FIRST VICTORY.

Field Dedicated in a Proper Manner.

To the war cry of "Charge! Charge! Put the hooks into 'em!" Old Willamette's brave eleven pushed back the McMinnville boys last Saturday and rolled up a score of 27 to 0.

The victory was an easy one. When the two teams came onto the field the grand-stand and side-lines were fairly well filled, and for half an hour Dad's rooters had been making themselves heard. Especially noticeable were our boys in their padded cardinal jerseys and old gold pants.

The game started with Willamette's kick-off. McMinnville received the ball, but promptly lost it on downs and Pollard carried it over the line in less than five minutes. Miller kicked the goal and we were 6 to 0. A few minutes later and the performance was repeated, only Long was the man to touch down the ball, and before time was called James had taken his turn at the good work. In the second half most of the scrub team was run in and the elevens were more evenly matched. Long made another touch down, and Judd made the most spectacular play of the game, picking up the ball on a fumble and carrying it down for five points.

The game was slow all thro', caused by unfamiliarity with signals on the part of the Baptists and the heat. The best of spirit was shown by the boys of each team, in playing clean ball, and no one was hurt.

Long was the star of the game although Judd, Pollard, Miller, James and others all played well.

Considering the fact that the two teams played a tie game last year, and that this was Willamette's first game, having had only two week's practice, the showing was very good and is highly complimentary to Coach Dietz.

Not too much credit should be taken to themselves by the cardinal and gold team, however, for they were much heavier than the visiting boys. It yet remains to be seen what we can do with men of our weight. Next Saturday's game with Monmouth may prove a test, and the Eugene game is only two week's off. The following is the line-up for last Saturday:

Prof. Ruby Phelps, who has been engaged as Physical Director for the young ladies in the University is a graduate of the Cumnoek School of Oratory and Physical Training, her home being in San Jose, Calif. The first years of her college course were spent in the University of Pacific. From there she went to Northwestern where she spent two years. In addition to the regular course in the Cumnoek school she took a special course in physical training. Since graduation she has taught Physical Culture one year, in connection with the San Jose High School and traveled for several months with the Juanita Concert Company of Chicago, as reader.

Z. J. Riggs, an ex-Willamette student of '94-'96, is conducting a drug business, known as the Capital Drug Store, 122 State st., corner Liberty. Best of attention given all customers, and the students of Willamette will do well to patronize him as he is perfectly competent and reliable.

FOOTBALL RALLY.

An Inovation at Willamette Friday Evening.

On last Friday evening at about 7:30 a fire was kindled on the new athletic field, immediately in front of the big grand-stand. Soon students began to gather in from all directions. More wood was piled on, the flames leaped higher toward the stars and more students gathinterrupted by applause, which plainly showed that he was in complete sympathy with his audience. "Ted" was then given permission to lead in some yelling—and they yelled. The roof was well put on, however, and withstood the shock nobly. Meanwhile Prof. Hawley had offered a box of the "Spa's Best" as a prize for the best story.

Profs. Drew and McCall were each given a chance for the candy, but although neither succeeded in carrying off the sweets "Der Leetle Deutch Prof." gave us a new yell in honor of the coach which was a dandy.

Coach Dietz himself was next called upon and responded nobly with a speech and a story which carried off the bon-bons. After this, speeches, stories, songs and yells followed each other in rapid succession. Among those who spied being Profs. Tutill and Matthews, Capt. Pollard, Manager Skidmore J. O. Van Winkle and others. At about this stage in the proceedings the Philodorian society adjourned and their members, together with about fifty lady visitors came marching across the field, nearly one hundred abreast, singing "the guard and tackle made a hole, good-bye, my lover, good-bye." The crowd in the grandstand replied with, "charge, charge, put the hooks into 'em." The coming of these reinforcements was a signal for another general outburst of enthusiasm. The old yells and songs had to be given over and a new song introduced by Quarterback Miller was given with a vim. It was as follows:

Ain't it a shame, a measley shame,
To leave McMinnville out in the rain;
Roll up the score, we want some more
To make McMinnville—go way back and sit down.

Following this we had some more speeches, Tackle Judd, from the medical department, being among the number who elicited especial applause.

Chairman Hawley announced as the concluding number of ered round. By this time the field was well lighted up and the grandstand well filled. Dean Hawley then mounted the stump and the "big thing" was on in dead earnest. The speech which followed would have aroused enthusiasm in a frog. Time after time the speaker was

EDITORIAL

If all of McMinnville's students are as patriotic as the ten or twelve girls who accompanied the team to this city we prophesy that the score will not always be 27 to 0 against her. When things looked the darkest for the Baptists there still could be heard the ringing Me! Me! Me! from their corner of the grand stand. That is the spirit which will some day pluck victory out of defeat.

Willamette's football season has opened up very propitiously and bids fair to be the most successful one enjoyed for many years. But there is one important particular in which it could be greatly improved, and that is in the way of increased attendance at the games. If we are to have no larger crowds than the one which witnessed last Saturday's game, the football management will go in the hole to the tune of a few hundred dollars, which must never be. Every student should not only be present at every game, but he should also be a living advertisement. Tell all your friends about it and then bring your wife and mother-in-law to see how it is done.

Once more we are glad to be able to record the reorganization of the band. A competent instructor has been engaged, new instruments have been ordered, practice has commenced, and everything points toward a very successful year. This is one of the organizations which has taken on a new lease of life in the last two years. It is also one which calls up pleasant recollections in the minds of those who knew Willamette in the years that have passed. A number of years ago Willamette had a strong and prosperous organization. While the present one may not be so well equipped or so well trained as its forerunner, yet we have much reason to feel proud over the success attained last year, and the start that has been made this. The boys already possess neat uniforms, and with the development of plans for procuring new instruments, an efficient service will be rendered in the future.

On another page of this issue will be found the likenesses of our present physical directors. If it were in our power, we should like to so emphasize the importance of physical training in connection with the mental, that every student in the University who is not already doing so would be constrained to take up the work under one or the other of these directors. The faculty are to be commended for their action in making physical culture a part of the required work for the girls in the third year preparatory, but we fail to see why it was not made general including both boys and girls of every class. The amount of illness among the students is very small now, but if this were made the rule it would be even less.

THE OUTSIDE WORLD.

Pacific University celebrated Founders Day Oct. 14. Prof. W. N. Ferrin was inaugurated president of the University. The Hon. H. W. Scott, editor of the Oregonian, who is the first graduate of Pacific, was present and took part in the ceremonies.

The first election of scholars in the United States for the Rhodes' scholarship will be made between February and May, 1904. It has been decided that all scholars shall have reached at least the end of their sophomore or second year work at some recognized degree-granting university or college of the United States. Scholars must be unmarried, must be citizens of the United States, and must be between nineteen and twenty-five years of age.

At the election last Friday thirty-four votes were cast for a president of the Associated Students. Out of more than six hundred only this small number were enough interested to vote.—Pacific Wave.

At Whitman, to secure his "Varsity W" a student must play two full games of football or three full games of baseball.

MEDICAL NOTES.

One of our freshmen has returned home, having concluded that he is not intended to be an M. D.

The Senior class has received a new addition from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco. This makes a class of nine.

Another freshman entered yesterday.

We were glad to see the "pretty work" done by our boys in the McMinnville-Willamette game.

A fire occurred in the dead-house yesterday evening while all present were listening to Mr. Hunter demonstrate from his subject. The fire started in the roof, and as this is not very high, was easily extinguished by the efforts of the Demonstrator, Dr. Smith and Mr. Beauchamp. Some of the boys thought that kerosene would have been a better extinguisher (?).

SENIORS ORGANIZE.

On October 14, the members of the senior class met in the office of the Registrar, perfected their organization and elected the following officers:

President, Julia Field.
Vice-President, Joseph Patton.
Secretary, Marie Whipple.
Treasurer, Jesse Patton.
Class Reporter, J. Field.
Historian and Poet, Libby Whipple.

Any one who does not know what it is to play football "rotten" should come out on the football field, and Coach Dietz will soon show them.

The University of Oregon will have no "weekly" this year. If she does not ginger up a little bit, one of these days the State Varsity will find herself way behind the times.

The "Measly Freshies" are again busily engaged in smearing green paint over everything in sight. Nothing seems to be too sacred to escape the fate.

Ye boys of the gridiron, win again next Saturday, and perhaps some more of the whiskers in the Willamette will disappear in celebration thereof.

Societies.

PHILODORIAN.

The Philodorian Society assembled as usual last Friday evening, and despite the fact that it was the night of the football rally, there was a larger attendance than at either of the previous meetings held this year. During the evening there were three members voted into full membership, and four other applications laid on the table for one week, after which time they will be taken up for consideration. This trend of affairs is very gratifying to the Philodorian, and they predict a very large enrollment for the year. They are always pleased to meet and welcome new faces in their hall, and at this last meeting were especially well pleased to see among their number some fifty visitors, principally from their sister society, the Philodorian. It is sincerely hoped by the society that this will not be their last appearance in their midst, and they will extend a most cordial welcome to their sister society and friends whenever they shall be honored by their presence.

The evening's program was exceptionally good, and gave most excellent evidence of the talent possessed by its members. The exercises for the evening as rendered were as follows:

Music, "Hail Willamette," F. L. Grannis.

Experiences of a Freshman, Harry Spalding.

Athletics of Olden Times, W. C. Judd.

Essay, Alaska, T. M. Hunt.
Current Events, Winnie Poorman.

DISCUSSION.

Question: "Resolved, 'That the Indian has suffered more at the hands of the American than the negro.'"

Affirmative, W. A. Trill, Ray Anderson.

Negative, John Reichen, Wm. Stone.

PHILODORIAN.

The meeting was called to order by Pres. Grace McConnell, Oct. 13. The following program, which was the first order of business, was rendered. Reading on Platonic Friendship—Mabel Robertson.

The following questions were discussed: "Should Household Economy be taught in the College," Clara Holmstrom "Style of the winter hat," Ruby Coryell. The division of the student body tax, Sylvia Jones. The beauties of autumn, Alma Hales.

Then in the business meeting which followed Miss Julia Field was elected assistant secretary to fill the vacancy caused by Miss Moyer not being a member. The Secty's book had been lost and in this way the mistake was caused. There are rumors among the Philodorians of something in the way of entertainment in the near future.

Associations.

Y. M. C. A.

The men's daily prayer circle has again been organized, and has an average attendance of about ten.

Willamette has swung into line in the great movement to double the enrollment in Bible study this year. We have thirty-seven men in the Bible study classes and eight in Personal Workers' class.

The meeting last Sunday was a very excellent one. The address was to the point and the attendance was fair. Next Sunday we are planning to have an increased attendance.

Personal solicitation for funds will be made soon. We are confident of a cheerful response. We are also planning to have a social evening at least once a term, for those who are taking Bible study, that we may talk over the work, the program, and benefits, and at the same time become better acquainted.

Y. W. C. A.

The weekly prayer-meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was led by Ida Evans, and was well attended. The class in Shuman's Life of Christ was organized last Thursday, and will continue to meet on that day at 2:40, unless it is necessary to change the time. Other classes will be organized this week.

The regular Sunday meeting Oct. 18 was led by Erma Clarke and Ruth Field. The topic was "missions." Miss Field gave a comprehensive review of the mission study work of the 1903 conference at Capitol, and Miss Clarke presented an outline of the Volunteer Movement work of the world, following it with statements on the value of the work.

The meeting next Sunday afternoon will be a special initiation and consecration service, and will be led by Miss Lila Swafford. This is a very important meeting and no girl of the school should be absent. Miss Louise Shields, our Coast secretary, will be there.

G. W. Johnson, the clothier, has one of the finest lines of gents' fall suits ever seen in the city. He also carries the Packard shoe. If in need of shoes try a pair and you will never regret it. They are the best that money can buy.

Students, call and examine the work done at the Cronise Photo Studio. We would be glad to show you our work whether you want your picture taken or not.
