

WILLAMETTE SUMMER COLLEGIAN

No. 1

Salem, Oregon

July 19, 1946

McLeod, McCoy To Leave WU; Three Others May Follow

At least two of Willamette's regular faculty members have definitely accepted other positions, and unconfirmed reports say that three others will take posts with other colleges and not return this fall.

Dr. Kenneth McLeod returned to Salem Wednesday from Butte, Montana with word that he had accepted a position in the department of chemistry at Montana School of Mines. He and his family plan to leave Salem near the end of the month.

Dr. Ralph W. McCoy left the campus the second day of summer session to teach biology at Fresno State College. He came here in March of this year from the botanical research staff at the University of California to teach beginning biology.

211 REGISTER

Official registration at the end of the week came to 211 students enrolled for the summer session.

Of the total figure, only 44 were women students, indicating that a large majority, 139, of those taking the accelerated summer semester are veterans seeking to speed up their college academic programs. The law school claims seven full time and seven part time enrollees, while Liberal Arts and the music school total 167 full time with 30 parttime students.

Registration is closed.

GATKE TO GUIDE HISTORICAL TOUR THIS AFTERNOON

Places of historical interest in the Salem area will be pointed out by Dr. Robert M. Gatke, head of the political science department, to those making the Oregon history trip this afternoon.

Summer session students and their friends are invited to join the group, which will meet in front of Eaton hall at two o'clock. Interested drivers are asked to share their cars.

The site of Jason Lee's mission, north of Salem on the river road will be the first places visited. The Old mission hospital, near Wheatland Ferry will be on the return trip.

Jason Lee's home and the Jason Lee cemetery, both in Salem, will be included on the itinerary.

Veterans' Housing Units Near Completion

The Housing Development on 17th street, 82 units of which are being reserved for student applicants of Willamette, moves toward a completion this week. Housing contracts were mailed out on July 15th to the first twelve applicant veterans on a waiting list kept by the registrar. The school hopes that twelve more contracts will be sent out every fifteen days until upwards of 60 units are occupied at the beginning of the fall semester.

Single students are paying anywhere from $15 to $25 a month for sleeping rooms and married students anywhere from $30 to $60 for two or three rooms with or without any kitchen space.

last day for dropping

Today is the last day for dropping a course for any reason except serious illness without receiving a grade of F in that course, according to Dean Riggs.

Fredrickson hall on the campus now accommodates 10 women students. Lausanne hall is closed but for the cafeteria which is open serving 85 students per meal. Alpha hall has 15 men, Laurel 11, and the Y 14.

Favorite subject of those interviewed on housing is the future. Registrar, H. B. Jory, speaks of the men's dormitory which will eventually house 100 men in the mainwing and 100 in the fraternity wings. The dorm is tentatively hoped for a year from next fall.

Willamette Summer Collegian

Published by the Class
in School Journalism
Summer Session of Willamette
University, Salem, Oregon

Editor..... RoJean Finley

Staff: Ruth Betterton, Ora Smith, Danta Boyd, Benona Dawson, Betty Ann Boettcher, Paul Travis, Owen Betterton and Yvonne Simpson.

A Newspaper For You

With this issue, the class in the high school newspaper introduces the Willamette Summer Collegian, a weekly publication for your information and pleasure.

One of the deficiencies of a college summer session, especially one on a campus as small as Willamette's, is its lack of units. In an effort to fulfill the need for a unifying activity and at the same time to familiarize ourselves with the mechanics of the small mimeographed newspaper, we undertake this enterprise.

A paper like this one was published by a similar class four years ago, and met with good results from the students attending. We of the present class are confronted with many obstacles, predominantly the fact that none of us were familiar with the mechanics of the mimeographed newspaper. We are ignorant of techniques in editing a paper of this kind, and numerous problems will need to be ironed out through experience. Our inexperience will be offset, we hope, by our sincere efforts to produce a paper worthy of the title Collegian, a name known throughout the country as the best in college newspapers.

Your assistance is heartily solicited. If you have any ideas, news or criticism please drop by the Collegian office in taller hall and let us know. It is your paper, and your suggestions will keep it ours.

GENTLEMAN FROM INDIANA LOOKS AT OREGON

J. C. Hixson, a visiting professor at Willamette this summer, thinks the climate here is ideal.

Coming from Indiana, where he is professor of English at DePauw University, he says there is only one fault to be found with Oregon weather. He cannot write to the people of his home town, Green Castle, for they are now sweltering in the heat and would be too envious of him.

Part of his last week-end was spent skiing on Mt. Hood at about the same altitude as streets in Colorado Springs, Colo., where he often spends part of his summers.

An author, lecturer, member of Phi Beta Kappa, and several other societies, he is a past president of the Modern Language association.

He has written a book on the life of Tennyson and another on philology and was a contributing editor to Words Magazine.

Among the topics on which he writes and speaks are linguistic, literary, and musical subjects.

Professor Hixson's most important work, he thinks, has been in the study of words. He developed the introduction of word study on the undergraduate college level. It has grown in importance at DePauw since 1934.

In addition to his scholastic work, he has been a member and leader in the Methodist church and a trustee of the Methodist hospital in Indianapolis. He is particularly interested in music, having assisted in the compiling of the Methodist hymnal in 1935. At one time he was organist of the Methodist church in Chatenogga.

During his stay in Salem, he is living in the apartment of Prof. Bennet Ludden.

LIBRARY HOURS NOW 7:45-5:00

Library hours for the summer session are 7:45 a. m. to 5 p. m., announces Dan Graves, Librarian. Books on the reserve list are to be called for at the circulation desk and can be kept for two hours. They can be checked out after four p. m. Monday thru Friday to be returned by 9 a. m. the following morning and Saturday at 11 a. m. due Monday at 9 a. m.

Any other circulating books are checked out for two weeks and can be renewed. Any of these books will be reserved upon request if out when wanted.

Requests for State Library books should be made through the University Library.

Two typewriters are available for students to use during library hours.

The librarian could be interested in knowing how many people would like having the library stay open one night a week and two or three nights before mid-term exams.

WALTER ERICKSON ON VACATION

Coach Walter Erickson, director of athletics, is enjoying a long deserved and well-earned vacation by camping this summer near Bend, Oregon, with Mrs. Erickson and the children.

Dividing his time between fishing and observing the Brooklyn Dodgers football team, which is having summer practice at Bend, Erickson is hoping to pick up some ideas from pro football.

S P O R T S

The department of physical education announces that two teams for softball have been formed. The first practice game will be Wednesday, July 23, at 4:30 between the Hot Rocks, in charge of James, and the Faculty team.

The line-up is as follows:

DRAMA CLASS TO OFFER PLAY

With the exact dates, date still indefinite, the high school play production class, Mrs. Marco Ringwalds directing, is preparing the comedy, "The Guardsman," by Ferenc Molnar, to be presented in Waller chapel in about four weeks.

Leonard Steinbock, who is carrying the role of the actor husband; Lois Phillips Blodgett, his actress wife and Dale Goldhar, acting as the critic, need no introduction to the older members of the campus who will remember their splendid portrayal of "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "The Philadelphia Story."

The supporting cast has not yet been chosen. Jim Elliott will design the sets.

MID-TERM GRADES DUE IN AUGUST

The mid-term grades will be turned in by the professors during the week of August 5, according to Dean Riggs. The mid-semester grades will be available on Aug. 12 and 13.

lows:

Hot Rocks
Acker	P—Lieser
Byhre	C—Monk
Hill	LB—Brennan
Carlson	2B—Fenix
Facie	SS—Schaake
Hartreys	3B—Hanuska
James	1F—Lantz
Geddes	CF—Sparks
Copehaver	RF—Simpson
Zerzan	R4—Williams
Wilson	Sub—Jory
Maurer	Sub—C'kingham
Bolt	Sub—

It is hoped that enough players for two more teams will come out. Any one interested may leave his name at the gym office.

Schedules for tennis games will be posted as soon as all entries are signed up. Entries for singles and doubles so far are:

Students	Faculty
Wojohn	Simpson
James	Monk
McCoy	Fenix
	Sparks

The tennis courts are available every afternoon to all students. The dressing rooms are open for your convenience.

KARNOPP SELLS SHORT STORY

A short story, "I Tried to Cry," written by Kay Karnopp, junior at WU, has been sold to "Advance," a New York monthly magazine and will be published in the September issue.

An essay written by Miss Karnopp is included in "Giving Form to Ideas," a newly published book by Dr. Egbert Oliver of the university faculty.

Summer Term a Melting Pot

The summer session always brings a melting pot of personalities, both great and small to the campus and this summer is no exception. Seen on the campus are new students just acquainting themselves with the scheme and order of WU and the returning students trying to gather a few extra hours of credit.

Among new-comers are Katherine Jones, who is working for her master degree. She is teaching at Catlin, a private school

Silver Creek Trip Set For August 3

Prof Herman Clark, head of the physical science department, promises a day of combined pleasure and education on the Silver Creek Falls trip, planned for August 3. Marks of historic interest as well as points of sheer beauty will be emphasized.

The Falls are located 327 miles northwest of Salem on a paved highway. As one enters the area surrounding the falls, the scenes beauties of nature that are difficult to describe. Within a radius of 2 miles 8 falls may be seen. The upper south falls, perhaps the most familiar, falls a sheer 184 foot drop into a canyon, the walls of which are caves and paths which may be explored. A hike of 4 miles, covering six of the larger falls will be taken with Prof Clark calling attention to points of interest such as the lava formations and moulds of former trees as they are encountered. Details of the trip will appear in a later issue.

in Portland.

Karl Kahle, Jr. is the superintendent of the Gervais public schools and is working for his master's degree this summer.

Mrs. Danta Boyd is obtaining general secondary education credits this summer. In the winter months she teaches phys. education and Brihepedics at Long Beach high school.

Wendell Keck, who has a Ph.D. from Stanford, is attending Willamette's summer session to obtain education credits. He will return to his position as a faculty member of Stockton Junior College in the fall.

Lecture Series Slated August 19-23

Mrs. George Moorehead, field secretary of the E. C. Brown trust fund division of social hygiene ed-

DOEBS CONCERT DANCE OPEN EVENTS

Summer activities got off to a grand start last week end when Ralph Jobbs of the music school ~~presented~~ presented a piano concert in Waller hall on Sunday. Offering a well-rounded program, the recital was enjoyed by all who attended.

Sixty-five students, faculty and friends enjoyed a bit of the old west last Friday evening when "Pop" Crary called the figures to the music of Mitchell's Old Time orchestra at the barn dance held in the gymnasium.

Other musical events are planned for the future.

KAYE DICK WED TO PI EDWARDS

Of special interest this week to their many friends on the campus is the marriage of Kaye Dick, sophomore, and Pi Edwards, junior.

The ceremony took place in the Methodist parsonage in Eugene, on Saturday afternoon. Louise Hibbard, also from the campus, was the maid of honor and Manville Heisel was the best man.

After spending the week end at the Doebs' House, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are now living at 1635, Saginaw avenue, both attending the university.

Mrs. Edwards is Prof. Knight's secretary.

ucation of the University of Oregon Medical school, will offer a series of lectures on personality and family adjustment during the week of August 19-23 as a part of the summer session.

The series, to be open to all students and interested friends without charge through the courtesy of the E. C. Brown trust fund, will deal with the development of affectional relationships in family life. Moving pictures will be exhibited in addition to the lectures and a wide variety of literature will be available. Mrs. Moorehead will conduct personal interviews with anyone wishing them.

Announcement of the time and the place will be made at a later date. Time will be arranged so that all students may attend if at all possible.