LAST GAME PLAYED THURSDAY

Willamette's Last Game of the Season, with Pacific University

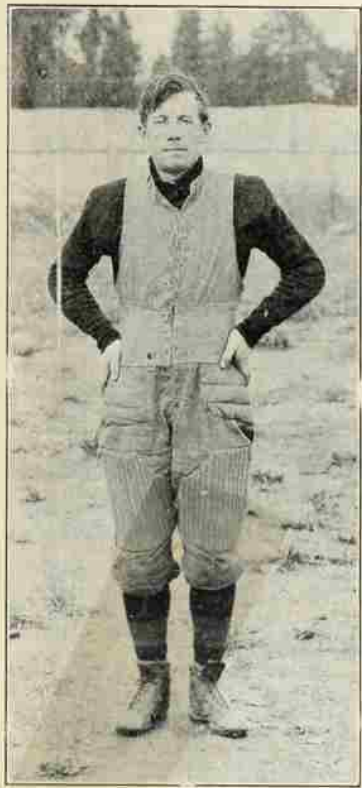

Big Rally Planned for Tonight if the Weather Permits

The last game of the season will be played Thursday afternoon on the local gridiron. Since the Multnomah game the Varsity team has been doing hard and consistent work in perfecting plays for a muddy field. Captain McMechan will not be in the game, because of a badly bruised right shoulder a team, and played a hard game with the first eleven. Yes, Willamette has a strong team, who by hard work has mastered the principles of team work and perfect interference. As to the Pacific game the score is doubtful. Pacific has defeated Whitworth, a strong team from Washington and has also defeated Mt. Angel with a large score. In weight the teams are about even. Some think because Willamette defeated Multnomah by a good score the game on Thursday will be a walk-over. No that is not true. The field was in far better conditions for fast work last week than it will be this week, so each team will have an equal chance to battle for honors. It remains to be seen if forward passes and open plays can be perfected with a wet ball and on a muddy and slow field. Coach Sweetland does not feel assured of an easy victory. Every member of the varsity squad has been doing hard and consistent work these last days, trying to close up the lope hole, which were exposed last week. Several of the men received bad bruises but, most

The muscles and ligaments are torn loose and if he should receive more injuries it may result in a stiff arm.

No matter how important or hard the game may be athletic in Willamette, under the standards set by Doctor Sweetland, do not justify playing a man who is badly hurt, and is liable to receive permanent injuries. Rowland, the substitute half-back, will probably play in the McMechan's position. Rowland is young, and light but has worked hard in practice and is no doubt justified to the position.

The score of the Multnomah game is one to be long remembered. No team in the Northwest up to the present time has defeated the winged M squad with such a large score. Some reporters state, that the club did not have its best team, but what a list of star football men Multnomah has on her membership. And the team that played here, is one that can be defeated only by a fast and well perfected team. The club team was no second kindergarten organization. Two of Norte Dame stars were on the squad besides six of the best western stars. Even the substitutes could have formed of the players are in good condition.

Doc Flegel states if the weather permits a large rally will be held. This to be the best ever, as all the students are sure of attending because of a vacation on the following day, and a long walk should give an appetite for a good Thanksgiving dinner. The strong student spirit that has grown so rapidly this year, should be at its highest on Thursday, so strong that news of victory to the many cities from which they come, no student will feel tempted to leave for home before the game is over, and then to carry the Multnomah was so surprised at Rader's performance they could only stand still and watch him go. Right through Calligrate, Schmidt, Means, and all the others, too. "Oh, how he ran; he ran, he ran for W. U., hooray, hooray, hooray".

Talk about M. A. A. C. second team! Anyone who saw the game knows it would have made no difference. If they did not send Cherry Clark, Wolff, and the rest of the club down here, it's not Willamette's fault. Willamette was easy, as the score showed; easy—the winner.

Paper said it was a very blue, sore, and dispirited bunch that lounged around M. A. A. C. parlors Thursday, November 17th. Wonder why!!

Willamette now has the non-conference championship, and stands close for the Northwest championship. If it is not ours this year, with the present team here next season, it will be ours. So far, the U. of O. has been

Case Tried at Moot Court of Wil- lamette's Law School

On Tuesday evening, November 15th, the first session this year of the Willamette Law school Moot Court was held in the court house. It was presided over by Dean McNary. The event of the evening was a murder trial; the indictment charged one Willard Colliins with having "deliberately, and with premeditated malice", quite chary about bumping up against Willamette. Rather peculiar, isn't.

The point we'll not discuss; We'll not raise any riss, Our team is fine, It's charging line

Yes, that's spirit all right.

You didn't have faith in the varsity, did you? We have always said the Willamette team was "some pumpkins".

The spirit here is better than ever before, though. With that new amendment to the constitution, "Just Watch Willamette Grow".

Well, you see it was this way: Multnomah couldn't stop them. Billy he'd howl out a signal, Rader would take the ball and wouldn't stop for ten yards.

Then, Billy would call out B C X, H I T, E M, H A R D and Cummings would circle the end for 30 yards. And the funny part of it is Multnomah couldn't keep track of the ball. First, it killed his wife. Glenn Wells took the part of Willard Collins and was the defendant; Crawford, Nys and Wilson, prosecuted for the state; Shaupp, McMechin, and Shepard, conducted the defense.

After the selection of a competent jury, and the outlining of the case, by Wilson for the State, and Shepard for the defense, the prosecution began the introduction of evidence. They attempted to prove that Willard Collins was not only rational on the night of the murder, but premeditated the crime and committed the deed with full and complete knowledge and responsibility of his action. The defense was drunkenness and temporary insanity. By expert testimony, the attorneys for the defense attempted to show, that, because of certain hereditary blood, the defendant often grew violently insane, and on this particular occasion, had committed the crime, while temporarily unbalanced.

An amusing incident of the trial happened when the defendant, while testifying in his own behalf suddenly became deranged and nearly added another

WE ARE THANKFUL FOR:

A crack football team;
Having Coach Sweetland with us;
An increasing student body spirit;
Eaton Hall and Dr. A. E. Eaton;
The hopeful outlook;
The recognition we deserve.
Also, some are Thankful for—
A pair of blue or brown eyes;
A clean collar to wear to society;
A new "rat" for the hair;
A pair of clean socks and a collar button;
A wife, if married;
Being single, if not married;
Chances of getting spliced;
Luck in getting out of a matrimonial tangle;
Having the nerve to propose;
Having wisdom to keep silent;
Not having a pet corn;
Their neighbors umbrella.

For all our hopes, our joys, our tears;
For all our griefs, our loves, our fears;
For each good thing that cheers,
We give our Thanks.

Adelantes and Websterians Convene in Joint Meeting

The Fine Art of Cooking Discussed, Demonstrated and Products Partaken of

The Adelantes and Websterians met in joint session last Friday evening. The evening was given over to the consideration of all phases of cooking from the recipe to the consumption.

Upon the arrival of the members and their friends, a slip of paper, on which was the title of a familiar song, was pinned on their backs and there they remained until the wearers, aided by the hints of their friends, guessed the title.

After sufficient time for "getting acquainted", the roll was called and the members answered by giving their favorite recipe. We noticed several of the girls taking mental notes, especially when Mr. Gilkey gave his recipe for a typical college girl.

The program was unique and interesting. The solo by Miss Shumway was exceptionally well rendered and thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Haskin's talk on "Cooking as a Fine Art" fairly sparkled with wit and humor of which Miss Haskin certainly is master.

Demonstrations of cooking as done in Japan, Germany, and the American college followed, with Miss Beckley as a winsome Japanese lady, Mr. Schramm and Miss Pohle as Herr. Wilhelm and his Katrina, and Mr. Flegel and Miss Proctor as the College man and girl. The Japanese were represented with steaming cups of fragrant tea, the college students' failing was shown by the making of candy in a chafing dish, but perhaps best of all was the German booth with Mr. Schramm making sauerkraut for "me and Katrina", while she cooked the "wienies".

Miss Pearce rendered a very beautiful piano solo after which those present were paired off by matching comic post cards.

The crowd in general was then allowed to demonstrate the way to make sauerkraut, wienies, pretzels, sandwiches, college-made candies, and tea disappear.

The company departed after an intricate grand march led by Mr. Flegel and Miss Dunlop.

LOCALS

Errol Gilkey and Paul Blanchard will spend the Thanksgiving holidays with friends in Portland.

Lausanne Hall will hold open house for all out-of-town students, Thanksgiving day.

Ethel Lewton, '14, was taken down with appendicitis last week. She was operated upon Sunday and is reported to be doing nicely.

Steelhammer, '14 will spend Thanksgiving at his home in Silverton.

The Glee Club made its first appearance for the year at Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon.

The college band, under the direction of Ward Fisher, is making good progress and will soon be in running order. Willamette needs a good band, and Fisher deserves the commendation and support of the student body, for taking the time and trouble of directing the band.

Don't forget the plans for campus day. It will probably be some day next week.

E. M. Brown, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the U. of O., addressed the Y. M. devotional meeting Sunday.

Dr. Todd spoke at the dedication of the new High School building at Estacada, last Friday evening.

McMechan will be out of the Pacific game on account of an injury to his shoulder, received in the Multnomah game.

Esther and Aetna Emmel will spend vacation at Stayton with their sister, Nora Emmel Thompson, '90.

Mrs. Neighbors—"They tell me your son is in the college football eleven."

Mrs. Malaprop—"Yes, indeed."

Mrs. N.—"Do you know what position he plays?"

Mrs. M.—"Ain't sure, but I think he's one of the draw backs."

would shoot this way, then that, then scoot out in another direction. Had 'em guessing all the time, oncherknow, bah jove.

It was really quite funny when Rader caught the ball on the 10-yard line and started to saunter jauntly down the field. You know, everybody started after him. Why even several of the Multnomah fellows were curious enough to run along too. Bah-jove, doncherknow, they must have wanted to know whether he really had the ball. You see, they were sort of flabbergasted; in other words, they were given the "double cross".

You know, one of those fellows insisted on seeing the ball. He said:

"Please, Rader, are you really running with the ball?"

Rader looked around and said:

"Sh-h. Don't mention it, I have".

"Oh, how could you do it?" said the clubman.

"I know it's hard on you, and awful naughty to take candy from a Kiddie but—I guess you'll have to run a little harder", said Rader, tripping gently down the field.

"Just wait till I catch you", whispered the clubman savagely.

"Nothing doing pardner. As I'm not good on the weights I'll just step on", quoth Rader as he neared the line.

"Please, Rader, don't go any farther. Can't you see you're winded? Seventy-five yards are enough for any man. Oh, well, go on then", landing on his head after being tripped by Blackard, "I didn't really intend to stop you anyway. The candy was yours anyway". Just then Rader slipped over the line and something broke.

Somebody who knows said that Billy Booth was the "best quarter back in the Northwest".

What did you say his name was? Sweetland? Yes, Swwetland's the name. Yes, he developed and coached the team that won the Northwest championship for Willamette in 1911. How do you spell it—Sweetland!

Fanny McElroy, a handsome young nurse from the Salem Hospital, was the star witness for the State and without doubt many a young swain present on that evening is trying to contract a case of typhoid or pneumonia, for the express purpose of coming into closer contact with the pretty nurse.

When all the evidence was in, the case was summed up before the jury—Nys and Crawford for the prosecution, and McMechan and Shaupp for the defense. The jury was then given their instruction by the court and repaired to the jury room. After long and heated deliberation and debate they returned a verdict of "not guilty".

A goodly number of the fair sex from the University attended the trial which certainly delighted the hearts of the young attorneys. Come again girls.

The next case will be tried on Tuesday evening, December 6. Attorneys S. Graham, Mrs. Upjohn, E. Martin, L. Lewellen, R. Baker.

An appellate court has been established in connection with Moot Court, with Attorney Keys, of Salem, as chief justice.

This puts Willamette one step in advance of other schools on the coast and also affords the students some valuable practice.

PHILODORIAN SOCIETY.

The Philodorian society met in regular session on last Thursday evening and rendered their usual weekly literary program. The program as a whole measured well up to the standard of the society, while in the parliamentary practice there was a decided improvement.

The program rendered was as follows:

Three minute speeches by Mr. Schaupp, and Mr. Wells.

A short address by an Honorary Philodorian, Sam'l Heltzel.

Ten minutes parliamentary practice.

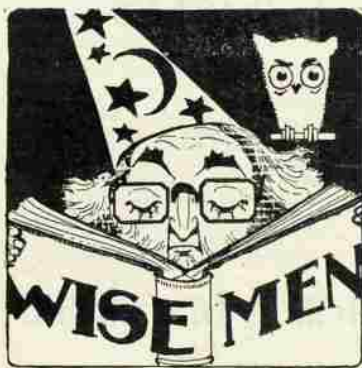

Discussion—Resolved that the U. S. Government should fortify the Panama canal. The debate was upheld for the affirmative by John McNeas and Paul Blanchard, for the negative by Wesley Beckley and George Vandeventer. The decision was rendered in favor of the affirmative.

The next meeting of the society will be held on December 1st, when officers for the ensuing term will be elected.

Lausanne Hall, November 21: We are very sorry that one of our members, Ethel Lewton, was taken seriously ill Friday evening and forced to return to her home in Portland the next morning. Sunday a successful operation was made for appendicitis. The last report said that she was doing nicely.

Oratorical interests at Willamette are running high, as shown by the number who expect to enter the local tryout in January. As many as eleven students have handed in their names at the office, though some did so provisionally and may not be able to enter. The very fact that so many are thinking seriously of the matter forshadows great prospects.

Here's to the budding orator!

That Willamette maidens have not forgotten the days of their childhood was evident on Saturday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. party. About twenty genuine little girls and one little boy gathered in the rest room to greet Miss Hopkins, the student secretary. Doll babies and teddy bears were very much in evidence. To say that the games indulged in were juvenile would be putting it mildly. In the course of the afternoon every one present was served to generous quantities of the delight of the heart of every little girl (and big girl, too)—stick candy, nuts, and popcorn.

The two bachelors of “pancake alley”, Messrs. Oakes and Wilson, tendered twenty-four of the Varsity's jolliest a party last Friday evening. There was everywhere a profusion of ivy and full berried mistletoe, tho all were quietly informed that prohibition would be in force. In the track meet, which was the most enjoyable game which has taken place this year, the Strawberries, by a small score, defeated the “prunes”, Mr. Hopkins being the star athlete.

After some beautiful musical numbers, and several catchy charades, the crowd was introduced to a place where among the decorations were those good things “that make college life worth while”. Several toasts were responded to, and after singing some college songs, the guests reluctantly left, each knowing King George and King James to be royal entertainers, and wishing their kingdom success.
