

Faculty Decrees Senior Finals Next Spring

By SUZY PLATT
Collegian Copy Editor

The axe has fallen. The bugaboo that has haunted students since last spring has become an actuality.

BY VOTE OF the faculty, seniors will be required to take final examinations at the end of their senior year, beginning next spring, in 1959.

This was decided Tuesday, after months of investigation and inquiry on the part of the Educational Policy committee.

AT THE SAME meeting various changes were made in the university policy of exempting students from AFROTC.

According to Dr. Martha Springer, head of the biology department and chairman of the Educational Policy committee, which recommended this action, the reasons for instituting the program were various, but were all in the interests of the best education possible.

AS A MATTER of fact, final exams at the second semester of the senior year were required for many years.

It was not until May 10, 1948 that the seniors were exempted from these finals, unless a special request was made by a faculty member or by the student himself.

For the last nine years this policy has been in effect.

DR. SPRINGER'S explanation of the faculty's change of heart was that final examinations are always advisable at the end of a course, because a student is forced to think through and correlate what he has learned.

The faculty felt that even seniors could profit from this correlation.

AT FIRST, when final exams were removed for seniors, the faculty was of the opinion that orals and comprehensives were a sufficient substitute for finals, because they required a comprehensive review and correlation of the student's major field, and because the student was most likely taking more courses in his major field.

But later opinion changed, because seniors were taking many courses not in their majors and because orals and comps are given during the semester before the student has finished even courses in his major.

PROBABLY THE most powerful reason to many faculty members was the fact that the late spring is traditionally a time of little study and much socializing.

Unfortunately, at the end of the spring semester, "an additional stimulus" is needed to get students, especially seniors, to study.

AND WHILE IT would be ideal if seniors had reached the maturity to keep at their classes and studies, the consensus is that the past several senior classes simply haven't been adult enough to continue the learning process right up to commencement.

Dr. Springer reiterated that this change was made to attain better education and added that "what is good for education is good for people."

THE CLASS OF 1959 will be the first class to graduate under this new ruling, but next spring they will take their exams early, before the regular final week, which is scheduled after Commencement.

Starting in 1960, however, Commencement will be rescheduled to fall after the regular week of final examinations.

REASON FOR waiting until 1960 is that Commencement for next year has already been scheduled and printed in the university catalog, which will not be issued again until next year.

White Seeks Manager Post Applications

All students interested in applying for managerial positions for the coming term should take heed of the approaching deadlines for ASWU office petitions, advised student body second vice-president Dick White.

PETITION deadlines in the near future are May Weekend manager, Feb. 18; Wallulah editor, Collegian editor and publications manager, Feb. 21.

All aspirants are urged to check on past files in the SB offices and acquaint themselves with the various aspects of their hoped-for positions.

CLASS ELECTIONS are also in the offing, with nominations due from class meetings by Monday, Feb. 17. The primaries will be held Feb. 20-21, with the run-offs scheduled for the following Monday and Tuesday.

ALL CANDIDATES for class offices must be academic members of their class.

THIS MEANS that they must have an accumulative grade point of at least 2.0, and the minimum number of semester hours necessary to be considered a member of the class.

These hours established by the administration, are 24 hours for sophomores, 56 for juniors and 88 for seniors.

Renowned Choir Here Tomorrow

The Concordia Concert Choir of Moorhead, Minn., will present a concert in the Fine Arts auditorium tomorrow night at 8:15 p. m.

DIRECTED BY Paul J. Christiansen, the world-famous choir will present a program ranging from the great Bach motets to simple folk melodies.

Also represented on the program are numbers written by Director Christiansen's famed father, F. Melius Christiansen, who is responsible for the reputation of the choir.

ALL SEATS are reserved for the concert. They can be purchased at Stevens and Sons for $1.50 and $1. The concert is sponsored by the Salem Lutheran churches.

The 85-voice choir is currently winding up a tour of the West before preparing for an invitational appearance in July at the Vienna Music Festival.

Drivers Warned

Students are warned not to park their cars in the gravelled area between the Fine Arts building and the old band building on the campus side of the mill-stream.

It has been reported that several tickets have been given to students parking in this area.

Heart Hop Tonight

A "Heart Hop," sponsored by the Wits, will be held tonight in the gym after the WU-Linfield game until 11:30. Admission is 25 cents for couples, 15 cents for singles. Red and white socks should be worn.

Milton Savant Joins Faculty

Succeeding Dr. Henry C. Kohler, member of the English department since 1926 who will retire in June, will be Dr. William P. Baker, a Milton scholar. Dr. Smith announced Wednesday.

DR. BAKER IS now associate professor of English at Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos. He has served on the faculties of the University of Houston, Tulane, Texas Christian and Rutgers.

He will have the rank of associate professor of English when he comes to Willamette.

IN 32 YEARS OF service at Willamette, Dr. Kohler has served as head of the department and editor of the university catalog. He has held the rank of professor of English since his appointment and he holds a chair donated by the B. E. Carrier Foundation.

His major fields of study and teaching have been English and comparative literature with particular emphasis on Elizabethan poetry, prose and drama.

He resumed teaching Tuesday after a four-month absence spent recuperating from a heart attack.

DR. BAKER, ALSO an Elizabethan scholar, is author of the book "Milton's Prose Works." He received his BA degree from Texas Christian, his MA from Tulane and his Ph.D. from Harvard in 1949.

For his study at Harvard he won a two-year Rockefeller grant.

HE IS A MEMBER of the Modern Language Association and the Milton Society of America.

From 1942 to 1942 he served in the Coast Guard.

Law Students Named To Dean's Honor List

Pat Albano, Neil Bennett, John L. DuBay, Richard Franzke, Ronald Lansing, Richard May, and William Schantz are the first year students on the Law School's Dean's list, announced Seward Reese, Dean of the College of Law.

The second year students on the list are Robert Chidester, John Ester (third time), Marvin Hansen (second time), and Gene Stunz (third time).

Duane Ertsgaard (fifth time), Ronald Ricketts, Jena Vayve Schlegel, and George Wagner (fifth time) are the third year students on the list.

The Dean's list is composed of the upper 10 per cent of the Law School. Because three of the first year students tied for fifth place, there are a few more than 10 per cent of the first year students on the list.

23 Awarded Degrees

Graduation exercises for 23 students were held yesterday in the Fine Arts building in conjunction with the annual Founders' and Benefactors' Day ceremonies.

FOUR PEOPLE were honored as the recipients of the first annual Alumni Citation Awards. They were chosen by a committee of three alumni and three faculty members for their outstanding achievements and services which reflect honor upon Willamette University.

They were Margaret Lewis Hathaway, '29, a traveling staff member of the YWCA; Dr. Frank E. Brown, '98, the first physical director at Willamette and prominent Salem physician;

MYRTLE MASON McKittrick, '21, one-time registrar of Humboldt State College and California historian; and the late Claude A. Kells, general secretary of the Salem YMCA for more than 25 years.

Also contributing to the ceremonies were Mary Beth Van Cleave and John Knapp, who spoke on two honored names in Willamette history.

MISS VAN CLEAVE, a senior from Silverton, spoke on benefactor General William H. Odell, the fourth president of the Board of Trustees who served in the 1890's. Knapp, a senior from Portland, honored Alanson Beers, one of the original members of the Board of Trustees.

Candidates for degrees were led into the ceremonies by the faculty dressed in colorful academic apparel in the traditional graduation march. Degrees were conferred by President C. Herbert Smith.

RECEIVING THEIR bachelor of arts degrees were John Hoy, Frederick Ikeda, John Bowker, and Claris Poppert, economics; Bennett Holt and Larry Buckner, sociology; Lyle Shepherd and LoAnne Munding, psychology;

Ruth McCormick, speech and drama; Glen Murray, religion; L. B. Day, political science; Moses Kekahio, physical education; Jean Martin, journalism-social science; Rick Mercer, history; Dick Rohrer, English.

RECEIVING THE bachelor of science in Law were Donald Blesly, Ronald Hoxie, Cash Perrine, and Emil Stunz.

Master of education degrees were conferred upon Stanley Jobe, Carlton Morgan and Robert Wipier. Lorna Johannaber received the master of arts in education degree.

Nancy Groth Sailor concluded the ceremonies by singing "Farewell Willamette," a song used only for Commencements.

'Great Decisions' Debates Europe

"Great Decisions," a discussion group on foreign policy sponsored by the campus Unesco, will hold its weekly meeting next Tuesday night from 6:30 to 7:30 in the Baxter hall lounge.

Topic for the week will be "United Europe—Partner or Rival?"

Prof. Clarence Kraft, advisor to the group, reports that Dr. Reginald Parker will be the guest speaker. Dr. Parker, a professor in the law school, is from Austria and is quite familiar with European law.

Another group, advised by Dr. Murco Ringnald, meets each Sunday afternoon to discuss the same topic.

The purpose of having two meetings is to keep the number of participants in each group low to facilitate a better discussion.

Glee Songs Due

It is Glee season!

The first indication of this came when Dale Daniel, Glee Manager, announced that the class Glee songs are due in less than two weeks, February 26.

The theme for this, the Golden Glee, is "Fight!"

Reservists Exempt From ROTC, Faculty Rules After Protests

Changes in ROTC exemption policy involving both veterans and non-veterans were decided upon in faculty meeting Tuesday and the Collegian played an active part in bringing about the new policy.

A COLLEGIAN column Oct. 18 by Gordon Macpherson and a letter by Fred Van Natta in the Dec. 6th issue both bitterly and accurately protested against the doubling up that was required of men who had served in reserve groups but were still required to take two years of ROTC courses here.

Dr. William Cornelius, political science professor and a member of the Educational Policy committee, which recommended the changes to the faculty, commented that the change regarding National Guard reservists was occasioned by "student inquiry."

The faculty granted that veterans with less than six months of active duty would not be exempt from the program.

THEY ALSO decided that each year of active duty would release a veteran from a year of the two years' required ROTC, and the same amount of physical education courses.

Men will be able to petition for exemption from ROTC if they are veterans with six months' active duty and subsequent service in a branch of the reserves; if they have completed six months active duty in the National Guard and continue to remain in good standing with the Guard; or if they are physically disabled, conscientious objectors, or preministerial students.

THE CHANGES regarding duty in the National Guard were made because the Guard has become an alternative to the draft.

The faculty also decided that no academic credit would be granted automatically for past military service, but that instead credit would be given only for courses transferred from an accredited institution.

Spring Enrollees Hit 1053 Total

Latest registration figures number a total of 1053 students enrolled in Willamette this semester. This is not a final number, some late registrants are expected.

IN THE College of Liberal Arts 329 freshmen registered, along with 345 sophomores, 146 juniors, 122 seniors, 13 graduates, and 33 special students.

The College of Music saw 15 freshmen, 12 sophomores, 6 juniors, 16 seniors, 1 graduate and 6 special students enroll.

IN THE College of Law there were 43 first year students, 28 second year, 36 third year, and 2 unclassified.

There are at the present time 1012 full time students and 41 specials. Of the 1053 registered, 600 pre-registered and paid their fees.

Law Column Lauded

A potential of 400,000 people have been reading the Law School's newspaper column "Know the Law" which has appeared in 15 Oregon newspapers.

Concerning the series, Seward Reese, Dean of the College of Law, stated: "Letters from members of the bar and laymen indicate that the column is being received with more enthusiastic approval than we anticipated."

WHAT FRAT?

Survey Finds Workers Many; Occupations Vary in Pay, Type

A recent discussion of the problems, the possible number and the efficiency in studies of working students resulted in a survey which, while not too comprehensive, does reveal the following facts.

AROUND 20% of Willamette students work. This work varies in quantity from a few hours a week to full time employment.

Employed by the university in the month of October, for example, the number was 47, an average figure. Some of these are full time jobs, most are not full time, but a regular number of hours each week.

THE JOBS include the library, the book store, various offices; pay from 75 cents per hour up to a possible $1.25 for a top stenographer. Then there are a number of "casual" jobs which provide some student income, but follow no definite pattern.

Food service employs about 60 students, 35 with Ed Andrick at Baxter Hall and the rest with James McFadden at Lausanne.

THESE ARE ALL board jobs, some are for full board which represents $225 per semester, some for three-fourths board and a few for one-half board.

Up to this point the picture is fairly simple but to find and evaluate the situation of the working student who lives or works off campus the slate is more complex.

THE JOBS include a very wide variety. Driving jobs work in warehouses, bakeries, offices, jobs in selling, canvassing, and personnel work are popular. Others are aircraft and automotive repairmen and painters. A great number and variety of jobs in the state institutions including attendants, advisors, house parents and instructors. The pay in these fields ranges from one to two and one-half dollars per hour.

All employers contacted spoke favorably of the industry and efficiency of student employees. In many businesses they are given priority and jobs are reserved for them from year to year. State departments have always made every effort to employ students where at all possible.

COMPARING THE number of jobs available with the number needed by students found a near balance, with possibly a few more students available than jobs.

The off campus student group shows the greatest percentage of working students. Some work afternoons and evenings, others work swing and broken shifts. These students find they have inadequate time for study.

More facts and figures are now under study.

back to reality

Faculty action to require final exams for graduating seniors was to be expected. The past two years, the completion of orals and comps has been considered the end of undergraduate work by fun-loving seniors who proceeded to love as much fun as they could create for the entire month of May.

Exemption from finals has come to be regarded as the sacred right of seniors, particularly by the seniors, and it has been apparent that order would have to be restored before the chaotic fever spread to the other classes.

We imagine there was a little hesitation on the part of the profs in regard to small riots which might arise. We salute their courage in the face of delinquent would-be graduates and cheer five loyal faculty members who are young at heart enough to favor a happy, final-free senior spring.

The class of '58 extends its heartfelt condolences to anyone who will ever be a senior while relishing its starring role in Willamette's last spring fling.

Holmer, Gatke Featured

Featured on this week's page are, ironically enough, the newest professor and the professor with the longest teaching record at Willamette. The latter professor hastens to assure one that he is not necessarily the oldest member of the faculty, however.

Dr. Robert Gatke, who came to Willamette as an assistant instructor in history in 1920, is in his 38th year of teaching at Willamette. In addition Dr. Gatke has a distinguished community service record.

Hopping Bookstore Never Lax; 200 a Day Request Cardboard!

"Never a dull period," was the comment of Mrs. Delsia Larson, manager of the bookstore, which is probably the largest volume retail store serving Willamette students.

"YES, WE MANAGE to keep real busy even after those long, long lines have worn out," she continued.

"Oh, and I've just got to get to work on that desk," Mrs. Larson interrupted.

FOR ABOUT THE first two months of school the four regular staff members are really kept hopping. During the real rushes two or three Willamette students are hired as additional employees.

Books, both references and texts, are always a major item, she said. Then if there aren't lines of students waiting to buy books, there are books to be unpacked and lots of miscellaneous items are also sold.

AFTER EACH student has registered for the second semester he is supposed to bring his trial study card to the bookstore. Often additional course books or readers are required during a second semester.

And if professors don't intend to use a book the next year, which is often the case, it will be sent back to the publishers and tardy students "will be out of luck," Mrs. Larson continued.

IT IS QUITE difficult to tell

Gatke to Quit Campus Monday For 6-Week Vacation in D.C.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Gatke will begin a six-week vacation Monday to Washington, D.C. Going by way of Los Angeles and New Orleans, they will visit friends in the East and have an opportunity to sit in on Congress.

DR. GATKE IS the head of Willamette's political science department and a senior member on the Willamette faculty. He is well known for his book, "Chronicles of Willamette," as well as his great love for rhododendrons.

The opportunity was given to Dr. and Mrs. Gatke because of the Atkinson Fund, which gives Willamette professors the opportunity for special travel in their interest fields, Dr. Gatke said.

THE FUND IS administered by a committee of Willamette's trustees, chairman of which is Truman Collins.

Arrangements for their stay in Washington are being made by Tom Murdock, a former Willamette graduate who is now an assistant to Senator Richard Neuberger of Oregon.

THERE THE Gatkes will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Smith and other Washington friends including Dr. Frederick Harris, Senate Chaplain, and Senator Neuberger.

Dr. Gatke will also have a ring-side seat at the Foreign Relations Sub-Committee. Dr. Carl Marcy, Willamette graduate and former political science senior scholar, is the committee's chairman.

AFTER A THREE week stay in Washington the two will travel to New York to visit the United Nations and other points of interest.

Enroute they will take a side trip to Princeton, New Jersey to visit Dr. J. Douglas Brown, Dean of Princeton.

After a brief visit of friends in Connecticut and Boston Dr. and Mrs. Gatke will head home via Chicago. They will return to Salem the last of March.

IN HIS ABSENCE Dr. Gatke's classes in constitutional law, political theory and political science seminar will be taken by Dr. William Cornelius and Dr. Theodore Shay respectively.

This is an ideal time to make the trip, Dr. Gatke said. Congress is now in session.

News, Nurses Interest Prof; Economist Master of Much

Earl A. Holmer, new member of the economics department, includes in his past activities working with the Hearst chain of newspapers, writing for several business magazines, doing public relations work for philanthropic and professional organizations and taking an active interest in many religious groups.

PROFESSOR HOLMER, who is listed in "Who's Who in New York," became visiting assistant professor of economics at the death of Dr. William Merrill last October.

He came to the West last summer after working several years in the East. One of his primary purposes in coming to the Northwest was to survey its economic condition and future.

AS A WRITER, he was associate editor of the "American Letter," a McGraw-Hill publication which provides economic and political information to overseas businessmen. He was also a staff economist for "Business Week" and edited and supervised the processing of McGraw-Hill editorials.

Another phase of Professor Holmer's work took place 12 years ago when he was acting chief of the yellow wire of INS (a Hearst enterprise). The yellow wire was a direct wire from Hearst's luxurious palace San Simeon, in California, to all the Hearst newspapers in the country. Hearst sent all his orders as to what features to play up and which stories should be thrown out over this wire.

LAST SUMMER Holmer retired as public relations director for the National League for Nursing and he has acted as public relations consultant for several national religious organizations.

As a member of the "advertising fraternity of Madison Avenue," in New York City, he worked on several promotional campaigns and also committees to develop and improve the standards of the public relations field. This work included arranging and organizing national television and radio programs.

"THIS YEAR, at Willamette university is a very interesting experience because a school of this size enjoys many singular advantages found only in a small liberal arts school," said Professor Holmer.

"Since I have been here I have received letters from many friends at the University of Chicago, New York University, Yale and Harvard who have told me that Willamette has a very high national reputation and is a very good college to be a part of," he continued.

Professor Holmer graduated from the University of Oregon as a member of Phi Beta Kappa and with honors in history and economics. He also has a master of science in journalism and a master of arts in economics from Columbia, and a bachelor of divinity from the Union Theological seminary.

VALENTINE SOCKS ARE THE PASSWORD

What, you don't have a pair of red or white socks? Then you can't go to the WITS "Heart Hop" tonight which requires all who attend to be properly attired in honor of St. Valentine. Besides special socks, a colored crayon and a creative mind are necessary to really enjoy this mixer which is open to Willamette and Linfield right after the game in the gym.

HAMBURGERS NOURISH PIANIST

Willard Bunney, assistant concert series manager, found Willamette's concert series artist, Seymour Lipkin, at ease and very natural last Thursday night not only when the pedals fell off the piano during his performance, but also while chatting over hamburgers after the concert.

"Never be a concert pianist" was Lipkin's advice as this "glamorous" occupation involves five hours practice a day, constant traveling, and doesn't even give one enough time to acquire a steady girl friend.

GREGG "INTERVIEWS" BIRTHDAY CAKE

Under the impression he was going to an interview, Dean Gregg found the 'Cat Cavern filled with friends singing happy birthday and an elaborately decorated cake, all in honor of his birthday which took place while he was away in Washington. The single candle that topped Dean Gregg's birthday cake at this surprise party given for him by the office staff denoted sentiment and not years at this birthday celebration.

'Grusum Tusums' to Frolic

COSTUMES will represent couples from comic strip characters to historically famous people while specially created programs will furnish "grusum" examples of how to look.

Decorations will portray famous literary and historical couples in silhouettes who will hover around the walls while couples dance to Hi-Fi music and eat "grusum" refreshments.

ENTERTAINMENT will include a special pantomime and a charleston exhibition. Carolyn Prince is general chairman for the dance with Jan Couey, Dianne Dickson, Laura Johnson, and Mary Fikar working under her.

All girls living in Lausanne and University House have been invited to bring their dates.

Miss Ruth Lofstrom will serve as hostess-chaperone with other chaperones being Dr. and Mrs. Beal and Mr. and Mrs. Gravatt. Honored guests are Dean Ewalt, Mr. and Mrs. Yocum, Dean and Mrs. Gregg, Dr. and Mrs. Petrie, and President and Mrs. Smith.

Four Willamette Angels See First ROTC Coed Conclave

Arnold Air Society members from area I which includes Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming, are holding their first joint conclave with Angel Flight members in Seattle this weekend.

Carol Warren, Kathy Evans, Sherry Jenkins, and Sue Jenkins from Willamette are attending.

Sergeant Curtis is driving up with the girls who left at 7 a.m. this morning in order to arrive in Seattle by noon. The conclave will open with a General Assembly at the University of Washington and will then break into smaller groups. A special dance is planned tonight for the Angel Flight and Arnold Air Society members at the Sand Point Naval Station.

No members of Willamette's Arnold Air Society were able to be at this conclave due to a previously planned flight to Las Vegas which left yesterday.

Carol Warren, who is in charge of the Willamette delegation, says they will be particularly interested in seeing how this, the first coed conclave, will work out.

AWS Dance Turns Formal

A "face lifting" is being given to the AWS dance this year on Saturday, February 22 with the addition of some very special features. For the first time formal dress is the order for the dance to be held at the American Legion Hall, and a combo from Portland University will be featured.

Besides the traditional Betty Coed and Joe College who will be chosen that night, the dance will also honor Coeds of the Month, Queens of Willamette, and Dean Ewalt. Cathy Lund, chairman, says AWS hopes to make this dance a more prominent affair and wants to give the girls an especially nice dance this year since women's house dances were cancelled last semester.

Tickets for the dance are $1.50 per couple and are being sold by representatives in each living organization. Refreshments and entertainment are included in this price. Living organizations are reminded to turn the name of their Betty Coed or Joe College candidate in to Miss Lund by Tuesday.

Treasure Chest Announces Cook, Grant Marriage

GINNY COOK

A special treasure in the form of Ted Cook was delivered to Ginny Grant Monday evening at the Pi Phi house to announce the marriage of the two sophomores which took place Sunday.

After proper hemming and hawing, Ed Everts made the announcement as Ted popped out of a big treasure chest.

Four Corners Methodist church was the site of the wedding, where John Bergstrom served as best man and Judith Butler, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Mrs. Cook is an elementary education major who is secretary of Beta Alpha Gamma and past secretary of her class.

Cook, who is presently Sigma Alpha Chi president and past president of his class, is a pre-med major. Cook plans to continue his education.

Dragon Inn Discloses Casino

The serious faces and intense concentration of the group above, shown gathered around a poker table at the Beta Theta Pi open house Wednesday, presented a contrast with the festive atmosphere at the "Dragon Inn." The party, first Beta social event since Hallowe'en, was attended by a large portion of the campus and offered entertainment ranging from a floor show, dancing, to card games. Card players were given generous amounts of Beta-provided "money" and bunnies were awarded the winners.

Bearcats Pass Century Mark, Bounce LC Pioneers 103-86

Coach Johnny Lewis' red-hot Bearcats scored 35 points in the final eight minutes last Saturday night to blaze past the Lewis and Clark Pioneers, 103-86, and roar off in hot pursuit of the league-leading Linfield Wildcats.

THE VICTORY kept the Bearcats, who have a home-and-home series with Linfield this weekend, in the thick of the Northwest Conference title race with a 7 and 2 record. The Pioneers' loss brought them down to a discouraging 4 and 4 mark.

The 103-point mark ties the Willamette record for most points scored in a single contest. Willamette scored 103 points against Lewis and Clark in 1952, against Linfield in 1953, and against College of Idaho in 1955. In 1952, the Bearcats dumped the Pioneers, 103-65.

EDDIE Grossenbacher, who had been in somewhat of a scoring slump until last Saturday, flipped in 26 points in his final 25 minutes of play and led all scorers with 31 points. Following Grossenbacher in the scoring department was the Bearcats' Vic Backlund with 27.

Willamette hit the hoop at a blistering .425 clip, with 37 field goals in 87 attempts. The Lewis and Clark Pioneers hit 35 of 85 from the field for a .417 average. Accuracy from the charity stripe meant a great deal to Willamette. The Bearcats hit on 29 of 39, as against only 16 of 32 for the Pioneers.

THE PIONEERS led most of the way through the first half of play before their personal fouls began to take their toll, and enabled the Lewismen to knot the score at 48-all by intermission. The Bearcats came back strong in the second half and gave signs of taking over when they built up a 64-59 lead early in the second stanza. Lewis and Clark bounced back with four quick baskets, and it appeared as though they were back in the ball game.

With the score standing 64-63 and the clock showing 12:45 to play, the lid blew off and it was all over. Grossenbacher ignited the blast with a long set shot, and six minutes and 45 seconds later, Coach Johnny Lewis' Bearcats were out front, 88-70.

THE SECOND half flare up, which saw the visitors outscored 27 to 4 was led by reserve center Buzz Wilfert's seven points, and Grossenbacher's and Backlund's six counters. The Pioneers dropped completely out of the contest after reserve Cliff Shelton fouled out. Shelton led the LC scorers with 21 points.

Willamette reserves played the last four minutes of the game and passed the century mark with 1:10 remaining in the contest. Terry Ziegelman took a pass from Larry Lynn and dribbled half the length of the floor to drop in the 100th point.

LEE WEAVER

LARRY LYNN

By DOUG CARD

Although buddies off the court, today's three featured ball-players are engaged in a red-hot battle for a starting slot at forward. All three men are valuable when they're in there, but each of the 6'2" Bearcats excels in a different area. With the long drive ahead for the Conference championship each man will have a good chance to help the 'Cats to the crown.

DICK HARTLEY is called one of the most unorthodox ballplayers to play for John Lewis in recent years. He averaged over ten points per game as he started the last four conference games, relying on odd, but effective, one handers, jumpers, and free-throws. "Hawkins" is best noted as being an outstanding defensive player, and it was this which earned him his starting slot against Linfield's Bill Machamer.

Dick is a senior scholar in P.E., and comes from Idaho. He starred his first two years at Boise J. C. Married this summer, his wife Joyce teaches school here.

LEE WEAVER is probably Willamette's most aggressive ballplayer, as he showed by being the first man to join Ron Taylor in the Taylor-Jack Riley feud at Linfield. His rough playing doesn't hurt a bit, as he is a tough defensive man and a good rebounder. "Weev's" favorite shot is a jump. Although he hasn't started, Lee has played some very good ball in reserve. Only a sophomore, he has shown tremendous improvement, as he played only a little varsity ball last year.

Lee lives at home, and he was an outstanding prep star here in Salem. Besides basketball, Lee also shines in football, starting at end this previous fall.

LARRY LYNN is another very improved sophomore. Chunk's main weapon is his tremendous spring, and he is the top rebounder of the three forward aspirants. He started off the conference race with a team leading 17 points, and was a starter the next four games. His scoring usually comes on tip-ins, jumps, and fast break lay-ins.

"Chunky" is the only Portlander on the 'Cats varsity, and was All-City at Washington High. An economics major, Larry has been active in campus committees.

Aaseth, Fowler Place in PSC Snow Carnival

Approximately 117 Willamette University students participated in the two "ski breaks" between semesters last weekend. The big affair was the annual Portland State College Winter Carnival, which was held at Mount Hood.

WILLAMETTE was represented by their six man ski team, and their candidate for Winter Carnival Queen, Sandi Harris.

The featured race of the event was the downhill slalom. Willametter finished seventh out of 19 schools in total number of points in slalom competition. Jan Aaseth and Jac Fowler were the two members of the Willamette team, who managed to accumulate points for their team.

THE SLALOM was the determining factor in deciding the team champions. Times for the opening downhill on Saturday, except on an individual basis, had been disallowed by the race committee after confusion at that event.

There had been spills galore in the downhill, but this was nothing compared to the first run of the slalom through 50 gates at Pucci's Glade. Of the approximately 80 collegians who tried their skill, only 26 survived the two runs.

MOST OF them didn't get past the first run. The first run was very tight with gates everywhere. The situation was corrected for the second run and only 18 gates were used.

Oregon State, which had won the team championship for the past two years, had only two finishers and tied for seventh place with Willamette. The University of Washington walked off with top honors this year.

Eighty-seven attended the Wesley Ski Spree at Hoodoo Bowl, and in spite of bad snow for skiing everyone had a "great time," Chairman Terry Kent said.

There were a few casualties that tended to dampen the spirits. Poor snow was held accountable for the sprained wrist and two broken ankles suffered.

The latest statistics on Willamette University's basketball team reveal that Eddie Grossenbacher is leading the Bearcats in scoring over the entire season with 292 points in 18 games.

VIC BACKLUND, who is second in the overall scoring with 278, is in first place for the nine Northwest Conference games with 160 tallies. Grossenbacher is second in NWC competition with 147 points.

Tom Johns holds third place in both the season and conference totals with 212 and 114 markers. Among the regulars, Johns holds the best field goal shooting percentage with .447 on 63 for 132.

GROSSENBACHER is in second spot with 114 for 242 and a .472 average. Backlund has a .454 mark on 120 for 265. Buz Wilfert has the top average on the Bearcat squad with 38 for 70 for .543, but hasn't near the playing time the regulars have.

Tom Johns leads in total free throws with 86. The best free throw average is held by Grossenbacher, who has hit the hemp in 64 of 79 attempts for an .810 mark. Johns is second with a .872 average.

THE REBOUND department is also paced by Johns, who has grabbed off a total of 202 rebounds. Backlund is in second spot with a total of 152 grabs.

As a team, the Bearcats are shooting .442 from the field, as compared to their opponents .336. Willamette has tallied 1332 points, while yielding 1094. In the rebounding department, Willamette has grabbed off a total of 745, as against 671 for its opponents.

Baseball Meeting Called by Lewis

Coach Johnny Lewis announced that all pitchers and catchers, who are planning on turning out for the 1958 baseball squad, should meet in the athletic office on Wednesday, February 19, at 3:30 p.m.

Coach Lewis also announced that anyone interested in managing baseball this spring should see him as soon as possible.

Bearcats' Big Gun

Ready to do battle against the Linfield Wildcats tonight is Willamette's star guard, Eddie Grossenbacher. "Steady Eddie," who led the Bearcats in scoring last year with 314 total points, is once again the top point producer for the Cardinal and Gold. Grossenbacher hit for 31 points against Lewis and Clark last Saturday night.

Willamette To Meet Linfield In Two Tilts

Willamette's battlin' Bearcats meet the Linfield Wildcats in a crucial home-and-home series this weekend. Tonight, Coach Johnny Lewis' red-hot basketballers tangle with the invading Wildcats in the Willamette gym at 8 p. m.

Tomorrow night, the second fray of the series will take place on the Linfield maples in McMinnville. Coach Roy Helsler's Wildcats are currently leading the Northwest Conference with a six and one mark.

A pair of wins is a must for the Bearcats if they are to take over the conference leadership. A split would leave both teams in the same position, with Linfield leading in the percentage column.

The Bearcats, who dropped their previous encounter with the Wildcats, go into the game with a seven and two conference record. For the entire basketball season, Willamette has a 15-3 mark.

Last weekend, the Linfield Wildcats defeated the Pacific University Badgers, 76-57. Linfield took an early 9-0 lead in the ball game and was never in trouble throughout the remainder of the contest.

Once again, little Jack Riley paced the Wildcats, as he scored 22 points. Three other Wildcats had 10 points apiece.

Coeds Place In Tourney

Before the end of the first semester, Willamette University women's badminton team traveled to McMinnville, where they participated in this year's intercollegiate badminton tournament on the Linfield College courts.

Representing Willamette University were Judy Embree, JoAnn Lush, and Barbara Simon. In addition to the Linfield and Willamette teams, Clark Junior College of Vancouver, Oregon College of Education, and Reed College entered teams.

The Willamette team finished second in doubles competition, and was edged out of second to nab a close third spot in singles competition.

IT SEEMED altogether fitting for Terry Ziegelman to drop in the 100th point in Willamette's 103-86 victory over Lewis and Clark last Saturday night. The "little fireman" has been a real hustler all season for the Bearcats. Although he sees limited action, he is always ready and rarin' whenever called upon. And there is no doubt about it, he has the greatest pre-game warmup performances in the Northwest Conference.

LEWIS AND CLARK'S forward Roger Fleck, who received a finger in the eye with five minutes gone in the game last Saturday night, had eight stitches taken in the eyeball and will be lost to the Lewis and Clark squad for at least a week. It goes without saying that Fleck's substitute, Cliff Shelton, turned in his greatest effort of the year in the 21 minutes he played. He scored 21 points and nabbed more than his share of rebounds.

WILLAMETTE University's Vic Backlund added to his impressive and ever growing list of honors last week, when he was given recognition at the Bill Hayward "Banquet of Champions." Vic was rated high in the final screening among the original 60 nominees for the "Athlete of the Year" award. His recognition was for all-around brilliance in football, basketball and baseball, in addition to his outstanding scholastic achievements.

SALEM'S RED-HOT AAU basketball team, Valley Motors, clinched the District 3-C AAU basketball title this week, when they defeated the First National Bank team, 82-52. The Valley Motors quintet's starting lineup includes ex-Willamette University basketball stars: Tom Gooding, Don Hoy, and Pete Reed. The team has a highly respectable 14-2 record for season play. Their record includes a win over the defending Oregon State AAU champions, Portland Outdoor Store.

PLAYING FOR the First National Bank's AAU squad was Willamette University's track star, Dale Hartman. Hartman pumped home 20 points for the First National Bank quintet against the Valley Motors. Hartman, who laid out of school this fall to work, has enrolled for the second semester. His return to school makes the Willamette track picture for the coming season look much brighter. Hartman holds the school record in the 880 and mile runs.

COACH JOHNNY Lewis has issued a call for all prospective pitchers and catchers to meet this coming Wednesday at 3:30 in the athletic office. Lending a hand with the pitchers and catchers this spring will be ex-Willamette baseball great and more recently with the professional Salem Senators, Harvey Koepf.

SPEAKING of baseball, the major league player representatives unanimously endorsed a recently proposed bill by the House anti-trust subcommittee to bring business aspects of all professional sports under federal regulation. They also advocated, something we think is long overdue, the standardization of playing fields and fences in new baseball parks, and where practical in existing parks.

Sig Alphas, Rinky Dinks Win In First Round of Tourney

The final round of league play in intramural basketball came to a close last Tuesday night, when the six teams on the Tuesday night slate played their last games.

IN THE OPENER at 7:30 p. m., the Sigma Chis kept their record clean when they dumped a hapless SAE quintet, 56-16. Jim Manwaring scored 30 points for the winners, while Al Girod led the losers with six.

The second contest of the evening pitted the Law School against the Independents. Cliff Hussey and Gordy DeArmond led the Independents to victory with 11 points apiece. Lindy Dopson and Bill Schantz pumped in six apiece for the Lawyers.

IN THE FINAL game of the evening, the WITS dumped the Phi Deltas, 23-14. Jim Lewis led the winners with nine counters, while his teammate Jim Seroggins hit the hemp for six. Johnny Hinds was high for the losers with four.

Wednesday night saw the first round of the double-elimination playoff tournament get under way. The top two teams from each league earned the right to enter the playoffs. The representatives from the Tuesday night league were the champion Sigma Chi team, and runnerup Phi Delta Theta.

THE WEDNESDAY night league is represented by the first place Sigma Alpha Epsilon squad, and second place Phi Delta Theta. The Saturday morning league placed the champion Rinky Dinks and co-champion Sigma Chis in the tournament.

In the first round of tournament play, Sigma Alpha Epsilon edged Phi Delta Theta, 33-29. Earl Anderson led the way for the victors with 12 points. Bob Roy hit the hoop for seven, while teammate Bob Pentager dumped in six.

BRAD LUCAS led the losing Phi Delta Theta team with nine points. Bob Trelstad had eight points for Phi Delta runnerup honors. Gene Paterson followed with six counters.

The win put the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the winners' bracket, and dropped the Phi Delta Theta squad into the losers division.

IN THE SECOND game of the first round action, the Rinky Dinks dropped the men of Sigma Chi, 32-17. The Rinky Dink scoring was well divided among all players. Jim Whitmire had eight points to lead the winners. Bruce Buzzell flipped in seven for the Rinky Dinks.

High man for the Sigma Chis was Jim Manwaring with eight points. This was far off his record-breaking 30 point output of the previous night. Feller had four, Klindworth two and Osterlund three to round out the Sig scoring.

Dr. Huffman Says Greek Testament Ready in 6 Years

A NEW EDITION of the Greek New Testament will be ready to roll off the presses in six years, says Dr. Norman A. Huffman, professor of religion and a Greek scholar.

THIS REVISION will be the first in over 50 years and will incorporate the findings of scholars from all over the world. It will be printed in Greek.

Dr. Huffman, recently appointed member of the project's advisory committee, will examine the new material along with 40 other scholars and will submit his recommendations to an executive committee composed of three American, one German and one English professor, each a member of his country's Bible society.

A NUMBER OF small changes have been recorded, says Dr. Huffman, but no radical alterations are in order.

The Chester-Beatty Papyrus, containing parts of the New Testament and dating back to the third century, is an example of the material to be used in the revision, as is a copy of the Gospel of John dating back 200 A. D., the oldest known document of its kind in existence.

US Mass Education Promotes Mediocrity, Chilean Complains

Schools in the United States were defined as clinics for conforming people by Dr. Jorge Elliott-Garcia, an English and American literature professor from the University of Chile, who addressed Tuesday's convocation concerning colleges and universities in Chile.

DR. GARCIA'S remarks dealt primarily with education in general with interesting examples of the South American system. He said that education should bring enlightenment and understanding, spiritual values, and a dignity of selfhood, but in reality caters to the mass with its weak aspirations and mediocrity.

The mass man is satisfied with thinking the first thing which comes into his head, and in Dr. Garcia's opinion, democracy has been misused. It has become an excuse to sink to the level which mediocrity demands.

Nurse Urges 3 Polio Shots For Everyone

"We'd like to get everyone," was the comment of Mrs. Henrietta Althoff, health center nurse.

She was referring to the vaccination of all Willamette students who have not received three polio shots.

POLIO SHOTS have been available to students since the inoculation program was begun about a year ago, and Mrs. Althoff said she believed that all who had started them now have finished.

However, only about 10 percent of the student body participated in the program at that time. The health center's aim is to interest the rest of the student body.

LETTERS HAVE been sent to all living organizations to check individual shot progress. If enough students are interested in beginning the program, extra help will be hired and all the shots will be given at once, Mrs. Althoff said.

The third shot, which can be taken from seven months to a year after the second, can be obtained at the health center any time, Mrs. Althoff added.

According to Mrs. Althoff, booster shots will not be necessary because of the sequence of three shots should remain effective for "quite a long period of time."

Cost of the shots is $1 each.
