Victory Bell Tumbles, Dents Waller

Campus Men Admit Blame for Damages

Contrite admission by a group of Willamette students has ended the early week mystery surrounding the fall of the 400-pound victory bell from the fourth story attic of Waller hall and at the same time dispelled rumors that Lewis and Clark students had anything to do with the prank.

Backfire of what was intended to be harmless fun was offered as explanation for the bell's descent Sunday night, according to Dean Mark Hatfield. The dean said that adequate compensations for the $150 damages caused by the bell's fall had been arranged with five students who said they had participated.

Discovery of the bell Monday had led to a persistent rumor that Lewis and Clark, who played in a basketball series with Willamette last Friday and Saturday, must be to blame for the prank.

Last year a group of students from the Portland school attempted to steal the campus marker on Winter and State streets and damaged the Sigma Chi fraternity house. Severe punishments were leveled and Willamette officials said they felt "assured" further incidents would not occur.

Hatfield explained what happened Sunday night this way:

The students found a door of Waller open sometime before midnight Sunday. They climbed to the cupola above the fourth floor and carried the bell out of the cupola to an attic window on the east side of the building. They opened the window and tied a rope to the bell which would reach to the ground.

Then, they descended with the idea of ringing the bell from the yard. Their plan didn't work.

Instead, the bell toppled out of the window causing damage to the coping and porch of the building and frame of the bell.

The brass noise maker, a gift of the Southern Pacific Railway company, will be restored.

954 Signed to Date For Spring Semester

Registration is nearing completion as 954 students have enrolled, according to registrar Harold Jory. Students were dismissed from classes on Monday if their professor did not have their registration card, in an effort to complete the slow process.

Next year a five dollar fine will be imposed on students late in registering. A new program for pre-registration is being planned, but as yet the details have not been worked out.

Grades were mailed from the registrar's office starting Tuesday, and most of the grades have been mailed by today.

Only 692 students have picked up their student body cards in the student body office.

The Willamette victory bell (shown in the inset) unceremoniously fell from the fourth story window of Waller hall Sunday night, following the path of the white lines. Siding above the porch pillars was knocked to the ground when the bell bounced on the roof.

CR Speakers, Movie, Firesides Arranged for Four-Day Event

Plans for the Christian Resource week program are near completion now with only two fireside speakers yet to be obtained, Chuck Anderson, chairman, said this week.

The schedule to date includes events each day from Feb. 23-26. Paul Wright will speak on "Christ in Us—as Persons" in Tuesday chapel.

'Electra' Progresses As Production Nears

Sophocles' Greek drama, "Electra," which will be presented February 25, 26 and 27, is progressing "slowly, shakily, but adequately," according to Robert M. Putnam of the drama department.

Production and stage crews have not been completely appointed, although the basic part of the stage sets has been completed under the direction of Bill Hagmeyer and Bill McKinney. The stage levels are in place and a small crew is now working on the classic Greek palace doors.

Margie Dawson, in charge of costume designing, hoped to have Electra's costume completed by the end of this week for publicity purposes.

Individual scenes have now been rehearsed and next week the entire play will be rehearsed as a whole.

At press time, three parts were still unfilled, those of Tylades the Silent, a serving woman, and a member of the chorus.

That evening at 7:30 will be the first showing of the film "Keys of the Kingdom" starring Gregory Peck.

Wednesday, Evan Williams will present his topic "Christ in Us—as Students" at 10 a. m. Ten o'clock classes will be excused for this special chapel. Both Dr. Wright and Rev. Williams will speak at the Presbyterian church.

The movie will be presented for a final time Wednesday afternoon at 2:00.

Campus living organizations will hold discussion firesides with guest speakers after dinner Wednesday. Interfaith council representatives will lead the talks.

Dan Walker will speak on "Christ in Us—as Adults," in Thursday chapel at the Methodist church. Special music will be furnished by the a capella choir.

The week will be climaxed by a communion service at 8 a. m. Friday at the Congregational church.

Basketball Tonight

The Willamette-Pacific basketball game originally scheduled for tomorrow night has been re-scheduled for this evening in the gym, according to David A. Lewis, chief accountant. Tomorrow night's game against Pacific will be at Forest Grove.

Lewis also reminded students that fall semester student body cards are now invalid for game admission.

Symphony Receipts $370 Under Stern; Series' Budget Hurt

Gate receipts for the Vienna String Symphony concert Tuesday dealt a decidedly disastrous blow to the budget of Willamette's Distinguished Artist Series for 1953-54. The total was $370 less than returns from the previous week's Isaac Stern concert.

This year's Series is headed for the red ink, barring a complete sell out for the First Piano Quartet, according to Stuart Shaw, concert manager. The Series debt now stands at $2100, and the most that can be collected for the remaining concert is estimated to be $2500. A cushion of $500 remaining in profit from last year's Series will be used to bridge a gap, if it appears, and if the money will bridge it, according to Shaw.

Nearly half of the door receipts were made up of student tickets. This has prompted Shaw to make more student tickets available for the First Piano Quartet.

Shaw said he had not been asked to give his opinion on whether or not the Series should continue, but that he believed the deficit this year could be explained by lack of big name artists, convenient concert dates, and the economic "recession."

According to Shaw, a stepped-up campaign was instigated for the symphony concert with no apparent success. "This may sound like rationalization," he said, "but the concert board tried hard to make it sell."

March Schedule Set For Glee Preparation

Deadlines and schedules for the submission of words, music, formation and participants in this year's Freshman Glee were outlined by the executive committee Tuesday.

Class formations must be submitted in writing to the Glee manager by March 9. Necessary minor changes after that date will be decided upon by the executive committee. That same day, the freshman class will officially begin Glee with their Challenge assembly, during convocation.

An alphabetical list of all participating members of each class will be submitted to Dr. Martin's office by class Glee chairmen March 12. Final lists of participants must be in by Tuesday, March 16.

Scheduled practices will begin March 15. The gym will not be available before that date. Optional class practices shall not begin before Wednesday, March 10. This permits approximately 40 hours of scheduled practice time.

As previously announced, words and music will be turned into Dr. Martin's office by 4 p. m. Wednesday, March 3.

Positions Filled In Class, AWS, Council Races

Kent Hotaling, Dale Patton, Chuck Seagraves and Larry Pritchett were named class presidents in elections this week. Approximately 55 per cent of student body card holders voted in the run-offs which ended yesterday noon.

AWS Elect Finch

AWS election held Monday and Tuesday named Judy Finch, president; Margie Knockenhauer, first vice president; Lorraine Landrud, second vice president; Paula Harmer, secretary; and Margaret Huson, treasurer. Class representatives are freshmen Joyce Ambler and Flossy Hodge, sophomores Nina Hines and D'Anne Manor and junior Sophia Polales.

Freshman officers under Hotaling include Jim Mercer, vice president; Peggy Buckley, secretary; Phyllis Stalsburg, treasurer; and Jim Scott and Dave Barrows, sergeants-at-arms.

Elected by the sophomores were Bill Nelson, vice president; Joanne Terhark, secretary; Margaret Huson, treasurer; Pete Reed and Johnny Ray, sergeants-at-arms.

Junior Officers

New Junior officers include Chuck Carter, vice president; Kathy Kennedy, secretary; Judi Wood, treasurer; and Tom Gooding, sergeant-at-arms. Glee song leader Keith Mirick and formation leader Bob Alfred were also named.

To serve under Pritchett, seniors Bob Howe, vice president; Jane Horn, secretary; Jody Hirtzel, treasurer; and Alice Girod and Sally Bridgeman, sergeants-at-arms were elected.

Briggs, Schrock Named

Juniors Bill Briggs and Tom Schrock were named concert manager and May Weekend manager by student council Wednesday.

Briggs, who had served as assistant manager for the Distinguished Artist series the past two seasons, stated in his petition that he would seek to balance the budget, "deal individually for artists" if the present association is unsatisfactory, and to carry on an intensive publicity campaign.

Also petitioning for the position were Dick Moore, Paul Johnson and Bill Lasswell.

Schrock's petition proposed that the Friday of May Weekend begin with the parade at 3:30 p.m., with the tug of war, grease pole climb, barbecue and entertainment to follow at McCulloch stadium as a continuous afternoon program.

Others petitioning for May Weekend manager were Loyal Howard and Rich Butler.

Shaw Chosen Rotarian

Student council also elected Stuart Shaw, present manager of the Distinguished Artist series, as Rotarian for the month of January. Shaw, past president of Baxter hall, now serves as regional president of the National Independent Students association.

T'nT at Ten

The University Singers, Willamette students directed by assistant professor of music Don Glecker, will present Tuesday's convocation program.

Rev. Charles Scott Neville from the First Episcopal church in Corvallis, will be the chapel speaker.

The 'Because' of Two Causes

The advertising slogan for a well-known product suggests that a potential customer "ask the man who owns one." The same ought to hold true when it comes to taking part in a cause: "ask the man who believes in it." Ask Kent Holmes about the Student Challenge Fund. Ask Stu Shaw about the Distinguished Artist series.

Holmes would gladly take time to explain that a growing Willamette is a greater Willamette and that our debt to past generations challenges our contributions to future ones. But perhaps he would not press the issue too far, because Willamette students have not been overwhelmingly convinced. Many have; too many haven't.

Shaw might shake his head. The cultural value of the concert series is pretty obvious. Great music is an experience all men should share and appreciate. The series was established for the students of Willamette with that thought in mind, yet Shaw and his concert aides recognize that Salem far outbalances Willamette support.

Perhaps money is the root of all evil — or a necessary evil in itself. Yet most of us simply fail to use it wisely and for the greatest returns. There are few of us who can't really afford to contribute to the Challenge Fund or to invest in the excellent entertainment of the concert series. Why not credit the accounts of both of these ventures by giving credit where credit is due.

Why not?

For Whom the Bell Fell

When the bell came tumbling down last Sunday night it took part of Waller with it. The Old Historic Temple has weathered many storms and Willamette students have been wearing away the "time worn temple threshold" for a good many years. But the men who roped the victory bell and brought it to the ground added a new dent to the structure. Their method might well have revolutionized the dismantling process of the old Calpac building.

MANAGER ANSWERS CONCERT QUESTIONS

Editor's Note: Concert manager Stu Shaw was requested to reply to Miss Hershe's letter in this issue of the Collegian so that he might immediately clarify the questions she raises. The concert series has been the target of campus criticism, as well, and Shaw presents some definite considerations.

To the Editor:

I would like to express my appreciation to Stuart Shaw and his co-workers for the fine concerts which their work has produced this year.

If I may, however, I would like to make one or two comments, the first in regard to attendance, or rather ticket sales. Although Willamette presents top artists, I believe the many conspicuously empty seats can be directly traced to admission charges. The Community Concert series is able to present five concerts for $6, while Willamette offers four concerts for $7.20. (I quote the reserved seat price, since most are sold for this price.) Community concert audiences are usually near capacity, although Willamette's artists are better known.

It would seem to me, therefore, that Willamette would be able to sell more tickets at a lower price. A larger profit might be acquired by filling the auditorium at lower prices, instead of having only a partially filled house at higher prices.

The second thing is the lighting arrangement. Several times in the past the auditorium lights have not been dimmed, and two of the large front chandeliers have been left lit. These not only appear to annoy the artist performing, they distract the attention of those members of the audience who are seated in the rear of the auditorium.

Perhaps these comments will serve to provoke other comments and action on the otherwise fine concerts. It would be wonderful to see them become a great success.

Nancy Hershe, '53

To the Editor:

I would like to thank Miss Hershe for her expression of appreciation. Such expressions are rare in this kind of work. However, I think a few points of clarification to point out the theory behind the operation of the concert series are necessary.

The members of the concert board are also quite concerned about the low attendance at the Willamette concerts. We do not attribute this to high prices, though, needless to say, any price is too high, according to one's point of view or size of pocketbook.

In the first place, of the 1400 reserved seats offered for sale, 860 are $6 seats, though Miss Hershe is correct in saying that more $7.20 seats are sold than $6. A comparison might be made to the Portland series. The highest ticket offered, which includes the entire main floor, is $12 for six artists—a slightly higher rate per artist than our price. In the second place, it is to be noted that whereas every seat in the house for Community concerts is $6 and the individual buyer's seat for each concert is based on how rapidly he can finish dinner and get in line at Salem high, the Willamette series offers reserved seats, which many people are willing to pay an additional sum to obtain.

In the third place, Community concerts have a capacity turnout because they managed to get a 15-year start on the Willamette series. Naturally,

ADVICE ON THE GROUNDS OF COFFEE

By Jim Scott

In my life before last I was satisfying my dromo-maniacal inclinations by traveling with a group of gypsies and in the course of events and incidents I learned to read tea leaves under the auspice of an antique lead of the caravan who wore copper earrings. Years later, while living in a strongly anti-British community, I applied the principles of the prophetic leaves and put myself through Sanka U. by reading coffee grounds. (For children I would do a Postum-mortum).

Today, because of my jovial disposition, this column will allow you to reach a happy medium and as such I shall disclose to you some of life's most serious problems and the proper grounds for the correct answer.

Classical Figures

Problem. Dear Gypsie: I am a freshman female here at Cafenoir University and am so unhappy because boys won't ask me for a date. I am intelligent, have a pretty face and have the classical chassical measurements of 36:24:35 except on me they come in a different order, namely 24:35:36. I am unable to sleep because of worry. What shall I do?

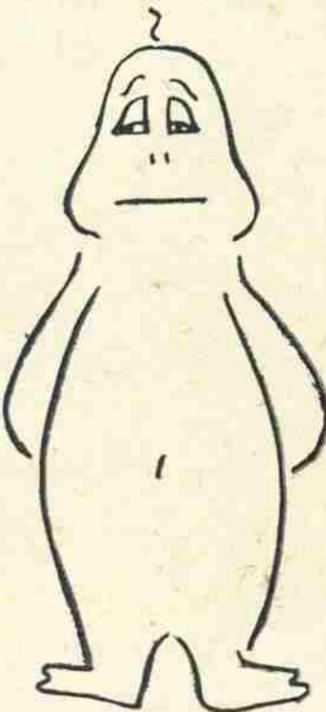

Answer. Dear Caffeine: Your problem is two-fold. The fact that too much of your energy has gone to waist could be solved by proper diet, if this were your only trouble. Really, I hesitate to advise you and have referred your query to our fashion editor, who I am certain, can resolve a problem of such proportions. In the meantime I suggest you stay away from the bowling alley lest you be mistaken for a No. 1 pin, the consequences of which I need not trouble you with at this time.

Problem. Dear Quaint Caravaner: While walking home from a ride last nite I decided that all men are treacherous; except maybe a few. But I do like to go out and have a good time. What must an attractive girl do to meet some real nice fellow or fellows, and how can one tell before she goes out with them. (signed) Despondent.

It's the Grind

Answer. Dear Despot: Your problem is most difficult as the coffee-grounds you included in your letter came from a perco-

All my energy is going to waist lator that employs the drip-grind method, and as such I can only say that I see nothing but characters of a similar disposition in the cuttings. In any event, you must acquire a new circle of friends. Strictly speaking I can see three possible solutions to your troubles. You can join a hiking club and meet new people or you can keep your present associates and purchase a purse-size motorcycle with wire wheels. I shall advise you further and in explicit detail if you could see your way clear to send me some fresh coffee grounds; I like to brew as I brood.

Problem. Dear Gyp: I should like to meet a man with similar intellectual interests as I have. By this I mean I love poetry; it matters not a whit which kind, just so it is poetic. Incidentally I am versatile in many ways and have recently been voted Miss Hi-grade by the employees of the Silver Buckle Mine. (signed) Petulent.

Try Phoning

Answer. Dear Pet: Now I believe in poetic justice! Your problem is solved. Just phone Hardrock 34791, after 7 p.m. (Our song will be "Changing Poetries").

And as the old covered caravan fades away among the echos we bring you a last remark from "Dearth Valley Daisy" just to let you know we all have problems and that I would appreciate your assistance in answering this highly personal situation. Problem. Dear Gyper: Unless you can see a hack-saw and a file in those instant coffee-grounds, you had better return my copper earrings but immediately. (signed) Antique Daisy. Possible answer. Dear Daze: Your letter is unclaimed and I have no forwarding address.

SB ROUNDTABLE:

Basketball Hopes Soar

Willamette's basketball hopes are soaring again this year. John Lewis and the Bearcats are in their familiar and enviable rut of conference pacemakers. The team has come a long way this season and now holds a five win two loss record that perches them on the top rung of the Northwest Conference ladder.

Those of us who saw Willamette come from a fifteen point deficit to cut Lewis and Clark to pieces Friday night, know that it was done on pure fight. Saturday night, late in the fourth quarter, the Bearcat rooting section and team felt a surge that shook the whole gym. We knew the team could do it again and felt that rally coming. They lost the game, but won a place in the hearts of all who saw their spirited scrap. We don't see many teams fight that hard to win for their coach, their team and their school.

Another thing, the Willamette roting section was nearly as big as Lewis and Clark's. That's really great when so many of you will travel to root for your team. John Lewis and the squad members believe that a roaring, encouraging, pleading, mass of rooters helps them to play better ball. Many times a team can win a game because the crowd inspired them.

Good old Pacific invades our gym Friday night and we return the intrusion Saturday night. The games are crucial. 'Nuff said? See you, or rather, hear you there!

Letters . .

Dear Friends:

I am writing this letter to the Collegian because this is the only way I can thank all of you who have been so kind to me. Especially do I appreciate your visits because they broke the awful monotony of lying on one's back staring at the ceiling, completely immobile.

I am afraid that I won't be back at school until the beginning of April, because almost every day the doctors discover a new broken bone. The total so far is 14 broken bones, four cuts, one cut lip, and 71 bruises—varying in color from magenta to chartreuse. We all are hurt badly but we are lucky not to be dead. Our car is mashed in like an accordion. Our guardian angels really worked hard that Sunday.

To change subjects abruptly, many of you have written to me, and I am sorry that I cannot write back. But, when I get back to WU I will thank you all properly. In the meantime, please accept this.

Goodbye friends, come and see me if you have time.

Your friend,
Rosemary Bower.

To the Editor:

This is to loudly acclaim the marvelous presentation of poetry to a very quiet and attentive convocation a week ago. To you, Dr. Lovell, I tip my hat.

'Demublicans' To Stir Interest In Government

March 26 will be "I'm a Demublican" day at Willamette. Sponsored by the Oregon Citizenship Clearing House, organized last year to stimulate student interest in politics, the Willamette observance will be a "pilot project" for similar days to be held on other Oregon campuses.

Prof. Freeman Holmer, executive secretary of the Clearing House and member of the Willamette political science department, explained that the day, as its name indicates, will be non-partisan. He expressed the hope that the project would attract students in all departments—not merely those in political-social science.

He also indicated that efforts were being made to obtain two prominent state officials to make keynote speeches.

At last week's planning session, Fenton Hughes, chairman of the campus Young Democrats, and Paul Johnson of the Young Republicans, were appointed co-chairmen for the session. Four committees were set up to organize the day-long function.

Following their meeting, the local planning committee issued a report to Clearing House association members at several Oregon colleges and universities to promote programs there.

Fifteen Law Students Make Dean's List For Outstanding Scholastic Achievement

Fifteen Willamette law students have been named to the Dean's list for outstanding scholastic achievement during fall semester, it was disclosed today by Dean Seward Reese, dean of the law school.

With the announcement of the fall semester scholastic rating, two men have the distinction of gaining the honor for five consecutive semesters. They are third year students Parker Gies, Independence, and Mark McClanahan, Salem.

First year students on the Dean's list are James R. Ellis, Alan Hallowell, Kenneth Holmes, George E. Juba, Richard Lee, Keith Lawrence, Maurice M. Orons, and George T. Gant.

Four second year men earning the honor are Eldon E. Caley, Arthur A. Franzke, David E. Card, and Helmut G.

Scherima.

Third year students attaining high scholarship are Arthur O. Bishop, Mark McClanahan, David H. Wheeler, and Parker Geis.

This is the second semester that Caley, Card and Franzke have been named to the Dean's list.

Student Progress on WU Challenge Fund Remains $6400 Short of $10,000 Goal

Student Challenge Fund canvassing is now in the clean-up stage, according to campus chairman Kent Holmes. Campus pledges toward the million dollar building program stood at $3600 this week, he said, $6400 short of the $10,000 goal.

Saxs and Bags have been contacting 160 town students not affiliated with campus living groups, Holmes indicated. Law students have a separate canvassing program.

Holmes added that the program is by no means over, however. He predicted that it would be in operation for at least another year.

Last week totals for the entire fund was reported to be $288,121, which included student pledges. A goal of $325,000 is hoped to be reached before the February 25 meeting of the board of trustees. The board hopes to have that amount on hand before letting bids on the construction of three campus buildings.

Liz Shield's Potential Hit Attracts Offers to Record

"This isn't good, it's the finest!" So spoke Nat Pierce, arranger and pianist for the Woody Herman orchestra, after he first heard Liz Shield's newest contribution to the world of music.

After displaying her talent by producing the junior class's winning Glee song last spring, Liz went home to Castle Ford, Idaho, where she got the inspiration for her lately acclaimed song. "I was drying dishes," she said, "when I suddenly thought of a melody." She left the dishes to play the tune which now has been named "The Day We Met."

Returning to campus this fall, Liz one day played her song for Tom Larson who mentioned that he would like to write the words for it. Liz gave her approval and the lyrics were written.

Hoppe Starts Action

When Tom sang "The Day We Met" for Harley Hoppe, the ball began to roll. Recognizing a potential hit, Hoppe, acting as Liz's manager, took the song to Pierce who was in Portland for a Woody Herman engagement. On the advice of Pierce, Liz applied for a copyright, which was received last week.

The tune was taped at KOCO by Liz with Tom on the vocal. Hoppe took the tape to KWJJ in Portland and KBKW and KXRO in Aberdeen, Wash., his home town. "The response was terrific," according to Hoppe.

Bobby McAnulty, KWJJ disc jockey, heard the song at the studio while he was shaving, in preparation for his TV show, which was about to go on. He was so impressed, said Hoppe, that he asked to hear it over from the start. He was late for his TV appearance.

Speech Honors Won By Hughes, Johnson

Both Willamette entrants were cash winners in two state speaking contests held Monday at Northwest Christian college in Eugene, continuing Willamette's record of taking honors in each of the four state events held so far this season.

Fenton Hughes, junior, won the annual state peace oratorical second prize. Second prize in the state experimental contest went to junior H. Paul Johnson.

Orating on "A Realistic Approach to Peace," Hughes stressed the task of the United States, which finds herself in the position of steering the Western World between the twin dangers of another war and communist domination.

He concluded that the survival of the free world depends on the intelligence and courage with which our country utilizes its opportunities in promoting a wise foreign policy.

Johnson delivered a rhetorical criticism of one of the afternoon's orations. Both men are members of the varsity debate squad and competed against students from other western Oregon campuses.

Judging Monday's contests for Willamette was Dr. Howard Runkel, director of forensics.

"Appealing" Music

"I really think it's going to go," said Hoppe. Basically, everywhere the song has been heard, it has been accepted with great enthusiasm. It is a commercial type song; very appealing. Once you've heard it you've got to hear it again."

It has been sent to New York for further arranging in preparation for a possible Herman recording. Frankie Karl in Los Angeles, has also expressed an interest in the tune. RCA, which is putting out its new Label X, for new talent, has suggested that it be sent to New York for an audition for recording.

The usual formalities connected with the publication of "The Day We Met" are now under way.

Leading Bearcats Meet Pacific in Two Contests

Willamette's top spot in the Northwest conference standings remains still in a precarious position as the Bearcats host the much-improved Pacific Badgers tonight in the Willamette gym.

Tomorrow night the same two teams will meet in Forest Grove. The games were originally scheduled in reverse of what they are to be played this weekend. The Pacific team uses the Forest Grove high school gym and the plant is not available for Friday's game.

Two weeks ago the Badgers upset Willamette in Forest Grove 64-58 and last week the Badgers split a two-game series with Linfield. In the second game against Linfield the Badgers' 6-6 center, Clint Agee, scored 41 points. Norm Hubert, Pacific leading scorer, had 18 points, the same total he had against Willamette.

Plus the scoring threat the Bearcats must face against the Badger, there will be the slow-type of play used by the Harvey Roloff's crew. It was this slow-breaking stuff coupled with a fast break late in the game which beat Willamette in the first game with Pacific.

The Bearcats must win one game to keep their first place standing. Lewis and Clark and Linfield will be playing a home-and-home series while Whitman travels to College of Idaho for a single game. A double loss at the hands of Pacific would see the Bearcats lose sole possession of first place. If the Bearcats won both games, it would move John Lewis' crew a step closer to the title.

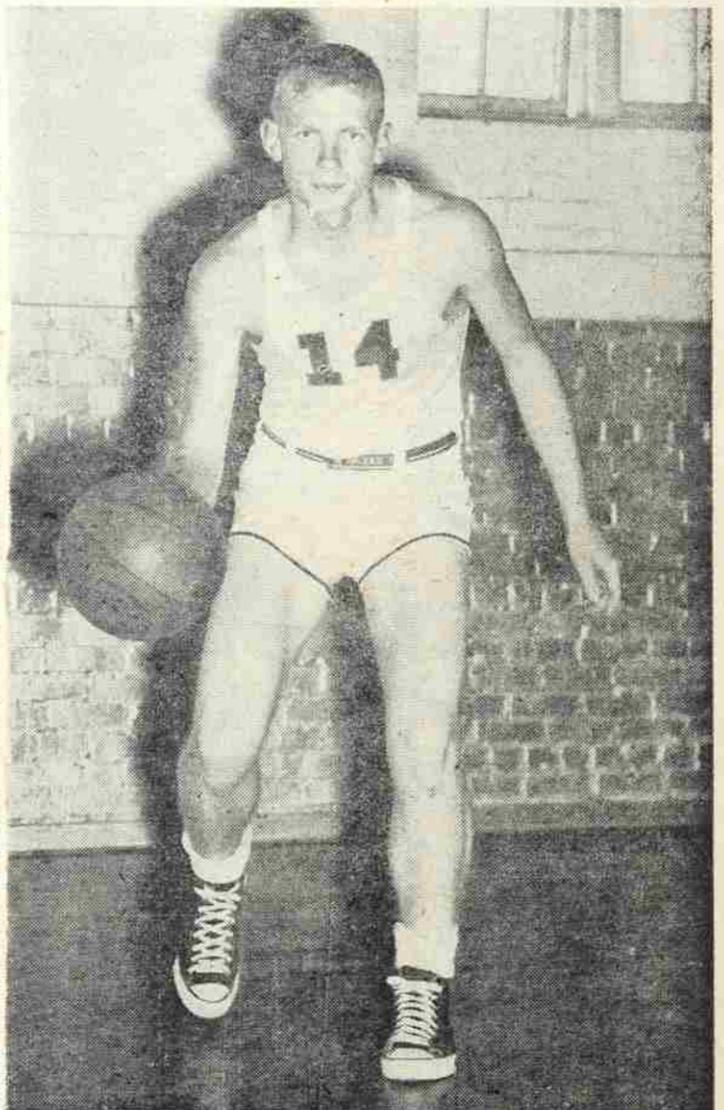

After these two games, the Bearcats have six remaining.

A home-and-home series with Linfield, two with College of Idaho and one with Whitman on the road trip and a home game with Lewis and Clark.

The starting lineup for Willamette will probably remain the same. Pete Reed and Dick Hoy will open at the forwards, Tom Gooding at center and Duane Shield and Jerry McCallister at the guards.

Coach Lewis has drilled the Bearcats all week for the Pacific game with special note on the zone defense and the slow break. It was the zone which cracked Willamette's fast break during the Lewis and Clark series.

Captain for the Bearcats

Dick Hoy, captain and starting forward for the Willamette Bearcats, will be in the lineup tonight when the Bearcats meet Pacific here tonight. Willamette and Pacific will play again tomorrow night at Forest Grove. Pacific defeated Willamette two weeks ago at Forest Grove and the Bearcats will be out for revenge and to strengthen their hold on first place. (Statesman cut)

Baxter, Betas Lead 'Mural Bowlers; Second Round of Action Near Finish

Baxter and the Betas lead the "A" and "B" intramural bowling leagues respectively with one more week of play in the second round.

In the "A" league next Tuesday Baxter will meet the Phi Deltas and a Baxter victory would give them the second round. The Betas will play the SAE's in the other contest.

Next Thursday the Betas take on the Sigs and a Beta win would give them the crown for the second round. In the other match the Phi Deltas will play the SAE's.

Results of the week's play in the "A" league saw Baxter win over the SAE's via the forfeiture route and the Sigs blank the Phi Deltas 4-0.

In the "B" league Thursday, February 4, the Betas beat the Phi Deltas 3-1 and the Baxter keggers whitewashed the Sigs 4-0. Yesterday's games in the "B" league were not available at Collegian press time. Baxter played the Betas and the SAE's faced the Sigs.

After the completion of the second round, the intramural bowlers will begin the third and final round of play. The winners of each round in each league will then play each other at the end of regular season play. The winners of each league will then meet for the championship with the winner receiving the bowling trophy now held by Baxter.

The Sigs won the first round in "A" league with a perfect record of five straight wins. The Sigs lost the lead to Baxter in the second round two weeks ago when Baxter upset them 3-1. The SAE's won the first round of play in "B" league.

League Play Forces Bearcats From Playoff

The Willamette Bearcats will be unable to play in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics playoff for Oregon this year because the Bearcats will be still involved in conference play when the tournament is held.

The NAIA tournament is scheduled for March 2 and 3 in Portland. Willamette plays Whitman March 1 in Walla Walla and then meets Lewis and Clark here at home March 5.

Willamette and Lewis and Clark are the only two Northwest conference teams who will be unable to compete in the tournament.

'Mural Basketball Playoffs Continue; Betas Face Sigs in 'C' League Final

The Betas will meet the unbeaten Sigs tomorrow morning at 9:30 in the finals of the "C" league intramural basketball tournament.

In the "A" league four teams remain. Next Tuesday night at 7:30 the Betas will meet the Wits with the loser dropping out of the tournament. The winner will meet the Law school and the winner of that game will face the SAE's in the finals of the "A" league.

The "B" league will have its last semi-final game next Wednesday when the Sigs meet the Betas at 7:30. The winner will play the SAE's for the championship of the "B" league.

The winners of each of the three leagues will meet in a single elimination tournament to decide the intramural champion in basketball.

Results of the "C" league last Saturday saw the Betas edge the Baxter team 33-29 in the lone game of the day. The game was close all the way with the largest margin at four points for the Betas. The Betas were led by Bob Myrick's 12 points. Pete Harvey and Don Nims led Baxter with ten points apiece.

In Monday's "A" league action the SAE's downed the Wits 32-31 and the Law school stopped the Phi Deltas 24-20. Mickey Coen led the SAE's with 15 points and Jan Long led the Wits with eight points.

In the lone "C" league game Wednesday, the Sigs downed the Phi Deltas 35-25 after getting off to a slow start.

Willamette Remains on Top After Split

Bearcats Make Comeback for Friday's Victory

Led by reserve guard Dave Gray the Willamette Bearcats looked like true champions as they dumped the Lewis and Clark Pioneers 74-67 last Friday night in the Willamette gym.

The Bearcats trailed the Pioneers by 15 points late in the third quarter, 56-41, when they began their comeback which saw them score 33 points to 11 for the Lewis and Clark squad.

Willamette closed the gap to 57-50 at the start of the final period and tied the score at 65-65 with four and one-half minutes to go. Gray drove in for a fast break laying on a pass from Jerry McCallister to tie the count. Then a minute later Jack Bishop hooked in a rebound to give the Bearcats their first lead since the opening period.

Willamette went further ahead as Gray popped in a field goal and a pair of free throws. McCallister added a free throw and Neil Causbie a rebound goal to give the Bearcats a 74-65 lead before the Pioneers could tally their final pair of points in the last minute of play.

The game which saw the scoring come out in spurts, started out slow. There were three ties and eight lead changes before the Pioneers took the lead for what looked like permanent possession with six minutes played, 13-11. Lewis and Clark led at the end of the first quarter 20-16 and at halftime 41-32.

Ken Servas, Lewis and Clark's all-time scoring champ, poured through 23 points to top the scorers. Gooding was close behind for Willamette as he racked up 22 points. McCallister and Gray were next for Willamette with 12 and 11 points respectively. Gary Jackson of Lewis and Clark scored 13 points, 11 in the first quarter.

Duane "Lefty" Shield will probably be one of the starting guards for Willamette tonight when the Bearcats host the Pacific Badgers in a Northwest conference game. (Statesman cut).

Lewis and Clark Takes 76-67 Win In Second Game

Willamette university dropped its second conference game of the season last Saturday night as the Lewis and

Willamette	5	2	.714	524	498
Lewis & Clark	4	4	.500	568	563
Whitman	4	4	.500	583	580
Coll. of Idaho	4	4	.500	588	579
Pacific	4	5	.444	561	563
Linfield	3	5	.375	551	592

Clark Pioneers won the second game of the weekend series 76-67 at Palatine hill in Portland.

In spite of the loss Willamette is still leading the conference with a 5-2 record. The Pioneers, College of Idaho, and Whitman are tied for second place with 4-4 marks.

It was again a case of the home team being too tough. Only three games have been won by the visiting team in Northwest conference play this year. Willamette accomplished this once at Linfield earlier in the season.

In Saturday's game Lewis and Clark jumped to a quick lead and were never behind. Milt Schroeder and Ken Servas were the big guns in the attack.

The Pioneers were in a zone defense for most of the evening and this stopped the hooking of Tom Gooding who was held to only one field goal for the entire game. Gooding made only five points for the night as compared with 22 Friday night.

The Bearcat's inability to hit from the outside was the deciding factor. The Lewis and Clark zone defense also stopped Dick Hoy from shooting as the Bearcat guards had trouble getting the ball to the Bearcat captain. Hoy still managed to get his share of shots as he paced the Willamette scoring with 20 points.

Servas of Lewis and Clark led all scorers for the game with 25 points.

Frosh Lose

The Willamette Bearkittens lost a 65-58 game to the Albany high school Bulldogs last Tuesday night in Albany.

Albany, tenth-rated in the recent Associated Press poll, proved too strong for the Bearkittens who suffered their third loss in 11 starts.

Willamette Bearkittens Drop Pioneer Squad Twice; Hotaling, Turley Star

The Willamette Bearkittens made it two in a row over the Lewis and Clark freshman squad last weekend, winning 78-59 here in Salem last Friday and copping a 75-63 win the following night in Portland.

Tonight the Frosh host Pacific and tomorrow night travel to Pacific in prelim games starting at 6:10.

In last Friday's game the Bearkittens started out slow and took a 18-17 lead at the first quarter stop. From there the Bearkittens were never headed.

Saturday's game was much like the first game, but the Bearkittens did not move ahead until the third quarter after trailing 36-34 at halftime. Bill Turley lead the Bearkittens in the scoring with 18 points.

The Social Scoop

By JULIE MELLOR, Editor

The call of the mountains seems to have attracted many Willamette students, by the looks of the sunburned (or is it windburned?) faces of many of the students on campus.

National Visitors

Winter seems to be the time for sorority officers to visit Willamette, also. Mrs. Joseph Mulligan, Alpha Chi Omega province president, spent a three-day visit with the local chapter here this week. During her stay many points of interest about the chapters, locally and nationally, were discussed.

Another national officer, Mrs. Marianne Reid Wild, who is Pi Beta Phi's grand president, will arrive in Salem next month, to visit for a few days.

Officers Elected

Delta Gamma members elected Gail Updike as president for the coming term. Assisting her will be Jeanene Findley, vice-president; Carol Hewitt, secretary; Sally Cooney, chapter treasurer; Rosemary Weaver, standards chairman; Joann Pym, scholarship chairman; Paula Harmer, house treasurer; Lorraine Landrud, corresponding secretary; Sophia Polales, social chairman; Diane Osborn, house manager; Margaret Huson, song leader; Shirley Witters, rush chairman; V'Anne Chance, assistant rush chairman; Carla McKeen, Panhellenic representative; Lorelei Lantz, historian; Nancy Hanson, ritual; and Augusta Krause, publicity and student council representative.

Elizabeth Loving was elected president of Chi Omega this week. Other officers are Phyllis Muhs, vice-president; Patricia Payne, secretary; Frances Miller, treasurer; Clarine Woolery, pledge trainer; Lyn Moodhe, Panhellenic delegate; Dorothy Pearson, rush chairman; Evelyn Stafford, house manager; Carol Svinth, social chairman; Shiela Schuerman, song leader; and Frances Miller, student council representative.

SAE's Pledge Daugherty

Neil Daugherty was pledged to Sigma Alpha Epsilon this week.

Mu Phi Dance

Mu Phi Epsilon will present their fifth annual Valentine sport dance tomorrow evening in the gym from 8:30 to 11:30.

Admission, announced by chairman Barbara Young, is 35 cents stag and 50 cents a couple, and the dance is either stag, boy ask girl, or girl ask boy.

Silhouettes and streamers carrying out the Valentine motif, have been planned by Carol Emerson, and refreshments of sherbet punch and Valentine cookies, ordered by Jane Gary, will be served. Music will be from records.

Chaperons, invited by Rebecca Hang, are Mr. and Mrs. Don Gleckler.

Proceeds from the dance will go to decorating the Mu Phi Epsilon lounge in the Music hall.

Spring Rush Set Wednesday

Spring rushing will begin next Wednesday and will terminate with informal pledgings Saturday evening, announced Dean Regina Ewalt, advisor to Panhellenic.

Panhellenic Plans Rushing

Rushing is always carried out through the guidance of the local Panhellenic board on campus, which is composed of an official delegate from each sorority house, and each chapter president. Through this board is carried on all business pertaining to sorority life at Willamette.

Rules set up this year for rushing have been formulated by the rush chairman's committee, and every sorority house and rushee is expected to abide by them.

Quota System Present

With the quota-limitation plan devised by Panhellenic last fall, each sorority house will have a quota by which they must abide, according to the number of affiliated women in their houses.

Rules for spring rushing, which have been approved by Panhellenic for those participating, are as follow:

On Wednesday at 12 noon, silence begins, and will exist until after acceptance of formal bids on Saturday evening. "Silence" means none other than natural contact between unaffiliated and sorority women.

Each rushee is expected to sign the guest book at every sorority house. Rushees must attend all four parties Wednesday evening.

Invitations from the sorority houses may be picked up in the Dean of Women's office any time after 8:45 a. m., the following day after the functions.

Rules for Sororities

Rules for sorority houses include having no communication with unaffiliated women going through rush; men are not allowed to help participate in sorority rushing; no oral invitations may be made at any time during formal rush; there will be a $1.50 pledge fee assessed each woman pledging a sorority; bidding cannot take place until after the grades of the first semester are released, and rules governing silence shall be the same as those for fall rush.

Wednesday evening the women will congregate in the Lausanne hall parlors at 6:45, at which time rules for rushing will be stated, and information given to those who desire it. A guide will then take the groups to the respective sorority houses:

- 7:00-7:30 Delta Gamma.
- 7:40-8:10 Pi Beta Phi.
- 8:20-8:50 Alpha Chi Omega.
- 9:00-9:30 Chi Omega.

There will be no entertainment, decorations or refreshments served at this party. School clothes are in order.

Thursday's schedule will be 45-minute parties, beginning with:

- 6:30-7:15 Chi Omega.
- 7:30-8:15 Delta Gamma.
- 8:30-9:15 Pi Beta Phi.
- 9:30-10:15 Alpha Chi Omega.

Again there will be no decorations or theme, but modest entertainment may be given, and refreshments served to the guests. Dress will include flats and hose, wool dresses, or skirts and blouses.

Friday's program will follow that of the previous day, with the exception of different times for each sorority's party.

- 6:30-7:15 Pi Beta Phi.
- 7:30-8:15 Delta Gamma.
- 8:30-9:15 Chi Omega.
- 9:30-10:15 Alpha Chi Omega.

Banquet Offered Saturday

Saturday afternoon from 1 to 2:30 will be the second preference dessert luncheon at each sorority house. The dress will be afternoon dresses or suits, and heels and hose. Entertainment will be given.

In the evening each house will have a formal dinner, which is the first preference banquet, and will be held from 5:15 to 7 o'clock.

Following the banquet, at 7:30 p. m., rushees will meet at the Dean's office to fill out their preference sheets giving their final choice. At 10 o'clock they may return to the Dean's office to pick up their invitations to sorority membership, and go to their respective houses for firesides.

Refreshments chairman, Sharon Dyer, announced that heart and arrow cookies and red cherry punch will be served.

The Amen Corner

Westminster Fellowship will meet at 6 o'clock Sunday evening at the home of Dr. Poling for supper, followed by a discussion on "What Is Prayer."

Members of Canterbury club will meet at the corner of 12th and State streets at 4 o'clock Sunday to travel to Eugene, where they will attend a joint meeting of the Canterbury clubs from the University of Oregon and Oregon State college.

The Lutheran student group will meet at the YMCA Thursday at noon for lunch and a business program.

Wesleyans will congregate at 6 o'clock Sunday evening at the Methodist church, for supper and recreation. A student panel will then present a discussion on "Boy and Girl Relations," led by Donald Miller, marriage and the family instructor. Wesley workshops will meet at 5 p. m. Sunday, before the regular meeting.

Willamette Couple Wed Sunday

Delores Miller and Ray Myers were married in an afternoon ceremony at the First Presbyterian church in Lebanon Sunday.

Miss Sally Phillips was maid of honor for the bride, and other attendants were Miss Rosemary Myers, junior bridesmaid, and Elizabeth Myers, flower girl. Kent Myers was best man for his brother, and ushers were Rod Beals and Bud Miller.

Misses Sandra Schuerman and Janice Gladden presented vocal renditions, and candle-lighters were Misses Margie Dawson and Jane Slocum.

The bride's gown was of white lace over taffeta, and her attendants were dressed in shades of blue.

Strings Get Critical Praise

There is a rumor being circulated on campus that the university Concert series may be discontinued due to lack of response by students. Those who heard the Vienna String Symphony and Isaac Stern know how detrimental this would be to the University and to the community culturally.

It is really surprising how sincere Willamette land is in its appreciation of technical ability and sensitive expression. This appreciation was sincerely shown in the Tuesday evening concert, but by a disappointingly small audience.

The symphony Tuesday evening gave a completely delightful, very light, and rather different performance. Different in the sense of being typically European in flavor. This perhaps was a barrier to some people in the appreciation of the ensemble.

The European flavor was particularly noticeable in the coloratura soprano, Rosl Schwaiger. Besides being very attractive, Miss Schwaiger has an extremely lovely voice, but her rendition—her close contact with the audience, her extreme graciousness, her emotional contact—is far removed from the stiff reserve of American artists.

At times we could have hoped for more power in her voice. At times it was almost too frail, almost too wisful—but never quite completely. Always the coloratura held it up. She has a willowy, controlled lightness to her voice that is quite different and refreshing. The lightness of her voice gives the harsh, guttural German an exciting quality.

Gay Hall Elected WITS Prexy As Group Decides to Continue

Gay Hall was elected president of the Willamette Independent Town Students Monday night, succeeding Martin Knittel. Other new officers are Larry Doyle, vice-president; Paul Baker, student council representative; and Bob Ellis, representative to the independent council.

Despite recent lack of enthusiasm, Vice-President Doyle said, the group agreed at Monday's meeting that the organization must be continued since it is the only means of official representation for town students in Willamette's student government.

The present small group will form the nucleus for expansion in the future, he said. Any town independent who desires to see the Wits grow and become more effective in helping to solve Willamette's problems was urged to affiliate with the organization.

No definite plans were presented for a program of activity at this time. However, Wits will continue to participate in intramural sports.

No dues were set at Monday's meeting. A woman will be elected as Wits second representative to student council at a later meeting.

WU Team to Join 19 Others At CPS Tourney Next Week

Twelve members of the Willamette debate squad will take part in the annual College of Puget Sound forensic tournament in Tacoma Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, according to coach Howard Runkel.

From 200 to 250 speakers from twenty colleges in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, are expected for the tournament, one of the big events of the collegiate forensic year.

Willamette had the most first place awards in the event last year and only lost by the outcome of one final event. Pacific university took the team trophy after three consecutive years in second place. Willamette won the tourney two years ago.

Members of the Willamette squad are Gay Kent, Marian Rutledge, Don Drake, Fenton Hughes, H. Paul Johnson, Marion Putman, Lewis Hampton, Preston Butcher, George Bleile, Don Laws and Karl Freerksen.

National debate topic of the year deals with the problems of free trade.

There will be participation in debate, both one-man and Oxford, after-dinner speaking, interpretative reading, oratory and discussions, in both men and women's divisions.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, four of the group will continue to Portland to take part in the annual town meeting tournament sponsored by Portland State college. The events will be student symposia before large audiences in the greater Portland area.

Marion Rutledge will be chairman of one of the symposia, with Gay Kent, Lewis Hampton and Fenton Hughes as symposium speakers.

They will compete against four-man teams from 15 northwest colleges and universities.

Living Groups Host Student Body Heads

Living organizations will play host to the student body officers this month in an effort to bring student government closer to the students.

Student body president Jim Hitchman, first vice-president Ruben Menashe, second vice-president Gay Weeks, secretary Carolyn Crane, treasurer Donna Cheney and member-at-large Ken Cooper will visit the organizations for dinner and discussion afterward.

Tuesday Pi Beta Phi entertained the officers, and Delta Gamma was host on Wednesday. Yesterday the group went to Chi Omega, and next Tuesday they will visit Phi Delta Theta; Wednesday, Sigma Chi; Thursday, Baxter hall. On February 23 the officers will go to Sigma Alpha Epsilon; February 24, Alpha Chi Omega; February 25, Beta Theta Pi; March 1, Wits; and March 3, Lausanne hall.

Plans have been made to send a letter to town students who will not be contacted by the program. According to Jim Hitchman, the program should prove worth-while because, "This set-up affords an opportunity for exchange of problems and ideas."

TV Reading of Beta Letter Ups Crosby Show Hooper Locally

Monday through Friday from 12:30 to 1 p.m., the members and especially the pledges of Beta Theta Pi crowd around the television set to watch the Bob Crosby show and particularly a blond, blue-eyed singer of apparent good looks named Joanie O'Brion.

Since Monday, members and pledges have watched the Crosby show and Miss O'Brion with special interest. The reason: Miss O'Brion was good enough to read a letter Monday written by the Beta pledges commending the show and especially Miss O'Brion.

It was on January 4 that the pledges got the inspiration to write the Crosby show to say how much they liked the young lady named O'Brion.

Pledge Sneak Material

Martin Wolf composed the letter, the main part of which stated, "We, the pledges of Gamma Sigma chapter of Beta Theta Pi of Willamette university, Salem, Oregon, have voted you the girl we would most like to take on our pledge class sneaks."

They waited. Nothing happened on the show, so everyone dismissed the matter. Evidently their letter was of little importance.

Then on the fateful Monday noon hour, about four faithfuls were watching the show when—lo and behold—the letter was brought forth.

Letter Brings Stampede

A general stampede followed and the excitement was comparable to that of a sorority engagement announcement as the letter was read.

Miss O'Brion evidently appreciated the whole matter for she dedicated her next number, "My Secret Love" to the members and pledges of Gamma Sigma chapter, Beta Theta Pi. Miss O'Brion's Beta rating has naturally zoomed.

Bus to Be Available For Game Tomorrow

Yell squad members are again trying to organize a bus trip for tomorrow night's Pacific game at Forest Grove, and interested students should contact Yell Queen Anita Tanning immediately.

Speaking for the yell squad, Rich Butler expressed satisfaction with the turnout of rooters last week. He estimated the crowd from Salem to have been about 300.

Attempts to organize transportation for the game with Lewis and Clark at Palatine hill last week failed for lack of interest, however.

Six New Voices Added To A Cappella Choir

Six new members were selected for the a cappella choir following recent try-outs held by choir director Don Gleckler.

The three new women members, Barbara Anderson, Nancy Kerbs, and Ruthann Acklen, are freshmen.

Two juniors and one sophomore, Tom Schrock, Hal Hargreaves, and John Dahlberg, were added to the men's sections.

Picture of a man changing his motor oil

It's hard to believe now, we know.

But several years back—before you could buy Royal Triton in most any city—some people who had discovered the amazing purple motor oil on a visit to California were in the habit of ordering it by mail after their return home.

When a product earns this kind of loyalty you think twice before you do anything to it, even to improve it.

Yet we have just announced Royal Triton motor oil in two new all-weather, all-climate grades: Royal Triton 5-20 and Royal Triton 10-30. They lubricate with the thoroughness of a lightweight winter oil, protect with the toughness of a heavyweight summer oil.

This is only one of hundreds of times since the end of World War II that we have improved a product you, the customer, were more than happy to keep right on buying as it was.

Why don't we wait until you demand these new and better things? Because we can't afford to. We are competing for your business, and if we don't constantly better our products our competitors will better us.

Obviously, no matter which one of the oil companies comes in first in this race, the real winner is... you.
