BEARCATS SMOTHER LINNFIELD ELEVEN

WILLAMETTE ROOTERS GO

Game Fought in Downpour That Makes Field Muddy.

Final Score 36 to 0

Backed by about one hundred and fifty rooters who made the journey in cars the Willamette Bearcats showed unexpected power and drive when they won their first conference game by swamping Linnfield College 36 to 0 on the latter's new athletic field.

Willamette took the ball from the first kickoff and started a march for a touchdown. Cranor tore thru tackle for a gain of 25 yards, French made two eight yard gains, and it looked as if Willamette would have a score in the first three minutes of play. With the ball on the one yard line Willamette fumbled and lost the ball. When Linnfield punted out of danger the Bearcats started another drive for a touchdown which ended on the 20 yard line. Then Willamette regained the ball on an incomplete lateral pass and a twenty yard run by DePoe put the ball in scoring distance. On the third play DePoe slipped thru guard for the touchdown.

On the net kickoff Willamette carried the ball in six plays for a touchdown. French, DePoe, and Cranor alternately carried the ball for large gains and Cranor slipped over to make the score 13 to 0. The Willamette line was opening large holes for the backfield and the Bearcats secured first downs one after the other.

In the second quarter after an exchange of punts on which Willamette gained ten yards, Cranor passed over the goal line, and Linnfield's punt from the twenty yard line carried only ten yards. Cranor shot a short ten yard pass to DePoe who twisted away from several would be tacklers and crossed the goal line.

A Linnfield fumble on their own five yard line paved the way for the fourth Bearcat score. DePoe punched the ball over on the third play. The half ended just as Cranor zigzagged thru the whole Linnfield team for thirty yards.

Linnfield's only threat came in the third quarter when Jones.

DR. DONEY PREACHES AT DAYTON REUNION

Dr. Carl Gregg Doney preached the Home-Coming sermon at Dayton, Oregon last Sunday.

Former pastors who had lived there forty-five years ago and others during the intervening years returned for the occasion. Letters were read from many who were unable to attend.

After the services a dinner was served in the community hall. Dr. Doney stated that the dinner will long be remembered by all those who attended.

Kimball Dormitory Filled
The Kimball Dormitory on the third floor of the building is well filled this year. Nine men stay there from Tuesday to Friday. Only two stay over the week end, the remainder going to their charges at that time.

LETTERMEN GET UNDER WAY IN ORGANIZATION

Officers are Elected at Meeting Wearing of Rooters' Lids Stressed For All

At an election held Tuesday after chapel Willis Hathaway, letterman in track, was elected president of the "W" club. For vice president Ivan White was chosen by the members of the organization. White has won letters in tennis and was football manager last fall.

During the meeting the club discussed ways and means of making the organization an important as well as influential party on the campus. It was decided to lay plans for a rally before the Oregon game this coming Saturday, at which event the "W" club will enforce attendance as well as the wearing of rooters' lids. It was also emphasized that the rooters lid is to be worn by the rooks the day previous to all games.

WILLAMETTE DRIVE CAMPAIGN PLANNED

Committee of Eight is Named to Raise Total of Nearly $300,000

Plans looking to the raising of nearly $300,000 necessary to meet Willamette university's contract with the Rockefeller Foundation were outlined at a meeting of the committee of 15 from the board of trustees and alumni of the university with President Doney of that institution Tuesday afternoon. According to the agreement the Rockefeller Foundation is to give $350,000 when the university has raised $650,000.

At the meeting yesterday a committee of eight, with R. A. Booth as chairman, was appointed to raise the necessary money. Pledges for this amount must be made before Christmas this year, and must be paid by October 1, 1929. The committee in charge of the drive includes Dr. W. W. Youngson, Dr. B. L. Steeves, Dr. Carl G. Doney, A. L. Howarth, Paul Wallace, J. A. C. Oakes and M. R. De Long.

Dr. Howarth will obtain two men who have had experience in movements of this sort and will inform Dr. Doney when he has made arrangements with them. A meeting of the special committee will then be called to go forward with the drive.

In the Forward Movement campaign of 1922, pledges for $1,000,000 were obtained. From this money the gymnasium was built, improvements made on other buildings, and old debts paid. Of the pledges made in 1922, some $200,000 were for deferred payment. Of the remaining $800,000 about $639,000 have been paid to date. Thus, as Dr. Doney indicated, the present campaign must virtually raise the balance to make $750,000 clear for endowment and the amount that was necessary for building the gymnasium, repairing Waller hall and paying former obligations.

Fellowship Hour Changed
The Y. M. C. A. announced that the "Fellowship Hour," which has hitherto been held on Sunday morning, will be changed to Wednesday at 7:15 A. M. The first meeting under the new schedule will be held on the 16th.

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR HOMECOMING

APPOINTS DEPT. HEADS

Action in Getting Under Way To Be Rapid. Only Short Interval Is Left

Homecoming will be the 26th and 27th of this month and already Mr. Charles Kaufman is beginning to lay plans for a big event that will be an advance on all previous Homecomings. The Blue Key Fraternity plans to get in touch with many of the alumni during the coming two weeks in order to bring more of the old grads back. Committee meetings will be held this week to set the machinery in motion. The fraternities and sororities will compete again this year for the cup which is awarded to the house which has the best Homecoming sign. With the fine team which Willamette has this year as an inspiration and the experience of last year as a guide it is possible that the competition will be keen and the results better than ever.

On Friday morning, October 26, the campus will be cleaned up and put in order. There will be a rally during the day and fireworks followed by the Blue Key Collegiate Carnival in the evening. Saturday the game will be played with the College of Puget Sound as our very worthy opponents. Saturday evening the Theta Alpha Phi Dramatic Fraternity will present the play "Alice Sit-by-the-Fire" by Sir James Barrie bringing to a close the big event of the fall term. All students are urged to bring their parents and friends. It is at such times as Homecoming and May Day that the outside world gets a chance to look Willamette over.

FRESH-GLEE PLANS STARTING, TO DATE

With the appointing of the Freshmen Glee committee by president of the Student Body, Kenneth Litchfield, the plans for this occasion are being laid. It will be the duty of the members of this committee, Willis Hathaway, Marjory Miller and Frances McGilvra to select the type of song, as well as to regulate the matter of words and music of the various classes. Acting with this group will be the manager of the Glee who is elected by the freshman class.

Other committees named by Mr. Litchfield are the Collegian contract committee composed of Frank VanDyke and Frank Lombard, and the Student chapel committee whose personnel consists of Katherine Everett, Margaret Pro and Donald Grant.

Hoover Club Expects Folders

CHECKING OF CARDS SHOWS PREFERENCE

431 Students Are Found to Be Church Members. 72 Give No Choice at All

The results of the church census made at Willamette University during registration week show that the students have a wide range of preference.

The survey was tabulated by the Rev. F. C. Taylor, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Of the total number of 527 students who enrolled this year, 493 filled out the church directory cards. Of that number only 72 were non-church members.

There are among the 493 filled directory cards 20 churches or denominations represented. 421 students are church members, 72 non-church members and 22 having no church preference.

These figures show the number of students attending each church: Baptist 14, Roman Catholic 8, Cent. Miss Korea 1, Disciples of Christ 24, Community church 2, Congregational 17, Episcopal 13, Evangelical 11, Church of Christian Science 11, Friends 5, Lutheran 5, Mennonite 2, Methodist Episcopal 289, Presbyterian 59, Protestant 3, Protestant Episcopal 1, Seventh Day Adventist 1, United Brethren 3, Unitarian 5, Church of Brothers 1.

A comparison with the years 1926 and '27 shows that in 1926, 438 students filled directory cards, of whom 13 were non-church members, 307 Methodists; 47 Presbyterians; 6 Baptist; 6 Catholic; 8 Congregational. In 1927, 449 filled cards, 52 were

JUNIOR STAGE REACHED IN TAKING OF PICTURES

The taking of pictures for the Willamette has progressed to the "junior stage" according to editor George Poor. Next week will be given over to the seniors, who will then don the cap and gown for the first time, when seated before the camera.

Genevra, Amy's friend
..... Eloise White

CUBS PLEDGE NEW MEMBERS LAST MEET

Group Active in Sponsoring Willamette Night at Elsinore for Rally Preceding Game

At the regular meeting of the Cubs held last Thursday new members were taken in. These men are Carpenter, Albin, Smith, Hartley, Pope, Halstead, Van de Griff, Campbell, and Hillis. The one member remaining to be selected from the Freshmen class will be chosen at the next regular meeting.

The Cubs are sponsoring Willamette Night at the Elsinore, which will be held Friday evening, October 26.

The members of the organization were assigned their places for service at the athletic contests which will be held throughout the year. They will maintain order at the home guests and en route to other colleges with which we play.

Last Tuesday the Cubs checked up on those not carrying their Handbooks, and wearing their green lids. Those not complying with the regulations received spots.

Spiritual Hodge Podge

Without attempting to give an iron-clad definition of college spirit we should like to suggest the following as an expression of that "indefinable something", and to qualify some of the requisites to it. College spirit is that background of ideals and attitudes towards one's Alma Mater which is the dominating and directing force behind one's acts with respect to her. Such a concept of college spirit gives it tangibility, but its greatest value lies in the fact that it makes the spirit the guiding force in the life of the student.

In this directing power is the demand that the possessor maintain a spirit of hospitality to both those visitors on the gridiron and in those in the stands.

It requires us to enter into the college life and to play, not crab the game. It not only involves ourselves, but those around us and our contacts with them. It extends its scope to our relationships with the faculty.

It includes the furthering of the efforts and aims of those representing the school. It tends to weld us into one integral unit without overshadowing our initiative for advancement. It is the giver of direction to one's college acts.

It is the result of the learning on the part of the students to back the team until the final whistle has sounded. It is the knowledge that there is a proper time and place for criticism, but that on the athletic field in the midst of a contest is neither the time nor the place.

In summary it is the spirit in the classroom, study hall, activities and on the gridiron which exemplifies LET'S GO WILLAMETTE U.

Internationalism Replaces Imperialism

"Take up the White man's burden—
Send forth the best ye breed—
Go bind your sons to exile
To serve your captors' needs;
To wait in heavy harness,
On fluttered fold and wild
Your new-caught sullen peoples,
Half devil and half-child."

—Rudyard Kipling.

These lines, written when England was at the height of her imperial power express the altruistic conception that dominated the minds of some of her statesmen when they exploited the races of backward peoples. The white man's burden, in plain prose, is to govern and civilize the backward peoples who are half devil and half child, sullen and wild. Jules Ferry made it quite plain when he said that the "superior" races felt it their duty to civilize the "inferior" races.

This aggressive altruism has played a dominant part in the expansion of all countries. It is the shibboleth of the politician who must needs get popular support for the moneyed interests. France has a mission civilisatrice in Africa. Germans devoutly believed in their call to give German Culture to the hapless negroes of Africa. Americans, to a less degree, take pride in the sanitary, educational and other reforms which they have achieved in the conquered islands of the Caribbean and the Pacific.

This entrance in backward countries is one not unmixed with good. The imperialist has much to offer the people in achieving economic betterment. In the opinion of Nicholas Murray Butler if the international mind will continue to develop as strongly as it has in recent years it can hardly fail to assail the citadels of self seeking imperialism. Once the fog has lifted perhaps in the place of imperialism will establish an edifice in which enlightened national interest and humane internationalism will work together.

Athletics and Willamette

No dispassionate and informed judgment can share in the extravagant claims made for college athletics or in the exaggerated charges made against them. Both positions can be maintained only if one is determined to prove the rule by its exceptions. Virtue and vice connect themselves with athletics, as they do with prohibition, marriage and even with scholarship — anything may be abused. In certain instances college athletics have been abused by the excessive zeal of coaches, alumni, the public and student participants. They have misinterpreted the purpose of athletics and have sought to win games at the price of honor, health and the major objective of college life.

I do not condemn athletics for these abuses; I do condemn the men who are responsible for them and who thereby make it harder for athletics to achieve their high possibilities. Such men perform an utter disservice to every student and college and to the public — they bring discredit upon what is intended to be an undivided blessing.

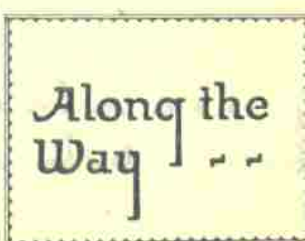

Athletics, freed from these abuses, are an exhaustless source of well-being for the student. They offer him physical health and a consequent increase of power to use his mind and spirit with greater and finer efficiency. They break down the inhibitions formed by introspection and seclusion, giving them poise, self-confidence and dynamic personality. They key him to alertness, inducing quick judgment and action. They release his energies in wholesome uses, which would otherwise be employed to his detriment. They progressively demand more than he has, while providing a training which will constantly enable him to be more than he is. They make a rational and practical appeal to his honor and sustain him in the formation of clean and righteous habits. They create a sense of personal responsibility and of mutual interdependence leading to loyalty to fellow students and to the school. They are a means for unfolding what a student potentially is and for clinching his development by the same concrete activity.

These and other vast benefits demonstrate that athletics have a large place in any system of education; and this recognition should be freely accorded. We feel that Willamette makes this recognition and that its athletics are free from any faults which human foresight can obviate. No instructors have higher or more resolute purposes than those in charge of Willamette's athletics and I have never known a student body which so completely matched them.

We still are in need of certain facilities: some instruments and apparatus, the removal of the grandstand to the south side of the athletic field or, better still, a concrete bowl which will seat fifteen thousand. I think the stars in their courses indicate that these things will not be denied us. Meanwhile, we wish athletics to be a part of the education of every student, making him greater as a scholar and a man. Naturally we hope to hear the bell in Waller ring for Conference victories, realizing that, when it does ring, it is also sounding a victory for untarnished athletics.

Editor's Note.—We have heard the expression on the part of many students of the wish to hear what the president of the university thinks of athletics. The above is the result of that question being put to him.

The student body office is locked at nights because of the fact that students have seen fit to abuse the privileges of the use of these rooms. The offices were installed to facilitate the work of the Collegian staff and of the student body officers. They were not built to afford a place for individuals to hold little tete tetes in the wee hours of the morning. If the locking of the door at night causes you some inconvenience you may blame some unknown fellow students.

Common Talk?

Willamette has gone into the poultry business, according to Dame Rumor. Some of the pigeon flock from the home roost got away over the week-end, if current story has it rightly, and cavorted dunce-fashion—on a stool—under the light of a mellow moon. No doubt they were of the carrier variety. And the peaceful doves stayed home.

Gabby said he liked the speaker at the "Y" Monday night "because he liked us 'men'."

To whom it may concern:

Ten Years Ago

Two women enter law according to the enrollment statistics now available, two women aspire to legal honors, in the Willamette University. Although men predominates, young women seem to have "courage of convictions," and Willamette may be justly proud of them in the future.

"On to Pacific"

Collegian now has new office. Owing to the increased size of the Collegian, new and larger quarters have become a necessity. The northwest corner of the first floor of Waller Hall has been fitted up with first class equipment for newspaper work and affords about four times the floor space hitherto available. The increased size of the paper has necessitated larger staff and every effort is being put forth to bring the paper up to the highest standard of efficiency.

The astronomy class was well entertained by the Freshmen marauders last evening. The State House grounds, seen thru the telescope, appeared full of green caps. So interested were the students that even the stars were forgotten. Professor Mathews alone continued to point his telescope to the sky, and even he admitted he could see nothing but Frosh or Jupiter.

Dr. Hall is a man of many sides. He has been minister, professor, author, and lecturer. He has made many translations from Norwegian and German languages and vice versa. Willamette seems to him to be a friendly place in a beautiful town. He lives in Salem with his wife and small daughter, Evangelical Nora, who is nine years old.

Registration in Kimball this year shows a decided increase over that of last year, there being a total enrollment of twenty three. There will be 3 graduates in the spring.

ALUMNI ARE HERE, THERE, EVERYWHERE

Reports come in from all over the world concerning Willamette alumna who are doing things that are vastly interesting and worthwhile.

Perhaps Ralph and Esther Parinaugan Barnes are the most envied of all, for they recently finished six weeks of study in old Heidelberg, Germany, after an interesting trip into Russia.

Jeter and Lorelle Blatchford and their adorable youngster are nearer home now that they have joined journalistic fortunes with Hugh McGilvra in the News-Times at Forest Grove.

Gilbert and Kathleen LeRaut Wrenn have resigned from Monmouth Normal School to attend Stanford where they plan to study for their M. A. degree. Monmouth has Millicent King to represent Willamette on the faculty and the Berremans, Joel and Sevilla Ricks, et cetera, in the business management there.

Louise Nunn reports that she is keenly enjoying her work with the Y. W. C. A. at Baker, Oregon. As usual, she is working overtime and making a great many friends.

Paul H. Doney, having attained five college degrees since his graduation in 1920, has gone to Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., as professor of English literature this year.

The Silver sisters are both serving in Girl Reserve work. Ann is in Tacoma, but Elizabeth has come as far home as Portland. Her department of the work there is concerned with the grade school groups.

PLAYERS CHOSEN FOR THETA ALPHA PHI PLAY

Ruth Bauer had a part in "The Master Builder", while both Esther Lisle and Bernice Jackson had parts in the junior play "The Passing of the Third Floor Back".

The comedy "Alice Sit-by-the-Fire" is one of James Barrie's productions and is written in his own whimsical style. It is the story of a very young mother who is trying to come back into the lives of her children. After having been in India for several years with her husband, an officer in the British army, and, having been the flirt of the past while she was there, she finds it very difficult to settle down when she comes back to her children in England, and consequently makes many mistakes trying to win them to her. But the father, now a retired army officer, gets along unusually well with the children. Amy, a very romantic youngster, just out of boarding school, has been having a wonderful time seeing her first real plays. Consequently when she finds her mother kissing Steve, a friend of the family, she imagines that he is just like the villain in the plays, and accordingly she tries to save her mother by a very dramatic procedure. The last scene is a romantic triumph for Amy. Imagining her parents the victims of a love triangle, she attempts to unite them and make them happy again.

Gene Tunney and his domesticated "Polly" have struck a snag already on the sea of matrimony. She wants to kick over the traces in Trieste, while the ex-champ wants to pull the publicity stunt in Rome or Naples where the chances for a larger gate receipt are insured. It seems Gene is doomed to meet his first defeat.

FAST BEARCAT ELEVEN DOWNS LINFIELD TEAM

Wildcat halfback, broke away from the temporarily sleeping Willamette eleven and ran forty yards before he was downed. McMullin ended this attempt to score when he intercepted a Wildcat pass on his own 25 yard line. Then faour successive first downs put the ball within scoring distance but the Linfield line held on the five yard line. Willamette then blocked Warren's attempt to punt and recovered the ball on the eight yard line. Despite a fifteen yard penalty Willamette pushed their fifth touchdown over in three plays.

Willamette's last score came early in the fourth quarter. Page made ten yards thru tackle to put the ball on the seven yard line. DePoe shoved it across in two plays.

Play was slowed up by the muddy field but Willamette exhibited some speed and power that may prove dangerous to other members of the conference. All the men on the Bearcat squad were given a chance to show their wares and gain sme experience.

The Lineup is as Follows

Willamette	Position	Linfield
Mumford	LE	Draws
Versteeg	LT	Pierson
Emmons	LG	Lambert
Ackerman	C	King
Philpot	RG	Jones

PLAN PROPOSED TO ALTER INITIATIONS

The first meeting of the interfraternity council was held dinner, Thursday, October 4, at the Alpha Psi Delta House.

The discussion of the meeting was largely that of inflation, finance, and the scholarship cup. The fraternities are working toward higher scholarship. This will result in keener competition for the scholarship cup which is to be awarded to the fraternity with the highest average for the semester.

The council is composed of three faculty representatives and the president, vice president, and manager of each fraternity.

The electino of the officers resulted in Robert Moulton Gatke being selected as president, and Lloyd Harder was made secretary.

Members of the three house appointed committees to work toward cooperative finance.

Other fraternity problems were brought up and discussed informally.

"The Chocolate Soldier" was first produced in Vienna and there found such immediate success and favor that it was soon translated and revised into English. Music for the principal and the chorus has already arrived here, and the rehearsals will begin immediately.

ARTS STUDENTS TAKING MUSIC IS SIXTY THREE

Few of the Willamette students appreciate the high quality of the Willamette School of Music. Under the leadership of Professor E. W. Hobson, vocal professor and of Miss Virginia Melton, piano supervisor, the music courses have become of such well known repute that they draw many students to this campus. Sixty-three Liberal Arts Students are taking music courses. Of these forty-eight are girls, and fifteen are men.

KIMBALL DEAN WRITES TEXT FOR BIBLE STUDY

"Thinking Through The Bible"
New Book Completed by Dr.
John D. McCormick Recently

Dean McCormick's new book entitled "Thinking Through the Bible" is now being used by a number of students on the campus. It is the text book in Freshman Bible for which it was primarily prepared. It is a general survey of the Bible from the survey of the Bible from the standpoint of history and literature. Requests for copies for examination have come from a number of professors of Bible in different parts of the country.

In his introduction Dr. Edward Laird Mills, editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, has said, "At least a thousand books appear annually in the United States dealing with religious subjects. Most of the books, however, are ABOUT the Bible. The number of books which throw the student back upon himself and make him appreciate the inner significance of Bible truth is altogether too small. To this number Dean McCormick has made a worthy addition."

In thinking through the Bible, he has sought to inspire actual study of the sacred book and reflection upon the results. Anyone who answers the inquiries propounded may be expected to obtain a well-balanced and well rounded view of the Bible.

its annual recognition service in the chapel last Thursday afternoon. The twofold purpose of this attractive and impressive ceremony was to acquaint both new and old members with the cabinet, and to rekindle the Y spirit among the university women. This latter objective was accomplished through the beautiful Blue Triangle ceremony. A large blue triangle was held by three girls and each of the others lighted her candle from the flame of the three symbolic tapers within the triangle. "Y" songs such as "Follow the Gleam" and "Father of Light" were then sung. Pipe organ music by Dorothy Whipple added to the beauty of the entire service.

The president, Elsie Tucker, then introduced her cabinet members as follows: Membership, Anna Mary McKinley; social, Jean White; social service, Beatrice Lockhart; world fellowship, Ruth Margaret Hall; program, Katherine Everett; publicity, Betty Lewis; association rooms, Margaret Schrieber; religious education, Roberta Vannice; finance, Dorothy Taylor. These girls head the different committees from which each girl chooses the one upon which she is most interested in serving during the coming year.

FORBIDDEN LHASA TOPIC OF LECTURE

"Forbidden Lhasa" will be the subject of Dr. William Montgomery McGovern's unique lecture to be given Thursday, October 18, at 8 p. m. in the Willamette gymnasium. This is the first of the two very fine lectures coming to the students this year.

Dr. McGovern, famed for his perilous and eminently successful entrance into "Forbidden Lhasa," the capitol of Tibet, brings to the campus a rare treat in the story of his adventure in the sacred city in Tibet. In order to gain an entrance Dr. McGovern disguised himself as a native colie, even discoloring his eyes with lemon juice to perfect his disguise, since he was risking death at the hands of the fanatical monks should he be discovered.

By a clever camouflage Dr. McGovern was able to take in a motion picture camera, and the story of Lhasa is illustrated by the first motion picture, ever taken in this mysterious city where the natives observe some very unique customs.

This scientist and explorer has also tramped the Amagonian jungle and brings a pictorial record of his experiences there as well.

CONFERENCE OPENS A PROMISING YEAR

Two Games Have Already Been Played, Percentages

Willamette	1	0	1000
Pacific	0	0	000
Whitman	0	0	000
College of Idaho	0	1	000
Linfield	0	1	000

Opening with a sensational upset the Northwest Conference began what promises to be its most successful year, Sunday October 5. On that day College of Puget Sound trimmed a veteran array from the College of Idaho 6 to 0, thus marking itself as an outstanding contender in '28.

On the following day Willamette opposed on the newly completed Linfield gridiron and vanquished the home team 36 to 0. The score was the biggest run up by a Willamette team in several years and incidentally was a long step towards conference high scoring honors.

On the same day Whitman gave indication of great power by holding the W of W to a 7 to 0 score in a non-conference affair. Previously the Huskies had walloped Pacific, also a Northwest conference member, 46 to 0.

The calibre of football so far developed has been above that of previous any year and promises to make the conference members feared even in Pacific Coast Conference circles.

Dope on the northwest conference teams as gleaned by collegian reporter during last week.

WHITMAN HOLDS U OF W TO 7-0 SCORE

Saturday, October 6. A powerful, determined Whitman aggregation threw a scare into the tired Husky eleven, who had played a strenuous game the previous day with Pacific, by holding them to a lone touchdown. The Washington second string started the game but after they were overpowered by the fighting Missionaries, the first team was sent in to stem the tide. Unable to penetrate the Whitman line at first, Washington resorted to passes, their single score coming late in the first period by this route.

The stands were given quite a thrill in the third quarter when both teams nearly scored on the same play. After Washington had bucked the ball down to Whitman's one-yard line, Chuck Carroll was called upon to push the ball, and Harschbarger of Whitman scooped it up and raced the length of the field with two Huskies at his heels. He was called back, however, by the referee, who ruled that he had stepped over the boundary line near the middle of the field.

The game, for the most part, resolved into a punting duel with Baegly, of Whitman getting the best of Buzard, halfback on the Washington squad.

Huskies Wallop Pacific 43-0
Friday, October 5. The Washingtonians Huskies trampled under the light Badger eleven this afternoon to the tune of 43-0. As soon as they had rolled up a safe margin, the Washingtonians ran in the second quarter, which had a difficult time in trying to penetrate the Badger line. Pacific played better football than the score would indicate, for they held the Huskies to a lone touchdown during the last half, and garnered six first downs; five of them resulting from long passes. Carroll, stellar Washington ball-carrier, made the first three touchdowns in the first quarter while the brilliant running of Buzard was accountable for two more of the Husky markers. Pollock was the outstanding player for Pacific.

The Northwest conference opened in a most spectacular fashion last Friday, when the College of Puget Sound reversed the dope and vanquished the College of Idaho eleven 6 to 0.

The game was marked by hard and furious playing and not until the final whistle was it definitely won. The Loggers at times demonstrated a driving offense, while their defense was also creditable. College of Idaho seemed to have trouble in getting started and seemed always a jump behind the Loggers; however, at times the Coyotes displayed ability which will rank them among the leaders at the finish.

WEBFOOTERS INVADE LAIR OF BEARCATS

Visitors Have Decided Weight Advantages Over Us. Game Is Called at 2:30

Next Saturday the Willamette gridders will meet the University of Oregon Webfooters in what will be the first game on the home field. In tackling the Oregon men the Bearcats will meet an eleven which has both weight and speed. The Willamette line which averages about 170 pounds to a man will go against a line averaging about 185 pounds. In the backfield the Willamette average of 145 pounds will be met by an opposing weight per man of 170 pounds.

In the Oregon-Stanford games the Webfooters were reputed as having one of the best teams on the coast. Their best offensive threat against Stanford was by use of the aerial attack. However, it is expected that Oregon will use her weight advantage in smashing plays through the Bearcat line.

The Willamette team on the other hand is expected to resort largely to the passing game, as their hope of scoring against McEwan's men.

It is expected that several of the Bearcats who at present are on the injured list will be ready to go again. With these men back the team will be greatly strengthened.

The game will start at 2:30.

DELAWARE, Ohio. — Twenty-one members of the Ohio Wesleyan faculty are included in the last edition of "Who's Who in America," which has just been published. Seventeen of the twenty-seven department heads of the faculty are listed in the volume. This is the largest number Ohio Wesleyan University has ever had, the previous edition of "Who's Who" having listed but nineteen.

"To save wear and tear on his fire escape, a Scotch hotel keeper takes them off every Leap Year." —Collegian, St. Mary's.

Sportorials

Well, it looked mighty good to see such a group of Bearcat rooters in the stands at Linfield Saturday. What about that Bearcat spirit? We ask you now.

"Spec" says that both teams will only be allowed eleven men on the field Saturday. This is according to the rules. But one thing that the rules do not mention is the number of supporting students allowed in the bleachers. We have the edge on Webfooters in spirit. Let's make it count.

This is going to be a real battle. We are all going to make it so beginning with the team, going through, Phil, and ending with every student to the last rock.

We have had our Rahs for Babe Ruth, and with the final dramatic ending of the 1928 baseball season football will again dominate the sporting world. Now for some Rahs for the Bearcats.

In the game with Oregon Saturday, Salem fans and Willamette followers will have the opportunity of seeing high class talent perform. At center, the Oregon team has George Stadelman, who named as second a conference man last year, and whom coach McEwan is pointing for all coast honors this year. Along with Stadelman are several players given honorable mention who will be in the game Saturday.

Bearcat fans will be glad to note that nearly all the injured Bearcat players will be ready to go at top speed against Oregon. Mort, regular guard, will be back and will strengthen the line both on offense and defense. Flock, tackle, is also coming along in good shape and his defensive ability will be needed against Oregon. Gibson, the other member on the casualty list, is just about ready and may get in the game.

A significant fact about the teams of the northwest conference is that each year teams of this conference are gradually meeting more of the larger schools. This year Whitman has games scheduled with Universities of Washington and Idaho, and Washington state college. Willamette and Pacific Universities both have two games each scheduled with coast conferences teams. It would seem that if this practice continues teams of the Northwest conference will be rated as nearly equal to the larger schools.

The Bearcat athletics have been blessed this year with excellent football weather. Warm autumn days have done a great deal in limbering up muscles and keeping the men in shape.

BEARCATS WIN THE LAST GAME IN '13

Held Webfooters to Scoreless Game in 1924. Past Days Brought to Mind

Willamette's victory in 1913 is still pointed to by Willamette grads as a high point in the Methodist school's athletic history. It wasn't, however, a fluke victory; athletics at Willamette had really reached that level at the time, when the university included a medical school from which it drew a considerable number of stars.

There are any number of persons in Salem who can tell without stopping to cudgel their memories, who it was that raced across Oregon's goal line with the ball and scored the winning touchdown. It was Brazier C. Small, now Justice of the peace here. Willamette won 6 to 3, the lemon yellow being unable to do better than a field goal.

Sweetland Then Coach

That was, one of the last seasons when football players were wearing those one piece suits which included a sleeveless canvass jacket attached to the padded trousers. Some of them were still hanging in the Willamette gymnasium when it burned down in 1920.

It was also in the heyday of sports at Willamette under the leadership of Dr. J. D. Sweetland, when the cardinal and gold held its own also with O. A. C. and other large schools.

Slump Is Brief

Two years later the lemon yellow again invaded Sweetland field, but this time they found conditions changed. Dr. Sweetland had departed and Willamette was in an athletic slump which ended abruptly the following year when Robert L. Mathews appeared on the scene.

Mathews performed wonders at Willamette with the limited material that he had, but he did not pit his gridiron teams against the state schools.

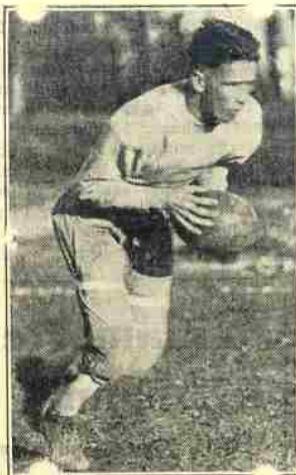

Some of the fans suspected that in view of the worlds of fight Mathews instilled into his mole-skin warriors, he didn't have the heart to match them against odds, for his men would have died rather than be scored on—a fact which was demonstrated in games against Multnomah club and similar heavy teams.

MEET THE TEAM

We would like to introduce Willard Rusch, two year letterman and veteran tackle. Rusch has the reputation of being somewhat slow, but he always may be counted upon to get his man, and is known for his hard tackling, which has materially reduced the score of Willamette opponents at times. Rusch can be depended upon to give a good account of himself against any team.

Willamette has good reason to be proud of her shifty quarterback and heady field general, "Chuck" Depoe. Chuck is an excellent passer, a speedy broken-field runner, and a good defensive player. The minute he is in a suit, Depoe's happy-go-lucky attitude is changed into a serious, canny, go-get-em spirit. Chuck is going better than ever this year, and will be an important cog in Spec Keene's football machine.

Curtis (Hiram) French has been the very symbol of tough luck the last two years, in which he qualified for the team, and was incapacitated because of an injury. Third time is the charm, and it seems to be working wonders with French, who has been going great in the last two games. Besides being shifty and speedy, French is an excellent punter, and has been doing most of the punting for Willamette this season.

Scored in 1921

The first season after he left, 1921, the Bearcats under Coach Roy Bohler played Oregon here and held the Webfooters to a 7 to 3 score. "Tuffy" Irvine booted Willamette's field goal. The team composed entirely of men previously coached by Mathews, was Oregon's equal on defense but had no offense worth mentioning, and failed to score after recovering a blocked punt on Oregon's five yard line.

Again in 1924 Oregon sent a team to Salem to play the Bearcats and was lucky to escape defeat. Willamette carried the ball across the goal line, but a penalty was called and the play didn't count. The game ended scoreless.

MT. VERMONT, Iowa. — According to an item in the Mt. Vernon Hawkeye-Record, Cornell College will receive a gift of $10,000 from the estate of George Hunter, prominent Des Moines business man, who died September 10. His will states that the college shall receive this sum at the end of fifteen months.

Mr. Hunter was a graduate of Cornell in the class of 1893, and a member of the board of trustees, his term expiring this year.

CRANOR AND FRENCH OUT WITH INJURIES

Prospects that past performances of Willamette teams might be duplicated and the University of Oregon Webfooters scored on here in Saturday's game, faded Wednesday when the Bearcats' two most capable ball carriers showed up with injuries that kept them out of the contest.

Garnie Cranor, all-Northwest conference halfback last season, is suffering from an injury to his back, and Curtis French, his regular running mate, has partly renewed the injury which kept his arm in a plaster cast for several months last year.

That leaves only Depoe and McMullin of the regular backfield to carry the brunt of the attack. Cardinal and Page may be called upon to fill their places, although there are several other promising candidates, including Engebretsen and McBee; but none of these four has the seasoning necessary men acceptably in a tough game such as the one with Oregon will be.

Mort and Flock, two of the best linemen, are still nursing the injuries they received in the Washington game, so that the forward wall will be equally weakened.

WILLAMETTE WESLEYANS

The wide scope of interests and purposes for life-work of the students who attend the meetings of the Wesleyans demands a program sufficiently varied to appeal to all, according to Dr. McCormick, who was called upon by the Wesleyan president, Pat Dahlin, to give his impressions of the organization during the past few years and to suggest to the group the ideal of purpose which it might strive toward during this year.

The organization was at first a group of students studying together the problems and challenges of Christian service in the home field. Some time ago the Wesleyans invited the students who were contemplating service in the foreign field and who were organized as a Student Volunteer Band to join with them, forming one group embracing all phases and types of Christian service, home and foreign. The students of both organizations recognized that their problems and interests were so much the same that there was much to be gained in working together.

The Wesleyans is certainly not limited to students contemplating full-time service, as all students in the University and in Kimball who are interested in the wide variety of subjects discussed and studied in the organization are invited to attend the meetings.

PACIFIC HOPES TO UPSET WILLAMETTE

With the northwest conference under way, which so far has resulted in victories for College of Puget Sound and Willamette university and defeats for College of Idaho and Linfield, the dopesters still look upon Pacific as the dark horse in the race. Pacific has been defeated by University of Washington and Oregon by scores which, if scores mean anything, do not speak any too well for the Badger eleven.

By comparative scores Willamette, which was defeated by the Washington Huskies by a much smaller score than Pacific, is rated much stronger than her traditional rival. However, Pacific showed unusual defensive and offensive strength against Washington in the second half of their game in which they held the Huskies to a lone touchdown.

Pacific Coach Hampered

Leo Frank, coach, has been handicapped by lack of veteran material. With green and inexperienced players to work with he has not been able to get his team into fighting trim as rapidly as in past years. However, another week or two may do wonders to the Badger eleven.

Saturday Pacific plays Oregon Aggies in Portland and the following week meets the College of Idaho at Caldwell in its first conference game.

circuit traveling in Canada. Roy intends to return to Oregon State college October 13 to renew his activities in the conservatory of music. He plans to study here for another year before going east to accept the two-year scholarship which he won in the Atwater Kent audition contest last December.

HAIG ARKLIN EXHIBITS PAINTINGS AT CHAPEL

Noted Artist Shows Reproductions
And Tells History of Old Masterpieces

At the close of the Chapel services Wednesday, Mr. Haig Arklin presented miniature reproductions he had made of the famous paintings "Mona Lisa," and "Tribute Money." The reception from students and faculty was hearty that Mr. Arklin presented a group of 15 of these reproductions on Thursday.

Mr. Arklin not only presented faithful reproductions of the famous paintings, but he was able to give bits of the history of the originals. He told of the great sacrifices made by both artists and models in the productions of these immortal works. After his accounts of the paintings they had an added interest and took on meaning for those who saw them.

Valuable Collection

Mr. Arklin's group of paintings represents the work of several years in the various galleries and museums of Europe. The paintings he exhibits have a value of several thousand dollars, and students were free in their expression of pleasure at the opportunity to see such an exhibit. The paintings are six feet wide and seven feet high. They are shown by a lamp specially designed for the purpose by lighting laboratory experts.

The complete list of paintings shown by Mr. Arklin follows: "St. Michael Conquering" by Rembrandt; "Goddess of Discord," by Turner; "Fighting Temeraire," Turner; "Duchess of Devonshire," Reynolds; "Laughing Cavalier," Hals; "Descent from the Cross," Rubens; "Aurora," Rembrandt; "Jupiter and Antiope," Correggio; "Sacred and Profane Love," Titian; "Tribute Money," Titian; "Madonna of the Chair," Raphael; "Sistine Madonna," Raphael; "Adam and Eve," Michelangelo; "Last Supper," Da Vinci; and "Mona Lisa," Da Vinci.

PLENTY OF EMBYRO LAWYERS IN WALLER

Increased Library Facilities
And Own Classrooms Aid
Blackstone Men

The school year 1928-29 opens on a bigger and better law school. New courses, new rooms, and a new resident professor combine to bear out the truth of this impression. The third floor of Waller Hall is now the headquarters of this branch of the University and supplies offices for the resident professors, and classrooms. The new library which has been accumulated through the efforts of Dean Hewitt is located in the basement of Waller Hall in charge of Mr. John Eblinger. Professor Roy M. Lockenour of Oregon Agricultural college is the new member of the faculty having charge of much of the freshman work. New courses in Common Law Pleading, Wills and Administration, and Conflict of Laws have been added to the curriculum. The moot courts will probably not be held until somewhat later in the year than heretofore. The increased stiffness of the bar examination with its resulting high proportion of unsuccessful candidates is causing a determined effort on the part of both instructors and students to better the average next July. It is understood that the Supreme Court will continue to pursue its policy of raising the standard of the legal profession in Oregon by increasing the difficulty of this examination.

The new law library merits separate consideration. It has been built up by the untiring energy of Dean Hewitt to approximately 4500 volumes of standard legal material in one year's time. On its shelves may be found several authoritative legal encyclopedias and dictionaries including one complete set of Corpus Juris-Cy, Ruling Case Law and Lawyers Reports Annotated, and partial sets of all the Reporter systems. Iowa, Ohio, California, New York, and Massachusetts state reports are represented, and also the American Decisions and American and English Annotated Cases. There are also over 700 legal textbooks. The library has all the
