Mercer Takes Queen Honor For May Fete

Larry Willingham was elected student body president for 1959-59 by the highest percentage of voters in the history of Willamette, according to past Collegians in the runoffs which ended Wednesday.

OTHER NEW officers are Jo Heald, first vice president; Stan Culy, second vice president; Sylvia Quiring, secretary; Willard Bunney, treasurer; and Gordon Macpherson, member-at-large.

Jeannine Graber Mercer was elected May Queen, and her princesses Anita Booth and Sharon Allen will share hostess honors for the May weekend festivities May 2-4.

THIS YEAR'S unusually high percentages were 72.7 for the primaries and 71.6 for the run-offs. This exceeded last year's 67 per cent for primaries and 47 per cent for the run-offs.

The all-time record, previously set in 1956, was 71 per cent for the primaries and 67 per cent for the run-offs. Considering that only 950 students picked up their student body cards, thus making themselves eligible to vote, the percentage of eligible students that voted was approximately 80 per cent.

DICK WHITE, second vice-president, said this about the elections. "If the enthusiasm and cooperation of the student body, which was shown in the participation in the recent election are any indication of their interest in student government, then I am sure that the new officers can look forward to a busy and profitable year."

Another significant factor in the election was the narrow margin of every race. Five of the six races were settled by less than 30 votes in the run-offs.

Manager Petitions Due Wed. for Major Posts

Plans for fall events are being made already, and the petitions for two major managerial posts will be due Wednesday.

Both Varsity Varieties and Parents' Weekend manager petitions are due then, by 3 p.m. in the student body office.

According to recent activities board action, Varsity Varieties, the student talent show, will remain at Homecoming time where it was this year.

Applicants are urged to consult student body files for information and to contact George Hoyt or Bob Braddy, Parents' Weekend and Varieties managers respectively.

Graduation Speakers Told

A Korean embassy official and an American Presbyterian minister have been chosen as speakers for Commencement and Baccalaureate, the President's office announced this week.

PYO WOOK HAN, minister plenipotentiary of the Korean embassy in Washington, D. C. will deliver the Commencement address to assembled seniors, parents and friends Sunday, June 8.

The Rev. Herman G. Klemme, D.D., minister of the Presbyterian church in Encino, Calif., will give the Baccalaureate sermon, Sunday, June 1. His subject will be "Standing Among the Ruins."

DR. KLEMMER attended schools in Indiana, graduating from theological seminary in 1911.

He has been pastor of various churches in the Midwest, with the exception of five years as assistant to the President of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., and another five years as director of the student welfare department at Montana State College in Bozeman.

Since 1949 he has lived in California, serving churches as an interim or a visiting minister.

interest is the word

This present election showed a new trend in campus political thinking—INTEREST! Nearly 71 per cent of eligible voters voted in the run-offs and 72 per cent voted in the primaries. The voters are to be congratulated; and the non-voters don't have a thing to gripe about.

The candidates put in many hours of time and energy in preparing platforms (which students promptly forget), and signs (upon which were displayed their assets and under which their liabilities were hidden).

It is really too late to hash over what to do in an election, but not too late to think about what to do after they are over. In their campaigns, the candidates made a lot of promises; it is now the job of each student to see that each officer sticks to his promises. Don't ever let them forget the statements they made.

One place in which students have a voice is student council. Here, the officers of the student body can petition for student help in carrying out their policies. If a person receives no support, he soon loses interest in his own idea and therefore, lets it drop. Due consideration of their ideas can make these election promises more than just election promises. —D.F.

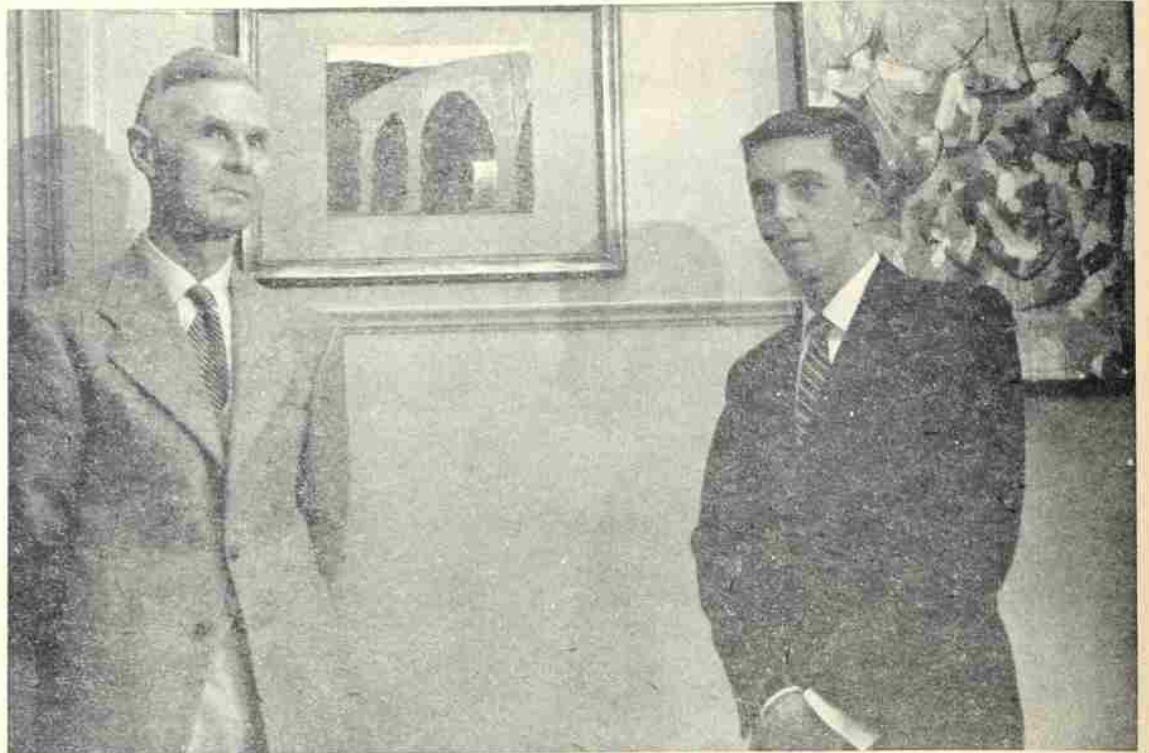

rally for mark

Tomorrow afternoon, collegiates from Oregon State, University of Oregon, and Willamette will meet in Portland to stage a rally in support of Mark Hatfield for governor. His campaign is especially close to the students at Willamette who experienced his sincere understanding while he was Dean of Students.

Hatfield is weak in Multnomah county and his campaign funds are low. If enough students participate in a concentrated effort it may help alleviate both these factors.

This is a chance to return in some small measure Mark's continued interest in and support of college students.

Cars will leave the campus at noon Saturday to arrive at Hatfield's headquarters by 1:30. Students will distribute literature and make personal contacts until 6 p.m. when they will be served dinner at the headquarters. An inter-school dance is still tentative, but it's just possible that helping Mark might help socially.

When two artists get together the talk turns to technical terms. But Dr. Ivan Lovell and Don Bunse have something else in common: they're both from Willamette. Lovell has been teaching on campus for thirty years and Bunse, now at the University of Washington, was an art major, who graduated in 1956.

Double Art Show Amazes WU

Though his famous blackboard drawings have earned a reputation for Dr. Ivan Lovell, there were surprised Willamette students who visited Bush's Art Museum Sunday. Dr. Lovell was featured in a combined art show with former Willamette student Don Bunse.

THE MUSEUM, which caters to Salem artists, chose to feature the Lovell and Bunse pictures together because both artists face the same problems. Employing similar background colors and mass movement their works combine with each other well.

Bunse, who graduated from Willamette in 1956, is a Phi Delt now at the University of Washington studying for his Master's degree.

"I'm concentrating in print making and the graphic arts, and want to teach some day," said Bunse. He flew to Salem from Seattle for the Sunday showing. For this summer

Bunse has been awarded a scholarship to study Art History in Massachusetts.

GRINNED DR. Lovell, "I got 'Ph.ditis' and so I started painting because I wanted to use something else besides my think-piece." And he's been at it for 30 years. In what has been described as "honest work" Lovell's exhibit depicted a snowfall, the Thames River and other land and sea-scapes.

Sunday's exhibit was an extremely popular one, visited by faculty members, students, and many art-affiliated Salem residents.

Dear Ed:

Ginkgos Multiply

Lest any of your readers be led to believe that Willamette's one specimen constitutes one-third of Salem's Ginkgo population ("Hatfield Saves Ginkgo's Life," Collegian, April 18), I should like to report that last Sunday I counted seven of these trees in the vicinity of the fish pond on the State Hospital grounds.

Due to the earliness of the season and the heavy rainfall at the time of my visit, my inexperienced eye was not able to determine whether these were girl Ginkgos or boy Ginkgos.

Science Meet Here Sat.

A student science conference with science students from five Pacific coast universities will be held in Collins Hall tomorrow, Dr. Cecil Monk, biology department head, reported.

Students from Willamette, Lewis and Clark, Pacific University, Portland University and Oregon State College will present reports on projects they have been carrying on.

Business and sectional meetings will follow registration at 9:45 a.m. in Collins.

All students interested in the science are cordially invited to attend, Dr. Monk said.

New Catalogue Being Published

The first 50 pages of the forthcoming university catalogue for 1959-61 have been set in type and returned for corrections.

ACCORDING to Charles Ruud, director of information, who is in charge of the book, it is hoped that the new catalog will be ready soon after school starts next fall.

Departments are now working on any course changes they may make to include in the new catalog, and changes will be submitted to the curriculum committee of the faculty and then must be approved by the faculty.

SOME CHANGES will be made in the format and information contained in the book, and some new photographs will be introduced.

The book is being printed by the Statesman Publishing Company.

"What were you saying about machine efficiency, Dr. Schmidt?"

YD to Lay Final State Meet Plans

Final plans for the Young Democrat state convention will be made at a meeting at 6:30 p.m. in the SAE house Tuesday, according to Fred Chambers, president.

Herb Goldsmith, convention chairman, will inform Willamette students of their part in the convention, which will include management of the physical arrangements. Resolutions plans to be brought up will then be discussed.

Committee chairmen for the convention will be appointed and the voting policy in regard to resolutions and candidates will also be decided during the meeting.

Anyone interested in being a delegate at the convention should contact Chambers.

The convention will be held May 9 and 10 with about 400 Young Democrats from all over the state expected at the banquet. Between 150 and 200 delegates will attend the meetings at the Marion Hotel.

'Vacation' -- 10-Day Choir Tour

Settling down for a ten-day bus ride, approximately 60 people started on the 1958 choir tour into Idaho.

A LONG anticipated event each year, the choir members little dreamed that the trip was to be sabotaged from the first by a highly contagious virus.

Leaving Salem 8 a.m. the Friday morning before Spring vacation, by the first stop in Bend two members had been laid low. By the end of the trip seven or eight people had been put under doctor's care.

KEEPING THE SICK in contact with the main group proved to be something of a problem.

In order to give the stricken ones as much rest as possible, they would spend the entire day in bed in the town in which the choir had performed while the rest moved on to its next stop.

THEN IN A sort of "shuttle service" a car would be sent back to pick up those left behind.

Cheerful conversation not proving enough of a diversion, pinochle and knitting made their appearance.

NOT TO BE outdone by the feminine contingent, Ted Neff produced a beautiful new pair of white tennis socks, complete with his initials in red.

Overnight accommodations were provided in each town by members of the Methodist churches. Part of the fun of the tour was speculating on the nature of the night's lodging.

TWO ESPECIALLY favored singers, Nancy Weeks and Gail Larson, were called for five nights in a row by people driving Cadillacs.

Perhaps the high point was the visit at Sun Valley where skiing, ice skating—some for the first time—and swimming could be enjoyed.

ONE ENTHUSIASTIC fan of the hickory boards succeeded in burning himself the same shade as his maroon choir robe.

Reception of the choir's efforts ran from joyous acceptance of the Willamette classic "Jason Daddy" in one place, to the dead, stony silence of an audience that evidently felt church was no place for the expression of appreciation through the clapping of hands.

APPROPRIATELY, Ron Kingsley—senior Glee song leader—took over Prof. Don Gleckler's role of choir director whenever the hallowed tones of "Daddy" rang out.

At a stop-over in Portland Monday morning a group of singers was gathered in front of the bus depot enjoying the nice fresh air.

JOY WAS considerably dashed when a stern guardian of the law and preserver of juvenile propriety—a policeman—stepped up and asked what they were doing out of school.

Annual Spring Band Concert Again to Feature Seniors

Five seniors whose main area of interest has been band work will continue the spring band concert tradition by conducting the marches that are scattered throughout the program.

JIM HOLLOWAY, Ron Kingsley, Bob Schaefer, Bill Shannon and Jerry Johnson are slated for the honor.

Legal Article By Dr. Parker Presented Soon

Dr. Reginald Parker, Willamette's much-published writer of law articles, discusses one of the nation's hottest legal issues in an article to appear in the spring issue of the Rutgers Law Review.

THE HISTORIC separation of powers doctrine written into the United States Constitution has actually become one of judicial supremacy, Dr. Parker contends.

An authority in administrative law, Parker writes that the system prevailing in the United States amounts to the Supreme Court making law.

THE JUDICIAL power, he says, "perhaps to the great benefit of the country," interferes with both the executive and legislative branches of our government.

The article, which will be part of a forthcoming book on administrative law to be published next year by Little, Brown & Co., traces the history of the separation of powers idea.

PARKER maintains that no government prior to our Constitution has ever had anything resembling the idea that the legislative could be separated from judicial and administrative power.

The article is about 40 pages in length and contains over 200 footnotes.

Dean Reese Goes On Air Force Duty

Dean Seward Reese of the law school left last week for a mobilization assignment with the Air Force at the Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo.

A full colonel in the Air Force Reserve, Reese will act as deputy staff judge advocate of the Air Defense Command. He will return to Salem May 6.

This department of the Air Force has jurisdiction over legal work in the western, central and eastern air defense forces. The organization provides legal services, counseling and military justice.

Student Recital Tuesday Afternoon

Leading off in Tuesday's student music recital will be a lone vocal solo by Cappy Casper. As usual the recital will be in the recital hall of the College of Music, at 3 p.m.

Miss Casper is a sophomore student of Prof. Clorinda Topping. She will sing "Il est doux, il est bon" from "Herodiate" by Massenet, accompanied by Sonja Peterson.

Piano students of Prof. Stanley Butler will complete the program. Karen Lee will play "Contemplation" by Heller and "Rocking" by Schmitt.

"Six Waltzes from Op. 39" by Brahms will be presented by Keith Taylor.

Mac Baker will play a Schubert number "Moment Musical," Op. 94 No. 2. "Polannaise" by MacDowell will be a feature by Gene Parrett.

Gary Lovre will go into a bit heavier mood with Mozart's "Sonata in F, K 280," to end the program.

Again this semester a vocalist will appear with the band. Myra Friesen, soprano, who is well known for her work with the choir and her appearance in the 1955 May Weekend play "Kiss Me Kate," will sing two numbers.

SHE WILL SING "Un Bel Di" from "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini, and "So In Love" from "Kiss Me Kate" by Porter. A member of Mu Phi Epsilon, national woman's music honorary, she has been a student of Prof. Clorinda Topping.

Graduate assistant Herbert Brower will conduct the band in Cowell's "Hymn and Fuguing Tune." Brower is now completing work for a Master of Music Education degree.

OTHER NUMBERS on the program include "Andante" by Germiniani-Herfurth, "Fugue a la Cigue" by Bach-Holst, "Pictures at an Exhibition" by Moussorgsky, "Tulsa" by Gillis-Ford.

The conclusion will be "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" by Wagner-Caillet.

European Study Tours Still Open

Registration for the French and Spanish travel-study tours sponsored jointly by Willamette and Student International Travel Association, are still being received by Dr. Marion Morange and Prof. Clarence Kraft, leaders of these tours.

Students enrolling in the French tour will study at the University of Grenoble, while members of the Spanish tour will attend summer classes held by the University of Barcelona on the Spanish island of Majorca.

To be eligible to enroll, a student must have completed at least one year of college French or Spanish. Willamette summer session credit can be earned by participation in the tour.

In order to insure sufficient time for obtaining passports and required vaccinations, interested students should complete tour arrangements as soon as possible.

Summer Jobs Listed In Dean's Offices

Summer job opportunities for students may be obtained through the Dean's offices and on the bulletin boards in Eaton.

Opportunities in the Portland area include work for welfare agencies, Boy and Girl Scouts, and parks and public recreation.

These may be either outdoor or clerical work positions, and unpaid volunteers are also needed in Portland with American National Red Cross, Boys' and Girls' Aid Society and Family Counseling.

The American Friends Service Committee also offers work and study positions for students in institutions, community service work camps and international seminars.

These service opportunities are mainly for the purpose of study, but positions in this country as staff members for social agencies and institutions receive regular monthly salaries.

At Last . . . Glee Records Arrive

Glee Records have arrived and will be available in the student body office beginning Monday.

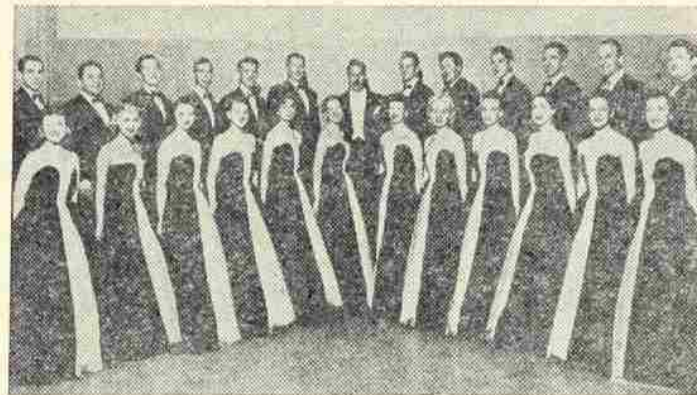

Students who have bought and paid for records are asked to bring their receipts to the office. If the receipt has been lost, stubs can be checked, however.

There are about 50 or so extra records available at $1.30 each for those who didn't order in advance.

The records are 45 rpm, cut in red unbreakable virgin vinylite plastic, and are encased in a red and gold jacket reminiscent of Glee.

According to those who have already heard the records, this year's recording seems to be unusually clear, and credit was given the Connelly Recording Company of Salem, which recorded the performances.

Pianist, Chorale on Series

Two of next year's Distinguished Artists Series entertainers are Philippe Entremont and the Robert Wagner Chorale.

CONSIDERED one of the most gifted of the young pianists of today, young French virtuoso Philippe Entremont will appear on next year's Distinguished Artist's Series.

Entremont, who has just completed his fourth transcontinental tour of the United States and Canada and has also toured in Europe and South America, has been hailed as the successor to the late William Kappell.

CONCLUDING next year's Artist Series will be the world-famous Roger Wagner Chorale. The Chorale, founded in 1946, has performed not only on the concert stage, but also has provided the background music for both television and motion picture productions, the latest being "The Egyptian" and "Desiree."

The group was the only American singing group to be invited to participate in the Coronation festivities in London in 1953.

Two Win Grad Study Grants

Two graduate assistantships for western colleges have been given to an economics major and a chemistry major, President Smith announced recently.

Dean Short, senior economics student, has received a graduate assistantship for $1100 for ten months of study at the University of Oregon. His work in the business administration division at the U of O which will lead to his master's degree will consist of research for his professor, limited teaching, and correcting papers.

He is Student Body Treasurer this year, has served as Sigma Alpha Epsilon president, and vice-president studied in Washington, D. C. in 1957 under the Washington semester plan, was a member of SAX, and was a recent Rotarian of the Month.

Richard Chanda, senior chemistry major, will study nuclear chemistry under his assistantship of $1820 per year at the University of California at Berkeley where he plans to receive his Doctor's degree. The assistantship includes tuition and a travel allowance.

Chanda was president of Phi Eta Sigma, is a member of Beta Theta Pi, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

He was sergeant-at-arms of his class when a junior, and is now treasurer of the senior class.

Typical Oregon weather greeted old and new BAGs and SAX who held their annual get together at Silver Creek Falls last Sunday. Rainy weather didn't halt appetites, however, and those who attended ate portions for the stay-at-homes.

PSYCHED-UP SPEECHES

An important part of all Psi Chi initiations is the testing of impromptu speaking ability in prospective members. This year's new initiates (see story page 3) did admirably well on such topics as "How Sigmund Freud Has Changed My Life," "The Social Value of Toilet Training," "How the Psychological Concept of Individual Differences Is Diametrically Opposed to the Governing Policies at Willamette," and "How Pupillary Reflex to Life Is Correlated to Puppy Love."

A TIMELY SUBJECT

"Integration" will be the topic discussed by campus Y members and interested students next Tuesday noon at the YWCA. A very fine resource person for the discussion will be Mrs. William Crothers who has spent much time in the South and is familiar with the Northern attitudes also.

Showboat, Oriental Dances Create Romantic Setting

An exotic Japanese garden and a gay Mississippi showboat will furnish the settings for the Doney and Lausanne dorm dances tonight.

"SUBLIME Evening," theme of the Doney dance, will be expressed through the decorations which will portray a Japanese Teahouse and garden of flowers. The scene will be complete with Japanese lanterns, silk umbrellas, and murals of Japanese scenery, planned by Carole Woodbury and Hannah Meara.

Oriental refreshments of fortune cookies and lemon and cranberry punch have been planned by Ann Harper and Judith Abele while program chairmen Sally Fenner and Marilyn Shierman have prepared rice paper scrolls with authentic Japanese writing.

ENTERTAINMENT will be furnished by Nancy Forbes who will sing "Sayonara," and Lee Wilkinson who will perform an oriental dance. Louise Henderson is entertainment chairman.

"Live music will be provided by Jim Fiske's combo" from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m., according to Karen Anderson, general chairman, who also announced the dress for the dance will be dressy cottons.

THE CHAPERONES, invited by Karen Madsen and Carol Hobbs, include Dr. and Mrs. Paul Trueblood and Dr. and Mrs. Donald Gleckler.

Lausanne cafeteria and recreation rooms will be transformed into a southern "Showboat" from 9 to 12 p.m., according to Terry Boyd, general chairman.

DECORATIONS carrying out the Showboat theme have been planned by Mari Fikar, Barbara Sherk, and Diane Dickson. Other chairmen include Mary Collins, programs; Sue Braford and Karen Flournoy, entertainment; Sandy Lindquist and Jan Couey, publicity; and Marky Allender and Nicki Ross, refreshments.

Music will be provided by Chuck Bradford's band while appropriate dress will be dressy cottons for the girls and sport coats for the fellows.

Chaperones invited by Dorothy Jacobsen are Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Lovell, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Shay, Dr. and Mrs. Orcutt Frost, and Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas.

Honored guests invited to both dances are Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Dean Regina Ewalt, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yocum, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Gregg, and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Petrie.

Study Groups on Vital Issues Set in Action by Y Speakers

Woman of the year in Salem, Mrs. William Crothers, touched upon many timely issues in her message to a large group of campus Y members Tuesday.

Scientific problems of women in our changing age were discussed by members of the national YWCA conference and Mrs. Crothers emphasized the idea that the frontier of man is still in the realm of the human spirit.

This conference sent suggestions for multilateral disarmament and felt the United States must continue to test weapons until we are sure all countries are stopping.

In the area of racial integration, the National Board suggested we must bring in a greater degree of our leaders and members from minority groups.

Mrs. Crothers stressed the importance of a woman's being able to work by pointing out the difficulty of providing for a family in the case of the husband's death.

Many professions offer no Social Security and often even Social Security is not enough. A professionally trained woman, however, has her own built-in security.

She can also help her husband achieve more schooling and thus help him realize his ambitions.

Do These Hit Home?

After the speaker, Carol Stone announced plans for a Campus Y follow-up in some of main topics. These followups will consist of study groups aided by a qualified adult who will serve as a resource to discussion.

The following topics are scheduled for April and May:

April 29—"Integration"—with Mrs. Crothers, who was educated in the South.

May 1—"Should the U. S. Stop Nuclear Testing?"—with Dr. Theodore Shay.

May 6—"Skeptics' Group"—with Dr. Howard W. Runkle.

May 8—Mature Discussion of Willamette Rules—with Prof. Richard Yocum.

May 13 Being a Woman Today.

May 15 Faith, Sex, and Love—with Rev. Joe Harding.

All these groups will meet at noon in the Y-teen room of the YWCA. All girls interested in the groups are urged to call Carole Stone at Lausanne Hall.

Engagement Fever Rises

MARY EDWARDS

GAYLE SCHOOLCRAFT

SHARON PLESSINGER

Another bevy of spring engagements was announced this week and last, bringing the total to an even half dozen and making the largest number of engagements announced in the Collegian this year, at one time.

NYE-EDWARDS

A bouquet of roses and violets arrived mysteriously at the Alpha Chi Omega house last Monday night. Later a poem was read to clear up the mystery and to announce the engagement of Mary Edwards to George Nye.

MISS EDWARDS is a freshman psychology major from Portland. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega, has served on the Doney hall house council, and was active in Freshman Glee.

WU Golfers Lose to PSC, Beat Pioneers

The Willamette golfers suffered a narrow 9½-8½ loss to Portland State Friday at the Portland Country club.

THE STRENGTH of victories by Portland State's first four men was just enough to withstand the 3-0 sweeps by both Rusty Beaton and John Holmes.

Medalist honors went to Roger Williams of Portland State with a one-over-par 73, a fine score considering the windy, rainy conditions.

TUESDAY afternoon, Coach Jerry Long's golfers opened their Northwest Conference season by downing Lewis & Clark 14½-3½ at Top o' Scott.

The only Lewis and Clark golfer to win a match was Roger Fleck who picked up three of his team's points. Fleck was medalist for the match, shooting 72, par golf.

UNDEFEATED in conference last year, the Bearcats face the Badgers from Pacific on the local links this afternoon.

Portland State—Tom Liljeholm (PS) def. Jan Aaseth, 2½-½; Mike Geyer (PS) def. Joe Karmos, 2-1; Roger Williams (PS) def. Gene Patterson, 3-0; Dick Eastman (PS) def. Dick Renn, 2-1; John Holmes (W) def. Harry Price, 3-0; Rusty Beaton (W) def. Gary Roy, 3-0.

Lewis and Clark—Roger Fleck (L&C) def. Jan Aaseth, 3-0; Joe Karmos (W) def. Dick Stephens, 2½-½; John Holmes (W) def. Bill George, 3-0; Rusty Beaton (W) def. Ron Langlos, 3-0; Dick Renn (W) def. Bob Blain, 3-0; Gene Patterson, (W) def. Al Parelins, 3-0.

Last Event Nets WU Track Win Over OCE, 68-63

Just when it looked as though ol' Jupe Pluvius had dampened the spirits of all, and turned what should have been a good meet into a dismal display—with times resembling high school competition, Willamette's Dale Hartman burst forth with a brilliant 49.8 last leg of the mile relay to give the Bearcat cindermen a narrow 68-63 victory over OCE.

THINGS WERE all tied up at 63-63, when the last event—the mile relay—started. OCE's Bob Gates put the Wolves in front by 15 yards on the first lap. Stan Kenyon extended the lead to 50 yards on the second leg, but Willamette's Jack Berkey cut it to 20 yards on the third lap. Then it was Hartman's turn to tote the baton.

Trailing by 20 yards at the start of the last leg of the mile romp, Hartman caught up with OCE's Larry Gower three-fourths of the way up the back stretch and passed him on the final turn. As the two men raced for the finished line, Hartman pulled out in front to win by a good five yards.

Lewismen Drop NWC Opener, Leave on Road Trip Today

Having been rained out in several previous games, the Willamette University Bearcat baseballers opened their 1958 Northwest Conference title chase on a losing note Monday, as the Bearcats were turned back 2-1 by Pacific University.

WILLAMETTE opened the scoring in their half of the fifth, when Tom Moore singled to right field and advanced to third as the fielder let the ball get away from him.

Track Team Takes Third In LC Meet

In a four-way track meet, contested in rain-soaked Griswold stadium on the Lewis and Clark campus in Portland, Coach Ted Ogdahl's Bearcat cindermen placed third among competing squads from Oregon State and Lewis and Clark. OSC entered two teams, varsity and freshman.

THE OREGON STATE varsity walked off with first place, nabbing 10 out of 15 first places, and rolling up a grand total of 85 5/6 points. The OSC Rooks finished second, scoring 44 points.

Willamette notched their third place victory with 17 3/4 points, squeezing out the Lewis and Clark Pioneers by a sixth of a point.

ALTHOUGH the Bearcats didn't place first, several of them showed well in different events. Dale Hartman finished a strong third in the mile run, while Jim Person picked up a third in the shot-put.

Willamette freshman, Skip Spence, tied with teammate Jim Whitmire and OSC's Bob Barr in the high jump competition, as they cleared the bar at an even six feet.

ADDING to Willamette's point total were Tom Weston's fourth in the pole vault, Ted Foxley's third place in the javelin, and Dale Hartman's second place in the 880-yard romp.

Keith Driver squeezed Moore home with a chopper that rolled dead about five feet in front of home plate.

The Badgers rallied in the bottom half of the fifth, with Bob Wendell and pitcher Bob Graham drawing walks. Dick Smith lined a pitch into center and Wendell scored. Bearcat hurler, Jac Fowler, then walked the next two batters and the winning run walked across the plate.

FOWLER gave up just four safeties, but the Bearcats' inability to score proved too much. Willamette left a total of nine men on the base paths.

Willamette's next outing will be against the Whitman Missionaries in Walla Walla. The contest will be a double billed affair on Saturday. The Bearcats move on to Caldwell on Monday, where they will meet the College of Idaho Coyotes in a twin bill.

WU Tennis Team Defeats OCE 7-2

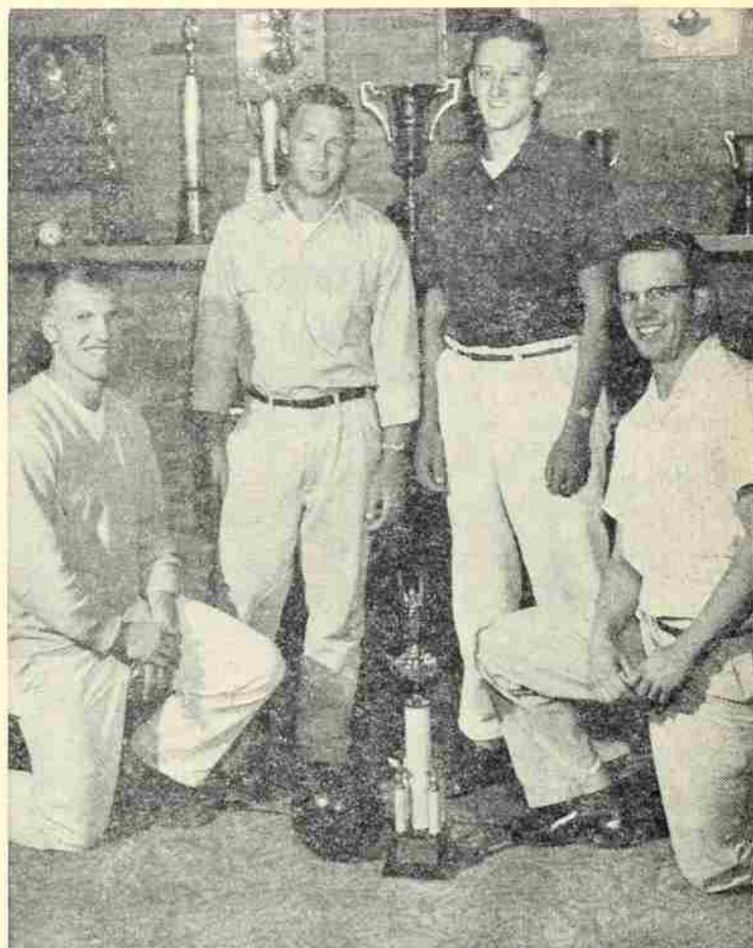

The Bearcat netmen took advantage of the sunny weather Wednesday afternoon to smash O.C.E. 7-2 in a make-up match.

Coach Les Spark's team won five of six singles matches and dropped only one of the three doubles matches.

The two teams meet in a return match Friday at O.C.E.

Tim Cambell (W) def. Zel Gernhart, 6-1, 6-1; Gerry Winner (W) def. Ron Martin, 6-0, 6-2; Bob Bennett (W) def. Elton Gregory, 6-1, 6-1; Dale Daniel (W) def. Bill Ritchie, 6-4, 6-4; Glen Durham (W) def. Murval Stone, 6-4, 6-3; Dean MacLeod (OCE) def. Tom Elliot, 6-4, 6-3; Doubles: Bennett and Daniel (W) def. Gernhart and Martin, 6-3, 6-2; Don Gordon and Jay Butler (W) def. Gregory and Ritchie, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6; Paul Kaufman and MacLeod (OCE) def. Elliot and Dorr Dearborn, 6-2, 4-6, 8-6.

Sigs Edge Betas to Capture Intramural Bowling Crown

The Sigma Chi number one bowling squad squeaked out a narrow two-pin victory over the Beta Theta Pi number one kegglers last Sunday. The win gave the Sigma Chi club championship honors in the Willamette University intramural bowling program for the 1957-58 season.

Relatively low scores dominated the contest, with the Sigs' 1722 sticks just two better than the Beta's 1720 effort. The contest was decided on total pins, and in the previous one point per game, one point for series system, the two clubs would have split, two counters each.

Don Neu of Sigma Chi grabbed the high series with a lukewarm 477, while Dick Chanda edged Neu for the top game efforts, rolling 171.

Phi Deltas Aid Bush Rock Clearance

Four truck loads of rocks were cleared from the Bush park picnic area by men of the local Phi Delta Theta chapter, in observance of the fraternity's annual Community Service day Saturday.

SIXTY MEN participated in the day-long work project, with 20 others unable to help because of jobs and athletics.

Eight Willamette women helped out by carrying lunches to the Phi Deltas.

IMPROVEMENTS made by the work crews included raking leaves, digging post holes, mowing the grass with power mowers, shoveling rocks and cleaning serving kitchens and tables.

The men also spread sawdust, cleared out the playground area, swept the asphalt and leveled gravel roads in the area.

TEN OF THE MEN spent the afternoon at the YWCA polishing floors and washing windows.

Phi Deltas not only put in several man hours of labor apiece, but carried all expenses of equipment and supplies used in their goodwill project.

IT WAS EXPECTED that most of the 65,000 members of Phi Delta Theta, located in 120 college chapters, would take part in the annual community service projects.

Local chairman of the work project was Tim Campbell.

Orals End Seniors' Worries

Approximately 40 seniors have been reported to the Registrar's office as having satisfactorily completed their written comprehensive and oral examination.

FOR THESE people, whose presence at June Commencement is now a certainty, the remainder of the school year will pass fleetingly as they watch their fellow seniors prepare for orals and as they look happily toward three remaining events—beach trip, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Oral exams are still in the crystal ball for some 75 seniors, who will undoubtedly spend frantic hours on the "last night" in a final effort to organize their thoughts concerning the last four years' work.

FOR ENCOURAGEMENT, these people might turn to someone who has completed the oral exam. From this experienced scholar, the uninitiated might find some hope in such words as, "It wasn't as bad as I thought it would be," or "It was actually a lot of fun."

Pre-oral comments have been the same this year as in years past, with all woefully moaning, "Why do they have to keep this old custom alive?"

POST ORAL comments have ranged from the smiling "It was really a lot of fun," to the more realistic, "Anyone who says it was fun is either crazy or lying."

For some seniors, the longest part of the 90 minute oral is the five to ten minute wait at the conclusion of the festivities. It is during this

Ducats Ready For May Play

Reserved seat tickets for "Squaring the Circle," farce May Weekend play about Communism, must be procured by all students who plan to attend, Director Robert Putman emphasized.

The play will be staged Thursday and Friday evenings at 8:15 p.m. Students can pick up tickets in the Fine Arts box office any afternoon next week between 1 and 5 p.m.

May Weekend guests are admitted free of charge. Their tickets are provided through the houses where they stay.

At the time the play was written in 1928, the Communists not only permitted but encouraged internal criticism, Putman said.

Written by Valentine Katayev, the farce makes light of some of the fringe areas of Communism. "He readily admits that they are all human beings," Putman commented.

Centering around two newly married couples who live in one room, separated by a curtain and pretending to ignore each other, the play has fun with, rather than makes fun of, Communism.

Victims of a housing shortage, the couples share a kitchen with 14 families.

Rehearsals are "basically" coming along fine, the director said. Crew activities are under way and "just everything is going according to schedule."

time that the faculty members who make up the oral board cast their votes which determine the fate of the examinee.

THE VOTE MUST be unanimous for the student to pass the oral, and each professor must sign a card for the Registrar's office stating that the student has successfully passed.

The few minutes seem like an eternity, and the relief which comes to the student is overwhelming when the chairman of the board extends his hand, smiles, and says, "Congratulations."
