

$1,000,000 ENDOWMENT FOR W. U.

Eight Year Campaign Brought to a Close Tuesday Afternoon

Victory Bell Tells Story of Triumph as Students Rally to Praise Donors and Rejoice.

Having pealed out stories of numerous intercollegiate triumphs, the Victory Bell Tuesday told what was perhaps its most joyous tale—that of the completion of the million dollar endowment fund campaign in which Willamette and the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation have been cooperating for the past eight years.

At 4:15 following a meeting of the trustees, Dr. Doney announced that certain trustees and friends of the institution had underwritten unpaid pledges and without any obligation to the university, had paid the $40,000 remaining to be pledged. The campaign was to have closed at midnight whether or not the sum had been raised.

From a small group of students gathered in the registrar's office at the time of the announcement and from faculty members gathered in meeting where the announcement was also made the excitement spread until students on downtown streets were heard to greet one another with the cry "One million dollars!"

A student assembly called for seven o'clock in the chapel attracted some 200 students and faculty members. Singing, yelling, and speeches were the order of the hour, with President Carl G. Doney, Dean Frank M. Erickson, and Warren McMinimee, student body president, as the chief speakers.

Wednesday further demonstrations demanded that classes be dismissed in the middle of the day. Following a student rally a serpentine through the center of town told marveling townfolk of the rejoicing at Willamette.

Student leaders have intimated that much spirit was bottled up to make its appearance at homecoming time, the weekend of October 25.

Eight years ago an agreement was made with the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation whereby the university was to raise $850,000 and receive from the foundation $350,000 thus procuring a one million dollar endowment fund.

The time limit has since been twice extended and $270,000 has been paid out to clear the institution of indebtedness. Information received here is to the effect that Willamette, with a total endowment of one and three quarters million dollars, is now one of the three most highly endowed institutions in the United States.

Rumor from good sources has it that within the next five years new buildings or money to construct new buildings will be given by people interested in the university. The gifts, it is said, will come as the direct result of the completion of the campaign. In several cases money has been promised on the stipulation that money to maintain buildings so given is in the possession of the university.

Grateful Students Regale Selves With Foolishment, Food and Fun During Salem Day at State Fair

The Oregon State fair wins each year the undying gratitude of Willamette university students. The reason is obvious—on Wednesday of fair week no classes are held, and both men and coeds remove to the back of their minds all subjects intellectual, as they sally forth with glee to a wild day at the fair.

Off we go—vast numbers squeezed into cars which vary in stages of collegiate dilapidation. Eventually all cars arrive; the occupants swarm out—and the day has begun.

The distinctive odors and noises of the fair greet us immediately and fill us with a feeling of exhilaration. From the distance comes the sound of merry-go-round jazz music, the roar of the tumblebug, and shouts of "Ice cream sandwiches—ten cents!" The scene increases in enchantment as we approach the center

Salem Rotarians Honor McMinimee With Membership

(Editor's note: The Collegian wishes to apologize for the error which occurred in the Collegian last week when Mr. McMinimee's picture appeared without the following story.)

An invitation to become an honorary member of the Salem group of Rotary International service clubs has been extended to Warren McMinimee, president of the A. S. W. U. Maurice Hudkins, president of the Salem high school student body has received a like invitation.

The two new members attended their first meeting when the regular weekly luncheon was held Wednesday.

W. U. Has Two Women Editors for First Time

Dorothy Flesher and Helen Stiles Edit University's Major Publications

With two capable young women at the helm, Willamette's journalistic bark seems scheduled for a successful year. Whatever incredulous masculine sniffs this fact may arouse, it is nevertheless a proved fact that it is "woman who makes the world go round." For proof ask any co-ed.

This is the first time in the history of the university that both the editors have been women.

Both are exceedingly versatile, having taken part in various college activities during the past few years.

Dorothy Pemberton Flesher, editor of The Collegian, has been prominent in athletics as well as in literary work. Her present position seems a fitting climax to several years of faithful service on the staff of the university paper.

Helen Stiles has not only distinguished herself in contributions to the Collegian and Willamette, but in dramatics as well. Last year, she managed successfully one of the Theta Alpha Phi plays. This year, she is managing the Homecoming play.

With the two editors bringing to their work this wealth of experience, there is no reason why this year's publications should not be the best produced in the history of the school, thus adding one more triumph to the long list of achievements due to feminine emancipation.

FROSH NOMINATIONS FOR CLASS OFFICERS

Miller, Marcy and Blatchford Contestants for Presidency

A lively freshman class meeting held last week when nominations for class officers were in order.

Nominees for the various offices are as follows: president, Dwight Miller, Carl Marcy, and Fred Blatchford; vice-president, Marjorie Law, Mildred Kester, Genevieve Emmons, and Ruth Fick; secretary, Dorothy Dak, and Barbara Elliott; treasurer, Herbert Hardy, Frank Haley, and Joe Hersberger; sergeant-at-arms, David Drager; forensic manager, Richard Upjohn and Carl Giannoli.

Fred Blatchford, temporary chairman, presided over the meeting.

A recognition services will be held for all freshmen women on the afternoon of October 9th at which time the committees will be organized under the respective chairmen and work will be organized for the year.

MITZNER CONDUCTS WESLEYAN MEETING

Willamette Wesleyans held the first meeting of the year, Thursday, September 25. Twenty-three members and invited guests were present. The devotional meeting was led by Amanda Mitzner, devotional chairman, who announced that the Wesleyan motto for this year would be taken from Isaiah 22:1.

The club extends a hearty welcome to all interested.

A stranger passing by Willamette Tuesday evening just after the endowment announcement appeared, stopped and asked a student what state institution "that school was," and the "stude" answered: "It's an institution in the state of rejoicing."

WOMEN'S GLEE IS ORGANIZED

Trip Will Probably be Made During Spring Vacation This Year

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Professor Marshall Plans Surprise Features for Fall Program

Big things are promised for this school year by the Women's Glee Club. At present there is a large deficit; however, through a special project which is to be a surprise to the students and townspeople, this deficit will be made up before Christmas. The surprise is to be full of local color, something that Willamette has never done before. The Men's Glee Club will cooperate with the women's club in raising the fund.

For financial reasons the usual spring trip seemed impossible at first. Now that a method has been found for raising the necessary funds, plans are being made for a trip (probably to the north this year) during spring vacation. A very exciting trip is expected.

Professor Marshall has many new plans for improving the programs. He is acquainted with stage men and has had his glee clubs on the stage many times.

Professor Marshall plans to use the "football idea" in the glee club this year. That is, have a first and second squad. Those students who show the most interest and practice regularly will form the first squad.

Eighteen glee club members of last year are back in school. There will probably be about thirty-eight members in the first squad. Many freshmen and a number of upperclassmen who have not previously been associated with the glee club have tried out. Much talent has been displayed, and a very successful season is expected.

J. ALLISON BEGINS HOMECOMING PLANS

Invitations Being Sent to Alumni; to Conduct Slogan Campaign

Plans for Homecoming to be held the week-end of October 24-25, are being rapidly brought in to working order under the management of James Allison.

On Friday night, October 24, there will be a big pep rally in preparation for the big game with College of Puget Sound on Saturday afternoon. The Homecoming play, "The Queen's Husband," sponsored by the alumni business men, will be presented Saturday evening. An alumni banquet will be held Saturday.

It is planned to sell a combination ticket which will admit one to the banquet, the game and the play. This will be more economical than buying them separately.

A slogan committee is to be appointed soon to supervise the slogan campaign. Prizes will again be offered for the best slogan.

Invitations are now being sent out to all alumni to return to their alma mater for the weekend.

In Portland the two alumni clubs are going to have a dinner on the Monday preceding Homecoming to encourage the attendance of the members.

More complete plans will be announced later.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETS FIRST TIME

New Class Representatives Find Places on Various Committees

The executive committee held its first meeting of the year on Friday afternoon, September 26, at which time several committees were appointed.

Leslie Frewing is chairman of the committee to investigate the selling of song books. A budget committee was appointed, as follows: Paul Ackerman, chairman; Dorothy Pemberton Flesher, and John Nelson. Betty Lewis is in charge of the auditing committee which will audit last year's books, and Wesley Roeder was appointed song book manager.

James Allison was appointed Homecoming manager, and he has selected a publicity committee to work with him.

The meeting was held later than usual, owing to the delay in the election of the new representatives. Those elected are: senior representative, Leslie Frewing; junior, Edith Finley; sophomore, John Nelson; freshman, Percy Sweet.

Another short meeting of the executive committee was held at noon on September 30, at which a report from the song book committee was received. The organization plans to hold its meetings on the first and third Mondays of each month, the latter meeting to be held in the evening. This is an innovation which will be welcomed by the committee, as it will then have ample time to transact its business.

SCHOLASTIC QUALITY OF W. U. RECOGNIZED

Admission of Willamette university to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, may become a reality, states registrar Tennant.

According to Dr. Duncan, of Pomona college, Willamette university was not given the slightest recognition when she first put in a petition for admission to this organization, but upon further investigation Dr. Duncan stated that he found the scholastic standing of Willamette university to be of the highest quality. He further stated that as far as he is personally concerned, Willamette university should be placed at the head of the list of schools now petitioning for membership in the organization. This recognition by Dr. Duncan does not in any way mean that Willamette university has been or will be recognized by the organization. It is hoped by university officials, nevertheless, that before long the school will be accepted.

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest and highest in scholastic standing of all scholastic organizations of this country. Only undergraduates who have attained a very high scholastic standing and some few honorary members are admitted to the organization. Ten per cent of a graduating class may have the honor of membership conferred upon them.

A large percentage of Willamette faculty members are now wearing the Phi Beta Kappa key.

Officers Elected at First Meeting of Women's Glee

Officers of the Women's Glee club for the coming year were elected at their first meeting Monday, September 29.

Those elected were: President, Helen Pemberton; vice-president, Mary Allen; manager, Nellie Badley; librarian, Edith Mornage, and secretary-treasurer, Marjorie Odell.

HOMECOMING PLAY CHOSEN

"The Queen's Husband" by Robert Sherwood Selected to Be Cast

BROWN, GORDON LEADS

This Play Has Received Commendation From Colleges and Little Theaters

On the evening of October 25, Theta Alpha Phi will present "The Queen's Husband" by Robert Emmet Sherwood, as the annual Homecoming Play. Tryouts were held Sept. 21 and the cast selected as follows:

- King Eric, Wesley Gordon
- Frederic Granton
- Laurence Brown
- Leon Norris
- Lord Burton
- Carl Marcy
- Petley
- Oliven Bove
- Princess Anne, Buena Brown
- Queen Martha, Faye Cornutt
- General Northrup
- Ralph McCullough
- Major Bient, Stanley King
- Prince William, Fred Harris
- Dr. Fellman, Ralph Foster
- Laker, Willis Shuler
- 1st Lady in waiting, Katherine Earle
- 2nd lady in waiting, Katherine Elgin
- Soldier, Frank Pemberton

"The Queen's Husband" was successful professionally and is extremely popular among Little Theaters and colleges. It has been produced by the Dallas Little Theater, Rochester Community Players, Utica Players, U. of California, Stanford, and Dartmouth.

The play is modern life in medieval settings and the result makes it one of the cleverest comedies that could be found. The scene is laid in the study on the 2nd floor of the Royal Palace, in the Kingdom of Merland. The King, (Wesley Gordon) is much more interested in penguins and checkers than the task of ruling Merland. Unfortunately the Secretary of State and Military Commander insist upon consulting him in important matters. Moreover, the Princess Anne, (Buena Brown) rebels at marrying the man whom her mother has selected. The Queen, (Faye Cornutt) journeys to America in an attempt to raise the money necessary for the court wedding. A revolution takes place, which is conspicuous for its humor, the queen returns, the cathedral is prepared—and then the king unexpectedly begins to take an interest in the affairs of the kingdom.

Professor Rahd, the director, is enthusiastic both about the play and its selected cast. Rehearsals are well under way.

WILLAMETTE'S INVINCIBILITY MANIFESTS ITSELF AGAIN

Willamette university gets what it goes out for. Last year the students of the university desired very intensely to send a contingent of rooters to boost along the team that was to brilliantly overcome a northwest conference opponent. Kropotkin would have witnessed a complete realization of his "mutual aid" idea if he had been privileged to see how those who couldn't go send those who could. It was a job with no mean odds.

Then, in an infinitely greater project, Willamette university got the thing it sought. The goal this time lay at the end of a discouragingly arduous road, but with that same invincible spirit Willamette achieved that end.

Eight years ago W. U. headed itself toward a one million dollar endowment to be attained without any Smith-Hughes cooperation—that is, $650,000 of the million—and Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the victory bell proclaimed to an eager campus that the goal toward which W. U. has progressed had been definitely, gloriously reached. Thanks to the incentive proposed by the Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, who matched our $650,000 with their $350,000.

The accumulation of the entire amount is a thrilling story of open-heartedness and sacrifice, and an unceasing determination on the part of officials to attain the object which would set Willamette on a firm, permanent financial basis. Now the field is opened for new projects and Willamette university will unwaveringly advance toward an enviable position of collegiate prestige. And what we want we get.

"More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

We see that some modern edicts duplicating the Carlsbad decree have been in effect at the University of Mississippi. Four professors of the university and eleven members of the faculty at Mississippi State college for women have been dismissed for entertaining "alleged liberal views."

Oy, the price of a mind that strays from the old and beaten way.

No bull fights are permitted in Spanish towns where the public instruction is not up to the government standard. It's a new Spanish custom.

Grateful Students

all the barns and gaze admiringly at the sheep and cows and pigs. More—they must accompany their escorts and listen attentively to enthusiastic—but nevertheless incomprehensible—explanations of various kinds of machinery. But it will soon be over—and then—ah, then—they can look at the embroidery and the dress exhibits! And so, the poor escort eventually finds himself sharing in feminine attractions. "Isn't that pair of pillow cases perfectly darling?" asks the co-ed. And the suffering, but gallant man answers gruffly, "Yes, it is."

After such uninteresting occupations we simply must indulge in a bottle of pop, and then we suddenly decide to ride on the tumbledog. What a shake-up! But now that we have started with this kind of entertainment, we can't go back to uninteresting, unexciting wanderings through the buildings. We buy a bag of popcorn and look around at the slide-shows. Trained fleas are beckoning us even more strongly. More fun! But it does sorta jerk our necks and make us hot and bothered. An ice cream cone would taste good. And after that, the merry-mix-up, and then some candy. But we nearly forgot the whip—and the fair wouldn't seem real if we didn't eat a hot dog. And there's the merry-go-round and pink lemonade, and the ferris wheel and some salted peanuts—and so on, indefinitely.

At about four o'clock in the afternoon, this conversation is prevalent: "Would you like to ride on the Tumbledog again?" "Why—yes—if you want to." "Oh, no—I don't want to if you don't." "Well, you look kinda tired. Would you like to sit down and watch?" "Would you?" "If you do, I do." "All right, then—I guess we might as well." A pause. "Would you like to go to the horse show tonight?" "Well—I have a lot of studying to do—and anyway—but if you want to—" "No—it doesn't make any difference to me. I've got a little studying to do, myself."

And so—home and to bed—troubled dreams of a fall from the ferris wheel on to a pig which was a hot dog—lessons unlearned—

Annual Salem Day at the Oregon State fair.

But anyway, we got out of classes for it!

DECREASES NOTED IN BANK DEPOSITS

Salem banks failed to show as good statements for the quarter ending September 24, when the last call was made, as at the call of last June 30, according to tabulations, with the loans and discounts holding their own in the greatest degree.

Demand and time deposits were about a half million dollars short of three months ago, when there was $11,556,211.14 recorded in the columns. On September 24, the figure was $10,761,421.23.

The cash positions at the last call were over a million dollars under that of June 30. The latest statements show combined cash of $1,711,171.08, and compared to $2,751,488.56 of the previous quarter.

Resources show about the same drop as the cash, the June 30 resources totaling $13,293,400.48 as compared to $12,437,359.28 for the September call.

Loans and discounts were fairly even, with $6,327,915.99 in September call as against $6,350,504.79 at the end of June.

Power Company Has new Plant

The public service commission has been advised by the West Coast Power company at Bend that it has taken over the electric utility of the Edward Hines Western Pine company at Hines and is combining that plant with its Bend plant. The Hines utility, organized to serve the new lumber town of that name has ceased to function, according to the letter received by the commission.

Years Ago

FIVE YEARS AGO

October 14, 1925

As a result of an adolescent prank in the library last week, six Willamette men have been severely penalized. Five men are on probation for six months and a fifth is suspended for two weeks. Cornelius Bateson, associate editor of the Collegian and member of Kappa Gamma Rho forfeits his right as a student of Willamette university for two weeks since he was already on probation. Loyd Warner, Alpha Psi Delta; Warren Day, president of the student body, Kappa Gamma Rho; Henry Hartley, Sigma Tau; Bruce Spalding, Sigma Tau; and Kenneth McCormick, Kappa Gamma Rho, are on six months probation.

The most unique team that has ever appeared on a gridiron will be seen on Sweetland field this Saturday when the Willamette football team of 1895 will be out in suits to start against the Varsity team in the Willamette-Alumni game. Every member of the team is alive and well, a record, declares Coach Rathbun, that to his knowledge cannot be equalled by any other institution in the world.

A team that played for Willamette thirty years ago was captained by Chester Murphy, a prominent Portland attorney, who will be on hand and in suit for the contest Saturday. Attorney-General Van Winkle was manager of the team, and Hon. W. P. Hawley was at that time president of the institution, and whenever the need would arise, he could be relied upon to fill a place in the line.

TEN YEARS AGO

October 6, 1920

Promise of a woman's athletic association at Willamette was held forth when Miss Grace Presley took the platform in chapel Tuesday morning and summoned all would-be Samsonettes into conclave in the gymnasium, for the purpose of perfecting an organization.

FOURTEEN YEARS AGO

September 27, 1916

The pipe-organ now being installed in Waller Hall chapel is a valuable and appropriate acquisition to the property of the university. Although it was one of the first organs on the coast, having been purchased by the Taylor Street church, Portland, 35 years ago, it is in excellent condition, and according to Mr. Whitacre of Portland and Seattle, who has charge of the installation work, "the tone is all that could be desired—plenty of volume and plenty of variety. It is undoubtedly worth $7,000."

The organ is of the old tracker system, having two manuals and pedals, 18 speaking stops and approximately 1,200 pipes. The power is furnished by an electric motor.

Much credit is due Professor Hall and the student help that he received for the splendid Willamette exhibit at the fair. It is located in the west end of the new exhibit building on the landing between the first and second floors, where it can easily be seen by people ascending or descending the stairway.

A large W. U. monogram intertwined with wild roses serves as a background. In a notch of the U. rests an owl, the symbol of knowledge. A large panoramic view of the campus occupies the center of the exhibit, while on each side is a picture of the old Oregon Institute, Oregon's first college, and the log cabin in which Jason Lee founded the first school.

"It is a wonderful thing to go to college. It is to be in an environment where the great forces of the past and present unite to prepare youth for their future. A college is an assemblage of helps. It is a wonderful thing to be in their presence for four years and only one person in 100 of college age has the privilege..."

State Fair Camp Members Mourn Fifteen Missing

Resolutions of sympathy were passed by the Oregon State Fair Campers' association at its closing meeting this year. Short talks given by several members of the group also paid tribute to members of the association who had died during the year. During the service, "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung.

The following members of the association have answered the last "roll call" during the past year: Mrs. Charles Walter, Fred Yergeon, J. W. LaBare, Jacob S. Buxton, Mrs. J. B. Simpson, Cornelia J. Greer, A. King, William C. Green, Erwin Dow, Ira A. Munkers, Dr. J. W. Dill, Mrs. J. T. Beckwith, A. Bailey, H. Ohling, J. A. Breeding.

MAYBELLE BURCH FACULTY OFFICER

Mrs. Maybelle Burch was named second vice president of the Salem teachers' council at the first meeting held this week. She succeeds Carin Degermark, who is teaching elsewhere this year; and by virtue of her office is chairman of the council social committee. Miss Carlotta Crowley was chosen council reporter, filling vacancy created by resignation from the staff of Mrs. Susie J. Emmons, principal at Park last year.

The teachers are making plans for the annual teachers' reception, to be held sometime next week. Plans were also made at the council meeting for Salem teachers' work as hostess group to the Marion county institute to be held here next Monday and Tuesday. The local teachers will be in charge of the recreation and information rooms, as well as assisting otherwise.

Girl Reserves To Form Units At Junior Highs

Both Parrish and Leslie Junior high schools will have two Girl Reserves organizations this year, as result of enthusiasm displayed yesterday when Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaher, general secretary, and two of her advisors met with the girls.

Louise Brown will be advisor to the 8th and 9th grade group and Margaret Gormley to the 7th grade group at Leslie. These groups will meet in the auditorium after school next Tuesday for organization and election of officers. Eleanor Tompkins, new gym teacher at Leslie, will assist Miss Brown.

Ritzelshon Atkinson will have charge of the 8th and 9th tri-angles and Helen Price will advise the 7th grade reserves at Parrish. The Parrish groups will meet in room to next Wednesday afternoon for election and organization.

Alumni Notes

Speaking of loyalty of alumni to their colleges, this is a fine example: Bill Mansford, president of the A. S. W. U. 1929-30, enclosed one dollar in a recent letter to the graduate manager to help pay the deficit in "Whip Whitman" banquet to be held Nov. 22. He remembered the deficit last year.

He is working in a Bell laboratory in New York but he lives in Redbank, New Jersey. Bill says that the New York Willamette folk are behind Spec Keane 100 per cent.

Reeve Betts, '29, is attending the Harvard Medical School in Boston, Mass. This is his second year there.

Charles Redding has just written to the Alumni Secretary, Leslie J. Sparks. Redding was president of the A. S. W. U. 1928-29. He is now president of the younger alumni group in Portland.

Warren Day was operated on last week for appendicitis. According to reports, Warren is improving quite rapidly. He is the district manager of the New York Life Insurance Co. for Southern Oregon. He is in a Eugene hospital.

Anne Silver, '25, is attending Pindle Hill in Wallingford, Pennsylvania, taking advanced work. Her brother, Joe, who graduated from Willamette last spring is working toward his Master's degree in economics and sociology in Haverford, Philadelphia Friends university, where he holds a scholarship.

Lydia Childs, '30, is teaching in the Brownsville high school. She describes herself as a "poor Latin major masquerading as a civics teacher." She is adviser to the staff of the high school weekly and is anxious to get her COLLEGIANS promptly so that Brownsville's young journalists may peruse it thoroughly while it is yet news.

NEW COURSE AT U. C. DEALS WITH COLOR

BERKELEY, Oct. 1.—An approach to color in art and every day life will be considered by John Emmett Gerrity, well known California artist, in a course of 15 lectures, scheduled by the University of California Extension division to start this month.

The lectures will be held in the Extension Center, 1730 Franklin street, Oakland, starting the evening of October 8 and in San Francisco at 540 Powell street, starting October 9.

Gerrity believes there is evidence of an increased consciousness in modern life which necessitates a clearer understanding of the basic principles of color. He says, "It is more and more useful that we find an approach to color, not only for the better understanding and appreciation of art, but of the everyday manifestations of color in modern existence. With the new impulse of contemporary painting a completely new conception of the character and uses of color has been evolved."

Gerrity is well known on the coast for his painting and as a stage designer.

U. C. L. A. TO HAVE NEW UNION BLDG.

LOS ANGELES.—The new Kerekhoff Union building, now under construction on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles, will be completed by about January 1, it is believed by the contractors, and will be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the spring semester. The building which will be one of the major structures on the campus, is a gift to the university by Mrs. William G. Kerekhoff of Los Angeles, and is a memorial to her late husband. The cost of the building will exceed a half million dollars, it is believed.

In making the gift Mrs. Kerekhoff expressed two conditions, one that the building be the most beautiful of the buildings on the campus, and that it be entirely adequate as a student union building. These conditions are being carried out. The exterior of the building is being faced with Texas limestone and specially made brick, smaller in size than ordinary brick. Windows and doors are being faced inside and outside with the limestone, and the specifications provide for a building of the highest type from a structural standpoint. The stone is being cut in Los Angeles and because of the detailed work, some of it is hand-cut, and this

Taking Electrical Convenience From Ol' Man River

THE total capacity of waterwheel generators built by General Electric in the last ten years is more than enough to supply light and power for twenty cities of one million population.

Installed in power houses along the waterways, these machines transform the strength of mighty rivers into useful electric energy for homes, for industry, and for transportation.

The vision and skill of college-trained men are largely responsible for the continuing leadership of General Electric in its service of furnishing machines and devices that provide the swift, sure convenience and the economy of electricity—on land and sea and in the air.

Formal Dinners Close Sorority Rushing Season

The strenuous activities of sorority rush season culminate this week in the formal dinners being given at the three houses. During the past weeks there have been charming breakfasts, luncheons, teas, and dinners; but formal banquets surpass all these in beauty and impressiveness.

Beta Chi formal dinner was given Tuesday evening. Slender green tapers, baskets of delicately shaded flowers, and dainty nosegays for the guests decorated the long tables.

A quaint little dancer entertained the guests with her toe dancing. Miss Josephine Alberts furnished vocal solos.

Delta Phi formal dinner was Wednesday evening. Beautiful candelabra with white candles softly lighted the U-shaped table. Yellow flowers added charm and color. The guests received attractive leather compacts as favors.

The program of the evening included a piano solo by Miss Frances Law, a vocal solo by Miss Lillian Scott, and a marimba solo by Miss Edith Findley.

Alpha Phi Alpha formal dinner Thursday evening will conclude the rushing season.

A fuller account of it will be given next week.

We wish to correct an error of omission in last week's list of weddings. Miss Roberta Riggs and Mr. Edwin Rounds were married at Kimball School of Theology, June 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Schneider of Myrtle Point were guests of their daughter, Miss Carolyn Schneider, at Lausanne Hall last week-end.

HEALTH PROGRAM PLANS ANNOUNCED

First detailed information of the Commonwealth Fund's project to develop rural health work through a state wide public health project was given here yesterday by Dr. William J. French, director of the division of public health for the fund who is now in Oregon making studies and holding conferences with the groups around which such a program would revolve were Oregon selected as one of the states in which to carry on the project.

For Oregon, it has previously been announced, is bidding for the project. Oregon is the only western state which the fund is considering, but there are several other states also seeking the project. The fund, headquarters of which are at New York, launched this program last January 1, and has already selected Tennessee and Massachusetts as two of the three states in which the project will be operated.

"Public health work has been developed to a high degree in many cities, but the rural areas have been grossly neglected, and because we believe an adequate public health program can be and should be developed in the rural areas we will aid some state to increase the public health personnel and will aid the medical school to provide additional education facilities for rural work," Dr. French said.

He pointed out that administration of the project is left entirely in the hands of the state health department, through which, in conjunction with the state university medical school, the project would be carried on.

In the program, the state would be helped on a 50-50 basis and provision would be made to enlarge the state health personnel to medical officer, sanitary officers and field public health workers.

In addition, the project would aid two specific counties to further develop public health work, the counties to be chosen either have present work supplemented or a new health unit to give adequate service created with the fund meeting the county half way.

Dr. French gave no intimation of what counties he would recommend, should Oregon get the project. So far on his visit he has met with groups in Portland, The Dalles, Pendleton, Baker, Bend, Klamath Falls, Medford, Coquille and Eugene in studying present work.

In addition to enlarging the state health work and setting up two counties for adequate work, the fund offers aid to the state medical school in development of post graduate courses for physicians practicing in rural areas, this aid to be in form of development of further education along preventive lines.

Further, 15 scholarships will be awarded to rural physicians, who upon completion of their

CORRESPONDENCE COURSES OFFERED

State College Announces it Will Give Credit for Home Study Work

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis — Added opportunity for education in the home for Oregon citizens is offered this year as correspondence home study courses for credit and non-credit in home economics, vocational education and industrial journalism. These are for the benefit of those homemakers and others unable to devote the time or money to campus instruction, or who need a few courses to complete previous work, according to announcements just issued.

The most extensive work of this nature is offered through the school of home economics and under the auspices of the extension service. In addition to extension credit courses already started in Portland, this school is offering three credit courses by correspondence the same in content as similar courses on the campus. These are "Household Management," "Child Development," and "Clothing Selection." Three non-credit Courses Offered

Three non-credit courses open to all and for which certificates are given on completion of the work are "Family Life," "Behavior Problems of Children," and "Personal and Family Finances." These are designed for the general homemaker who desires to study systematically the late developments in these fields but not so thoroughly as necessary for credit.

A phase of home economics extension work just started this fall is a "Parent Education Radio Club," to be conducted in connection with a series of lectures over the college station, KOAC. These clubs will meet every alternate Tuesday afternoon to follow six complete programs and listen to a new lecture on child care and development by Mrs. Sara Prohaska of the college staff.

Ten required courses in vocational education that need no laboratory work are being offered again this term for credit by correspondence, with regular staff members in charge. These are "General Psychology," "Educational Psychology," "Instruction to Education," "Secondary Education," "Mental Hygiene," "Principles of Teaching," "Adolescent Psychology," "History of Education," "Measurements in Education," and "Civic Education."

Home study courses offered through the department of industrial journalism are for the benefit of country correspondents and merchants who do not have advertising specialists. These are "Farm, Home and Community Newswriting," and "Advertising Copy and Layout."

L. DEACON TO HEAD MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Long List of Old and New Members Make for Fine Prospects

At the first meeting of the Men's Glee club, Lawrence Deacon was elected president; Howard Miller, vice president; Robert Magin, secretary; and Clark Wood, manager.

Professor Marshall seems well pleased with the prospects for a fine club this year. A large percentage of the old members have returned. Also there was a large list of new aspirants. Unusual interest is being manifested in the club work.

Though the club has not had time to become thoroughly organized, plans are being rapidly perfected for a production to be given by both the men's and women's clubs at an early date. The first presentation will be of a popular character, which will be followed by operettas and musical comedies during the year.

PLAN FOR COMING OF MARINES' BAND

Members of the committee of Lions club members in charge of the arrangements for the U. S. Marine band concert, which is to be given in Salem at the horse show stadium at the fairgrounds Monday afternoon and evening, October 13, met at the chamber of commerce last evening.

A. C. Haag, general chairman, announced that it was the intention of the Lions club in setting the price so low that every child and adult interested in this band would be able to hear it in Salem. The 25 cent charge for students and children is for the afternoon concert.

A platform is to be put up in the arena of the horse show pavilion for the band and extra seats will be put in around the sides. Reserved seats will go on sale this morning at Burnett Brothers' jewelry store. It is expected that the reserved seats will be sold out at an early date as only a small amount are being reserved.

Those present at this meeting last evening included M. Clifford Moynihan, Charles Hudkins, Newell Williams, M. D. Ohlberg, Carl Emmons, Charles Wilson, Wallace Bonesteel, Harry Scott, A. C. Haag and Ralph Kletzins.

New Latin Prof Successful at Writing Music

Music, poetry, art, and foreign languages are a few fields of endeavor in which our new Latin professor, Dr. C. P. Cambiare, has tried his hand.

His two most recent and popular songs are "Give Me Youth and the World is Mine" and "Down the Nile to Old Cairo." Both the lyric and words as well as the beautiful cover illustrations are the work of Dr. Cambiare. His songs represent definite ideas and feelings. Both of them are written in Spanish, French and English, and have been broadcast in these languages over radio stations in America, England, Canada and Australia.

The song, "Down the Nile to Old Cairo," was featured and sung in several London theatres, and finally found its way on the English Victor phonograph record.

The remarkable feature of Dr. Cambiare's success lies in the fact that he has never studied music. He composes his music entirely from his imagination. He feels that many of the human feelings—vague, dreamy feelings, and the sorrow and joys of life—can be expressed only by sweet music.

Music, he says, reaches into the depths of our sub-conscious self and stirs us.

Later Dr. Cambiare will tell us of the poetry which he has composed.

32 LIVES COST OF AUGUST ACCIDENTS

Traffic accidents on Oregon highways claimed a toll of 32 dead and 453 injured during August, according to a report released here Wednesday by Secretary of State Hess. Of the 32 fatalities five were pedestrians and 15 were occupants of automobiles which were involved in collisions with other cars.

The month's toll of traffic accidents in the state totalled 2510 with careless drivers credited with 1333 of the total. Failure to give right of way accounted for 257 of the month's accidents and failure to signal resulted in 132 more.

Patrolmen in the state traffic department made a total of 250 arrests for traffic law violations during the month resulting in fines aggregating $6,189.25 and in the collection of fees totalling $14,487.25. Warnings for minor traffic law violations were issued in 15,577 other cases.

TENTATIVE FORENSIC SCHEDULE ARRANGED

Mary Ridell and Lars Nelson Selected for Manager-ships.

Forensic activities hold a very important place on the Willamette campus, and the announcement of plans of the Forensic Council will be of interest to every Willamette student and booster. Mary Ridell and Lars Nelson, respectively, have been selected for Women's and Men's debate manager-ships. These students negotiate for inter-school debates, arrange for schedules, judges, chairmen, and provide for entertainment of visiting debaters.

The schedule has not yet been arranged for this year, but tentative plans include debates with University of Washington, Stanford, and U. S. C. or Arizona. Willamette Forensic Council is a member of the Pacific coast and the Oregon State Forensic leagues, and will be included in the schedules of those organizations. Extemporaneous speaking contests and the state oratorical contest will be part of the Council's program. Some of the debates will be decision debates, and some will be conducted under the new non-decision plan.

The Forensic Council meeting last Monday showed an encouraging turnout, about two dozen being present. Willamette has fortunately retained most of her old debaters and public speakers, and the new talent found in the freshman class predicts further successes this year and in the future. The Council will be as a "squad" and members chosen for the events, instead of formal tryouts for debate.

Heavy Grid Practice Begins After Two Contests With Coast Conference Elevens

Many Injuries Hamper Workouts During Past Week, Coach "Spec" Keene Says; Expects to Work Hard for Opening C. of I. Game

Two weeks of strenuous practice remains for the Willamette football squad before the opening northwest conference struggle with Anse Cornell's College of Idaho team. The game will be played the night of October 18 under the floodlights on the new College of Idaho field.

The remainder of this week will be spent in "limbering up" as Coach Keene said. Injuries which have crippled the games with Oregon State and the University of Oregon have hampered workouts during the past week.

With the opening of next week, however, Keene expects to begin hard practice in preparation for the conference schedule. A game which had been tentatively scheduled with Albany college for Saturday will not be played, Keene said Tuesday.

Cardinal and Gottfried are expected to be on hand for practice by next week. The former reported this week, but Gottfried, stranded in Montana, has not shown up. Powell Lancaster, said to be one of the finest high school backs last year, who registered here and was out for several practice sessions, seems to be settled at Ashland Normal school. Most of last year's regulars, except those lost by graduation, are in suits.

The College of Puget Sound outfit is the only one of which little has been heard so far this year. All other teams have seen action against Coast conference teams and have shown considerable strength.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC PROGRAMS ARE FULL

Hockey is Finding Much Favor Among Members of Gymnasium Classes

Seventeen girls have signed up for the inter-class tennis tournaments which are being played off this week. These matches are merely to pick the best players that they may have plenty of time to get in trim for the main tournaments next spring.

Six freshmen, seven sophomores, three juniors and one senior have entered the tournaments. Helen Pemberton, Janet Well, Alice Hummel, who won the match with Anna Calaba, Ruth Shrober and Isabel Morehouse are the fresh contestants; Frances Laws, Dorothy Rose, Katherine Earle, Mildred Miller, Gertrude Beard, Lucille Brown and June Davies, sophomores; juniors—Catherine Mulvey, Helen Stiles, Fat White; and Edith Morange, senior.

Hockey, a new sport in girls' classes, has a place all its own in the gym schedule. Miss Baldere was pleased with the number of girls who reported for the class, which comes Monday and Wednesday at 2:10.

Girls' basketball practices are in full swing. A schedule of practice hours is posted on the bulletin board in the gymnasium.

U. OF C. WILL OFFER COURSE IN PORTUGUESE

BERKELEY, Oct. 2.—The recent Latin-American trade conference held in this state is responsible for a course in Portuguese to be offered by the University of California Extension Division, for adults in the bay region, according to announcement made today by Boyd Rakestraw, acting director of the extension division.

The course will be inaugurated on Friday evening, October 17, in the Oakland Extension Center, under the direction of Dr. Joaquin R. S. Leite, former vice-consul of Portugal in the east bay region.

The learning of Portuguese is as important as the learning of Spanish, believes Dr. Leite. "If we consider Portugal with her vast and rich colonies in Africa, east and west, Asia and Oceania, Azores and Madeira, and the rich and hospitable republic of Brazil, this becomes evident," he says.

Dr. Leite came to this country as a special delegate from Portugal to the Fifth International Congress of Chambers of Commerce and Industrial Associations, which was held in Boston. After affiliation with the romance language department of Brown university, he came to the coast, as a vice-consul.

Eighty boys of St. Marlyebone, England, grammar school spent their summer vacation in build-

Sportorials

Now, with the coast conference teams safely out of the schedule, we hope we can say truly that Willamette has taken its last defeat this season. It's a big thing to say with all conference teams headed this way, and no telling how strong they are except through comparative scores.

Last year the man that wrote this column every week was able to work up some interesting figures through those comparative scores. We won't attempt it because mathematics always stumped us, especially when it was one of our subjects.

Nevertheless there is no denying the fact that the class of every conference team has improved this season. New coaches at Linfield, and Pacific have brought new material to bolster up the elevens.

College of Idaho was the only northwest conference team able to score on a larger team last weekend. The Coyotes, still under Anse Cornell, went through the Washington State Cougars for two touchdowns and although they were defeated 47 to 12 they showed considerable strength, especially in aerial work.

Press reports of the C. of I. Cougar game say: "The Idahoans frightened the Cougars with a smashing aerial attack in the fourth period, with O'Connor, 145 pound halfback, leading the Coyote march via the ether. College of Idaho completed 12 out of 19 passes to the Cougars' three out of seven."

What do you think of that? It sounds like the boys from Idaho are going to give Spec and his boys something to think about before and during the game, which by the way, is another night contest. It comes October 18 and is Willamette's first conference start.

Don got a good start with his rooting crew Tuesday night at the special chapel. It sounded fine.

Silverton High Football Sked Now Announced

SILVERTON, Oct. 1.—The Silverton high school football team, being coached by Harold Davis, has completed its schedule with the following games listed: Salem, here, October 10; West Linn, there, October 17; Oregon City, here, October 24; Dallas, here, October 31; Gervais, here, November 11; Woodburn, there, November 21; Independence, there, November 27.

GEOGRAPHER VISITS SCRIPPS INSTITUTION

LA JOLLA, Oct. 1.—Dr. Isaiah Bowman, director of the American Geographical Society, was a visitor at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography here this week. The society has been jointly concerned with the University of California institution in studies of sea temperatures, ocean currents and meteorological conditions off the west coast of South America.

While here, Dr. Bowman held a conference with Director T. W. Vaughan and Professors G. F. McEwen, E. G. Moberg and A. F. Gorton concerning these and related investigations.

Dr. Bowman is known as one of the most distinguished geographers in the Americas, particularly notable for his explorations in South America and for his interest in the political significance of geography.

WEBFEET TAKE GAME, 51 TO 0

Coach Spears Has New Offensive for Revamped University Football Men

KITZMILLER BIG STAR

Scores Three of His Team's Touchdowns; Don Waats and Londahl Help

Working under a new system of attack, drilled into them during the week by "Doc" Clarence W. Spears, the University of Oregon gridmen swamped Willamette 51 to 0 in a night game at Hayward field last Saturday.

It was a different outfit from the one which only a week ago had defeated Pacific university 29 to 0 that ran through and around the Bearcat eleven. A new shift, planned especially for the Drake university game by "Doc" Spears, was used against the lighter Willamette team, and the offensive, led by Don Waats and Johnny Kitzmiller, hit the line, passed, and ran to make 33 first downs, 29 of them from scrimmage. The university men put over two touchdowns in the first period, one in the second, three in the third, and two in the fourth.

Don Waats and Kitzmiller accounted for six of the Webfeet's scores, scoring three each, while John Londahl and Sam Rotenberg, reserves, each went over for one.

Although the Bearcats were defeated by a larger score than the Badgers were the week before fans who saw both games declared the local team showed more power on offense than the Forest Grove outfit. Injuries in the Webfoot game for Willamette were more or less serious, at least five of the men returning home with bad cuts on the forehead.

HOCKEY BEGUN BY WOMEN'S CLASSES

Women's hockey lessons began Monday afternoon conducted by Miss Echo Baldere, director of Women's Athletics. About twenty girls turned out and learned the first rudiments of the game.

The sight of twenty women on the athletic field was quite unusual and served to attract the attention of every passerby. However, as the game can be played to greater advantage out-of-doors, the presence of women on the field does not seem to be material for criticism.

Miss Baldere has organized two hockey classes, one on Monday at 2:10 and Wednesday at 1:15 P. M.

All women—especially of the upper classes who are interested in making this a major sport are asked to sign up with Miss Baldere soon.

Educators Seek Natural History Specimens Now

Salamanders from Mount Lyell Made Subjects of Study at U. of C.

While Willamette explorers are digging for mammoth, expeditions are being sent out from various other colleges and universities seeking other scientific specimens of ancient importance for our own age.

Three live Mount Lyell salamanders, said to be very rare, were recently brought out of the Sierra mountains by a party of scientists of the University of California at Los Angeles. They were, under great difficulty, kept alive for a number of days, during which time they were studied, photographed and drawn in colors. They are now being preserved for further scientific study at the university.

The party was headed by Dr. Loye Holmes Miller, professor of biology, but the actual capture of the three specimens was made by Berry Campbell of Monrovia, a junior student in the university, who is making an especial study of salamanders. It is a coincidence that the three were found at the exact location where, nearly 15 years ago, the first known specimen of the species was discovered by Dr. Charles Camp of the University of California.

Last Holdouts Return to Spec By End of Week

Ed Cardinal and John Gottfried Expected to Report Soon.

The two big hold-outs from the 1930 football squad probably will be seen in action in the first conference game. Ed Cardinal, the tall all-conference end, returned last week and is now in training with the rest of the squad.

Cardinal is not only a football star but also is an all-conference center in basketball.

John Gottfried who gained honorable mention on the all-conference team last year will be here the first of next week if everything works out all right. However, there is still some doubt as to whether Gottfried will be here for sure.

Shorts On College Sports

The following is taken from "Shorts on College Sports" by Les Gage, appearing in the November issue of College Humor magazine.

"The Wolves have howled a bit too viciously, perhaps. Possibly our recent business depression has exerted a pressure on the athletic budgets. Whatever the reason, there has been a very definite migratory movement among the football coaches since last fall's campaign. We would even go so far as to state that the turnover in the coaching profession has reached a new high in 1930, when many of our nation's most esteemed instructors of the gridiron game have sought a change of scenery."

"Leading the roving procession are such familiar figures as Lou Little, 'Doc' Spears, Chet Wynpe, Jim Phelan, Bob Higgins, Vic Hanson, Tom Lieb, Wallace Wade, Major Sasse, Fritz Crisler, Gus Tobell, Tommie Mills and Jim Wray. It is unnecessary to explain why these gentlemen have chosen to expound their football theories on strange fields. Everyone knows that they are all progressing toward greater success and fame in intercollegiate athletics and have received the call because of past football prosperity."

"The Middle West lost three of its most popular football coaches to the gain of the Pacific Coast when Dr. Clarence Spears signed a contract with the University of Oregon, Jimmie Phelan deserted his Purdue champions for the University of Washington and Tom Lieb resigned from Knute Rockne's staff to take the reins at Loyola of Los Angeles. Fritz Crisler, Alonzo Stagg's chief aide for years, succeeded Spears at Minnesota with the added responsibilities of the athletic director's position. Noble Kiser, one of the leading coaches of the Big Ten, was promoted to take the place of his former employer, Phelan, at Purdue."

"Knute Rockne has scurried about to supplant a couple of his able staff members with some of the younger and more recent disciples of the famed Notre Dame football system. Tom Lieb's departure left Rock without a line coach. At the same time Tom Mills, one of the Bald Eagle's most trusty servants, affixed his signature to a Georgetown agreement, filling a vacancy caused by Lou Little's move to Columbia."

"Wallace Wade's regime at the University of Alabama was suddenly terminated, to the surprise of his many friends, when the coach of the Crimson Tide made public his acceptance of a new post at Duke University. Gus

CONFERENCE TEAMS PLAY FIRST GAMES

Pacific, Whitman, College of Idaho and Willamette Lose Starts

Pacific, Whitman, College of Idaho, and Willamette, four of the six conference teams, went into action last week in pre-season footests and only one came through on the long end of the score.

The Badgers, after a last minute rally, ran over a touchdown against Oregon Normal school of Monmouth, and defeated the teachers 13 to 7. All the other teams went down to crushing defeats at the hands of coast conference teams.

Willamette lost to the University of Oregon 51 to 0 while Whitman lost, 48 to 0, to the University of Washington Huskies. College of Idaho, putting up the strongest fight of any conference team, scored two touchdowns against Washington State but lost 47 to 12. A brilliant passing attack featured the last game. In the Whitman lineup were Yeager, Mongle, Lindman, Applegate and Anderson, all outstanding men last year.

Tobell, young in experience but aged in prestige, resigned at North Carolina State to become chief of the basketball and baseball staffs at the University of Virginia, as well as assistant in football. With the retirement of Captain 'Biff' Jones, which unfortunately was slightly eclipsed by the exodus of Cadet Cagle last spring, another alumnus of the United States Military Academy, Major Sasse became the director of the varsity squad."

"GOAL POST" TO RE NAME U. C. PROGRAM

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—"The Goal Post" will be the official name for the programs for the football games in which the team of the University of California at Los Angeles plays this season, according to Stephen W. Cunningham, manager of the Associated Students of the university. This will be the first season that the football programs have been given a special name, and it is done at this time because of the rapidly increasing interest among football fans in the team of the University of California at Los Angeles. The programs will include pictures and descriptive data of the various members of the entire football squad.

Pass Ball Donut League to Start In Noon Hours

Sparks Conducting New System in Gymnasium Classes This Year

According to Leslie J. Sparks, graduate manager, there will be few innovations in the gym work of this year. A great deal of "pass-ball" and "scrimmage-ball" will be played because these games are prime favorites with the men. Then, in addition to the regular classes on Monday and Wednesday, there will be classes in wrestling and tumbling for men interested in those activities.

One of the main objects of physical education at Willamette, according to Mr. Sparks, is to graduate every man proficient in at least one sport, and bearing a general knowledge of three others. He would like to teach each man the "feel" of a football and basketball, and a knowledge of swimming, handball, tennis, and track. In accordance with this plan, he hopes to inaugurate a "do-nut" league in pass football, to begin next week. The games will be played at lunch hour, teams representing each fraternity, class, and the faculty.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL CALL IS ISSUED

The women are invading the basketball court early this season as varsity practice will start about the middle of November.

It seems that there will be the same amount of competition this season as has been shown in the past few years.

Freshmen women have already had one practice and the other classes are planning scrimmages this week in order to get going the first part of next week.

The present schedule is: Monday—4:00 Freshmen, 5:00 Seniors, Tuesday—4:00 Sophomores, 5:00 Juniors, Wednesday—4:00 Freshmen, 5:00 Juniors, Thursday—4:00 Sophomores, 5:00 Seniors, Friday—Scrimmage for all classes.

Any girl interested in basketball and in making 100 points in the point system acknowledged by the Associated Students should report for practice as early as possible.

Ronald Baxter, Son of Former Quarter, Enters University

Ronald Baxter, Spray, Oregon, registered last Friday. It is interesting to note that his father is a graduate of Willamette university and that he played quarter-back on the team that won Willamette's first conference pennant. This was in 1906 when Oregon State, University of Oregon, Pacific university, Pacific college and Willamette university were in the conference.

This championship team was coached by Coach Oliver of the University of California, and its manager was I. H. Van Winkle who is now an attorney.

Thirty years ago when Baxter, and Rube Saunders, the fullback wonder of the northwest, were playing football, the games were not played on Sweetland field as they are today because at that time the field was a thriving apple orchard. The field in those days was where we now have our beautiful campus. In fact, one of the goal posts was located where Eaton Hall is and the other where the brick pillars at the entrance to the campus are.

GIRLS ATHLETIC GROUP HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The Women's Athletic association held its first meeting of the year following the chapel period Tuesday.

This women's organization promotes interest in women's athletics upon the campus and has proved itself a very active group. President Marvell Edwards called the meeting to order and roll call was taken following which a short business meeting was held and plans made for the basketball tournament in October.

Miss "Pat" White was elected manager of women's basketball. After much discussion on new plans, the meeting was declared adjourned.

'W' CLUB INITIATES PLAN FOR TROPHY

Attempts to Interest Other Lettermen's Clubs in Buying Cup

Activity to purchase cups for northwest conference champions in football and basketball teams this year was started last week by the Willamette "W" club. An effort to obtain the cooperation of lettermen's clubs in other conference colleges originated on the Willamette campus and the move is expected to meet favorable approval among the other clubs.

Communications to officers in the Pacific, Linfield, Whitman, College of Puget Sound, and College of Idaho lettermen's clubs have been sent out by officers of the "W" club. It is expected that each organization will contribute toward the purchase of two trophies to be awarded to the conference winner in the two major sports.

Officers of the local lettermen's club, elected at the meeting last week, are Dwight Adams, president; Laurence Gibson, vice president; and Walter Erickson, secretary-treasurer.

FIVE TEAMS REPORT WHITMAN COLLEGE, WALLA WALLA—(NIPA)—WITH AN INITIAL TURNOUT OF OVER FIVE SQUADS

Whitman football fans are looking forward to an exceptional season. Twenty-three of the turnout have had previous football experience at Whitman, either intercollegiate competition or in spring football.
