WILLAMETTE WINS

BOYS' FIRST BASKET-BALL OF the Season.

A. C. 5. W. U. 35.
Willamette boys are justly elated over their success to the tune of 35 to 5. Albany played football with us, but they felt weak Friday night after a little bout at basket ball. The game was a good one, both teams playing well. W. U. had the superior team work, and Albany was more accurate in the few throws they were permitted to have. The star of the Albany team was Coates; of the home boys it is not so evident as to who did the best individual playing. Parsons has probably the best record, with eight baskets from the field, one from the foul line, and only one foul. At the end of the first half the score was 20 to 2. In the last half W. U. gained 15 points and Albany 3.

Albany has some good material but showed lack of experience. Her team lacked unity. Individual work was too much depended upon. Her only goal from the field was by coates, who made a backward throw over his head.

Willamette played well as a team. The passing was good, but lack of accuracy in throwing baskets prevented a larger score. W. U. had many opportunities at the basket. Albany was given but a few chances.

Willamette's guards, Winslow and Matthews, each made a basket. The lineup of the teams was:

W. U.	Position.	A. C.
Parsons	Forward	Coates
Judd	Forward	Shaw, Bilyeu
Pollard	Center	Bergman
Winslow, Wilkins	Guard	McDaniel
Matthews	Guard	Shaw

Referee, B. F. Morris; umpires, Marks and Beeson; time keeper, Wallace; score keeper, Chapter.

The crowd was not what it should have been for such a game. The students should take more interest in the work of their team. It is disgraceful to allow the boys to win a victory without encouragement from the side lines. Cheer up!

Attention, Students: Patton Bros. Book Store is now arranged and ready for business.

Well, well, boys, when you are down town and want a shave or hair cut don't forget to call at C. E. Bunce's, 97 State. Take point oysters at Strong's.

GIRLS FIRST DEFEAT

GIRLS ARE DEFEATED BY THE Corvallis Girls.

We got done, done, done,
Down at Corvallis; 11 to 1.

Such was the yell the girls gave when they reached Salem on their return from Corvallis Saturday afternoon; and to the question, "How did it happen?" there came a simple explanation. Our team was too heavy to keep up with the O. A. C. girls. With a team, the heaviest of whom was probably but little heavier than our lightest, and accustomed to play on a slippery floor, much larger than our own Corvallis was enabled to "play all around us" the first half. Having a tall center they even outplayed Captain Koschmeider. Corvallis received the ball from the center, and kept it near her goal until a basket was made, or if it did find its way to the other end of the field it was simply an opportunity for the O. A. C. girls to exhibit some excellent passing as they returned it.

When time was called the score stood 10 to 0 in Corvallis' favor. Miss Smith (forward) having made two baskets; Smith (center) 1. Yager, 1, and two having been thrown from the foul line.

The line up for the first half was:

W. U.	O. A. C.
Parsons	Yager
Warfield	R. Smith
Koschmeider	Smith
L. Randall	Linville
G. Randall	Stuart

In the second half Miss Mary Warfield was placed center and Miss Koschmeider forward, and Miss Swafford was substituted as left guard. With these changes, aided by the fact that our own girls had become more accustomed to the floor, the teams were more equally matched, and the half was a very interesting one. At the close the score was 1 to 1, no baskets having been made from the field.

McAllister, of Corvallis, was referee Professor McCall and Warfield, umpires.

The next game of the series which is also to be played by the boys' rules will occur on our home floor at an early date.

Remember students that Patton Bros. Book Store is now arranged and ready for business.

Entered at the postoffice at Salem as second class matter.

THE girls at the University of Oregon seem to be a particularly delicate lot. The Portland Telegram, of the 8th, published the statement that the athletic committee of the U. of O. had denied the girls of that institution the privilege of playing basket ball, giving as their reasons that "the parents of college girls do not like the idea of students, especially girls, making extended tours through the state, and as girls cannot get into condition to play such a hard game as basket ball, they are liable to injury." Further, that they have not a suitable gymnasium for the game.

All of which seems to be an attempt on the part of the committee to coddle the young ladies of the institution, an attempt which would be resented, and no doubt is, by girls of spirit. As to the first reason that parents do not like the tours necessary, it has been the experience in most colleges that a few parents object, the great majority giving not only sanction but encouragement. Of course the teams are properly chaperoned. A team is in a far better position on a trip than the average crowd that goes to view a Thanksgiving foot ball game, for instance, or an oratorical contest.

As to the second reason we do not understand why the U. of

O. has had the misfortune of obtaining such a delicate set of girls. Surely the student body of the U. of O. is to be pitied if we are to believe the inference the athletic committee would leave us. If basket ball is so injurious to young ladies, we ask why is it found in almost every college of the country? Even those colleges, as Wellesley, Vassar, Mt. Holyoke, in which it is considered the highest type of refinement, culture and womanly development is taught, have introduced the game and consider it among the most beneficial of exercises when properly played. We believe that if the athletic committee of the U. of O. would compare the injurious effects of basket ball with the injurious effects of parties, late hours, and hard study without proper exercise, they will find on honest consideration that there might be arranged a suitable place for those ladies to play basket ball. We cannot believe that the ladies of the U. of O. are spiritless or especially delicate. We are sure a game between their team and our own ladies' team would be extremely interesting and exciting. We extend our sympathy to the ambitious, discouraged girls of the U. of O.

Philodorian.

The Philodorian Society met Saturday night for the first time in a month, and a determination was manifested to carry out some good New Year resolutions. The holidays and numerous student affairs have broken into our Friday evenings of late, but it is intended that the meetings shall be regular from now on.

The Annual story and poem contest closes Jan. 15, and students wishing to compete for the prize should be sure to have their copy in on time.

It is desired by the Wallulah staff that the various classes and organizations of the school should have their pictures taken as soon as possible. Please see the manager for details.

FRESHMAN RESENTMENT.

Object to Imputations That Have Been Made.

Did some one say that the Freshies are not in it? They are badly mistaken if they think so, and here are a few statements to convince them of their error.

Members of the Freshman class hold the presidency of three important student organizations, the Oratorical Association, the Philodorian and the Philodorian Societies.

Then we have six managerships in the class, members being the financial heads of the Wallula and Collegian, and Track, '03, Foot Ball, Junior Eleven and Secretary of Basket Ball teams. A member of the class is editor of the Ginger Can, and we have half the members of the two first basket ball teams.

But this is not all, we have also two vice-presidents and six secretaries, to say nothing of the lesser offices. If you add to this that we were the first class to organize, and that we defeated the Sophs in our only encounter, we are sure you will realize that instead of not being in it "we are the whole thing."

Anyway, we would like to see any other class attempt to make nearly so honorable a showing.

We are now nearly even with Albany for the way they did things to us in foot ball.

The recent issue of the Ginger Can contains a neat cartoon on the Freshman-Sophomore debate.

Although our girls were beaten at Corvallis we have confidence enough in them to believe that they will yet win the championship of the state.

As was to be expected the Freshies have swelled up until I think that no one else need do debate against them. Not a Senior.

It is not strange that those who kick the hardest against the official "W," are the ones who would never hope to win one under the official rule.

Miss Vinnie Wilder, a former student, has returned to her alma mater in Sumpter after spending several days with her numerous friends here.

It has just been discovered that the reason the Sophs. lost the debate was because they did not start out with "Honorable pledges," "Everybody knows it so," and "Now there's no doubt about that." By actual count the number of times one of these phrases was used in a single speech ran up into the hundreds. The Sophs. will, no doubt, profit by the experience and remember in the future that a strong argument does not count.

The recent debate only shows the urgent need of an extemporaneous speaking class. Why can't we have one this next semester? We think it would be a far more practicable substitute for Chapel Rhetoric than the substitute we now have.

Prof. Matthews was absent from his classes one day this week on account of illness.

It is a remarkable fact that not a single member of the foot ball squad has ever missed a day of school on account of illness.

There is a two-legged animal who swells around, calls himself a man, and keeps regular company with an estimable young lady, but who never any place where it will cost him anything—and will never go to a basket ball game unless he can beat his way in.

Well, Freshies, there is really no need of your walking around—on your under lip for a month or two just because the little Preps so neatly took down your flag right under your very noses. Come now, cheer up.

Why were you not there to see the boys do business with Albany? It would have made you feel good and would have shown the boys they have your support.

The lecture which was to have been given Monday night by Dean Hawley was postponed one week, because of the revival meeting now in progress in the city.

The "Dean of Athletics" spent Thursday and Friday at O. A. C., and was the guest of Physical Director Patterson, who left for the east Friday.

Edna Parrish spent the holidays in San Francisco, where she attended the wedding of Miss Pearl Copley, a former student of the University. Fred Overmuller, formerly of this city, is the lucky man.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS MEET.

The Athletic Managers Chosen-- Other Important Matters.

The student body meeting held last Thursday was probably the most important of the school year. It was largely attended, and there was much interesting shown.

President K. E. Miller '05, called the meeting to order. After the reading of the minutes, important matters were brought up for discussion in the shape of a resolution recommended by the executive committee. The resolutions principally dealt with the granting of the college emblem—the official W—the badge of merit presented to the members of our teams who compete on intercollegiate contests. The discussion became animated, and there was more or less wrangling, especially over that part of the resolutions that ordered the little old gold W's to be removed from the lately adopted caps. After a heated debate the resolutions were voted down. Another vulnerable point of attack in the resolutions was a clause relating to the qualifications which ought to be demanded to entitle a student to wear the official emblem. The question of design for the official letter also came up and raised much discussion. Finally the resolutions as first presented were voted down, and the committee was appointed to report on the matter. Wilkins '03, Miller '05, Meresse '03, were appointed on the committee.

Another committee was chosen to select a college pin design. It is made up of Miss Townsend '03, Miss Lee '06 and Miss Erma Clark '03.

The election then followed. Charles E. Skidmore was elected foot ball manager by acclamation; Bob Morris was chosen manager of the second basket ball team; Arthur Gale was the choice of all the students for track manager, and "Dick" Wilkins was unanimously chosen as captain of the track team. On motion of Whiteman the meeting adjourned.

OUR BASKET BALL COACH.

J. G. Miller Has Begun His Work.

J. G. Miller, of Portland, the basket ball coach, has begun his work in the Willamette gymnasium. The boys are all enthusiastic over his work with them. The playing and score at the game Friday evening goes far to justify the boys in this opinion. Miller has a fine reputation as a member of the Portland Y. M. C. A. teams. His first experience was had in '97, when he was a member of the team making a trip to California. Since that time he has played center upon the first team of the Y. M. C. A. All Stars team.

J. G. MILLER.

He also played upon the Y. M. C. A. base ball team, which won a cup at Chautauqua some time ago, and was a member of the foot ball team that played Multnomah such a hard game a few seasons ago. We present his picture in this week's Collegian.

No Annual at Eugene this year.

The members of the junior class have decided to dispense with the idea of producing a college annual which is an established custom here, and raise $100 to set aside as a loan fund, and spend the interest in buying a complete work of some author and dedicating it to the U. of O. Library.

Miss Lee Entertains

A Pleasant Evening at her State Street Home.

In honor of her friend, Miss Winnie Wilder, a former student at Willamette, but residing now at Sumpter, Or., Miss Althea Lee, '06, charmingly entertained a number of her college friends last Tuesday at the home of her parents, Superintendent and Mrs. J. D. Lee. The evening passed only too quickly for the merrymakers. Games and the art of palmistry furnished enjoyable pastime.

The affair was characterized by the informality that makes a social function really pleasant. The quaint sayings and witticisms indulged in by the guests added a touch of cheerfulness to the occasion. Dainty refreshments were served, and in the wee hours of the night, the collegians dispersed after having voted the party a most enjoyable affair, and Miss Lee a royal entertainer. Those present were: Misses Chapler, Wilder, Byrne, Lewis, Robertson and Gray. Messrs. Mosers, Matthews, Gils, Meresse, Kinney, Miller, Morris, Averillo, Winslow and J. C. Miller, of Portland, Ore.

NEW BOOKS GIVEN to the Library.

A letter from Dr. Headley was received a few days ago by a member of the faculty, in which he stated that he was about to present some 15 or 20 volumes to the library. The books are here and will soon be placed on the shelves. These books are principally upon philosophy. This will make something like 200 volumes presented by Dr. Headley within the last year.
