GLEE CLUB FINALE.

Last Concert of Season Monday Evening.

The Glee Club has done what no Willamette Glee Club has done before. It has made a well-defined trip, visiting several of the valley towns. The work of the Club has received the highest praise wherever it has been heard. Very favorable press notices have been received everywhere. The Club has missed the help of the director, Prof. Seley, during the past few weeks. He deserves great credit for the work he has done with the boys this winter. Since his illness, E. K. Miller has had the direction of the boys. Speaking of Monday night's program, the Daily Statesman said:

"The Willamette University Glee Club, of which the people of Salem have been hearing so much during the winter, gave their long-looked-for concert in the University chapel last night to a large and enthusiastic audience of friends and admirers, and to say that they were well pleased with the evening's entertainment does not begin to express their appreciation. The people of the city had been expecting a rare treat, but the result was far beyond their expectations. In the words of one enthusiastic listener, "it was immense."

"The members of the Club and all those connected deserue great credit for the high state of perfection which they have reached. They were somewhat handicapped by the sickness of Prof, Francesco Seley, who organized the Club and gave them their early drill. Later, E. Kinney Miller acted as leader.

"The boys feel highly gratified at the success they have achieved, both financially and in perfection. They have been well received wherever they gave a concert during their tours throughout the valley."

Prof. Seley Improving.

Letters have been received by friends in this city concerning the condition of Professor Seley. The latest reports are that he is doing finely. His physician and nurse say that he is gaining. His fever is kept low and he appears stronger than he did for some time.

MEDICOS GRADUATE.

A Class of Seven Take Degrees This Year.

Last Thursday evening the medical class for 1902-1903 received their degrees. The exercises were held in the Methodist church. An excellent program was prepared and a large number of people were present to enjoy the exercises. The entire Japanese population of Salem turned out in honor of a fellow countryman, who was a member of the class.

Those who received degrees were, Edward D. Parker, George P. Russell, John G. Patterson, Mary Bowerman, Belle H. Wilson, M. D.; Kanawe Shimade, M. D., and Clayton Ransom.

Mr. Shimade received his degree in Japan and has been taking a more complete course, as has Miss Wilson, who received her degree in Alaska. The program was as follows:

Overture—Poet and Peasan.t.Von Suppe
Gesner's Orchestra.
Prayer .....
Rev. John Parsons.
Hiawatha ..... Moret
Gesner's Orchestra.
Annual Address—
"Medicine as a Factor in Civilization"
Woods-Hutchinson, A. M., M. D.

Waltz—Arists Life .....Strauss
Gesner's Orchestra.
Charge to Class .....
Andrew C. Smith, M. D.
Solo—"A Dream" ..... Bartlett
Mrs. Chas. H. Hinges.
Benediction. .....

On account of the detention of Dr. Smith, Dr. Woods-Hutchinson delivered the charge to the class.

A class of three nurses were given certificates at the same time. Those in the nurses' class were Misses Washburn, Williams and Peet.

EDITORIAL.

For the first time in the history of Old Willamette has a Glee Club made what might be considered a tour. Some years ago a mixed Glee Club, under the direction of R. A. Heritage, visited one or two towns of the immediate vicinity and gave programs. This year a Club of sixteen voices has made a trip, consuming something over a week, visiting five different towns. This is quite a feather in the cap of Willamette.

While the trip was hardly successful from a financial point of view, it nevertheless will prove of great advantage along other lines. It will help the boys to make a more extended trip another year. The greatest satisfaction has been given every audience the boys have met, to judge from the press reports.

Professor Seley deserves great credit for the results he has had from the Club. He has worked hard with the boys and it is mainly through his efforts that it was possible to do what has been done. He was greatly missed during the trip.

For the second time in the history of the Intercollegiate Oratorical Association of Oregon, has the winner of the State contest been tried by the Executive committee for plagiarism. Two years ago Minchin was accused of this misdeed. McMinnville College was his accuser. This year the McMinnville man is the accused, while Pacific College is the accuser. In each case the chief motive seems to have been the fact that the accuser held the second place and expected by the successful outcome of its case to become first. This is manifestly impossible, as anyone who has read the constitution of the Association may see. There is no going back of the decision of the judges, no matter how wrong that may be.

Smith has been found guilty by the committee. It certainly seems that there is too much similarity between the two orations. But it is altogether possible that Smith is telling the truth when he says he did not know it. He has probably been using many of those expressions in his sermons since he first read them, and by continued repetition has come to feel them his own. We believe the committee has done right in thus forcibly calling the attention of the colleges to this fault.

But to one who was thoroughly acquainted with the Minchin affair the spectacle of Prof. Kelsey, of Pacific College, taking the active part in prosecuting Smith is very amusing. Every ground upon which he based his defense of Minchin has been ruthlessly overturned now that the case is in his favor. He was most emphatic in his denial that that Minchin was a plagiarist; but Smith is no more so. He was zealous in maintaining the point that the committee could not compel Minchin to give up his medal and his first place; now he expects Smith to do both. Verily, much depends upon who is doing the giving and who the receiving.

EXCHANGE AND COMMENT.

The University of Washington has defeated the University of Idaho in a debate upon the labor arbitration question by a vote of 2 to 1.

Nebraska Freshmen recently defeated the Seniors at basketball by a score of 25 to 24. The game was one of a series for class championship.

Yale is worrying over a lack of sprinters this year. Very few men are showing points for the one hundred and two hundred and twenty yard dashes.

Harvard won out in the debate with Yale with an unanimous decision this year.

According to the figures of the Registrar of Columbia, Harvard has the largest enrollment of any of the Colleges of the United States. She numbers 5468 students. Columbia is second with 5352. Then follow Chicago 4296; Michigan 3764; California 3676; Minnesota 3505; Cornell 3281. The others all have a registration of less than 3000.

An exchange comments as follows on the segration of students at Chicago University: "The good results obtained are summarized as follows in a press dispatch from the Windy City: 'Lowering of the dress standard among many young men now wearing sweaters instead of starched shirts, and many young women wearing any old thing instead of dainty shirt waists and neck ruffles. Less formality in classes; instructors of the young men illustrating their teachings with lively stories. More concentration of mind on their studies by the girls. Acquisition of a new slang word—'seg'—a noun, viz., 'She is a seg.' No more 'ruberology.' When the classes were mixed, the boys used to take the back seats so as to have a comprehensive view of the girls. Gratification to those professors who prefer to teach boys to girls.' "

The University of Nebraska will give a prize of $100 for a University song.

The Glee Club had a very pleasant tour.

Prof. Seley is improving as fast as could be expected.

Father Royal conducted chapel devotionals March 25.

Dean Hawley says that one use of a nail is for a suspender button.

Every student should do his or her full share toward the construction of the new athletic field. It will mean much to Old Willamette. Let there be no knocking for once, but a harmonious pull altogether.

Willamette is the only University in the state which sent out a Glee Club, and the only one which is putting out an Annual. Guess we are not so slow.

Don't ask the Glee Club boys anything about Albany or the baggageman.

At last the Senior orations have appeared. Miss Townsend, the president of the class, was the first offender.

President Coleman lectured in Woodburn, March 19, on "The Builders of the Nation."

This time it was better to have orated and lost than to have orated and won.

We wonder if other members of the faculty will feel it their duty to be present and on time at chapel exercises, since President Coleman reported tardy.

The executive committee is of the opinion that the sins of the orator should be visited upon the institution he represents.

Our basketball boys speak in the highest terms of the treatment which they received at the hands of the Dallas students.

Dean Hawley gave his celebrated lecture on "The Making of the Declaration of Independence," at Woodburn, last Thursday evening.

The last quarter of the school year is yet before us and according to the Dean it should be run "on our nerve." Advice which will be followed too literally by many.

Talking will accomplish little in the way of winning field meets. If we are to do anything it will require hard practice.

Every Methodist pastor in the district which is supposed to support the University, who willfully failed to observe "Willamette Day" should be transferred to a conference where they have no colleges.

There were good reasons why Miss Gauze should have been given the medal at Eugene, and now that Smith has been found guilty of plagarism there should be no longer any delay. Verily the action of the executive committee is hard to understand.

Remember that the Tom Cronise Photo Studio, over Dalrymple's store, is putting out some of the finest work ever exhibited in Salem.

More Money for the Debt.

A few days ago President Coleman received $500 from a friend in New York, at whose wedding the President officiated. The occasion of the gift was the birth of a daughter. The University is glad that the President has such friends. We would be better pleased if there were more of them and they would all have twins.

SMITH IS GUILTY.

McMinnville's Orator Is Found to Be at Fault.

Friday the executive committee of the I. O. A. O. met to discuss the charge of plagiarism preferred against E. A. Smith, of McMinnville College. Smith, as will be remembered, was the winner in the State Oratorical contest, at Eugene, last month. It appears that some person who had read a lecture by Senator Vance upon the same subject recognized a similarity of expression between that and the oration of Smith. This similarity was mentioned to Prof. Kelsey, of Newberg, who immediately took up the matter, actuated, no doubt, in part by the fact that Miss Gauze, Newberg's representative, was a close second in the contest.

Parallel columns were arranged to show the extent of the plagiarism and the matter was brought to the attention of H. E. Thomas, the president of the State Association

At the meeting Friday there were representatives from all the colleges except A. C. and O. A. C.

After the matter was thoroughly argued by both sides the following resolution was presented and adopted with but one dissenting vote, that of McMinnville:

"In consideration of the fact that E. A. Smith, of McMinnville College, winner of the intercollegiate oratorical contest, constituted a considerable portion of his oration from the lecture of Senator Vance, entitled "The Scattered Nation," we, the executive committee of the Intercollegiate Oratorical Association of Oregon, do hereby censure such action as gross and culpable carelessness and state our opinion that he is not entitled to the honors awarded him, and furthermore bar McMinnville College from participation in the next annual contest. Enacted at Forest Grove, this 3rd day of April, 1903."

After Graduation What?

That is the question that is worrying many a college senior these days. If you are going into business or technical work you ought to register with Hapgood., of the Monadnock Building, Chicago. This concern is a great clearing house for ability in every line, and during the few months it will place several hundred young college men in positions where advancement will be both rapid and sure.

If you wish to begin work early in the summer or fall you ought to register at once, and thus avail yourself of some of the many good opportunities for 1903 graduates which are daily presenting themselves.

Write Hapgoods today for plan and booklet.

DALLAS WINS

Second Game of Series Goes to the Dallas Team.

Dallas 21, Willamette 11, contains the history of the second game of the championship series between the crack basketballists, of Dallas College, and the old war horses of Willamette. The game was played in the Dallas College gymnasium, March 28.

After the splendid game of the previous week on our home floor, interest ran high as to the outcome of this game. Both teams appeared confident. The Willamette boys left for Dallas on Friday afternoon and spent some time in getting acquainted with the gymnasium, which measures the same in length as our own, but is considerably narrower. Saturday was spent in resting from the trip and in taking in the different points of interest about the little town. It is not improbable that several calls were made upon the fair damsels of Dallas by the more youthful and lighthearted members of the company, but no authoritative statements could be obtained from the suspected parties. Late in the day about 40 of Willamette's enthusiasts made their appearance to cheer their favorites on, as they hoped, to victory.

A little after 8 o'clock our team appeared on the floor for preliminary practice and were greeted by a burst of applause from both friend and foe. The seating capacity of the room was taxed to its utmost, and the way the Dallas rooters yelled was certainly inspiring to their team. The College team's practice was excellent. There was never a fumble as they passed the ball from one end of the floor to the other and every pass for a goal landed safely. The practice showed the advantage in quick, accurate work to rest with Dallas.

The game opened with furious work on both sides, but Dallas was the first to open an account on the score sheet by Wilson throwing a field goal over Parsons in less than a minute. This he did three more times during the first half. Poling and Ford each succeeded in placing our field goal to their credit over Pollard and Judd, respectively. This was evidently the time for Dallas to score. It seemed that they took every opportunity offered for a tug for a goal, and every attempt was successful.

Even college professors sometimes forget the dignity of their position when an occasion is offered to perpetrate a joke upon some innocent individual in honest quest of information. A story is told of a professor of psychology in a Western college who never let an opportunity pass for springing a joke upon someone. One day he received a communication from a country doctor who wished to know "How long people should sleep." Despite the fact that this information was sought in good faith he could not overcome his natural tendencies, but wrote in reply: "Same as short people."—Ex.

The dailies are the most profitable college papers. The Harvard Crimson nets an average of about $5000 a year; the Yale News $4000. A Senior on either of them often receives upward of $400.

TRIBUNES FOR 1903

THE EASY RUNNING WHEELS.

We will soon be prepared with a full line of our old stand-by—The Tribune—in both ladies and gents models. We have enlarged our floor space in the wheel department, and are better prepared than ever to attend to our trade in this line.

The new Tribune road models are the same price as last season, $40, while the chainless will be $70, with options on cushion frame, changeable gear, spring forks, etc. In fact spring forks can be had on all models at $5 additional.

We have also bought all we could get of the 1902 models, which we will sell at $35, while they last.

Tribune bearings, Tribune cycloidal sprockets, Tribune 2-piece cranks, Tribune quality throughout, has remained unchanged. No better tires ever turned out of a factory.

Other wheels $20, $25 and $30.
