MULTNOMAH TOO STRONG.

Second Team Defeats Willamette's Second 12-0

Twelve to nothing was the score that the second Multnomah team was able to run up against the 2nd Willamette boys last Saturday in Portland, but the score does not represent the real strength of the respective teams as our showing was greatly impaired by the failure of Jernan and Trammell to accompany the team. Had our star fullback and half-back gone down, we could no doubt have held them even.

In the first half the Multnomah team gradually worked the ball down to our ten yard line, where we held them for downs. With a yell of delight the cardinal men took the hard earned ball, only to loose it by a fumble in the first change. The Portlanders, however, were held again, and the ball run out of danger.

A second time Multnomah threatened our goal, until on the third down they were lined up only six inches from it, and again the home boys braced firmly and shoved them back. The ball was passed to Winslow to be punted out of danger, and he did not think of the crossbar just above him and kicked square against it. A beautiful punt was ruined, and Multnomah had the ball again only a few feet from our goal.

Finally they succeeded in carrying it over, one minute before time was called. The goal was kicked. The second half was varied. Once Willamette got within ten yards of scoring, but never any nearer, and toward the finish Multnomah made another touchdown and goal. The playing was fast all through the game. The Portland team tried many novelties, such as the wing shift, delayed passes, etc.

The best of feeling was shown on either side, and the club boys gave us a good time and square deal.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Multnomah	Position.	Willamette.
Harder	L. E. R.	Dart
Tully	L. T. R.	Shanks
Sterling	L. G. R.	Fisher
Mix	C.	Spies

AN EVENING WITH SCIENCE.

At the home of E. T. Barns last Friday evening a friend and myself spent a most profitable and enjoyable evening viewing the wonders of nature and science through a powerful microscope. Without a doubt Mr. Barns has the most complete microscopical outfit in the state while he himself is a master in the lines of investigation. The first attractions was the wonderful metal, Radium, recently discovered by Curie of Paris. This new metal is worth three thousand times its weight in gold. When viewed under a microscope it gives the splendid effect of a multitude of shooting stars, the metal continually giving off light and heat without apparent loss. The next views consisted of crystals and the process of crystallization. The process of crystallization and the effect certain crystals on polarized light and the blending of colors thus produced is truly marvelous.

Many thanks to Mr. Barns for his kindness.

WIRE TWISTER.

LONG CHOSEN CAPTAIN.

The football squad met last Thursday evening for the purpose of electing a captain for the year 1904. Nearly every member of the squad was present and O. B. Long, the popular freshman medic was almost unanimously chosen for that position. Long played left half in the Varsity eleven this season and proved a tower of strength in that position. In playing he is always in the game, with snap, vigor and determination, thereby winning the respect and admiration of friend and foe.

Filled with true Willamette spirit as he is there can be little doubt but that he will inspire courage in his men and win fresh laurels for old Willamette next season.

FRESHMAN WIN

Defeat Sophmores in Fast Game.

The much talked of Fresh vs Soph basket ball game was played in the Gym on Friday night. The Freshman won after a close exciting game, score 20 to 18.

A fair sized crowd had gathered in the gallery and on the side lines when the confident Soph team galloped into the arena, so gay and bright, in their neat suits of gree and white. The "feets" they performed in practice were something marvellous—they were so active and skillful—besides being as one girl said "so pretty that they couldnt be beaten." Next the "freshes" came toddling into the field of play some looking as though they "wished that mamma was here." Baby Pollard and Cap. Long danced around trying hard not to step on heavy weight Winans.

Their suits trimmed with black compared with the gay colors of their opponents seemed to cast an ominous shadow on their chances of victory—but things are not always what they seem. At least the game began and was fought evenly for a time till Winslow dropped a neat one for '06. Things began to warm up on the other side of the house immediately and Hunt soon plunked a couple of baskets for '07. Judd threw one from the foul line and the score was 4 to 3 in favor of '07. Winslow and Grannis each scored baskets for '06 and Hunt and Pollard followed suit for '07. Winslow and Pollard each landed basket leaving the score at end of first half—'06—9 point '07—10 points.

The audience was enjoying the excitement, and the score being so close everyone was still happy, and all were impatient for the second half to commence.

The game began again, with a vim, most of the pairs of players being in it all the while and some even seemed to be going in for blood. Grannis threw two in this half, Chapter one, and Winslow one and there was one from foul line at the same time Whipple shot one, Hunt two from the foul line, and Pollard three for '07 leaving the final score 20 to 18 in favor of '07.

The game was a spirited one from start to finish. Among the new players Whipple and Long are making a good showing. The crowd was well pleased with such a lively contest. On account of the intense class rivalry which has been manifested this year the inter-class games are more than worth seeing, they are great games.

The Freshes are happy at having humbled the Soph pride but the sops are determined to play a winning game on next Friday night.

The following is the line up of the two teams.

Freshman—Pollard, Hunt, Forwards.

Freshman—Long, Whipple, Winsans, Center Guards.

Sophmores—Winslow, Chapter, Forwards.

Sophmore—Grannis, Morris, Judd, Center Guards.

THE DOCTOR'S

Mrs. Holt has returned to school and again pursuing her studies with a new zeal.

Mr. Mortenson also has recovered from the operation for appendicitis and is in school again.

Matching of pennies has become the game now among the doctors, it is too expensive to have a rough house very often for the boxing gloves either go through the glass or the place where the glass ought to be.

Rebhan and Long are the only outlaws among us for they are continually pursued by the Officers from Eastern Oregon.

Entered at the postoffice at Salem as second class matter.

We are not going to write an essay upon College idea, but we do wish to express ourselves upon the subject of "Rough housing," which practice has been creeping into the conduct of a portion of the student body of late. One of the great values of College life is the opportunity offered to the student of acquiring proper habits of conduct. In College halls we have the opportunity of mingling with cultured and polished men and women and of learning from example what is expected of men and women.

Unfortunately, however, not every one of our number is profiting by the example set them. One of the worst breaches of conduct has been the daily "rough housing" indulged in by thirty or forty men before chapel time each morning. A "rough house" may be alright in its place, but inside the College building it is decidedly out of place. We realize that there are many who feel that they must have some chance of venting their surplus energy, but we would remind such that there are plenty of legitimate avenues which are offered for that purpose.

In other schools, students are compelled to respect the property rights of the institution, as well as the dignity of the same. We should not be behind the van in this respect. There are two sources from which corrective influences may be expected from the thoughtful students and from the faculty. As students we may do much to eradicate any rudness or rashness by always striving after true dignity, thus putting ourselves into the right position to reap the greatest rewards. The faculty should demand courteous and dignified action at all times and in all places about the buildings and campus. This does not mean that class rivalry or college spirit should be suppressed, by those who do not care or by those who do not think. By proper methods the unthinking may be taught to think, the uncaring to care. We have no place for those who will not respect the rights of their fellows students in these matters of culture which are so vitally connected with college life.

Trainer Murphy of Yale, has expressed the opinion that many boys begin football too young and retard and retard their development, thereby preventing many of them from becoming stars in their later college course.

In the recent Yale-Harvard football game, Harvard made two fumbles which resulted in a gain of ten yards. It is thought that this shows the possibility of intentional fumbling when it will benefit the side that has the ball.

Societies.

PHILODOSTAN

The work of those who have stood by the society in the gloomy days at the first of the year is now being rewarded with better attention and work of a superior quantity on the part of the members. There are now about thirty members. Four new ones, Bella Cronse, Mamie Stilwell, Alice Shepherd and Lillie Hardwick were initiated at the last meeting.

Much interest was taken in the debate, the question being Resolved, that intercollegiate football promotes the best interests of the college. The question was debated by the negative, and that side won by the unanimous decision of the judges. The debaters on the affirmative were Clara Holmstrom and Lottie Randall and on the negative Mabel Glover and Callie Mintors. Others on the program were,

Impromptu. The proper way to sit a table, Mabel Robertson.

Impromptu. Thoughts given by Prof. Dawson in his chapel talks, Ethel Allen.

Miss M. Connell's efforts as President, to arouse interest and inquire among the girls in the leading topics of the day are decidedly commendable. As yet the girls have usually been unable to respond to the subjects given by her for impromptu speeches and she has been compelled to give more common place topics.

However the literary society is a fitting place to discuss the leading events of the time, and

THE LADIES HALL

Interesting Facts Concerning it.

A meeting of the Board of Trustees early last summer it decided to convert the building known as the College of Arts into a home for the young ladies who attend the University. With this in view a committee of friends of Willamette College among themselves the committee required to make the necessary changes. Something like $1100 have been paid into the treasury to be used in painting and furnishing the Hall. The rubbish of past ages has been removed and every effort has been made to put the building in the best sanitary condition possible.

The three stories which are to be added have been painted, red and newly furnished throughout.

It is the intention of those interested to have the building painted on the outside and new windows built.

Before the opening of another school year they hope to have the upper story finished and finished. When this is done the Hall will accommodate between forty and fifty young ladies.

Those who have visited denominational colleges in the eastern and middle states say that very few of these have as sanitary homes for their students as has Willamette.

Among the friends who have been active in this commendable work are Hon. and Mrs. R. A. Booth of Eugene, Mr. J. O. Booth of Grants Pass, Mr. Heyland of Harrisburg, Upmeyer of Coburg, Mrs. Keyes, Gen and Mrs. Odell, Mr. Reynolds, Mrs. Bagby and Mrs. Coleman of this city, the W. C. A. of the University, and the Layman's Congress of Oregon Conference.

EXCHANGE.

In many places football has had a profitable season. Stanford and California divide $8,000; Yale cleared $50,000, and others admit profits but do not state definitely the amount.

1st student—"Mr. Love, I think,"
2nd student—"No it is Mr. Darling"

We have been reading all fall about the scenes of massacre upon the bloody football field and in view of this fact it is quite interesting to notice that there was not a single fatality in the United States upon a properly coached team. But the photographers who are long on imitation and short on brains will give us the same old joke again next year.

Representatives from Yale, Harvard, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Columbia, Rutgers and New York University will participate in the gymnastic championship contest at Princeton March 26, 1904. The winners of the events will go to the St. Louis fair, where they will meet a team from the Western Colleges in the Olympic games.

The faculty of the University of Chicago are endeavoring to inaugurate a system of athletics under which there will be no paid admissions to contests in which the "C" athletes compete. The co-operation of all the Western colleges will be necessary to carry out the plan, and it will be necessary to carry out the plan, and it will necessitate an endowment fund for physical culture and athletics and the trustees have already taken preliminary steps towards this end.

THE MOUTH.

Your mouth is the front door to your face. It is the aperture to the cold storage of the anatomy. Some mouths look like peaches and cream and some look like a hole in a brick wall to admit a new door or window. The mouth is the hot bed for toothache and the bung hole for oratory. The mouth is the crimson aisle to the liver; it is patriotism's fountain and the tool chest for pie. Without the mouth the politician would be a wanderer on the face of the earth and go down to an unhonored grave. It is the grocer's friend, the orator's pride and the dentist's hope. It has put some men on the rostrum and some in jail. It is temptations lunch counter when attached to a maiden and tobacco's friend when attached to a man. It is the home of the unruly member of the tongue. Without it married life would be like a midsummer dream and a dude would lose half his attractions.—Ex.
