PRICE FIVE CENTS

BEARCATS SCORE ON THE PURPLE TORNADO

Willamette Does Not Reveal Any Great Offensive or Defensive Strength

SHOWING IS PROMISING

Woodworth, Left Guard, Gets First for 30 Yard Run and First Touchdown Since 1912

Willamette opened its football season in the Washington stadium last Saturday by scoring against Washington for the first time since 1912. The score was made in the latter part of the second quarter when Cook attempted at pass and was pressed by the Bearcat linesman in such a way that Woodworth, left guard, was able to intercept the attempted pass and race 30 yards for a touchdown.

As a result of the showing of the team in the first game of the season it would appear that Willamette has one of the strongest teams in its history although on paper neither the offense nor the defense looks very startling. With the addition of more punch and fight Willamette has a fighting chance to win the conference title. Willamette's tackles seemed somewhat weak, the trouble resulting largely from the fact that they did not get off fast enough and that the guards did not give the tackles enough support and allowed all of the interference to concentrate on the tackles.

Washington's offense formed quickly and when the purple tornado hit it was a serious business proposition. The Willamette line did not get its contact and they did not stay with their man. The backfield was also rather slow in hitting the holes. Propp, Woodworth, Versteeg, Hawk and Haldeen showed up especially well for the Bearcats, while Carroll, Flannigan, Thornton and Bonamy were the shining lights in the Washington lineup.

The play by play account of the game is as follows:

FIRST QUARTER

Briz of Washington kicked off to the five yard line, where Hawk fumbled, recovered and gained five yards. Willamette failed to gain, then punted to its own 34 yard line. Carroll on three drives off left tackle gained Willamette's 14 yard line. Thornton then with three smashes carried the ball over for a touchdown.

CLASS REPRESENTATIVES OCCASION FOR ELECTION

Members at Large of Executive Committee Will Be Chosen at Special Meeting Tomorrow

Four representatives, one from each class, and one faculty member will be named as new recruits to the student body executive board tomorrow at the first student body meeting of the year, according to plans for the meeting made at a special session of members of the council Friday. Student Body President, Charles Redding, with three other members of the board announced the election as the opening gun in student body affairs for the year.

The president of the student body also announced the appointment of Kenneth McCormick, Margaret Arnold, and Louise Flindley as the committee for Freshman Glee. The membership of the constitutional revision and students affairs committees will also be announced at the meeting tomorrow.

Arranging Special Trips and Excursions Furnishes Thrills as Well as Hard Work

"Getting Willamette University enough to say he enjoyed his work, football heroes to the right place at the right time isn't all luck," says Mr. Hewitt of the Southern Pacific Railway Company. Mr. Hewitt has charge of the management of special trains and plans passenger tours. Special cars and pullman berths must be reserved ahead of time. When part of the distance must be traveled over foreign lines, arrangements must be made so that the Bearcats will not board crowded trains. All these details are taken care of by Mr. Hewitt.

"The manager of coach tells us when they want to start, and we make schedules to fit them. Some of the difficulties encountered here are the upsetting of plans or last minute changes. Take this last trip, for example. The program was switched. But in order to cause no inconvenience for the team, the party was taken care of by the supplementary service of taxi cabs. But there is a lot of fun and an element of excitement at those times along with the worry."

Although Mr. Hewitt was kind enough to say he enjoyed his work, he admitted that a party of football men is delicate to handle. Each man is high strung and set for the coming battle. Unnecessary excitement must be avoided. Then, too, the dining car menus are a matter of importance. The meals must be at a certain time, certain entrees must be offered before the game and different ones must be offered afterwards.

Getting everybody on board for special student body trains is always a scramble. Last year those going to Forest Grove had a fine time. Loads of enthusiasm gave way to yells and songs. Even the fruit seller enjoyed himself. After the trip was over he found, to his surprise, that some of his wares had disappeared—presumably out of the window. He himself had been excited, too, however.

At Homecoming Mr. Hewitt keeps track of passengers and their destinations. This way new and better schedules are possible. In other words—"It's a great life if you don't weaken!"

USE OF LIBRARY BOOKS STILL NOT UNDERSTOOD

Books Must Be Signed for When Taken From Stacks for Use in Library

The librarian reports that there is still some misunderstanding on the part of a few students concerning the method by which library books should be checked out.

Whenever a book is taken from the stacks for use in the library only, the person must sign his name on a slip of paper and leave it with the card on the table. If the book is not returned to the desk on the same day on which it is checked out a fine of five cents a day is charged.

When a book is to be taken out for use outside the library the borrower signs his name on the card which is enclosed in the pocket in the back of the book.

ASSOCIATION LEADER SEES CHANGES IN YM

Prominent Men Will Appear on Campus as Leaders for Organization This Year

By James Rettle

In keeping with the demand of the student world in general that we tackle the big problems of our day there has been a revolution in the ranks of the Young Men's Christian Association, and the final result has been that the Student Division becomes a free and autonomous movement in the colleges of America. Students have long thought that much of our so-called religion does not face the vital issues of modern life especially in its social and economic aspects. It is true that unless religion deals with the problems of life it is one of the most useless things in the world. The statement has been heard on our campus that students are "fed up" on religion and there are grounds for believing that it is so. Being "fed up", however, does not indicate that students have in any way lost interest in life. It indicates that the religion on which they are "fed up" has only a vague relationship to life. This is true to a much greater extent in Europe because the European church is not alive to the questions of its day.

With these things in mind an attempt has been made to secure men of wide experience and varied viewpoints for our meetings this year. Quite a number of men have already been scheduled to speak on the campus. President Norman Coleman of Reed will discuss the ethics of modern industry. Dr. Timothy Lew, lecturer in Yale University last year will speak on East and West relationships. Dean Dubach of O. A. C. has consented to speak on the fraternity system as it exists in our American colleges. Raymond Culver, our own Northwest Executive secretary, will outline some of the possibilities of our student movement. Another interesting speaker is promised in the person of Jim Palmer of Portland who spent the summer in England.

It is hoped that we can secure Professor McGruder of O. A. C. when he returns to Oregon later in the year. Dr. McGruder was in Russia for a time this last summer. He has a wealth of first hand information concerning this Soviet system which is regarded by many as one of the great sociological and economic experiments of the present time.

Over 85 new chairs for use in Eaton Hall have just been delivered and are being unpacked by the superintendent of properties.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB PERSONNEL COMPLETE

Number of Applicants Necessitates Holding Tryouts On Two Different Days

FIRST REHEARSAL HELD

Arnold Elected President; Manager Has Not Yet Announced Plans For Trip

Tryouts for places on the women's glee club were held last Wednesday and Thursday evenings. On account of the unusually large number of applicants it was necessary to hold tryouts at two separate times. Prof. Emery Hobson is pleased with the talent available this year. Plans for the club will be made known at a later date by the manager, Francis McGilvra.

Jean Hobson, who acted as accompanist for the club last year will hold the same position again. Other officers are: president, Margaret Arnold; vice-president, Helen Bridge-man; secretary, Ruth Margaret Hall; librarian, Helen McPherson; manager, Francis McGilvra.

The following women were given places in the club: first soprano; Elinor Moore, Katherine Everett, Francis McGilvra, Margaret Arnold, Martina Pruitt, Virginia Sussler, Mary Allen; second soprano; Dessie Cox, Helen McPherson, Lillian Scott, Helen Pemberton, Grace Henderson; first alto; Hazel Shutt, Marjorie Miller, Esther Dieffenbach, Mildred Mills; second alto; Ruth Margaret Hall, Virginia Edwards, Kathleen Garrison.

The first rehearsal of the club was held Wednesday at five o'clock in Music Hall.

ADELANTE SOCIETY HALLS TO BE USED BY CLASSES

Public Speaking Department Takes Over Quarters Formerly Held By Society

The Public Speaking Department has expanded. Because of the development of the University and in accordance with a trustee ruling, this department is occupying the Websterian-Adelante Halls.

The Philodotian Halls will be used by the Adelantes, who will share equal responsibility for the upkeep, according to Louise Nunn, president of the society.

The Adelantes have retained the kitchen and cloak room of their former hall for their own use.

JUNIOR CORD DAY TAKES PLACE ON LAST MONDAY

Junior Class Files into Chapel to Celebrate the Donning of New Corduroys

True to a time honored tradition the Junior class marched in to Chapel in a body on Monday morning, the boys clad in clean and new white cords. The cords are the official regalia of the Junior class, and are reserved for Juniors only. The dedication of the cords by marching into chapel is an annual event which takes place early in the year. The girls of last year's Junior class chose corduroy skirts as their official garment, but the Junior girls of this year have selected no official attire thus far.

OLD STUDENT OPENS SHOP

Frosty Olsen who is a former Willamette student has opened a florist shop on the corner of Court and High streets. While at Willamette Olsen played under Coach Matthews and won three letters in baseball and two in football. He was also president of the Junior class and prominent in the glee club and fraternity activities.

BEARCAT COACH

Coach Keene

On a week from Saturday Spec will take his fighting Bearcat to Tacoma to play the first conference game of the 1927 football season.

FORENSIC BANQUET OPENS VARSITY DEBATE SEASON

Debate Plans for Year Are Outlined And Discussed by Coach and Managers

The annual forensic banquet purposing to stimulate enthusiasm and to outline tactics for the year was held at the Spa Wednesday evening at six o'clock.

Dr. J. O. Hall, forensic coach, gave the opening speech, "Qualities for a Good Debate, while Dean Erickson spoke on "Debate at Willamette in the Past." Irene Breithaupt outlined the program for women's forensics, Tom Potwin briefly relating the plans for the men. About twenty persons were present.

Mias Breithaupt stressed the importance of the freshmen women's tryouts which will be held on October 8. Several aspirants who have already signified their intentions are: Schriber, Alice Sens, Edna Card, Lyle Schulah, and Susan Chadwick.

Bernice Mulvey, Irene Breithaupt, and Margaret Pro, members of previous varsity teams, and several members of last year's squad are back again this year, as well as several others who expect to tryout.

NOTED CHINESE SPEAKER WILL APPEAR IN CHAPEL

Dr. Lew, Dean of Peking Theological School, Will Visit Campus in November

Sponsored by the Salem Y. M. C. A. Dr. Timothy T. Lew of the Peking university in China will make a visit to the Willamette university campus in November. He will spend his time while on the campus in lecturing chapel and in appearing before special student groups.

Dr. Lew is an internationally recognized authority on Asiatic relations. He was a speaker at the national student conference at Milwaukee last year. He comes to Salem direct from Europe where he addressed the international student service council in Switzerland and the world's conference of Churches at Lausanne.

Dr. Lew is the dean of the theological faculty of Peking university, and is known by those who have heard him as a man of the modern world who has a sympathetic appreciation of the modern student mind.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS MADE

Code for Library Conduct Drawn Up at First Meeting of Senior Class Body

The plan of student body self government which was inaugurated last year whereby the senior class was made responsible for conduct in the library will be carried out again this year. The members of the committee which have been appointed by the president of the senior class are: Virginia Merle Crites, chairman; Bernice Groth, secretary; Phoebe Smith, Bernice Newhouse, Everett Faber, Kenneth LaViolette, Hugh McGilvra, and William Tweedie. The following code for library conduct was passed at the first meeting of the library committee Tuesday:

1. Prolonged conversations should not be held in the library, and students are asked that they talk in the library only when it is necessary and when no one trying to study will be disturbed by such action.
 2. Students are asked to be especially careful as to the manner of their conduct on the stairs approaching the library and in the cloak rooms which adjoin the library.
 3. The librarian has requested that there be no talking in the book stacks and that students do not make a practice of studying in that particular part of the library.
 4. Persons who use the side rooms should be especially careful to remember that they are very near to the main room of the library and that if they are not careful that their conversation will disturb many who desire to study.
 5. No one except regular music students shall play the piano during regular library hours.
- Violations of the spirit of these rules are to be handled at the discretion of the Senior Library committee, although no student shall be denied the privilege of the use of the library until after having received at least one written warning from the secretary of the library committee.

ANNUAL STAFF WORK BEGINS IMMEDIATELY

Taking of Freshmen Pictures Begins As Soon As Student Body Tickets Issued

STAFF IS EXPERIENCED

Manager, Jack Minto, Lets Contracts for Photography and Engraving

Work on the 1928 Wallulah is progressing and prospects are good for a fine annual this year according to the editor. The editor also announces that there will be a decided change in the make-up of the book. For the decorative motif Oregon scenery will be featured.

Editor Paul Goedes has appointed the following staff:

Associate editors, Alice Lane and Georgia Fairbanks. Miss Lane was literary editor of the Collegian last year and Miss Fairbanks had charge of the administration section of the 1927 Wallulah.

Administration, Mary Louise Aiken, who has been prominent as a feature writer both at Willamette and at Salem High.

Classes, Frances McGilvra. During her senior year at Franklin High School Miss McGilvra edited the semi annual publication of that school.

Athletics, Frank Van Dyke. Last year he occupied the position as athletic editor for the Collegian.

Activities, Marjory Miller.

Organizations, Beatrice Lockhart. She has had previous experience on the Collegian and has been active in journalistic work.

College Hours and Snaps, Wesley Gordon.

Satire, Homer Roberts and Arthur Mason.

Kennell Ellis of Salem has received the contract for the photograph and Hick-Chatten of Portland has received the contract for the engraving. Bids for the printing will be opened by the end of the week.

The taking of individual pictures by classes will start immediately, the freshmen pictures being taken first.

Snaps for the annual should be turned in at the office either to the editor or to the manager.

WILLAMETTE PRESIDENT SELECTED AS DELEGATE

Collegian Neglects To Mention That Dr. Carl Gregg Doney Was Chosen as First Choice

Inadvertently the Collegian of last week omitted the name of Dr. Carl Gregg Doney as the first choice of the Oregon annual conference for delegates to the Methodist general conference to be held in Kansas City, Missouri next spring.

Other delegates elected were the Rev. Thomas Acheson of Salem and the Rev. W. S. Hall of McMinnville, both Willamette alumni, and the Rev. A. L. Howarth, district superintendent of the Portland area and member of the board of trustees of Willamette university.

CLOSED PRACTICE GAME SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY

Monmouth Teacher and Chemawa Will Furnish Scrimmage for Bearcat Elevens

In place of the game which was scheduled with Albany college for this coming Saturday the Bearcats will meet the Monmouth teachers in a practice scrimmage which will not be open to spectators. At the same time the Bearcat reserves will go to Chemawa to meet the Indians.

This game will be the only practice game which the Willamette eleven will have before they go to meet the College of Puget Sound Loggers at Tacoma on October 15.

ELECT PERMANENT LEADER

The Freshman class at their meeting on Tuesday afternoon elected Raymond Miller who has been serving as the temporary executive of the class as the president of the class for the remainder of the semester.

ENROLLMENT NOW TOTALS 551 IN ALL DEPARTMENTS

Junior Class Is Now Only Class in Which Girls Are Not in Great Majority

The enrollment of the University to date including special and post graduate students totals 551. This is 12 less than the entire enrollment for last year.

As usual the freshman class has the most members. The class of '31 numbers 113 girls and 94 boys making a total of 207. This is the second largest class in the history of the University. Three years ago there was also an unusually large freshman class of 257. Of this class only 77 will graduate in 1928 which shows that 180 dropped out during the three years. The present freshman class is the only one of the four in school in which there were more girls than boys at the beginning of the year. In every present class except the junior the girls are in majority.

Of the 515 in school 280 are girls and 271 boys.

GLEE CLUB SELECTS MEMBERS FOR YEAR

Prof. Hobson Is Pleased With Prospects and Looks for Best Club in History

Tryouts for the men's glee club were held Thursday, with 23 men, the same number as last year, assigned parts. Willis Hathaway, president of the club, stated Monday that there was less new material than usual. Only eight new men are to be found in this year's organization. There are no new first tenors and only three new second tenors. Fourteen old members remain in this year's group.

Professor Hobson, director, states that the club is the best he has conducted in years. The quality of the voices is better; this, together with new additions in both bass sections, improves greatly the volume and strength of the club, according to Mr. Hobson, and he states that he expects to do great things with the club this year. A trip into California looms as one possibility for the club. Definite announcements with regard to this, and further plans for the club will be made later.

The personnel of the club follows: First tenors: Ronald Craven, Wendell Robinson, William Wright, Arnold Taylor; Second tenors: Carl Crane, Lester Smith, Laurence Schreiber, Collas Marsters, Paul Goedes, Gordon Shelley; first basses: Willis Hathaway, Albert Herrman, Everett Patton, Earl Wilkinson, John Forrest, Lawrence Deacon; second basses: John Heitzel, Hobart Kelly, Walter Kaufman, Hugh Roberts, Raymond Haldeen, Leland Sprecker, Howard Miller.

Margaret Lewis will again be accompanist for the club.

CUBS SELECT FRESHMEN COMPLETING MEMBERSHIP

Eleven New Men Pledged By Organization to Carry on Work of the Year

At a meeting of the Cubs yesterday noon, Homer Roberts was elected as Sophomore member in the organization. Ten new members were also elected from the Freshman class. They are: LaRant Lewis, Raymond Miller, Colgan, Frank Mason, Van Bateson, Edward Wells, Donald Middleton, Kelis Marsters, Ralph Schrimp, and Francis D. Harpport.

Elizabeth McClure, '25, spent the summer in New York studying French at Columbia university. She is now teaching at Mosier, Oregon.

Trophy Case Holds Historic Wood Gavel Fashioned by Boy From Aged Apple Tree

In the trophy case of our library there is an old wooden gavel with a history far more interesting and intricate than the famous house that Jack built. It has a family tree that no aristocrat could surpass.

One hundred and three years ago a young man attended a banquet in the gay city of London. As a final course grapes and apples were served and our friend preferring the latter to the former became so absorbed while eating his share that the table was cleared without him noticing it. Long after the other guests had finished eating and laid aside their napkins he found himself holding an apple core, and blushing hotly he thrust the bothersome remainder deep into his vest pocket.

The young man took an American-bound boat and in due time arrived at Vancouver, Washington. One day apple seeds residing in the same vest pocket. As there were no apple trees in the west at that time the new comer wishing to make use of his former breach of etiquette decided to plant the seeds. The seeds must have possessed that pioneer vitality for they grew into a fruitful tree. A few years later a cutting was taken from the tree and planted in the Whitman Mission compound at Walla Walla. Several years later the tree was cut down.

James Corpe, a high school boy obtained a piece of the tree and from it in his manual training class fashioned the gavel which now is ours. In 1912 while Mr. Corpe was a junior at Willamette university he presented the interesting article to the student body. The following summer the donor died, however, the school still cherishes this interesting

CHURCH PREFERENCES GIVEN BY STUDENTS

Methodist Church Is Choice of Over Half of Student Body; Presbyterians Next

21 CHURCHES INCLUDED

Registration Reveals That Willamette Is Decidedly a "Church School"

That Willamette University may be classed as a "church school" is borne out by the results of the recent church registration among the students. Of the 450 students who filled out the cards indicating their church preference, all have a church relation either by membership or preference but 16. Out of the same 450, all are church members but 68. Twenty-one different denominations are included in the membership of the student body.

FACULTY ACTION CHANGES HONORS COURSE PROGRAM

Larger Enrollment Expected as Result of Decision to Give Department Courses

By action of the faculty in their meeting on Tuesday afternoon the character of the honors course offered at Willamette has been changed. Previous to this time an honors course could only be offered by two or more professors of related departments. The faculty voted to change the regulation so that one professor in a department could offer an honors course. This change to a more decidedly departmental honors course is expected to increase the number enrolling for such courses.

The regulations passed by the faculty regarding this matter are as follows:

- I. A student may not register for an honors course for a period less than two full semesters.
- II. Students may be registered for honors courses under the supervision of one professor or under the supervision of two or more professors in related departments.
- III. A student may not register for an honors course later than the beginning of his senior year.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, CORVALLIS, Oct. 4.—(PIP)—The maximum amount used by a woman at the college during the last school year was $1069 and the minimum was $321, according to recent figures. Men do not spend as much as shown by the budgets handed in to the student loan committee. The average amount spent by a man is $541.55 against $544.29 for the coeds.

OUR ATHLETIC MORTALITY RATE

Football dope now occupies as an important place on the sport page as the world series and will soon push that classic into sport history along with other events of the dim past. The most of the football news stories which have appeared to date take the form of forecasts and when they issue from coaching headquarters the prognosticators invariably embellish their article with several yards of unnecessary crepe.

However, when it comes to spreading the gloom, the article by L. H. Gregory which appeared in the Oregonian of a few days previous according to its own admission "takes the grand special cake-walk and every other prize." The story deals with the football prospects of Willamette University and more specifically with the high mortality rate of our football team of last year.

According to the figures which the writer quotes, from a squad of about twenty-five men three were lost by graduation, three by transfer, and thirteen flunked out. These figures are too near being correct to be passed over or discounted as the usual bear story.

When from any group of twenty-five college men, selected on the basis of any particular interest, over half of them drop out or are dropped within one year, something is wrong, and for anyone vitally interested in the welfare of the university it is a matter of grave consideration even though a final answer or explanation cannot be found.

We might proceed to blame the faculty, or we might praise them. We might direct our criticisms toward some other object, but it would be in vain. The facts have been stated, but to proceed to try to place the blame would be impossible as well as useless.

The situation demands the best cooperation of all concerned—faculty, coaches, athletes, and the student body as a whole. It is only through the effort of these groups that an improvement can be effected.

BARBER SHOP PHILOSOPHERS

Robert Louis Stevenson in his essay, "An Apology for Idlers," advances some thoughts which although they are heresy from the standpoint of the most of faculty instruction, are nevertheless suggestive of some ideas which might lead to a more rational as well as a more sympathetic understanding of the daily program of the average student. As he says, "Idleness so called, which does not consist in doing nothing but in doing a great deal not recognized in the dogmatic formularies of the ruling class, has as good a right to state its position as industry itself."

Oxford has for many years been graduating the men who have been the leaders of the British Empire in industry, literature, and statesmanship. Cecil Rhodes was only an Oxford pass man, but even in his intensely practical life of empire building he always considered his time spent at Oxford as well invested. Much as he admired and studied the classics, they were not the outstanding thing in his student life. His biographer, Basil Williams, gives the following explanation: "But to Rhodes, as to most university men, teachers however inspired and lectures however sublime were not the most valuable part of Oxford life. The freedom and unconventionality of the undergraduate, untrammelled as he is by pompous precedent, yet insensibly moulded by a tradition of fastidious scholarship and exact research of truth, the interminable discussions wherein generation after generation of Oxford men renew the investigation of common beliefs in politics, religion, and morals, and constantly bring currents of fresh air into the nation's creeds—all this delighted and impressed him."

College instead of being a preparation for life is life itself, and life at its very best at that. The student who misses the opportunity of association with his fellows in their various activities, of clarifying and forming his own thoughts and opinions by exchange with his classmates is not only handicapping himself in the race of tomorrow but is also denying himself the pleasure of living today.

The Collegian believes that the student chapel committee which will be announced by the President of the Student Body tomorrow would take immediate action to insure the continuance of the student chapel programs this year.

The programs which were put on last year were not only interesting but were of great value to those who participated in them as well as those who were merely auditors. This fact was especially true of the work of the musical organizations of the school. The other activities could be just as well represented if they were given the proper encouragement and direction.

The desire for self expression is universal, and the student chapel provides a means of satisfying this desire on the part of students.

Even the ranks of professional baseball have not been able to do without the collegian. Following the attraction of the large salaries paid, there were 107 men, representing 79 colleges in the major leagues at the beginning of the present season. According to Francis Wallace writing in the October Scribners over one-third of the regulars in the big leagues were college men.

Readers of the Collegian will welcome the return of an old friend the old banner head which appears on the front page of this issue. This banner head has almost become traditional with the paper, and the paper is not complete without it.

There is an adage which says, 'Men work from sun to sun, but women's work is never done.' At Willamette it might be said, Men rush for a week, but women's rushing is never done.

Willamette University

FOUNDED FEBRUARY 1, 1842
SALEM, OREGON

A Christian institution of higher learning. Located at the Capital of the state of Oregon. A beautiful campus opposite the Capitol Building. Buildings and equipment attractive and adequate. Faculty of highest character, preparation and teaching ability. Student body clean, able and wholesome. Scholarship high and credited everywhere. Very inexpensive. Rich in tradition and large and honored alumni. Students wishing work in the Course of Liberal Arts, in Law, in Theology, in Music, or in Fine Arts are highly advantaged at Willamette. Closest investigation invited. Bulletins on request.

Mad Hatters Inn

"Really now you ask me," said Alice, very much confused. "I don't think..."
"Then you shouldn't talk," said the Hatter."

Since no one else knows as much about us as we do, we're going to introduce ourselves. We go by the name of the Mad Hatter. The why of our name will be made clear from now on, although our title will probably not be the only obvious thing about our column. If you wonder why we visit you, the converse is also reasonable—why shouldn't we visit your campus, for in spite of our name, Mad Hatter, we believe we do not stand alone in our distinction. However, that—for generalization, I suppose we had better give our impression of your school—all visitors do—mad or otherwise.

We attended the YM-YW reception Saturday night and now state to the world in general that we had had of illegible signatures in the an interesting time as well as a substantial claim to the largest collection. My, what a chance for A. N. Palmer to reap in a golden harvest. However, I don't believe that I'll write and notify him for somehow or other we never get along very well we have so little in common. You know how those things go!

The only drawback of the whole feature was that the Lausanne Hall girls had dates that didn't do them much good, unless they walked them around the block. However, it seems so pointless to end up where one started from—it lacks the savor of a real goin'-home date—nevertheless, it probably had its elements of attraction.

KIMBALL NOTES

The fact that Kimball college is growing is proved by an increase of 11% in the attendance this year over that of last year. Three new students, Harry Rorey, B. W. Whitwell, and Lloyd Burke enrolled at the school Tuesday morning.

The second issue of The Voice of the Prophets appeared Tuesday. This pamphlet is published bi-monthly by the Kimball student body and is edited by Rex Pickering. Others on the staff are: Wesley Gordon, associate; C. A. Pickering, general; and Mrs. Gentry, library.

Sunday morning Prof. C. I. Andrews occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church at Cresswell. Mr. Andrews is formulating plans to conduct a training school as Cresswell and also at Toledo and St. Johns.

Prof. Wm. Hertzog delivered the morning address at the Methodist church in Independence Sunday.

Prof. C. M. Keifer and family have moved from Kimball Apartments to 1905 N. 21st street.

The college has secured Mrs. A. M. Gentry as assistant librarian. Several changes have been made and as a result the new reserve shelves are on the south side of the room.

All friends interested in Kimball are cordially invited to the annual reception which the student body will sponsor this evening at the college.

Recently there has been constructed in the basement a new hand ball court which is becoming very popular.

"If all the pens that ever poets held Had fed the feelings of their maters' thoughts, And every sweetness that inspired their hearts, Their minds and muses on admired themes; If all the heavenly quintessence they still From their immortal flowers of poetry, Wherein, as in a mirror, we perceive The highest reaches of a human wit; If these had made one poem's period, And all combined in beauty's worthiness, Yet should there hover in their restless heads One thought, one grace, one wonder, at the least, Which into words no virtue can digest,"

Many a man is doing work day after day that an electric motor can do for less than a cent an hour

College men and women recognize electricity as one of the principal aids to progress in the factory, on the farm, and in the home.

Guided by human intelligence, electricity can do almost any job a man can do. From stirring to grinding, from lifting to pulling, there is a G-E motor specially adapted to any task.

Y. M.-Y. W. Reception Is Event of Social Calendar this Week

Saturday evening the Lausanne hall dining room, which was transformed into a lovely old-fashioned garden, was the scene of the annual Y. M.-Y. W. reception. The guests were introduced by Louise Nunn to the receiving line which was composed of Hugh McGilvra, Louise Findley, Dean and Mrs. Frank M. Erickson, Charles Redding, and Dean Olive M. Dahl. Rose Huston and Florence Powers distributed programs.

The first part of the evening was spent in exchanging signatures and getting acquainted. Later the following program was presented:

- Reading..... Virginia Merle Crites
- Vocal Solo..... Margaret Arnold
- Stunt..... Paul Trueblood
- High Roberts, Earl Henry
- Kenneth Lawson

Through the garden gate, girls of the sophomore class served punch and wafers.

More than 300 people attended the function.

Members of Blue Key Lunch at Y. M. C. A.

Tuesday noon seventeen members of the Blue Key Fraternity met at the Salem Y. M. C. A. for luncheon and a business meeting. As this was the first meeting of the year Kenneth L. Violette, president of the organization, outlined the club's policy and plans. Many possibilities of service to the school were presented. Frank Van Dyke, president of the Cubs, was a guest of the fraternity and set forth the work that the Cubs hope to accomplish during the year.

STRUGGLE FOR TITLE LIKELY TO BE CLOSE

Willamette Schedules Games With Every Other Team In Northwest Conference

Willamette has five difficult jobs ahead of it this year in order to win the northwest conference championship. According to an article written in Tacoma and printed in the Seattle Times, Willamette is the "weak sister" of the conference. Whether or not the Tacoma writer is right in such a statement depends entirely upon the spirit and the fight that Coach Keene can inject into the fellows in the next week of practice, and the attitude and the determination of the players. Potentially Willamette will stack up to any team in the conference, but actually at the present time, they are so dead on their feet, and so lacking in that spirit which makes a winning team that they can even make no progress against the second team. They must also gain more confidence in themselves. In the excitement of the game there is a tendency to forget the things that they have learned and thus not play the brand of ball that they are capable of.

The College of Puget Sound is the first job which the Bearcats will tackle. According to Cac Hubbard, the C. P. S. aggregation was unbeatable, but not to discredit his word any but we read that the small college of St. Martin beat them. This is only a small Prep school but they know how to fight and eleven men who will fight will make trouble for any team no matter how good they are. Coach Hubbard has two ends which are fast and lose no time getting down under punts. Wilson is one of them and he is well remembered for his showing in basket ball and baseball. Then there is Gillham, all conference quarter, and twelve other lettermen, with a wealth of freshman material. Other outstanding men are Ferguson and Booth, ends; Tatum, halfback, and Garner, end.

Pacific, which will be the third obstacle in the path of the Bearcats, lost to the Huskies. They have 15 lettermen in school including Pollock, all-conference tackle. The line averages 190 pounds. Behind the forward wall is a veteran backfield, composed of Emerson, quarter; Johnson, at full, and Holloway and Tippin halves.

College of Idaho, the 1926 champions, and the second team on the Willamette schedule, are not expected to repeat. They lost to W. S. C. 53 to 0, but this is not an absolute showing as the W. S. C. team is very strong this year. Anse Cornell has only Baldrige, end, and Swim, tackle, as veterans to build his line around. His outstanding backfield candidate is Dille, 165 pound halfback.

Coach Wolfe of Linfield has one of his strongest teams in years and promises to give the Bearcats plenty of opposition in their fourth conference game. Virtually his entire squad returned to school. They held Oregon to a 7-0 score by simply out-fighting them. Against Whitman they had much bad luck. Twice they were stopped at their one yard line by the half ending. Whitman made both of their touch downs from breaks. Although Linfield has lost one game she is an aggregation to be feared as she never quits fighting.

Coach Borleske, the oldest coach of the conference, has according to dope the strongest tackle to tackle line in the conference but they failed to make much impression upon the strong center line of the Linfield club. Nelson and Mickelson are the powerful men in the backfield. The Bearcats will close their season against this strong team on Thanksgiving day at Walla Walla.

It will be noticed that Willamette has scheduled a game with every other team in the conference, something that has not been done before in the history of the Northwest conference.

Score: Willamette, 0; Washington, 19.

Brix kicked off for Washington to Willamette's 30 yard line, the ball being returned 18 yards. Willamette lost one yard on a line smash. Counting the distance the ball rolled, Mumford kicked 79 yards to Washington's four yard line. Thornton punted out to Washington's 45 yard line. Cranor returning three yards. Willamette failed to gain in three attempts, and Mumford's kick was blocked and recovered by Bonamy of Washington on Willamette's 47 yard line. Cook playing fullback in place of captain Wilson dashed off right tackle for 9 yards. McCann who replaced Carroll at left half made a first down on a five yard gain through right guard. A pass, Cook to McCann, made a first down on Willamette's 12 yard line. Successive dashes by Cook and Flannigan carried the ball over for a touchdown.

Score: Willamette, 0; Washington, 25.

Ruch kicked off to Washington's 15 yard line and McCann returned 31 yards. Washington lost five yards on an off-side penalty, placing the ball on Washington's own 31 yard line. Cook attempted a pass but was crowded by Versteeg. Willamette tackle, and the ball sailed for a few yards into the hands of Woodworth. Willamette left guard, who ran 30
