February 10 Date for Petitions For Model UN Representatives

Students wishing to represent the University at the model United Nations assembly to be held at Oregon State College in Corvallis April 4-7 must submit petitions explaining why they want to be delegates to the Student Body office by Friday, February 10.

A student-faculty selection committee will screen the petitions and make recommendations for the 15 delegates at the council meeting February 15. A faculty advisor may be selected, in addition.

SELECTION will be on the basis of the petitions and recommendations by faculty and students. Final selections will be confirmed by the Student Council. The committee members are Dale Patton, Gay Kent, Dr. Robert Gatke, Prof. Chester Kaiser and Prof. Clarence Kraft.

After the Willamette delegates have been selected, they will elect one of their group as chairman to serve as a general organizer and morale booster. Dale Greenlee is the general co-ordinator for Willamette's part in the assembly.

IT HAS BEEN announced that the expenses of the delegates will be paid by the University, although the source of the funds has not yet been determined.

The model UN is patterned after actual UN procedure. Each participating school is assigned a country to represent at the assembly. Campus Unesco has announced its plans to form a study group on whatever country Willamette is given to represent.

Original interest in the model UN was begun by the campus YWCA, which introduced the idea to Student Council.

Final Exam 'Spirit' Takes Over WU With Deafening Calm

By B. J. BEARCAT

Tomorrow begins the phenomenon occurring semi-annually on the Willamette campus which threatens and largely determines the status and future of every registered student. It is known as "Final Week" though the inhabitants' vernacular gives it other endearing names.

CHARACTERIZED by indulgence in the minor vices (cough syrup, coffee, cigarettes, and No-Doz), this week's one peculiarity is its book-centeredness. The fascination with the printed word becomes an obsession. Schedule-making (an attempt to reconcile the necessity of undoneness and the fact of no-more-timeness) occupies more neurotic and frantic moments.

University expenditures experience a definite upset. Dormitory light bills reach their peak at this season, Library expense is boosted by an extra evening open (tonight incidentally). The bookstore's business becomes strictly a pencil and typing paper selling business. Through the infirmary's portals, open always to the ailing, more business walks than at any other time. The Cat Cavern's business will undergo a proportionate drop, in direct relation to unprepared-for exams. Student housekeeping is utterly neglected, and meals are largely ignored. Sleep becomes the A-1 temptation, constantly but groggily rejected by the industrious student.

SILENCE DESCENDS, and complete monotony sets in, only punctuated by slamming doors, squeaking chairs, staccato pecking of typewriters, and an occasional buzzer. Unpredictable alarm clocks shatter the quiet at almost any hour.

The peculiar product of dead week (which is actually two weeks, with the latter deader than the first) is a wrinkled, haggard skeleton who has withdrawn his identity and advertises his occupation by black splotches under his delicately lined eyes. His sense of humor becomes perverted to a sadistic joy in yelling "Shadup," or imitating a hot radiator. Fiendish, sarcastic little signs appear on roughly every third door, warning against the major sign of speaking (even in a telephone booth) above a whisper, and other equally sinful acts—including entering a room uninvited.

As the number of exams per day decrease (from Monday's 55 to Friday's 15) the percentage of enthusiasm drops in equal proportion, and yearning for escape becomes more evident. Riot sets in on Friday and the library is off-limits on Saturday, except for professors grading papers. Movies once again become a part of campus life.

THE MOTTO of the week is "If we must flunk (and we undoubtedly must) we will flunk together—and in that rests the glory of the curve."

Rally Commission To Hold Tryouts

First Vice-President Neil Causbie announced this week that all aspirants for the position of rally squad member must file petitions by noon Wednesday, Feb. 8. As usual, the petitions must be signed by 25 people, and are available at the Student Body office.

All students wishing to try out for Rally Squad must appear before the Rally Commission on Friday, Feb. 10. However, on Wednesday afternoon, the present rally squad will meet with the candidates to help them prepare for Friday's tryouts. This early tryout date is due to a constitutional revision which effected a new system for the nomination and election of the Rally Squad.

The Commission, after considering the abilities of all those trying out, will select nine men and 12 women to appear before convocation February 14. These 21 persons will be placed on a student ballot, with the resulting election of four women and three men to the 1956-57 Rally Squad. The man and woman who receives the most votes out of each group will become the elected Yell King and Yell Queen.

According to first vice president Neil Causbie, the revisions will give the incumbent members a chance to get well acquainted with their duties and will limit the number of candidates appearing on the preferential ballot. Also the time of election is set for February of the spring semester instead of existing as an after-thought of the Student Body elections in April.

Insurance Policies Due

Student insurance premiums of $4.95 for spring semester coverage will be payable in the Student Body office following registration day. Representatives of the insurance company handling the student policies will be in the registration line Monday, February 6.

Murray Reminds Poster Contest Entrants of February 7 Deadline

Glen Murray, chairman of Christian Resource Week, reminded students this week of the February 7 deadline on all CR posters. The entries should be submitted as soon as possible to Murray or to Dr. Thomas Bennett.

Worthwhile cash prizes of $25, $15, and $10 will be awarded to first, second, and third places respectively, and the first place winning poster will be used as the cover design for the CR Week program.

As previously announced, the entries should be on white poster paper at least 18 by 24 inches. The theme of CR Week, "Spotlight on the Search," which is also the theme of the poster, should be considered in the larger sense of doing the will of God by each of the contestants.

Plans are still in progress for the retreat to Camp Magruder, March 2 and 3. Participants will include the Inter-Faith Council, the CR Week executive committee, and the Nashville consultation team.

New SB Cards Needed

Dave Lewis, University business manager, reminds all students that their fall semester student body cards will not admit them to spring semester basketball games or to any other school function requiring cards. New cards will be available in Student Body office after the second semester begins, upon presentation of the student's fee slip.

Butler Schedules Post-Recess Concert

Stanley Butler, associate professor of music, will present a lecture-recital on "Texture in Music" February 8, at 8:15 p.m. in the Fine Arts auditorium. The concert is open to students, faculty and the public without charge.

Butler's informal comments on the piano music to be performed will be primarily intended for people who enjoy music, but who haven't had training in listening to it. He asserts, however, that at the same time, the remarks should be interesting to music students, as an example of an attempt to speak in non-technical terms concerning a vital aspect of music.

"Texture when applied to music, refers to the blends of melodies and chords," Butler explains. "An awareness of texture adds much interest and clarity to a person's music listening."

Butler will play the Liszt "Funeral March," Mendelssohn's "Variations Serieuses" and works by Chopin, Chavez, W. F. Bach, Scarlatti, Beethoven, Debussy, Hindemith, Bartok and Prokofieff. All of the works were selected because of their "music texture."

The same concert will be given earlier for the Kelso-Longview, Washington State Music Teacher Association, and for the Derthick club in Oregon City.

Butler received his master's degree in music from Harvard University. He taught at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, previous to coming to Willamette in 1950. He is music critic for the Oregon Statesman, and has recently been made college student extension chairman of the Oregon Federation of Music Clubs.

His complete program will be as follows:

- I
Prelude No. 6, from 10 Preludes — Chavez
Funeral March — Liszt
- II
Fugue in D Minor — W. F. Bach
Sonata in A Minor — Scarlatti
Bagatelle, Op. 119, No. 11 — Beethoven
- III
Etude in C Major, Op. 10, No. 7 — Chopin
La Soiree dans Grenade — Debussy
- IV
Impromptu in F# Major, Op. 36 — Chopin
Variations Serieuses, Op. 54 — Mendelssohn
- V
Interludium and Fuga in B Flat,
From Ludus Tonalis — Hindemith
Musiques Nocturnes, from
Out of Doors Suite — Bartok

Church Thespians To Perform Sunday

"Cry, the Beloved Country" will be presented this Sunday by the Bishop's Company Players in the First Presbyterian Church. Performances will be given at 3 p.m. and again at 8 p.m.

The Bishop's Company is a traveling repertory theater company devoted to the return of great drama in the Church. This is the third national tour the company is presenting. Presbyterian Churches of Salem are sponsoring their appearance.

The play, adopted from Allan Paton's contemporary novel, concerns the educating of Negroes in the white civilization. The Bishop's Players operates with the consent of Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy to start a national trend toward return of art to the sanctuary.

In a letter received by President Smith, the company invited all students and faculty to attend. The players stated that their stage technique will be of special interest to drama students. They pointed out that the adaptation should be significant to English majors.

Bishop's Company has played in every large city in the country and has received excellent reviews from all newspaper critics.

Spring Rush Rules, Dates Announced

February 15 to 18 has been scheduled by Willamette Panhellenic for Spring Rush. Eligible are all Independent girls who make a 2.5 for fall semester. All four sororities will be participating in the program. Registrar Harold Jory promises to have grades out by February 15.

Quotas for the living organizations will be set according to the numbers of active members in the sorority taking into consideration the number of women participating in Rush. All four sororities will have a base quota.

Any girl interested in rushing should go immediately to Dean Regina Ewalt's office and sign up, according to Arda Lien, Panhellenic president.

our 'name withheld' policy

We said it before but now we'd better explain. In our January 13 editorial on the subject of Christian Resource Week contributions in The Collegian we said "upon request The Collegian will withhold the name of the donor from publication." Last Friday's Collegian included the first such unsigned contribution that we have published this year. The reaction to such a policy has been interesting to note.

Does the announced policy mean that The Collegian will accept all letters or contributions unsigned? Absolutely not. The contributions in the "Spotlight on the Search" column last week was turned into The Collegian with the author's signature on it. The author requested that his name be omitted and gave sufficient justification for withholding it from publication. The author's name is available to anyone who wishes to inquire in The Collegian office.

While we don't want to get the reputation of protecting people who make slanderous charges behind the shield of the "name withheld" policy we do want to make it easy and desirable for the student to contribute. It is undeniable that many people do not wish to contribute their ideas and philosophies simply to avoid the reputation of presumptiveness that often goes with "getting your name in print." Especially is this true in the case of articles such as those being solicited for the "Spotlight on the Search" column.

Contributors should be willing to take the credit or blame for anything controversial, we agree. The Collegian will always be ready to make available the name of any author—staff member or outside contributor—to any article.

When requested by the author to withhold his name and given sufficient reason we will comply. But his name will always be available in our office for those who are interested in knowing it.

Spring Officers Elected By Three Sororities and WITS

Three of Willamette's four sororities elected a new slate of officers for the coming year. Willamette Independent Town students have also announced their officers for the coming year.

Shirley Ulinder was elected president of Chi Omega this week. Other officers of Nu Delta chapter include: vice-president, Marilyn Morton; secretary, Mary Anne Swafford; treasurer, Mary Turner; pledge trainer, Liz Hess; and corresponding secretary, Suzy Platt.

MEMBERS OF the Willamette Independent Town Students elected Reynold Neufeld as the president of their organization for 1956 in the meeting Monday at noon.

Other officers were Dan Newberry, vice-president; Robert Barker, secretary-treasurer; Lynn Lockenour, men's Student Council representative; and Carole Carrothers, women's Student Council representative.

Neufeld, a sophomore, succeeds Ray Owens, the president of the 1955 WITS. The term runs from the second semester of this year until this time next year.

August Date Set

FEROL SUNDERLAND

The engagement of Ferol Sunderland to Donald Allison was told to friends during a party at the home of the bride-elect over the holidays.

Miss Sunderland is a freshman music education major from Coquille and lives at Lausanne Hall. Allison is now employed in Coquille since his release from the Marine Corps.

A late August wedding is planned by the couple who will attend Oregon State College next year.

No 'Cat Tails Yet

Because of a tight (crowded) Collegian this week, 'Cat Tails—the odds and ends feature by Duane Alvord—is not appearing this week, as previously announced. 'Cat Tails will begin with the new semester, on February 10.

High Flying Prof Lands Safely

"The most exciting part of the trip was the return flight, when we were able to see most of our Willamette Valley from such a great altitude," Dr. Ivan Lovell said on returning in the Air Force transport plane that carried him and 60 freshmen to and from McChord Air Force Base last week.

Dr. Lovell, who had made the tour twice previous to the flight last week, was the guest of the Willamette Department of Air Science. He and Charles Paeth, director of admissions, were the only faculty members to have gone this year.

The Air Science Department at Willamette has a standing invitation to the faculty to make the trips when the freshmen make their orientation flights.

Lovell said that the modern aircraft now used by the Air Force was of particular interest to him, since he had made his first ride in a plane in 1919 when his brother, who was then in the British Royal Air Force, flew him in an open cockpit bi-plane.

He said that the jet interceptor dogfights that the McChord scramble pilots staged for the Willamettes was a wonderful experience. "It is very enlightening to see the methods and equipment used in defending our country," he said.

Dr. Lovell expressed the feeling that many of the members of the faculty "don't know what they are missing" by not making such a trip.

"By going on the flights Willamette professors can get a better understanding of probably our most important military branch, and can also develop better student-teacher relations."

More flights to various Northwest Air Force Bases will be made in the near future, weather permitting, and any faculty member is invited to come along, according to Colonel Norman Todd, Professor of Air Science.

UN Library Display

The library display this week features publications from the United Nations in connection with Unesco. Publications will be on view for another week, said Samuel Keaton, acting librarian.

Books to Keep Tab On Fund Donations

"For the first time in two years the books for the Challenge Fund contributions from the Student Body are in the process of being set up accurately," announced Volney Sigmund, student manager for the drive.

Although it is impossible to determine the exact amount collected, Sigmund estimates the total at $8,800, leaving $1,200 to go.

The Challenge Fund, $10,000, must be realized by January 1, 1957. However, the amount that this year's freshman class turned over from their room deposits will not be available until 1959.

Sigmund will meet with Dave Finlay and President Smith to determine what action might be taken to complete the Fund.

YWCA Elections Slated Tuesday

Officers for the YWCA will be elected Tuesday, according to Joann Pym, YWCA out-going president. Nominations for the 1956-57 officers were made by the executive cabinet and also by student petitions.

Elections will take place in the living organizations. Presentation of a membership card will be required for all those voting.

Newly-elected officers will be announced immediately after the ballots are counted. An installation ceremony will be held Thursday noon at the YWCA. Dress for the affair will be casual.

Chatter to Vacation During Final Week

There will be no Campus Chatter program during the final exam period. However, according to Prof. Robert Putnam, the faculty member in charge, student managers have already been appointed to plan programs for the second semester.

Wayne Harris will be in charge of the first "Chatter" program of the second semester. According to Harris, this program will be of the provocative type, in order to get an indication of the radio audience appreciation. This program will attempt to stimulate enough interest in its listeners, to result in some form of written or verbal reaction towards Campus Chatter.

Accept a Challenge

Volney Sigmund, Challenge Fund manager, announced that there will be a student in the registration line to accept contributions for the student fund.

Assistantships for Science Graduates

Science students have many opportunities for receiving graduate study finance assistance, as a brief look at the bulletin boards of Collins Hall will bear out.

A glance at the many folders and circulars, reveals names like Notre Dame, Purdue, Brown University, Michigan State University, Oregon State College, University of New Mexico, Washington State College, Cornell University, University of Oregon, Louisiana State University and many others.

Each of these institutions offers teaching assistantships and fellowships to graduate students of the sciences. The holder of one of these may receive from between $1130 to $1800, plus free tuition in return for about 10 to 15 hours of undergraduate teaching while studying for advanced degrees.

Registration deadlines vary from school to school, some requiring applications in by February 1, while others set April 1 as the final date.

Willamette Ends Play, Linfield Game Next

The Willamette Bearcats will take time out during final examination time, this week and next week. The next game for the Jasons will be Feb. 4 against Linfield at McMinnville.

Coach John Lewis called for light practices during the middle of the week. Full concentration will be given the final exams as the Bearcats lay off entirely early next week and then resume practice late in the week.

Lewis seemed pleased about the performance his squad gave in last Saturday's overtime loss to Lewis and Clark. The entire team was rebounding and shooting better than they have for several weeks.

A pleasant surprise for the Cats was the work of reservist Bob Miller in a starting role. Miller, in his first game as a starter, rolled in seven points and grabbed a number of rebounds. Miller is a senior and this is the first year that he has turned out for basketball at Willamette.

Cats Drop Game As Bishop, Reed, And Causbie Show

Last Wednesday night the Willamette Bearcats suffered a 63-48 defeat at the hands of their host, the Pacific Badgers.

Willamette jumped to an early lead in the game on the fine offensive and defensive work of Jack Bishop, Pete Reed and Neil Causbie. Pacific then canned five straight field goals to tie the score 22-22 at the half.

From then on it was Pacific's game as they were never headed by the visiting Bearcats. From the field the two teams were even with 18 field goals but at the free throw stripe the Badgers outscored Willamette 27-12.

Ron Barnedse of Pacific was high for the game with 15 points. Bishop was the Jasons spark, canning 11 points for third place honors. Causbie was second for the Cats with 8.

Phi's Tie Betas

Intramural basketball takes a vacation for the rest of the semester to make way for final exams.

The Phi Deltas and the Betas were the teams to beat as the final standings for the semester came in. The Phi's and the Betas were tied for first place in Tuesday league action. The Phi Deltas were in first place in Wednesday action with a 4-0 record and likewise the Betas on Saturday morning found themselves in first place with a 4-0 record.

Bearcats Lose Thriller

It was a case of deadly accuracy from the charity line in the closing seconds of an overtime period by the Lewis and Clark Pioneers that an's pair made it 76-74 and then with just 35 seconds remaining the lanky senior popped in two more to assure the visitors their first victory over the Bearcats on the Salem maple court.

Mentor Lewis and Company turned the tables so to speak on the Portlanders at the beginning of the game, as they threw a man-to-man defense against Lewis and Clark, one of the very few times this year that Willamette has used such tactics. The Pioneers were thrown off balance just enough that they were unable to move away from the Jasons and as a result, the halftime ended in favor of the Bearcats 35-33.

The local Cats started the second half with a rush as Forward Pete Reed hit a couple of baskets, followed by a stolen ball lay-in by Jerry McCallister moving the Bearcats into a 41-33 lead after only 1:35 of the second period gone.

Coach Eldon Fix's Pioneers then spent the rest of the game catching up. They finally gained a tie at 60-60 and from there on in there was never more than a three-point spread between the teams.

JV's Post Victory In Saturday Tilt

The Willamette Bearkittens won their second straight game Saturday night as they topped the Lewis and Clark JV's 66-62.

The Jerry Long coached JV's turned on the pressure in the second half to overcome a 42-29 halftime deficit that the baby Pioneers held over them.

snapped an eight year jinx that the Willamette Bearcats had held over Coach Eldon Fix's crew, as the Pioneers squeezed past the local Jasons by an 82-76 score last Saturday evening.

Regular play ended in a 70-all knot at the end of regulation time, just one of the 13 tie scores during the 45 minutes of play.

Following ties at 72 and 74, Forward Hal Adrian got the Pioneers started on a foul shooting party that saw them convert eight consecutive tosses from the charity line in the final 1:40 of play. Adri-

Here I am in my own big train seat. Dad and Mom are here too. It's cold and wet outside, but we don't care. Daddy doesn't have to worry about driving either.

My bed feels good at night—I'm rested, and I'm happy in the morning. So are Dad and Mom.

We had breakfast right up in the Dome and saw everything. (There are 3 Dome Cars on the "CITY OF PORTLAND"—Astra Dome Diner, Astra Dome Observation Lounge and the Astra Dome Coach.)
