Loter, Yocom Emcee All-Star Willamette Cast For "Varsity Varieties" Tomorrow Night

By Glenda McAllister

Radio television station KWU-TV, complete with a control room and a blinking "On the Air" sign, will be the setting for the vaudeville show, "Varsity Varieties," which will be presented tomorrow night at 8:15 pm in the Salem high school auditorium.

The 23-act show will climax the week-long school chest drive and will stage a variety of entertainment from blackface burlesque to sophisticated songs. A disc jockey will introduce song and dance teams, singing duets, and tap dancing and singing solos through the television turntables.

Station KWU-TV Makes Debut Tomorrow

Rehearsing for their emcee duties in "Varsity Varieties" are Rays Loter and Yocom. The show, which will wind up the week-long school chest drive, will be presented tomorrow night at the Salem high school auditorium at 8:15 pm. Special features of the production will include numbers from "The Desert Song" by Edith Fairham and Dick Taw and a variety of numbers by Kurt Kenyon and Glen Williams' combined bands.

Drive Nears Goal

"An almost 100 per cent success" is the way Chairman John Christensen described the student reaction to donating one dollar to the campus chest. The campus chest, which is new to Willamette students this year, is well on its way toward reaching the goal.

Pat Holtz, who is in charge of solicitations, reports that most of the houses are cooperating to the fullest extent either through cash or pledge cards. Delta Gamma was the first house to report in with all the money and pledge cards and other living organizations are not far behind.

Subscriptions from off-campus students are behind, however, and Christensen stresses again that this is the only collection that will be taken on campus this year and the full cooperation of the student body is asked.

The thermometer on the east side of Waller hall which was donated by the Martin Sign company will record the day by day progress of attaining the $1800 goal.

Radio Shows Satirized

Satires on mystery shows, such as "Dick Diamond—Private Nose," in "The Strawberry Tomato Caper" will be featured, as well as the soap opera, "Just Plain Jane Stanislofsky—Girl Billionaire," and notably, Ray Yocom as the news analyst, "Elmer Hangknot," will explain, "Why the Republicans Won."

John Christensen is the general chairman of the chest drive, while Jean Carico is in charge of publicity, and Pat Holtz is directing the soliciting. Ray Loter and Ray Yocom will emcee and direct the variety show.

Chest Drive to Receive Proceeds

"Varsity Varieties" is an A S W U sponsored production with the proceeds going to the campus chest. Tickets are fifty cents and will be on sale in Eaton hall, the Bearcat Cavern, Miller's Department Store, and at all living organizations. They will also be sold by the chest drive solicitors and at the door.

The stage will be managed by Al Laue, who will be assisted by Bob Ross and Bill Smith.

Cast Listed

The star-spangled cast includes: Edith Fairham and Dick Taw in a duet, singing numbers from "The Desert Song"; Nonnie Faaborg, the Delta Gamma singing commercial trio, a male Barbershop quartet, the Alpha Chi Omega sextet, Dorothy Hobson, Larry O'Dell, Bob Gwinn and Sharon Currier, accompanied by Lois Gottwald; Paul Southworth, Velma Youmans, Morris McElwee, Shirley Weist, Bobbie Meyers, Pat Bartlett, Jack Brown, a surprise number, Leihulu Kealoha, Glenda McAllister, Kathleen Scott, Grant Swanson, Dave Morgan and Bob Hearn. A 16-piece combined Glen Williams and Kurt Kenyon's band will feature such numbers as "Lover's Leap" and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise."

Viewing the performance will be talent scouts from Portland to as far south as Los Angeles according to Yocom.

Ten thousand advertising handbills are being distributed throughout the city, Yocom also stated.

Juniors Win W W Banquet Cup

The high point of the pre-game Whip Whitman banquet was the presentation of the cup for the best class yell. Rodger Adams, president of the junior class, accepted the cup from Jim Purdy, who was in charge of the affair.

Previously, the cup had been presented only to living organizations, but this year the presentation was made to the class having the best yell.

The judging was done by Profs. Edward Kollman and Lestle Sparks, and Joyce Patton.

The arrival of the students was greeted by music from the band following which the dinner was served.

After dinner, Coach Lillie introduced the assistant coaches and the members of the football team, each of whom were greeted enthusiastically.

In the absence of Dr. G. Herbert Smith, Mr. Robert W. Fenix, the financial vice-president, spoke a few words. Jim Purdy, master of ceremonies, then introduced George Hurt, who also spoke a few words.

Following the presentation of the class yells, Bob Robins, who was in charge of the entertainment, presented the Alpha Chi Omega quartet, "The Silhouettes" who sang "Fella with an Umbrella" and "Blue Moon."

Eldon Kaley sang "Gal in Calico" after which Leihulu Kealoha entertained with a hula dance. During the dance she presented leis to the football team.

Following the end of the entertainment program, the announcement was made that the Junior class had captured the cup, after which singing by the students wound up the banquet.

Freshmen Will Reveal 1949 Glee Manager Next Week

Freshman Glee manager has been chosen but will not be officially announced until next week. He was selected at a meeting of the freshman class officers yesterday, according to Lowell Maudlin, class president.

Freshman Glee was started by the class of 1912 in the year 1908 when a few members of the class gathered around a piano and made plans to challenge the other classes in a song contest. Glee in those days was simply an affair at which each class composed a song and presented it to the audience.

As the years went by, the classes were inspired by a sense of competition and began striving to make their decorations, composition and presentation the best. As a result of this simple beginning, a total of 160 songs have been written and it has become an event looked forward to by every member of Willamette university.

Handbooks To Be Alloted Monday

Students may pick up their Fusers' Guides in the student body office in Waller hall Monday from nine till five, according to Harry Ryan, Fusers' Guide editor.

Due to school conditions and the printers' many orders, distribution of the books has been delayed until this date.

A thicker issue this year, the 1948-49 Fusers' Guide will feature yellow covers with red ink depicting three coeds standing in the rain. Copies being printed this year number 1500.

Bookstore Notice

Holiday subscriptions for Time, Life, Newsweek and Fortune are now available in the bookstore at student rates, according to Mrs. Delsia Larson, manager. A large selection of Christmas cards is also on display.

Mrs. Larson asks that students who have placed orders for books call for them, as they are now in stock.

Tripp, Bergman Attend College Leaders' Meeting in La Grande

Two proposals will be made by the Willamette delegation attending the convention of the Oregon Federation of College Leaders at LaGrande this week.

Russell Tripp and Eric Bergman, WU delegates, will propose to the group that the 1949 convention be held in Salem. Housing will be furnished through the fraternities for those needing it during the convention, Tripp said this week after contacting the various houses.

The other proposal to be suggested is in connection with furthering a Oregon college tour of artists. The artists would be signed on a tour basis and give concerts at the various Oregon federated colleges. Many artists would be obtained in this way who would not otherwise be heard on Oregon campuses.

Tripp and Bergman left Wednesday and will attend sessions in LaGrande on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Delegates to the session will propose solutions to a variety of campus and inter-college problems.

The delegates will return via Walla Walla where they will see the Whitman-Willamette football game Saturday night.

Prexy Smith Leaves to Attend Conferences in LA, New York

G. Herbert Smith, president of the University, left Wednesday evening for Los Angeles, where he will address the WU alumni of Southern California at their fall meeting.

From Los Angeles, Smith will travel to New York city to attend a meeting of university presidents and deans. This conference will take place November 26 and 27.

A new chapter of Beta Theta Pi, which is being installed at Emory university in Atlanta, Georgia, will be the next stop for Smith, who is national president of that organization.

After completing various other matters of business, Smith will return to the Willamette campus, according to Publicity Director Charles A. Barclay.

President G. Herbert Smith left Wednesday for a three-week trip to attend various conferences.

Club Invites WU

Four debaters, under the direction of Prof. James W. Kirkwood, have received and accepted an invitation to speak at the City club in Portland, December 3. The topic will be on the subject for this year's debate, "Planned Economy." Debaters going will be Elliot Molschenbacher, Jack Gunn, Bob Saper and Tom Bartlett.

Lest We Forget

To those establishments and institutions which closed yesterday in memory of the signing of the armistice on November 11, 1918, congratulations.

We congratulate you for the fortitude of forgetting the competition of business long enough to remember those who died to make that competition possible.

We congratulate you for standing up to the American way of doing things—the independent way of doing things.

We congratulate you for your own sake, for the sake of your conscience which would have hurt had you not remembered the man who fought for you.

To those who refused to close their doors to remember we can only say that we hope they will remember next time. Surely this hurried world cannot be slipping by so fast that they can afford to forget next time.

We especially wish to reprimand the school administration for making schedules so far in advance that they cannot close their doors on as an important a holiday (elsewhere) as Armistice day. —E. B.

The Chest Show Tomorrow!

Tomorrow night at the high school auditorium the chest committee has for your entertainment a variety show that will serve two purposes. It will entertain you and the funds will be used to help fill the chest quota of $1,800.

The $1,800 will be divided among worthy organizations and will guarantee you, through your $1 contribution to be bothered no more this year with money drives.

Since the Willamette football game this week is in Walla Walla, and since very few will attempt to go to the game, a good turnout is anticipated at the variety show. —E. B.

We were informed through the president's office this week that we were in error last week in calling the new director of admissions, Mr. Paeth, a new dean. His title is to be director of admissions of Willamette university, President G. Herbert Smith informs us. —E. B.

We heard several comments last week after the writing of the Truman editorial that this paper had turned democrat. We believe this paper has always been democratic and republican, too! At any rate, we stated nothing but the essential facts in the editorial. We cannot tell a lie—George Washington. —E. B.

Forces Against Reaction

Perhaps this subject is not pertinent for the Willamette campus. Yet insofar as it affects each of us, no matter how indirectly, we will say a passing word on a bit of news which was published this week.

In short, we wish to extend congratulations to the Amherst chapter of Phi Kappa Psi. In repledging the Negro sophomore, Thomas Gibbs, against the orders of national officers, this group has illustrated the proud right of youth to struggle against the forces of bigotry and reaction.

It is furthermore encouraging to note that the 65 Amherst men do not stand alone. A poll of other Phi Psi chapters in the nation found a majority of members in favor of calling this Negro "Brother." And they are not afraid of defying a small band of prejudiced persons to state their willingness in this direction.

The Optimist would see in this incident not the mere fact that an individual has been received into an organization in spite of great odds. He would rather take hope that herein lies the beginning of the salvation from within the Greek letter societies. He would say that now perhaps these organizations will be able to carry out more fully the good which they are pledged to accomplish.

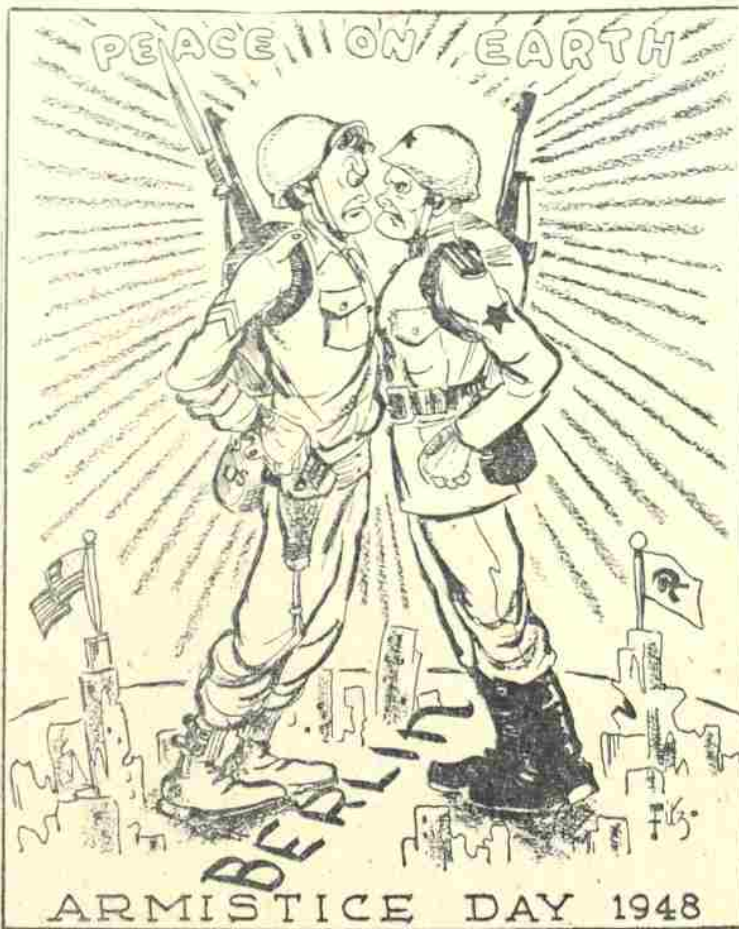

The Pessimist, lacking faith in the power of youthful idealism, would point out that the conclusion of the incident will be like those in previous instances. The chapter, he feels, will be properly chastised and made to see "reason", and we will hear no more about it till the next attempt at living democracy is made.

But even if the Pessimist's prophecy is fulfilled, we congratulate the Amherst Phi Psi's. If not making any perceptible progress, these men are at least moving in a desirable direction. —E. S.

Contemporary Comment

A fraternity at Amherst college has renewed its invitation to membership to a negro student over protests of the national officers. Hitherto, virtually all of the old Greek letter frats have maintained bans against Negroes and Jews. The walls of discrimination are crumbling, however, and interfraternity councils are considering lifting the bans.

Of course, the fraternity system is based on selectivity, which means it excludes many students. It is freely attacked as being undemocratic. It is becoming increasingly difficult to justify discrimination merely on the basis of color or religion. The Amherst decision merely reflects a growing recognition of this fact. Maybe the next step will be to see the absurdity as well as the discriminatory character of the whole fraternity system in American university life. Eight O'clocks, Cold Mornings Or --- One Alarm Clock for Sale

By Jim Miller

Have you ever awakened (or some, the question might end right there) to find yourself chained to a habit that you cannot break? I have. It's called sleep.

Sleep might be classed in the same rank and file with narcotics for once you get the habit you find it enjoyable and suddenly you discover you can't do without it.

Take my case, for instance. One day in my early childhood, my mother took me by the hand and led me to a dimly lit room. It was there that I found out the shocking truth.

"Bilgewater", (when in a serious mood she always calls me by my Southern name) she whispered, "there is something you must know." I was feverish with excitement as I strained forward so as not to miss a single utterance.

"Ever since you were little", she continued, "your father and I have tried to steer you on the right pathways and now I want to guide you on this one. Son", and she gazed longingly, as only a mother can gaze, into my big brown eyes, "you must go to sleep every night!" I was astounded!

But she was right. Yes, even I must confess that each night as I try laboriously to study, I must give in at some time to the lure of my snuggles and inner-spring—try though I may to fight it. The strange part about it is that our lives hinge around this one item so strongly.

Take the recent Homecoming session, for instance. Now, there was a challenge. Each evening when most people are sitting in their front rooms enjoying the evening paper there was a select group designing, scheming, and constructing those all important signs. You know who that was.

And then later into the evening and on into the following morning, there were still groups who hadn't yet joined the happy throngs in slumber. I'll bet you can still guess who that was, you rascal. Coupled with this painstaking endeavor was a little game called "build the noise truck". This, too, was jolly sport, but once again it interfered with our habit. Of course, in the same light, mention might be made of the Frosh leaf rake, but then most of us didn't even get to bed that night anyway so that was incidental.

A choice few were able to avoid those dreaded "eight o'clocks" this year in order to add to our sleeping habits. At the beginning of the fall semester, mention was made of the parking problem on the campus, but we naturally deduced that this couldn't pertain to us so didn't give it a second thought.

Strangely enough, however, there arises a congested parking area at the appointed hour of about 9 or 10 o'clock, but don't misconstrue this statement. It really isn't bad at all walking from White's Drive-In to the campus.

And so in closing, friends, remember, "Into each life a little Benzadrine must fall." Keep smiling.

On the SOUTHard Side

By Wally Southard

If there is one thing I love, it is to join a conversation where everybody has a squawk about something, for I can usually put in my twenty-nine cents worth about my pet peeve which is none other than that great old collegian sport, football.

Now I have nothing against the people who play the game, or the coach, or anyone else for that matter, but I do think there is room for general improvement here and there. Consequently, when I joined a group of Willamettemen over coffee the other day who were squawking about things in general, such as, Truman's election, Dewey's defeat, and Wallace's failure to carry Maine and Vermont, I decided to do a little squawking myself.

"Look here", I said. "Take a look at college football. There is a serious problem. Why, there isn't a soul in the country who loves the sport any more than I, and what is happening to the game? You don't know? Well, I'll tell you.

"In the first place the newspapers bring out so many people to see the games that often I can't get a seat. And the price of admission when I do get in is enough to keep me for a week. Now where does the money go?"

"None of your business", responded one of the gentlemen.

"And look what has happened to the poor coach. If he doesn't produce a winning team, he's about as secure in his job as a Tom turkey is at Thanksgiving time. So what happens? He worries up an ulcer, even though he does have four teams, two offensive and two defensive, and can direct the play from the bench as if he were quarterback.

"Gentlemen, I tell you the game is going to pieces. Soon now we'll have just a couple of machines on the field. And what's more . . ."

"Oh, dry up", chorused my companions. And then one added, "And by the way, to get off the subject, what do you think of the ancient Greek civilization?"

"Well", I replied, "the Greeks", . . . but that's another story.

Bells! Bells! Bells!

Embryology student Bob Holmes Johnson was questioning his sanity the other day until the rest of the students in the lab broke down and assured him that they were also hearing the bell after all. Defective wiring was the cause.

Charles A. Paeth Takes Over Director of Admission Duties

Smiling and ambitious Charles A. Paeth, Jr., newly-appointed director of admissions, this week took over the duties vacated last spring by Walter Erickson, with enthusiastic approval for the students and campus.

A graduate of Washington State college and claiming both Vancouver, and Spokane, Washington as home towns, he came to Salem upon invitation from school officials from a position as assistant personnel director of a large retail firm in Portland.

Paeth's activities will duplicate those of Erickson, who became vice-principal this fall of Cleveland high school in the City of Roses.

Paeth is a member of Portland's noted symphonic choir, and an ardent cameraman. He also served overseas in the army in government personnel work.

Cheerful and friendly, he hopes that he can meet many Willamette students, in addition to interviewing applicants for admission to the University. With a Pacific Northwest background, he and his wife are naturally impressed with the clear, sunny weather of Salem.

Psych Students Attend Clinics At State Hospital

Over 400 psychology students from various Oregon colleges last week attended the first of two clinics to be held during the year at the State Hospital in Salem.

Psychotic and psychoneurotic patients were presented by the staff doctors who were in charge of the clinic. Questions were directed to the patients concerning their health and attitudes toward the hospital. Those who attended from Willamette were the class in abnormal psychology and advanced students in this field.

Bus Hired for Game

Chartered buses will transport Willamette students to the Pacific university football game at Forest Grove a week from Saturday, according to plans announced by Maury Underwood, WU yell king.

Students may sign up for the trip in Dr. Schulze's office before Wednesday. Tickets for the game and transportation will be on sale in Eaton hall Thursday and Friday.

Underwood reminds students that this is the final game of the season and urges a large Willamette attendance.

Freshman Chapel Schedules Play

"Count Your Blessings", a morality play, is to be given in freshman chapel the Tuesday before Thanksgiving. It is a two-scene, one-act play with five characters, two women and three men.

The part of the judge, or Ex-changer of Miseries, is played by Ray Loter; the Imp, Margaret Guice; the Poor Man, Dale Morgan; The parts of the Rich Man and the Vain Woman have not been chosen, but will be announced shortly.

"Count Your Blessings" is the story of several dissatisfied people who wish to exchange their present miseries for something less miserable. It is a clever, satirical comedy which points out only one moral: "People should be thankful for what they have, instead of reaching for something else."

The drama department has announced that there will be only two more major productions this year. One will be for Religious Emphasis Week, and the other for May Weekend.

See Advisors!

Dean Raymond Withey asks that all students report to their advisors as soon as possible to talk over their course of work and program of study.

Orchestra Organizes for "Varsity Varieties"

One of the highlights of the variety show tomorrow evening will be the playing of Glen Williams' orchestra. This will be one of 23 acts which go to make up the charity performance.

WU Workshop Presentation Gains Student Approval

By M. W. Smith

A lot of ears must have been glued to the radio last Monday evening, for the genial comment this week seems to be that the WU Workshop turned out an interesting adaptation of William Shakespeare's play, "Romeo and Juliet."

The casting of Sheila Ryan as Juliet brought a new star to the radio front. Ryan has been playing bit roles for this season but has shown during this play that she is well capable of handling the most difficult parts.

Carl Ritchie, who interpreted the part of Romeo, caught the mood of the genuine love-sick man. The only complaint might be that in the few places he should have been a little livelier, he was still love-sick. Ritchie, who made the adaptation of the great dork, managed to do a decent job of catching the author's plot without marring the flow of the poetry originated by Shakespeare.

The production, under the direction of Joe Power, was faced with the problem of finding a room that would have the echo of a cavern-like tomb. Power solved the problem by having the final scene played in a small washroom . . . it had echoing plastered walls. Perhaps they will do the same thing next week when the Workshop puts on the "Cask of Amontillado." I've never heard of anyone bricking up a friend in a washroom, but it is novel.

While we're at it . . . a couple of laurel leaves to supporting players Al Laue (Mercutio) and

Gridsters Journey to Whitman In Attempt to Retain Ax and Title

Anxious to keep their conference title chances alive, Jerry Lillie's charges journey to Walla Walla today for tomorrow night's mixing with the spirited and talented Missionaries from Whitman.

The third-place Methodists stand to lose the Whip-Whitman as well as the conference title if upset.

Whitman Crew Tough

On the grounds of a one-point loss to Lewis and Clark, a scoreless tie with Pacific, a one to nothing loss to the Coyotes of College of Idaho, and a six-point margin over Linfield, the Whitman crew is expected to battle the Bearcats to the very end.

In the past, the Walla Walla men have always been their best when playing Willamette. They sport the best conference record against the locals by winning 14 and losing 16 in past competition, and only in recent years have the Bearcats been able to forge ahead in the statistics. They also proclaim a 39-0 win over North Idaho; a 13-13 tie with UBC and a 6-14 loss to Whitworth this year.

Ewaliko Sprains Ankle

A crimp was thrown in the Jason attack when Bearcat left half, Bill Ewaliko sprained his ankle in Monday's practice. Keith Sperry is still bothered with a shoulder injury and Ray Osuna is still lugging a cast on his leg as a result of pulled cartilages in his knee.

Filling the now weakened left half spot will be Howie Lorenz and John Slanchik. Slanchik, the club's top punter and Gene Allison, end starter at the first of the season, are welcome additions to the squad from the injury list.

Aces Pace Whitman

The Missionaries are paced by stars on both the ground and in the air. John Baxter, flashy half, who sparks the Whitman running attack, scored two of Whitman's three tallies against Linfield two weeks ago. Dave Gaiser, a sophomore guard weighing 200 pounds, was an all-conference mention last season and paces the Whitman line.

In the airways pass-hurler Cal Boyles, second top passer in the conference, until last week-end completed 30 tosses out of 55 attempts for a .545 average in league competition. On the receiving end of Boyles' passes is left half Don Siverts.

Seeley's Determined But Jasons Win

John Seeley (26), Linfield's all-conference quarterback, shows great determination in an effort to slice around Willamette's guard, Bob Hall (65), who measures him for the kill. Jasons Nip Wildcat Crew 13-0 In Final Home Game of Season

By Dale Reynolds

Coach Jerry Lillie's powerful gridiron juggernaut turned away a potent bombardment from the scrappy Linfield Wildcats, 13 to 0, last Friday under the Sweetland lights.

In the last home game of the season the Jasons scored in the second and fourth quarters for the victory points and the two seniors on the squad, Bobby Douglas and Herb Johnsrud, saw their last action on the local gridiron.

Clabaugh Runs 80 Yards

To start the first Bearcat scoring punch, Keith Clabaugh galloped 80 yards from the Willamette 16, to the Linfield four. On the fourth down following Clabaugh's romp John Burleigh passed to Bob White for the TD from the seven. Al Minn's kick was blocked.

Willamette's next touchdown came midway through the final frame. Bill Bruce, Bearcat end, from Washougal, Washington, rushed through and blocked Arnold Huntley's punt and Willamette recovered on the 34 to set up the play. Roy Harrington and Clabaugh rolled the ball to the 23 in two attempts but Burleigh fumbled and Dean Nice, end, recovered for a ten yard loss. Burleigh then went to the air and completed his second at-

Harrington packed the pill into the criss-cross to climax the drive. Bob Douglas kicked the extra point to make the margin 13 to 0.

Linfield Attack Foiled

The 'Cats from Linfield penetrated the Willamette territory deeply early in the game. They marched the opening kickoff from their 22 to the Willamette eight in seven plays. A 15-yard clipping penalty against the Wildcats set them back to the 23 and the Linfield squad could only get to the nine before running out of downs.

Playing for championships is a peculiar thing, especially for teams right up there in the scrap. For eleven out of the past twelve years Willamette has been on top of the Northwest conference looking down at the rest of the contenders with the pressure always on to stay up there. Now the worm has turned. Willamette has finally fallen into the field of contenders looking up. But strangely enough the pressure is still there.

The last two games of the season are musts if Willamette intends keeping their title chances alive with Lewis and Clark on top with four wins against no defeats. The 'Cats must win against Whitman and Pacific in their next two engagements and pray that either Pacific or College of Idaho knocks off the Pioneers.

Assuming that Willamette wins the next two, they can end up in a three-way tie for first if College of Idaho beats the Pioneers or end up in a two-way tie with the Coyotes if both Pacific and the Coyotes smack the Pioneers. At any rate, the 'Cats must win.

Lorenz to Get Chance Tomorrow

Look for Howie Lorenz to crack into football glory tomorrow if he's right for the game. The little competitor has been shoved into the background for most of the season with injuries which never let him show to the best advantage against his left halfback competitors.

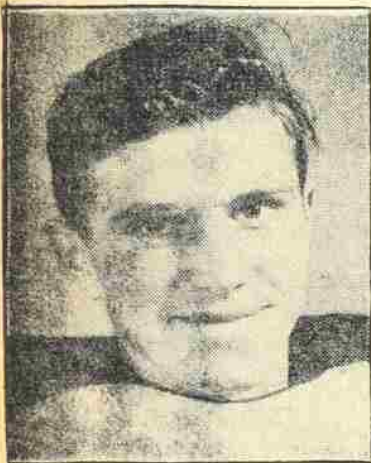

Now with Bill Ewaliko and Keith Sperry on the shelf, Jerry Lillie will count heavily on the 150-pounder to come through in tomorrow's crucial. We've got lots of faith in the shifty back and look for a lot of ground gaining to come at his hands tomorrow.

Touchball finally got under way after the football season finale was played on Sweetland last Friday and the rain decided to lay off for a few days. If enthusiasm is shown for it as it was for interclass basketball, Bob Baum and Les Sparks can ring up another success in the intramural field.

Casaba Squad Looks Bigger and Better

Basketball's on its way with Coach Johnny Lewis winding up his second week of practice on the local court. Now down to a 21-man squad, the locals look like a better team all around with added height and depth the big asset.

Another heavy schedule is again in the offing with 24 games now scheduled and one or two more tentative. If the team can find another hard driver like Ted Johnson, to continually press their opponents, the 'Cats may go a long way.

HOWIE LORENZ

May rampage tomorrow.

Bearkits Bounce Pioneers 12-0; To Play Canby Next Thursday

Taking revenge for the varsity's one-point loss to Lewis and Clark college, the Willamette jayvee eleven rolled to a 12-0 victory over the Pioneer junior varsity in last week's fracas in Portland.

A blocked kick late in the second quarter ended stagnant play, mud had forced the teams into and gave D'Eagle's men the ball on their foe's 20. They promptly moved it up to the two where Quarterback Dick Telferro took it over on a "T" sneak. An attempt to run for the extra point was thwarted.

The third quarter again saw the sloshy field, slow down play to a deadlock but in the final period the Junior Bearcats began to click and they hit the Pioneer line. Halfback Bob Taylor scampered through guard for the final score. End, Chuck Mary was wide on his place kick (his first miss of the season) leaving the score 12-0.

Again standing out in the line

Betas, Phi Deltas, Sigs Capture Kegler Openers

Intramural bowling rolled into action last week with the Betas, Phi Deltas and Sigs each posting two wins and one loss in the initial round of play at the Capitol bowling alley.

The Phi Deltas took two games from Phi Alpha and rolled high team series for the afternoon, accounting for 2086 pins. Roger Adams of the Phi Deltas had high individual series with 531. The Phi Alphas captured one game in the three-game match.

The Betas took two from the Independent "B's" while the Sigs won two and lost one in their series with the Independent "A's".

Next Thursday, with the time of the matches changed from 4:30 to 4:00, the third round of play will be held, the second being run off yesterday too late to make this issue. The Phi Alphas will meet the Independent "B's" the Betas will square off against the Independent "A's" and the Sigs are billed against the Phi Deltas.

Don Barckley, bowling manager, has asked that any freshman interested in bowling managing, to contact him to work with him this year.

were Mary, Newt Kechahio, Don Olsen and Jack Larson, while Bob Taylor was the most consistent man in the backfield.

Coach Ambrose D'Eagle's ambitious Junior Varsity charges wind up their football season next Thursday by playing Canby high on the Canby field. Last night they played the Pacific university jayvees on Kelly field in Oregon City in a charity game.

Roy Harrington Proud Papa

Roy Harrington, Willamette halfback, became a "proud papa" for the second time Sunday. His wife, Ester, gave birth to a seven pound, eight-and-one-half ounce boy at the Salem General hospital, the second child for the Harringtons.

No name has been given to the new Harrington as yet. Said Roy, "We had a name all picked out, but as it turned out it was the wrong sex." With a sigh of relief Roy added, "I'm glad that's over!"

Lewis Leads 21-Man Squad Through 2nd Practice Week

Head Coach John Lewis led his basketball charges through their second week of fundamentals this week in preparation for the opening game, of a 24-game season, against the Oregon Webfoots December 1.

Lewis cut his squad to 21 men last Friday and plans to drop a few more within the next week to meet a 15 or 16-man squad planned on.

All eight lettermen, the three Johnsons, Tom Warren, Bruce Barker, Pete Bryant, Bob Baum and Dick Allison survived the initial cut and are still going strong. To push them for spots are transfers Neil Richardson from Clark J.C. and Reg Waters from Centralia J.C. and '46-'47 letterwinner Al Fedje.

Freshmen still pegging away are the Bellingers and Jack Miller from Salem high; six footers Dick Brouwer, George Matile and Claude Nordhill; a couple of long men in Doug Logue, 6'5" and Chuck Robinson 6'4", and Ted Loder and Lou Scrivens.

According to Lewis, the worst drills are yet to come with only two full weeks of practice left for the hoopmen. Only injury of the week was suffered by Pete Bryant who nursed a bumped leg.

Coed Volleyites To Compete At Linfield

Volleyball will be the event of the evening November 16th at a play night at Linfield college when a group of Willamette women attend to compete with women from other colleges in a volleyball tournament. A guest official will speak on officiating.

Last week, six girls from Willamette traveled to a swimming and ping pong play night at Maryhurst college and came home tied with Lewis and Clark for second place with 14 points. Pacific university carried off first place honors with 22 points.

Donna Lambert from Willamette won first in the back stroke and tied for first in the crawl. Another swimming contender from Willamette was Beverly Tribble who placed second in the back stroke.

As the women's basketball tournament draws to its last week of participation, the ladder reading, shows Lausanne's Hot Shots in the lead undefeated, Fredrickson Hall's A team tied with Lausanne's Lucky Six for second.

Dorks, Rubes, Betas Winners Of Opening Touchball Contests

After a week's postponement due to rain, Willamette's intramural touchball program got under way with the Dorks, Rubes and Betas 'A' team winning the opening games.

Monday's action saw the Dorks whitewash Laurel hall 13-0. Tuesday saw the Rubes eke out a 6-0 win over Baxter hall, and Wednesday saw the Betas handily defeat the Sigs 'A' team 13-0.

Thomas, Ramus Dork Stars
Dean Thomas and Bud Ramus accounted for both touchdowns in the Dork's win over Laurel, with Thomas throwing and Ramus catching. After a sleeper pass to Jerry Thorn that clicked for 60 yards to the Laurel five-yard line, the Dorks scored on the first Thomas to Ramus pass.

Thomas passed to Clark for the extra point. The second score came in the last half after a pass to Blanes had clicked to the two-yard line, again on the Thomas-Ramus combination. The pass for extra point fell incomplete.

Baxter Tough Loser
Tuesday's game provided the major share of thrills, with Baxter putting up a game fight against the highly favored Rubes. Baxter held control during the first half with the exception of one play, and that one play was all the Rubes needed to score the winning marker.

The touchdown play, originating from the Rubes 30-yard marker, started with a pass from Ed Fitzsimons to John Macy, who lateralled to Moe Fitzsimons, who in turn lateralled back to Macy, with Macy romping the remaining 50 yards. 'Chief' D'Eagle missed the try for the conversion on a drop kick.

Baxter, riding on the passing arm of Jerry Coen, drove to the Rubes' 15 in the second half, but an intercepted pass by Macy stopped the threat.

Jones Leads Betas
Jesse Jones hurled a pair of touchdown passes Wednesday as he spearheaded the Beta's attack. The first touchdown came in the initial half on a Jones to Tom Bartlett pass, and the point was made on a Jones to Williams aerial. Jones threw another six-pointer in the second half, this time with Al Fedje on the receiving end.

Play will resume next week end with the following games on tap: Monday, Dorks vs. Baxter; Tuesday, Sig's 'B' vs. Beta's 'B'; Wednesday, Phi Delt's 'B' vs. Phi Alpha's 'B'; and Thursday, Dorks vs. Rubes.

Sigma Chi Name Margaret Sargent As Sweetheart

Margaret Sargent, Delta Gamma pledge from Berkeley, California, was officially proclaimed the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi at the annual Sweetheart Ball last Saturday evening. Announcement of the winner was kept secret until the night of the ball when Miss Sargent was informed that she had been chosen from among finalists Marjorie Lettiken, Kay Stark and Shirley Hansen to be the 1948-49 sweetheart on the Willamette campus.

Each of the finalists received an appreciation gift of one dozen white roses, the Sigma Chi flower. In addition Miss Sargent was presented with the official gold sweetheart trophy, and a gold evening bag, a personal gift from the chapter.

Since Sigma Chi conventions are held biennially, it is improbable that there will be a national sweetheart contest this year. If there is one, however, Miss Sargent will be entered to represent the local Sigma Chi chapter, according to Bill Olsen, president.

The Wesley cabinet consisting of Ray Fedje, Dr. and Mrs. Huffman, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Fedje and Rev. and Mrs. Moore will spend Saturday afternoon at a cabin on the Santiam river to plan next semester's program.

WU Sophomore Becomes Father

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan T. Lowe became the parents of a baby daughter on October 22. Named Rebecca Jane Lowe, the baby has dark hair and eyes and was born at Salem General hospital.

Lowe is a sophomore at Willamette where he is majoring in business administration. He is also connected with the Ladd and Bush bank.

New Panhellenic Organization Adopted

Final plans for the additions and changes in the organization of the Willamette University Panhellenic Association were presented and adopted at the last meeting of the Council.

The plan calls for reorganization of the council as it now stands, an addition of committees, and a Pledge Panhellenic. It will facilitate the mechanical aspects of Panhellenic as well as serving as an exchange of ideas and methods in the phases of chapter cooperation, and include more representatives from each organization. The chairmen of the committees and the Senior advisor of the Pledge Panhellenic were chosen at the last meeting.

Executive Council Listed

The Executive Council is composed of the President, Dona Adams; secretary, Ruth James, and treasurer, Joan Thomas and meets every two weeks before council meeting. There appointments and recommendations are approved and reviewed. Mrs. Alice Nelson, Panhellenic advisor, meets with this group, the first Council and the Panhellenic Council.

First Council is composed of all of the presidents of the women's housing organizations. The Council consists of six girls who meet once a month and discuss matters of common interest between their groups, the residence rules, and receive announcements.

The Panhellenic Council is composed of the sorority presidents and one junior representative from each house. This Council, which meets every two weeks, plans Panhellenic functions, administers the mechanics of the organizations, approves committee reports and makes recommendations to the chairmen.

Bushnell Heads Rush Committee

Divisions of the Council are the Rushing Committee composed of the four rushing chairmen of the houses and the Panhellenic Rushing Chairman, Joy Bushnell. They write, revise, discuss all rush rules, approve all rushing procedures and supervise rushing. All matters of rush are first considered and recommendations made by this committee before going to the Council.

The Social Committee is composed of the four social chairmen of the houses with Pat Howard, chairman of the group. All plans for social functions of the houses are arranged and planned in these meetings and matters pertaining to the achievement of better programs are a matter of constant discussion.

Pledge Trainers Meet

The Pledge Training Committee, with Barbara MacDuffee as chairman, is composed in a similar manner with the representatives being the pledge trainers of each house. The purpose and aim of this committee is to serve as an exchange of theories and experiences in methods of approaching and solving the recommendations and suggestions of its members and the members of the Pledge Panhellenic and to strive to create in the pledge training program a spirit of cooperation and a feeling of membership as a whole in the entire system. It shall aim to help pledge members develop from the earliest days of fraternity affiliation, a keen sense of responsibilities as campus citizens and to help them in every possible way.

The Scholarship Committee consists of the four scholarship chairman with Viona Noyes acting as chairman. It studies the academic standards of Willamette university and the organized houses, assisting in every way toward improving study facilities, enforcing quiet hours, and improving academic standing.

Reports of the committee meetings and recommendations will be presented to the Panhellenic

Council by the chairman of each group and before any decisions are made the recommendations are taken to each house for a chapter vote. In this manner, all active members of the chapters will become active voting members of the Panhellenic Association.

Pledge Panhellenic Organized

Helen Montag has been elected as the senior advisor to the Pledge Panhellenic which is composed of the pledge presidents of each pledge class. It is organized on the same general principal as the Senior Panhellenic with the senior advisor chosen by nomination of chapter members followed by a vote. She must be a member who has had previous pledge training experience or is at present working with this group. She also serves on the Pledge Trainers' Committee in order that there will be a direct carry-over from the Pledge Panhellenic group to the Senior group.

The Pledge Panhellenic will plan their own projects and participate in any Senior Panhellenic projects. Some of the outstanding purposes of a Pledge Panhellenic are to promote more cooperation among pledges of the four sororities, accelerate joining in common activities so as to acquaint the girls with opportunities presented at Willamette, to exchange ideas and information about the groups and to encourage cooperative relationship between college and sorority so that they understand more clearly their place on the college campus and encourage school spirit. Also, to strengthen sorority ideals and to show that an added responsibility as accepted with the pin to uphold high standards of conduct as well as develop leadership abilities.

New Profs Have Kind Words For Campus, Salem, Northwest

New faculty members in the economics, sociology and English departments all agree that Salem and Willamette are very agreeable.

Alfred W. Sheets, assistant professor of sociology, Robert M. Haley, head of economics and business administration, and Thomas Gillies, assistant University librarian and instructor in English, voiced this opinion to Collegian reporters in recent interviews.

Said Haley, "I have every reason to like this country," and explained that he has lived in the Northwest since coming to Seattle from New England in 1903. However, he has spent much time travelling in quest of his education, having studied at Harvard, Oregon State and Northwestern university.

Sheets comes to Willamette from the University of Southern California where he taught world history. He now instructs 300 beginning sociology students and has a class in criminology. Since coming to the US from India in 1928 he has attended the University of Chicago and USC, and is now working on a research paper on consumer co-operatives for his Ph.D.

Gillies, originally from the evergreen state, Washington, did his undergraduate work at the University of Michigan and received his M.A. at Cornell university. He also spent a year in the Library school of Columbia university. In addition to his library work here, Gillies teaches a class in classical epic and drama.

Law Students Elect Officers

Many students do not know that the College of Law has a student body of its own. Although the school has its own constitution which was adopted last year and their own student body officers, they feel that they are actually a part of the University.

Senior John Horton is president of the organization; Howard Kaffan, vice-president; John Coppenhaver, secretary-treasurer, and Bill Stortz, student representative.

Although social time is limited, there are two national fraternities, Delta Theta Phi and Phi Delta Phi. The school will give a semi-formal dance this year on November 19, which is the last day of freshman mid-term exams, thus providing a breathing spell for the new recruits.

An honor code has been adopted in the Law school constitution. The jury, which is composed of the student body officers and the class presidents, hear the offenders and then make recommendations. The recommendations may be a request for withdrawal from school or it may be left up to the individual professor's discretion. The rules are strictly observed for the penalty is great; furthermore, the profession needs only honest men. So far a clean record has been kept.

Warren James Takes Executive Boy Scout Post

Word has been received from Warren James that he is now in the professional service of the Boy Scouts of America. James, who was graduated in June, 1948, was editor of the 1948 yearbook and a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Following graduation, James went to Mendham, N.J., where he has just completed a six-weeks orientation course at the National Training Center for Professional Scouters. He will be a field executive with the North Central Washington Council, Boy Scouts of America and take up residence in Omak, Wash., following a short visit in Salem.

Willamette's debate team consisting of Tom Bartlett, Bob Sayre, Jack Gunn, and Elliott Motschenbacher, will debate on the topic, "Resolved, the United States should adopt a system of planned economy", at freshman convocation next Tuesday.

IRC to Send Ten Delegates To Foreign Affairs Conference

The Willamette International Relations club will send ten delegates to the Northwest Conference of International Relations Clubs to be held at the University of Oregon December 3 and 4, according to campus IRC president Bob Rhoads.

About 200 delegates from 30 schools are expected to attend the two-day parley on international affairs. The conference, as well as the clubs, is sponsored by the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

The conference will cover problems of American and Canadian foreign policy as they relate to the United Nations, Europe, the Far East and Latin America.

The main speaker will be Dr. E. Easton Rothwell, vice-chairman of the Hoover institute and library on war, peace and revolution of Stanford university. Dr. Rothwell served as executive secretary of the United Nations conference in San Francisco in 1945.

The next meeting of the campus IRC will be held Wednesday in room 204, Waller hall, at 7:30 when Russell Gouchnour will lead a discussion on the major problems of US foreign policy.

month of preparation for the December 12 presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in the Salem high school auditorium.

The appointment of soloists for the work from the 250-odd members is still incomplete at this date although several have already been chosen. Announcement of their positions will be made after all have been selected.

As yet, the University symphony orchestra, under the baton of Frank Fisher, has not practiced with them, but its appearance is expected prior to the final rehearsal. The orchestra will accompany the vocalists in their public performance of the traditional Christmas musical treat.

Although an all-Salem project, the society is composed, to a great degree, of students of Willamette university, many of whom will receive credit for their work. There is a substantial number of students, however, who are donating their time strictly for the pleasure of singing.

Portrait Sitting Time Limit Extended Week by Wallulah

Portraits may still be taken at the Jesten-Miller studio in Miller's department store throughout the week of November 15-19, because there are a number of students who have not yet had pictures taken for the Wallulah.

Students must have their pictures taken by this date if they are to appear in the 1949 yearbook. No appointment is necessary and all students, seniors, Law school, town students, fraternity men, and independents alike are urged to attend to this immediately. So far, only half the student body has been photographed. Geri Bowles, Wallulah editor, asks that the individual students reduce this discrepancy.

Any student who is interested in working on layouts should report to the Wallulah office any afternoon from 2 to 5 pm.

Work on the faculty section began this week. Informal faculty shots are now being taken, and

Artist Louis Bunce Demonstrates Silk Screen Painting

A demonstration of silk screen painting on either paper or cloth was performed by Louis Bunce, nationally known serigrapher now with the Portland Art school in the art building November 9.

Bunce, formerly of the WPA art school, has taught in Salem schools and was one of a group of artists in New York who first exhibited the use of the silk screen method. Representation in all national exhibits of this type of work has gained wide-spread recognition for Bunce.

Students may view the work of the silk screen artist in the WU library where it will be exhibited until December 1.

Art Students View Picasso, Miro In Portland Show

An exhibit of Picasso, Miro and Gris held at the Portland Art Museum was viewed by approximately forty students of the language and art departments Saturday, November 9.

Included in the many colorful paintings of a rather personal nature was one by Miro which is intended to be viewed at a downward angle while standing on a ladder. A substantial ladder to be employed for this purpose was supplied by the museum. This particular exhibit has been previously shown only three times in the United States and seems to have been met with genuine appreciation by nearly all the students attending.

Miro, the more imaginative of the group, Gris, who proved to be a typical cubist, and Picasso are all Spaniards living and painting in Paris and have produced their best known works in that city.

Accompanying the group who went by chartered bus were Dr. Marion Morange and Prof. Paul Beal of the language department, and Mrs. Norman Huffman and Prof. Carl Hall of the art department. Hall has received international fame through recent exhibits in New York City.
