WELCOME!

May we take this opportunity to welcome on behalf of the students of Willamette university, the many visitors who are spending this week with us. We hope that your stay here will be a pleasant one and that you will take this opportunity to examine our school. We are proud of our school . . . her fine scholastic standing, her outstanding athletic teams, her revered faculty, her historic traditions, and her dynamic president. We hope you will have occasion to contact enough of her student body to give a keener insight in the factors listed above. We hope that your stay here this week will leave something that will live after the state basketball tournament is concluded Saturday evening.

SINCE 1917 . . .

For the twenty-second consecutive year, Willamette university is host, this week, to the best in basketball that the high schools of Oregon can boast. Back in 1917, Robert L. "Bob" Mathews invited the teams of the Willamette valley and southern Oregon to compete in a tournament on the Willamette maplecourt. Roseburg won the first meet. In 1918 and 1919 Mathews again staged his invitational tourney with Salem the victor on both occasions. In 1920 the meet was recognized as the state high school championship basketball tournament and every year since a state tilt has been crowned. Yearly for 22 years Willamette has witnessed the brilliant exploits of the many outstanding teams, has marvelled in the individual performances of the innumerable stars, and has gloried in the displays of sportsmanship for which the state tournament is famous. The tourney now in progress has given no indication of disappointing local followers in the quality of playing ability and sportsmanship shown.

We are certain that when the final gun sounds Saturday night, and the crowd watches the division of the spoils that there will be no one in that audience that will not testify that the 19th annual state tournament has added another glorious page in the annals of tournament history.

Introducing . . .

DR. HELEN PEARCE

The appellation, Ph. D., that graces the name of Helen Pearce distinguishes the bearer as being the only female member of the Willamette faculty to have achieved such a degree. Dr. Pearce is a graduate of Willamette, and has furthered the fame of W. U. by extensive study and achievement. She received her A. M. degree from Radcliffe college, and her Ph. D. from the University of California. Her name was added to the faculty roster in 1920.

In the class room Dr. Pearce presents a poised, gracious appearance. Her command of the English language has the quality of holding her class in awe—for it is exuberantly correct and utterly beautiful. Miss Helen Langille recently summed up the consensus of opinion on the campus when she stated that Dr. Pearce is pedagogically perfect!

Dr. Pearce is exceptionally outstanding as a student-body project booster, and recognition of that fact is indeed widespread. At all programs, at many athletic events, at every chapel service, Dr. Pearce may be found applauding, analyzing, and apparently thoroughly enjoying herself. . . . A genuine, whole-hearted member of the Willamette family.

The Cat's Eye

The absence of last week's column was due to the good behavior of all Willamette's student body. If their behavior was good, it was probably because they were too worn out from Freshman Glee to write down the observations. However, last week-end produced a crop of juicy bits of gossip, so read on the judge accordingly!

The Sigma Tau Art Oleson and the Alpha Psi "ditto" in the future had better learn to identify themselves more clearly when making dates. Co-ed much prefer to know who they are going with at least five minutes ahead of time.

Our newest Real-Silk salesman, Bill Phillips, is very anxious to have us announce to the student body that he would appreciate a little business, and not monkey-business, either. (Unpaid Adv.)

Last Saturday's inter-frat dance was well attended by a well-mixed crowd—maybe it's spring—and maybe it's a "New Deal." Our idea of some unusual couples is: Betty Lou Lacey and George La Vatta, Arnold Hartman and Irene Calvert, Bill Hansen and Betty Savage, June Brasted and Chuck Watt, and last but not least Isabelle Haight and Maynard McKinley. Don't tell anyone but Prof. Rahe took Mrs. Rahe—what next?

John Horton says his feelings were hurt when we left his name out of our column, so we thought we might accommodate him. O.K. Johnnie?

Smitty and her pals were playing hide-and-go-seek in the park the other night just like we used to do when we were kids. Is it second childhood or first?

Kay Ringo and Bob Farmer were together again Saturday night. Ahem, we wonder what's up. Weren't they sort of "that way" last spring?

We're running out of material, so must bid you farewell for this time. If you want us to include or exclude your name from this column, please let us know by Tuesday noon—deadline time. Goodbye now!!!

Trustees Call

Doney's will be based on the 29 years which he served as president of the university.

Dr. Gatzke's book will contain a full history of Willamette University, and will include an economic and social development of Oregon, as well. He started work on his book about 1920, but due to pressure of other activities, was forced to abandon it temporarily. At present the manuscript is complete up to the 50's. Completing the book will be Dr. Gatzke's major project this summer. It will contain approximately 500 to 600 pages, and will probably be printed by a western press. Publication will take place prior to the anniversary in 1942.

CAMPUS CLUBS

By Marian Sanders

An explanation of the dial system of telephone connections was given to the members of Math Club Wednesday afternoon, March 16, at the Salem branch of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. Students were very much interested by first-hand information and demonstration of the machines used. Leonard Laws, club president, arranged for the visit.

A discussion of peace was led by Miss Beulah Hart at the Willamette Wesleyan meeting, Tuesday evening, March 15, at Christo Cottage. Betty Moser presided. The group met also Wednesday afternoon, March 16, at Lausanne Hall to attempt to formulate some definite peace action plans for the Willamette campus.

A preview of the Indian Art Exhibit on display in Christo March 16, 17, 18 was the chief feature of the Paint Spots meeting Tuesday evening, March 15. Evelyn Welsh explained the pottery and paintings of the exhibit and Miss White discussed the basketry collection. Mrs. Baxter gave an impromptu but delightful talk about a visit to an Indian pueblo near Albuquerque, New Mexico, where ancient customs still prevail.

Guests at the supper preceding the meeting were Dr. and Mrs. Erickson, Professor Marshall, Miss Latimer, Dr. Kohler, Mrs. Laughlin, and Miss White.

A discussion of citizenship occupied the interest of University Vespers, Sunday evening, March 13, under the guidance of Margaret Taylor. John Voss spoke on his idea of the qualities of a good citizen and others volunteered suggestions. A treat sold by Hannah Kaufman was another feature of the meeting. Dick McNeese led a devotional service and presided.

Closeups of the Staff

This week's closeup brings before the scrutiny of the readers of this column two people: Lando Hiebert and Betty Williams. The pair is made up of two of the best reporters on the staff.

Betty Williams was born in Portland, Sept. 21, 1917. She attended grade school in Portland and went to Lincoln high school. At Lincoln, Betty began her journalistic endeavor by writing girls' sports for the Cardinal, the school paper.

After graduation from high school, Betty attended Northwestern school of Commerce and received her diploma from that institution in 1936.

Matriculating to Willamette last year, Betty took an active part in girls' athletics, joined W. A. A., and joined Alpha Phi Alpha. This year Betty, an enthusiast of the outdoors, has found time, besides going to school, writing for the Collegian, and stamp collecting, to play several women's sports and to go skiing occasionally.

Betty's work on the paper has shown steady improvement all year. She is a willing worker, conscientious, and always on time. Her greatest asset seems to be that aged qualification for a reporter— "a nose for news."

Lando Hiebert was born in Mountain Lake, Minn., July 3, 1914. He attended two years of high school in Mountain Lake and then moved to Hillsboro, Kan., where his prep-school days were completed.

In high school, Lando took active part in forensics, worked on the high school newspaper, and was valedictorian of his graduating class.

After two years at Tabor college, in Hillsboro, Lando enrolled at Willamette in 1936 and will graduate this spring.

At Willamette, Lando has been active in forensics, the Wesleyan society, and Tau Kappa Alpha, speech honorary fraternity. Hiebert won second place in the Keyes oratorical contest last fall. An English major, he has served as senior scholar in English this year.

Lando is working on the Collegian for the first time this year and has displayed considerable talent along journalistic lines. Hiebert covers, each week, the speech department, and all forensic news is reported by him.

Just what he will do upon graduation is still undecided, Hiebert states though it is virtually certain that he will seek post graduation work in some eastern school.

new high for points scored in a meet (180) and tied the high score for both teams in a single game (with LaGrande, Astoria 53, LaGrande 33). Earl Sandness, elongated center of the Fishermen, totaled 86 points in the 1937 conflict to set a new mark in that department.

The highest score ever posted in the state tourney was made by Eugene against Joseph in 1922—Eugene 65, Joseph 9. Lowest score ever made was 5, made by Pilot Rock in 1934—Pilot Rock 5, Independence 18.

Highest combination score made by two teams in tournament play is 86—Astoria 60, Myrtle Creek 26 in 1936 and Astoria 53, LaGrande 33 in 1937. Lowest combination score is 23, Salem 12, Lincoln 11 in 1920 and Pilot Rock 5, Independence 18 in 1924.

Highest combination score for a final tilt is 72, set in 1935—Astoria 46, Jefferson 26. Lowest combination score for final game is 23—Lincoln 11, Salem 12 in 1920.

The most field goals made by any individual player in one game is 13, made by Astoria's scintillating ace of 1936, Ted Sarpola. Sarpola holds jointly with Ward Howell, behemoth center of the 1931 Ashland five, the record for points scored in a single game, the mark standing at 27. Sarpola made his 13 field goals and total of 27 points against Myrtle Creek in 1936. Howell tossed in 27 markers against The Dalles in 1931.

Sarpola and Glen Sanford, of Salem, hold the unique record of having been selected three times each to the all-state first team. No other player has ever duplicated the feat.

There is a shortage of ex-all-state players here this week, for not one of the 1937 all-stars returned for the 1938 meet.

Trailing Salem and Astoria in matter of having participated in the state tournament are Eugene and Medford. Both are here for the 11th time this week.

Eugene came first in 1921 and lost to Salem in the semi-finals. In 1922 the Axemen tasted but one round, but drove through to the finals in 1924 behind the efforts of two all-stars, W. Eberhart and Milligan.

Eliminated in the semi-finals again in 1925 by Franklin, Eugene again landed in the finals the next year, losing to Salem. Jean Eberhart, coach of the present S.O.N.S.'s team, and Coleman were named all-state in 1926.

In 1927, a title year for the Axemen, Jean Eberhart and Horton led their team to victory over Salem in the finals. Both men made the all-state team. Since 1927 the team from the University City has failed to progress beyond the second round in the championship bracket.

Medford won a championship on her third appearance here in 1924. Ace of the team was Chas. Linn, later a star at Oregon. In 1926 the Peartners captured the consolation prize, and in 1928; the sixth consecutive year that they had shown here, they took runnerup honors to Washington.

Bill Morgan and Melvin, stars of the 1928 outfit were back in 1929 and the southern Oregon quint won its second state crown. In 1932, her last trip to Salem, ants. The schools registered are: Sheridan, Estacada, Forest Grove, Dallas, Gresham, Amity, Falls City, Franklin (Portland), Scappoose, Mill City, Parkrose (Portland), Salem, Taft, Corvallis, St. Helens, Colton, Canby, Oregon City, Independence, Eugene, West Linn, and Astoria are also expected to enter.

Last year the first place winners were Bernard Shevach, Franklin, in extempore speaking, Marjorie Walters, Dallas, in humorous interpretation, and Paul Samis, Dallas, in serious interpretation.

Visitors and students will be welcome to attend these contests. Registration begins at 3:30 p. m., Friday, at 4:00 p. m., the rules of the contests will be explained, and at 5:00 p. m., the first round of extempore speaking and the first round of oratory will take place. Information and notices regarding the places for the individual contests will be available in Eaton hall.

Adequate trophies will be awarded the various winners. Following is a program which will be carried out Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26:

Friday—3:30; Register in Eaton hall; 4:00, Round 1: Interpretation contests and draw for extempore speaking; 5:00, Round 1: extempore speeches, round 1; oratory; 7:15, Round 2: Interpretations and draw for extempore speaking; 8:15, Round 2: extempore speeches, Round 2: oratory. Saturday—9:00, Round 3: Interpretations and draw for extempore speaking; 10:00, Round 3: extempore speeches, Round 3: oratory; 1:15, Serious interpretations and draw for extempore; 1:45, Oratory; 2:15, Extempore speeches; 2:50, Humorous interpretations.

Medford won fourth place.

Baker is here this week for the sixth time. The Bulldogs competed in the tourney first in 1921, and after winning two games was found to have an ineligible man in the lineup and forced to forfeit both tilts. Baker lost out in the first round in 1925 and again in 1930, won one game in 1931 and lost their first game in 1932.

McLoughlin high, of Milton-Freewater, has an enviable record. The Pioneers have reached the semi-finals three times in five appearances—in 1926, 1936, and 1937. In 1928 and 1929 the Mac high team failed to survive the first round.

Klamath Falls is making her sixth appearance this week. The Pelicans played here first in 1932 and lost two straight contests. The next year the Pels again took the shortest way out of the meet, but in 1934 went through to the finals against Astoria.

In 1935 Klamath Falls lost to Ashland for fourth place. Last year they fell out of the meet on the second day.

University high has shown here on three previous occasions—in 1929, 1928 and 1932—winning the title in 1923. The teams of 1928 and 1932 met with little success. Those members of the championship team of 1923 made the all-state first team—Hidings, Bradley and Powers.

Myrtle Point played here in 1923, losing in the semi-finals, in 1929, losing two straight, and in 1931, losing two straight that year.

Dallas participated here in 1930, losing to Pendleton in the consolation series, and in 1934 losing to Columbia Prep in the semi-final tilt of the "defeated" bracket.

St. Helens, here only once before, in 1924, lost her only tournament game.

Woodburn, likewise here only once before, lost her only tourney game. That was to Franklin in the 1921 meet.

Amity played here for the first time last year, losing two straight games.

Chiloquin, also here for the first time in 1937, won one of her three games.

Sandy Adams and Thurston are newcomers to state tournament competition.

THE SEMI-FINALISTS

McLoughlin vs. Amity

St. Helens vs. Baker

At last Willamette's minor sports program is getting under way. Golf has already been started with the organization of a strong freshman team, and the remainder of the golf program will swing into high gear with the all-important golf meeting next Monday in the gymnasium.

Under the capable tutelage of Verne Rierson, senior here, the wrestling squad won its first match with the Portland Y. M. C. A. last week, and with the ability and enthusiasm that the Willamette grapplers have shown thus far prospects are bright for the future of the mat sport here.

The third sport, swimming, finds Bob Smith, senior here, doing excellently as coach of Willamette's first aquatic squad; while Lorene Tompkins, senior here, has been tutoring women's swimming. The Bearcat men will get their first taste of intercollegiate swimming Monday against San Jose, while the Willamette Mermaids have not as yet scheduled any meets with other schools. However, the W.A.A. swimming meet, under the direction of June Bradsted, occupies the spotlight at present for the women.

With the State high school basketball tournament the main attraction tonight and tomorrow night, the climax to the 1938 basketball season will have been reached; and next week the Willamette spring sports program will swing into full action.

Weaver Chosen All-Conference

Walt Weaver, stellar guard, was the lone Bearcat hoopster chosen on the 1938 Pacific Northwest all-conference team, named by the coaches last week. Weaver was also selected on last year's official team.

Co-Champions Win Places
The co-champion Whitman, Missionaries and Willamette Bearcats monopolized the positions on the first and second teams, with Whitman placing three on the first team and one on the second and Willamette one on the first and two on the second selection.

Otto Skopli and Bob White were the Bearcats named on the second team. Reser, Bullock, and Gentry were the Missionaries chosen on the first team, while Heidenreich was selected on the second team. Lickstrom of Pacific received the center berth on the first selection.

Golf Confab Will Be Held Monday

Intercollegiate rivalry and a ladder tournament are in store for lovers of golf due, to plans now under way, according to Wayne Doughton, senior here and golf enthusiast.

"All students who are interested in participating in a golf program are invited to turn out to the meeting next Monday at 11:30 in the gym," urges Doughton. A move to provide intercollegiate competition for the Willamette linksmen will also be discussed at the meeting.

W. All-Opponent Quintets Chosen

Two from the co-champion Whitman team, two from Pacific, and one from College of Puget Sound compose the Pacific Northwest conference all-opponent team of the co-champion Willamette Bearcat hoopsters.

Idaho Places Two
On the second team are found two from College of Idaho, and one each from C. P. S., Albany, and Whitman.

Whitman and Pacific were the only conference teams to defeat the Bearcats, the Willamette men divided the two-game series with each.

The first team consists of the following:
Forward: Reser, Whitman; forward, Seim, Pacific; center, Lickstrom, Pacific; guard, Bullock, Whitman; guard, Skopli, C. P. S.

Second Team
Forward: Tollefson, C. P. S.; forward, L. Pepin, Whitman; center, Long, C. of Idaho; guard, Croston, Albany; guard, Coulter, C. of Idaho.

Lettermen Form Nucleus For WU Racquet Squad

With return of three lettermen and with the excellent showing of new prospects as practice is getting under way, the Bearcat tennis team is looking forward to a fairly successful season.

Lettermen racquet wielders back are Talbot Bennett, Bill Clemes, and Bud Estes.

New Men Turn Out

New men turning out to bolster Willamette hopes are Wally Turner and the following freshmen: Bud Gilmore, member of last year's state high school doubles championship combination at Grants Pass; George Gutekunst, captain and ranking member of Salem high last season; and Eugene Beall, another ex-Viking ace.

Although the schedule of matches is not as yet complete, several tournaments have been arranged. These will be climaxed by the Northwest tournament to be held at Reed College on May 21.

Bearcat Matmen Win First Match

Coach Verne Rierson's Willamette matmen won their initial wrestling match by a 20-19 victory over the Rose City Y.M.C.A. in Portland last Thursday.

Tate Yada, Bearcat heavyweight, won a fall in the final match to assure the victory for Willamette. Nichols, McCosachy, and Art W. Olson also won falls for the locals.

On March 28 the team mixes with the Neighborhood House of Portland.

Results of Thursday's matches: 125 pounds, Wood, Y.M.C.A., fall over Rowe of W. U. 130 pounds, Nichols, W. U., fall over Donovan, Y.M.C.A.; 135 pounds, Nishikawa, Y.M.C.A., decision Smith, W. U.; 175 pounds, McCosachy, W. U., fall over Childers, Y.M.C.A.; 175 pounds, Taylor, Y.M.C.A., decision, Anderson, W. U.; 175 pounds, Olson, W. C., fall over Loomis, Y.M.C.A.

Exhibition, Stocks, 190, W. U., lost a fall to Hansen, 230, Y.M.C.A.

San Jose State Mermen Strong

That San Jose state is bringing a strong men's swimming team to compete with the Willamette mermen here March 21 is shown by reports of the times and records of the Spartan swimmers.

Times of the Californians in the various events include 27.5 seconds in the 50 yard free style, one minute flat in the 100-yard free style, two minutes 30 seconds in the 200 event, five minutes, 25 seconds in the 440. In the backstroke times show one minute, 48 seconds for 150 yards; in the breaststroke, two minutes, 43 seconds for the 200 event, while the relay team has proved strong in competition. These times are close to state records in Oregon.

The San Jose swimmers are also strong in diving.

The Spartan mermen have already had meets with the exceptionally strong Stanford team, along with several other California schools.

The Willamette swimming team in its first meet will tentatively be composed of Pete Geisler, Ray Bauer, Arnold Hardison, Bill Laughlin, Bob Hood, Don Lewis, Quay Wassan and Bob Smith, student instructor.

provided the brains and drive for his team while Moddemeyer, at center, lent just enough height and scoring punch to assure victory. The shooting of Kidd, mid-guard, and Adams star, also was outstanding.

It was not until the closing seconds of the contest between Chilquin and Thurston that the former managed to pull out ahead and hold the advantage. The team from the Klamath county Indian reservation displayed a smooth working offense and worlds of speed, while the Thurston Fansies depended on the brawn and sharp shooting of the trio of Fox brothers for their points. Outstanding were Captain Gale Rice, red-tatched Chilquin speedster, and Frank Fox, long-shot artist of the Fansies.

Demonstrating that they were to be reckoned with as a championship contender, the University high quintet walked off with their contest by hitting shots from all corners of the floor. Penetrating the Bulldog zone defense with considerable ease the winners, paced by Gard, Bullion, and Beverell, rolled points almost at will. Only the brilliant play of Captain Whitman and Charlie Shaw kept the losers in the race.

It took a long one-handed push shot by Dick Yantis in a overtime session to give Muc high their two point margin over Salem high, who, with two minutes to go held a seven point margin. Hitting baskets from all angles the Pioneers tied the score just at the final gun and won on Yantis' shot seconds later. For Salem the play of Gosser and Kitchen was outstanding.

Sandy came from behind to defeat the Dallas Dragons in a rather rugged contest which concluded the first afternoon's round of games. For the winners, Tekberg and Maulding looked good, while Bennett led the Polk county aggregation.

In a game between a fighting, pausing, floor-burning quint and a rangy, rough, long distance-shooting five, Baker's Bulldogs, the speedsters, won a thriller from Klamath Falls to open Wednesday evening's round of Uits. The winners exhibited one of the flashiest passing attacks shown here in years and in Ragsdale one of the smoothest basketballs of the meet. For the Pelicans, Bellotti stood out. Fans put Baker on the spot as "the team to beat" after their performance against Klamath Falls.

St. Helens had just too much class for the Myrtle Creek outfit and walked off with an easy victory. In Daggett and Hamilton the Saints had two of the outstanding performers of the first day.

Medford showed real class in downing Eugene in a ding-dong battle which closed the first round. The play of McKee, Crosby, and Stead was exceptionally brilliant for the victors.

As the result of Wednesday's games, eight teams were relegated to the consolation division—Adams, Thurston, Woodburn, Salem, Dallas, Klamath Falls, Myrtle Point, and Eugene.

In Thursday's tilt in the "defeated" bracket Thurston whipped Adams 39 to 34, Woodburn copped an overtime clash from Salem 36 to 34, Klamath Falls spilled Dallas 40 to 30, and Eugene ran over Myrtle Point 41 to 40. On the basis of Thursday's games Thurston took on Woodburn at 10 a. m. this morning, while Klamath Falls and Eugene squared off at 11. The victors in this morning's clashes will mix at 9:30 Saturday morning for fifth place.

The annual all-state teams and other honorary selections will be made at a coaches-referees-reporters' dinner Saturday noon and announced after the championship game Saturday night. Some of the outstanding players in the meet are Bullion, Gard, and Deverell, University High; Ragsdale, Coleman, Colson, and Sours, Baker; Rich, Sandy, Geisy, Amity; H. Fox and F. Fox, Thurston; Rice of Chilquin; Shaw and Whitman,

Woodburn; Sebern, Salem; Fox, McLoughlin; Bennett, Dallas; Bellotti, Klamath Falls; Daggett, E. Hamilton, Lampa, St. Helens; Stead and McKee, Medford; Stephenson and Austin, Eugene.
