EDITOR FISHER SPEAKS.

The Pacific Advocate Has Some Encouraging Words.

The following editorial appeared in last week's Advocate. Dr. Fisher has our thanks for his words:

"Willamette is our University. Some things are ours. Peculiarly ours as Methodists. It is a matter of no little rejoicing that we have been able to hold the property until now, and that so many indications are coming to the surface that we will continue to hold it. Oregon Methodism would be poor indeed were this institution to pass from us. The site is one of matchless beauty, in the quiet and important capital of the state. United Methodism is now rich sufficiently in material wealth to secure the University, and not only so but to richly endow it. The Methodism of the East is looking with enrapt interest upon us, wondering what as a church we will do. This item will come before a large number of well-to-do Methodists in the Pacific Northwest, men and women who will soon depart for the Heavenly Country, and it may be they are anxiously longing to know of some worthy home-cause to which they might leave a sum of money which would as long as Methodism shall endure here perpetuate their name and influence. They will look in vain for any cause which has more claims upon them than that of the University. Without this University, Methodism in Oregon would practically be shut out from its best work in the future; with the University thousands of young men and women can secure an education among us, and be saved to the church. To place a sum of money where educated Christian professors can come into contact with our sons and daughters, to put money at that point where it will operate in the creation of educated Christian manhood and womanhood, is to serve the cause of Christianity in an unusual way and most effectively. Portland Methodism has begun to take the University upon its heart, but what is needed is a general taking up of the University into the love and thought of the whole Methodist population of Oregon, and as far as possible, Idaho and the Columbia River Conference. The student body now at the University is encouraging and representative, and Dr. Coleman, a Christian administrator of great ability and consecration, a lover of students and a man of high ideals for college work, is deserving of the most hearty support. We are happy to say, that a few more thousands of dollars will see the debt provided for, and after that the endowment will be undertaken with many assurances that it will be contributed to by wealthy laymen, who are more and more coming to feel that the University is a necessity. May great success speed the cause, which is not only the cause of Methodism, but of Christianity."

Prohibition in Kansas.

Under this heading there appears an editorial in the last Independent which gives some interesting and instructive facts.

It has been argued that prohibition by statute can do no good. The statistics gleaned from this article gives another view.

The editorial is quoted in part:

"Prohibition by constitutional amendment has been in force, more or less, in Kansas for twenty-one years, which is time enough to test its value. During this time the prohibitory law has not been in force in five of the 105 counties. These five counties have 17 per cent of the population and furnish 30 per cent of the crime. The population in these 21 years has increased from 995,616 to 1,470,495, while the number of prisoners has increased from 917 to 788. Kansas, while purely an agricultural state, is one of the most prosperous in the Union, and can afford to spend $2,000,000 annually on her schools. She saves it in beer and whiskey."

Wallulah.

The Wallulah Board held a meeting today and made several final decisions on such matters as the number of pages, size of book, and the space which will be devoted to half-tones.

The sketches, which will illustrate the book, are forthcoming in a goodly number and some of them are very clever. Miss Crousse, the art editor, has charge of that department and is putting forth every effort to secure timely illustrations and cartoons.

The artistic, as well as every other portion of the book, will be distinctly Willamettian. No outside talent will enter into the compilation of the annual, with the exception of literary contributions from the alumni.

MERIT REWARDED.

An Alumnus Receives Degree From Eastern College.

The following notice appeared in a recent number of an Idaho paper:

"Supreme Court Justice Ailshie has just received word that the Nashville College of Law, at Nashville, Tenn., has bestowed upon him the honorary degree of L. L. D. Tennessee is his native state, and is proud to recognize one of its former citizens who has won distinction abroad."

The subject of the notice, J. F. Ailshie, is an alumnus of Willamette University, having taken the degree of P. H. B. in 1891. He was graduated the same year from the College of Law of Willamette University. In 1898 he was elected to the supreme bench of the State of Idaho, which position he now holds.

Willamette has among her alumnae a great number who have received special honors at the hands of the people. The Collegian is pleased to mention this additional honor to the glory of Old Willamette.

EDITORIAL.

It will soon be time again to begin the yearly discussion of whether Willamette will try to put out a track team or a baseball nine, or both. As usual, there is good material for either, but the men who are best suited for the one are also the most hopeful for the other. A man may not do both well, however. He must choose between them. This is bound to cut down the resources of one or both forms of sport in a student body the size of ours. There must be some decision for the one or the other that something may be done worth while.

In coming to this decision, at least two factors should be considered: What are we best able to do and which will be most likely to afford the greater opportunity for inter-collegiate contests. A careful inquiry among the students available will soon determine the one. The colleges themselves will readily answer the other. The matter should be decided early in the season. It should not be put off till regular training has been begun, but a course should be laid out at once and an unanimous effort should bend toward that one end. Something can be accomplished in that way.

We are pleased to congratulate our girls again upon their successful game of Friday night. Our praise and congratulations are also due the boys, who have done their best for Old Willamette during the last week. The trip was made under trying circumstances, but its outcome needs no apologies. It is to be regretted that there were not more collegiate games on the trip, but the Washington colleges seem reluctant to play upon their own floors.

Surprised the Surgeon.

From Fairfax, W. Va., there comes to an insurance company the following very self-explanatory epistle:

"Gentlemen:—I found Chas. A. Willis on the hands of the Phoenix Bridge Company, who was working on the Pigeon bridge on the 20th day of November, 1892, Friday at 12 o'clock A. M., unconscious from a fall from the top of said Bridge, which is 39 feet from where he started to where he lit. And his injuries was caused by stopping too sudden. He had hemorrhage of the stomach and injury to the whole vertebra which produced nervous disorder of his whole system. I treated him 10 days and I don't see why he lived, he is alive and in a good way of recovery from his injuries. Time will bring him as good as he was before the accident. Yours respectfully, Correctness in Stationery.

A subject of the greatest importance to those who would be correct in social matters is the quality of their stationery. One is judged almost as much by the external appearance of a letter as by the contents, and in this regard, as in all others pertaining to the usages of polite society, there are certain prescribed rules. In fact there are fashions in stationery as in dress. A feature of the March Delineator is a display of fashionable stationery, showing various shapes of envelopes and sheets, and examples of address headings and crests. Mourning borders, as well as the quality and color of paper are referred to, and altogether it is an interesting page.

EXCHANGE AND COMMENT.

One hundred and seventy-six men are trying for places on the Illinois track team.

Wisconsin baseball enthusiasts are training indoor in preparation for the spring work.

Princeton Freshmen are forbidden to carry canes, smoke pipes or wear college colors.

Daily newspapers are now published by Columbia, Chicago, Cornell, California, Brown, Harvard, Michigan, Minnesota, Indiana, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Stanford, Wisconsin, Yale and Nebraska.

Strict rules have been instituted at Albion College. Dancing, card-playing and smoking are to be prohibited. The three fraternities in existence there have been ordered to give up their charters. Many students are planning to leave school at once—Round Table.

The Seniors won both matches in the final fencing tournament last night by defeating the Freshmen 8 to 1, and the law school team 6 to 3. They thus won the inter-class championship and are entitled to their class numerals over crossed foils.

The total cost of the University of Michigan to the state is less than one first-class battleship, and yet it has graduated 17,124 persons, not including those who received a partial education. Altogether 30,000 persons have received instruction at the University. It offers great opportunities for discussion, the question of which is best for the state, 30,000 well-educated people or one battleship.

ROSEBURG DEFEATED.

Y. M. C. A.

W. U. Girls Have a Score of 23 Against Their 5.

With flying colors and confident air, the Roseburg delegation entered the gymnasium last Friday evening when the Roseburg High School girls played the last game of their trip with the W. U. girls. But our girls again showed their superiority by outplaying them at every point and winning another laurel for the cardinal and old gold.

Although the W. U. girls had the best of their opponents at all times, the game was interesting and full of snap throughout. Our team did the best team work that they have done in any game this season; the phenomenal passing between Warfield, Koshmeider and Parsons was an eye opener to Roseburg and aroused favorable comment on all sides. Roseburg lacked team work and endurance, but the individual playing showed good material if developed.

It was a clean friendly game, minus the objectionable features of basketball.

The Roseburg crowd numbered fifteen and was chaperoned by Mrs. Rost. The team was accompanied by Mr. T. R. Townsend, manager, F. C. Ramp, referee, and a small bench of rooters, viz: Misses Jewett, Kidder, Benedick, Stanton and Fullerton.

After the game the crowd adjourned to the society halls and attended a meeting of the Philodorian, after which a social hour was spent in various games. The visiting team were a sociable set and proved themselves "jolly good fellows."

The following is the line-up:
 w. u. center ROSEBURG
 Warfield center Reed
 Koshmeider, capt. forwards Black, capt.
 Parsons forwards Jewell
 Swafford k. guards Parsley
 Randall k. guards Foot
 SIBB SUHS
 Holmstrom forwards Barke
 Coryell forwards Kabot

Time of halves, 15 minutes.

Score at end of 1st half 11 to 3.
 Final score 23 to 5.

Goals, Roseburg, Black 1. Goals on fouls 3. W. U., Parsons 2, Koshmeider 5, Warfield 3. Goals on fouls 3.

Koshmeider was in her usual form and the way she juggled the ball around the visitors gave them a profound respect for our captain. Warfield distinguished herself by throwing two brilliant fired goals. Swafford was always on deck and aroused comment by her speed and agility. Those Parsons-Warfield-Koshmeider passes were a rare combination that could not be touched.

The Young Men's Christian Association, at the Ohio Wesleyan University, has closed one of the most successful terms in its history. Out of 447 young men in the University, 404 were members of the Association, and all non-Christians, except 47, decided for Christ in the revival services. The average attendance at the religious meetings was 164, and at the missionary meetings 184. There were 115 enrolled in Bible study and 45 in the study of missions. Sixteen men were assisted to places of permanent employment and 79 occasional opportunities for work were provided for needy students. The term closed with all bills paid and with money in the treasury.—Intercollegian.

TEAM RETURNS.

A Satisfactory Trip Through Washington.

The Basketball Team returned Saturday from their trip into Washington. The trip as a whole was very satisfactory. Seven games were played in eight days. Of these two were victorious. The Tacoma game was played under extreme difficulty. The S. P. train was delayed so that the boys did not catch the N. P. train in time to get to Tacoma before 8 o'clock. They went direct to the gymnasium and played without either supper or rest.

Concerning the game the Tacoma Ledger says:

"The fastest basketball game that has been played in Tacoma this season was that at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last evening between the Willamette team of Salem, Or., and the Tacoma Y. M. C. A. team. The Willamette boys lay claim to the title of Oregon's championship, inasmuch as they have never met defeat in their own state, although they have yet to play the crack Portland team. They met their Waterloo in the Tacoma game, however, and that by a score of 22 to 17.

"The game was exceptionally fast, with considerable roughness in the first half. Willamette showed superior team work, particularly in passing the ball. The individual work of the Tacoma team was one of the features of their work, excelling particularly in basket-throwing. At the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 6 in favor of Tacoma. In the second half Willamette worked the score up to 15 to 18 and for a few moments looked good to win."

Monday and Tuesday evenings games were played against the Seattle team, resulting in scores of 28 to 4 and 29 to 7, respectively, in favor of Seattle. The principal features of these games against the Washington champions was Pollard's playing against McDonald.

At Chehalis and Centralia the boys were found to be an easy prey. The scores were 29 to 6 and 27 to 16, respectively. At Portland the champion team of the Northwest did the team to tune of 20 to 13. The game was highly praised by all. The work of our team was splendid. Parsons, especially, won glory by throwing the only baskets made by Willamette. At Oregon City W. U. defeated the home team by a score of 9 to 7. This game was particularly hard on account of the worn condition of the players. Parsons was again much in evidence. He plays well in his new position. The team is badly worn out, but are still in the ring. It was met at the depot Saturday night by the students, accompanied by the University band.

Too Rough.

"I wish you had broken the news more gently," sighed the editor, as the office boy pried the first page by dropping the form down a flight of stairs.—Baltimore American.

"Ah, well, how did you like the new work which I sent to you?"

"Excessively, sire," replied the colonel; "I read it with such interest that I expect the second volume with impatience."

The King smiled, and when the officer's birthday arrived, he presented him with another portfolio, similar in every respect to the first, but with these words engraved upon it:

"This book is complete in two volumes."

"Who is the most responsible man in this firm?" asked the brusque visitor. "I don't know who the responsible party is," answered the sad, cynical office boy. "But I am the one who is always to blame."—Exchange.

A young man at Bowling Green was arrested a few nights ago while walking in his sleep. He begged the night watch not to lock him up because he was a somnambulist. The Academy is a new visitor on our exchange table. It is published by the Oregon City Academy and gives a short account of the recent victory of the Portland Debating Club. The question debated was "Resolved, That the present marriage system is a benefit to humanity. Oregon City had the affirmative.
