even as Willamette University has grown, May Weekend continues in the spirit of that first May, way back when. True, the festivities per se have changed with time.

Take that first May 1906; that year both Grandpa and Grandma reigned over the campus kingdom. Not until 1909 was a single monarch crowned. Only recently has she added several hundred prospective students to her list of subjects.

And today Queen Marg will be crowned on the Fine Arts terraces. Yesterday, 1936, ceremonies were held among the Grecian pillars—until in 1945 these pillars were moved to the east side of the library, making room for Baxter Hall. The royal line has since been crowned everywhere from in the gym or on the lawn to in Waller Hall or at McCulloch Stadium.

EACH YEAR, TOO, has brought innovations to be continued and then forgotten in following Mays.

The May Pole dance, the outdoor waffle feed, the greased pole climb—these are the lost traditions.

But new traditions have also remained throughout the Mays: the weekend play, the barbecue, the track meet or baseball game. And this year a new feature has been added, Academic Preview.

Yes, changes come and go—even as Queens come and go. And fifty years is a long time. But May Weekend, the tradition, remains.

'Kate' Sparkles With Gaiety

From casual thugs to rollicking dancers, from tempestuous Kate to fiery Bianca, from sixteenth century Italy to modern backstage New York, this weekend's presentation of Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate" is the most vigorously versatile of the drama department's history.

Pompous Tom Larson in a dual role as director Fred and Petruchio, and spoiled Myra Friesen as Lillie and Kate, thunder and flash at each other during both their on and off stage scenes in this contemporary setting of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew." Myra stomps her small angry foot and vehemently denounces all men in a lovely lyrical way, while arrogant Tom sings his witty themes.

Beth Church and Ted Primrose live a hauntingly gay double life and slightly cheap, they sing and dance their love as they shift from lively Middle Ages to a grim century where taxicabs want money they never have. Ted's tender ballet to a rose is equalled off stage only by the shadowy and torrid "Too Damn Hot" scene. Love, diamonds, doweries, divorce and doctors are all mixed together in this modern bard's brew giving an enchanting portrayal of pretend lives lived by real people.

All action takes place against stunning backdrops, designed by Carl Hall. As light varies from jeweled ruby-toned Padua, with dabs of fluffy clouds and pastel walls, to glaring stark brick-modernity where huge pipes clamber up vivid grim walls, the contrast is effectively real.

Rhythm master, Maurice Brennan, directs a hidden orchestra in the brisk and sometimes tender tunes. (Can one ignore the maestro on the drums who pounds and thumps the music on?) Ted Primrose, assisted by Lois Wickersham, executed the entire variety of choreography which shifts from the rollicking Tarentella to a stately Pavane. Lively and enthusiastic, the chorus frolics through small scenes which add little to the plot but give vitality to the comedy.

Gaily colorful costumes, designed and sewed by the Willamette Mothers' Club and several faculty wives, lend harlequin authenticity to the mood. Many shades of tunics, puffed sleeves and a liberal amount of gaudy and huge diamonds float about in complete contrast with their off stage street garb. Potted Spice is added by George Nelson as the feeble Baptista, Jim Chittick as an amorous basso profundo, Sophie Goritson as a torchy darky, Tom Loree as a delightfully harmless gangster, and all are enhanced by a carefree chorus.

Director Robert Putnam's weeks of shouting orders and enthusiasm are well rewarded with this spritely comedy-farce, whose every detail can only be described as completely gay.

Uncle Tom's Crabbin'...By Tom Loree —Hoo Boy... Spring!

Thrice and then again for good measure (it was no use—it came out four feet off anyhow) upon a time, there was a young coed who, oddly enough, went to a college. This young and fair specimen of the softer sex had been tabbed with a nickname by some of her malicious but well-meaning buddies of the less soft sex. They had named her (for reasons known only to God and those who watch crowds from the second floor of Eaton) "Little Red Bobbing Snood."

THERE ARE those among the talky set who would be chagrined, nay, crushed, by such an appellation. But not our heroine, Little Red. She worked on the philosophy that any publicity was good publicity, and took the incident to mean only that she was being noticed. Which, after all (in case you're trying to read meanings into the name) is about what it meant.

One bright spring day, Little Red hopped into one of her bright, gay springy dresses (which seem to become standard issue at the first hint of sunshine) and trotted gaily off to visit her dear old grandma, who happened to be Red's philosophy prof. (Mind you, I am neither knocking springy dresses or Dr. Bennett. I happen to like the happy effect of springy dresses, along with the rest of the male population. They, along with nice weather and an increase in the waving of squirrels' tails, make life look much brighter.)

HIPPITY HOP, skip, jump, bump, grind, she made her way to her dear old granny's house. Her sweet little head was filled with visions of the quaint little ladies' home, with the blue-eyed still in one corner, its red ribbon freshly laundered. And the crocodile pit in the basement, for students who were very unhappy about the grade they got. Of course the crocodiles had black ribbons, which they laundered themselves.

Career Display

Since students are beginning to think of graduation and full-time employment the library staff has set up a display on careers. Whether interests lie in the fields of chemistry, education or home-making, there are books, pamphlets and articles on all. Assisting Mrs. Magdeline deTirefort with the display, which will run until May 14, was Barbara Mitchell.

Frankly, You're Welcome

When a person strives to be frank, sincere, and original at the same time it is often a real challenge. Such is the case with us now as we welcome you high school seniors to our campus to help us celebrate our 50th annual May Weekend. We are, frankly, grateful of the opportunity to play host to you and, sincerely, we hope that you will find our campus as rewarding as we do. We will have to admit, however, that after many years of welcoming high school guests, it is a little hard to make the welcome original.

We will do the best we know how. Our May Weekend manager has worked hard to provide you with an entertaining and educational program. His various committee chairmen have been working equally hard to see that the program runs smoothly.

Only one note of caution would we add. Don't think, under any circumstances, that this weekend is a typical one on the Willamette campus. Perhaps the professors you will meet tomorrow morning during the Academic Preview will add more to this statement.

But what a wonderful occasion it is to stack those books away for a weekend, push the book case back and entertain eager prospects! Get the idea? We really ARE glad to have an excuse to cut loose and have some fun. And that is just what we aim to do.

More frankly than original, then—welcome to Willamette.

Resolution Group Sets Open Meet

The Resolutions committee for the forthcoming Mock Convention is sponsoring an open meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Oregon History room of the library. All students interested in discussing foreign agreements and alliances, such as NATO and SEATO, are invited to attend.

The purpose of this meeting is to stimulate campus interest in this topic, as well as in the Democratic Mock Convention scheduled for May 11. The function of the Resolutions committee is to draw up a plank for the convention, and they are endeavoring to anticipate as nearly as possible the actual plank that will be drawn up in the real convention.

'Burning' Roles to Students, Alums

Willamette students and alumni were awarded eight of the 11 roles given out Wednesday for the Pentacle Theater's first play of the season, "The Lady's Not for Burning," announced Mrs. Margaret Ringnalda, director, to The Collegian.

Sheila Laue plays the female lead, the part of a woman accused of witchcraft, in Christopher Fry's comedy.

Other roles in the June 4 production went to Bill Smith, Dick Geer, Barbara Ruhle, Carl Ritchie, Al Laue, Dick Smith, and Bruce Fountain.

election, and Hitchcock, who opposes Douglas McKay for the Republican nomination for Senator in the May 18 primaries.

Morse "regretted" that he would not be able to attend the debate, but according to a three-page telegram to Dave Finlay, pending legislation makes it "imperative" that he remain in Washington, D. C., "and continue to do everything I can to obtain support of individual Senators for increase in the flood control appropriations for Oregon."

He went on to respectfully suggest that Hitchcock be given McKay's address or telephone number, "because McKay is the candidate Hitchcock should be debating during the Republican primary."

After the primary, he said, he would be "happy" to debate "specific legislative issues with the winner of the Republican primary. The campaign tactics of Hitchcock and McKay to avoid discussing each other's views on issues are very amusing."

Hitchcock telegraphed that he would be available to debate Wayne "Morris" on May 10 or any other time. "I have repeatedly challenged Mr. Morris (sic) to debate on this very subject and I would be most delighted to meet him on the platform."

Schnelker Will Give Recital

Prof. Josef Schnelker's organ recital Monday, May 7, will open Willamette's celebration of National Music Week.

The recital by Schnelker will be given on the Findley Memorial organ in the First Methodist Church on Monday evening, May 7, at 8:15. A group of six preludes by internationally recognized composer Ernest Bloch, who now lives at Agate Beach, Ore., will be included in the program.

Schnelker, professor of organ and theory at Willamette University, is an outstanding organist and teacher. He is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory and the University of Michigan School of Music and studied organ with Palmer Christian, Carl Weinrich, and Hugh Porter. He has given recitals in the mid-west and east, including New York City, as well as in Washington, California, and Oregon. He appeared in a weekly broadcast over station WJR, Detroit, Michigan. Besides his duties at Willamette, Prof. Schnelker is organist at the First Methodist Church. He is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, honorary music fraternity.

His program will include:
Toccata and Fugue in F _____ Bach
Chorale-prelude: "My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord" _____ Bach
Gavotte (Twelfth Organ Sonata) _____ Martini
Prelude, Fugue and Variation _____ Franck
Six Preludes _____ Bloch

Chamber Concert By Faculty Trio

The faculty instrumental trio, with Dr. Willis Gates, violinist, C. Allen Gove, cellist, and Ralph Dobbs, pianist, will appear in concert Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. in the Fine Arts auditorium.

Each a soloist in his own field, the members are recognized as authorities in the field of chamber music as well. While taking graduate work at the University of North Carolina, Dr. Gates was first violinist of the faculty string quartet, which toured extensively. Gove studied chamber music with the Griller and Walden quartets and was principal cellist with the Seventh Army chamber music ensemble. While with the Community Concert Association, Dobbs appeared throughout the country in solo and ensemble recitals.

This trio, recognized for the excellence of its performances, has given concerts this year in Roseburg, Salem, and Lakeview, Oregon, and will appear in Portland on May 20.

Both of these recitals are open to the public without charge.

Numbers included in the trio program will be:
Concerto in E Major _____ Telemann
Trio in E Major _____ Mozart
Trio in E flat Major, Opus 100 _____ Schubert

Bearcats Open Busy Weekend With Four Tilts

Bearcats Open Busy Weekend With Four Games in Five Days

Willamette has a busy week of baseball coming up with four games scheduled in five days.

On May 3 the Bearcats travel to Forest Grove to square off with the Pacific Badgers in the last game of the season against them. The next day the Cats return to McCulloch Stadium to meet College of Idaho in another season finale for the two teams.

On May 7 the Jasons travel to Portland's Palatine Hill to meet the Lewis and Clark Pioneers in the first of a three-game series. Willamette closes out its weekend with the Whitman Missionaries in a home game on May 8.

The Bearcats split two games with the Badgers who feature a host of heavy hitters in their lineup. Pacific currently holds the NWC lead with Linfield.

Coach Kay Frizzell will probably go with Ron Barndese on the firing line and count on the heavy bats of Bill Braun and Bill Thorpe. Against the Bearcats Gehrts clouded a four sacker with the bases loaded.

Either Ron Stempel or Dick Stephens, a left handed nifty, will probably pitch the inaugural between Willamette and L-C. Last time out Stempel stopped the loop leading Badgers with a six-hitter.

Big Bill Stempel will be catching the slants of either Stephens or his brother Ron. Bill also wields a mighty bat at the plate for Hal Smith's Pioneers. Two other offensive minded Pioneers are Pete Ward and Ray Meyer.

Willamette's third game against the Whitman Missionaries will see the Bearcats seeking revenge over the two earlier defeats at the hands of the Whits last week.

One of coach John Lewis's main problems this year has been the defensive strength of the Bearcats. Pitching is not up to the same level it was last year when the Bearcats took the NWC pennant.

Last year's freshman sensation, Brad Lucas, has been plagued by sickness this year and has put a crimp in the whole Bearcat pitching staff. Jac Fowler, Gino Pieretti and Danny Feller have been carrying the major load of the pitching staff.

Lewis will probably start either Fowler or Lucas in the opening game with Pacific and go with Pieretti or Fowler in the College of Idaho contest.

On the hitting end the Bearcats have Vic Backlund who is currently leading the hitting parade and young Frank Caruso, a slugging third baseman from Olympia, Wash. A pleasant surprise this week has been the showing of outfielder Tom Moore. Moore is an ex-all-city ballplayer from Portland and was a consistent hitter in the Whitman-College of Idaho series.

WU Divotmen Lose 15½-2½ To Portland U

It was too much power and experience for the Willamette University Bearcats golf squad as they took a 15½-2½ shellacking at the hands of the Portland University Pilots last Monday afternoon at the Salem golf course. Leading the Pilot victory was Bruce Cudd, who was a member of last year's U.S. Walker cup team that traveled to England and defeated the British squad.

Dave Kvale was the only Bearcat to make any semblance of a victory in the match play as he tied with Portland's Larry Lamberger, 1½-1½. The other point was added by Dick Moore as he was nipped by basketballer Vince Altenhofen.

Scores were as follows: Bruce Cudd over Tom Loree 3-0, Vince Altenhofen over Dick Moore 2-1, Larry Lamberger tied Dave Kvale 1½-1½, Roger Selicky over Jim Gilliland 3-0, Mel Peterson over Bob Withers 3-0, and Mike Simmons over Bob Miller 3-0.

SPORTS SLANTS

By
WES McMULLEN

IT'S BEEN A LONG TIME since a column appeared on the sports page of The Collegian. It's been an equally long time since the sports page had room enough for a column; no offense meant to the editor who is now throwing glances of the dirtiest kind our way.

Since the sports page was caught with its journalistic standards completely down it appears as though we are prepared to say little of nothing in this session of Sports Slants. The eight page paper is such a rare sight that the sports staff has been visibly shaken by such a picture that is presented by two pages crying to be filled with type.

FOR THOSE of you who are addicted to the finny habits of the creatures of the deep it may interest you to know that we went in search of various members of the Salminoid family early Tuesday morning.

AS IS CUSTOMARY we arose early in the morning, throwing our fishing gear in the back of the car and departed for one of the local streams. It took so long to finally select the watery artery that looked as though it held the best prospects that the sun had hit the water which should mean something to those of you more avid anglers.

In any event, the sun was out, the birds were singing and the fish had stopped biting. This is usually the case with most of us who go after that mystic fish known as the trout. The rosy pictures of the limit catch and the giant "tackle-buster" live 90 per cent of the time in the land of the dream.

AS TRITE as it may sound, there is more to fishing than catching the fish. I don't think anyone who goes out consistently, weekend after weekend, and comes back with an empty creel can really put his finger on the reason he keeps on fishing.

Yours truly has been fishing since the age of six and has yet to catch a big trout or reach the limit of fish that the law says one may possess. Yet, we found ourselves eagerly awaiting and planning the next trip, ready to try the very next stream, after what could be written off as a thoroughly fruitless venture as far as the material end of it was concerned.

IN MOST OF OUR experience with fishing the things we remember about it are the wet feet, icy cold water, slippery rocks, tangled lines, sunburn and mosquito bites. Yet, on the rare occasions when one does "latch-on" to the elusive trout, there is something in the experience that makes him want to come back for more.

This all really doesn't add up to much except that no longer can one take up the rod in search of the trophy or for a means of procuring meat for the table. Those who are fortunate enough to have fishing as a profession are the ones who get the trophies and the meat for the table. Those of us who go out for the opening day celebration and the occasional weekend have to look for something more in trout than trophies or meat.

Trackmen Set To Join Whits In Dual Meet

Saturday afternoon the Willamette track and field team takes on the Whitman Missionaries in a dual meet at McCulloch Stadium.

The always strong Whits should pose a real threat to the charges of coach Ted Ogdahl and his thin-clads who are grooming for the conference meet May 19.

Added power for the Whitman meet will be the return of Dean Benson who went to the much-heralded Drake Relays last week.

Along with Benson in the running events will be little Windy Sequiera and freshman Jim Anderson in the dashes. Paul Schaeffer has also been showing well in the 220 and the low hurdles.

In the distances Ogdahl will be counting on Don Miller, veteran harrier, and Dale Hartman, who holds the school record in the 880, to gather most of the points. Dave Mix will also share the load with Miller and Hartman in the two-mile.

In the field events Ogdahl has a whole host of thin-clads to rely on. Gary Schmale, Gary Raid and Jim Person all are possible point getters in the shot put. Schmale has currently been heaving the iron ball around the 45-foot mark. Person is also a discus man.

The discus should also be a strong point for the Bearcats with school record holder, Dale Greenlee, heaving the platter. Helping him out will be Dick Hazlett along with Person.

In the rest of the field events Willamette will have Gordy Domogalla and Lowell Nichols in the broad jump, veteran Larry Thompson and freshman Dick Whitmire in the high jump, and Thompson, Volney Sigmund and Claris Poppert in the pole vault.

Beavers Drub Cat Netters

The strong Oregon State Beaver tennis squad proved too much for the Willamette University netters, as they downed the Jasons by a 7-0 score here last Monday afternoon. Although the Cats did not pick up a single point, they did give the Beavers a rough afternoon as they extended OSC players on several occasions.

Performances by the drill team and the band of the Willamette ROTC detachment will take place at the Armed Forces Day celebration at the Salem Armory, May 15.

General James Dean, famed officer who was made captive for two years during the Korean conflict, will speak to the various active and reserve branches of the armed forces of this area.

The band will play at the luncheon concert at the armory from 1 to 2 p.m. and the drill team will perform on the capitol mall later in the afternoon, when dignitaries will visit the capitol.

Benson Scores Another Win; Hopes for This Year's Olympics

Dean Benson added another athletic feat to his long list of achievements when he took second in the high hurdles at the Drake Relays last Saturday.

The relay meet was held at Des Moines, Iowa, and featured some of the top track stars in the nation. Benson was the only man from Willamette to go to the meet.

Benson finished behind Joe Savoldi of Michigan State, who won the event with a :14.2. Benson's time was only one-half second behind that of Savoldi, a :14.25. He, Benson, was slowed up somewhat when he crashed into the seventh hurdle on the 120-yard course.

This race gave Benson some idea of the competition he may expect in the Olympic games he hopes to enter this fall. Officials said they thought the times would have been much faster if it had not been for the soggy condition of the track.

Others who placed in the high hurdle event were: Ron Pruitt (Houston), and Ken Toye (Northwestern) in a tie for fourth place. Fifth place went to Charles Batch (Missouri) and sixth went to Les Stevens (Iowa).

Thinclads Lose Meet to Pacific

After a good showing against Portland State and Clark Junior College, Willamette's track team dropped a dual meet to Pacific last Friday.

The Badgers rolled up 75 points to the Bearcats 56 in the two-way affair. The Pacific squad picked up 10 first places to five for the Willamette harriers.

The big point-getter for the Bearcats was Don Miller who ran the mile and then the 880 in place of Dale Hartman who had pulled a muscle in his leg. Miller picked up firsts in both of these events.

In the running events, Windy Sequeira took a second behind the swift Bob Gaytas in the 100 and Jim Anderson nabbed a third in the same event. Right behind Miller in the mile was the injured Hartman who also turned in a 10:48 in winning the two-mile.

In the field events Gary Schmalte took first in the shot put with a heave of 44 feet and Dale Greenlee was the initial man in the discus with a toss of 133 feet.

Feller Pitches 8-4, 22-1 Wins Over Coyotes

Dan Feller pitched the Willamette Bearcats to their second Northwest Conference win, as they downed the College of Idaho Coyotes 8-4 in the first game of a double header.

The second game was a free-for-all for the win-hungry Bearcats, as they produced 19 hits to score 22 runs to the Coyotes lone run in the night cap of the doubleheader.

The Jasons had to play to the last frame in the first game in order to put the game away for their second league win. They scored a run in the second inning, while the Coyotes scored two in the third frame.

In the seventh frame the Cats scored four big runs on a single by Dan Feller and Gary Burd's double along with five walks issued by Coyote pitching.

In the second game, the Bearcats and Coyotes started off slow with the Jasons picking up two runs in the second inning. Then the Bearcats put on their hitting hats and in two frames pushed across 16 runs.

In the last inning, the Bearcats added four more runs for good measure off a third Coyote hurler.

NW Clubs Split Double Bills

Monday afternoon was full of baseball action in the Northwest conferences as all six members played double headers.

Both Linfield and Pacific, league leading clubs at the moment, divided twin bills with Whitman and Lewis and Clark respectively.

Pacific shelled the Pioneers in the first game but L-C came back to duplicate the Badgers feat in the finals. Scores of the two games were 15-4 and 13-5.

Linfield had a fairly easy time of it in the first game of their two game affair with Whitman. The Wildcats breezed past the Missionaries 8-14 in the opener, but the Whits recovered to squeeze out a 4-3 thriller in the nightcap.

In the L-C, Pacific series, the Pioneers were on top going into the eighth frame. The Badgers, however, weren't impressed by the Pallatine hill boys' lead and scored 13 runs in the last two innings to sew-up the game.

The exact opposite was true in the second game. The Badgers jumped off to an early lead and looked as though they had won the game, when the Pioneers exploded. In the bottom of the fifth with Pacific leading 5-3, the Pioneers scored 10 runs.

Linfield and Whitman, like the Lewis and Clark and Pacific series, found both teams coming from behind to get their wins.

Voters Pick Up Cards

The Student Body office was busy during election week issuing ASWU cards to those students who had not picked up their cards previously. Approximately eighty students picked up their cards during the past election period.

Cat Baseballers Drop Twin Bill; Missionaries Win Pair 10-5, 9-3

The Willamette University Bearcats continued their losing stretch last weekend, as they suffered a doubleheader Northwest conference loss at the hands of the Whitman Missionaries, bowing 10-5 in the first game and 9-8 in the second clash.

Both games were late inning rallies for the Walla Walla squad with the Bearcats close to making a win in the second game that went into one extra inning of play.

Whitman scored first in the opening frame in game number one, and added two more runs in the third on Tom Deebach's double and Max Johnson's single. Three more runs came in the fifth frame without a single hit, and then the Missionaries added four more to sew up the ball game.

The Bearcats scored four runs in the fifth inning of the opening game with Tom Moore's hit being the only bingle and then the Jasons added another in the sixth frame on singles by Pete Reed and Gino Pieretti.

Pieretti was the losing pitcher, giving up five hits and five bases on balls. Sophomore Dick Mobley was the winning pitcher for the Missionaries.

Jac Fowler, starting pitcher for the Bearcats in the second game of the doubleheader, was wild and lasted only two-thirds of an inning as the Whits scored five runs.

Both Pete Reed and Dale Patton doubled for one run in the second inning and later in the third frame contributed to a big four-run inning. Frank Caruso led off with a double, then Jerry McCallister and Reed beat out singles and Patton hit a long triple to cap the inning.

A run in the sixth and another in the seventh put the Bearcats ahead 7-5, but the Missionaries scored two runs in the seventh to tie up the game.

In the extra frame, the Jasons scored one run when Caruso hit a triple to score Ed Lipscomb who had singled. With two out in the last of the eighth, Dean Lodmell singled off relief pitcher Brad Lucas to bring in the tying and winning runs.

Fran Batchelder Is Coed of Month

Fran Batchelder was selected as Coed of the Month Monday noon by the AWS cabinet for her leadership qualities and for services rendered to Willamette during her four years here.

President of Young Republicans, Mrs. Batchelder is a member of Cap and Gown and senior scholar in English. She has also served as president of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary, past treasurer of Alpha Lambda Delta and past treasurer of her social sorority, Chi Omega.

A gold cup will be presented to this month's coed in convocation Tuesday.

The Social Scoop

By FLOSSY HODGE

Bob Withers was named president of Phi Delta Theta in elections held Monday evening. Paul Edwards will assist him as reporter, and other officers include Bill Neel, secretary; Dave Poff, warden; Ken Renshaw, treasurer; Ron Taylor, assistant treasurer; Duane Baird, alumni secretary; Herb Talabere, librarian; Mac Baker, chorister; Dean Bishoprick, historian; Gary Adams, chaplain; Del Cummings, Student Council representative; Bob Withers, convention delegate; and Paul Edwards, alternate delegate.

Cigars on the mantle were clues to forward members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon on the engagement of Dodie Gates and Ross Kines.

Miss Gates is a senior education member at Oregon State College and a member of Delta Gamma. Her home is in Forest Grove.

Kines is also from Forest Grove and is a senior pre-med major at Willamette. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Mu Epsilon Delta, and is a former Sigma Alpha Chi.

A summer wedding is planned.

In the recent run-off elections Mark O. Hatfield and John Rademaker were both suggested for 1st Vice President while Dean Ewalt and Mrs. Topping were write-ins for May Queen!

An adventurous personality and a desire to serve are two of the qualifications a coed needs when offering to be sold at the AWS Auction May 15. Jerry Brackins, chairman of the event, asks that those interested sign up on the sheets in the living organizations or contact her at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon announces the addition of two new pledges, Tom Lovell, Salem, and George Gray, Ashland.

Everyone is invited to the Queen's Breakfast, according to general chairman Mary Lou Leiser. Warm grapefruit, sweet rolls and coffee will be served from 9 o'clock to 10:30 Sunday morning in the Lausanne Lounge. Tickets are 35 cents apiece and will be sold at the breakfast, which is sponsored by the YWCA.

Mary Lou was the recipient of a rather unique serenade on the occasion of her 20th birthday last Sunday. Five SAE's, led by George Nelson, presented Mary Lou with five tulips and sang with gusto such favorites as "Mona Lieser."

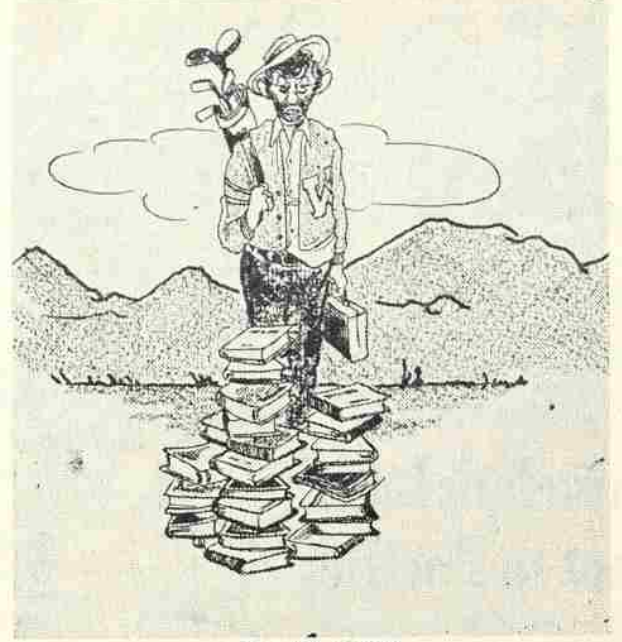

Cap and Gown's annual party for junior women will be held Tuesday, May 8, from 7 to 9 o'clock p.m. at the home of Dr. Springer. Those junior women over a 3.0 accumulative grade point average will be invited to attend the party where Dean Ewalt will discuss with the group the function of Cap and Gown and its relationship with Mortarboard, senior women's national service honorary.

Dr. Springer and Dr. Curry will provide the refreshments for the occasion, while members of Cap and Gown will furnish transportation for those who need it.

The present members of this senior women's honorary will vote for next year's group immediately after the party. The number is determined by the number of women in the class; fifteen per cent, or eight to ten women, are the usual number. The new members will be announced at Awards Assembly May 22.

Beta Alpha Gamma, the sophomore women's service honorary, will also hold their rushing party on Tuesday, May 8, from 6:30 until 7:30 in the Lausanne Lounge. The purpose of the meeting, according to Diane Wickstrom, rush chairman, is to explain the qualifications for BAGs, and the duties and responsibilities of the members, and also to get acquainted with the eligible women.

The present BAGs will choose ten freshmen women who will be tapped during Awards Assembly. Three more members will be selected in the fall by the new group.

Yep-'tis spring!

Queen's Ball Honors Margaret, Princesses Lorraine, Margie

In honor of Her Majesty Queen Margaret and Princesses Margie and Lorraine, their subjects will attend the Queen's Ball tomorrow evening from 9 until 12 o'clock. One o'clocks have been granted for the occasion.

Gary Schmalte, general chairman, said that Bill De Sousa and his band will play for the formal affair. Queen Margaret and her court and their escorts will make their grand entrance at 9:45, proceeding to the bandstand where presentation of trophies to the winning song groups will take place.

QUEEN MARGARET will wear a gown of white, Princess Lorraine will wear one of yellow, and Princess Margie will wear raspberry. The Queen's escort is Ken Brown and Princess Margie will be escorted by Bob Kiekel. Princess Lorraine's escort is Dale Greenlee.

In keeping with the golden anniversary theme, a color scheme of yellow and green will be employed. Muriel Miettunen is in charge of decorations which include the lowered ceiling and yellow flowers. Programs will be a green crown on a golden background with "50" engraved on a scepter. Sandi Harris is program chairman and Janet Roscoe has composed a poem dedicated to the royal court.

Gayle York and her refreshments committee will serve during the evening. Carlyle Johnson is in charge of the clean-up committee. Marge Wilson sent invitations to the chaperones and honored guests who are: President and Mrs. C. Herbert Smith, Dean and Mrs. Robert D. Gregg, Dean and Mrs. Melvin H. Geist, Dean Mark Hatfield, Dean Regina Ewalt, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Paeth.

CHAPERONES are Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Purvine, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Beal, Dr. and Mrs. V. E. Andic, Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Lovell, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Trueblood, Professor and Mrs. Stanley Butler, and Professor and Mrs. Howard Mader.

Jo Terhark Most Outstanding Senior in Sorority's Province

Joanne Terhark, senior psychology major, was announced as winner of the Province Amy Burnham Onkem award of Pi Beta Phi, at that sorority's Founder's Day banquet in Portland Monday evening. The nominees include outstanding seniors from every chapter in the province which is composed of four states.

Past president of Pi Beta Phi, Miss Terhark has a 3.760 accumulative grade point average and has held Willamette Honor, Standard Oil of California, and Charles E. McCulloch scholarships. She is senior scholar for Dr. Martin.

OTHER ACTIVITIES include membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, Cap and Gown, Psi Chi, and Future Teachers of America. She was a former member of the Rally Squad and a Little Captain for the Military Ball.

She was a former president of Beta Alpha Gamma, sophomore women's service honorary, treasurer of Kappa Delta Pi, and chairman of the Big-Little Sister committee for the YWCA.

Miss Terhark will now contest with the winners from the twelve other Pi Beta Phi Provinces for the national award. This selection will be announced at the sorority's convention in Pasadena in June.

Allan Green

For all of us, something to cheer about

ASSISTANT cheer leader Allan Green is a sophomore in the College of Letters, Arts, and Sciences of the University of Southern California.

He's also, through foresight, one of the youngest of the 46,175 people who hold shares in Union Oil, the 40th largest industrial company in the country. And his 55 shares entitle him to a report on our 65th year of business.

In 1955 our customers paid us the record amount of $368,760,900.

$59,286,200 of this amount, or 16.1%, was paid our 8,839 employees as wages and for benefits to protect them and their families.

Taxes took 3.6%. This does not include the $65,875,000 we also collected from customers as fuel taxes for governmental agencies.

We spent 72% with more than fifteen thousand other companies and individuals with whom we do business.

This left 8.3% of the $368,760,900 as net profit. Slightly more than half of these earnings were paid in cash dividends to Allan Green and our other 46,174 share owners, who also received one additional share of stock for each ten held.

The balance of net earnings, equal to 3.9% of the customers' dollars, we reinvested in the business for necessary expansion and modernization of facilities.

Whether or not you own stock in this or any other company, it seems to us that this report is of vital concern to you.

For so long as companies like Union Oil have the incentive to compete and make a profit, Allan Green and others like him will have the incentive to hold shares in that company.

This is the best possible economic climate for continuing prosperity. Which is, for all of us, something to cheer about.

YMCA, YWCA Offer Jobs

Opportunities to work in a variety of YMCA and YWCA summer projects are open to college students who are interested in learning through seminars and job experiences while also earning their expenses.

The projects include leadership schools at New York and Berkeley, California, plus another leadership seminar at Martha's Vineyard. For those interested in social work, there will be community service projects in Chicago and New York slum areas, while Christian Associations will be studied at Estes Park in Colorado.

Opportunities will also be found for students in government and industry. International seminars are planned in conjunction with European study tours and the U.N. will be studied in New York, while one holds a job in Washington, D.C.

Publication Staff Positions Open

Positions are now open on The Collegian and the Wallulah staffs for the coming year.

Students interested in working on either publication are urged to notify Peggy Cope for newspaper positions, or Margie Wood and Jean Martin for yearbook work. Names may also be turned in to the Collegian and Wallulah offices.

Positions open on The Collegian include news editor, feature editor, copy editor, sports editor, society editor, and campus editor.

On the Wallulah staff are places for assistant editor, copy editor, art editor, layout editor, sports editor, index editor, and clubs and honoraries editor. Completing the yearbook staff will be a business manager and copy writers.

Previous experience is not necessary on either publication.

band that played in the Oregon capitol for Dean Mark Hatfield as he filed for the state legislature two years ago.

"At Willamette University in Salem, Oregon," the article says, "Mark Hatfield, 30-year-old dean of students, prepared to run for state legislature. Students learned of his intentions and assembled an oom-pah-pah German band in the rotunda of the Oregon capitol. As the good looking curly haired young dean strode in to file as a Republican, the marble halls quivered to the strains of Battle Hymn of the Republic. The concert upset the entire capitol routine for ten minutes, much to the dean's embarrassment."

"There goes my election, Hatfield ruefully told a friend."

The article then goes on to say that Hatfield's prediction was wrong and the band did some good because he polled more votes in the district than any previous candidate and even more than President Eisenhower.

Andrew Hamilton wrote the article which also includes the escapades of students of other colleges.

Nichol to Study In Wisconsin

Dr. J. Charles Nichol, associate professor of chemistry, will travel to Madison, Wisconsin, this summer to work on a Project Associate in Chemistry at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Nichol will continue his post-doctoral work with Dr. R. A. Alberty, professor of physical chemistry at the University of Wisconsin. They will study the behavior of amino acid solutions in an electric field. Amino acids are the building blocks of proteins. They will study a simple system, in order to gain understanding of a complicated one.

Dave Finley, Chas. Anderson Win Danforth Fellowships

Dave Finley and Charles Anderson received word this week that they have been granted $2400 graduate fellowships from the Danforth Foundation to any college of their choice in the United States.

Finley, a senior political science major from Silverton, and Anderson, a philosophy major from Marquam, were notified by telegram. The scholarships are for four years plus one year at a seminary if desired.

Finley currently holds the position of Student Body President, is a member of Beta Theta Pi, Theta Alpha Pi, Pi Gamma Mu and Omicron Delta Kappa. He will take his
