

By GEORGE McLEOD

Oregon's primary campaign speeds toward a climax. The voting will be done May 20. Registration now completed shows a statewide Republican majority of several thousands.

The race is warmly contested in some quarters. The Sprague-Brown-Hendricks-Payne-Hanzen fight gives the Republican gubernatorial contest, Waggoner and Shrock are also seeking GOP endorsement. Hanzen has a nephew in the Willamette law school.

Governor Charles H. Martin, and ex-State Senator Henry Hess of LaGrande, vie for the Democratic nomination. State Representative Henry Olsen, St. Helens, is the dark horse entry.

Dr. Hoesch, after a vigorous preliminary campaign, withdrew from the Democratic battle early in April, publically throwing his support to Hess. The eastern Oregonian in the meantime has apparently succeeded in rallying the combined Democratic anti-Martin forces behind him.

The Republicans are earnestly hoping to regain prestige lost in the 1934 gubernatorial elections when their nominee, State Senator Joe Dunne, ran a poor third against Pete Zimmerman, Independent, and Charles H. Martin, Democrat.

In Charles Sprague, editor of the Oregon Statesman, trustee of Willamette university, frequently a chapel speaker here, they present one of the most active men in Oregon today. If nominated, he will state the Republican case clearly and forcefully.

On the Democratic side, Charles Martin has the obvious advantage of being the incumbent. He outdistanced Zimmerman on a ratio of 4-3 in 1934, beating Dunne almost 2 to 1 in the general election, after nosing out Willis Mahoney in the Democratic preliminary.

Practically speaking, the governor should be regarded as the favorite in this race. However, Senator Hess, as the challenger, is in the running, and has a definite chance to spring an upset. Olsen, though conscientious and well-liked, is not receiving sufficient support to be considered as a serious threat.

The duel for the United States senate is also an absorbing contest. Ex-United States Senator Robert Stanfield and State Treasurer Rufus Holman go to the post seeking victory in the Republican primaries. Holman, soundly beaten by both Dunne and Brown when running for governor in the 1934 Republican primaries, staged a two-fisted comeback by whipping Democratic U. S. Bart for state treasurer in 1936.

On the basis of this showing he is favored over Stanfield who lost his seat in the senate to Frederick Steiwer back in the 1920's.

The Democratic race is also a two-man fight to the finish. The principals are Willis Mahoney, ex-mayor of Kalamath Falls and Carl Donaghy, United States District Attorney for Oregon.

Mahoney unsuccessfully ran against Martin for the governorship in 1934. After securing the Democratic nomination he was narrowly defeated by Charles L. McLeod.

MILLIGAN ADDRESSES VESPER'S CABINET

"If you don't do big enough things to make mistakes, you don't do things big enough to count," Dr. J. E. Milligan, pastor of the First M. E. church, assured the new Vespers Cabinet Sunday evening, April 24. Margaret Taylor, retiring president, presented Dr. Milligan, who urged the incoming officers to put forth their best efforts. The service installed Gene Hill as president, Verna Vosper as vice-president, Lois Burton as secretary, and the following as department heads: John McNeese, Dan Moses, Gertrude Cannon, Ed Cone, Bill Hall, Della Willard, June Brasted, Echo Johnson, and Margaret Taylor.

"Stage Door" To Feature May Week-end Festival

Mary Kells Heads Cast of Oppen-Coached Drama

Edna Ferber-George S. Kaufman Production Expected To Steal Show On Coming May Day Program

"Stage Door," the Junior play to be presented on Saturday, May 7, 1938, at 8:15 in Leslie High school auditorium, promises to be one of the outstanding dramatic events in the history of Willamette.

The fast-moving plot takes place in the Footlights club, which is rather a Lausanne hall for girls who are trying to get on the stage. "Stage Door," the play by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, differs from the motion picture of the same name.

Mary Elizabeth Kells has the leading role. She characterizes the most talented and most successful actress. As Terry Randall, she wants to do only the highest type of acting and refuses offers to Hollywood because her ideals of the theater are too high.

Among the aspiring actresses to yield to the financial temptations of Hollywood and the California climate is the beautiful girl, Jean Maitland, portrayed by Irma Calvert.

Big and little Marys are played by Elizabeth Fitzpatrick and Margaret Wright. Because these two do not receive acting contracts they console themselves by seeing movies.

Carnegie's Chapter On Elections Well Thumbed By Candidates Aspiring to Various Student Offices

The chapter on Elections in Dale Carnegie's book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," has been well thumbed by Willamette's aspiring and aspiring candidates for student body offices. The chapter, although sunk in a slough of generalities, is found to contain certain pregnant illustrations concerning politicians and elections. They are as follows:

The breed of politicians are divided into three divisions: the rambunctious type, the introspective type, and the stern and dock-bound type. The first type considers a campaign a variety of a county fair and proceeds to enjoy himself accordingly; he is an incurable extrovert. The second type is the intellectual proponent. He campaigns with the ponderousness of an oracle; yet, he retains an inner covering of timidity.

The third type—the stern and rock-bound type—is the most common offender, according to Mr. Carnegie. He takes his campaign too seriously—the ideas of life buffet too strongly against his stony sides.

Then Mr. Carnegie further delves into the types. The rambunctious politician, he states, is overwhelmed by the mere thought of winning an election. He cannot control himself. Back-slapping and hand-shaking are the most apparent symptoms of this type. When people cheer him he becomes violent. If the rambunctious type ever won an election, he would likely go into spasms which would render him incapable of holding an office.

Second Ballots Also Necessary For Collegian Editorship, First Vice-Presidency and Song Queen

Art Gallon and Neil Shaffer will fight it out, through the medium of student ballots, at the polls Tuesday for the presidency of the associated student body. Gallon, from Franklin high of Portland, and Shaffer, from Kent, Washington, ranked highest in the field of four that were listed on the ballot in Friday's preliminary voting.

While the greatest interest centers on the race for the presidency considerable attention centers in the race for Collegian editorship, involving Dan Moses and William Hall. Hall and Moses finished one-two Friday as Carolyn Woods, the third candidate, was eliminated.

June Johnson and Phyllis Pythian contend Tuesday for the first vice-presidency. The pair ranked highest in a field of four that included Kay Thompson and Virginia Bendikson.

Elected as a result of Friday's poll were George Abbott, Alpha Psi Delta, first vice-president; Henry Kortemeyer, Kappa Gamma Rho, yell king; Lois Burton, Delta Phi, secretary; and Helen Truelsen, Delta Phi, Wailulah editor.

While the number of votes cast David Bates was elected president of Math Club at their meeting Wednesday noon, April 27, Math Club is looking forward to hearing Mr. McCulloch, a member of the State Highway department, at an early meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Inspire Article On Spring, Women, and What-have-you; Koehler Involved

Little Mary was only five. Gee, how her mother could mash potatoes! Isn't this a lovely day? Let's go lean on the river.

Isn't that a beautiful piece of poetry? It seems to typify the writer's enthusiasm—I mean the spring lassitude. I prefer picking strawberries to watermelons, or do you take catsup in your coffee? Don't pay any attention to me. Spring finally got me, so you might call this "Murmuring of a Maniac."

They're calling Bud Koehler "The Great Lover" nowadays because of his convincing loveliness in the Junior Play. We hear he's not so bad in private life either.

When we heard that Virginia Moore Johnson was married in White Sulphur, I think we certainly have a lot of cute candidates for president. Art Gallon has the pretty kind of red hair that a girl loves to mess; Neil Shaffer's "little boy air" appeals to the maternal in the girls; Lawrence Nunnenkamp has the sort of "love 'em and leave 'em" attitude that always gets the women; and Bill Anton has that suave "all women can go to the devil" air that leaves the girls swooning all over the Alpha Psi Delta.

Has her gone? Has her went? Has her left I all alone Me will never go to aho, Her will never come to I. It must was, Don't it awful.

Gallon Lists Program

 week-end with the presentation of "St. Cecilia Mass," by Gounod, at the First Methodist church.

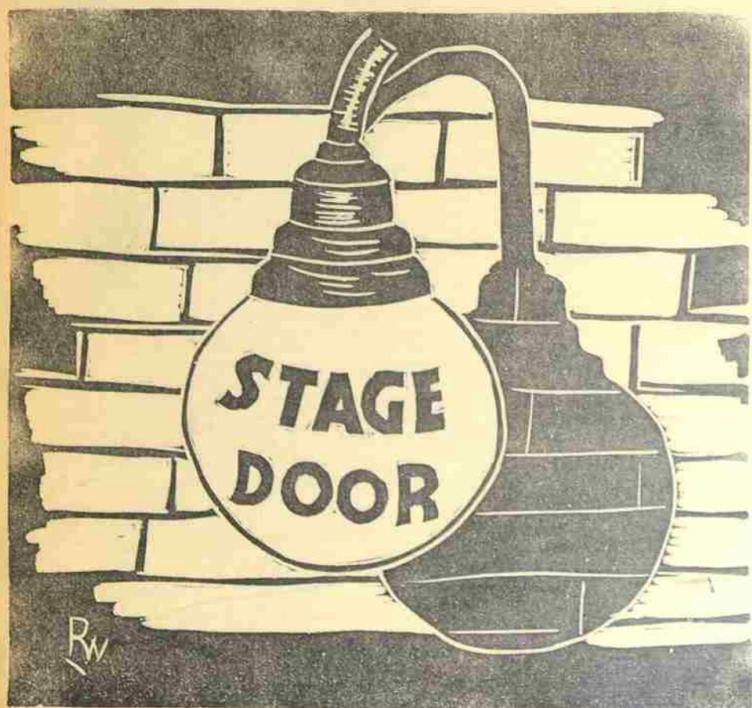

Committees for May Week-End are as follows: June Johnson, programs and invitations; Margaret Ann Kelle and Elizabeth James, student body dance; Margaret Taylor, May Morning breakfast; Mel Viken, representing Blue Key, hospitality; Brue Williams, manager of tug-of-war; Orville Whitman, junior play manager; Kirk Bell and Bill Parker, amplifying system; Margaret Hinkle and Helen Trulsen, decorations (Frosty Olson); Dexter Russel, Pete Williams and Oscar Specht, campus.

Gwen McCulloch, May Queen of 1937, will crown Queen Irma I. The program will consist of a solo by Burtis Preston and "Alice in Wonderland" pageant in honor of the queen.

Gail Chapler and Pebble De Sart are to act as flower girls, and John Elliott is to be crown bearer. Frances Faber, Lorene Tompkins and Marguerite Duret are in charge of the pageant, and Lorene Tompkins and Norma Fuller are in charge of the May Pole dance, which is the finale of the program.

The May Pole dancers are as follows: Jean Anunson, Bob Brady; June Johnson, Otto Skopp; Loye Bogardus, Edwin McWain; Suzanne Curtis, Bill Climes; Doris Hayes, Ray Lowry; Helena Schneider, Bruce Williams; Margaret Gillette, Nell Schaeffer; Edna Holman, Bill Utley; Mabel Lens, Arno Stocks; Marguerite Smith, Arnold Hardman; June Aasheim, Manning Nelson; Kay Thompson, Everett Clark; Grace Bailey, Otto Wilson;

Impression of the Week

Expected to be the highlight of the May program—"Stage Door"—Don't miss it!

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER
 Just a few more weeks and another year will have rolled by. The senior class will march out of the halls of Willamette university for the last time—the remainder of the school will pack up and go home for the summer vacation. It has been a successful school year for Willamette university—has seen continued success along many lines, including forensics, music, drama, athletics—has seen need additions made to the campus buildings—has seen the birth of a new student spirit. Though the year to date has been a success, we must not let our reveling in that success cause us to forget the one remaining affair that the student body must put over before the year can be properly concluded. That event is May Week-End—the time when all prospective high school students who may become Willamette students the following fall are invited to enjoy the festivity of the May Day celebration. The ceremony this week-end, under the direction of Art Gallon, promises to outdo any previous event of its kind. Gallon has worked out every detail with the greatest of care. All he needs is the cooperation of the student body to make the coming program one that will be remembered for years to come as the greatest in the history of Willamette university. Do your part! Assist Manager Gallon wherever possible, and what is equally important, make our guests your personal problem! Make them feel at home! Sell Willamette to them!

HEAVY VOTE CAST
 The surprising feature of the student election on Friday was the huge ballot cast. It is estimated that between eighty and ninety per cent of the student body cast ballots—a record for the university. The race in every case was extremely close, necessitating a revote today for three offices. While interest continues high, it is hardly expected today's vote will equal that polled on Friday.

Introducing . . .

Earl T. Brown

The year 1921 witnessed the coming of Earl Theodore Brown, M. S., professor of Physics, to Willamette University. At the University of Washington Professor Brown completed the requirements for his B. S. and M. S. degrees. Further study was taken at Stanford and the University of California. And not to be overlooked is the service he rendered to the P. W. Severson Foundation.

The cool, none-to-well lighted physics laboratory is warmed and made more cheery by the intellectual personality of Earl T. Brown. Always sincere and analyzing himself, he insists upon a scientific attitude from his students. He is occasionally jovial, making witty remarks about various subjects. It has been stated that Snow White has been under his opinionate hammer to the degree that he fears for the balance of the average theater-goer's mind.

Professor Brown has considerable apparatus in his laboratory, and is proud of its quality and completeness. His main regret is based upon the fact that there is insufficient space and facilities in the present building to maintain and utilize these instruments to the best advantage.

Being of naturally pleasant nature, Professor Brown likes timely, clever remarks. It is probable that he would appreciate Don Clark's latest endeavor, "College professors are like fried chicken; you never know what they are like until you get beneath their skin."

Professor Brown is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; but, he is more than just a member of this movement, he is a conscientious disciple of science as a whole—a true student of all research.

The Cat's Eye

We've looked, but the only real dirt seen flying around is when Barbara "Whap" Chapler, or Burtis "Searlight" Preston plays golf.

We haven't consulted the society page, but T-time is here once more. Robert "Gat" Brady is now driving a new seven-fifty model. However, he must have been gyped when you realize that Robert "McGoog" McKown purchased the horse-less carriage he drives for only one-fifty.

"Yours Truly" Trulsen is looking for a new colimate since Virginia Moore and Jimmy Johnson became soulmates . . . a secret since Jan. 14.

The Senior's songs made quite a hit on the Alpha Psi serenade Friday night, but the really big hit of the night was when he hit bottom in the basement window next to the Delta Phi house.

Student Letters

April 25, 1938
 George McLeod
 Campus Commentator
 Willamette Collegian

Dear Mr. McLeod:

The purpose of this letter is neither to moralize nor to descend to the level of back-biting. It is simply this: to express my disagreement with two or three statements which you have made in the past as the Collegian's "Campus Commentator."

At one time you say this, and I am quoting you verbatim: "There was one (suppressed letter) . . . it was not printed because of the arguments advanced, nor the attacks it made, but . . . primarily because of its contents. It carried a harsh criticism of the governor of this state. My objection was not upon that score, though I am for the governor, but I was convinced that since this was a school paper, there were certain bounds of propriety and of restraint that should be exercised—certain rules of fair play that should be observed, and that libel should be avoided by those writing for publication in this column."

You state that there are certain bounds of propriety and restraint that should be exercised in a school paper. George, I challenge you right to write the column on its present status. I challenge it on these grounds—you're using it for political purposes and such should not be allowed in the Willamette paper. You are using it to spread some Democratic, Martinian dogma; you cut the letter because it conflicted with your ends. You start the year off by saying that your column is to be non-partisan—and it is non-partisan—for one issue. It has not been so since.

You answer one letter by stating such unadulterated nonsense as "Charles Martin is the greatest governor Oregon has had since the days of Abraham Lincoln." If this be true—then, God save Oregon! You refuse to print a letter which attacks Martin. Why? Because of some nebulous "Fair Play" which allows unstinted praise only with no breath of any criticism. You espouse democracy—is this democratic? All right, George, let's be fair and when you write your weekly blurb, give both sides of the question.

My personal reaction to the iron-trousersed Mr. Martin is just this: I believe him to be an insufferable opportunist who came riding into office on Roosevelt's coat-tails rather than through personal merit. I believe him to be the most reactionary candidate for the governorship today; it has been said that he makes a better governor for the Republicans than the G. O. P. can dig up itself. Very true.

I believe him to be biased, ill-informed, and uncouth. He started his persecution of labor when he first entered office and has continued unabated ever since. Of course, he says labor may organize . . . just as long as it sits back and remains quiet . . . but let it begin demanding something and then the state police will be sent out to "paddle the bums along the road."

He states that should Charles Hops or John Lewis come to Oregon he will have them "kicked out." Even the militant retired-general should know that he cannot run this state as he did the epic of Panama. He calls Harry Bridges a Communist . . . Bridges has never belonged to the Communist party.

Martin cannot make a speech without causing several times. Anything but a pride, I believe, however, that a governor of Oregon should practice at least a little restraint in his public utterances. He called the farmers of eastern Oregon "Old huns", told farm women to "go back and slop the hogs"; called the drought refugees "alien papers." On the question of relief he nobly strides up and blats, "Are we going to feed these people for the rest of their lives? Hell! Let them work! $10 a month is enough to live on." This comes, by the way, from a man who draws a $5,000 annual pension besides his gubernatorial salary.

Pen-Pants, on the question of the recent federal reorganization bill, bravely admits that he has not read the bill but was for it "in principle." There are people who sincerely doubt whether the ex-governor knows what principle is; suffice it to say, he never practices it. Neither do certain newspaper columnists.

Martin could have started the "goon" drive last Thanksgiving time, for both he and Mayor Carson were given evidence of cases of labor-racketeering at that time. This evidence cited twenty-five cases and wanted the governor and Carson to enforce the law. This evidence was given to the governor by the PROGRESSIVE LABOR forces of Oregon. And both Martin and Carson loudly denied that there was any violation and stated that the police had the situation well-in-hand. The obvious answer is this: more political capital could be made of the drive if it held off a few months. And this comes from a man who "pro-teets our homes" . . . by allowing more violence.

And so, George, pardon me for rambling on . . . but Oregon's Greatest Governor sort of riles me up. And by the way, one of the reasons which I write this letter is because I am not (1) a prominent member of the Young Democratic club; (2) looking forward to a career in politics; (3) angling for a job over across the street after the next election.

I conclude with this: If Martin is the greatest governor Oregon ever had and Oregon is supposed to be God's country, then someone ought to tell God.

And, George, I have nothing but friendship for you personally; however, for the most of the ideas and principles and personalities which you espouse . . . well, frankly, they chill me.

Sincerely,
 ARTHUR MILLER.

TO THE EDITOR:

In the Collegian last week, I was interested to read an article which began, "Progress is on the move here at Willamette." Progress implies an objective. There are many here at Willamette who are seriously wondering what the present objective is.

Willamette is one of the West's oldest educational institutions, and has attained an enviable place in the scholastic world. Her success as an educational institution is manifested by the record of her alumni group. There are many who view the present activity, not with alarm, but with a feeling that perhaps expansion will bring with it a threat to the security of Willamette's place in the academic world.

What is the objective? Where is Progress taking us? Is Willamette to become just another three-ring circus to clutter up the scholastic world, or, hand in hand with the intrinsic advancement at Willamette, will she continue to maintain her scholastic position?

We have increased greatly in numbers in the last few years. This has necessitated additional facilities. These, as the past year has testified, are rapidly being provided. Yet, the position of any college in the academic world is predicated upon the calibre of her students.

I realize that in taking the following position there are those who will challenge me on the basis of Democracy. Is Willamette to be merely another school, open to all who come, or is she to maintain her selective policy in determining the personnel of the student body? I feel that unless the selective policy is maintained there is real danger of a serious lowering of scholastic standards. I feel that in admitting all who ask admission we are not only effecting real harm to the school, but we are doing those individuals whose aptitudes and abilities require that they should take other training, a serious injustice.

Willamette is an old school. It is primarily a liberal arts college. Certainly no one will insist that all are capable of taking this type of training. The selective policy has brought to Willamette a fine group of students. Each year she sends from her halls a group which invariably reflects credit upon her. BUT, each year there falls by the wayside a group, which in all honesty and fairness, should have taken other types of training.

The unforgetting hours spent by these students in their ill-advised efforts reflect discredit upon our whole educational system. In Willamette to contribute increasingly to this problem in the future?

And so, in viewing Progress on the move at Willamette there are those who would like assurance that when they leave they can point back to a college which is maintaining her scholastic standards, which is maintaining a selective policy toward her student body, and which through the years, is maintaining the traditions which have placed Willamette among the leaders as an educational institution.

Sincerely,
 ROBERT A. WILSON.

Formal Y W Scholarship Tea At Lausanne

Lausanne Hall was the scene of a very lovely Y. W. Scholarship tea Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 until 5:30. The tea was part of the organization's plan to raise a scholarship fund which will be presented to some worthy woman student.

Mrs. Morton E. Peck and Mrs. Frank Erickson presided during the afternoon. The tea table was centered with a large bouquet of pink tulips, narcissus and big pink and yellow daisies. The receiving rooms were decorated with tall white lilies.

Miss Jean Bartlett, general chairman, introduced to the line, which included Miss Olive Dahl, Mrs. Ellis, Miss Martha Okuda, Miss Mary Jeannette Sargent, and Miss Margaret Macy.

Serving were Miss Janet Powell, Miss Mary Huston, Miss Eileen Van Eaton, and Miss Marian Hall. Miss Doris Darnielle and Miss Janet Powell made arrangements for the tea table and Miss Barbara Pinney was in charge of the publicity.

Following the Wednesday night chapter house meeting at Delta Phi, a surprise shower for Mrs. James Johnson (Virginia Moore) who last Sunday announced her marriage of January 14. The honored guest received many gifts of miscellaneous nature for kitchen and bathroom.

Moore-Johnson Marriage Told At Delta Phi Breakfast

The annual spring breakfast at the Delta Phi sorority was a successful event of the social calendar last Sunday morning, with tables laid in the backyard of the chapter house under blossoming cherry trees. Covers were set for 64 couples. Assisting at the breakfast were younger sisters of house members.

The surprise of the morning was provided by Miss Virginia Moore and James Johnson, who announced their marriage of January 14. Mrs. Johnson has been residing at the sorority but the couple has now moved to an apartment. The announcement was made on tiny scrolls of parchment attached by ribbons to the place cards. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moore of Klamath Falls and is a sophomore at Willamette.

The table and the rooms were decorated by bouquets of pink apple blossoms and forget-me-nots and long sprays of blossoms were laid the length of the tables.

Hostesses included Mrs. F. A. Weil, Mrs. James Johnson, the Misses Carroll Gardner, Marguerite Smith, Jimmie Tompkins, Dolly Dingle, Olive Clemes, Eleanor Perry, Lois Burton, Roberta McGilchrist, Eleanor Sherman, Maxine Case, Jean Bartlett, Barbara Young, Helen Dean, Virginia Habb, Eleanor Asplwall, Lillian Hart, Marjorie Van deWalker, June Brasted, Margaret Ann Kells, Helen Truisen, Barbara Crookham, Cathrin Headrick, June Charbonneau, Verna Vosper, Harold Coons, Elizabeth Lewis, Elizabeth James, Frances Faber, Loye Bogardus, Mary Jeannette Sargent and Enid Winingham.

Tulip Trot Given by D T G At High School

The old high school gym was the scene of the "Tulip Trot" Friday, April 29, from 8:30-11:30, when the Delta Phi Glee held forth at its annual spring semi-formal dance. Allen Robert's orchestra, a newly-organized local band played during the evening.

The gym was decorated in pastel spring colors with tulip cut-outs. The programs were also in pastel colors and had a black print of a tulip on the cover.

Chaperones for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Maple, Mr. and Mrs. Spec Keene, and Professor and Mrs. Herbert Rahe.

Miss Virginia Bendicksen was general chairman for the dance.

Fraternity and Sorority Exchange

Tuesday evening, April 26, the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority, and the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity held an exchange dinner.

At the Alpha Phi Alpha chapter house the rooms were decorated with cut flowers. The table was centered with a bouquet of spring flowers and pastel tapers.

Hostesses included Ruth Yocum, Jean Lauderback, Kay Thompson, Myrtle Martin, Carmen Vehrs, Esther Vehrs, Catherine Mackay, Norma Fuller, Vera Walker, and Mrs. Vehrs.

Among the guests present were George McLeod, Harold Hutchinson, Jack Bohanon, Pete Geiser, Bill Boardman, Bob McKown, Quay Wassam, Otto Bahlborg, Melvin Cleveland and Sam Kyle.

Cut flowers also decorated the rooms at the Alpha Psi house. The table was arranged with spring flowers, and white candles.

Hosts were Dan Moses, George Schreiber, Bill Anton, Curtis Johnson, Art Olson, Bob Wilson, Dwight Catherwood, Wendell Patch, Jerry Laureus, John Lindbeck, Charles Watt, and Dick Jones.

Beta Chis Enjoy Date Dinner

Members of the Beta Chi sorority were hostesses for a dinner at the chapter house last Friday evening. The dinner table was centered with a bowl of blue delphinium and matching tapers.

Covers were placed for Mrs. C. A. McCarger, Miss Margaret Gillette, Miss Margaret Ayers, Miss Dorothy Wright, Miss Suzanne Curtis, Miss Irma Calvert, Miss Anita Gillette, Miss Marguerite DuRette, Miss Ella Mae Morris, Miss Helena Schneider, Miss Mable Lenz, Miss Lucille Brainard, Miss Phyllis Phythian and Miss Carol Smith.

Guests included Neil Shafer, Bill Parker, Charles Donaldson, Frank Guerin, Cecil Quesseth, Argo Stocks, Bob Vogt, Ed Minneman, Bruce Williams, George Strilo, John Kelly, Leonard Donaldson, and Francis Schmidt.

Fanklin-Felker Franklin-Felker Vows Announced

Word has been received on the campus of the recent marriage in Portland of Miss Florence Franklin and Carl Felker, Miss Franklin is a graduate of Willamette and was a member of Beta Chi sorority. Mr. Felker attended the liberal arts college and the law school and was affiliated with Alpha Psi Delta.

Professor and Mrs. Charles L. Sherman were at home to ten members of the student body on Sunday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 in the last of the series of Faculty Fireside were Elizabeth James, the Y. W. C. A. An informal hour was spent and a light supper was served late in the day. Eleanor Perry was in charge of arrangements.

Those students attending the Fireside were Elizabeth James, Birdie Hebel, Martha Roddy, Eleanor Sherman, Margaret Moulton, Betty Starr, Willard Wilson, Jack Pollock, Ed McBerny, and Harvey Blakeslee.

LAW SCHOOL NOTES

The students of the Law School visited the State penitentiary Friday afternoon, April 29.

A large enrollment is expected in the Law School next fall. Among those having made applications is Sol Stern, scheduled to graduate from Reed College in June this year. He has made a distinguished and enviable record on the Reed campus. Mr. Stern has taken active part in student affairs and has shown qualifications for marked success in the practice of law. He is a member of Student Council, student governing body of the college, is active in athletics, and a competent leader of the dramatic group.

Two years ago he won first prize in an oratorical contest of imposing proportions. He has been described as one of the best liked and most respected young men on the Reed campus.

Dean Lockenour has been busy the last week preparing the Law Catalogue. He plans on sending out 5,000 copies this year.

The local chapter of Delta Theta Phi, national legal fraternity, held their informal initiation of new members Friday, April 22.

The initiation included usual rigors inflicted on those poor unfortunates who are being so welcomed into any organization. After this trying procedure, they were given an opportunity to recuperate while they were served refreshments.

Bill Anton, Bill Hanzen and Jack McCulloch were admitted.

Bearcat Baseballists To Open Cruelling Schedule Tomorrow

Baseball on the Bearcat campus swings into its full stride tomorrow, as Mentor Spec Keene sends his Willamette horse-hide clatters into action four times in six days.

Willamette's annual appearance in Portland's Vaughn Street Pacific Coast League Park, is slated for Tuesday against the University of Portland's strong nine. The Pilots dropped a thrilling 5-to-4 decision to Spec's men here this week, and undoubtedly will be seeking revenge Tuesday.

Wednesday and Thursday the "Cats" enjoy a two-day lay-off from competition, but return to the war at Monmouth against Oregon Normal's Wolves on Friday.

Al Cox' habitually strong nine will be seeking their first win of the season over the locals when the two teams tangle bats Friday.

The busy week ends with another Northwest conference double-header, this time against Pacific university here on Saturday. This pair of games is one of the highlights of May Week-End, as the two teams split a previous twin-game affair at Forest Grove and each will be striving for a decisive advantage over the other.

Pacific Gets Cinder Meet Victory Over Willamette

Bearcat Field Crew Defeated

Badgers Eke out Track Victory by Margin of two Points

Acting Coach Howard Maple's Bearcat cinder and field team Friday bowed to Coach Roger Folgate's Pacific Badger crew by about a flicker of an eyelid—two points to be exact. The Badgers burrowing out a clean win in the final event, the relay, to win by a 6 1/2 to 64 1/2 score.

Splitting up his original relay team in an attempt to annex extra points in the 350, Coach Maple had to resort to a makeshift foursome that was easily outsped by the Badger quartet. Sheldon, stellar 'Cat half-miler, failed to show for the meet, necessitating a revised lineup.

Pacific annexed seven first places, Willamette getting six and tying for first and second points in the 200-yard dash, in which Russell and Fishburn ran a dead heat. Fishburn, with his four points there, five for first place in the 440 and one-and-a-fourth counters as a member of the winning relay team, was high point man of the meet with 10 1/2 points.

Distance runs were right down the Badgers' alley, while the Bearcats were the better in the sprints, hurdles and field events. Complete results: 120-yard high hurdles—Maerz, W. first; Hill, W. second; Skelstrom, P. third. Time—16.8.

100-yard dash—Russell, W. first; Burdett, P. second; Kelly, W. third. Time—10.4. Mile—Schmidt, P. first; Frantz, W. second; Schultz, P. third. Time—4:58.8.

440-yard run—Fishburn, P. first; Burton, P. second; Hogeneson, W. third. Time—1:52.8.

Bearcat Golfers Win 2nd Place, Medalist Honors

W. U. Loses Finals Match In Intercollegiate State Meet

With a four-man medal score of 328, the newly-formed Willamette golf team in its first meet of the season last Friday and Saturday, was medalist in the state inter-collegiate golf tournament played on the Oswego course under the sponsorship of Reed college of Portland. Oregon State college was second with a total of 334.

The Willamette links team lost in the finals of the tournament to the Oregon State Beavers, 10 1/2 to 1 1/2, with the Orangers becoming the new state champions in match play as a result of the win, and the Bearcats runners-up.

Pacific university won consolation honors of the meet by defeating North Pacific Dental college, 6 1/2 to 5 1/2.

Bearcats Reach Finals The Bearcat golfers reached the finals by winning from North Pacific Dental college, 9 1/2 to 2 1/2, while Oregon State won its final berth defeating Pacific, 11 to 1.

Nichols and Bickner of the locals held their Beaver opponents nearly even in the finals, Nichols losing by dint of a near miraculous recovery by Stafford, Oregon State ace, on the ninth hole. Bickner won one nine from Hal Murch of the Beavers, who was medalist with a 76.

Willamette's individual medal scores were: Nichols 85, Johnson 79, Powell 84, and Bickner 80. Summary and result of the championship match: Ore. State 2 1/2 Willamette 1 1/2 Stafford 2 1/2 Nichols 1 1/2 Blazon 3 Johnson 0 Sires 3 Powell 0 March 2 Bickner 1

Oregon Prison Downs Bearcats

Prison Hurler Whiffs 13 Batsmen to Aid Pen Men's Win

Big Keith Crosswhite, star lifetime chucker of the state penitentiary Mavericks, last Saturday whiffed 13 Bearcat batsmen, allowed them one earned run and sent them back outside the grey walls nursing a 4 to 2 defeat.

Two of the three 'Cat hits came in the initial inning, scoring their only earned tally. Shinn doubled deep in left center, the ball ricocheting off the wall, and Koif singled almost to the same place to score him standing up. From there the Salem collegians couldn't touch Crosswhite until the sixth, when Oravec patted one to the right of third but died after reaching second on a fielder's choice.

Kelly Snacks Homer Kelly, Maverick second sacker, caught hold of one of Nunnenkamp's twisters in the pen's half of the first, driving it over Durb Southard's head in right field for the circuit and driving in Fuller, who has singled, ahead. Hurd, up next, doubled to left, but Nunnenkamp worked Crosswhite and Elk and struck out Perry.

Poor base running spoiled the Bearcats one other opportunity to tally. Shinn, after one was away in the eighth frame, drew a pass and advanced to the keystone on a wild pitch. Oravec's short single advanced him to third. Then, as Oravec went down to second on the next pitch, Catcher Perry snapped the ball as if throwing to second but it was caught by Pitcher Crosswhite who tossed to third, catching Shinn flat-footed.

SlUGGER

Altered WU Golf Team Is Defeated

Linfield college golfers defeated a greatly revamped Willamette university team 7 to 5 on the course near McMinnville Wednesday afternoon.

Most encouraging factor in the play of George LaVatta, a novice at competitive golf, who defeated Lesten Danfells, Linfield ace. "Bunny" Bennett also won his match. Clifton and Pearson of Linfield tied for medal honors at 74.

Changes in the Willamette lineup have been necessitated by technical ineptitude of several players, not based on scholastic failure. Linfield will return here for a match Saturday morning at the Salem Golf club course.

W. U., Pacific Split 2-Game First Series

Windsor Hurls Shutout In Opener; Locals Lose Nightcap

Behind the shut-out pitching of Freshman George Windsor Willamette's defending Western division conference baseball champions defeated the Pacific Badgers, 3 to 0, in the opener of a doubleheader played at Forest Grove last Friday, but lost the second tilt in a sloppily played game, 3 to 6.

Pacific's win in the second contest was the first Badger victory over W.U. baseballists since 1934. In the first inning of the opening game the Bearcats garnered two runs, and coasted into victory behind the six-hit pitching of Windsor.

Pacific Wins Second The Keene-coached locals again earned a two-run lead in the second game, but Pacific tied it up in their half of the inning, driving Bob White off the mound.

Relief hurler Francis Gatchell gave way to Walt Weaver in the fifth frame as Pacific went into the lead. The Keene-men again knotted the score in the sixth, but the Badgers spurred to the lead in the seventh and then staved off an eighth-inning Bearcat rally with only one run to coast into the victory.

Willamette Gets Easy Track Win Over Monmouth

Local Cindermen Garner 12 Firsts in 97-32 Victory

Winning 12 and tying for two other first places, the Willamette tracksters last Friday afternoon overwhelmed the Oregon Normal cindermen from Monmouth, 97 to 32, in the first dual meet of the year for the local track meet.

The only undisputed first place for the Wolves from Monmouth out of the 15 events was in the 440, where Coleman edged out Norm Hogeneson of the Bearcats on the Olinger field track.

Though times, heights, and distances were unimpressive, the W. U. trackmen show signs of developing into a strong combination as the season advances.

Hill Gets Points High individual point-maker in the meet was Hill with 13 points, scored with a second in the high hurdles, first in the low hurdles, a three-way tie for first in the pole vault, and a lap on the winding mile relay team. Dexter Russell with first in both of the sprints had ten points.

Langley of the Wolves had 11, and Kelly of Willamette garnered nine markers. Langley had third in the high hurdles, second in the low hurdles, a three-way tie for first in the pole vault, a two-way tie for first in the high jump. Kelly had a second in the 100-yard dash, a third in the shot put, and a first in the discus. McAdam, Frantz, and Harris, all with 8 points each, were also leading marker-getters for the Bearcats.

Complete Results Results: 120-yard high hurdles—Maerz, W. first; Hill, W. second; Langley, ONS, third. Time, 21.7 sec. 100-yard dash—Russell, W. first; Kelly, W. second; Frantz, W. third. Time, 10.4. Johnny Oravec Hits Home Run To Beat Pilots

Circuit Clout Results in 5 to 4 Victory for Willamette Nine

Johnny Oravec, the little all-American gridiron great, Tuesday afternoon gave his Bearcat mates a 5 to 4 win over the Portland university Pilots when in the seventh inning he flamed one of Pitcher Garfield's heaves past the east-end goal posts in left-center field for four bases, scoring Jim Watts, who had singled ahead of him.

Up to then the Pilots were out-paddling the 'Cats, ahead 4 to 3 when they scored one in their half of the seventh to break a 3-3 deadlock. The Portlanders showed a pair over in the initial inning when lead-off man M. Graser was passed, Peterson got life on Pierce's bobble and McGinnis and Layton singled.

Weaver Yields Two But two earned runs were tallied off big Walt Weaver, but his five walks and bobbles behind him had moon on the base in every inning. He whiffed nine, allowing eight hits. Maloney didn't give a hit in the two and two-thirds innings he worked, but wildness cost him one run and he was relieved by Garfield. Except for the groove ball he fed Oravec, Garfield chucked good ball, allowing but six hits.
