by Edwin Minneman

"I have no other but a woman's reason, I think it so, because I think it so."

BRILLIANT, critical columnist Dorothy Thompson, whose syndicated words of wisdom are read daily by thousands of current-event fans, in a letter to a girl graduate published recently in a popular women's magazine makes some timely comments which we think are particularly apropos here at Willamette, since graduation time draws so near and so many students are wondering whether or not they really got their money's worth out of their courses.

SHE says: "When I was young, when I was your age, a good and wise man gave me three pieces of advice. He was my father. He said: 'Education may not make you a creative person. Creativeness is a gift of the gods. But education can give you the power to appreciate creativeness. That appreciation is the source of constant happiness, always, under all circumstances.'"

SHE continues: "Difficult or not, revolutionary or stable, unspeakably ugly as it is in spots, and with pain not always to be avoided, this world is a fantastically interesting place, full of beauty, touched with nobility, flashing with the loveliest sights, trembling with the loveliest sounds, dotted with libraries full of wit, with art galleries full of magic, and all more available to you than ever before, if only you have eyes to see and ears to hear and a mind to attend."

FURTHER, that, "The world you live in is a creation of genius, of men who could bring down fire from heaven, but whether their genius really makes a civilization depends upon whether their is an audience. Where ears are deaf and minds dull, and eyes unappreciative, genius becomes discouraged and stops producing. Then the world really becomes ugly and dull. If you cannot create—and how many can?—you can be that other fine thing: One who appreciates."

AND Dorothy Thompson makes a comment which makes a learned Doctor feel that they have not accomplished their purpose but which may inspire the graduate to renewed efforts in acquiring an education: "No one leaves school educated. If you are lucky and have been well-taught, and if you have been wise and have been teachable, you may have got some inkling of how to become educated."

WE hesitated to start this column with a long quotation, but the above seemed to us to contain more practical advice than most commencement addresses. Speaking of commencement addresses, we note with interest that ousted University of Wisconsin Prexy Glenn Frank has been invited to give the commencement speech at University of Denver. "If Youth Can But See" is the title of Frank's address.

THE Wisconsin prexy's dismissal was more than a mere political squabble. Governor La Follette and the Board of Regents charged indecisiveness, unfavorable publicity, not keeping promises, and giving no time to school affairs. Frank replied that he had built the school up proportionately more than any large university in the country.

WHOEVER was right, the feud continues: Is a college president a publicity manager for an institution, is he to spend his time contacting people whose influence is needed for the financial success of a school, or is a college president a student's friend, a faculty guide and advisor, a shaper of the character of those who graduate? We prefer the latter. But everyone likes to point to his school, as an alumnus, and say: "My, look what an up and coming institution my alma mater is."

Japan-American Conference Held

August 2-9 to Be Date of Student Meeting at Palo Alto

The greatest gathering ever held of students coming from both sides of the Pacific will be assured with preparations being made by the officials of the fourth annual Japan-America Student Conference in Palo Alto, California, August 2-9.

The conference will have fifty leading Japanese students to represent their nation in social, cultural, economic and political affairs as they affect their countries and the relations between Japan and the United States. Other aspects of national life in both countries will be taken up with prominent American educators and men in public life participating.

The first of these conferences was held in Tokyo, in 1934, at which Amelia Schrack and Garfield Barnett were Willamette delegates. The second gathering was held at Reed College in Portland, and last year the conference was held in Tokyo and Kyoto, with Norma Miller, Jane Bellinger, and Bill McAdam as conference representatives.

Official delegates for the 1937 conference chosen from Willamette University are Echo Johnson, religion; Martha Okuda, sociology; John Voss, political science; and Paul Sturges, public administration.

The actual conference will be held at Stanford University during the six days. Each delegate will participate in three discussion groups, one on Monday and Tuesday, another on Wednesday and Thursday, and the third on Friday and Saturday. The delegates will write a paper on some phase of at least one of these problems:

1. Student Life in Japan and America.
2. Japan's and America's Economic Stake in the Far East.
3. Armaments and the National Security in the Pacific.
4. Government and the Individual in Japan and America.
5. Marriage and Family Life in Japan and America.
6. The Worker and his Job in Japan and America.
7. Moral and Spiritual Values in Present-day Life.
8. World Society and the National State.
9. The Role of the Arts in Japan and America.

Discussions held Expenses for the delegates' visit here are to be defrayed by public subscriptions and by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Committees formed in Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, and Hanover will guide the plans for the entertainment.

Three Nominated For Albert Prize

Three students, Bill Sutton, Mary Jeanette Sargent, and Wileta Smith, were nominated Wednesday for the Joseph Albert award, a prize of $25 awarded each year to the student who, opportunities considered, has made the greatest progress toward an ideal in character, service, and wholesome influence.

Three students are nominated by the faculty each year and the student body chooses one from the group for the honor. The award is made possible through the efforts of Joseph H. Albert of Salem.

Awards for Activities Given Out Thursday

Annual awards day was held in chapel Thursday, June 3. Awards were given for intercollegiate athletic competition and forensic competition, for Wallulah work, for Collegian work, and for girls' sports.

A petition was presented to "Spice" Keene signed by the members of the "W" Club and asking him to remain as coach of Willamette intercollegiate competition. A new plaque was presented to Ruth Yocum for her excellence in sports and co-operation with the faculty in helping out with the sports program.

LAW HEADS CLUB

Leonard Laws and Dick Smith, both of Salem, were elected president and secretary, respectively, of the newly organized Math club at its meeting on May 27.

Philharmonic Choir to Sing With Famous Opera Soprano McCormick In December Concert Next Year

Another chapter was written in the brilliant history of the Willamette University Philharmonic Choir when word was received this week from the Music Department that the Philharmonic group has been chosen to accompany Mary McCormick, famous opera singer of the Chicago Opera association, when she makes her appearance in Salem next year.

Accompanying the Philharmonic choir on December 10, the date chosen for the performance, will be a 100-piece symphony orchestra.

Bohumir Kryll made arrangements with Cameron Marshall, Willamette music head, to have the group accompany Miss McCormick upon hearing from many sources of their success in recent concerts, especially the Stabat Mater production of this year. The number selected for presentation on December 10 is the well known Inflammatus from Stabat Mater. Mary McCormick will sing the soprano and obligato.

Vocal Student To Make Tour in '38

Another of Professor Cameron Marshall's music pupils found himself destined for a brilliant musical career this week when Curtis Preston, sophomore baritone, and student in the music department, signed a contract with the internationally known Bohumir Kryll, symphony orchestra conductor, for a 15 to 20 week tour of leading cities and universities in the United States and Canada, beginning in 1938.

Kryll is connected with the Chicago operatic association and his orchestra is already booked for a two year tour. He had listened to Preston for the first time last week, and thirty minutes after hearing him he had offered him a contract. Kryll stated that Preston is definitely headed for a brilliant career.

Plans have been made to give plenty of publicity for the tour, stated Mr. Kryll, who is continuing his trip on south.

W.A.A. Elects Officers For New School Year

Marguerite Du Rette was elected as the new head of girls' athletics for next year at a recent meeting of the W.A.A. Other new officers who will make up her staff are Kay Thompson, secretary; Jean Anusson, vice-president; Marjorie Herr, basketball; Jeanette Brown, soccer; Dorothy Moore, baseball; Merle Martin, hiking; June Brasted, swimming; Barbara Kurtz, tennis; Margaret Engdahl, archery; and Mabel Lenz, volleyball.

These new officers, along with Cornelia Hulst, newly appointed advertising manager, will comprise next year's W.A.A. executive board.

Vespers Present Prof. Roberts in Music Hour

University Vespers will present Professor T. S. Roberts in an hour of music at 8:15 o'clock, Sunday, June 6, 1937, at the Roberts' Studio, 565 North Summer street, assisted by Edna Thoman, pianist.

Program: 1. Grave and Adagio from Second Sonata—Mendelssohn. 2. Spring Song—Hollins. 3. Adoration from "The Holy City"—Gaul. 4. When Dusk Gathers Deep—Stephens. 5. Midsummer Caprice—Johnston. 6. Duo—Fantasie—Demarest. Edna Thoman at the piano; Prof. Roberts at the piano.

Prof. Roberts is presenting his Willamette organ pupils in recital 8:15 o'clock Thursday at his studio on Summer street. Prof. Roberts has invited any of the public who is interested to attend.

Rabe to Leave Next For Graduate Work

Professor Herbert E. Rabe will leave next week for the University of Wisconsin where he will continue graduate work toward his Ph.D. degree.

Professor Rabe now holds his masters degree and did a portion of the work for that degree at the University of Wisconsin.

SIX GO TO SEABECK

Six girls, two boys, and two faculty members will comprise this year's Willamette delegation to the annual river-day conference, June 22-24, at Seabeck on Hood's Canal, Washington.

His Book Out Tuesday

Wallulah Editor, Guy Heimsoth

New '37 Wallulah Ready Next Week

1937 Wallulahs will be ready for student distribution by Monday or Tuesday of next week, according to Editor Guy Heimsoth. The year books will be in Mr. Sparks' office, and they can be obtained by students after they have turned in their student body cards for both terms of this year. In the case that one or both of the cards has been lost, the matter will be verified in Mr. Sparks' office.

Heimsoth reports that he wishes to express his appreciation to the very able staff which has made the annual possible. It is expected that the book will be representative of student opinion.

Adams, Thompson, Crary, and Clark Receive Positions

Appointment of the various managers for the coming school year received most of the attention of the executive committee in its last regular meeting of the year held Wednesday evening at the Spa.

Ronald Adams was selected music manager, Merrill Crary as forensic manager, Robert Clark as homecoming manager, and Kathryn Thompson as editor of the student handbook.

An allotment was made from the general expenditure fund for the publication of printed forms of the student body constitution and for the publication of the school songs for the past seven years. Both booklets will be ready for distribution early next fall.

Grover Williams, yell king, and Dorothy Dingle, song queen, were unanimously voted their awards for their work during the past year.

A checkup on the constitutional provisions for the election of class representatives to the committee revealed that those offices must be filled by elections held immediately after the school year opens in the fall. As a result all class representative elections held this spring were declared void.

Survey Reveals Varied Program Of Summer Work and Play For Students as Vacation Approaches

As we strolled leisurely along from Science Hall toward Waller our attention was magnetically drawn to the new beauty of the campus. The lawn was a fresh, smooth green; the tall maples displayed a mass of young leaves; and a cool breeze floated in from the Mill stream.

Sheltered from the warm rays of the afternoon sun beneath the spreading branches of the trees were groups of students lounging on the grass. There was true contentment!

What Will They Do? Yet June 12 and commencement were only eight days hence. Where will we all go then? What will we do? Will we play or work or travel? Perhaps someone from the campus will do something truly extraordinary during vacation!

As we walk on past the senior bench we became more and more curious to know the answer—what were the students planning for this summer? We decided to ask them individually.

To Work for Railroad Nearby was eloquent Bill Clames who disclosed his plan of working for the railroad—in the section gang.

Climbing stairs to the second floor we overtook Marjorie Thorne on her way to history class. Marjorie will act as leader and counselor in several girls' summer camps.

HARVARD MAN TO ARRIVE FROM EAST IN SEPTEMBER TO TAKE HISTORY DEPARTMENT POST

Dr. Lovell with Broad Background in History Work Comes to Campus on September First to Take Over Department Duties

R. Ivan Lovell, Ph.D., (Harvard) will arrive in Salem on September 1 preparatory to taking over his duties as new head of the Willamette History Department. Dr. Lovell will be accompanied by his wife and two young children.

Dr. Lovell at the present time is associate professor at University of North Dakota. He has been a frequent contributor to such publications as "The Landmark" of London, England, "Queens Quarterly" of Kingston, Ontario, the "New York Times," and the "Boston Transcript." Dr. Lovell will spend the summer as visiting professor at the University of Nebraska Summer Session.

Blue Key Elects 10 New Members

The induction service for the new members of the Blue Key Fraternity was held during chapel Tuesday. Dwight Aden, president of the local chapter presided.

The Blue Key is a service fraternity. To be eligible for admission men must be juniors, must be above average in grades, and must reveal a character of high standard. Prof. W. C. Jones, speaker for the occasion, stressed the evident influence which good character has on other's lives.

Ralph Gustafson was the soloist for the occasion. To give favorable impression during the summer months and maintain a friendly attitude toward the new students next September, were the two practical suggestions which Dr. Bruce Baxter gave to each undergraduate as well as the fraternity. To the members of this fraternity the student body will look as leaders in this policy.

The men elected are Verns Rierdon, Bill Anton, George Abbott, Neil Schaefer, Edwin Minneman, Bill Clames, Eugene Hill, Talbot Bennett, Loyd Riehl, and Art Lampka.

Motion Pictures Set For Friday

A complete set of pictures, covering every phase of campus activities from football to the queen's coronation on May Day will be offered to students and friends of the university Friday evening in Waller hall, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., by Leslie Sparks, Willamette's graduate manager and official school cameraman. There will be no admission charge for the two hour program.

Twenty-four To Teach in High Schools in '37-'38

Willamette University, appointment office has placed 24 teachers for next year according to figures received from the appointment secretary last week.

Fourteen of the 24 are this year's graduates and 10 are former Willamette graduates. Many more positions are expected to be taken by Willamette graduates before the summer is over.

Those placed so far and the subject and school at which they will teach are: Bill Sutton, Shedd, coach and physical education instructor; Charlotte Kallander, Ashland, commerce; Laverne Homer, Ashland, English; Lilian Potter, Gates, English, music and physical education; Charles Versteeg, Baker, physical education and coach; Julia Johnson, State Industrial School for Girls, English and other subjects; Evelyn Harding, Vale, home economics; Sadie Jo Read, Sherwood, dean of women and teacher; Edgar Tweed, Marcola, coach and teacher; Dannel Sanders, Florence, coach; Ann May Urath, Dallas, physical education; Robert Yeo, Canas Valley, coach; Wayne Welch, Aberdeen, Wash., history and coach; Carl Rhoda, Halfway, physical education and coach; Willis Hoel, Huntington, coach; Bill Lemmon, Eatonville, Wash., coach; Edna Savage, Woodburn, mathematics and science.

Jones Granted Leave Of Absence For Work

Professor Wm. C. Jones of the economics department has been granted a leave of absence for the school year 1937-38 according to a report received yesterday from the office of Dr. Baxter.

Professor Jones, who now has his masters degree, intends to do further graduate work toward his Ph.D. degree this summer and next fall.

It is reported that he intends to do graduate work at the University of Michigan or at the University of California.

Tacks Elects Officers At Meeting Tuesday

Freshmen girls met on Tuesday after chapel to elect next term's officers for Tacks, the sophomore girls' service organization. June Brasted was elected president, by defeating Dorothy Wright and Margaret Engdahl. Esther Veira was chosen for the office of vice-president. Rose Ann Gibson was chosen secretary over Jean Bartlett and Dorothy Looper.

FOR YOUR APPROVAL

Here is the first edition of the new Collegian. Our every effort has been given to making this issue representative of the type of paper that next year's staff will offer the school. There were with this issue, like all first issues, many unforeseen difficulties. New reporters, a new manager, approaching final examinations, and the conflict with the publishers, who are besieged at the present with year books, and bulletins from many of the nearby schools, have all played a part in making the publication of this first edition a difficult proposition.

And yet, cooperation has been forthcoming from everyone; the new staff has done its job well, considering the time allotted, and we present this edition to the readers fully realizing that it may or may not please. We do not claim a masterpiece; far from it, but our only hope is that we may improve throughout the coming year.

There are many changes in style in this issue of the paper. The replacing of the traditional seal in the head, the front page column, shorter stories and more of them, a fairly balanced front page make-up, a campus literary section, banner heads on both the sports and society pages, a gossip column aimed to injure the feelings of no one, a continuance of the clubs and exchange columns are all part of the new style. This is the policy of the new Collegian and will continue to be the definite style except when the change seems to be for the betterment of the publication. Constructive criticism from the readers will always be appreciated.

PROGRESS IN EVERY FIELD

Willamette can well afford to be proud of the progress made during the past year. Not in one or two fields alone has the school moved to the fore, but it is difficult to mention a single activity in which definite trends of improvement have not been made. In athletics, in forensics, in music, in drama, in the curriculum of studies offered students, in student administration, has Willamette excelled during the present year.

In athletics Willamette's teams, under the guiding influences of one of the outstanding coaches on the entire coast, Roy S. Keene, have ranked near or at the top in every type of competition.

The debate and speech contestants, headed by the brilliant pair, Lawrence Morley and Randall Kester, have kept the name of Willamette before the public eye throughout the past nine months.

With the announcement during the past few days of the honors that are to befall the music department comes the realization that there too lies a great share of the advertisement that falls to the university. This department, under the direction of the hard-working professor, Cameron Marshall, has probably made more progress in the past two or three years than any other activity on the campus.

With the successful production of the immortal play, "Twelfth Night" as a gauge, one can easily measure the accomplishment of the dramatics department.

One of the greatest steps forward made in years came with the addition of the new Public Administration course. Already the course has become quite an attraction for prospective students. The prospects for its development in the future seem unlimited.

The fact that Willamette has made strides ahead during the past year does not mean, however, that there can be no further improvement. Far from it, for already one can look ahead and visualize bigger and better things. The band is to get its long-awaited uniforms, the music department is slated for several major engagements, the athletic teams appear even stronger for the coming season, the drama department promises to outdo its splendid performance of spring, and in forensics, with Professor Rahe at the head, students are certain to improve what now looms as an unbeatable record.

We have watched Willamette come through a banner year, with accomplishment in every line of endeavor, and yet we can confidently predict better things for the year to come.

A REAL LOSS

Mrs. J. A. Mills, Director of Lausanne Hall for the past six years, has resigned from her office. It was with regret that the girls now living in the Hall learned of her resignation. She has capably filled her formal work of managing the Hall, planning meals, maintaining order, and upholding the honor of Lausanne Hall.

Mrs. Mills has loyally supported Willamette. Her active interest in school events has kept her in close contact with students. She has endeared herself to her associates, and will long be remembered as a true friend and counselor.

WRITTEN BY ANOTHER PEN

Seniors can stop and reflect, now, on their college years. In the course of their meditations they can ask of themselves a group of questions similar to the following:

Have I formed any friendships with faculty members and classmates — honorable friendships that I can value all my life?

Do I understand human nature, realizing that every individual is different?

Am I open-minded, being subject to reasonable and progressive intellectual change, or am I mentally stubborn?

Do I have the courage of honorable convictions?

If these questions and similar queries can be answered favorably, the graduating students from the University can be expected to be constructive leaders in that part of life they are about to enter.

Can my fellowman count on me to give society the benefits of my favored training?

Verbally, college publications throughout the country are ready to challenge these graduates to the tasks that lie ahead of them. The graduates need no challenge. They will receive it from life itself as they leave that part of their living which has been called college. If they have proved their worth in the University, they will prove it to the world. If they haven't, the world gives them yet another chance. Today, to be a senior graduating into society is as much a privilege as being an undergraduate remaining in college.—Denver Clarion.

COLLEGIATE QUOTES

By Antoinette Irish

With exam week looming before us here is a bit of advice for the troubled soul:

There was a guy in our town,
And wondrous dumb was he;
Caught cheating in a history quiz,
He lost his passing "D."

But when he saw the grade was lost
With all his might and main,
He cheated in the make-up quiz
And got it back again.

—Northwestern News.

The following article is quoted for the benefit of the Lausanne hall girls who made out a list of do's and don'ts for boys on the campus.

College Girl—Should Know

When the young Co-ed came to college her mother told her certain do's and don'ts that she should follow.

One young modern (of 1890) said that her mother told her to be sure to never be a good influence on anybody. She did give her a few gentle hints, however, on how to catch the young male — book, line, and sink him.

1. Drop a violet scented chiffon handkerchief at frequent intervals. It gives the escort that cave man feeling.

2. When in doubt as to what to do—faint!

3. When getting into a carriage, pull up your flowing gown a wee bit so as to reveal your dainty (?) ankle. Don't forget to blush coyly.

4. Never play unlady like sports such as croquet. You will become muscle bound.

5. When dancing a cotillon, caressingly touch your partner with your fan.

6. Keep your conversation intellectual. Never mention operations or descriptions concerning bed or bathroom.

7. Lower your eyelid slightly—but not enough to give the impression of a wink.

8. A kiss flung from the finger tips is sufficient reward for a pleasant evening.

—Bustle Rustles.

Perhaps the time will come when the legal age for voting will be determined not by years but by some sort of intelligence test.—Bustle Rustles.

J. Caesar's trite message of the conquest of Britain was good but a sophomore's expression of his Easter holidays with a friend in Georgia is far more expressive. Wires he, "Hic—hock—hike."—Tulane Hullabaloo.

Learning makes a man fit company for himself.

There is no wealth like unto knowledge, for thieves cannot steal it.

No really great man ever thought himself so.

Little minds are tamed and subdued by misfortune, but great minds rise above it.

Honesty in little things is not a little thing.

MAGIC OF THE PEN

Editor's Note—This column is somewhat out of line in size for the first issue due to the flood of copy which descended on the new editor. Beginning next year we hope to devote one full column to the literary efforts of campus writers. All of the work will be published on recommendation of the English department, so hopeful contributors must submit copy to Dr. Richards or Dr. Kibler for approval. The piece below consists of excerpts from the book review of Carl Mason, winner of the Freshman prize. The book he reviewed was "The Hurricane" by Charles Nordhoff and James N. Hall.

Like one who sits on the very edge of his seat while witnessing an exciting play, so does the reader of this book remain entranced as the story of a tropical hurricane unfolds in all its terrible fury.

There are strange people and strange events fitted together in this story to make it fascinating and human. Brave Terangi, a devoted Polynesian husband, and father of a little girl, is imprisoned for breaking the jaw of an influential but very unlikable white man. His mother dies a natural death seemingly only because she wills to do so, having decided that "her time has come." Father Paul, the old priest whom everyone on the island loves, builds with his own hands on the island of Manukura a church which would pass inspection as good church architecture anywhere in Europe. This benevolent man loved and served the people of the islands for more than 50 years. A baby is born on a little boat in the midst of the hurricane, and lives through the storm. A family is saved from violent death by remaining in the branches of a huge Parau tree as it is swept out to sea during the cyclone, and escaping from the water-logged tree before it sinks. This incident is one of the most thrilling found in the story.

Even the Hurricane, which might have been portrayed in fine, rolling language and lengthy words, is described directly and seemingly without exaggeration.

BETWEEN CLASSES

Since Wally Warfield has been officially denied the "purple robe" and the title "her royal highness," we understand the Duke of Windsor has been sitting up late nights writing a brand new arrangement of "I Can't Give You Anything But Love."

According to very reliable sources, we have been informed that the "proletariat" has finally arisen. It seems that a well-known freshman girl refused to oblige her sorority sisters by wearing her high school graduation dress to the recent Delta Phi Spring "Informal." The departure in style of dress was one thing; but the fact that she was the best dressed girl on the floor was almost too much for the "400." Nice work "Chap," we are all for you.

The Beta Chis made a "little slam" with their orchestral importation from Portland. Local talent is O. K., but so are the Alpha Psi Hillbillies.

Sometime—we hope—a Portland band will be imported for a dance at which cheese-cloth, floor-length dresses will be taboo. Such a dance—they tell us—would be called a "sport" dance. Call it what you may, whoever is responsible for such a dance will make a "grand slam" and afford W. U. its first honest-to-goodness dance.

Reward!!!

To anyone catching, dead or alive, the misanthropic love-bug who has already wantonly preyed upon many W. U. students, we will buy one double-whipped chocolate malted milk. (See the Editor).

It is a crime that one bug can afflict so many students. If it were only like the bee, who—we are told—stings once and dies.

Have you ever noticed how much hand holding goes on at student body picnics, skip days, every day school and other places? That is the way with love; you start out holding each other's hand and end up holding your own head. Can't say we didn't warn you Jim, Pat, Buzz and others.

What is love? Well the best definition that we know runs something like this: Love is what some fellow named it in an attempt to console himself after the honeymoon was over.

The survivors of the Memorial Day beach trips are just beginning to drift in as we assemble this. From all reports so far received, the red faces are a result of too much sun. (Get it). Anyway, the conduct was above all reproach compared to the conduct of the baseball team. Tsk, tsk!!

Flash!! Just received word that one of the most stalwart of the Independents has been signed-up to play for the Alpha Psis. That is O. K. "Suth." We are counting on you to do your part in the "greater Willamette" movement, and we are sure that NOW you will be able to sign-up the Grant HI rookie.

Falling back upon our constitutionally guaranteed right of freedom of the press, we do hereby make the following notation with the sincere hope that it gets by the Editor, Bob Keuscher has moved to Chapel seat 128. We made a personal investigation and found that seat 128 is just as hard as any other Chapel seat. Between you and me and the fence-post, we indirectly heard that Eileen Van Eaton might possibly have had something to do with it.

We're certainly puzzled at the sudden disappearance of H. Varney from our usual haunts. (They haunt us anyhow.) There is only one logical solution. Don't tell us; we'll guess. Can it be that Mrs. Varney is back in town?

Well might many of us profit from the experience of the cherry-seed carver. However, in all fairness, how about the other side of the question? Perhaps some folks prefer to carve cherry-seeds; or perhaps some folks are incapable of doing otherwise. Moreover, if we had no cherry-seed carvers, who would "run" our extra-curricular Hves for us? Can't worry or scare us though, for we found out a long time ago that few people profit from the experience of others. We all get burnt, but the question is this: What degree burn will it be?

Best of luck to "Elmer" Aden, Burt Preston, the seniors, and anyone else who needs it. See you next fall.

Sorority Seniors Honored Finally

On Sunday, June 6, the sophomore members of the Beta Chi sorority will honor the graduating seniors with a Baccalaureate breakfast. Miss Belle Brown is the general chairman.

Senior guests of honor will be the Misses Lucile Brainard, Marian Averill, Helen Burdick, Charlotte Kallender, Marguerite Clark, Pauline Winslow, Margaret Doege, Marion Walker, Lillian Graham, Lois Webb, Julia Johnson, Dorothy McGee, Marjorie Thorne, Julia Philp, Victoria Schneider, Helen Purvine and Edna Savage.

Miss Mary Jeannette Clark is in charge of arrangements and is being aided by the Misses Rosalie Goulder, Margaret Gillette, Margaret Ayers, Phyllis Phythian, and Mabel Lens.

Delta Phi seniors will be honored this evening at the chapter house with a formal dinner given by the Junior house girls. Miss Loye Bogardus is in charge of arrangements and is using a Cap and Gown motif in decorations. Seniors present will include the Misses Josie Acklin, Wanda Landon, Annette Jordan, Anna May Urath, Rosemary Huffman, Melba Ripelle, Naida Carroll, and Thelma Davis.

Graduating seniors of the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority will be the guests of the undergraduate members at a Senior dinner next Sunday evening at the Quette. Five

Juniors Successfully Honor Seniors

Last Friday evening the Marion Hotel was the scene of one of the most successful banquets ever to be given in honor of seniors by the junior class. The dinner was semi-formal, beginning at 7 p. m. and ending with a short hilarious program. The tables were then cleared away and in the Mirror Room the two classes danced to the music of Church and His Deacons. Miss Barbara Crookham was in charge of the affair as vice-president and chose her committees: Miss Lorene Tompkins, program; decorations, Miss Cornelia Hulst; place cards and seating, Miss Helen Oids; and invitations, Miss Edna Luther. Miss Wood and Prof. and Mrs. Oliver were special guests.

The program consisted of recitations of outstanding seniors presented by Martha Jane Hottel and Miss Marion Averill; numbers by a back-yard quartette composed of Ross Gladden, Ely Swisher, Earle Potter, and Cloyd Riffe; a novelty song by Frank Pemberton; a few words from the presidents Verne Rierson and Randall Kester; and the program ended by the seniors, led by Earle Potter and accompanied by Miss Anna May Urath singing their winning Glee song.

Attending the banquet were Harry Mosher, Margery Thorne, Randall Kester, Dolly Dingle, Helen Purvine, Joe Blanchard, Mary Jeannette Sargent, Steve Anderson, Verne Rierson, Lorene Tompkins, Bob Yeo, Charlotte Kallender, Charles Versteg, Lillian Graham, Betty Taylor, Ralph Thompson, Wayne Doughton, Melva Belle Savage, Norma Fuller, Margaret Hauser, Helen Peterson, Dillon Jones, Ruth West, Joe Harvey, Jane Fisher, Windy Henderson, Marian Averill, Lawrence Morley, Dorothy McGee, Helen Burdick, Mildred Walker, Irma Oehler, Marguerite Clark, Lucile Brainard, Barbara Crookham, Ewald Franz, Ross Gladden, Frank Pemberton, Dorothy Ellinger, Bob Hart, Jeryme Upston, Manfred Olson, Edna Savage, Earle Potter, Lillian Potter, LaVerne Homyer, Rosemary Huffman, Frances Faber, Anna May Urath, Margaret Magee, Dalbert Jepson, Cornelia Hulst, Bill Sutton, Marguerite DuRette, Lee Page, Lillian Hart, Edna Luther, Chickson Choi, Pauline Winslow, Marian Wakefield, George Self, Bill McKinney, Martha Jane Hottel, Pat Crossland, Anoka Coates, Rae Yocom, Betty Galloway, Margaret Doege, Jim Barnett, Ely Swisher, Constance Smart, Guy Helmsmith, Louis Hersherberger, Bob F. Anderson, Gene Hibbard, James Pyke, Cloyd Riffe, Forest Robinson, Lois Webb, Evelyn Welsh, Joe Rothrock, Julia Johnson, Lois Burton, Larry Nunnkamp, Lula Benson, Muriel Jones, Dick Van Pelt, Ray Johnston, Victor Ballantyne, Harold Weltsick, Lloyd Riehl, Cathrin Headrick, Charlotte Litchfield, Ruth Bunzow, Marian Chase and Kendall Teisinger.

Fraternities Frolic At Coast Picnics

The Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity men were hosts for their annual Memorial Day picnic last Monday at Winona Beach. Chaperones were Professor and Mrs. Lestle J. Sparks and Dr. and Mrs. Richards.

Guests who attended the picnic were the Misses Helen Woodfin, Genevieve Pond, Maravene Thompson, Dorothy Dingle, Frances Faber, Sally Roach, Anna Linstad, Virginia Wagner, Antoinette Irish, Margaret Engdahl, Barbara Young, Helen Rogers, Lillian Briggs, Anoka Coates, Annabelle Coater, Rae Hungerford, Dorothy Ellinger, Dorothy Murphy, Ruth Ramsden, Ruth Tscherner, Lois Burton.

MARRIAGES

Word has been received from Indianapolis of the marriage, May 2, of Charles Sumner Campbell to Miss Della Wagermann, a nurse whose home is in Indiana. Mr. Campbell was graduated from University of Oregon Medical school in 1936. He was a prominent member of the class of '32 at Willamette University, where he was affiliated with Sigma Tau fraternity, Tau Kappa Alpha honorary, and Alpha Kappa Nu, honorary scholastic fraternity. He was president of the student body his senior year, and was outstanding in forensics during his four years in school.

Miss Rosalind Van Winkle, '31, daughter of Attorney-General I. H. VanWinkle, '98, and '01, will marry Edward Roane Melton of Houston, Texas, son of Mrs. Desie Bell Melton of Washington, D. C., at a home ceremony Saturday, June 12. Dr. R. N. Avison of Portland, former pastor of the First M. E. church in Salem, will read the service at 4 o'clock, before immediate relatives and close friends of the couple. A large reception will follow the wedding.

Miss Van Winkle is a member of Beta Chi sorority and Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary. Following completion of her master's degree at Columbia University, she taught in the LaGrande high school, and has during the past school year been on the faculty of Parrish Junior high school in Salem.

NECROLOGY

Mrs. Allen H. Dodd, formerly head of Willamette University art appreciation department, died May 29 at the Mann home in Portland, according to word received by Dr. H. C. Epley, her brother. She had been ill for eight weeks of heart ailment.

Mrs. Dodd was regarded as an authority on art through her long experience and her wide travels in the Orient and in Europe. While at Willamette she taught classes in decorative arts, appreciation of art, and a homemaking course. She was a former house mother of Beta Chi sorority. Before joining the faculty at Willamette, she was a teacher in the Salem public schools.

Alpha Psi Delta Hosts at Three Rox

The Alpha Psi Delta fraternity was hosts for its annual picnic at the beach on Memorial day. Chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Jones.

Shower Honors Ruth Chapman

Miss Ruth Chapman, '35, who recently set her wedding date as June 19 was honored last Tuesday evening at a bathroom shower given by the Misses Elva Sehon, Frances Stewart and Gwone Hunt at the Sehon home. After an evening of bridge a buffet supper was served.

Those present at the affair included: Mrs. Gus Moore, Mrs. Robert Eyre, Mrs. Arthur Smith of White Salmon, Wash., Mrs. James Sehon, Jr., the Misses Winifred Gardner, Margaret Haug of Portland, Esther Glibbard, Esther Black, Cynthia DeLano, Anna May Urath, Grace Holman, Rachel Pemberton, Margaret Nunn, Alice Speck, and the hostesses, Miss Sehon, Miss Stewart and Miss Hunt.

Alpha Phi Alphas Have Party

A canoeing party on the Willamette river provided one means of diversion during the holidays for a group of Alpha Phi Alpha's and their escorts. The party proceeded up the river to a cove, where time-out was called for refreshments and a bonfire with marshmallows.

Members of the party were Norma Fuller, Helen Hammond, Kay Thompson, Anoka Coates, Rae Yocom, Ruth Yocom, Barbara Kurtz, Marjorie Jones, Mrs. Royer, Miss Morange, Arthur Gallon, Robert Smith, Everett Clark, Verdel Ragsdale and Norman Hostenon.

Miss Margaret Ayers entertained a group of friends last Sunday afternoon with a very lovely dinner at her home.

All the luck in the world to our own Dwight Aden in his pro-ball venture. Dwight is property of the Boston Red Sox now, and therefore is lost to us... but somehow we of Willamette can't lose that sense of proprietorship for "Elmer" which accumulated in us during his sojourn on the campus while he was compiling his brilliant athletic and scholastic record. Again, all the luck in the world to you, Dwight. Pro-ball is no easy sledding but we know you'll come through. You've got what it takes.

Vinnie Harriman is doing all right by himself in the Western International League. The Bearcat shortstop is lead-off man for the up and coming Vancouver Maple Leafs. At latest reports Vinnie was waiting the apple at a .330 clip and doing a nice fielding job around second base.

Another Keene protege, Ken Manning, is going great guns in the East Texas circuit. The former Willamette first sacker, hats clean-up for his club and his record shows he's doing a nice job of it. Ken had a .300 average at last reports and was up among the leaders in runs batted in, total hits and runs scored.

We of the incoming sports staff take our hats off to Bob Keuscher, new Collegian editor and retiring sports editor, for his excellent work on this year's sports page. We wish him luck in his new position.

TENNIS PLAY WINDS UP

Steve Stayner topped Bill Sutton, 6-6, 6-2, to enter the finals in the upper bracket of the men's intramural tennis tourney Thursday. The lower bracket has advanced as far as the quarter finals with Merle Turner, Lynn Moore and Professor Lyman White leading the field. Others who survived the first round were Don Clark and Abe Hagiwara.

One of the closest matches in the men's singles tournament was the quarter final contest staged between Sutton and Hagiwara, in which Sutton finally won in three hard-fought sets, 5-6, 7-7, 6-4.

Earlier on Wednesday, Stayner eliminated Clark, 5-7, 6-2, 6-1. In the mixed doubles, June Braisted and Wallace Turner, and Eleanor Perry and Warren Bertelson will play for the championship today. The combination of Steve Stayner and Jim Smith is leading the men's doubles.

Aden, Sutton, Mosher, Erickson, And Versteeg, Bearcat Lettermen, To Get Commencement Diplomas

"The old order passeth, giving way to the new."

Father Time marches steadily on and cuts this year from the rosters of Willamette athletic teams five seniors who have helped make athletic history the past four years. Numbered among those who will receive their diplomas next week are Charley Versteeg, Dwight Aden, Billy Sutton, George Erickson, and Harry Mosher.

Missed most by Spec Keene (or whoever handles the Bearcat coaching duties) will perhaps be Charley Versteeg, letterman for four years in both football and basketball. Silent Chas. made all-conference honors in both sports during his last three years, was a bulwark of strength at end on the gridiron, and at guard on the hoop squad.

Tall, rangy and yet well-built, Versteeg was of the plodding type, never colorful, but as good as they come in the pinch. He was equally proficient of offense and defense in football and excelled both as a scorer and in guarding Bearcat territory in basketball. He goes next year to an assistant coaching job at Baker, Oregon.

Dwight Aden, known chiefly for his baseball proclivities, was also a letterman on the football team while a freshman and on the basketball squad for two years. But it is at baseball where his true ability became plain. Fast, heady, blessed with a strong throwing arm, and an ever-dangerous batter, Aden was for four years one of the outstanding players in northwest college baseball. He was named this year as centerfielder on the all-conference team chosen annually by Spec Keene. Further proof of his ability and the high esteem in which he is held is shown by the fact that he has signed a contract with the Boston Red Sox of the American League, and will leave soon for that team's farm at Canton, Ohio, in the Mid-Atlantic League, or at Lewiston, Idaho, in the Western-International league.

For all-around athletic ability, few in Willamette history are better than George Erickson, for the "flying Finn from Clatskanie" was a letterman in three sports—football, basketball and baseball. End on the football team, he was out for most of last season with a knee injury, getting into few games. A year ago he was the pivotal man on the basketball team at guard. Furthermore, he was the ace right-handed pitcher on the varsity baseball team. He goes next year to a coaching job at Grants Pass.

Billy Sutton, captain and second baseman of this year's baseball team, leaves a hole to fill around the keystone sack. Small, but with plenty of pep and a fielding flash, Sutton also garnered his share of base hits. Sutton was also on the basketball team for two years but did not turn out last season. He takes over the coaching position at Shedd high school next year, being the third athlete of this year's graduating class to obtain a coaching position.

It is an axiom in sportdom that a team is only as strong as its reserves. And this was just as true of the championship Bearcat basketball team of last winter as any other team. Harry Mosher, blond and short home-town boy, was one of the reasons for this, being one of Keene's first-line reserves. It was these substitutes who kept crowding the first team members and made them battle to hang on to their positions. Mosher was almost but not quite a first-stringer. He was a good shot, fast on his feet, and steady on defense.

A new award in the form of an honor plaque, which will be another goal worth striving for in the field of women's athletics at Willamette, was presented to Ruth Yocom in chapel Thursday. This honor was kept a deep secret until the announcement was made on Awards Day.

Engraved upon the plaque is the following inscription: "In recognition of her outstanding contributions to the social and ethical aspects of the women's physical recreation activities of Willamette University this honor has been conferred upon..." Aden the name of Ruth Yocom has been placed upon an etched plate as the first recipient of this honor.

As for the regulations in awarding the honor, the plaque is to be conferred upon the sophomore or junior girl who, in the opinion of the honor committee, has made an outstanding contribution to the social or ethical aspects of the women's physical recreation activities of Willamette University. Ruth Yocom has been chosen because she, in the eyes of the committee, has reached such attainments as outstanding high personal code of sportsmanship, outstanding cooperation with members of the faculty in dealing with student problems, and outstanding leadership in women's physical recreation activities.

The long list of women's athletic awards given in chapel Thursday indicates the good turnout that has been evident in women's sports this year. There are numerous fields for each girl to try her luck; and many have found their best positions, where they can enjoy the games at the same time that they are improving their technique under the instructor and heads of the different sports.

Basketball, as usual, takes an important place. The basketball intramural cup goes to the Class of 1938, that is, the present junior class. As for this season's all-star team in basketball, the awards have been given out in this manner: Anna May Unrath receives the gold basketball; Frances Faber gets a three-year certificate and Ruth Yocom, the two-year certificate; Jean Annsen, Dolly Dingle, and Irma Oehler are awarded silver basketballs.

Letter awards for having reached the 700-point mark go to Jean Annsen, Margaret Gillette, Cornelia Hulst, June Johnson, Barbara Kurtz, Mabel Lenz, Jean Lauderback, Ruth Ramsden, Ruth Tscherner, and Loye Bogardus. The plan used in distributing these points is that 100 points are given for participation in each sport, which requires regular attendance at the daily games as well as in the final play-off in the tournament.

Five girls are receiving sweaters for having attained the 1500-point mark. They are Marguerite DuRette, Frances Faber, Irma Oehler, Lorene Tompkins, and Ruth Yocom.

The recipient of this year's senior cup, which is presented on the basis of character, athletic ability, and good sportsmanship, is Rachel Yocom, who has worked up no mean reputation for herself in the athletic records of Willamette during her four years here.

Willamette women's archery scores have been sent in to the intercollegiate telegraphic meet of the National Archery association. Although results have not yet been received, comparisons can be set forth according to former records.

Willamette's team, composed of Gladys Eggleston, Jean Annsen, June Johnson, Lunelle Chapin, June Rowland, Esther Callison, Belle Brown, and Barbara Kurtz, has a team total of 459-2335, which indicates a good standing in comparison with the highest northwest score of the intercollegiate telegraphic archery tournament for 1935, when Oregon State won the high score of 526-2120.

Gladys Eggleston holds the high individual score of 69.463, which shows up well when it is compared with the average individual score for the northwest—55-289.

Alpha Psi Champs Place 5 All-Stars

Five members of the champion Alpha Psi Delta team, three members of Sparks' Physical Education men, one player each from Sigma Tau and Kappa Gamma Rho compose this year's Collegian all-star softball team.

The second team is comprised of three P. E. staff players, three from Alpha Psi, two from the Independent nine, and two players from the Law School.

These players were selected both for their fielding and batting and sportsmanship. Most of the selected members are good hitters as well as excellent fielders. Members of both first and second teams are as follows:

Catcher, Harry Mosher, Alpha Psi. Consistent and colorful catcher. One of the best sluggers in the league.

Pitchers, Don Stockwell, P. E., southpaw curve-ball chucker, good fast ball, and excellent control. Bob Keuscher, Alpha Psi, excellent in pinches, curve ball artist. Good hitter and good fielding pitcher.

First base, Frank Guerin, Alpha Psi, one of league's best hitters with .448 average, steady fielder.

Second base, Cecil Quesseth, Alpha Psi. Smart ball player. Good pitcher and fielder.

Short stop, John Kelly, Alpha Psi. One of the best hitters in league with .449 average. Brilliant work at short stop.

Right field, Jim Barnett, Kappa. Consistent fly ball ace. Good hitter and clever player.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By ABE HAGIWARA

By winning three straight games in the playoffs, Alpha Psi Delta won the intramural softball championship of the school. The softball title is the second major title won by the fratmen this season, since they also were winners of the school passball (touch football) title last fall.

During the season the Alpha Psi team had the excellent squad batting average of .358, including the playoff games.
