Larry Cox Meets Head of Chinese Rebel Forces During Last Year

Civil Strife of Country Comes As Surprise To Ex-Student There

By Bill Clemes Recent civil strife in China should be of special interest to Willamette university. One of its students is a personal friend of Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang, leader of the rebel troops that last Friday captured Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, head of the Chinese government.

Surprise to Cox The tragically tangled civil strife, which has thrown all China into confusion, came as a complete surprise to Cox. Although rumors of civil war were widespread in China while Cox was there, he did not believe that actual warfare would result.

Defies Japan At this time he courageously defied all Japanese warnings, and remained loyal to the Chinese Government. In 1931 his provinces were confiscated by the Japanese. When he came to Nanking he was appointed by Chiang Kai-shek and the National Government as governor of Peiping and later given command of Government troops in Northwest China.

Chinese Advance Unwise Although Cox admires Marshal Chang and regards him as an idealistic and conscientious general, he does not feel that his policy of immediate attack upon Japan is a wise one. "China lacks airplanes and guns for an attack upon the Japanese war lords who are running their country," Cox said.

Service Award Is Given To Becken

Stellar Guard Wins Out Over Teammates In Student Vote

As the result of the vote of his teammates and then the student body as a whole, Elliot "Tootie" Becken, stellar junior guard, was last night awarded the Robinson-Morris award symbolic of the most valuable service to the football team for 1936.

The Robinson-Morris award donated by the Robinson-Morris Engraving company of Portland provides for the selection of three players by the team itself who are voted upon by the students. Bill Beard, Dick Weisgerber, and Becken were the team's choices.

Ralph Gustafson and Leroy Casey, both juniors who have had extensive experience in class leadership, are the two men elected to fill places left vacant in the local chapter of the Blue Key fraternity this fall, and tentative choices were made for the two second semester $25 scholarships.

Monk Addresses New Campus YM

The newly organized campus Y. M. C. A. met Monday night in Chresto to hold a discussion lead by Professor Monk on the subject "The Place of Vocations in Education." The group in attendance was generally agreed that a person needed a liberal arts education before specializing in any certain field.

PROFESSORIAL CHRISTMAS CHEER

The fear of a test, if there are any instructors who would wish to carry the emphasis of diligent pursuit of studies to such limits, will not prevail for long once the excitement of a holiday homecoming takes possession of the student.

Gustafson To See National Blue Key Meet

National Meeting To Be Held In New Orleans December 29-31

Each of 73 Chapters To Send One Delegate To Convention

Ralph Gustafson, newly elected to membership of the local chapter of the Blue Key national honorary fraternity, was officially named, by action taken early this week, Willamette representative to the Blue Key national convention to be held in New Orleans, Louisiana December 29-31.

This meeting is the second biennial convention called under the sponsorship of the fraternity. Each chapter may send one official delegate, giving each chapter one vote. The majority of the important business, relating to every chapter of the nation, is to come up for the consideration of this body.

Loyola Men Hosts All expenses incurred by the delegates must be paid by them or by the chapter they represent. Other necessary expenditures will be taken care of by the National Fraternity.

The chapter at Loyola University of the South will be the official host for the convention. Each visitor will pay a registration fee of not more than $15 upon his arrival. This amount will cover luncheons, dinners, dances, and a room at the magnificent Roosevelt Hotel for the three days which the delegate will spend at the convention.

There are 73 Blue Key chapters in the United States. Oregon has only three. Besides Willamette, Oregon State and Pacific University also have Blue Key chapters.

Dr. Matthews Is Museum Visitor

Dr. James T. Matthews is probably more familiar with Willamette's history than anyone on the campus. Consequently, he does not see the museum display as a collection of relics but rather as familiar objects of a few years past.

Next we looked through the old books that once belonged to literary societies on the campus. Dr. Matthews recognized many of the names mentioned in the "minutes of the meeting." Some were fellow-clubmates and some were faculty members.

We saw the name Matthews with strange initials and our guide explained that his brother and he were students here at the same time.

In the Collegian for October 27, 1915, we saw a news item entitled "Lecture given by Matthews." As he glanced over the page he smiled broadly and said, "I remember well that day I gave that speech."

NECROLOGY

Mrs. Edna Eastham Brown, 86, Silverton's oldest pioneer mother, passed away at her home November 29. She was born November 25, 1850, on the donation land claim of her parents, William French and Della Eastham, pioneers to the Oregon territory in 1848. The family had always been active in the development of Marion county. In the Eastham home was the first public library in the state.

Mrs. Brown was a teacher in Marion county for many years; she attended Willamette University in the early 60's. In the historical society collection in Portland is a Union flag made by Mrs. Brown and her sister, Viola, when the news of the outbreak of the Civil war reached the Pacific coast. No flag was obtainable for patriotic display and the two girls set about making one.

At a double wedding, Edna Eastham and James Madison Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Jake McClaine, Silverton pioneers, were married in Oregon City. The early Silverton home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown is the oldest standing home in Silverton.

The late Percy L. Brown, a son of the deceased, established and maintained the present interurban telephone system of the Silverton community, and developed the electric lighting and water system of the town from a small beginning. He passed away three years ago.

Mrs. Brown was a member of the Woman's Relief Corps for many years.

Surviving are a brother, Orange Eastham, Portland attorney who graduated from Willamette in 1896; two sisters, Marian Alexander of Forest Grove, and Ruby Thussen of Cambridge, Mass.; four grandchildren, Lowell and Virginia Brown of Silverton, Delmar Serebrennikov of San Francisco, and three great grandchildren.

Louis Bach, professor emeritus of modern languages at Oregon State college and head of that department for 22 years, died December 10, of pneumonia. He was a native of Germany and a graduate of the University of Switzerland.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Jay D. Coulter, about two months ago. She had been confined to a hospital for four months. Besides her husband, a daughter, Pauline, aged two, survives. Mr. Coulter, who was graduated from Willamette in '23, is section chief of the Veterans' Administration Bureau in Washington, D. C. He was formerly with the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

PERSONALS

Miss Anna Jo Fleming, '35, is supervisor of music in the Marshfield schools. She held this position last year also.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Gilbert Wrenn (Kathleen LaRaut), '26, and '24, and three-year-old son, Bobby, are residing on the campus at University of Minnesota. The Wrenns drove from Palo Alto to Salem in September, then on to Minneapolis. Dr. Wrenn, who has been assistant registrar for student personnel and active professor of education at Stanford University, is assistant director of the general college and associate professor of education on the University of Minnesota faculty. He will devote a portion of his time to research in education problems. Dr. Wrenn received his M.A. and Ph.D. from Stanford.

Of especial interest to those who knew Mrs. Wrenn as one of Willamette's popular vocalists is the announcement that she won a position in the Minneapolis a capella choir. Of 17 vacancies to be filled only two were for first sopranos. Only one soprano vacancy was filled, Mrs. Wrenn being the fortunate applicant. Over 100 tried out for the 17 positions, and there were six judges. Mrs. Wrenn was highly complimented by the judges and the conductor of the choir. She had her vocal training at Willamette under Prof. E. W. Hobson. She was very active in musical circles at Stanford and in Palo Alto.

WILLAMETTE ALUMNI OND STUDENTS WILL BANQUET

The annual banquet of Willamette alumni, students, and friends will be held December 29 in Portland at 6:00 p. m., at the Imperial Hotel. This banquet is sponsored by the Portland Willamette club, of which Jim Nutter is president. The Willamette football team and coaches will be guests. Motion pictures of the football games with Fresno, Whittier, and Whitman will be shown by Prof. Leslie J. Sparks, '19.

Student Editorials

Dear Editor: We have heard much campus discussion of late concerning the merits of the various faculty members.

Most of the unfavorable criticism has been directed at the professors by student letters to the Collegian and at least one professor has made a counter attack in class to defend the faculty.

This week, however, students changed their method of attack. When one student in a certain class criticized his professor, the latter opened the meeting for discussion and invited all who held grievances or grudges to speak forth freely.

The result was that a large portion of the class expressed themselves by directly criticizing their professor face to face. The professor heard all complaints and answered them in turn.

It is my opinion that such frank, direct criticism is far more constructive and valuable to all concerned.

Personally, I admire that professor, for he listened patiently to a shower of comments, some of which were unfair and impudent. We hope he has paved the way for a new era in student suggestions under which students will express their criticisms not to the campus but rather to the professor.

TO BE SEEN ON THE SCREEN

GRAND

This reporter had the privilege last week of pre-viewing the current attraction at the Grand, and can honestly say that "Banjo On My Knee" is one of the better pictures of the year. If you want to see a new Barbara Stanwyck, a different Joel McCrea, a hilarious one-man band, a popular Buddy Ebsen, and the St. Louis Blues "done" as you have never heard it before, you will feel well-satisfied with this picture. It deals with poor river house folk on the Mississippi, and does it so revealingly that you almost become one of them. The picture is too full of funny incidents to attempt narration here, but sufficeth it enough to say that if you don't find the height of entertainment in this picture, you are welcome to ask for your refund of ticket purchase.

STATE

Along with the increasingly popular vaudeville show this

Friday and Saturday, the State will present Francis Lederer, Ann Morrison, and Fred E. Stone in "My American Wife," the story of a European noble who desires to become American, whereas his wife seeks social glory due a baroness. Hilarity abounds in the picture, as well as do a few well-directed slaps at American society.

On Sunday and Monday "Three Married Men" will air their matrimonial adventures. Then on Tuesday, the return of "Scrooge" which proved so popular last year.

HOLLYWOOD

Jean Harlow and Cary Grant are to be seen in "Suzy," the best of Miss Harlow's screen career. Cast as a secret service agent who must obtain evidence from Grant, Jean finds it very difficult to two-time someone she loves. A good supporting cast is included in the picture which begins Sunday.

Chresto Cottage Scene of Party For Children

Yesterday afternoon from three-thirty to five-thirty a varied group of children selected by the Red Cross from the poorer families of the city was made especially happy because of the generosity of the Social Service committee of the campus Y. W. C. A., which gave a party in their home at Chresto.

There was a large Christmas tree, from which numerous presents were distributed by members of the committee; there were games to be enjoyed; there was plenty of food for even the hungriest of little boys; and altogether it was a social event enjoyed as much by the hard-working hostesses as the hilarious guests.

Miss Marian Wakefield, chairman of the Social Service committee of the Y. W. C. A., was in charge of the party, assisted by Miss Barbara Chapler, Miss Caroline Woods, Miss Rae Hungerford, Miss Marjorie Herr, Miss Mary Farnum, Miss Dorothy McGee, Miss Enid Clifford, Miss Mary Sadler, and Miss Dorianne Wilson.

Group Meets At Chresto Party

Chresto cottage was the scene of a delightful party last Saturday night, when a group of sorority and non-sorority, and fraternity and independent students gathered together for the annual Chresto Christmas party.

There was a variety of activity going on. The first arrivals decorated the large Christmas tree, after which a number of games were enjoyed. A Virginia Reel was danced, and there was a continuous round of corn popping. Each guest spent the informal evening to his own satisfaction.

Miss Helen Woodfin acted as hostess for the occasion. Miss Julia Philp, Y. W. vice-president, was in charge of the party, assisted by Dean Olive Dahl and Miss Grace Jackson.

Alpha Phi Alpha and Beta Chi Give Dances

Probably the outstanding social events of the school year are the annual sorority formal, two of which were given last Saturday night, with the third set for tomorrow night.

The Alpha Phi Alpha formal took place at Hazel Green, with hours from eight-thirty to eleven-thirty. A white and gold silhouette motif decorated the hall, with tall white baskets of bronze chrysanthemums in the corners of the dance floor, palms and baskets of bronze chrysanthemums about the fireplace and banked around the orchestra pit. The dance programs of white mother of pearl silhouettes against gold foil cleverly carried out the decorative theme.

At the intermission the Alpha Phi Alpha trio, composed of Miss Martha Jane Hottel, Miss Constance Smart, and Miss Jones, sang several numbers.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Yocom, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harland, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Keene, and Mr. and Mrs. David Wright.

Alpha Phi Alpha's and their guests were: Misses Betty Williams, Kay Thompson, Janet Powell, Lunelle Chapin, Jeanette Brown, Mary Fronk, Helen Peterson, Dortha Kietzing, Bellrol Malloy, Audrey Reid, Barbara Kurtz, Jean Anunson, Betty Taylor, Esther Vehrs, Norma Fuller, Muriel Stewart, Esther Callison, Constance Smart, Anoka Coates, Helen Mae Beal, Norma Leek, Lorna Barham, Marjorie Jones, Janice Murray, Margaret McKenzie, Natalie Neer, Ruth Yocom, Martha Jane Hottel, Ann Knight, Margaret Ingdahl, Betty Crane, Marjorie Crane, Rachael Yocom, Helen Hammond, Ariss Jones, Edythe Glaisyer, Alene Bickford, Elva Sehon, Genevra Selander and Helen Horten.

Castilian hall was transformed into a winter scene for the Beta Chi formal, where dancing was enjoyed to the music of Maurice Binford and his orchestra from Portland. Large and small white Christmas trees with blue flood lights were arranged about the hall. Silver and blue rain and stars were effectively used over the entrance and orchestra pit. Tall blue tapers were placed in each window, and blue cellophane covered the lights. Clever white leather programs with silver trim were presented to the guests. The Beta Chi trio, the Misses Rosalie Goulder, Mary Virginia Nohlgren, and Lucella Corn, accompanied by Miss Ina Bennett, sang during the intermission.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance were Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Baxter, Prof. and Mrs. E. C. Richards, Dr. and Mrs. Chester Luther, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wallace, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schreiber. Beta Chi's and their escorts were the Misses Charlotte Litchfield, Phyllis Rhythian, Mary Virginia Nohlgren, Suzanne Curtis, Carol Smith, Betty Dotson, Dorothy Ellinger, Helen Olds, Mary Sadler, Rosalie Goulder, Irma Oehler, Betty Zook, Carolyn Woods, Jane Schultz, Ruth Bunzow, Marlan Wakefield, Julia Johnson, Margaret Ayers, Margaret Gillette, Charlotte Kallender, Dorothy Wright, Irma Calvert, Ethel Denham, Betty Lou Lacey, Evelyn Sherk, Margaret Doege, Charlotte Eyre, Edna Savage, Julia Philp, Melva Belle Savage, Leone Burdick, Belle Brown, Mildred Walker, Dorothy, McGee, Marguerite Clark, Lucella Corn, Lucille Brainard, Lois Miller, Helen Purvine, Jane Fisher, Marian Averill, Betty Savake, Pauline Winslow, Victoria Schneider, Mabel Lenz, Marjorie Thorne, Betty Lane, Jean Hoaglinworth, Maxine Beagle, Ina Bennett, Lillian Graham, Gretchen Spencer, Charlotte McClary, Helen Burdick, Margaret Savage, Helen Boardman and Jermye Upston.

Charity Dance To Be Given
For students and townspeople alike who are remaining in Salem for the holidays an opportunity for pleasurable philanthropy will be given with the Christmas Charity Dance December 23 at the Armory. Bart Woodyard's orchestra will play. Admission of fifty cents a person will be charged, the proceeds from which will be turned over to the local Red Cross for their charitable purposes.

Patrons and patronesses will be Judge and Mrs. George H. Rossman, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesey, Dr. and Mrs. Wolcott Buren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Claggett, and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Allen.

Delta Phi's To Give Annual Dance Friday

The Delta Phi winter formal will be an event of next Friday at Hazel Green, with hours from eight-thirty to eleven-thirty. Harry Wesley and his orchestra will furnish the dance music. A Christmas decorative scheme will be used.

Patrons and patronesses will include Mrs. Fred Alban Weil, Miss Jessie Wood, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Page, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Keene.

Miss Margaret Hauser heads the directorate for the dance, and assisting her are Miss Catherine Hendrick, Miss Loyal Bogardus, Miss June Johnson, Miss Barbara Crookham, and Miss Marguerite Smith.

Houses Give Sunday Dinners

Alpha Psi Delta and Kappa Gamma Rho each entertained Sunday afternoon with informal dinners.

The Christmas motif was used in the table decorations of the Alpha Psi dinner, for which Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Jones were chaperones.

Guests were Miss Anna Mae Unrath, Miss Norma Fuller, Miss Charlotte Kallender, Miss Peggy Peterson, Miss Katherine McKenzie, Miss Marguerite Smith, Miss Kathryn Thompson, Miss Margaret Ayers, and Miss Margaret Hauser.

Hosts were Louis Hershberger, Everett Gary, Bob Yeo, Verne Adams, Brant Gard, Hal Cattley, George Billings, Wilmer McDowell, and Art Lampka.

The Kappa's used bouquets of chrysanthemums as decorations for their dinner. Dr. and Mrs. Lyman S. White were chaperones.

Kappa's and their guests were Miss Leone Burdick, Miss Roberta McGilchrist, Miss Helen Woodfin, Miss Lorene Tompkins, Miss Ruth Tscharner, Miss Frances Ellis, Miss Dorothy Ellinger, and Miss Verna Vosper; and Bob Anderson, Ty Gillespie, Ralph Gustafson, Verne Rierson, Mervin Brink, Kenneth Peterson, Frank Pemberton, and Pat Crossland.

Miss Leeper Is Honored

Miss Dorothy Leeper of Roseburg was honor guest at a birthday dinner for which a group of her friends were hostesses at Lausanne hall Friday night in the chafing dish room. Holly and white tapers were placed on the table.

Covers were placed for Miss Betty Zook, Miss Janet Powell, Miss Dorothy Catler, Miss Carolyn Woods, Miss Harriet Foster, Miss Dorothy Wright, Miss Calvert, Miss Mary Sadler, Miss Julia Fogelson, Miss Ethel Baxter and Mrs. J. A. Mills.

The girls of Lausanne hall enjoyed a serenade later in the evening which was followed by refreshments served by Mrs. J. A. Mills.

APA Dinner On Wednesday

Alpha Phi Alpha held its annual formal Christmas dinner at the house at 6:15 o'clock on Wednesday evening. Special guests were the patronesses of the house, Mrs. David Wright, Mrs. Robert M. Gatke, Mrs. W. J. Busick, Mrs. Percy Kelly, and Mrs. Fred H. Thompson.

The table was formed in a U-shape, with centerpieces of Christmas greenery and red candles.

Miss Constance Smart and Miss Martha Jane Hottel were in charge of the toasts; Miss Betty Crane, Miss Muriel Stewart, and Miss Natalie Neer made up the program committee. Decorations were arranged by Miss Ruth Yocom and Miss Dorothy McDonald, and Miss Ariss Jones was in charge of the program.

Beta Chi Group Dines Saturday

The banquet room of the Argo hotel was the scene of an artistically arranged dinner Saturday night, when a group of Beta Chi seniors arranged a no-host affair preceding the Beta Chi formal at Castilian.

The long T-shaped table was decorated with holly and poinsettias with red candles in silver holders completing the color scheme.

Beta Chi's acting as hostesses were the Misses Pauline Winslow, Marjorie Thorne, Marlan Averill, Victoria Schneider, Lucella Brainard, Charlotte Kallender, Dorothy McGee, Marguerite Clark, Jane Fisher, Helen Boardman, and Jermye Upston.

Their escorts were Fred Weakley, Scotty Hammond, Joe Harvey, Louis Stutz, Otto Wilson, Bob Yeo, John Kelly, Asa Lewelling, Winthrop Henderson, Randall Kester, and Laurence Nunnenkamp.

Delta Phi's Give Dinner

Juniors and seniors of Delta Phi entertained in a formal way at their annual Christmas dinner late last Sunday afternoon. The table was unusually arranged, with decorations of red candles in red bubble bowls and poinsettias, and with individual candles in red altar cups along the sides of the table. Sophomores served, while Miss Esther Nelson played the piano softly during the meal.

Nine couples were present; hostesses in formal dinner gowns were Mrs. F. A. Weil, the Misses Josie Acklin, Dorothy Dingle, Kay Ringo, Mary Jeannette Sargent, Anna May Unrath, Barbara Crookham, Martha Warren, Wanda Landon, and Rosemary Huffman.

Guests were Herman Estes, Winthrop Henderson, Bob Farmer, Willard Petro, George McCleod, Ely Swisher, Jim Burdette, and Joe Felton.

Dinner Given Before Dance

An interesting affair was the dinner given preceding the Alpha Phi Alpha formal by Miss Rose Ann Gibson and Miss Esther Vehrs, at the home of Miss Gibson.

A Christmas color scheme of red and green was carried out, with red candles in silver leaf-shaped holders decorating the rooms, and small red and green place cards for each guest. The color scheme of the dessert carried out this motif further.

Guests included Miss Norma Fuller, Miss Ruth Yocom, and Miss Rachel Yocom, and the two hostesses, Miss Rose Ann Gibson, and Miss Esther Vehrs.

Their escorts were Frank Crawford, Max Hauser, Norman Hogensohn, Guy Heimsoeth, Dayton Robertson, Bob Clarke, Wilbur Curry, and Everett Gary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Garlinghouse (Gladys Taylor) have announced the birth of a son, Lawrence Edwin, born Dec. 2, 1936. Mrs. Garlinghouse was a member of the class of '33 and belonged to the Alpha Phi Alpha house.

Members and pledges of Beta Chi met last night for their annual Christmas party. Besides the usual gifts for the house, other presents, of the not-over-fifteen-cents variety, were exchanged, with due regard for their suitability—or lack of it.

An event of tonight will be the annual Beta Chi-Sigma Tau Christmas serenade, which will take place following the band concert. Miss Helen Olds is in charge of the serenade.

Miss Vivian Widmer of Portland was a week end guest at the Beta Chi house; she was a guest at the sorority formal Saturday night.

Miss Ruth Tscharner spent last week end at the home of her parents in Portland.

Experienced Quintet To Perform On Willamette Court

Keene Boasts Tall, Fighting Hoop Machine

Gastineau, Nunnenkamp, Versteeg, Weaver Anton, Start

No Salem Games Until After Xmas; O.S.C. Here Jan. 5

With height, aggressiveness, and scoring punch influencing his choice, Coach "Spee" Keene has selected a tentative first string lineup to carry on for Willamette as the 1937 basketball campaign nears its opening. The five men that seem to be the "apple" of Keene's eye at present are Jerry Gastineau and Larry Nunnenkamp at the forward posts, Bill Anton in the pivot position, and Walt Weaver and Charley Versteeg at the guards. All are lettermen from last year.

Gastineau, the "Missouri Marksman," is a howitzer artist. He can regularly split the hoop from well beyond the foul circle, and is adept at taking the ball off the backboard. Jerry is 6 ft. 4 inches tall.

Larry Nunnenkamp is probably the most improved fellow on the squad. He can shoot equally well with either hand and his pivoting one handed shot makes him a potent threat on any floor. The Tigard boy stands 6 ft. 2 inches from the ground.

If ever an athlete had a basketball physique it's Bill Anton. The Greek boy is extremely rugged and his 6 ft. 4 inches makes him formidable opposition for anybody's team. Bill has a long one-handed push shot that he can control with unusual accuracy from any angle, no matter how exaggerated the distance might be.

Walt Weaver is one of those "birds" who can do everything... whether it be in football, basketball or baseball. On the maple court he is the ideal type of guard... tough, a ball-hawker ever ready to mix it, and a dependable shot. Weaver soars to 6 ft. 1 inch.

Charley Versteeg is another of those rugged specimens. He's a fine man on defense, and has a one-handed shot that keeps him regularly high up among the point makers on the squad. With his 6 ft. 2 inches of height, Versteeg has the ability to fill a post on any coaches' ball club.

There are some ambitious second stringers, however, who are still "gunning" for those first team jobs. As long as these fellows, personified in Billy Beard, Harry Mosher, John Kelly, Verdel Ragsdale, Ernie Mosher, Jack Alton, and a few others, continue to stay out there the regulars will have to hustle... if they are to retain their positions.

The conference schedule has been worked out but the status of pre-season contests still remains indefinite. It is certain that Oregon State will appear in Salem sometime during the first week of January and also that a series of games with Portland independents will be arranged over the holiday period. Willamette and Portland University have tentatively agreed to meet this year but the date is undetermined.

In the bigger independent teams of the Rose City, the Bearcats will meet plenty of strong competition. The rosters of these squads are generously filled with the names of ex-college stars who know what it's all about. The conference schedule: Feb. 1-2, College of Idaho at Salem; Feb. 5-8, College of Puget Sound at Tacoma; Feb. 12, Albany at Albany; Feb. 16, Pacific at Forest Grove; Feb. 19-20, Whitman at Salem; Feb. 22, Albany at Salem; Feb. 24, Pacific at Salem.

HEMP SWISHER

Jerry Gastineau, flashy sophomore forward, is one of the best shots on the Bearcat varsity and is expected to be a mainstay of the team this year.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By DAN MOSES

Because of the recent rainy weather, the two final games in the school passball championship series have had to be postponed. However, the P. E. staff and the Kappa Gamma Rho outfit were scheduled to play their game yesterday with the losers to be eliminated from further title consideration, and the winners are scheduled to play the undefeated Alpha Psi's today. If the Alpha Psi's win today's game, they will receive the championship. Otherwise, another game will be required tomorrow to determine the school champions.

The playoff standings are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Alpha Psi Delta	2	0	1.000
Kappa Gamma Rho	0	1	.000
P. E. Staff	0	1	.000

Since it is so late in the season and the weather has been unfavorable, Graduate Manager Sparks and intra-mural sports manager, George Erickson, have decided to postpone speed-ball until next spring, and instead substitute volleyball as the next sport on the intra-mural program.

Volleyball and basketball, which are to be played in the gymnasium, will start the first week after the Christmas holidays. Teams in the basketball league are Kappa Gamma Rho, Alpha Psi Delta, Sigma Tau, Independents, P. E. Staff, Law school, Fish Chokers and the Freshman "B" team.

In previous years basketball as an intra-mural sport has proved highly popular, and it is hoped that volleyball will prove as interesting.

A regular schedule will be drawn up soon for these sports with a playoff at the end of the league play to determine the school champions.

Well, vacation is only one day off, so HAPPY HOLIDAYS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR! May Christmas bring you joy and cheer!

Martha Jane Hottel discussed Christmas customs in Hawaii with the Wesleyan group on Monday noon. The program also contained the singing of a number of Christmas carols.

BEARCAT HOOPER

Don Brandon will be playing his last year for the Bearcat hoop squad this season. Don is one of the hardest working men on the squad and leads lots of fight to his teammates.

Freshmen Play In City Loop Opener

Pair of Contests Split With Franz' Quint—48-25, 31-32

Coach Sparks' fresh basketballers will play their first city league competition of the year tonight when they take the floor against the Oregon Paper Company five in the first stanza of a six team jamboree program that marks the tipoff of league play for the 1936-7 season. The exhibition, that brings together three pairs of teams each for a 20-minute period, will be played on the Leslie Junior high floor beginning at 7 o'clock.

The first regular round of games are listed for Monday evening, with drawings tonight to determine the schedule. These two contests are probably the only competition the rookies will play before school resumes after the holidays.

After the first of the year, a schedule of 35 or 40 games will be undertaken, beginning with a game at Salem High January 5.

QUESETH

and at Commerce of Portland, January 12.

Teams in the league are Oregon Paper, Freshmen, General Finance, Grand Theater, Valley Motor Co., and the Y. M. C. A. "Crunchers."

St. Helens, defeated decisively by the Bearkittens last Friday night, came back the next morning and nosed out a 32 to 31 win to even the series. The Willamette team will journey to St. Helens for a return game later in the year. Outstanding players in the two games were Cecil Queseth and Buzz Hagedorn, Rook forwards, and Daggett and Mason, St. Helens flashes. Scores: W. U. Frosh (48) (25) St. H. Queseth 11...F... 6 Tupper Hagedorn 16...F... 10 Mason Wagner 8...C... 3 Hamilton McKibbin 5...G... 2 Shadley Kyle 9...G... 4 McGinn Ransom 4...S Shinn 4...S

KOLUMN * KOMMENT

By BOB KEUSCHER (Collegian Sports Editor)

For the third consecutive year Willamette University has been honored by selection of one of its football players to the Associated Press' unique all-star grid team, the "Little-All-American" eleven—Dick Weisgerber being the recipient of the coveted award for this season. Dick, second highest scorer in the nation and one of the best backs on the Pacific coast, is doubly honored by the choice, for while it is a great honor to make the team it is even greater laurels to make the team as a junior. Last year's team included only one junior, Mike Kobrosky, of Trinity college, who was selected again this year.

The only other coast star honored this year, Douglas Oldershaw, Santa Barbara State, who was labeled as All-American material this year by several outstanding sports writers, is one of the greatest linemen ever developed in California grid circles. He also is a junior.

No hoop games till after Christmas. That's the forthcoming word from the Bearcat coaching staff early this week and, frankly, we are somewhat disappointed. Last year's scheme of opening the season just before the holidays with three "big" tilts was without question the biggest sendoff the local basketball season has ever had. Too bad the policy couldn't have been continued.

University of Washington has enjoyed the greatest year of athletic achievement during 1936 that the school has ever known. The victory parade began last March when the Huskies copped the Northern division hoop crown and moved on to the Olympic finals in New York where they won third place and top rank among college teams in the United States. In April the Husky crew began a season that was to carry them to a world's championship in the oar-plying sport at the eleventh Olympiad. Then this fall the grid team walked off with the Coast Conference crown, won the Rose Bowl bid, and received one of the highest rankings in the nation.

ODDS AND ENDS

Charles Ford, halfback on the Kellogg, Indiana high school football team, vanished suddenly while running interference for a teammate. Investigation showed that his disappearance was caused by the collapse of a concealed board that covered a five-foot hole. Aided by his team, young Kellogg climbed out and led them to a 19-0 victory... Back in Ohio, twin brothers serve as coaches for the rival high school teams of Shelby and Willard. For the third consecutive year the teams played a tie game this season... An annual event at both U. of Oregon and U. of Idaho is a Thanksgiving day cross-country race between fraternity teams. Besides cups and trophies for the individual winner and the winning teams, turkeys, geese and other poultry serve as prizes. Sixty-five entrants took part in the Oregon meet this year... The Pasadena Rose Bowl bid is worth a mere $65,000 to $80,000 to the western representative... 3,000 hot dogs and 200,000 peanuts were consumed at the Oregon-O. S. C. grid classic this year... Louisiana State U. promised to send along with their team a 209-piece band, 1500 cadets, and most of her 6000 student body if she got the Rose Bowl offer this year... Coach John Bunn of Stanford lost just one man from last year's champion hoop team, and expects to cop the honors again this season. Again "Hank" Lufseth, now a junior, will put on his sensational performance for the Cards... Urgel "Slim" Wintermute, 6-foot-7 inch sophomore center from Longview, who critics say looks better than Ed Lewis, ex-O. S. C. all-American pivotman, did when he was playing his first varsity ball, has taken over the center spot on Howard Hobson's Web-foot quintet and in his first game scored 17 points... At O. S. C., Nello Canelli, who preceded Bill Anton as high scorer of the Portland prep league while at Commerce high, has virtually cinched a regular berth... Ex-tournament stars on the state schools' varsities are numerous. At Oregon are Roy Jewell, Wayne Scott, Dave Silver, Laddie Gale, Bobby Anet and Wally Johansen. At O. S. C. are Ike Wintermute, Al and Fred Sandoz, and Bob Rismann.

D. Weisgerber Named On AP All Star Team

"Little All-American" Recognition Won By W. U. Star

Following in the footsteps of two other great Bearcat grid stars—Loren Grannis '34 and John Oravee '35—Dick Weisgerber, Willamette's mighty fullback early this week received notice of his appointment to the Associated Press' Little All-American football team for 1936.

Making the team, a squad chosen from players of the smaller schools of the nation, is one of the greatest honors that can come to a player, for the team is the only one of its kind in existence.

Weisgerber and Oldershaw, of Santa Barbara, were the only western players named. Dick was the outstanding player of the northwest conference and one of highest scorers in the nation, while Oldershaw was one of the best linemen on the coast. The team:

Ends—Hammond, Southwest (Tenn.); Deutsch, St. Benedict's (Kas.). Tackles—Milke, W. Va. Wesleyan (W. Va.); Niehaus, Dayton (Ohio).

Guards—Oldershaw, Santa Barbara St. (Cal.); Anderson, Middlebury (Vt.).

Center—Cooper, Howard (Ala.). Backs—Locke, St. Mary's (Texas); Riffle, Albright (Pa.); Kobrosky, Trinity (Conn.); Weisgerber, Willamette (Oregon).

Valley League To Sponsor Jamboree Here Friday Night

Following a custom begun with the football season this year, the Willamette Valley Interscholastic Athletic Association, a league made up of Canby, Silverton, Woodburn, Molalla, Newberg, Dallas, Independence, and West Linn high schools, will open their basketball season with a big jamboree contest featuring all the teams in one evening's performance. The event is scheduled for Friday evening on the Willamette maple court.

The schedule pits the four western quintets—those located on the west side of the Willamette river—against the eastern teams—or those situated on the east bank of the river. Drawings will be made early in the evening and the teams will take the floor by pairs one after the other until four complete periods have been run off. The score continues from one period to another with the group of teams having the highest total, the winners.

This type of program was originated in football, and provided plenty of thrills without the usual delay between periods. It is expected to provide an equally entertaining program tomorrow evening.

School Cage Loop Opens In January

Intra-mural basketball will start on Monday, January 4, immediately after the Christmas holidays, according to a schedule drawn up for the first week's play by Graduate Manager Leslie Sparks and intra-mural sports editor, Dan Moses, last Tuesday. The schedule for the remainder of the season will be made at a later date and will be published in the next issue of the Collegian.

The league will be composed of eight teams—Sigma Tau, Alpha Psi Delta, Kappa Gamma Rho, Independents, P. E. Staff, Law school, Fish Chokers, and the Freshman "B" team—who will play a round robin schedule with each team playing every other team twice.

The games will be played at 12 o'clock noon in the gymnasium, and the four teams who finish highest in the league play will compete in a double elimination championship playoff series at the end of the season.

Similarity of Mae West

(Continued from Page 1) going out of the window by about two inches and comes down on the floor like a fuel man dumping five tons of coal on a tin roof. If the library occupants should one of these days see a lone foot sticking through the ceiling back in the vicinity of the book stacks, they need not feel overly sympathetic. It's all in a day's work for the cast of "Twelfth Night."

Water Wagon and Scoreboard to Be Used Next Season

Two new features will lend color and service a next year's Willamette football games if plans announced recently materialize. A gigantic scoreboard is to be constructed early next spring for both baseball and football from money secured in a recent drive by the lettermen's club. Immediately following this announcement the Portland alumni association revealed its plan to secure a rubber-tired water-cart for the Bearcats athletic department. Both of these improvements have long been needed by the school.
