Race-Religion Problems Aired At Inter-Fraternity Meeting

"Each college fraternity is a social organization, voluntary in membership and is entitled to exercise its fundamental American right to choose members in accordance with its own standards."

This was the policy concerning discrimination of a race-religious nature that was outlined by graduate delegates at the recent National Inter-Fraternity Council conference in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

3 WU Students Help Plan Fete

Sharon Allen, Gretchen Goodrich, and Paul Aldinger will represent Willamette tonight and tomorrow in Portland at a planning session for Portland State College's 1958 Winter Carnival.

Representatives from 15 schools in Oregon, Washington, and Idaho will plan the activities for the occasion.

The Winter Carnival will be held at Timberline Lodge at Mount Hood February 8 and 9, and will feature a floor show, an all-school dance, skiing exhibition, contests of all types, plus many other activities.

Each participating school will enter a Snow Princess as a candidate for the Snow Queen to reign over the glorious weekend.

This is the second year of the Winter Carnival and if it continues to be successful may become a traditional event.

Chamber of Commerce Elects Gregg President

Dr. Robert D. Gregg, who has been dean of the college of liberal arts for the past nine years, was elected the 1958 Salem Chamber of Commerce president.

Besides being the C of C's second vice president, his impressive civic record also includes serving on the U.S. C of C committee on foreign policy and being the committee's disarmament subcommittee chairman.

Dean Gregg is a former president of Salem Rotary and Knife and Fork Club; a member of the Salvation Army board of directors; and the first chairman of the Salem Chamber's Metropolitan Planning Division.

Lewis Bright and Ted Cook, who represented the University at the conference, presented the results at a meeting of the campus Inter-Fraternity Council. This was the first time the university had been represented at such a conference.

At present the only men's fraternity on campus that has any policy of a discriminatory nature is Sigma Chi, which bans Negro membership. Sig president Rick Mercer says that local members favor removal of the ban, however.

Local chapters of any fraternity are not responsible for the national fraternity policy and are powerless to change it except through the national organization of their fraternity.

Lewis and Clark College was reprimanded by the National IFC for its policy of boycotting fraternities that have discriminatory clauses within their structure.

A statement of policy is expected soon from the Willamette IFC regarding the report brought back from the convention.

Law Student Meets Sultan

Stuart Gates, Willamette Law student, returned recently from Washington D. C. where he met personally with King Mohammed of Morocco who has been visiting this country.

Gates was invited to a reception in Washington with the Sultan at the personal request of the king and his advisors who knew Gates when he was assistant attache of the U. S. legation at Tangiers.

He served with the U. S. diplomatic service from 1951 to 56, part of which time he spent in Tangiers where he became acquainted with members of the Sultan's entourage. Leaving the diplomatic corps, Gates studied at the University of Geneva, Switzerland, before enrolling at Willamette.

Council Elects White Rotarian; 'Dead Month' Policy Discussed

Dick White, second vice-president of the student body, was elected Rotarian of the Month during student council Wednesday. The active man about campus will represent Willamette at Salem's Rotary International meetings during the coming month.

WHITE HAS served as editor of the student handbook, was president of the Campus YMCA, and has held two regional offices in the Y. Last spring he was manager of May Weekend, is currently the Mac Baker and Lewis Bright, senior men's debate team, took the third place gold trophy award in a field of 67 teams from 50 schools and colleges in a California speech tournament last week.

Senior Debaters Capture Trophy

A total of 500 students from schools in nine western states participated in the event, at the George Pepperdine College in Los Angeles.

This year's national debate topic is Resolved: That the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be abolished.

Other Willamette students attending the tournament were Emil Muhs, Lewis Hisel, Kay Ruberg and Gayle Sandine. They were accompanied by Dr. Howard Runkel, director of forensics.

'Thunder Rock' Presentation Closes CR Week Activities

Presentation of "Thunder Rock" tonight and tomorrow night will climax Christian Resource Week, with the story of one man's spiritual rehabilitation. Performances will be in the Fine Arts auditorium at 8:15 both nights.

THE PLAY IS A regular University Theater production, but was chosen for its emphasis of spiritual values. It was written by Robert Ardrey.

Bob Higbee will portray the lead,

Charleston, a writer trying to get away from the world. He takes care of a lighthouse in the middle of Lake Michigan.

DAN FELLER IS the pilot who flies him there and Jack Knapp is his boss. Clyde Olsen portrays Cassidy, his relief man. Laurel Tiller as Nonny, a young handyman, and Steve Hone as Chang, a Chinese, complete the cast of "real" characters.

Other members of the cast are the characters that Charleston imagines after reading an old ship's log. They had all drowned in 1849, but his imagination brings them back to life.

THEY INCLUDE Mac Baker as Captain Joshua, an old sea captain; Ross Stephen as Briggs, a Cockney

Chuck Pfister, freshman, won first prize of $15 in the CR week poster contest.

Pfister's poster depicting a lighthouse to illustrate the theme of CR week, "What Do You Live For?" appeared on the programs for the week and will be featured on the programs for the play "Thunder Rock," tonight and tomorrow night.

Pat Culley won the $10 second prize in the contest.

Problems Pondered

Informal buzz groups were a familiar sight this week as students paused to ponder the theme of Christian Resource Week, "What Do You Live For?" Members of the CR Week executive committee, Joan Sherrill, John Heidel, Dave Steward, and Warren Walker, are pictured above engrossed in a typical discussion with Dr. Adolphe Weinzirl, professor of public health at the University of Oregon Medical School, who spoke at Tuesday's convocation. Drs. Gregg, Cornelius Figure In Human Rights Observance Dean Robert Gregg and Dr. William Cornelius will figure prominently Tuesday in Salem's first observance of the anniversary of the United Nation's acceptance of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, sponsored by campus Unesco and the Methodist church.

DR. CORNELIUS will moderate a panel, of which Dean Gregg is a member, in a discussion exploring aspects of human rights in the Declaration, at 8 p.m. in the First Methodist church.

Other members of the panel are Oregon Supreme Court Justice James T. Brand, Mrs. Robert Y. Thornton, wife of Oregon's Attorney General, and the Reverend Wayne Green of the First Christian church.

TUESDAY IS THE ninth anniversary of the acceptance of the declaration by the General Assembly of the United Nations. The declaration is a broad statement of the ideals of the members of the United Nations, including political, economic, social and civil rights.

Nations ratifying the declaration pledged to uphold its principles but cannot be legally forced to do so.

Delegates Picked For Leader Meet

Tom Honl, Sondra Roark, and Dick White leave this afternoon to represent Willamette at the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders conference at Lewis and Clark today and tomorrow.

This annual conference draws together outstanding delegates from universities and colleges all over Oregon. From this conference, the representatives hope to bring back helpful suggestions that will aid local student councils and their student body officers and leaders as they strive to improve their schools.

The problems and new ways of improving college government and activities will be discussed at this two-day session. This conference was held on the Willamette campus last year.

The three delegates were chosen by a student council committee.

Dear Ed:

RO for Guards?

Dear Editor:

On November 23 all second year ROTC men had the privilege of taking an eight hour Air Force Officers' Qualification test on threat of getting an incomplete in a "required" course, even to the extent of including those working for commissions in the Naval and Army Reserve units . . .

THE ROTC department can't justify, as it has attempted, its requirement that everyone spend an entire Saturday divorced from gainful employment or study to take its test, because those certified 4-F by their draft board and those in reserve units and perhaps working for a commission there could not take a commission in the Air Force.

I quote from the report of the special committee of the Board of Trustees who studied the ROTC program at Willamette in January of this year:

" . . . Participation (in ROTC) is required of all male students except those who can be exempt on grounds acceptable to community draft boards. Exemptions are handled through the Dean of Students office, and every consideration is given to requests for exemptions."

CERTAINLY EVERYONE in the Army, Navy and Marine Reserves and the National Guard and those classified 4-F have exemptions acceptable to their draft boards.

In actuality, the ROTC department is so entrenched that the administration gives no consideration to interviews, pleas and petitions for exemption and this year is making sophomore and junior 4-F's, previously exempt, enroll in the program.

THE JUSTIFICATION for this course of action is, of course, the added prestige enjoyed because of large student enrollment and perhaps an attempt to compensate for the unwarrantable sum the university squanders on the program and the expense to the government.

In closing, I hope the administration can see fit to exempt, as the Board of Trustees has stated, those not eligible according to their draft boards, including those that are reservists, from double military duty.

Respectfully
Fred Van Natta.

More on Ethics

Dear Editor:

Mr. Gildea shouldn't be expected to know all that the world's thinkers have said about ethics, but as a point of fact, a great deal more has been said than he seems to realize.

I THINK IT IS only fair to warn him that most people do not want to discover that they or their ideals have any shortcomings. And most of the ideals we have are heavily backed by rationalizations and cultural institutions which will not be changed merely because we think they ought to be.

While this doesn't necessarily make it meaningless to talk about what ought to be, it does mean that such talk will be regarded as speculative and slightly obnoxious by all who overhear it.

SOMETIMES, TO be sure, real people are involved in real situations which cannot be fitted into the moral framework that served them in the past. But we are all duly sophisticated Americans, and such things do not happen to us.

Merlin Hofstetter.

partial impartial policy

The Collegian's editorial policy is a hard thing to define since it has been left in the hands of each individual editor through the years. There have been few world shaking decisions to make in regard to Willamette news and opinion, therefore obviously nothing seemed to warrant any clear-cut policy.

However, this policy, along with most of the other habits called institutions at our fair school, has been questioned by both students and faculty in recent weeks. Most of the criticism has been directed at the publication of certain letters to the editor and the responsibility of the editor in deeming such letters fit for publication.

Since the need appears to exist, then, the Collegian will submit a statement of its editorial policy at the next meeting of Publications Board for their approval. Until such definite action is taken the following partial program will govern what appears in the paper.

All news which is of interest and concern to the student body will be reported in an unbiased manner. Editorial comment concerning news will be the opinion of the person writing the editorial. All editorials from staff members other than the editor are initiated.

Letters to the editor must be signed and the names will be printed. We will reserve the right to delete any section of a letter and will not consider those which contain groundless accusations of a personal or libelous nature.

Every effort will be made to adequately cover every activity and avoid slighting any area or department.

SNOW FALL

By Jean Martin

As the grass, feathered with crystals pure;
as the tree, fluffed to creamy white;
as the walk, flaked footsteps free at the dawn. So even we.

As the grass, the tree, the walk:
Trodden by cold, careless feet, toppled with stark icy might;
tainted, a mud-melted sea
at the dusk.

So even we.

Jim Davis Lauds Employment As Apprentice for Doubleday

Last July Jim Davis became the first Willamette graduate to be chosen as a Doubleday and Company apprentice. After his departure for his revolving position with the largest publishing house in the world, enthusiastic letters to Dr. Paul Trueblood mirror Davis' life.

DR. TRUEBLOOD was appointed the honorary representative of the Doubleday Company last year. His job: conduct a campus canvas of Willamette seniors with a bent toward the publishing business. Willamette is the only west coast school to offer the Doubleday apprenticeship.

After his arrival in New York City, apprentice Davis met Ken McCormick, a 1928 graduate of Willamette, who is now the editor-in-chief of Doubleday. McCormick introduced Davis to the Doubleday plant where he would have practical experience in all phases of the book publishing business.

IN THE SEARCH to see for which position, if any, he would be best adapted, Davis began as a clerk in a Doubleday book shop on Fifth Avenue described as the "jewel in the chain of Doubleday book stores." He is now employed in one of the lowest positions, that of reading unsolicited manuscripts. Half of them, he wrote Dr. Trueblood, are incoherent with abominable English.

The Doubleday plant, described by Davis as efficient, casual and friendly, met with his approval. And so does life in New York City. He and his wheelchair bound roommate, also a Doubleday employee, have taken in all foreign movies and stage plays of New York City, among them "Three Penny Opera," "Most Happy Fella," "My Fair Lady," and the Greenwich Village production of Wycherly's "Country Wife."

Majors in any of the humanities, art, literature, languages, journalism, speech, drama and philosophy are preferred, although some economics and business majors are sought each year. With possibilities of promotion unlimited apprenticeships are spread from selling and promoting to book cover design to manuscript reading. Women also are included in the apprentice program.

The Social Scoop

By MARY LOU KRAUSE

PARTIES BRING CHRISTMAS

"Party-time" for the sophomores will be this Wednesday evening when a serviceable as well as social evening is planned by combining Christmas caroling at the Salem old folks homes with a cocoa and doughnut party at the YMCA afterwards.

Doney Hall women plan to have a Tree Trim party on Wednesday and promise to transform Doney with holiday spangles.

Decorating at the wards of the Mental Hospital this Saturday morning will be the Betas who want to spread a little Christmas cheer.

MEETING BASIC NEEDS

Do you hunger for scrambled eggs, tomato juice, and Methodist fellowship? Wesley offers a breakfast on Dec. 14 with the theme of "meeting basic needs." All Methodist preference students and professors are welcome to this breakfast which will be held in Lausanne Hall at 8:30 a. m. The price of 25c includes bacon and eggs, tomato juice, toast, and coffee or milk.

UPSIDE DOWN DAY

Turn-about day at the Phi Delt house found the lowly members doing pledge duties and wakeup at odd hours and places, and put them at the mercy of the pledges at a Kangaroo court where misbehaving members were at last cornered and punished.

Secret Told in Mock Memo

A stern mock memo from the Dean's office, read with great seriousness at the Pi Beta Phi house meeting, announced the engagement of Connie Clark to Larry Lister.

Miss Clark is president and past social chairman of the Pi Phi house and was co-manager of Varsity Varieties last year. She is majoring in sociology and is departmental assistant in her department.

A '57 Willamette graduate in psychology, Lister is presently attending graduate school at the University of Washington. While at Willamette, Lister was vice president and sergeant-at-arms of his class, a member of the rally squad, president of Psi Chi, and a member of Sigma Chi.

Medford, the home of Miss Clark, will be the place of their late summer wedding.

Dancing Bears

Honeybears will give their next important performance at the Sacramento State basketball game, to be played here Tuesday evening.

An added attraction will be a pre-game glimpse of the Honeybears at Tuesday convocation where they will do a short dance routine, according to Sandy Reed, leader of the Honeybears. Choreography for the dances was done by Lee Wilkinson, who has had much experience in modern dance routines.

Selling pompoms at games in order to raise funds for uniforms will be a future Honeybear activity.

Young Demos to Host Executive Board Meet

Willamette Young Democrats will play host to the monthly meeting of the Executive Board of the Oregon YD Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Marion Hotel.

Fred Chambers, president of the campus group, invited all Willamette Democrats to attend the meeting.

The Executive Board includes the presidents of all Oregon YD clubs and the president and four vice presidents of the statewide YD organization.

Primary purpose of the meeting is formulation of policies for the first part of next year.

ROTC Little Colonel to Reign Over First All-School Formal

Music and entertainment provided by Jackie Souder's band will be featured at the annual ROTC-sponsored Military Ball next Friday, December 13, at the Marion hotel.

The Military Ball, Willamette's second all-school dance this semester, is formal and will last from 8:30 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. The price of tickets for non-ROTC cadets and their dates is $2; tickets are free for ROTC cadets and their dates.

Vying for the honor of Little Colonel of the dance are six co-eds, representing each of the six women's living organizations. From Alpha Chi Omega is Janice Bean; Chi Omega's candidate is Drury Spurlock; Delta Gamma chose Barbara Royer. Pi Beta Phi's candidate is Pat Duffy; representing Doney Hall is Jo McNary; and Lausanne Hall's candidate is Beth Kelso.

Assisting the ROTC with final plans for the dance are members of Angel Flight. Heading the decorations committee are Bill Long and Kate Moretti. Larry Willingham and Deanna Bruning are in charge of programs; Marilyn Wood and Merrill Gilbert, refreshments; Pete Leveton and Jean Pritchard, Little Colonel; Toni Folsom, invitations; Larry Martin, band; and Keith Driver, personnel.

YW Plans Sock-Hop, Service Projects

An all campus sock-hop, plus activities with Hillcrest and MacLaren, and another political awareness poll make the campus Y program a varied one for December.

Directly after the basketball game on Dec. 14, an all school mixer will be held in Baxter hall. Refreshments will be served for the low price of only 10 cents.

Christmas caroling with girls from Hillcrest and another party with MacLaren tonight will be part of the Y's program to help in the community. Several very successful activities with both these groups have been held already this year.

Another political poll will be held soon by the Campus Y as part of their study of Willamette students awareness of what is going on in the world. Results of the first poll will be announced in next week's Collegian.

Sigs Sweep First and Second; Phis Third, Sig Alphas Fourth

The men of Sigma Chi tended to monopolize the intramural football picture for the 1957 season as they boomed their way through the playoffs and came out with first and second place tucked under their belts.

THE PLAYOFFS got underway with the Friday league Sigma Chi team edging the Saturday league Phi Deltas in the first round, 7-0. Meanwhile, the Saturday league Sigma Chis were having a wild and woolly first round tussel with the Sig Alphas. The Sigs finally downed the SAEs 25-19, with a final touchdown in the last 35 seconds of play.

The second, and final, round of play opened with the two Sigma Chi teams meeting each other for the coveted first place title. The game started on fairly even terms, but soon the Saturday league team showed their superior strength and went on to roll up a crushing 48-13 victory over their brothers.

IN THE CONSOLATION bracket of play, the Phi Deltas engaged the Sig Alphas in another rough and tumble affair. The SAEs, seemingly suffering from a let-down after their terrific game in the first round of play, never were in the ball game as they went down to defeat, 41-13. This gave the Phi Deltas third place in the final standings, while the Sig Alphas had to settle for fourth spot.

Wilcox Leads Mural Bowlers

Skip Wilcox, rolling for Sigma Chi team number two, was on top of the intramural bowling heap in individual performances. Wilcox had claimed title to both the high game and high series in the most recent round of games. He picked off 539 pins for his high series, and rolled an average of 166 per game to lead in that department.

Honors for the high individual score for one game to date go to Ken Ginoza. He rolled a very creditable 219, for the Baxter Hall team number one. Sigma Chi team number two owned the high team series and high team game titles with scores of 1933 and 742 respectively.

WU Hoopsters Open Season With Tourney

Coach Johnny Lewis' Bearcat hoopsters will open the 1957-58 basketball season on the Pacific University maples tonight, when they take on the Linfield Wildcats in the opening game of the Northwest Conference tipoff tournament. In the nightcap of the double-headed affair, Pacific University will tangle with the Lewis and Clark Pioneers.

TOMORROW NIGHT the four teams will move over to the Linfield gym in McMinnville, where the winners and losers of the previous night will play each other in the final round of the tournament.

Coach Roy Helser's Linfield Wildcats, defending co-champions of the conference, are again favored over the other five teams. The Wildcats have eight lettermen back from last year's championship team, and included are the top two scorers in the NWC race last season—Bill Machamer and Jack Riley.

Along with Machamer and Riley are 6-5 Caryl Goetze, 6-4 Ralph Harms, 6-3 Terry Woods, 6-2 Russ Kofford and 6-0 Sam Stewart and Dick Brown. While Linfield tied with Pacific for the NWC title last season, they went on to defeat the Badgers in a playoff to determine the NCAA representative.

THE PACIFIC University Badgers will have a nucleus of five lettermen from which to build this season's squad. These five are 6-5 Jerry Kalapus, 6-1 Dick Smith, 6-0 Don Adams and 5-10 Bob Gehrts and Jack Liles. Greatly weakening the Badger's hopes for a repeat performance of last season's co-championship efforts, is their loss of such standouts as Ron Barendse, Don Breneman and Tom Bourgeois.

Lewis and Clark will have four returning lettermen and a pair of seasoned transfers from Clark JC. Back again this year are -1 Cliff Shelton, 6-1 Bill Stempel, 6-5 Roger Fleck, and 5-9 Bill Haller. LC will also have eight new varsity prospects from the freshmen ranks.

Three Bearcats on NAIA All-Star '11'

The district 2 NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics) honored Willamette University by naming three members of the 1957 Bearcat football squad to their all-star football team. Making the NAIA All-Star team were full-back Vic Backlund, center Bill Long, and tackle Gary Raid.

BILL LONG, the Bearcats rugged center, was a unanimous choice on the mythical "11." Long and Backlund were picked as outstanding lineman and back of the week in the NWC during the past season, and Raid was in the running for outstanding lineman of the week a number of times.

Women Archers In Third Round; Volleyballers Win

The women's physical education department announced this week that their archery tournament is in full swing, and the results after the second week show a new team in first place with 1842 points. Members of the present winning team are: Rogene Alger, Myrna Mangels, Karen Enberg, and Sharon Plesinger.

ON NOVEMBER 17, seven Willamette coeds, composing the Willamette University volleyball team, traveled to Clark College in Vancouver, Washington. The Willamette team returned victorious over Clark College, 24-21. Members of the team were Margaret Schaffer, Judy Teufel, Pat Cullley, Lou Voll, Deanna Schorn, Sonja Reed, and Shirley Allen.

It was also announced by the women's physical education department that any girl wishing to participate in the intramural bowling tournament should contact the intramural manager of her living organization. The deadline for registration is December 16.

Ron Parrish, Linfield's great passing quarterback, was another unanimous choice on the all-star team. Others to make the team were Linfield's Jerry Beier, Terry Picknell and Howard Morris; Lewis and Clark's Bill Stempel, Larry Wilkins and Gary Grill; and OCE's Wyman Bernhart.

THE ALL-STAR aggregation was chosen by the coaches of the 10 member schools of District 2, and included Portland State, Southern Oregon, Eastern Oregon, OCE, Linfield, Pacific, Willamette, Lewis and Clark, University of Hawaii and University of Portland. The group did not select a second team, but gave honorable mention to 10 players.

The United Press Little All-Coast football team was announced Monday, and among those given honorable mention on the mythical dream team was Willamette University's great fullback, Vic Backlund. Linfield's Howie Morris was given a first team berth, while his teammates Vic Fox and Ron Parrish were awarded honorable mention. These four players were the only members recognized from the Northwest Conference.

Where do you get the extra $100,000?

“Some critics of business still maintain that profits are too high.

“I wonder if they have any idea of how much more it costs to do business today than it used to? Union Oil is a fairly typical example.

“In 1927, the company bought an 80,000 barrel storage tank for $25,000. Under Federal Income Tax laws, we were permitted to recover our investment over 30 years, the life of the tank.

“By 1957, when it's time to replace the tank, the company has set aside $25,000. But what has happened? Due mainly to inflation, higher wages and material costs, the tank now costs $125,000.

“Where do you get the extra $100,000? Union Oil gets it out of profits, and by increasing indebtedness from time to time. Out of profit? The fact is, we have to sell $1,250,000 worth of products to clear the $100,000.

“Put another way, the company's entire profit for one day, the total earnings that day on $400,000,000 invested by share owners, and the efforts of over 8,000 people—all went to replace one 80,000 barrel tank, of which we now have over 150.

“Without profits, Union Oil couldn't afford to replace that tank. And without the new tanks and other equipment we have to replace to stay in business, there'd be no jobs for any of us!”

Bob Dalbeck is something of an authority on profits. He is an Assistant Comptroller for the company.

He estimates that only about 19 minutes in the average company's 8-hour working day go to earn a profit. The rest is spent paying off the cost of doing business.

And less than half of those 19 minutes result in dividends to share holders. The other 9½ minutes are reinvested in the business to keep it up to date and competitive.

Beta Burglar Bungles Badly

The time was between 11:15 and 11:30 p.m. on Saturday, November 23, 1957. Three Betas walked into the fraternity house of Beta Theta Pi. They found a guy who was "kinda out of it" in one of the rooms. Well, here's the story.

Bob Campbell, Bob Pierce and Kevin Midlam found a man in Ed Everts' room who appeared to be in the process of putting some of Ed's clothes back in his closet. When asked what he was doing, he said he was returning a camera to Bob MacAnulty, a freshman at Willamette. It was later found that MacAnulty is a radio station announcer in Portland. He then said, "I'm going to leave now," and he did.

Campbell noticed that all the money had been taken from the candy concession in the lower hall and immediately the three went after the man, setting up a "drag-net." After a bit of chasing he was caught at the service station on 12th and State streets and brought back to Campbell's room for questioning.

Faced with the charge that he had taken Everts' president's pin, Everts' camera, change, and some cuff links, the fellow sobbed out the story that he had had a fight with his wife, that she had threatened to divorce him; that he lives in McMinnville and that he had decided to get drunk.

Unsatisfied with the sob story, the three took him to the police station where he was tried and found guilty of petty larceny in district court last Monday.

Classrooms Abroad

Two groups of twenty selected American college students will visit Berlin, Germany and Grenoble, France next summer to study the language, culture, art, and civilization of the respective countries.

THESE TRIPS are arranged by Classrooms Abroad, and information on the program and a report on last summer can be obtained by writing to this agency at 18 Auburn Street, Worcester 5, Mass.

These students will undergo intensive language training during the boat trip. Graded classes in small sections of six to eight students each under the supervision of native professors will deal with the reading of classical and modern texts, the daily press, publications on contemporary problems, conversation and composition, pronunciation and grammar.

Travel Slides Slated

Color slides taken during summer trips abroad will be shown Wednesday in Collins 124 at 7 p.m.

This annual showing is sponsored by the language department, and the slides were taken by faculty and students of the department during the last summer.

Dr. Purvine Praises Students For Cooperation in Epidemic

High praise went to Willamette students, faculty and administration this week from health service director Dr. Ralph Purvine for their cooperation in the handling of flu cases during October.

"THIS COOPERATION was one of the reasons for the low incidence of the flu on campus," Dr. Purvine

Poetry Published Of Two WU Students

Two students recently received word that their poetry had been accepted for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry. Jean Martin, with "Snow Fall," and Bob Higbee, with "Sea Etchings," were the students whose poetry was accepted.

In making the announcement, the National Poetry Association, which sponsors the Anthology, stated "The Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by the college men and women of America, representing every section of the country. "Selections were made from thousands of poems submitted. We congratulate the students on this honor." (See poem page 2.)

told the Collegian.

In all 99 bed patients were treated in the health center for a total of 325 hospital days, most of them during the last three weeks of October. An additional 62 patients were cared for by about 50 trained student volunteers in the living organizations.

DR. PURVINE particularly lauded students who enrolled in the health center-sponsored home nursing program and then gave their time to care for the ill in the living groups. Student cooperation also included, said Purvine, "acceptance of a curtailed social program."

Others receiving praise were the food service people who readied special diets, health center employees and Salem Memorial Hospital which furnished extra beds and mattresses.

Chambers Heads Model UN Group

Fred Chambers was recently elected chairman of Willamette's delegation to the Model UN. He will head the delegation at the convention and will preside over the meetings of the delegation before the trip.

At the same meeting, Kay Rurberg was elected vice-chairman. Jane Dedrick was chosen corresponding secretary. Prof. Earl Holmer of the economics department will serve as the delegation's advisor.

Chile and Uruguay are the two countries which will be represented by Willamette this year. The convention will be held on the University of Washington campus at Seattle in April.

The new commissioner has done extensive work in the welfare field, being currently active in several sociological groups and having served as recreational director of a juvenile home and as a social field worker.

GRAVATT RECEIVED his B.A. from Linfield and his M.A. from the University of Oregon, both in sociology. He is presently a candidate for the doctorate at Cornell University. His senior thesis was "An Exploratory Study of Marital Adjustment in Middle and Old Age."
