MERRY DAYS TO BE RE-ENACTED

Romance of Old English Chivalry Is Depicted in "Sherwood."

SETTING IS ELABORATE

Character Interpretation to be of Very Best—Costumes Are Carefully Planned—Lyrics and Music Are of Unusual Impressiveness—Ballet Scene and Solo Dances Featured.

Combining the traditional lore, the spectacular splendor, and the romantic spirit of old English revelry at the time of Robin Hood, Britain's immortal outlaw, together with realistic settings, elaborate costumes and beautiful music assures that the presentation of Alfred Noyes' great tragedy, "Sherwood, or Robin Hood and the Three Kings" Friday evening, May 5, at the Grand will be exceedingly well presented by a cast of 75 of Willamette's best Thespian aspirants.

It will be a master production, the crowning result of nearly six months' painstaking efforts of the cast under the executive coaching of Prof. Wallace MacMurray, head of the literary criticism department. Preliminary dress rehearsals and the presentation at the asylum Thursday evening make the prediction that "Sherwood" will be unqualifiedly the most successful and elaborate amateur production ever staged in Salem.

Ballet Scene Is Spectacular.
Of special beauty and artistic interpretation will be the ballet scene in Act II where Oberon (Alpheus Gillette), king of fairies, calls his fairy court together to warn his subjects concerning the dangers threatening Robin Hood (Earl Flegel). Here a ballet of 16 fairy-like ladies work out several fancy figures in addition to the several solo dances by Miss Esther Taylor, Miss Irma Botsford and Bert Ford.

As a grand finale to the superb staging is the dramatic impressiveness of the scene centered around the sacrifice of Shadow-of-a-Leaf (Laban Steeves). Here through the kindness of Robin Hood, words are allowed to enter the fairy gates and the procession which follows shows the fairies leading Robin Hood and Maid Marian (Violet Maclean) into Fairyland. To Shadow-of-a-Leaf the gate is barred, but as he stands there he hears the voice of Blondel, the minstrel, telling him that the Great King lives.

Queen Eleanor Well Portrayed.
In the role of Queen Eleanor, the centring helpmate of King John, Miss Rosamond Gilbert is displaying an interpretative ability which is rarely, if ever, seen among amateur Thespians. Unquestionably her interpretation of the character is of outstanding stellar significance.

As Robin Hood, the merrie robber chieftain, Earl Flegel is doing excellent work in experiencing the emotions of the famous outlaw. Maid Marian, the part interpreted by Miss Violet Maclean, is exceedingly natural and life-like. The secret of Miss Maclean's work lies in her voice which is especially appropriate for the part.

Shadow-of-a-Leaf, the fool, has a very different role to translate, yet Laban Steeves has time and again in rehearsal work proved himself adept in impersonating this fluttering hero of the court and forest.

While the play naturally centers around the dramatic action, details such as only a coach of dramatic experience recognized to be essential, are being very effectively considered in the staging. Although the spectacular element predominates, and a riot of color is ever present, there is an absolute harmony of color values which is indeed remarkable. Special credit is due Miss Gladys Carson, Miss Addie Tobie and Miss Flora Housel and the junior women in general for the elimination of color clashes.

Naturally the multiplicity of lyrics furnished a musical opportunity for

SOFT LIGHTS TO GLOW

Junior Prom to Be Glorious Climax to Festivities.

With the continuation of the present ideal weather, there will be no doubt as to the success of the Junior Prom, which is the culminating festivity of Junior week-end. Decorations of Japanese lanterns with soft lights, will convert the lower north of Eaton and Waller halls into a garden of loveliness.

Probably the most alluring feature of the evening will be dances of the "Seasons" which are to be featured with a spotlight.

The high school orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music and several proms have been arranged for, the first of which is to be led by Miss Helen Wastell and Mr. Arlio Walker.

MANY PEPPERY RACES STAGED

Interclass Meet Is 'Rarin' to Go Affair from Start to Finish.

FORD WINS 18 POINTS

Sophomores Capture First Honors With 49 Points—Grosvenor and Steeves Take Second and Third—Relay Is Hotly Contested—Hurdles Are Excitingly Hurdled.

By Raymond Attebery.

While no world's records were smashed in the interclass meet held last Saturday afternoon, it fulfilled all expectations as to class rivalry and ended with three of the classes building high for first place. The sophomores captured first with 49 points, the freshmen read 41, and the academy on the former's heels with 37. Way down below, 17 above zero, to be correct, stood the class of '17 and eight notches below the juniors stood Gary and Shisler with the senior banner.

Not only were there three close contestants for class honors but high point honors also found three bidders. Sophomore Ford was high point man with 18 points, three first and a second. "Tekoa" Grosvenor of the academy amassed 15 tallies off one first, three seconds and a fourth. Steeves of the '17 aggregation drew third honors on a score of 14, the result of one first, one second, two thirds, and a fourth. Three men—

ALPHEUS J. GILLETTE
(Oberon, King of the Fairies)

Brown, Jackson, and Richardson—tied for fourth place with a score of 10.

While there were many warm events the relay, which concluded the meet, was the climax of the arena. The sophs stowed this away with the academy a crowdin' the daylight out of 'em. It was a grand race. In the third lap McAllister of Brother Ford's school passed Kelly, who was spreading tracks for the sophs, and handed a lead to "Tekoa." Near the finish of the fourth and final lap Brazler Small noised "Tek" out on a close margin.

Among the other thrilling events were the low and high hurdles, the 220 and 440, and the 100. "Shi" gave the "little Ford's" gear a terrible rub in high hurdles, and ran him a good second in the low. Jackson took the 440 with a beautiful stride. The 100 yards dash, which opened the meet, was a live event. Ford beat out "Tekoa" on a small margin.

Summary of Events.

The events and winners were as follows:
Sprints—100-yard: Ford. Grosvenor. Steeves. Shisler; time 10:02. 220-yard dash: Small. Grosvenor. Steeves. Sparks; time 22:04. 440-yard: Jackson. Richardson. Cotton. Tobie; time 54:04.
Milers—880—Jackson. Stewart. Kelly. Gary; time 2:20. Mile: Castle. Kelly. Waugh. Lonsberry; time, 5:15.
Hurdles—High: Ford. Shisler. Irvine. Steeves; time 17 flat. Low:

Gerhart Comes Back Strong

"Gerhart grit" has been the admiration of the campus for four years and especially since Joe's long sojourn in the Salem hospital it has more than ever been in the limelight. The appearance of the doughty little Lilliputian who achieved fame in many a football and basketball fracas, is heralded with much joy. Thanks to the mercy of a considerate faculty Gerhart will be graduated with the class of 1916 this June.

Second Institute to be Held.
Inasmuch as the Epworth League convention, held on the Willamette campus last year, was such a success, effort is being made to gain more interest through the distinguished speakers who will appear this year when the convention will again be held at Willamette University, July 17-23. Distinct among the speakers will be the Rev. William H. Morgan, D. D., who is pastor of Calvary church, New York City.

MISS IRMA BOTSFORD

Mrs. N. Doane, Widow of Former W. U. Professor Dies

Prof. Matthews was called to Portland Monday, April 24, by attend the funeral of Mrs. N. Doane, widow of Prof. Nehemiah Doane, a former instructor in the old Oregon Institute. Prof. Doane and his wife came to Oregon in 1849, by way of the isthmus of Panama. They were brought up the Willamette by Indians, but were deserted in the wilds near Oregon City. However, they later managed to find their way on to Salem. Prof. Doane died in 1905, and was buried in Jason Lee cemetery. Following the funeral Monday the remains were brought to Salem and interred beside those of her husband.

Columbia Budget Increased.
Columbia University will have over $4,000,000 with which to pay its running expenses next year. This means an increase of over $200,000 in the budget of this current year.

Who Sacrifices Self to Save Robin Hood.

Vesper Service to be Held

Under the maples on the campus at 5:30 Sunday evening, the Y. M. Y. W. C. A. joint vesper, the last of the May Day festivities, will be held. President Doney will speak and Harold Jory and Archie Smith will sing. The Willamette quartet will also give a number of selections. These services are always greatly enjoyed by those who attend. With the special attraction it is hoped that a great number will be present. The calm of this evening service is what is needed to complete the season of merry-making.

Class Tournament is Postponed.

Inasmuch as the intercollegiate tennis matches booked for May 5 and

EARL C. FLEGEL
(Robin Hood, the Heretic Outlaw)

6 take precedence over the annual interclass May Day tournament, Manager Bartlett has postponed the interclass affair to a later date.

Spirit of Spring Is Here

Absolutely no doubt, spring is here and this statement needs no corroboration from nature. The fact that the drama and short-story classes find enough daylight to meet at 7 a. m. is enough to prove spring's presence in a shockingly sudden way. For those who will not believe this, and no doubt there are many, take note of Professor Hall taking anthropological measurements on the diamond benches.

Wallulah to Appear as Scheduled.

Willamette's greatest publication, the 1917 Wallulah, will appear on scheduled time, May 5. The "closed door" policy forbids publicity of its growing features. Suffice it to say that the annual is dedicated to Prof. Wallace MacMurray, who has worked incessantly for the better interests of the class since his association with Willamette. Vive, Annual!

MISS ROSAMOND GILBERT
Who Will Appear as Queen Elinor.

Pee-rade to be Great Feature of May Festivities

Plans for the varsity parade to be given Thursday are assuming a very definite form. "Jack" Bartlett heads the committee in charge of the arrangements. A complete series of "athletic" features are to be given, featuring various groups in football, baseball and track suits, while the float devoted to tennis will carry a miniature court, with men in tennis costume. In short, the parade will represent each of the Varsity activities, and will be a feature of Thursday's program.

It Might Work Here.

All kodak enthusiasts at the University of Colorado desiring to take pictures of the May fete are forced to pay a kodak license to assist in raising funds to defray expenses. Might profitably suggest it to Willamette's pussy-footed kodak fiends.

STAG-ATTO CLUB FORMED

Academy Men Decide to Live Things Up.

Stag-atto is the name of one of the new campus organizations which is made up of eight progressive academy men. They have taken it upon themselves to keep things lively around the academy circles until the end of the year. Richardson was chosen president, Chittick vice-president, Lonsberry secretary and Spitzbart treasurer. Additional members are Paul Doney, Hugh Doney, Lester Shelley and Robert Waugh.

"Fourth Dimension" Is Subject.

Prof. James T. Matthews will lecture on "The Fourth Dimension" Monday evening, May 8, as the final number of the faculty series of free public lectures which have been given at various times throughout the winter. It will begin at 8 o'clock in Waller chapel.

CEREMONY WILL BE IMPRESSIVE

All Details Preliminary to Coronation of Frances I Are Well Planned.

QUEEN LEILA TO APPEAR

Hon. James Crawford to Assist as Chancellor—Procession to Consist of Pages, Flower Girls, Heralds, Maids and Queens—Coronation to Be Held in Front of Eaton.

Elaborate indeed will be the queen's procession Friday when Frances I is crowned.

Hon. James Crawford, '12, of Portland, who has assisted in the ceremony for several years, will again be high chancellor. Miss Gittins will be crowned in cream satin and chiffon with pearl trimmings, with a robe of cream velvet and yellow satin linings. Besides her maids, Miss Laura Ross and Miss Florence Page, who will add to the festive scene in their dainty gowns of white, she will be assisted by pages, flower girls, train bearers and a cushion bearer. The pages, who include Richard Attebery, Hilbert Tasto, Raymond Attebery, Paul Green and Lee Barber, will be arrayed in medieval costumes and carry Oriental palm fans as a symbol of homage to the royalty.

Flower Girls to Appear.
The flower girls, who are to be little maids of six years, will wear

WALLACE ADAMS (Prince John)
Who Would Usurp a Throne.

white dresses, set off with yellow sashes. Edwin Cross and Charles Bishop will act as the queen's train bearers. Little Miss Audrey Mathis of Amity, the cushion bearer, will precede the queen and carry the crown of pearls.

The throne, which will be erected between Eaton Hall and Kimball College, will be made of evergreen boughs with purple background. A coat-of-arms of gold ornamented with Greek Phi's and Minerva heads will be used effectively with the purple.

Procession Starts at Lonsuanne.
The procession will start at Lonsuanne hall and continue in front of Waller hall to the coronation site.

An unique feature will be Queen Leila's appearance with her two maids, Miss Mildred Bartholomew and Miss Grace Thompson. Frances I will be crowned by Miss Lent, the queen of last May.

Educational Films Exhibited.

Three reels of motion picture film, 7000 feet in all, depicting intensely interesting features of the U. S. Postal Service will be the free attraction Sunday evening, May 7, at the First Congregational church. In addition to their great educational value, the films will be of interest inasmuch as they have never been exhibited in Salem before. Willamette students are especially invited.

They All Fall.

Virginia University, one of the oldest and most conservative colleges in the United States recently voted to adopt co-education.

POPULAR VOTE EXALTS FLEGEL

Crack Athlete Is Choice of Student Body for 1916-17 Presidency.

MILLER TO HANDLE COIN

Sam R. King to Wield Editorial Pen—Outlines His Policies—Cotton to Finance Collegian—Miss Maclean and Miss McKennon to Serve as Vice-President and Secretary.

Earl C. Flegel was given the highest honor which Willamette can bestow upon any student when he was elected president of the Associated Student Body in the annual election Friday. Flegel has been a loyal supporter of all college activities during the last three years, having played on the varsity teams in football, basketball and tennis. He is not only an athlete, but is prominent socially, being one of the most popular members of the class of '17. In speaking of the outlook for the coming year, Flegel said, "It seems to me that there has been too much friction in the Student Body. I want the students to forget that there was an election and work together. We must all unite in better support of student activities and always boost for Willamette."

Miss Maclean to Assist.
As vice-president, Miss Violet Maclean will fill her office with the ability and dignity for which she is noted. Having served on the executive committee during her sophomore year, Miss Maclean is ably fitted to take up her new duties in the Student Body.

Miss Fannie McKennon, who received the office of secretary, has been an untiring worker in class and Y. W. C. A. organizations during the past two years. She is also a conscientious student and deserves the honor which the Student Body has given her.

Paul Miller was elected treasurer. Genial "Hap" is a favorite with every one about the campus and is also capable of managing the accounts of the Student Body in a satisfactory manner.

King Is Unanimous Choice.
The choice of Sam R. King for editor of The Collegian was unanimous. He has been one of the hardest workers on the staff for the past year and a half and is the most able newspaper man in the Student Body. "In taking this position," says the editor-elect, "I assume the hearty support of all the students, and will try to give every one a square deal. Personally I like the form of the present Collegian and I will try to maintain its present standard."

King has great confidence in the business manager, Earl H. Cotton, and there is no doubt that with this combination a great paper is insured for next year. Cotton's platform is to keep up reciprocity on the part of business men, Willamette students and members of the high school.

AIRSHIP IS SUGGESTED

Flower Beds Dispute Right of Way With "Tin Lizzies."

Never more can ardent Romeos trespass their Fords upon the mossy green of Lonsuanne's most beautiful lawn. Newly-planted flower beds (every rose has a thorn—in the shape of a tack) obstruct the auto loop before the steps to that arduous chauffeurs will have to part with the fair damsels at the street. "Mac" can overcome this difficulty by using an airship which would take him right up to the window, very handy and exclusive.

Mr. Alderson Is a Candidate.

W. C. Alderson, '89, is a candidate for county school superintendent of Multnomah county, Oregon. Mr. Alderson was graduated in the same class as Prof. Matthews and in fact, married Prof. Matthews' sister.

"UNITY GIVES STRENGTH."

Election day is a thing of the past and the ballot box has been put on the shelf for another year. The results show that there are a number of capable men and women in "Old Willamette," for the returns were close. Now is the time for us to lay aside political contentions and all stand together and fight as a single unit for the higher ideals—"Willamette's future."
Of course we cannot all be winners, some one must lose—but that is no disgrace, it was not because of lack of ability. Of course it would be easy to kick and lay down and say "I'll do nothing more," but that is not the Willamette spirit, and never will be, and furthermore not a single defeated candidate is of that make-up, they are all bigger men and women than the type depicted.
Our course now lies open and plain before us and the guide-posts all read as follows:

"To progress and fame, take the only road." There is no other way, so let's all get on the big truck that is going in that direction; the road is paved with a foundation made up of two ingredients, "co-operation" and "integrity" and topped off with the lasting cement of "fairness" and "understanding." No rut of "dissension" is to be found in that road, so let's go.

A REAL COLLEGE MAN.

The characteristics of a "real" college man have always been a favorite topic for discussion. Opinions ventured on this score have been wide and varied, and the question has never been fully settled. It has remained for the Harvard Lampoon to come forth with the first codified set of rules. These were published in a recent issue and are quoted here:
"1. All heroes are named Jack, Stanley or Dick.
"2. All college men wear sweaters, always smoke short, fat bowled pipes.
"3. There is always a 'Fatty' who is a funny fellow.
"4. Any four college men make a quartet, which can sing 'Merhilee, we co-hull along' at any time.
"5. All college men are wooing a girl named Dorothy or Betty, who is 'sweet and pure as an angel.'
"6. All college men address each other as 'old hoss.'
"7. College men never study, but spend their time in tossing reports back and forth.
"8. All college rooms are adorned with pennants.
"9. All college men call the faculty 'Pater,' and speak of the 'honor of the dear old school' in a husky voice."—University of Washington Dalls.

CAN WE DO IT?

Do you know that your actions fix your value? Oh, yes, I know you mean at right; but now frankly, what do people say of you when you're not present? Do you radiate enthusiasm and energy and the desire to achieve, to those with whom you come in contact? How often have you said of somebody to somebody else in speaking of the first party, "What is that fellow's aim in life?" Why did you say it? Simply because he had failed to touch a point in common with you in your relations with him. Who was to blame, you or he?
College above all else should so train the individual to be able to fit into any environment, and to the extent in which the individual succeeds so does he enlarge himself, and at the same time speak a word for his alma mater. Let us get the habit of looking into people, not merely at them and then perhaps they will present a far different point of view. But before we do that, let's be of a positive nature ourselves, with a definite ideal ahead of us. It awakens a feeling of admiration and inspiration in one to talk with a positive person, who is not, however, too egotistical. Let's be considerate and deliberate in our actions and what will be the result? Persons with whom we come into contact will have a well-grounded confidence in our decisions, and too, they will say, "I'll pattern after the good points which I have discovered in that fellow."
—John L. Gary.

GIRLS PREPARE LUSCIOUS MENU

May Breakfast to be Held in Open Air.

Miss Garrett Plans Irresistible Epicurean Appeal—Committee Work is Detailed With Much Executive Precision.

Judging from numerous inquiries from the townspeople and the general interest of the Student Body, the May morning breakfast will be successful in more ways than just from the financial standpoint. Miss Mabel Garrett, who has the management of the breakfast in charge, has some very efficient committees at work. Helga Wastell is gathering up dishes and tables, while Aetna Emmel, Beryl Holt and "Jack" Barlett have in charge the provision for the ham, eggs, and biscuits. The freshmen boys will attend to all the dish washing and the general work of "flunking."
In the kitchen, Miss Ruth Stewart will make the cereal, Miss Birdene McKinney the coffee, and Miss Edith Bird the chocolate. The men who will assist Miss Gertrude Eakin with the waffles are Tinkham Gilbert, Howard Jewett, Errol Proctor, John Gary and Charles Randall.

The soliciting committee met with great success this year as over 30 merchants donated provisions for the breakfast.

MERRY DAYS

adaptation to individual and chorus solo work. Realizing this, Prof. MacMurray composed appropriate music for the respective scenes. Although numerous lyric passages prevail throughout the play, such as the song of Alan-a-Dale at the end of Act III, which is sung by Mr. Alfred Schramm, the best music is in the last act. Music from an invisible choir of stage and the great finale, "The Forest Has Conquered," leave a powerful impressiveness on the spectator. Miss Mary Schultz will assist with the violin.
Without doubt "Sherwood" will be given a stupendous presentation. The play merits it, the actors know it and are taking advantage of it, the scenery is especially adapted to it, the music was composed exclusively for it, the coaching has been of the best. Added to this, the literary value as representative of the highest Willamette ideals, "Sherwood" deserves a capacity house.

Interesting Program in Honor of Famous Bard Is Held in Rest Room

In memorial of the tri-centenary of Shakespeare's death, a short but interesting program was given in the Y. W. C. A. rest room April 26. About the room were displayed a great many Shakespearean photographs including the author's home, English scenes, and well-known actors. The book-case, too, was filled with representative literature and held many valuable and interesting copies. A victrola furnished a number of dramatic readings and also some songs. The program included a paper "Some Shakespearean Curiosities and Traditions," by Gladys Carson; a talk on "The Music of Shakespeare's Day" by Professor Stauffer, and solos by Grace Sherwood, Evelyn Cathey and Roger Lyon. A great many of the college people, as well as a number of others, enjoyed this meeting in commemoration of the great Elizabethan poet and dramatist.

EWING RETURNS HOME
Popular Winner of Declamatory Contest to Return in Fall.

Friends of James Ewing, one of the most popular men of the freshman class, will regret to learn that he has been obliged to return to his home on account of the severe illness of his father. For a freshman "Cal" made good from the start and was the successful winner of first place in the recent declamatory contest. He expects to resume his studies in Willamette in the fall.

Dr. Hall Gives Lecture.
"The Culture of the Ancient World" was the topic of Dr. John O. Hall's splendid lecture before the Associated Women's Clubs at the Portland Y. W. C. A. Friday evening. The next number of Dr. Hall's series will be given on May 5. "Remedy Against Poverty" is the subject of the lecture.

"TRY SALEM FIRST" MAY DAY AND EVERY OTHER DAY

You remember what Emerson said about the world making a pathway to a man's door if he makes the best mouse traps.

We find the grass on our front lawn much trampled down by the public asking for good furnishings, hats, shoes, etc.

And the fact that we have the best of everything in the way of men's apparel naturally causes a pathway to be worn to our door.

We like to have our front lawn trampled on. Come and do a little trampling yourself.

New spring shirts are here; beautiful styles. $1-$1.50-$2 and up

May Day with its round of gaieties is almost a reality and the final preparations, which will make this year's celebration the finest and most splendid of any in the history of the institution, are almost completed. The loyal subjects of Queen Lella will assemble for the crowning of their newly-elected Queen Frances and pay homage before her throne. The Junior Prom assures every one of an original and thoroughly enjoyable entertainment. In the presentation of "Sherwood" the gates of Fairyland will be opened to all loyal Willamette subjects and the climax of Junior week-end will be reached.

A most delightful memory remains as the result of the second annual Adelante reunion banquet, which brilliant affair has been due to the complete and elaborate planning to which every society member has contributed. The large invitational list included the names of members who now make the Adelantes famous from coast to coast. Promptly at 6 o'clock, in the parlors of the First Methodist church, about fifty society members gave witness that the hour had been put to twofold advantage by the industrious girls who were there.

Mrs. Minerva Todd spent the most of last week visiting at Lausanne as the guest of her daughter, Miss Junia L. Todd.

Owing to the pressure of studies and a "bunching of dates" as well as Junior play practice, the N. M. club held no meeting last week. The regular meeting for the last of the month was enjoyed by an early morning hike and outdoor breakfast. The members left the campus Saturday morning at 5:30 and walked to the farm of the vice-president. There in a cozy nook by a rippling stream, the official chef fried eggs and flapjacks to appease the appetite of the hungry crowd. Afterward there was a quiet talk about the "dying" embers while a few roamed the woods after the feathered warblers. After the 12:30 period Wednesday, an honorary member will be host at a picnic lunch on the bank of the mill race.

Charles Randall and Robert Maulden went to Silver Creek Falls Saturday.

A club has been organized by the wives of the married students of Kimball College. The members have chosen as a name for their organization, the "Luella Kimball Club." The last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Woodfin, where a pleasing program was presented. The officers of the club are: Mrs. Geo. R. Abbott,

Miss Eleanor Ruby, ex-'16, will visit Miss Lucile Kuntz this week.

Miss Irene Johnson, of Portland, will be a guest at Lausanne Hall for Junior week-end.

An agreeable surprise came to Miss Margaret Mallory Sunday morning when she found a crowd of her high school friends from Portland waiting outside the hall to take her for a long car ride. They had driven from Portland to spend the day and returned home Sunday evening.

Miss Glenna Teeters entertained a number of girls in her room Thursday evening. The diversion was taffy pulling and music.

One of the most enjoyable feeds of the year was arranged Thursday evening for the Hall girls who are in the Junior play. When they returned from the asylum whence the play had been presented, Miss Mallory and Miss Davenport had the spread ready for Helen Wastell, Lucile McCulley, Evelyn Cathey, Esther Cox and Esther White.

Miss Louise Benson was a guest at Lausanne for lunch Tuesday.

Saturday was surely "clean-up" day for Lausanne Hall and with the assistance of twelve of Willamette's most stalwart men, the appearance of that section of the campus was entirely transformed. When Miss Todd had inspected the work and pronounced it very satisfactory, the workers were given a typical picnic lunch under the trees. This was followed by a period of rest and Ukulele music.

If the old adage "variety is the spice of life" be altogether true, the Websterians are beyond doubt the liveliest social and intellectual organization on the campus. A mere casual glance at the literary program that was staged Wednesday night shows it to be an almost indisputable fact. Earl Cotton, a recent addition to the Web forensic artillery, proved conclusively that "Japan is a Menace." Mythology in general and Indian mythology in particular was threshed by Harvey Wilson. Raymond Archibald reviewed the Oregon romance, "The Bridge of the Gods," in such a vivid manner that several were deluded into thinking that Archibald was present at the construction of the bridge. Uncle Samuel's squalling infant, Mexico, was next engulged. Paul Miller all but checked-mated Villa in a rousing "concoction" entitled "Villa, or the U. S. Army in Northern Mexico." Another phase of the border trouble was next dealt with by the indomitable Cyrus Eakin, who proposed depopulating Mexico and raising Websterians. Arlie Walker, though badly fussed, was called to the carpet to explain "What he loved best in the spring." The program closed with Proctor straining every nerve to hold down the lid of Web humor in a ten-minute parliamentary battle practice.

Miss Evelyn Cathey spent the week at McMinnville, visiting friends.

If we cannot psychologize, As we're instructed to by Bain, Should we humbly apologize, And admit our lack of brain?

If we old Nature's work adore, Admiring her perfection, Should we impolitely ignore A Colgate complexion?

If we are satisfied while here In a standard moral school Should we to anything adhere That would harm old W. U.?

members were seated at the tables, lovely with decorations, carrying out the color motif of blue and gold. Baskets of yellow flowers and dainty butterfiles were used most effectively. Hand painted Japanese place cards sent from India by one of the old Adelante members were given as dainty favors. The Misses Edna Gilbert, Helen Hogue, Lucile Ross, Mildred Garrett, Elsie Gilbert, Vera Witham and Marjorie Minton assisted in serving the four-course banquet. Miss Eva Hogue acted as toast-mistress and the following toasts were responded to: Miss Emma Minton gave a short welcome to the guests and Miss Lulu Heist responded. "My Kindergarten" was the subject of a clever toast by Miss Nellie Casebere. "My Year at Home" by Miss Gertrude Eakin, and "When Dreams Come True," by Mrs. Grover Bellinger formed a delightful combination of fact and fancy. "A Web Plus the Scratch List" was admirably and characteristically "treated" by Miss Ada Ross. Miss Alice Fields concluded the toasts by a clever response to "Adelante Sense." After the banquet the guests went to the society halls where a reception was held with the Webs and their guests.

Mr. Mills has appeared in a number of recitals in Salem and has always been enthusiastically received. For this evening occasion Mr. Mills will play one of the most difficult of Liszt's harmonies, "Rakosky March," the national march of Hungary. All who attend the Glee Club concert are assured of one of the finest musical treats of the season.

The Misses Clara Perkins and Edith Lorntsen entertained with a dinner party Sunday for three of the men from the Commons Club. Their guests included Messrs. Derrill Rexford, Raymond Archibald and LeRoy Gard.

A party motoring to Silverton Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Ford, Miss Loretta Ford, Mr. Bert Ford, and Prof. Wallace MacMurray.

Prof. Wallace MacMurray entertained at dinner at the Marion Tuesday evening for Mr. Roy Thompson and Mr. Richard Thompson who were down from the University of Washington. Both men are members of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity where Prof. MacMurray was guest for a few days during spring vacation.

Mr. W. J. Crowder is in town visiting his daughter, Miss Edith Crowder, for a few days.

Mr. Robert Atkinson of U. of O. spent the week-end with Mr. Harry Mills.

On Tuesday evening, April 25, the Pauline Literary society of Kimball College hiked to South Salem, accompanied by their wives and families. Games and races were the order of the day, the star event being a race between President Talbot and William Nichol. Prof. Wm. Sherwood was asked to give a short talk and responded with a few remarks.

Of interest to their many Willamette friends was the announcement of the marriage of Miss Florence Page to Mr. Laban Steeves. The wedding ceremony was performed at Ridgefield, Washington by the Rev. Mr. J. A. Cooper, who expects to attend Willamette University next year. Miss Page is one of the most charming members of the senior class and will this year be one of the maids to Queen of the May, Frances I. Mr. Steeves plays the leading role in the Junior play and excels himself as "Shadow-of-a-Leaf" only in the role in which he starred last Monday. Mr. Steeves is the son of Dr. B. L. Steeves a prominent member of the board of trustees of Willamette. Miss Page is the president of the Dew-Drop Club, one of the most popular and exclusive social organizations in the school. The bride was becomingly gowned for the ceremony in a smart tailored spring suit. Congratulations are being showered upon the happy young couple by their host of friends at Willamette as well as their many Salem friends.

Amid a setting of green and lovely spring flowers the Adelantes and Websterians held a joint reception Saturday evening, the climax to an evening filled with the enjoyment of renewing old friendships. Receiving the guests were Miss Eva Hogue, Mr. Howard Jewett, Miss Junia L. Todd, Prof. James T. Matthews and Prof. and Mrs. Morton E. Peck. A program of delightful numbers provided an hour of enjoyment during the evening. Miss Gertrude Eakin and Mr. Robert Eakin played a pleasing piano duet and responded to an enthusiastic encore. Following a reading by Miss Gladys Luthy, Mr. Harold Jory sang several solos which were greatly appreciated. Mr. Eric Bolt in a short

Insurance Problems now are Simplified

The introduction of New York Life Insurance, scientific and business-like Policies insures dividend-earning assets for every branch of social and business life.

They are true New York Life Policies, all the way through. They are written with the backing of a world-wide service organization; as truly and essentially New York Life as the institution of their origin--the institution which has proven its ability to withstand a world war and to meet nearly every human exigency so far as insurance is concerned.

Bearcat Teams to Play Inter-collegiate Tennis.

Pacific College and McMinnville to Be on Exhibition Here May 5-6—Strength of Visitors Unknown But Good Matches Seem Assured.

Tennis will hold the limelight in the sporting arena during Junior Week-End. At 10 o'clock the morning of May 7 lovers of the court game will have the first opportunity of the year to see the Willamette's respect winners in intercollegiate action. Pacific College will form the opposition in men's doubles, men's single and ladies' singles, two-out of three sets to decide the winner. The P. C. team is reported as being exceptionally strong this spring.

McMinnville to Appear Saturday. On the following morning, May 5, the McMinnville College team will invade the courts and endeavor to accustom the varsity "courtiers" to the love game. In the matches last year the Baptists won everything but the ladies' singles. A mixed doubles set will be an added attraction to the regular events of men's singles, ladies' singles, and men's doubles.

W. U. to Be Well Represented. Nothing has been reported as to the strength of the McMinnville players but the fact that the personnel of their present team is practically the same as the team that played here last year is guarantee enough that the Baptist institution will be strongly represented. The only change in the local team will be in the women's singles. Miss Findley, of last year's team, is not in school. Miss White, a sophomore, has been playing a wonderful game thus far and can be depended upon to take care of her court. She will play the ladies' singles, while it is probable that Miss Tobie will be entered in the mixed doubles. All of the men are playing great tennis. Captain Jewett and Plagel will handle the doubles, while Smith works at the singles. The good weather and asphalt court have combined to make much strenuous practice possible and the matches will be a battle royal to reverse the decision of last year.

Paget Gets Chautauqua Position. Merwyn E. Paget, '15, has resigned his position with the Carman Manufacturing company of Portland to take up summer publicity work with the Ellison-White Chautauqua company. Mr. Paget's work will be similar to that in which he was employed last year before he was graduated from Willamette.

SOPHS TROUNCE FROSH RIVALS

Scouters Are Treated to Real Baseball.

Score is Tied in Fifth Inning But Sophs Win Out 4-3—Brewster and Irvine Pitch Great Ball.

Not so grotesque as anticipated was the soph-frosh baseball game Thursday afternoon when the sophs trounced the frosh by a 4 to 3 score. "Those who came to scoff, remained—" for it was real baseball. The sophs crossed the home plate first in the first frame by the error route, but were overtaken in the third inning when the wearers of the green lid bunched 3 hits and romped in with 3 runs.

Score is Tied in Fifth. The eighteenthers furnished the climax in the fifth by tying the score with a hit and a sacrifice. The winning run was not annexed until the last half of the last inning, which made the score 4 to 3.

Brewster dispensed the hot ones for the sophs while Irvine served in the box for the frosh. Each allowed 5 hits:

TUBS TO FROLIC

Mill Race to be Scene of Academic Gambols.

Four Enthusiasts Decide to Brave Insipid Waters to Amuse "Angry Mob."

Manager Lousberry of the academy states that the Annual Tub Race will be one of the main attractions of the program for Saturday afternoon. The four men who have been chosen for this contest are Sheeley, Richardson, Waugh and Webb. The race will be divided into two parts, two participating at a time, the winners of which will compete in the final race. The distance decided on is 100 feet and a Willamette pennant, worth working for, will be given to the winner. Great enthusiasm is in evidence among the academy students, over this event as well as the other affairs in which they are to take part. The same officials that were selected for the Tug-of-War will decide the race.

Although Rules Remain to be Adjusted, Annual Tug Will be Staged

Because of some delays in the plans, the freshmen have not as yet issued a challenge to the sophomores for the tug-of-war but it is a certainty that this annual event will create as much interest as it has in former years.

Manager Priddy of the nineteeners with his committee has drawn up the regulations. This contest will take place on the usual spot along the mill race opposite Lausanne Hall. Eight men are to be entered on each side. There will be two halves of three minutes each with five minutes between halves. The sophomores have not chosen their team, but the frosh have picked eight of their strongest men including Brown, Archibald, Rexford, Peterson, Womer, Gard, Bailey and Sandifer. Officials will be chosen from the upper classmen.

Remember the Glee concert May 17.

MULTNOMAH TO BE ATTRACTION

Winged "M" Clubmen to Play Bearcats May 6.

Visitor's Strength Unknown—Last Meeting in 1912 Was Close Affair—Bearcats Comeback Assures a Close Game.

Baseball fans have a treat in store for themselves May 6 when the Multnomah Athletic Club nine draws up in battle array on the Swaseeland diamond for a pitched battle with the local squad. The two teams have not met in the national sport since the spring of 1912, and a comparison of strength is theoretical. However, the Bearcat line of that season held the Winged "M" athletes to a 12-inning 2 to 3 score in Portland and a 10 to 6 score on the local field, losing both games.

Clubmen Are Veterans. The Portland team is always composed of veteran players, mostly Northwest college stars who know the game in all its angles. Their hard hitting and clean fielding is all that the most ardent fan could demand.

The appearance of the Portland club men will indeed give a master finishing touch to the athletic side of the May Day celebration. As the varsity squad has been improving rapidly since the Washington game, a close score may be expected when the club men appear on May 6.

"Preparedness First."

As evidence of the large number of guests who will spend the week-end at Lausanne, the entire hall is in a hustle. The co-eds divide their time between making dance costumes, play costumes and the general house cleaning which occurs at this time of the year.
