

Alumni Weekend to Feature Class Reunions and Lectures

Tomorrow morning will see the migration of "old grads" back to their alma mater, where they will not only review this year's graduating class, but attend classes, be honored at luncheons and banquets and see old classmates, as well.

SPECIAL REUNION classes this year are all those with the year ending in either a one or a six. Some of the returnees will be attending their first reunions, whereas many others will be back for their 25th, and a few will represent classes even farther back. These special reunion classes will each have a luncheon downtown Saturday afternoon in one of the hotels, Oregon, will address the graduation class, faculty, relatives, and friends. Dr. Jones served on the Willamette faculty as assistant professor of public administration from 1929 to 1941. He became head of the political science department at the University of Oregon in 1944, advanced to the position of president of Whittier College, and in 1951, assumed his present post at the University of Oregon.

Don't Be Half Safe!

Summer insurance from the Continental Casualty Company is now on sale in the Student Body. Dave Finlay announced this week. It costs $5 and covers any Willamette student, including graduating seniors, from the time school is out until it starts again in September. Coverage is extended to all the accidents that the regular school policies cover.

The insurance will be on sale until Friday, June 8.

Dr. William Jones to Address Sunday Graduation Exercises

The college days of 177 students will end at McCulloch Stadium, Sunday after the conclusion of the commencement exercises for the class of 1956. Willamette's colleges of liberal arts, music, and law will present degrees to graduating students as the University celebrates its 113th annual exercise.

THE ADDRESS, which will be given by Dr. William C. Jones, former head of the economics department at Willamette and currently dean of administration at the University of Oregon, who will speak to the graduates and guests on "American Faith and World Leadership."

Charles Anderson of Marquam and George Bleile are both to be graduated summa cum laude, for the highest accumulative grade point averages during their four years. Magna cum laude candidates are Joanne Terhark of Portland, Millicent Tower of Ashland, Ian MacIver of Yakima, Washington, and Joann Pym of Seattle.

ELEVEN STUDENTS graduating cum laude are William Farr of Portland, Walter Wilson, Carol Hewitt, John Bone, and John Rehffuss, of Salem; Daniel Dearborn, Ontario; Marian Rutledge, Beaverton; Judith Benson, Burlingame; Donald Hobson, Buhl, Idaho; Raymond Owens, Boise; and Rebecca Hang of Singapore, Malaya.

Morning practice formation will be at 9:30 on the lawn of the Blind School and at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, the procession will once again form. Faculty and students will march across the road and enter the stadium to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the band under the direction of Maurice Bremen.

FOLLOWING the entry of the procession, the band will play "The Star Spangled Banner" and Dr. Norman Huffman will deliver the invocation. After the address by Dr. Jones, President Smith will present the degrees and Col. Todd the commission to the graduates. The traditional "Farewell Willamette" will be sung after the ceremony by James Gilliland. The benediction will be pronounced by Dr. Huffman.

Dr. Hanson Appointed to Follow Bennett

Dr. Clifford T. Hanson, head of the philosophy department at Dana College in Nebraska, has been appointed associate professor and head of the department of philosophy next year.

Obtaining his BA at the University of Minnesota in 1941, Hanson also has degrees of bachelor of divinity from Trinity Theological Seminary, MA from the University of Minnesota; and PhD from the University of Nebraska.

For five years Dr. Hanson served as minister of the Underwood Evangelical Lutheran church in Iowa, and since 1949 he has been head of the philosophy department at Dana College.

Having had an extensive background in philosophy, Dr. Hanson wrote his PhD thesis on "The Concepts of Right and Ought in the Philosophies of G. E. Moore, Sir William David Ross, and A. C. Ewing."

Dr. Thomas Bennett, former head of the department, will be working as director of the educational program with the Department of the Church and Economic Life in the National Council of Churches in New York City.

Lost Items at Bookstore

Many articles which students have lost on campus this past term may be claimed in the bookstore before the end of the year, according to Mrs. Delsia Larson, manager of the bookstore.

"Everything from books and boots to pens, umbrellas, and scarves are here waiting for their owners to claim them," she said.

Wallulah Editors Choose Staff

Staff members were named recently for next year's Wallulah and Fusser's Guide, according to their respective editors.

Under the direction of Jean Martin and Margie Wood, the 1956-57 Wallulah will be produced by Eugene Corey, assistant editor; Willard Bunney, business manager; Sandra Wagner and Margaret Lowe, copy editors; Warren Walker, sports editor; Phil Henderson, darkroom manager; Marilyn Morton, LoAnne Munding, and Miriam Matthews, section editors.

Orientation Plans Started

As the spring semester draws to a close plans are being laid for orientation of freshmen and new students, held September 10-15.

Gordon MacPherson, Orientation Week manager, has revealed that next year there will be a definite attempt to de-emphasize rushing and to include more activities for those not going through rush.

Generally all of this year's activities—the exchange dinners between Lausanne and Baxter, the AWS style show, and freshman mixers—will be carried over, with perhaps a swimming or skating party added.

The activities convocation will be revised so that only organizations open to freshmen will be explained. A valuable addition, according to MacPherson, will be several assemblies geared to help the freshmen acquire good study habits early in the year. In groups of about 20, freshmen will meet with professors who will give them instructions on note-taking, examination preparation, time budgeting, and other aspects of college work.

Committee heads assisting in the planning of Orientation Week are Dave Landis, assistant manager; Maureen Day, secretary; Paul Osterland, welcoming committee; Dave Gaskins and Kay Ruberg, entertainment; Bill Joseph, information; and Dick Crooks, campus activities.

Brooks Jenkins New Librarian

Brooks A. Jenkins will replace Samuel Keeton as head librarian, President Smith announced this week. Jenkins is presently assistant librarian in the humanities division at Washington State College.

Jenkins obtained his BA at Middlebury College, and his BS at the School of Library Science at Columbia University. Between 1946 and 1951, Jenkins served as post librarian of the American Merchant Marine Association in Boston; assistant in the Vermont Free Library Commission; Librarian of Vermont Junior College; attended Breadloaf School of English; and was assistant librarian at the public library in Monterey, Calif.

He attended the University of California, where he is now a candidate for a master's degree in English, and in 1951 he assumed his present post at Washington State College.

Council Names Kaestner Advisor

Student Body president Neil Causbie this week confirmed a Student Council action of a week ago in announcing the acceptance of Dr. Noel Kaestner to the position of faculty advisor to the Student Council.

Also in last week's Student Council meeting, Bill Nelson, Concert Series manager, reported a profit of $646.67 which can be turned back to the Student Body to repay the loan made at the beginning of the year. In further action, Council formally confirmed the appointment of Bill Strand as next year's concert manager.

Two Degrees Awarded at Baccalaureate

Two honorary degrees were conferred by Willamette at baccalaureate Sunday to Dr. Eugene L. Smith of New York City, and Herbert A. Templeton, of Portland.

Smith, who is chairman of the board of missions for the Methodist Church, received a doctor of divinity degree. Templeton, who has made many contributions in Portland's civic life, received a doctor of laws degree.

Among the honors Smith has received are vice-president of the National Council of Churches of Christ; and chairman of the Exposition of Foreign Missions. A graduate of Willamette in 1934, Smith has also been pastor of a Methodist Church in New Jersey.

Templeton, who is president of the Valsetz and Mt. Emily Lumber Company in Portland, has served on the YMCA board, the Portland Council of Churches, and the Council of Social Agencies.

He was also chairman of the Board of Trustees of Lewis and Clark college from 1948 to 1953.

Mu Phi Give Records

Members of the Willamette chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honorary for women, recently presented College of Music record library with a recording of "Saint Matthew's Passion." This work, written by Johann Sebastian Bach, is performed by the Vienna State Opera orchestra and chorus under the direction of Hermann Scherchen.

restaurants, or in one of the grad's home.

At 8:30 tomorrow morning things will get under way with an Alumni Association executive committee meeting, in the University library. This will be followed at 9:30 by alumni registration in the Fine Arts colonnade, and at 10 the annual meeting of the Willamette University Board of Trustees will take place in Collins Hall.

WHILE THE Board of Trustees is meeting, Dr. Paul Trueblood, '28, Professor of English, will present the first in a series of two special courses for the returning alumni. Dr. Trueblood's topic will be "English and the Humanities at Willamette University." This will be the first alumni class to meet in the Fine Arts building lecture rooms, room 221.

At 11 a.m., Darrell Chapin, '26, and Gerald Pearson, '27, will present the topic, "Electricity from the Sun." Chapin and Pearson are members of the three-member inventing team of the solar battery, from which their lecture will be taken.

FOLLOWING the class luncheons at 4 p.m., the Willamette University band will present "pop" music in the Fine Arts colonnade (Oregon weather permitting).

At 6 p.m. the Alumni Day banquet will be held in the Gold Room of the Marion Hotel. Class members celebrating their 25th and 50th anniversaries will receive their Matthew Medallions, named in honor of James T. Matthew, professor of mathematics at WU for 49 years. Dr. Smith will make the awards.

Dr. Robert Anderson, president of the Alumni Executive Council, will preside at the banquet as toastmaster, and will announce the new executive officers, which have been selected by ballots sent to the alums.

The weekend events will close with commencement ceremonies, at 3 p.m. at McCulloch Stadium Sunday. Dr. William C. Jones, Dean of Administration at the University of looking back

In those rare moments when the mind lifts itself above the deadened apathy that is the result of concentration, one is aware nowadays of a certain quiet that has descended. We have convinced ourselves, and the less experienced of clack, pages are still dummied in, and headlines are still earnest application to long neglected books.

A little investigation into the matter will reveal, however, that the quietness is actually due to the stilling of the clacking of typewriters operated by hard-driven seniors struggling to get last minute, over-due papers in.

One place where the clacking of a busy typewriter is no more is The Collegian office. Of course, typewriters still our professors believe, that this quietness is the result of written, but the place is under new management now. Former editor Duane Alvord has written his last story, headline, and editorial for The Collegian and has streaked out the door. We have watched him leave not without a certain amount of envy and regret. However, even though we know in advance of the headaches and crises that will arise in the near future, we look forward in spite of ourselves to next year.

In retrospect though we can see many things that Alvord has done that have made our year more pleasant. His continued patience under conditions that would drive almost anyone into shrieking fits of anger and his cheerful assumption of responsibility for errors made by the staff are just two instances of life made easier for staff members.

No doubt every living organization and activity on campus is feeling a bit teary over losing members who have done much for their groups. But still there is a sneaking feeling of anticipation for next year. We believe the seniors have done a fine job of studying and playing in their past four years, but now we are looking forward.

This seeming cruelty and indifference is nothing so much as an expression of thanks to and confidence in our seniors. We feel that they have done much for our organized groups and for us personally. But now we are anxious to take the ball ourselves. Following their lead, we want to take over and see how far the rest of us can go in the direction of improved student government, for example.

It's always hard to say "thanks" in writing without sounding sentimental, but we would like nevertheless to say thanks to the seniors for their leadership, for their helpfulness, and for just having been here.

Dear Ed:

Jones Explains Mailing Fee

To the Students:

I'm going to try and answer some of the questions that I am asked every time someone comes in to pay his mailing fee. We have to charge fifty cents because not only do we have to pay for the mailing of the Wallulah but we also have to pay for the envelopes and cardboard which we use to mail it to you.

And now for the reason for summer delivery. The Publications Board decided that it would be much easier for everyone concerned if we did wait until summer. Also, this way we could include commencement for the seniors. After all, this book is chiefly for the seniors, and as such, its main purpose is to be a memory book for them.

We hear from different people that there are many people who would like to work on the yearbook. Well, why don't you? It does not take much to come into the Wallulah office and say that you want to work on the book. After all, we are only human and will not bite you. In fact, we will greet you with open arms. There have been about ten people who have put out this yearbook for you—you can thank them for it because really we could have used about 12 more people. There are many things that have to be done that don't appear on the surface. So as a plea for next year's editors, please come in and volunteer for work if you are interested. They will be more than willing to give you something to do—and this will make the book more a book put out by the students—for more of you will be working on it. Hence, it will be a better representative of more students.

Sally Jones, Wallulah Editor.

Engagements, Nuptial Dates Told by Willamette Students

CORALIE ROSEBERRY

PENNY LILLES

A poem and a Life magazine pictorial announced the engagement of Penny Lilles and Gaar Edwards to members of the Pi Beta house last Wednesday.

Miss Lilles, a junior psychology major, was recently appointed co-director for Varsity Varieties. She has been active on drama department committees and is also a member of the Student Body convocations committee.

Edwards formerly attended Oregon State College where he was affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta. He is now engaged in pre-dental studies at Reed College.

A cardinal red candle encircled by an engagement ring was passed to her sorority sisters and blown out by Clarine Woolery who later introduced her fiance, Bert Harp.

Miss Woolery is a senior drama major from Salem. A member of Chi Omega, she served as president of that organization. She is also a member of Theta Alpha Phi, international drama honorary.

Harp attended Salem schools and OCE and is now employed by the state of Oregon.

A TELEGRAM in the form of the announcement of a scholarship was the method for announcing the wedding date of Joanne Terhark and Dave Finlay.

Miss Terhark, a senior psychology major, is past president of Pi Beta Phi. She is also a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Cap and Gown, Psi Chi, and Kappa Delta Pi.

Finlay, former president of the ASWU, is a member of Beta Theta Pi. A senior political science major, he holds membership in Theta Alpha Phi, Pi Gamma Mu, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

The wedding is planned for August 5 in Portland, and the couple will live in California next year, where Finlay will continue his studies at Stanford University.

TWO ROSES and a poem announced the engagement of Coralie Roseberry and Pete Van Horn to members of the Alpha Chi Omega house last week.

Miss Roseberry is a junior home economics major and a member of the choir.

A member of Phi Delta Theta, Van Horn is a sophomore in the economics department and is also a member of the choir. He was a soloist for Varsity Varieties his freshman year.

The wedding is planned for a year from this summer.

The Social Scoop

By FLOSSY HODGE

The food was good and the group was very congenial, stated Ann White when describing the senior beach trip. From all reports, those of the class of '56 who commuted to Ocean Lake really enjoyed it and consider it one of the highlights of their four years at Willamette.

The junior class, four strong, followed them down on Sunday, to cook the traditional breakfast. Ann Denman, Dale DeHarpport, Patsy Williams, and Wes McMullen made the trip, and scrambled eggs, wieners, pancakes and lots of tomato juice and black coffee were served. Dale DeHarpport has won a deserved reputation as a chef for his skill at the pancake griddle.

Flying for United Airlines next year will be Charlene Miner and Pat Beckwith. The coeds will go to training school in Denver this summer and be stewardesses in the very near future.

When Penny Lilles announced her engagement at the Pi Phi house last week, a very cunning little deception took place. The lady who was introduced to the members as Flossy's "Aunt Jo" from Minneapolis, turned out to be Mrs. Gordon Edwards, the mother of Gaar Edwards, Penny's fiance.

The closeness of final exams seems to revert some students to their second childhood. "Hide-and-seek" has become the official sport of Doney Hall. According to reports, Barbara Swegart is the most difficult to find, and reigns as queen of that sport.

Cinder Aces Set Marks

Dean Benson and Dale Hartman, Willamette's two cinder aces, set new records last Saturday as they flashed across the finish line in great form in the district NAIA track and field meet.

It was a damp and dreary afternoon in Griswold stadium atop Palatine Hill, but the spirits and efforts exemplified by those competing were anything but dreary. The fact that nine district and five stadium records were shattered is ample proof that those competing were hot and ready.

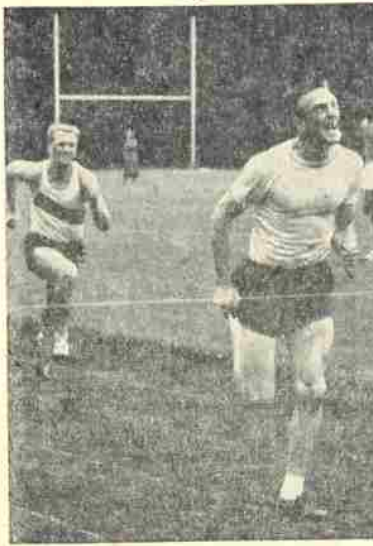

BENSON PRODUCED a particularly fine performance, running the high hurdles in a record smashing :14.1. This not only broke his old Griswold stadium and district record of :14.3, but also bettered his national NAIA mark of :14.2. He has now the fourth fastest time in the nation this spring.

As big Dean shot out of the starting blocks and sailed over the first few hurdles, he was clearing them at an extreme height. This undoubtedly slowed his time. The reason for the added height in his hurdling was probably due to the fact that, in recent meets, Dean has hit a few of these indomitable barriers. This not only cuts his speed, but adds nasty bruises to his lower limbs.

AT ANY RATE if Dean could have lowered his stride over the hurdles and still kept his terrific pace between the barriers, he probably could have cracked the 13 second mark.

Dale Hartman, Willamette distance champ, bowed out of the mile run in hopes of turning in a record smashing time in the 880. He did just that, running in fine form he snapped the tape in 1:57.2. This time smashed his old district mark of 1:59.1 and also broke the Griswold stadium record of 1:57.3, which was set just this year by Tex Whiteman of OSC.

HARTMAN HAD some competi-

tion in the first lap in the form of Lynn Roumagoux of L-C. After leading the first lap, Roumagoux's speed seemed to be cut in half and Hartman pulled along side on the curve. Dale seemed satisfied running abreast with Roumagoux throughout the curve and part of the far straight-away; then as if he had just become aware of Lynn's slower pace, Hartman began to pour it on and as he rounded the last curve and headed down the stretch he was far out ahead.

Had Dale been pushed a bit more in the last lap he probably would have hit a 1:56, a time which he has run in practice more than once this year.

Other records fell in the shot put, javelin, discus, pole vault, high jump, 440 and the two-mile.

CLARENCE (Moose) Vanderwettering, University of Portland, flipped the shot 51 feet 11½ inches for a new record. One might say old Moose has been around for some time, since he dates back to football days at Portland University and a football team hasn't been fielded up on the bluff for quite a number of years.

For a fellow who took up the art of spear throwing just a year ago, LC's Joe Boutin, certainly has made tremendous progress. He came up with a toss of 184 feet. His colleague from Palatine Hill, lanky Loren Michelsen, whipped the discus 150 feet 11 inches for a new record.

WILLAMETTE'S entrant in the platter tossing event was Dale Greenlee, who's third place heave of 138 feet was far below his best of the year.

Bob Richmond, Pacific, set a new pole vault record of 12 feet 11½ inches. This eclipsed the old mark of 12 even set last year by Larry Thompson of Willamette and Harrison Bryant of OCE. Thompson took second place this year.

Bill Hollingsworth, SOCE, leaped 6-1 to better the old mark of 5-10½ in the high jump.

Bill (Mr. Unorthodox) Machamer, Linfield's hard-running 440 man, continued to amaze onlookers as he raced around the oval in 49.4. This smashed George Stewart's old record of 50.6.

Mull in NAIA, NCAA Matches

Bud Mull will represent district two in the national NAIA tennis tournament in San Diego, June 8 and 9. Bud will then journey east to Kalamazoo, Michigan, where he will compete in the national NCAA finals on June 24.

Mull has compiled a sensational record in his three years at Willamette. He has won the Northwest conference singles championship all three years, and in doing so he has scored 18 consecutive conference victories. This year he teamed with Ron Butler to also nab the Northwest conference doubles title.

Gridders Not Coming

Contrary to some reports, the New York Giants football team is not coming back to the Willamette campus this fall.

After moving their summer workouts to Vermont, the Giants decided they would like to return to McCulloch stadium in preparation for their two Northwest tilts. The Bearcat gridders, however, open their drills at precisely the same time that the New Yorkers wish to take over the stadium. Thus, Willamette had to deny the pro club's request.

Hoyt Hurls No-Hit Victory Betas, Sigs Head for Trophy, Series Even at One and One

Monday afternoon the Betas squared the count with the previously undefeated Sigma Chi team by defeating them 8-0 behind the no-hit pitching of George Hoyt.

In chucking the near perfect victory over the Sigs, Hoyt kept his teammates' hopes for a softball pennant alive. In the first encounter the Sigs beat Hoyt 6-4 with a couple of lousy hits that went the full ticket. Thursday afternoon the Sigs and Betas squared off in the championship game, but results were not available by Collegian press time.

Hoyt's no-hit effort was aided by the "heads up" play of the Beta fielders who only miscued twice in the five-inning route. Rotund George was also very stingy with his bad pitches as only two Sigs reached third base via the walk route and very few found their way to first in the same manner.

Inability to find the strike zone was the downfall of Sig pitcher Pete Cauble. Cauble, with his teammates doing an equally impressive job fielding, allowed only two hits. Frequent free passes resulted in loaded bases scored most of the runs for the Betas. Catcher Kent Hotaling and third baseman Bill Bjorkman, who drove in two runs, were the Betas who touched Cauble for hits.

BETAS VICTORS

Further intramural results find the Betas copping the badminton crown over a field of five. The Betas completed their schedule undefeated, winning every set except one doubles set.

Willamette Students Active In Pentacle's Fry Production

Willamette students will remember Christopher Fry as the author of "A Phoenix Too Frequent," which was produced earlier this year in convocation by the senior drama majors. Like that play, "The Lady's Not for Burning" is written in verse form. It is a romantic comedy laid in 15th century England and tells the story of a discharged soldier who is tired of life and wants to be hanged, and of a young woman who wants very much to live but is condemned to death for witchcraft.

Tickets can be obtained at Stevens and Son or Dell's Bookstore for one dollar. The other four productions to be given this summer are "Bell, Book and Candle," "Death of a Salesman," "Craig's Wife," and "Of Thee I Sing."

Christopher Fry's delightful comedy, "The Lady's Not for Burning," will be presented in the Pentacle Theatre next week from Monday through Saturday under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Ringnald.

Featured in the cast are Carl Ritchie and Sheila Laue in the leading roles, supported by Dick Geer, Barbara Ruhle and Bill Smith besides other members of the cast drawn from townspeople.

Students Compile Anthropological, Sociological Data

A publication consisting of a collection of papers written by students of the General Anthropology class was released by the Department of Sociology and Anthropology today and copies are now on sale in the bookstore. The 60-page bound volume will be sold for 65 cents per copy.

The writings are summaries and analyses of recent evidence on some of the important problems in the anthropological field of research.

The volume, which also includes an introduction by Dr. John A. Rademaker, chairman of the department, includes such readings as the "Relationship Between Modern Man and His Subhuman Ancestors," "Ethnic Classification," and "Process of Radiation in Evolution."

Contributors are Paul Geisel, Stauney Olsen, John Hitchman, Matthew Hill, Charlotte Stark, Millicent Tower, Joan Lawson, Sharon Laverty, and Joann Pym.

The Fry play is the first of five productions which the Pentacle Theatre will present this summer in conjunction with Willamette's summer session. All of the plays are presented "arena" style with the audience surrounding the stage of the Pentacle Barn on the Dallas highway.

Assistantships Given Seniors

The French government has granted a teaching assistantship to Sandra Schuerman, a senior scholar in French from Portland. She will teach 12 hours of English each week in a high school at Annecy, Savoie, which is located in the Alps south of Geneva, Switzerland. Miss Schuerman will sail from New York September 15 and is one of 40 students selected for the program. Sally Cooney, a 1955 Willamette graduate, has also been teaching in France this past year.

Bill Frederickson has received an assistantship in psychology from Baylor University in Waco, Texas. Frederickson, who hails from Sandy, Oregon, will aid in departmental research while he works for his master's degree in psychology.

Members Added By Pi Gamma Mu

Alpha Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honor Society, held its spring initiation on May 16. The following candidates were initiated: Douglas Houser, Robert Small, and Marion Moore, instructor in sociology.

To be eligible the candidate must have completed a minimum of 20 semester hours of credit in history, political science, sociology and economics. His social science grade average must be at least 3.5 and have an accumulative of 3.00.

Deferment Forms Due Immediately

All Willamette men wishing to obtain a student's draft deferment before the end of the semester must fill out a mimeographed form in the office of the Dean of Students, giving the address of their local draft board, according to Dean Mark Hatfield.

A written request must be made by the students to their board for the deferment, he said.

All students who are planning to take graduate work at a different college next year must have, in addition to the mimeographed form sent from Willamette, a letter to the draft board from the college where they will take their graduate study.

ODK Elects Officers

Omicron Delta Kappa, junior and senior men's honorary, elected Kent Hotaling as their next year's president. Other officers include Pat Farley, vice-president and Dean Robert Gregg, secretary-treasurer.

As yet the national organization has no plans for next year, according to Kent Hotaling.

Willamette Movie To Be Produced

A terrifically glamorous day at Willamette University will be transmitted to prospective students by means of a new propaganda motion picture about Willamette, which will be completed next year.

An older movie, "A Day at Willamette," was first produced in 1951 and featured Mrs. Tom Joseph, then Miss Betty Jean Mullen.

Carl Ritchie, Joe Power, and Ray Loder are co-starred with Mrs. Joseph in the motion picture which portrays the day of a typical Willamette co-ed.

Varsity Varieties Workers Needed

People are needed to work on committees for next year's Varsity Varieties, according to co-managers Ted Primrose and Penny Lilles.

Committee heads are Connie Clark, assistant director; Donna Leonard, stage manager; Ken Renshaw, lighting; Barbara Duncan, properties; Rosie Miller, makeup; Gary Schmalke, assistant choreographer; Maureen Day, Muriel Miettunen, and Mary Beebe, art.

Those interested in working on any of these committees should contact Penny Lilles (4-5151) or Ted Primrose (2-9246).

Theta Alpha Phi Elects New Officers, Members

Theta Alpha Phi, Willamette's drama honorary, recently initiated new members and elected officers.

Officers for the next year are Donna Leonard, president; George Nelson, vice-president; Mary Beth Van Cleave, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Braddy, historian.

New members are Wayne Harris, Lois Wickersham, Donna Ruth, Ruth McCormick, Sheila Laue, and Ken Renshaw. Admission into membership is on the basis of a point system employed in drama productions.

Seminar Students Entertain Profs

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Rademaker, Professor and Mrs. Arthur E. Gravatt, and Professor and Mrs. Donald A. Miller were entertained by members of the Sociological Theory, Fields, and Methods seminar on Tuesday evening by a banquet at China City.

The students presented a program of entertainment which was supplemented with expressions of gratitude to the faculty for the help and leadership they received from them.

The evening was rounded out by giving paint and brushes to the faculty for the purpose of decorating the department's new bookcase.

Turn in Library Books

All students are asked to check in their living organizations for library books that may have been misplaced. These should be returned, if possible, before the final date for returning books, which is June 8, at 5 p. m.

Groth to Manage ASWU Office

Nancy Groth, sophomore, was selected as manager of the Student Body Office staff for next year. Her duties include the hiring of personnel, ordering all supplies, and keeping accounts of incomes and expenses.

In addition, Miss Groth will carry out any recommendations made by the Student Body secretary. A staff of three other people will help manage the business of the office.

Officers Elected For Band, Choir

The band and choir, the two most active music groups on campus, have recently elected officers for next year.

Leading the band into their 1956-57 season will be president, Bob Ellis; secretary, Judy Anderson; property manager, John Heidel; and business manager, Larry Kimble.

Malcolm Brand has been elected president of the choir and he will be assisted by vice-president, Marilyn Hanthorn; secretary, Myra Friesen; and publicity chairman, Charles Marsters.
